Six girls entered in county conservation queen contest

Six girls are now in the running for the crown of the Davis County Queen of Conservation.

As of Thursday morning, the six entered in the contest are:

—Jodi Hopkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hopkins;

—Joyce Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Long;

—Joyce Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Stewart;

—Ginger Bradford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bradford;

—Linda Lofton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lofton; —and Marla Rysdam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rysdam.

The queen will be crowned July 27, during the opening night of the Davis County Old Soldiers and Settlers Reunion in Drakesville. Janice Eakins is the reigning queen.

The six contestants will be judged Sunday afternoon during a tea at the Drakesville United Methodist Church. The tea begins at 2 p.m., and is being hosted by the Lucky Maids 4-H Club. Parents of queen contestants, the Reunion Committee and the Davis County Soil Conservation District commissioners have been invited.

Each of the girls will be interviewed by master of ceremonies Leon Wilkinson of Bloomfield.

Entries in the queen contest will be accepted through Friday. Persons interested in entering a girl in the contest should contact Mrs. Paul Overturf, Mrs. Sam Botts Jr., or Miss Eakins.
