

1.—Marie Doro has come back to Broadway in "The Amazing Interlude," Mary Roberts Rinehart's breathtaking war play.
Photo by Strelecki.

2.—Mlle. Dorsha in one of the sensational poses of her latest Winter Garden dance, "The Dream of the Arabian Prince."
Photo by Strelecki.

3.—Jane Cowl writes all her own plays nowadays, and, of course, takes the stellar role. Her latest production is "Information, Please," a delightful comedy of modern life.

From the Chicago Herald and Examiner.

Copyright by Sun Publishing Assn.

★ STAND BEHIND HIM ★

Silhouette of a British gun, about to open a bombardment of the enemy's lines.

*British Official.
Kadel & Herbert.*

British "Tommies" at a shrine which has been shattered by a German shell during the bombardment of a French village.
Photo Kadel & Herbert.