

The time was 1915 and a young man, Rube Eatinger was making a call at the Farmers & Merchants State Bank in Orient. The man in the center was J. F. Kingery, cashier and Ross Coffman, right, was bookkeeper.