Foreword

Recorded on the pages of this 1959 Beaver Log are the activities, the fun, the achievements, and the service which the student body and the faculty of Buena Vista College have participated in during the school year. We of the staff sincerely hope that this Log will recall to you many pleasant memories and that it will serve as a reminder of those wonderful days spent on the Buena Vista Campus.

Fraught With Memories . . .

the future

. . . to the future of Buena Vista College we dedicate the 1959 Beaver Log. Recent years have brought changes to the Buena Vista campus. Old Main is gone. Only her arch remains — a symbol of a rich heritage, a challenge for a bright future. Plans for new buildings are completed; their construction will soon be under way. The future promises much for Buena Vista College.

. . . to the future Victory Arch. Approaching the campus from the southeast a future visitor to Buena Vista College will look through the old to the new. Through the reconstructed arch of Old Main he will see the new administration and classroom building. The future Victory Arch will stand in memory of the past Buena Vista College as it leads to the present.

. . . to the future Schaller Memorial Chapel. Through the Victory Arch the future visitor will see the center of religious life on campus, the beautiful Schaller Memorial Chapel. This year the chapel addition to the administration building took a large step toward reality with the generous gift by George J. Schaller. The religious experiences of every Buena Vista student will be heightened by this future addition to the college campus.

. . . to the future library building. The visitor of the future will see the new library building, an addition to the educational life of the Buena Vista student. This building and its facilities will broaden the horizons of all students who enter its doors of learning.

. . . to the future of "Education for Service" in the future halls of Buena Vista College, we dedicate the 1959 Beaver Log.

Dear Seniors:

An academic degree is popularly regarded as a hallmark of education. In a certain sense this is so, but it remains so only when the degree holder takes his responsibilities seriously.

I would charge each of you (1) to hold aloft a noble purpose and sound values; (2) to have an appreciation of the beautiful; (3) to maintain an enduring belief in freedom of the mind and spirit; (4) to be a doer as well as a thinker; (5) to consider education as having no terminal point; (6) to live every moment of your life "To the glory of God and the welfare of mankind."

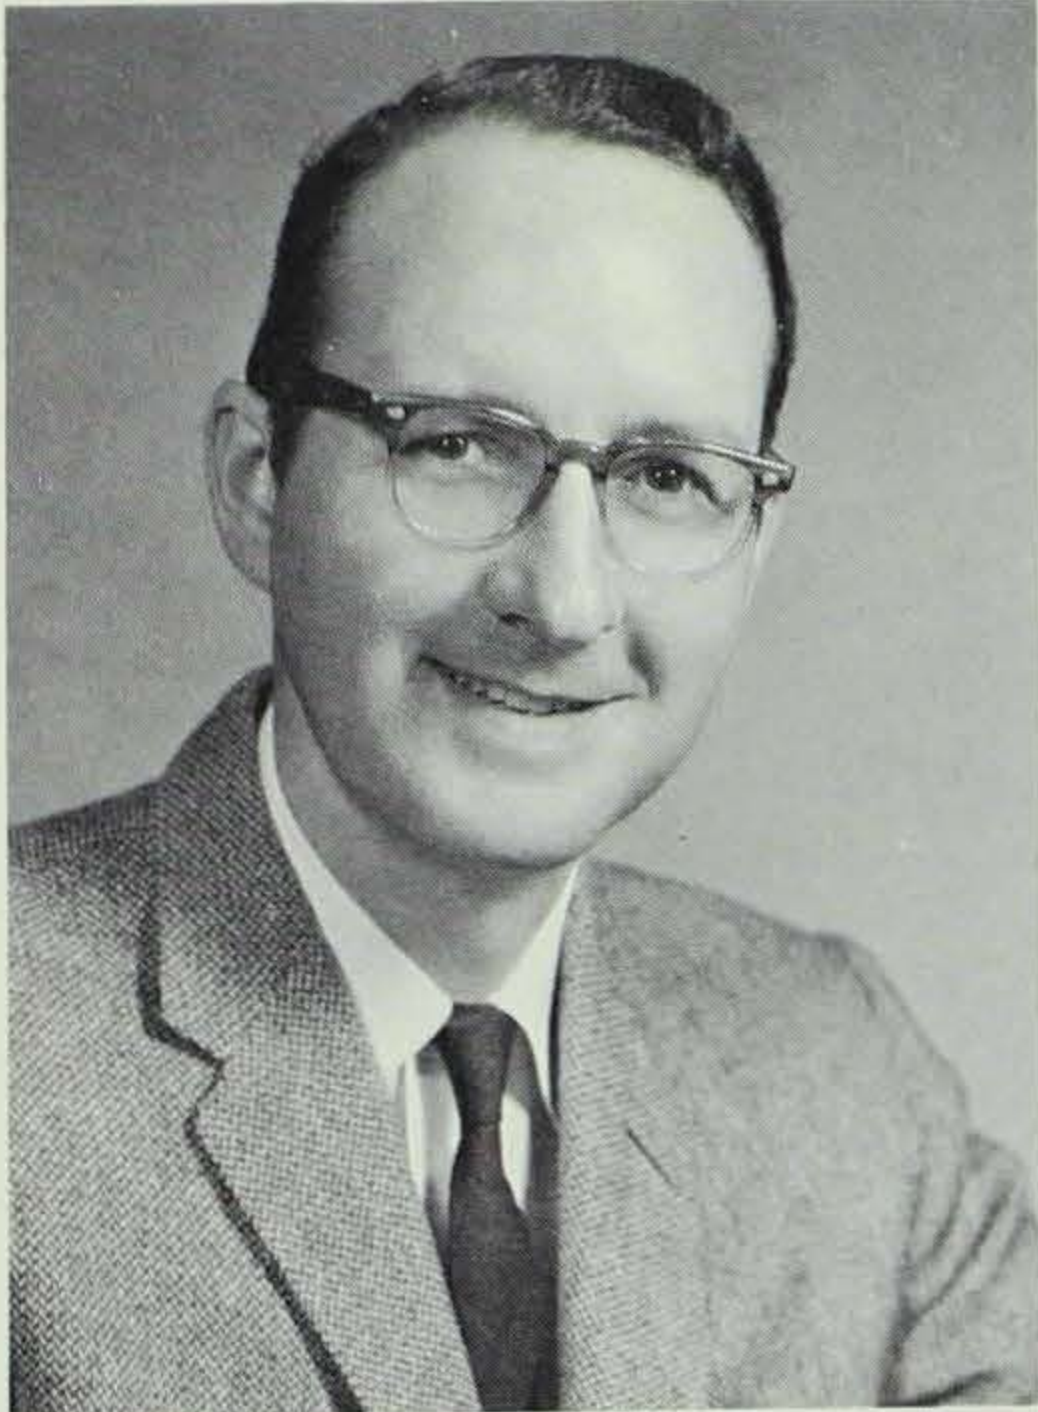

May Almighty God bless you as you assume these responsibilities of the educated.

Sincerely,

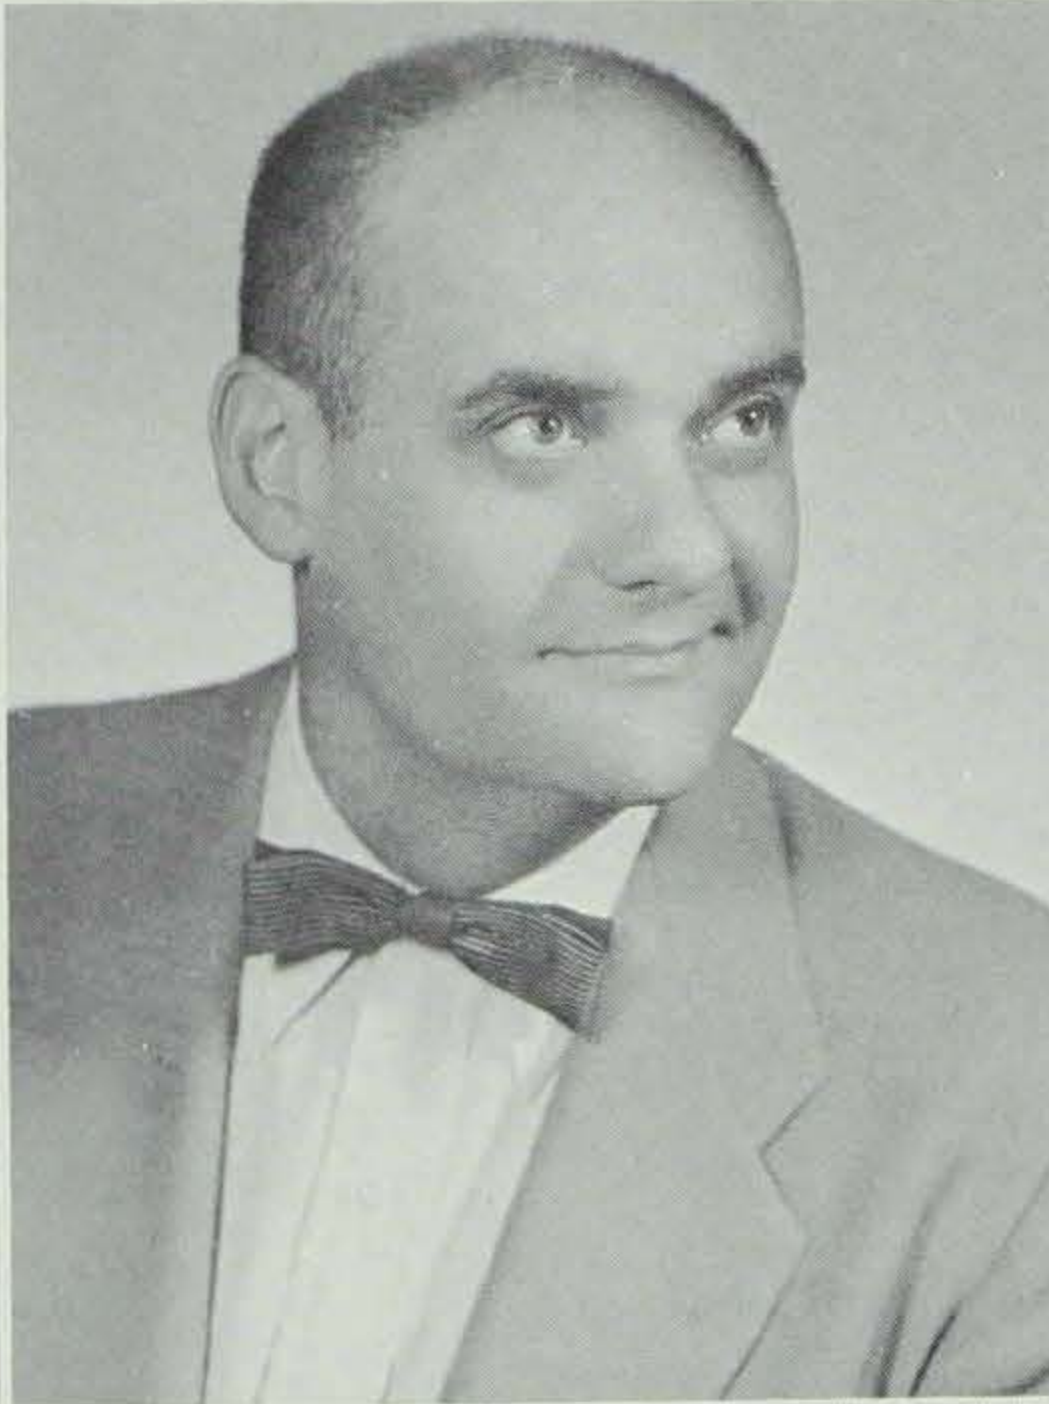

John A. Fisher

"Who's Who"

These seven Buena Vista seniors were selected to appear in the national publication "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

The seven honored seniors were Carole Darling, Lytton; Kenneth Green, Rockwell City; Marilyn Green, Storm Lake; Suzanne Johnson, Terril; Donald Koebele, Grand Junction; Maureen McKenna, Storm Lake; and Tom Hatton, Fort Dodge.

These students were named by both the faculty and the Student Council as outstanding in their class. Membership in "Who's Who" is based on scholarship, leadership, participation and co-operation in college activities, general citizenship in the community, and promise of future success.

This is one of the highest honors that the college can confer on its students.

Student Council

The Student Council is composed of students representing the four classes.

The work of the Student Council begins with many activities that are included in Freshman Orientation Week. Through their combined efforts and that of the student body and faculty, this group also plans and directs all Homecoming activities.

Two major all-college formals were sponsored by the Council. The Winter Formal was held in December, and the annual Spring Formal was held in May.

This spring the Student Council again organized the student body into a Campus Carnival. The proceeds from this gala event were added to the Victory Arch fund.

The Student Council not only served as a liaison between the students and the administration, but it guided and encouraged the various organizations on campus.

The Swope Hall Council is composed of an elected representative from each suite plus the dormitory president. This board handles, with the aid of the deans, problems of discipline and adjustment among the girls who live in Swope Hall. It is the purpose of this organization to promote friendship and unity, to share in the responsibilities of group living, and to maintain high standards in student life.

A number of social events were held throughout the year. A very successful open house was held October 26, after the Homecoming Game. November 6 marked the date of the "Big and Little Sister" Banquet. On December 9 the annual Yule Log Service was held in the Swope Hall Lounge. Spring events included operating the food stand for the LEBRAS Fair and a farewell party given in honor of graduating Swope Hall girls.

FIRST ROW: Robert Bahl, Sam Farner, David Oberlin, Mrs. Carrie Baker, Garold Galvin. SECOND ROW: Jay Warner, Francis Nieman, Noel Hammer.

Men's Dormitory Council

The Men's Dormitory Council is composed of the elected officers and the student counselors. It is the responsibility of these men to co-operate with the administration and the student council in handling problems of discipline and personal adjustment of the men living in the dormitory.

This council strives to promote friendship and unity among the residents and to maintain high standards in student life.

The Men's Dorm participates in many activities on campus such as taking an active part in the Lebras Fair which was held in the spring.

The dorm director for the year was Mrs. Carrie Baker.

The Delta Phi Beta sorority began the year's activities with Rush Week. The tea was held at the home of Mrs. R. E. Mailliard on Sunday afternoon. Monday evening the rushees were entertained at an informal party in the recreation room of Mrs. E. Dohrmann. The theme of this party was 'The Roaring Twenties,' and the girls were driven to the party in antique cars. The Rush Banquet was held Wednesday evening at Cobblestone Inn. New pledges took their initial pledge at the home of Miss Skewis.

Homecoming week included building the Beta float and the annual alliance luncheon at the Bradford Hotel.

The Beta Christmas party was held at the home of Mrs. Jay Beekmann. The pledge program, including a hilarious Santa Claus, was greatly enjoyed by the actives. Near the end of the first semester, Suzanne Johnson was announced as one of the new members elected to "Who's Who."

This year the Betas changed to Help Week. The traditional red and white prison uniforms remained, but the activities were changed. The seven pledges participated in such activities as a Help Hunt and a Slave Day. The money which the girls earned by cleaning and polishing shoes in the Men's Dormitory was donated to the college. After the final pledge banquet at the Steak House on Friday evening, the Beta Heart Hop was held in Beaver Hall.

On April 17th the Betas helped sponsor the Panhellenic formal at the Country Club. The year's activities ended with the spring Alliance Luncheon.

Phi Alpha Pi

The Phi Alpha Pi sorority, organized in 1906, started the year with their annual rush tea held in the home of Mrs. L. H. Wagener. Other rush week activities included an informal party planned around the theme "Greenwich Village" and the rush banquet held in the Storm Lake Room of the Cobblestone Inn. The theme was "Some Enchanted Evening," and the sorority colors of pink and white were used for the decorations.

Homecoming weekend found the sorority busy with their many activities. Their float won the sweepstakes award, and five active members were chosen by the student body as Homecoming Queen attendants. They were Mary Beckwith, Carol Jackson, Marilyn Lewis, Maureen McKenna, and Barbara Moe.

The annual Christmas party was held at the home of Mrs. George Coulson.

Other honors for the 147 pound halfback-fullback included his being named to the defensive platoon of the district 15 NAIA football team and selection by his teammates for a co-captaincy of the Beaver squad and as Buena Vista's most valuable player.

Quiet, unassuming, but deadly serious when he pulled on his football togs, Keith Bunting was a constant source of inspiration to his teammates throughout his collegiate career.

The Buena Vista Circle K Club, which was organized in 1950, was the thirteenth club to receive a charter from Circle K International.

Circle K is the college level of the Kiwanis Club, with whom it works in connection with many projects of service to both the campus and community. The purpose of Circle K is to provide college men with an organization in which they can have good fellowship, be of service to others, and secure valuable experience in working with others.

Circle K was again very active on campus this year. Among the projects carried out were ushering at various college and community events, the annual community pancake supper, and the penny pitch stand at the LEBRAS Fair. The main event of the year was the annual appreciation banquet, which was held April 27, 1959, and had as guest speaker Fay McDonald, director of Circle K International.

Delegates will be sent this year to the International Convention at Delaware, Ohio.

Buena Vista College Band

During the past year the Buena Vista College Band has made numerous public appearances. The marching band added color and spirit to every football game. Original and clever routines seemed to be their specialty.

In the winter the band faithfully played at all the basketball games. A full band concert was given January 20. The brass choir performed during Spiritual Emphasis Week and provided the accompaniment for the choir's presentation of "Te Deum."

The band gave a concert at Hayes High School besides the Fine Arts Week concert in the spring. The annual band banquet and performances at commencement activities concluded a successful year for Director Green and his talented and loyal group.

The first week in November ten members attended the state MENC convention in Des Moines. Included in the activities were choral and band clinics, elementary workshops, and panel discussions.

Tryouts for the Northwest Iowa High School Band were held on campus January 10. The MENC members helped in organizing this event as well as serving as hosts and guides to the visiting students and directors. The members served in the same capacity at the LEBRAS Fair.

The meetings offered various programs of musical interest.

The Buena Vista Chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, national English honor fraternity, was organized in 1938. The purpose of the organization is the advancement of appreciation of English by the study of the masterpieces. To develop and to express one's self in writing is especially emphasized.

Since its founding in 1938, the Nu Delta chapter at Buena Vista has grown in importance. This year five chapter members had seven manuscripts published in The Rectangle, national magazine of Sigma Tau Delta. Tom Hatton had the honor of having a poem published in the 1958 edition of the National Anthology of Collegiate Poetry and received honorable mention in the Iowa State Poetry Contest.

"Stage and Pen" was this year's program theme for the Nu Delta chapter. Activities included the sponsorship of a campus poetry contest and the publication of the Compass, a collection of outstanding student writings.

The most important activity was again the production of the annual Sigma Tau Delta show, which was written, directed, and produced by student members.

Members are chosen among those people who exhibit an interest in English and maintain a notable average in this field.

Spiritual Emphasis Week

February 16-20, 1959

Theme: "God's Concern for Us"

The Reverend R. B. Heydinger

Spiritual Emphasis Week at Buena Vista College is a time when the college family gives special thought to our great Christian heritage.

This year's guest speaker was the Reverend Richard B. Heydinger, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Dubuque, Iowa.

The Reverend Heydinger was born in Ohio. He is a graduate of Maryville College and McCormick Theological Seminary. Before going to Dubuque, he was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Morrison, Illinois. He has also served as a chaplain in the United States Navy.

Spiritual Emphasis Week was again filled with many interesting and inspiring activities. Daily chapel services were held in the Lakeside Presbyterian Church.

Each evening there was some type of program or fellowship for the students and the faculty. The Music Department presented a Sacred Concert, and the Dramatics Department presented a formal reading of "Every Man."

The highlight of the week was the Fellowship Dinner which was followed by the student discussion groups. An inspiring Candlelight Service provided a fitting climax to a very successful evening.

The group meets twice a month in various homes or churches to share a program designed to meet the needs and answer the questions of its members. This year the group provided several youth group programs for surrounding communities and presented several church services. The group also sponsored a student body poll on the possibility of having foreign and Negro students on campus. Larry Martin was the efficient and reliable business manager, who not only secured advertisements but also helped fold and distribute the paper. Two columnists were on the staff. First semester Maryanna Hubbard contributed "Beaver Tales." Second semester David Lampe entertained the readers with "The Lampe Light." Lynn Baldwin faithfully snapped TACK pictures for his second year of service to the paper. Events of interest were reported by Marilyn Green, Carol Coburn, Rosemary Shaw, and Carla Davis.

The faculty adviser was Mr. Don Kelly, director of public relations and assistant professor of journalism.

Beaver Log

The Beaver Log staff voluntarily assumes the task of publishing the college yearbook. Their only reward is the satisfaction of seeing the job completed and holding the finished annual in their hands. The editor and assistant editor, appointed each year by the Faculty-Student Publications Committee, do receive financial compensation. All other staff members donate their time and effort to the accomplishment of publication.

The purpose of the book is to tell the Beaver story for the year. We, of the staff, hope that this Log story will bring back memories to each and every student. Its story is that of the student throughout the three seasons of his college year. Each season was filled with social activity, religious growth, athletic participation, and educational study. On the pages of the Log these events have been recorded for the future. We hope that this record will be enjoyed by all who read it.

The LEBRAS Fair was to have been the climax of Fine Arts Week. Friday night the Variety Show took place as scheduled.

Dr. Hirsch and Dr. Grate "cut up" in the faculty skit. The clowns added to the gaiety of the evening. Four unidentified hillbillies performed (?). "The Black Smog" joined Jorge Huston, Robert Lindgren, Roger Christiansen, and Gary Moore. The "never to be forgotten" act was presented by the distinguished faculty.

At the Lettermen's booth Don McCaulley got all wet. Saturday every stand got wet, cancelling the 1959 LEBRAS Fair.

Lambda Sigma Tau

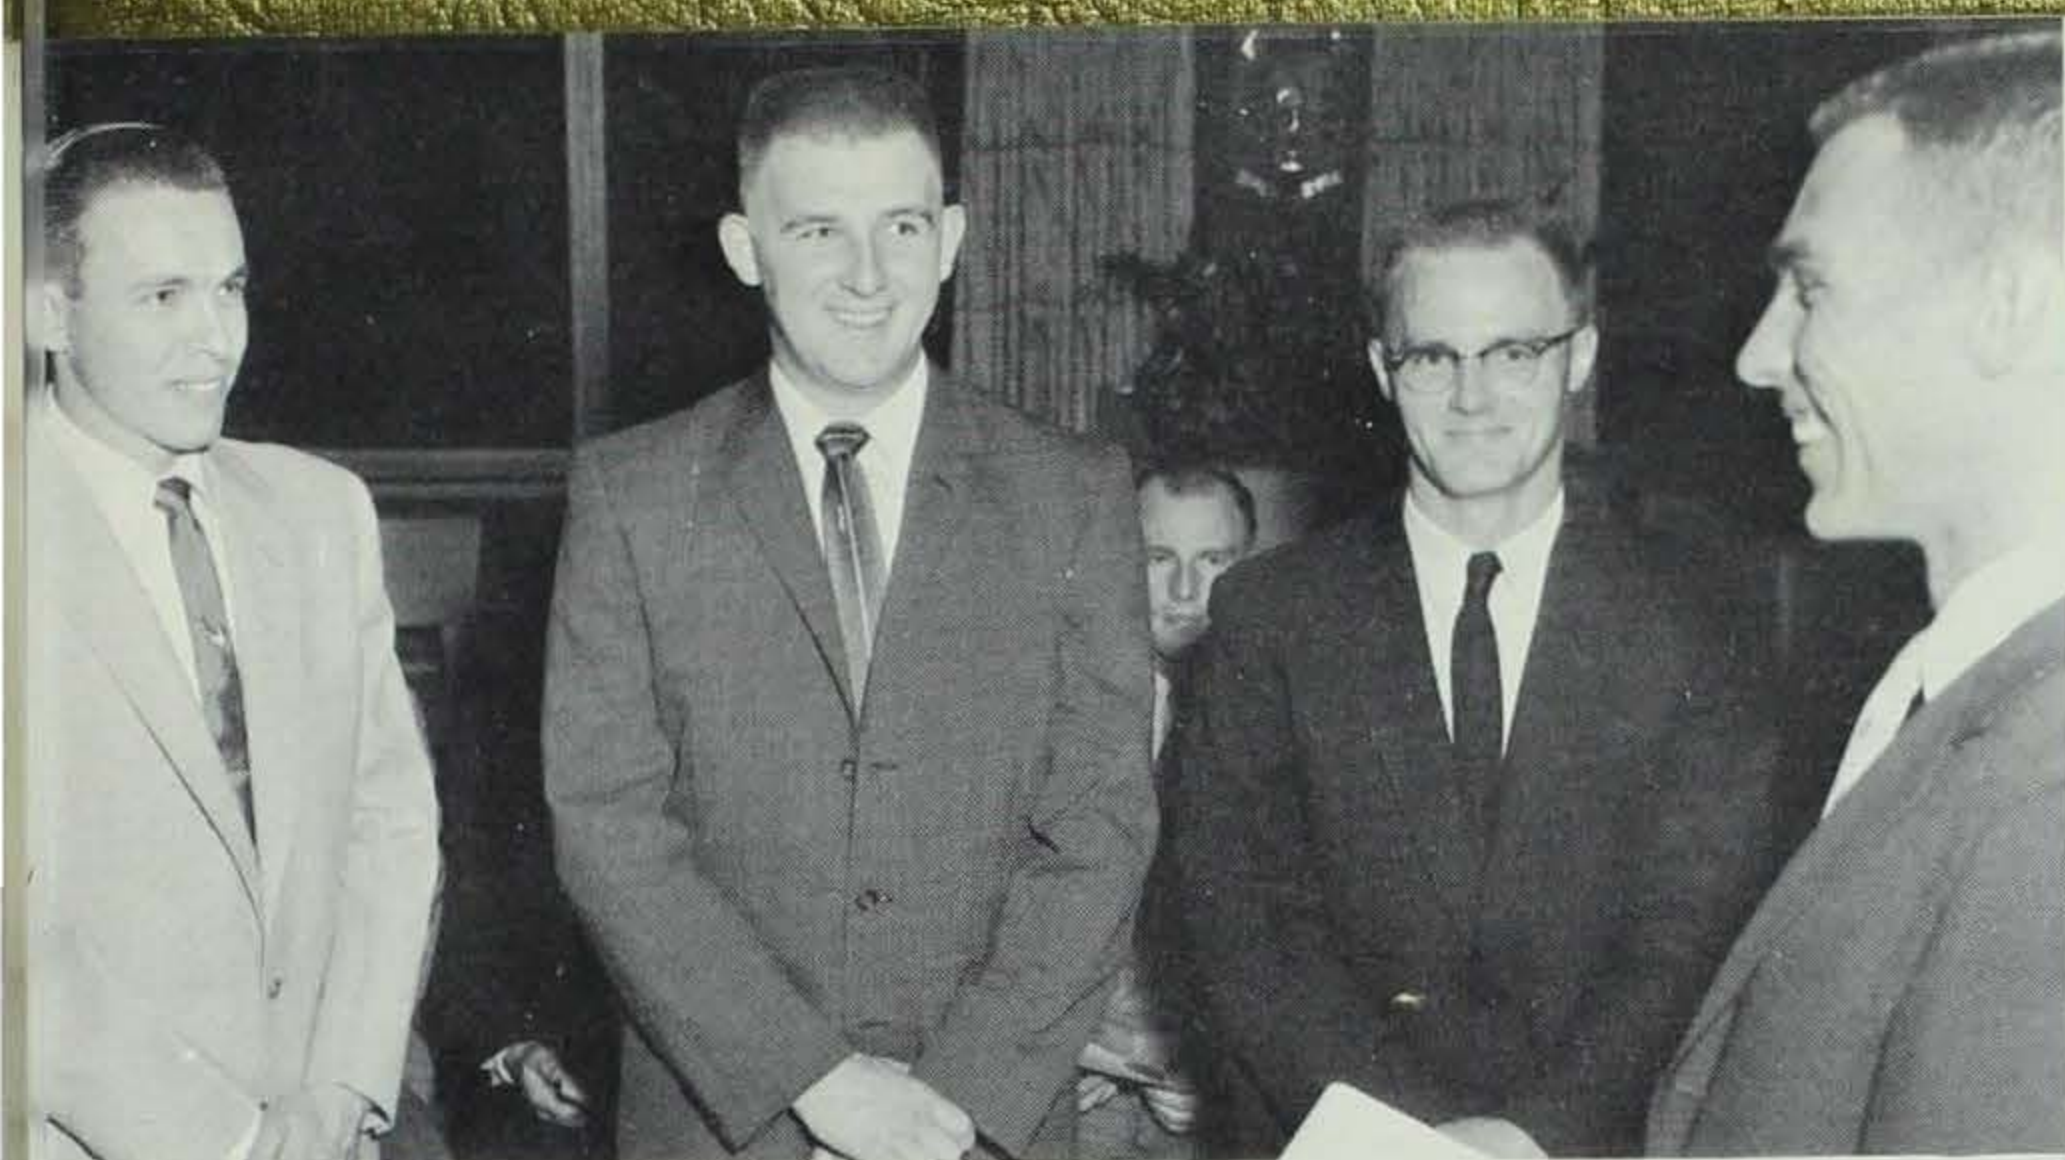

Officers

President Gerald Brown
 Vice-President Don Luetkeman
 Secretary-Treasurer Gary Brown
 Sponsor Prof. Ronald Smith

The installation of Delta Chapter, Lambda Sigma Tau, national honorary science fraternity, April 24, 1959, climaxed the reorganization of the former Natural Science Club. The club was reorganized by the faculty in September as an honorary organization in order to recognize high standards of scholarship and to encourage scientific achievement. Later, plans to affiliate with a national honorary were begun, and affiliation with Lambda Sigma Tau was assured in February.

Membership is limited to junior and senior science majors who have completed at least 19 hours of study in the science division and have a 2.0 grade average in their major field and 1.7 or better general grade average.

The purpose of the organization is to keep its members and the general public abreast of current scientific developments and to arouse interest in science.

The charter acceptance of Lambda Sigma Tau was one of the important spring events on campus. In the picture above the national president has just finished installing the local president, Gerald Brown; the vice-president, Don Luetkeman; and the secretary-treasurer, Gary Brown.

The evening's speaker was W. D. Frankforter. Professor Boone enjoyed showing him the Buena Vista science laboratories.

In the lower right-hand corner Mrs. Boone is pictured as she presided over the tea table, graciously serving new Lambda Sigma Tau members, Lanny Grigsby, Byron Schulke, and Bill McDonald.

During the evening numerous visitors toured the laboratories of Smith Hall. Lambda Sigma Tau members such as Bruce Gunderson, shown below, acted as guides.

The 1959 Beaver track team represented an upsurge in "cinder" talent on the Buena Vista campus. Their season included the winning of two track meets, the Westmar Dual Meet and the college section of the Storm Lake-Buena Vista Invitational.

In March the track season opened with the Iowa Teachers Indoor Relays where Wally Hinman won the 50-yard dash. Next the team participated in the University of South Dakota Invitational. April 14 Buena Vista won the Westmar Dual Meet, the first dual meet won by the Beavers since before World War II. Relay teams placed in three of the seven relay events at the Iowa Conference Meet, and the 440 and 880 yard relay teams placed at the Sioux City Relays. Ron Subbert and Wally Hinman were second and fourth in the 100-yard dash. After winning the Storm Lake-Buena Vista Invitational, the Beavers took part in the conference relays. Again the dash men were prominent in the scoring.

The year's season saw a much stronger Beaver track squad under the capable direction of Coach Dean Laun.

TENNIS

Buena Vista's tennis team was again coached by Dr. Luther Powell of the Lakeside Presbyterian Church. The team included Clyde Bentzin, Bernard Johnson, Jim Ripkin, Pat FitzPatrick, and Dwight Subbert.

Golf

Coach Merritt Ewalt capably directed the Beaver golf team. Its letter-winning members were Jim McDonald, Dennis Marten, Marlin Gustin, and Roger Jaacks.

Spring Formal

The all-college Spring Formal Dance was held at Cobblestone Inn May 15. Tulip Time was the theme for the decorations. Following the dinner the couples enjoyed dancing in the beautifully decorated ball-room. This gala spring event was sponsored by the Student Council.

Senior Farewell Convocation

Commencement activities were opened Wednesday morning, May 27, with the Senior Farewell Convocation at Victory Hall. The Buena Vista College Band played the processional and the recessional. Senior student Robert Hummel presented the invocation. Greetings to the seniors were given by the presidents of the three other classes, freshman Linda Williams, sophomore Noel Hammer, and junior Bob O'Rourke. Gerald Brown responded for the seniors. Following a speech by Rev. Eggink the presentation of the class gift was made. Senior class president Gerald Brown presented the gift to President Fisher, who received it for the college.

Following the recessional by the band the graduating seniors marched across the campus toward Smith Hall. There the traditional class tree was planted.

Honor Society Tea

The Buena Vista Honor Society held its annual meeting Wednesday, June 3, at Swope Hall. New members from the 1959 graduating class were admitted at this time. To gain society membership one must have maintained a grade point average of at least 2.3 during his or her four years in college.

Dr. Sampson, shown at the left with Mrs. Ada Edson and Wendell C. Edson, is annually responsible for the success of the Honor Society Tea. At this year's tea Mrs. Edson, class of '99, was also admitted to membership in the society.

Nine of the new Honor Society members are pictured at the right. They include Mrs. Carole Darling, Karen Horsman, Mrs. Colleen McDiarmid, Mrs. Vivian McCorkle, Mrs. Ardelle Bruns, Suzanne Johnson, Tom Hatton, Marilyn Green, and Paul Jones. Wayne Sutter and Mrs. Dorothy Sturdevant were also admitted to membership at this time.

Commencement

Commencement exercises were held at Sunset Park, June 4, for the ninety-nine graduating seniors. At the right Professor Reynolds is shown leading the academic procession to the ceremonies.

President Fisher, Dean Wesselink, and Dr. Sampson presented the diplomas. Four years of study had reached their climax. As the college band played the recessional, ninety-nine new graduates of Buena Vista College marched on to different lives and greater accomplishments.
