Foreword

This has been one of the greatest years for Buena Vista. It has made marked advancement and assumed wonderful dreams of future development. This, THE RUDDER of 1929 has endeavored to portray this one year of progress in Buena Vista College, to show what the future holds forth, and to gather between two covers, scenes which in days to come will be cherished by all.

If it has accomplished this, our goal will have been reached.

Dedication

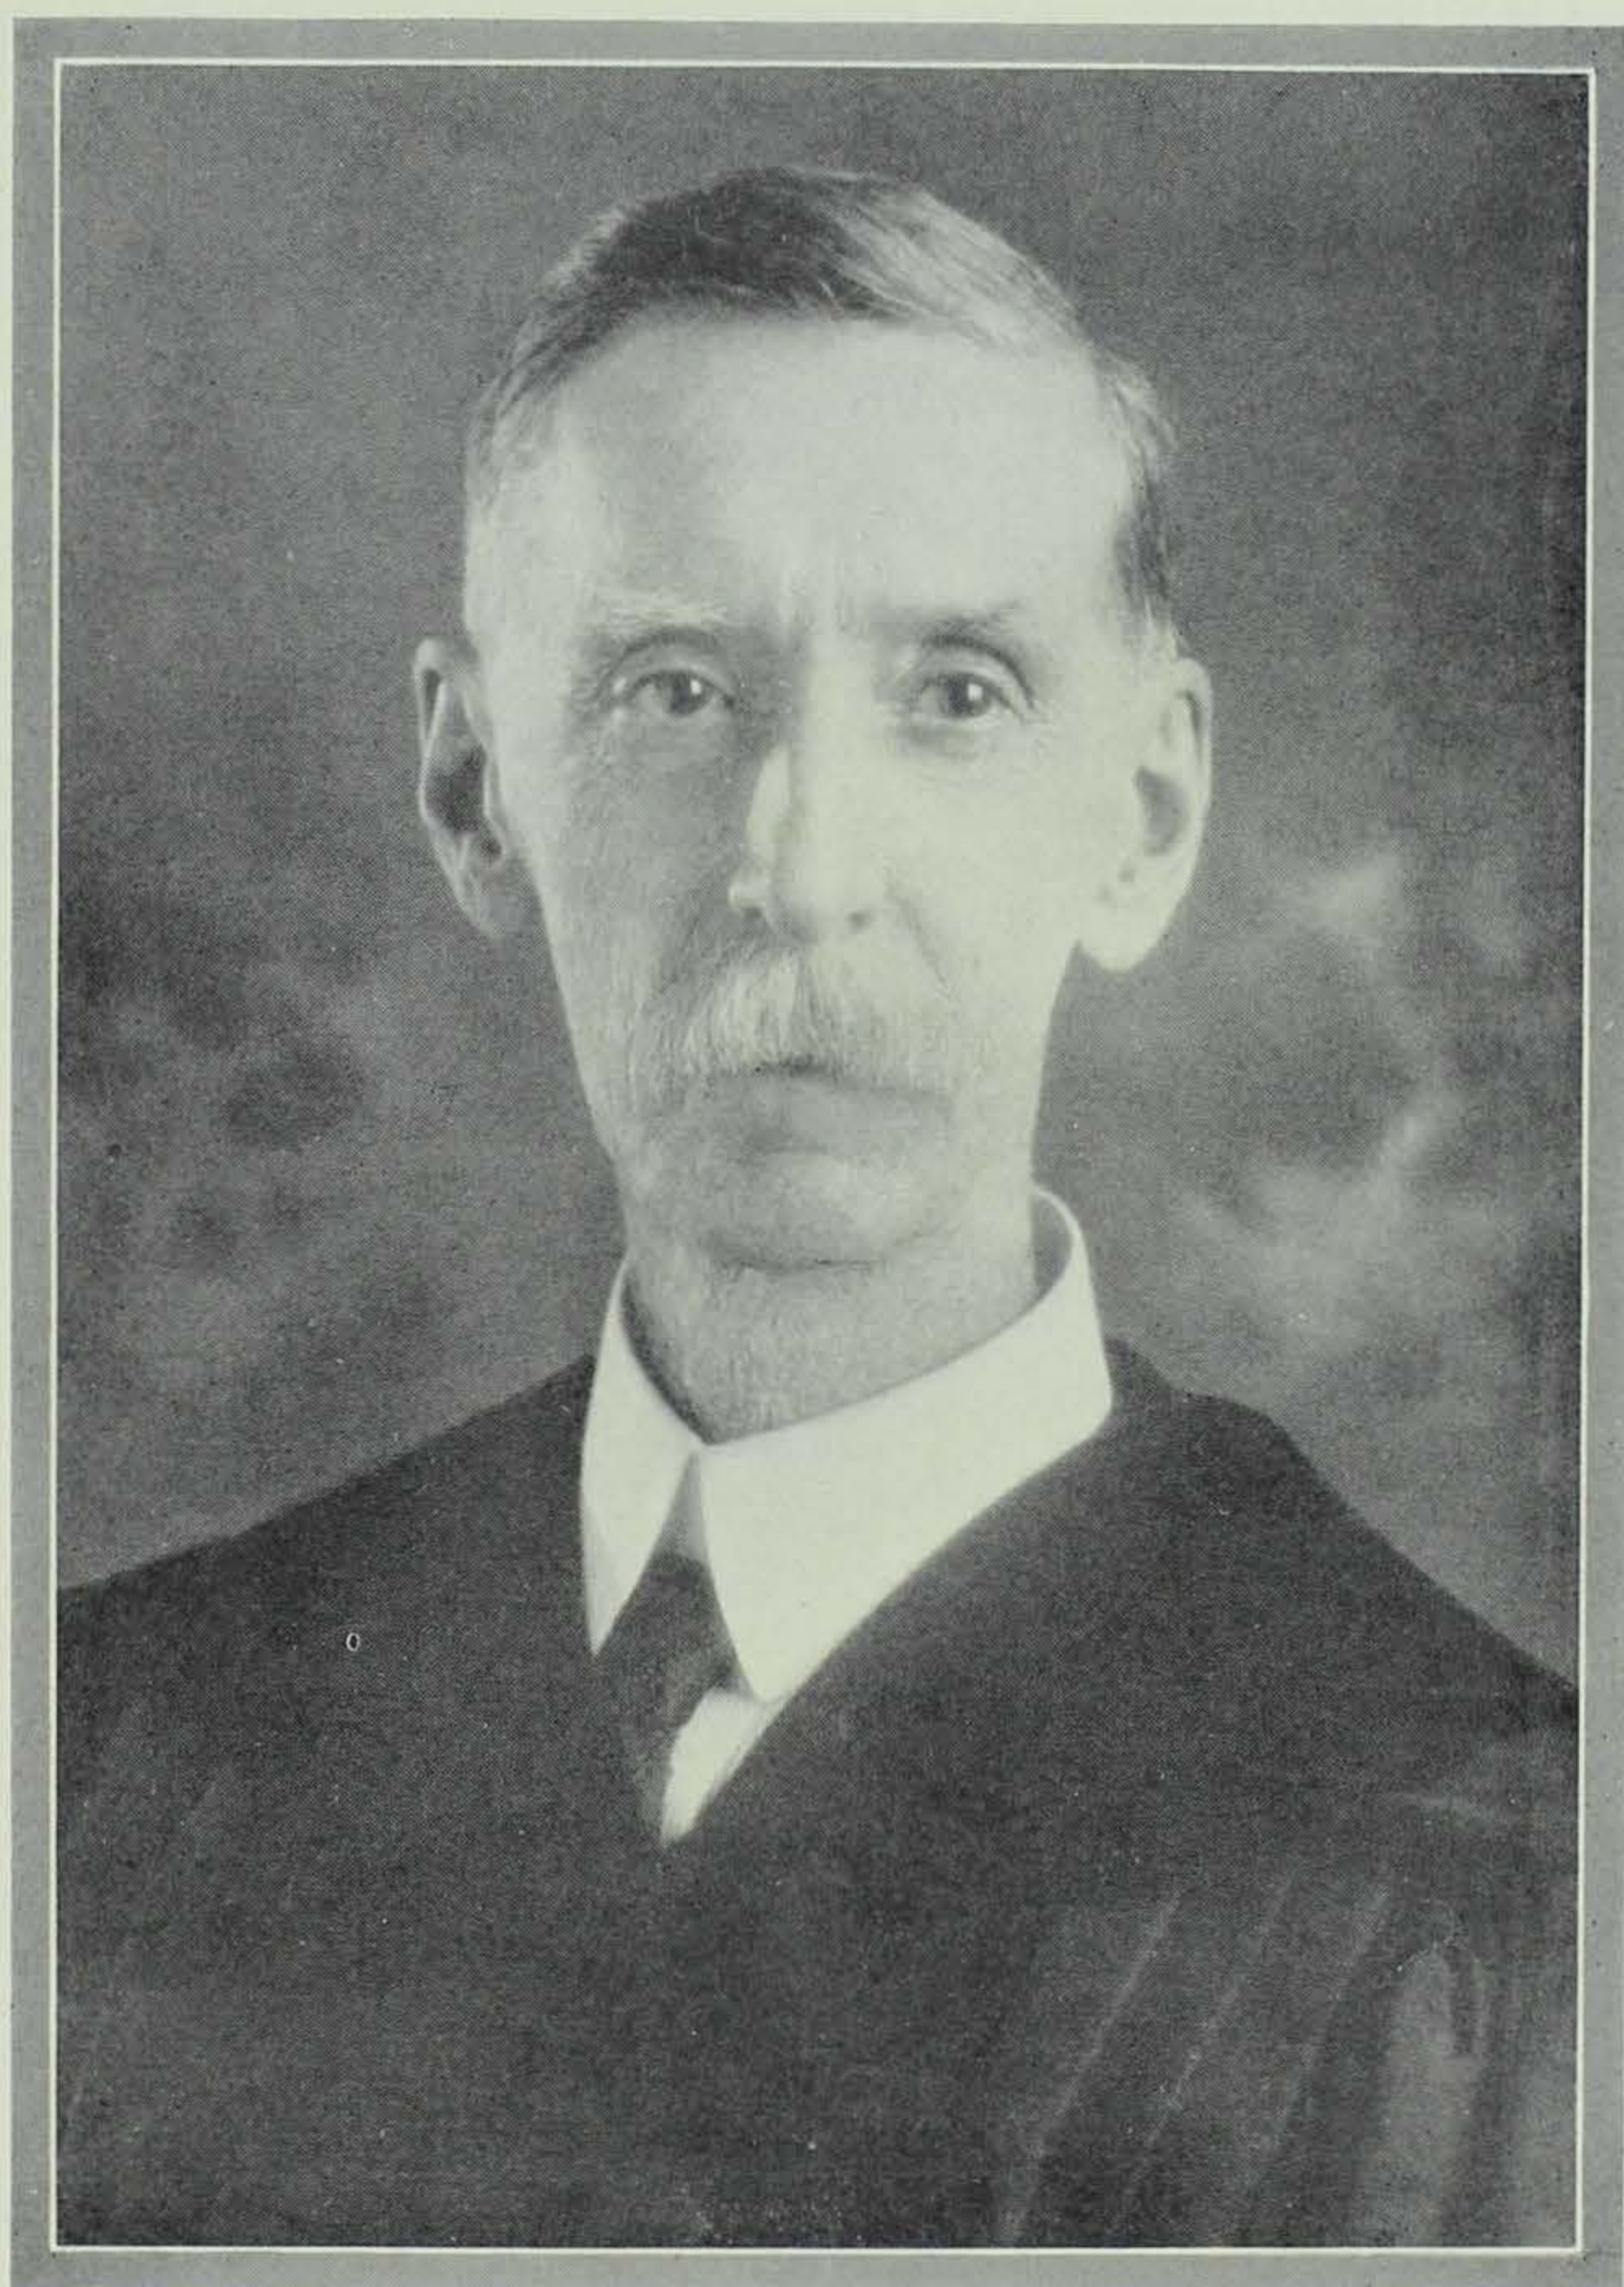

To

DR. GEORGE H. FRACKER

Whose thirty-seven years of faithful service has helped to make Buena Vista College one of the foremost institutions of learning in the State, and who in the discharge of the most arduous duties, has rightfully earned the title of "Buena Vista's Grand Old Man", we, the class of 1929 dedicate this volume of

THE RUDDER.

For the student body, the faculty, alumni and all friends of Buena Vista we have edited this book. We publish it with but one thought in mind,—to make it a book which you will always cherish as a reminder of your college days, and especially the year of 1927-28.

If it will do this we will feel well repaid for our efforts in its publication. We have tried to make it a bigger and better annual in an attempt to keep up with the rapid advancement of the college as an institution, under the able leadership of Doctor Evert L. Jones.

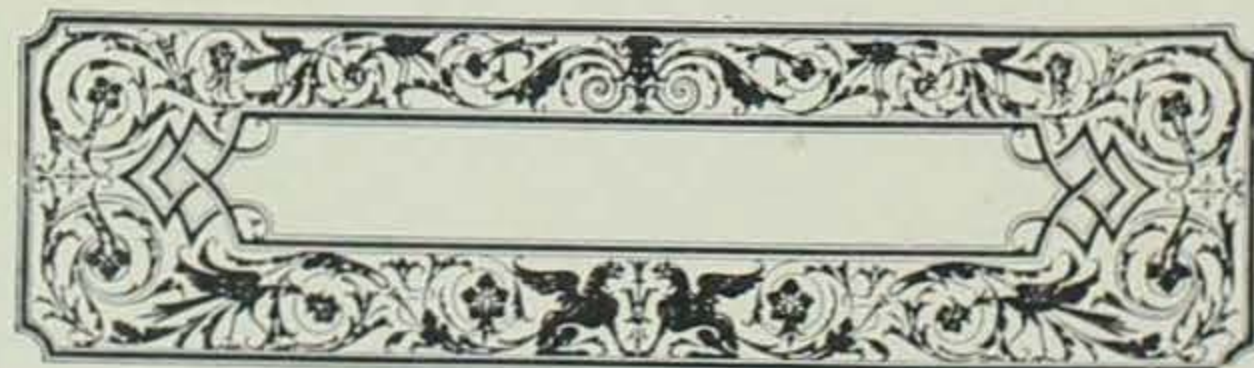

We, the Junior class of 1928, express our appreciation to all who have helped in making this RUDDER a success.

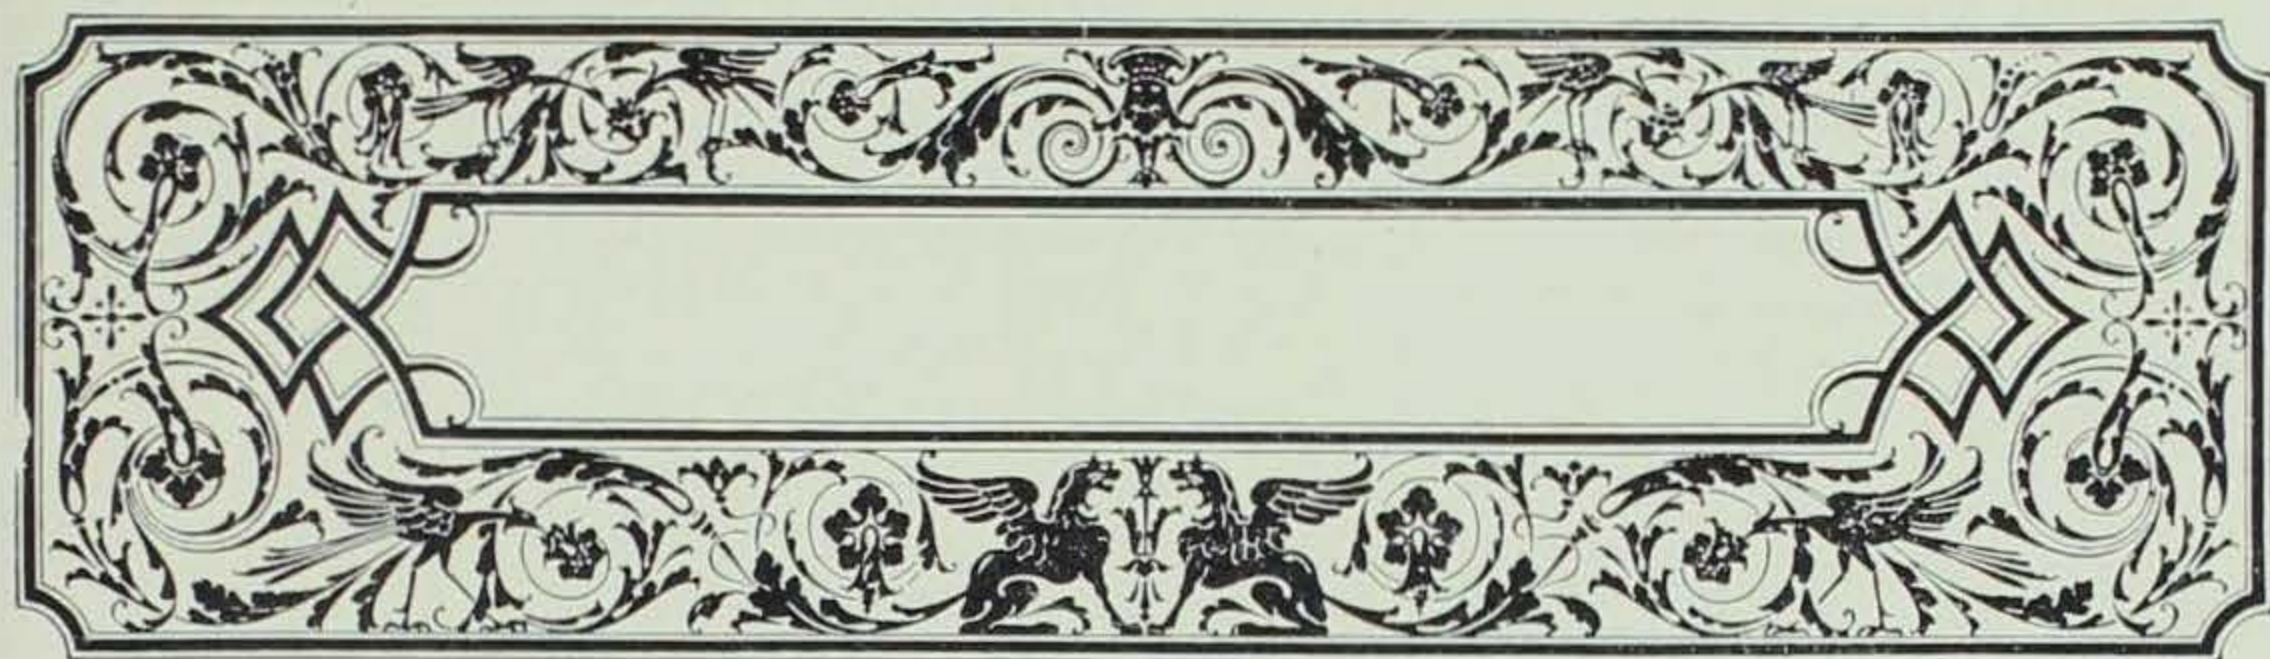

*"Hark! The students' voices swelling,
Strong and true and clear;
Alma Mater's love they're telling,
Ringing far and near."*

Buena Vista is located on a small knoll, a short distance from the Lake. From the entrance to Old Main, one gets a beautiful view of the Lake—past Victory Hall and over the tennis courts and athletic field. Slightly to the right is the new Science Hall. On the left is the Music Hall and the President's home. No one can realize the beauty of the scene unless he has actually witnessed the setting of it.

"The world will little note nor long remember what we Say here; but it can never forget what they did here."

*"Of all her train, the hands of Spring
First plant thee in the watery mould,
And I have seen thee blossoming
Beside the snow-bank's edges cold."*

Approaching the College and campus from the south on College Avenue, another beautiful setting is before you. The tree-lined drive leading up to Old Main is a temptation to many a passing motorist. Old Main—stately, serene and beautified with age—stands at the end of the drive. The campus to the left is attractively landscaped—and two stone pillars loom as the only guides to the old drive.

Is there any doubt that the students love Buena Vista?

*"No single parts unequally surprise
All comes united to the admiring eyes."*

Book I

PRESIDENT EVERT LEON JONES

is completing his fourth year as executive of Buena Vista College. This year has brought the real beginning of some of the aims and ambitions which Doctor Jones had with his coming to Buena Vista. The new Science Hall stands as the realization of one aim, a larger student body has fulfilled another, and now, as a climax to four years of arduous work and much thought, the outline and starting of the endowment campaign. Buena Vista College and the student body have every respect for Dr. E. L. Jones.

The Women's Athletic Association of Buena Vista College is now a member of the State Women's Athletic Association, gaining membership this year. The aim of this association is to further women's athletics in the schools.

Entrance into the association may be gained when a certain number of points have been earned by taking part in the various activities and when five hundred points are earned by a member, she is entitled to a white sweater and the right to wear a B. V.

This association is self supporting and is wide awake and active.

Athletics

Book IV

FRANCIS L. CASEY

Coach Casey in his first year at Buena Vista has added another chapter to his remarkable achievements in the field of athletics. Last fall, when Casey took over the coaching duties he faced the difficult task of rebuilding our athletics after a disastrous year. With but a handful of material he placed a football team in the field that was feared by every school in the conference. A fast, clever, fighting team characteristic of all Casey-coached teams.

In basketball and track the same story may be told. In one year Casey has lead the BeaVers in a gigantic stride toward the top. Our teams are again admired and respected by all followers of athletics. We have an exceedingly bright future under his guidance. Buena Vista college is proud of Coach Francis L. Casey.

FOOTBALL

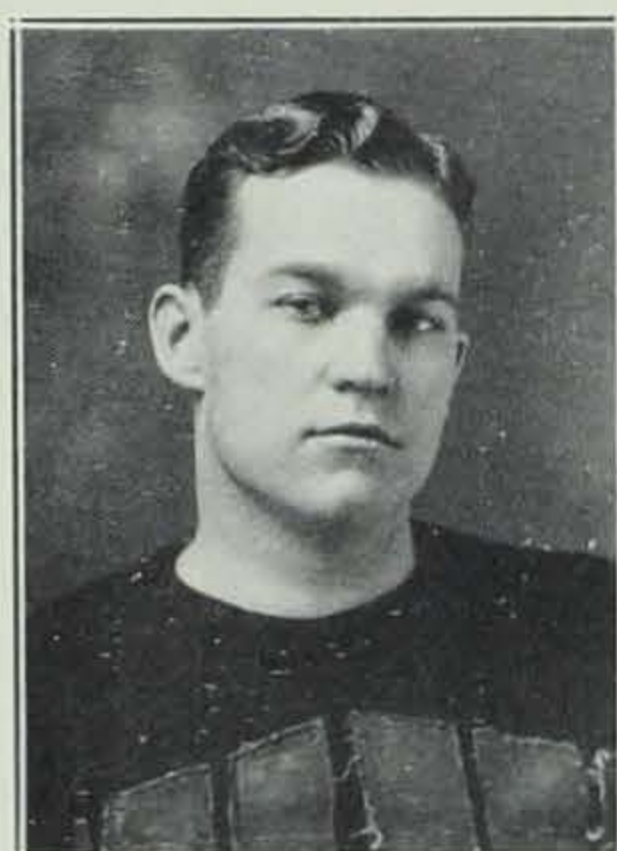

CAPTAIN CHRISTIE

Escanaba, Michigan

Quarterback

"Duke" has played his fourth and last year for Buena Vista. As Captain he had the confidence of every man. He was a cool and heady field general. "Duke" could run, kick or pass and was a deadly tackler. He played every minute until serious injuries forced him from the Simpson game. During his four years he has been picked on several mythical Iowa conference and State elevens. His name may be mentioned with Buena Vista's best football men.

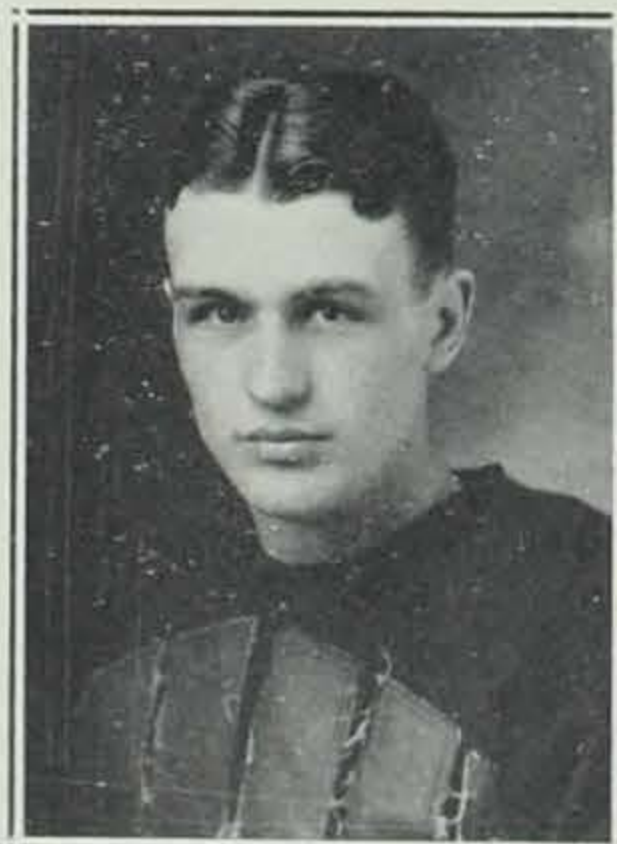

BEN DELONG

Spirit Lake, Iowa

Tackle

Through four years Ben fought for Buena Vista. He merits all the praise that can be given him. His work offensively and defensively was superb. For three years he was handicapped by an injured knee but he never quit. He was a smart hard fighting, hard driving tackle. Buena Vista will miss him.

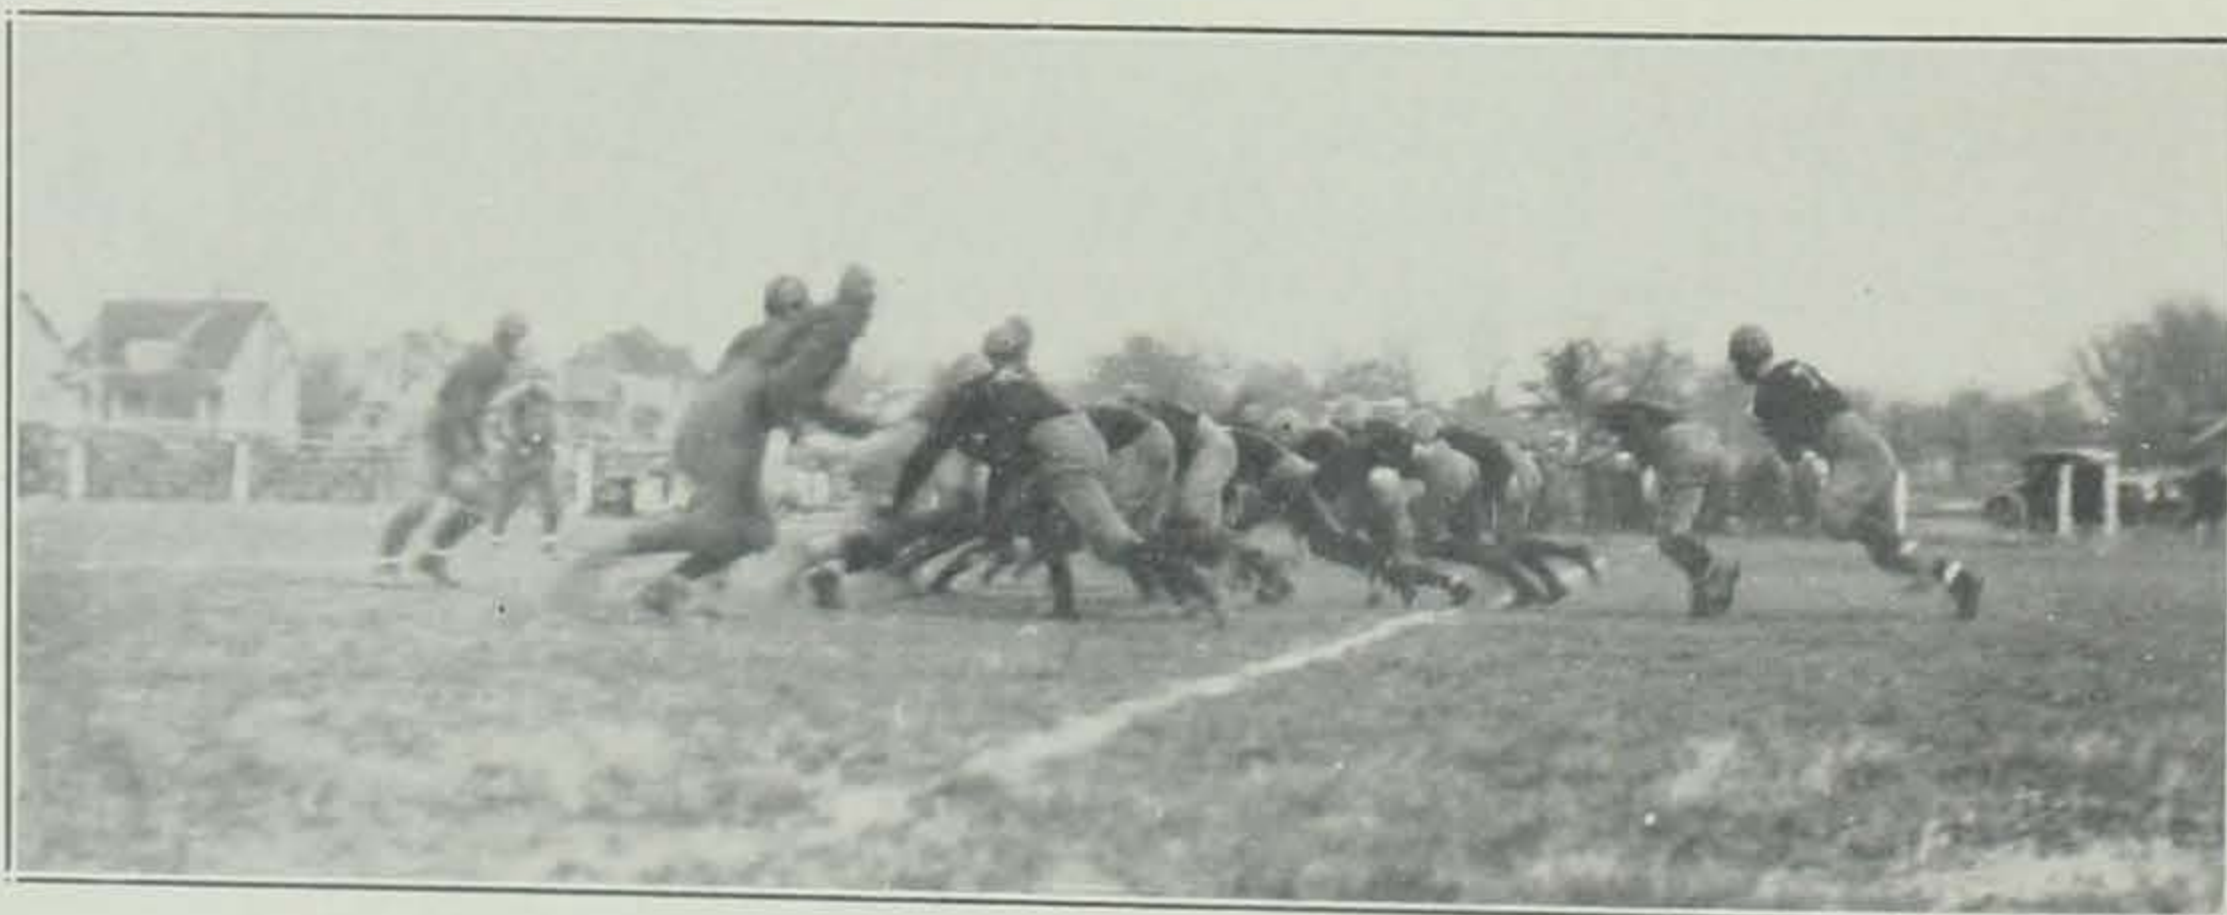

HAROLD KEISTER

Storm Lake, Iowa

Center

"Pete" was a real center and good enough for anybody's team. He fought every minute in every game. He was injured before the State Teachers game and it was a severe blow to the team both physically and morally. "Pete" was back in his position for the Des Moines game and from then on he was the same aggressive man, always giving his best. "Pete" has two years left.

MURRAY KIMBALL

Bagley, Iowa

Guard

Murray was a versatile player and solved many of Casey's problems by playing either guard, center or tackle. He was a flash down under punts and nearly always tackled the opposing safety without gain. He was among the best guards in the conference. Murray has two years left.

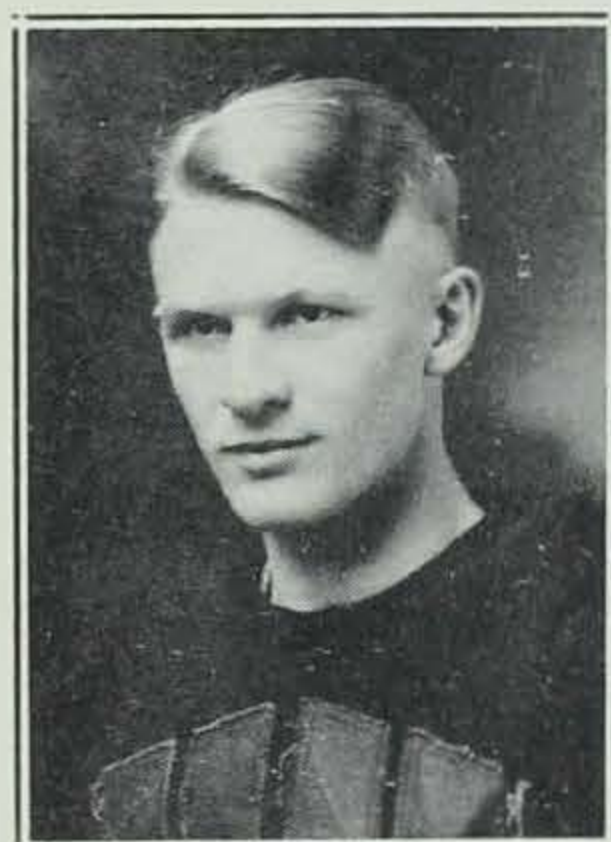

VIGGO PETERSON

Estherville, Iowa

End

"Pete" held down the left end of the line. He was a good defensive man and a valuable part of Coach Casey's aerial attack. "Pete" was at his best in the Trinity game, playing like a demon. "Pete" is a Junior and watch him go next year.

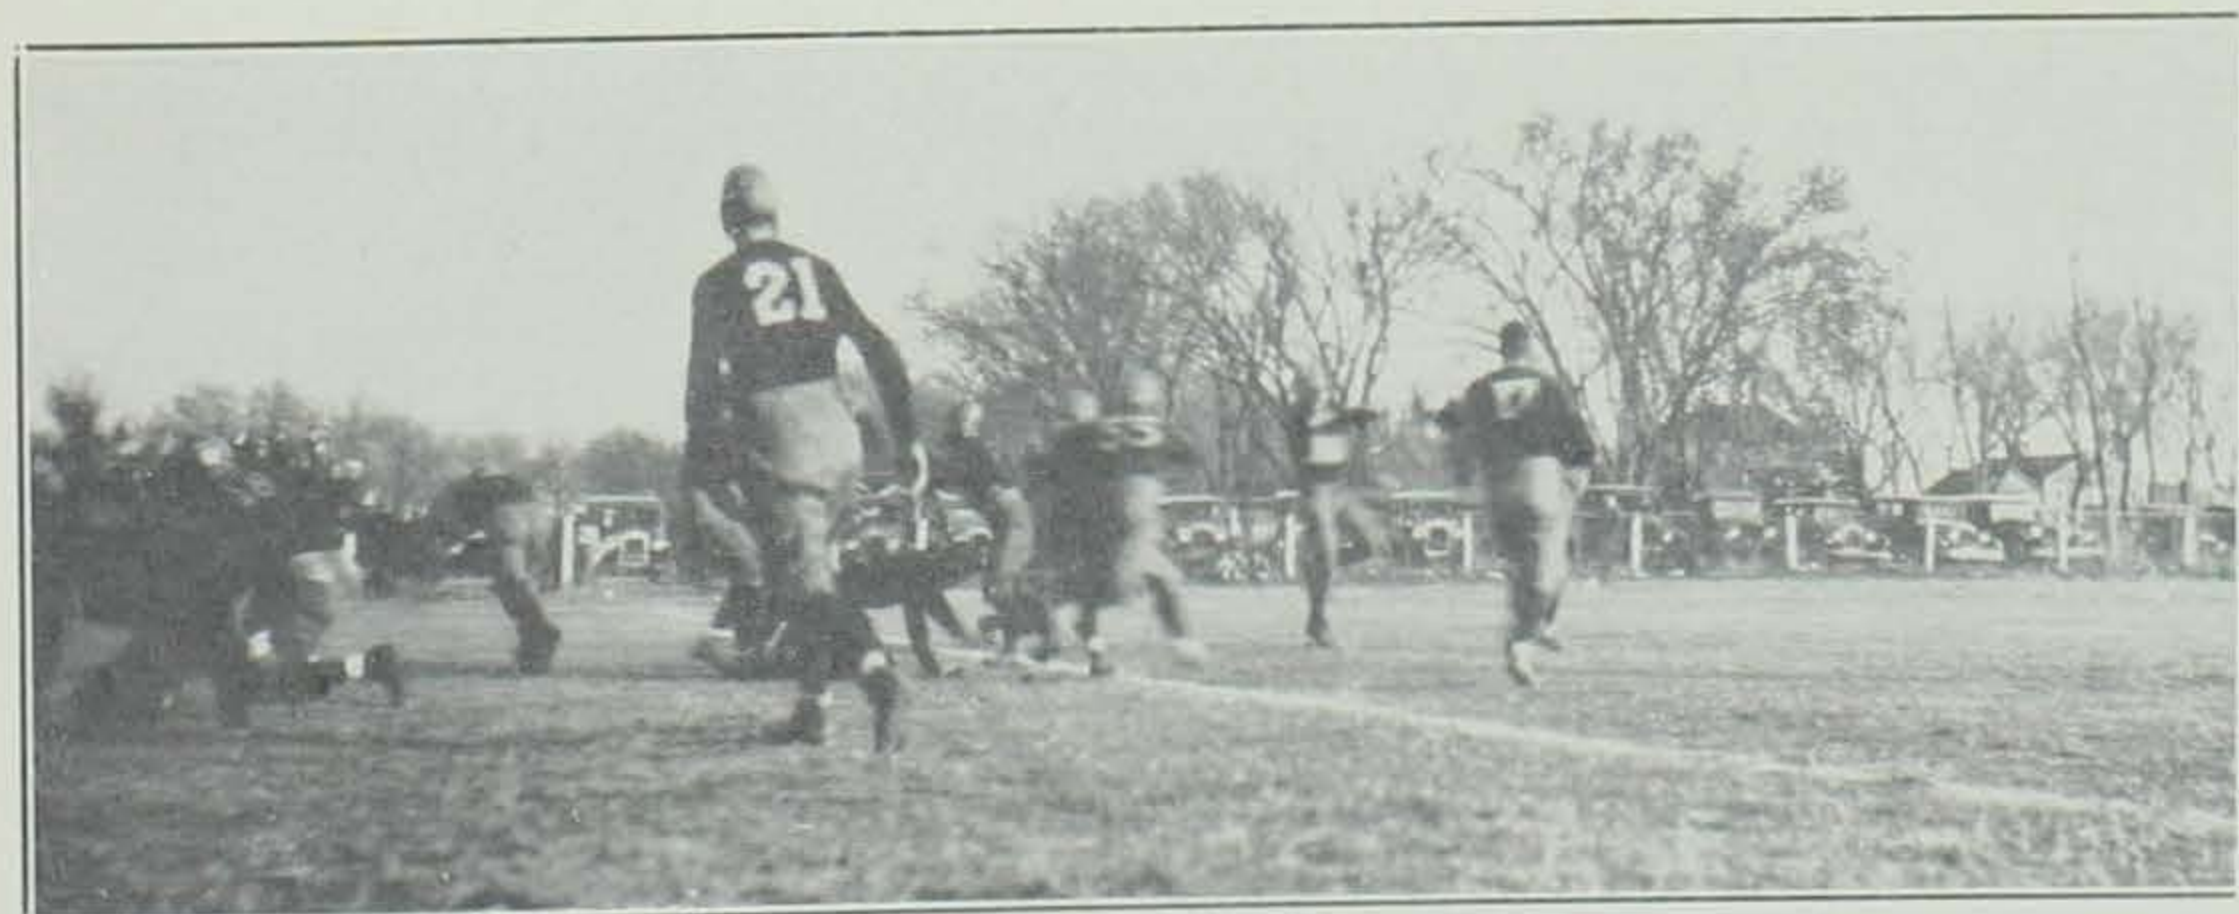

ADELBERT THAYER

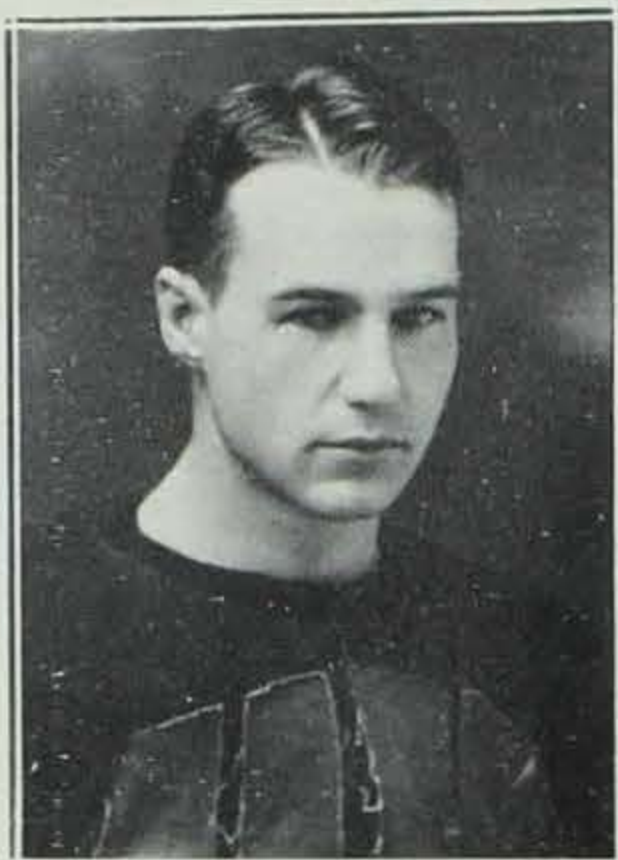

Venice, California

Guard

To Thayer fell the task of filling Keister's place in the State Teachers game. With but one practice session at that position he played a real game. He has one year left.

JAMES TRIPLETT

Sutherland, Iowa

Halfback

"Jim" played at the halfback position most of the season. Though small, he had the drive and was a clever blocker. After Christie's injury in the Simpson game he assumed the quarter-back duties and gave a good account of himself.

RUSSELL MILLER

Ida Grove, Iowa

Tackle

Miller was a freshman who lived up to and surpassed a fine High School reputation. In addition to being a tower of strength on the line he was a good runner, kicker and passer. Russell will do his share of making Buena Vista football history in the next three years.

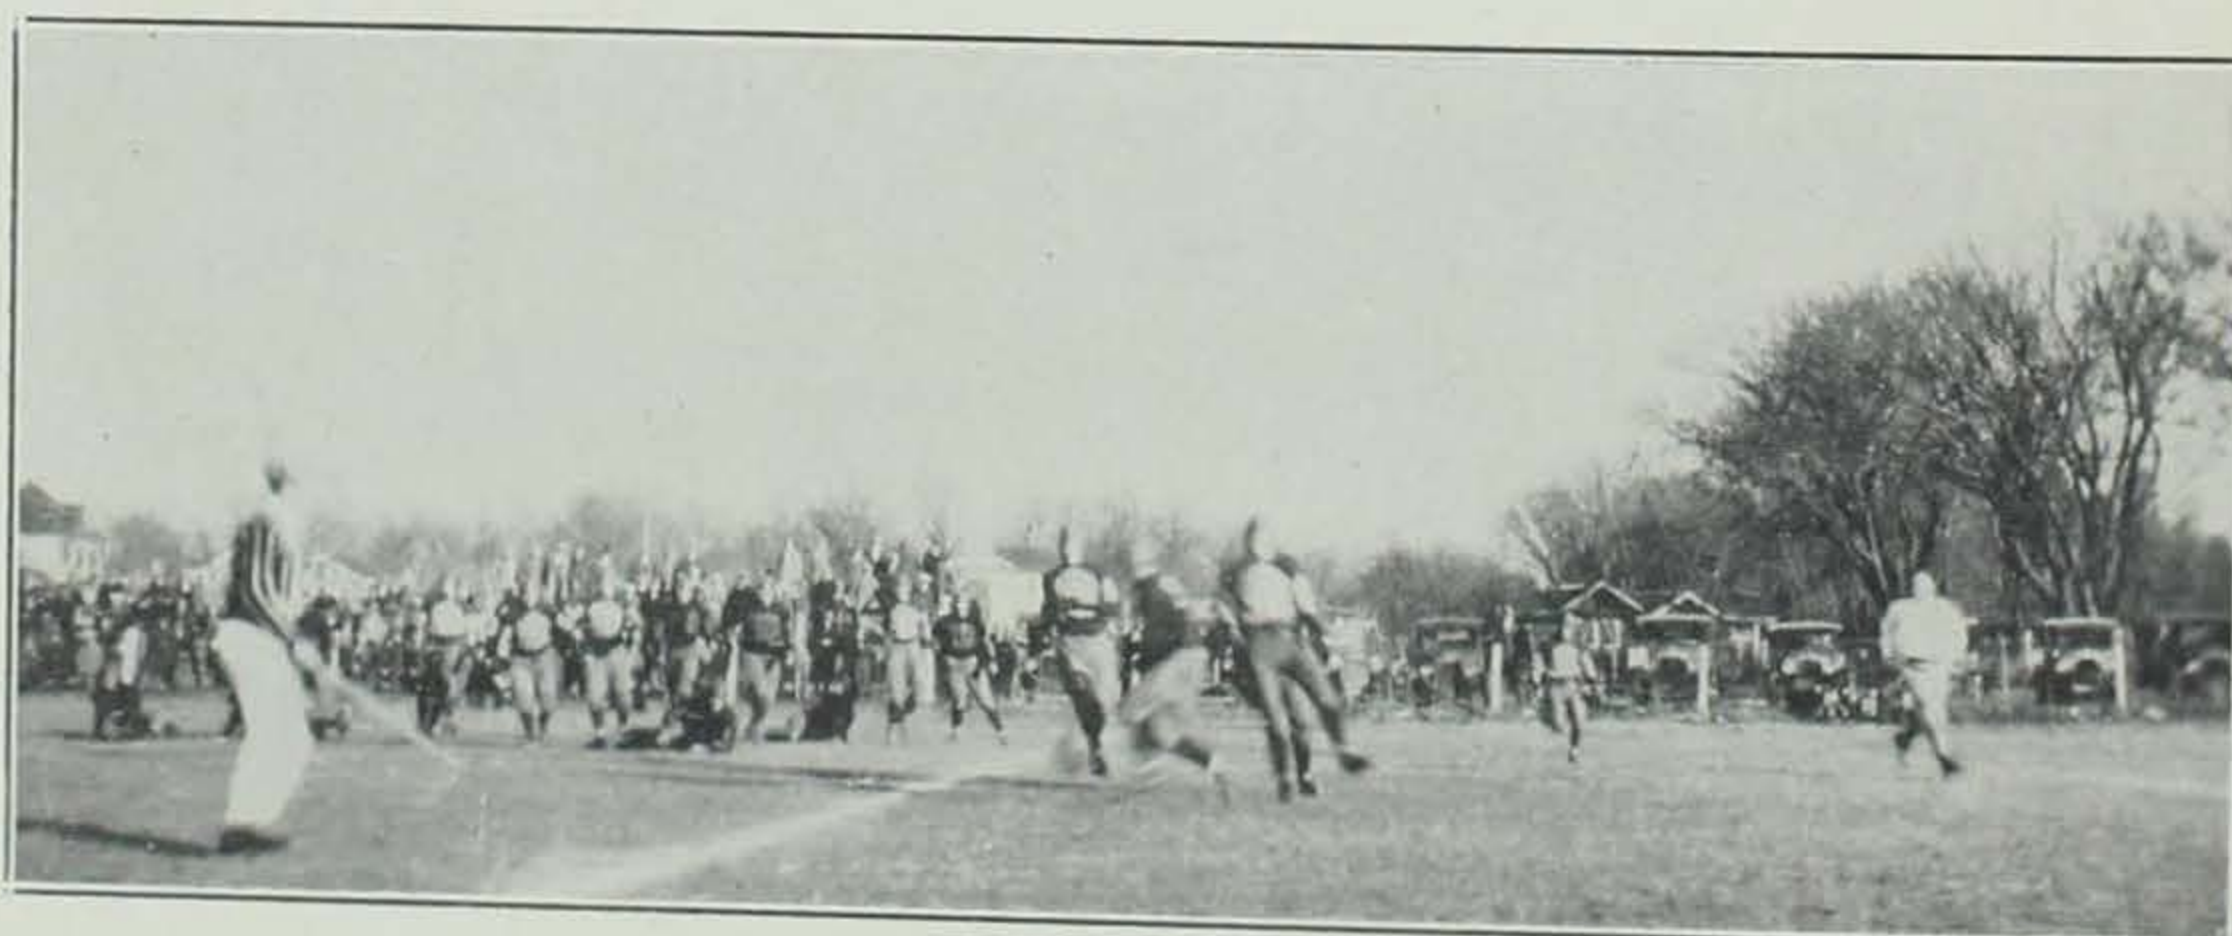

ARCHIE MARSH

Sioux Rapids, Iowa

End

Archie's consistent offensive and defensive playing rated him as one of the best men in the state at the end position. The opposing teams never attempted to run his end more than once. He has three more years at end.

CLARK BOGGESS

Red Oak, Iowa

Halfback

"Bill" was one of the fastest men on the squad. It was his first year in College football but Boggy proved his ability. He will be a valuable asset to the 1928 backfield.

LESLIE YOUNG

Lake View, Iowa

Fullback

"Ulick" started his career in the Des Moines game and from that time on he was a menace to all our opponents. He ripped through the Still line for three touchdowns in one quarter. Young has three more years of competition.

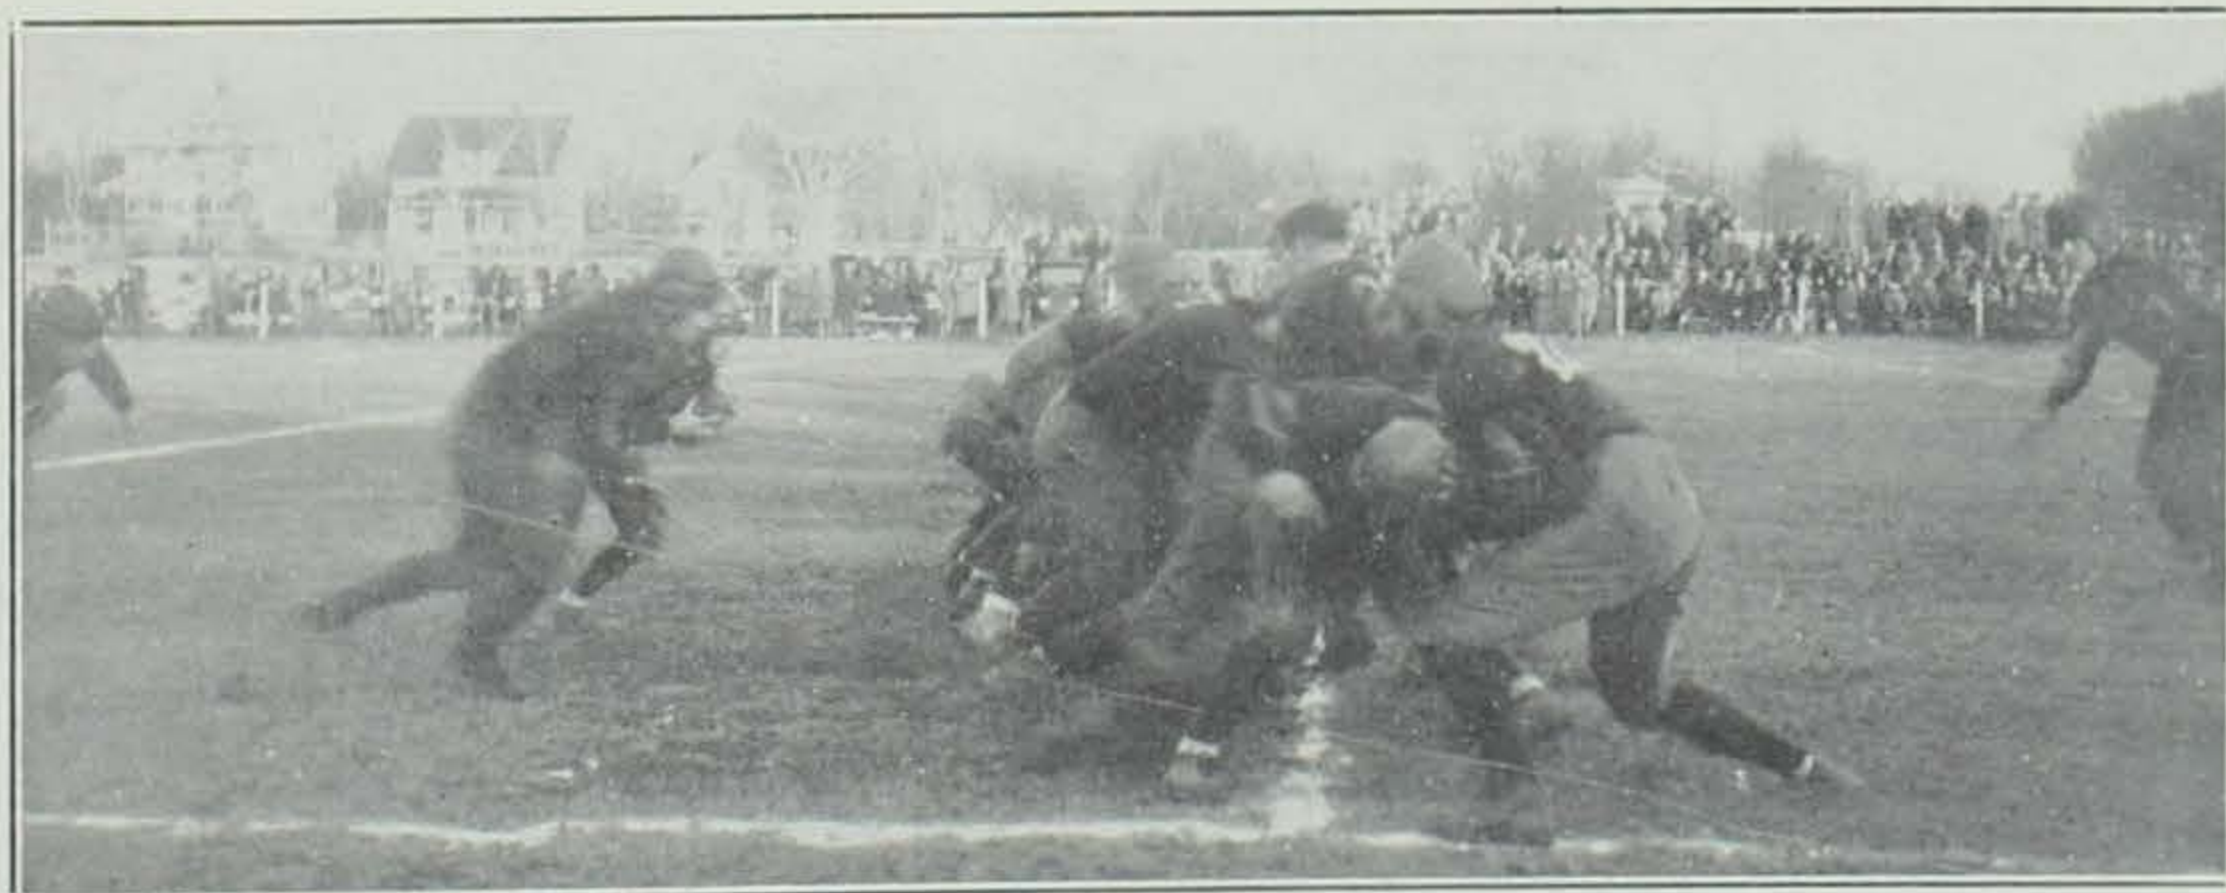

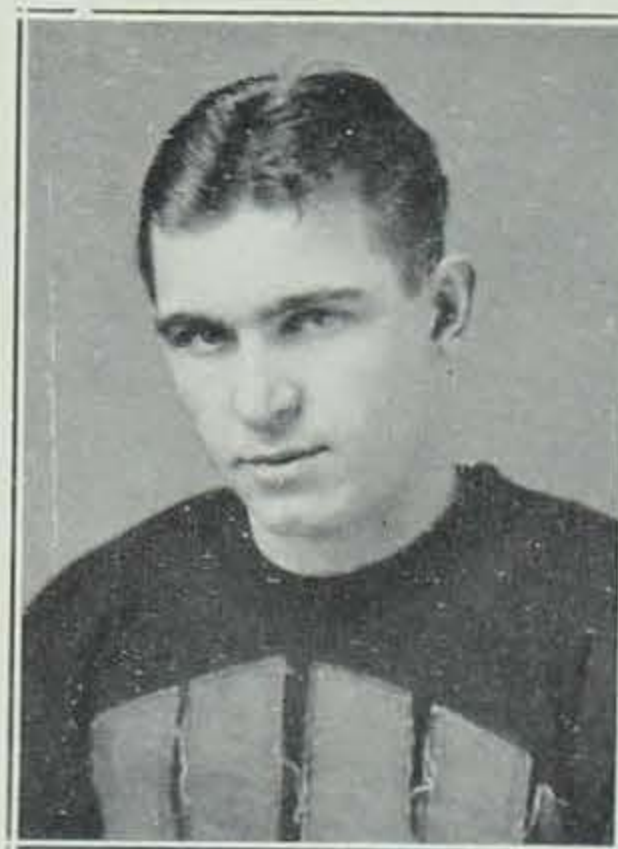

LEON QUINET

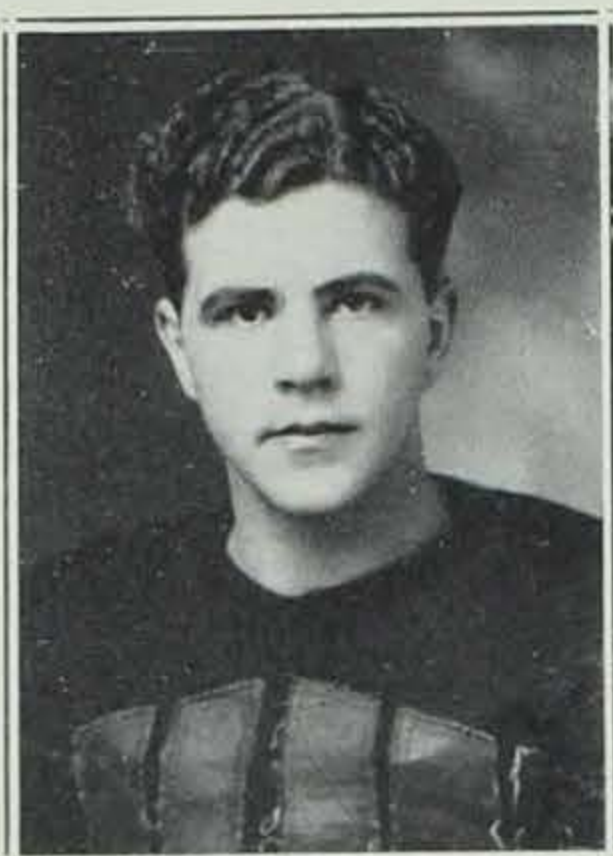

Clarksburg, West Virginia

Fullback and Guard

"Queen" proved the high caliber of football that is played in the Mountaineer state. He played fullback until the last game when Casey shifted him to the line. "Queen" played the new position like a veteran and was a consistent trouble maker to the Trinity ball carriers. "Queen" will be here three more years.

VERLYN ARNEY

Sac City, Iowa

Halfback

Arney was a clever halfback, able to run and pass. He reached his peak in the State Teachers game. He will be with us for three more campaigns.

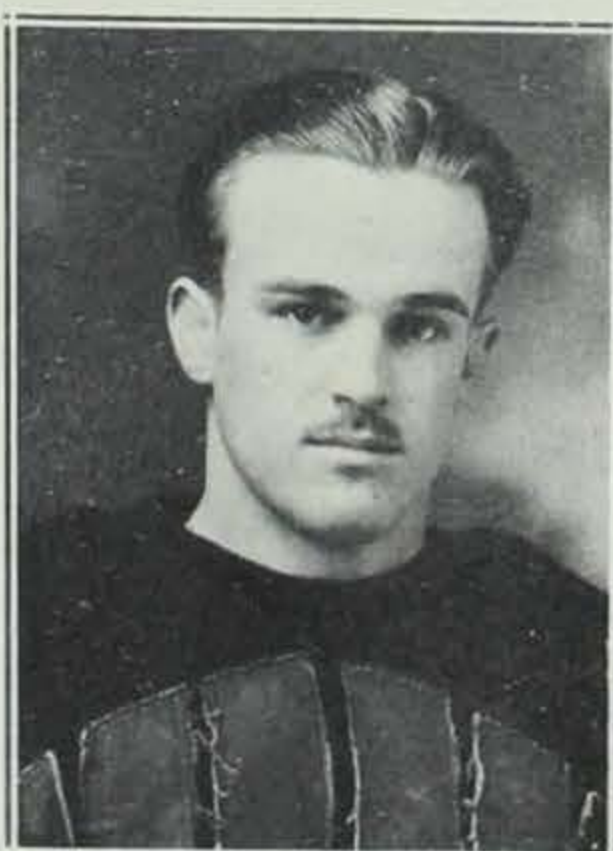

GARLAND REINHARDT

Laurens, Iowa

Guard

"Bud" was a cool consistent player. He turned the disastrous tide of the Upper Iowa game by picking up a fumble and dashing ninety yards for a touchdown. "Bud" is a freshman.

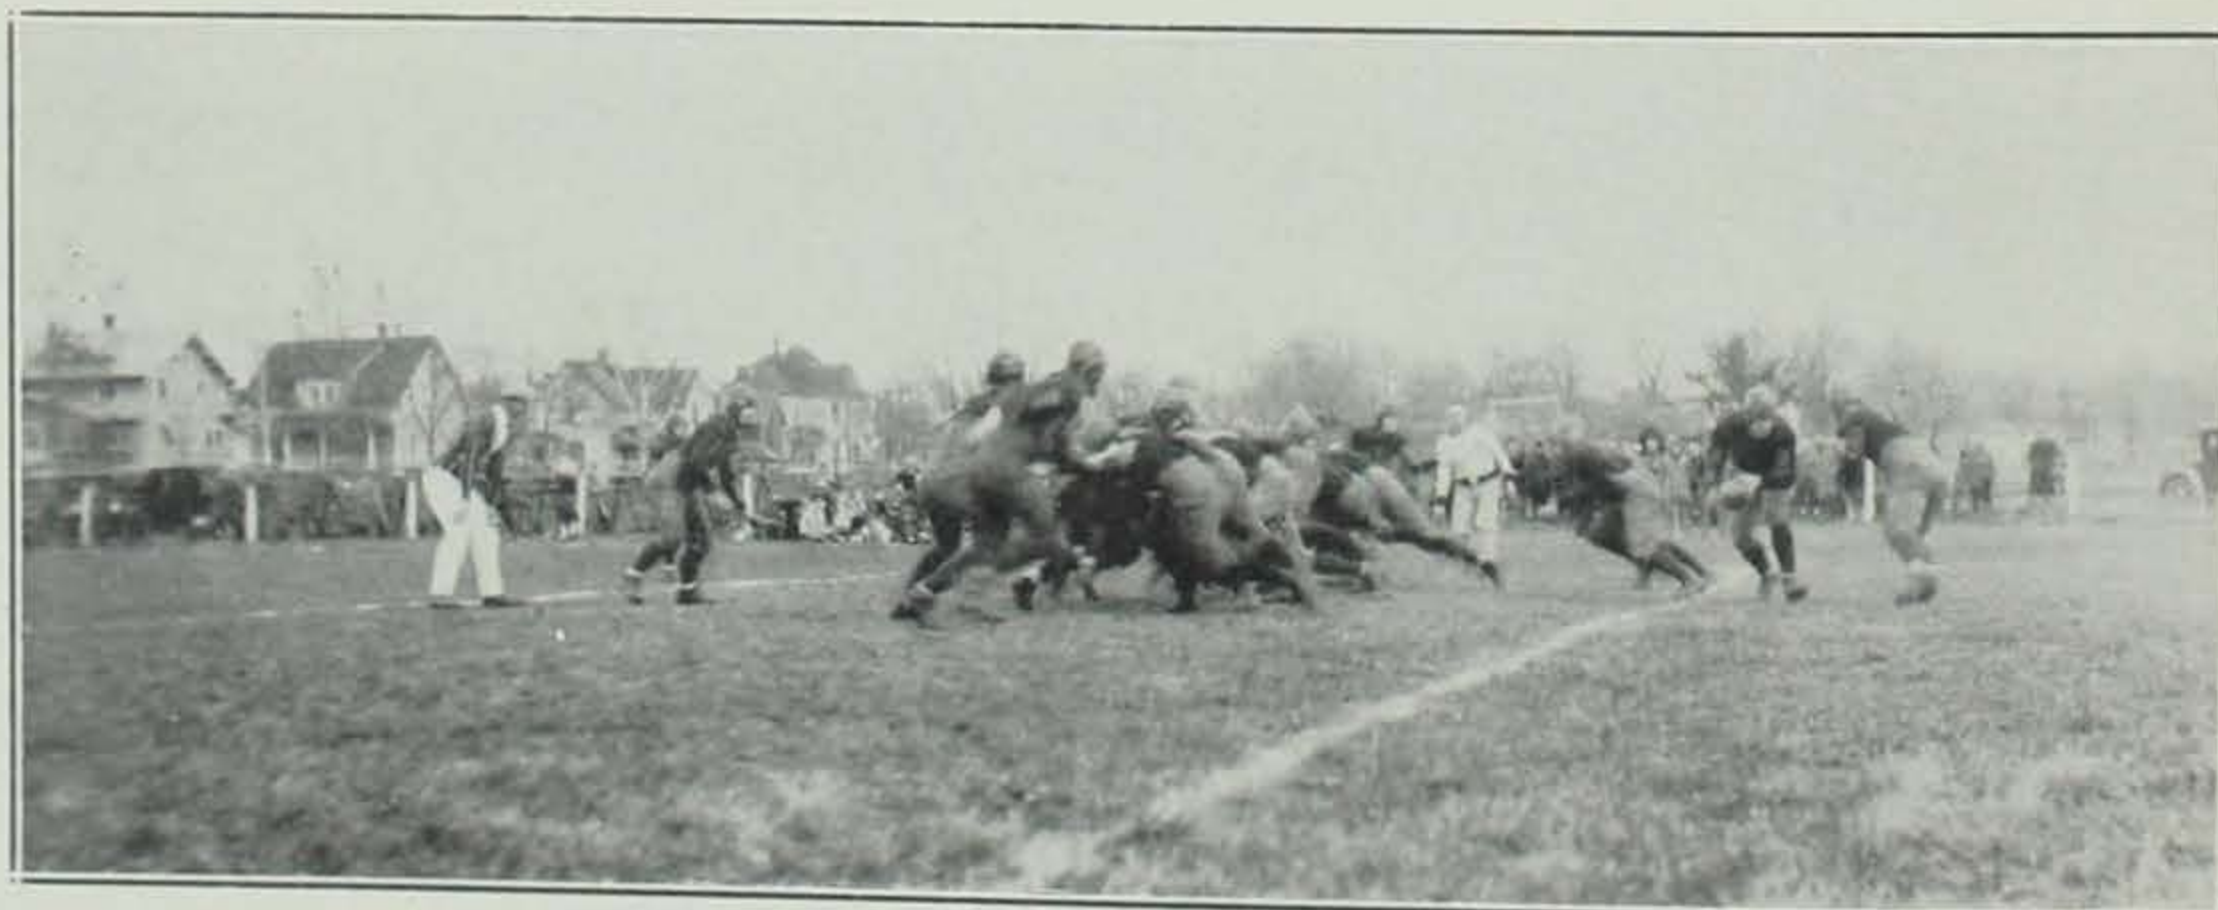

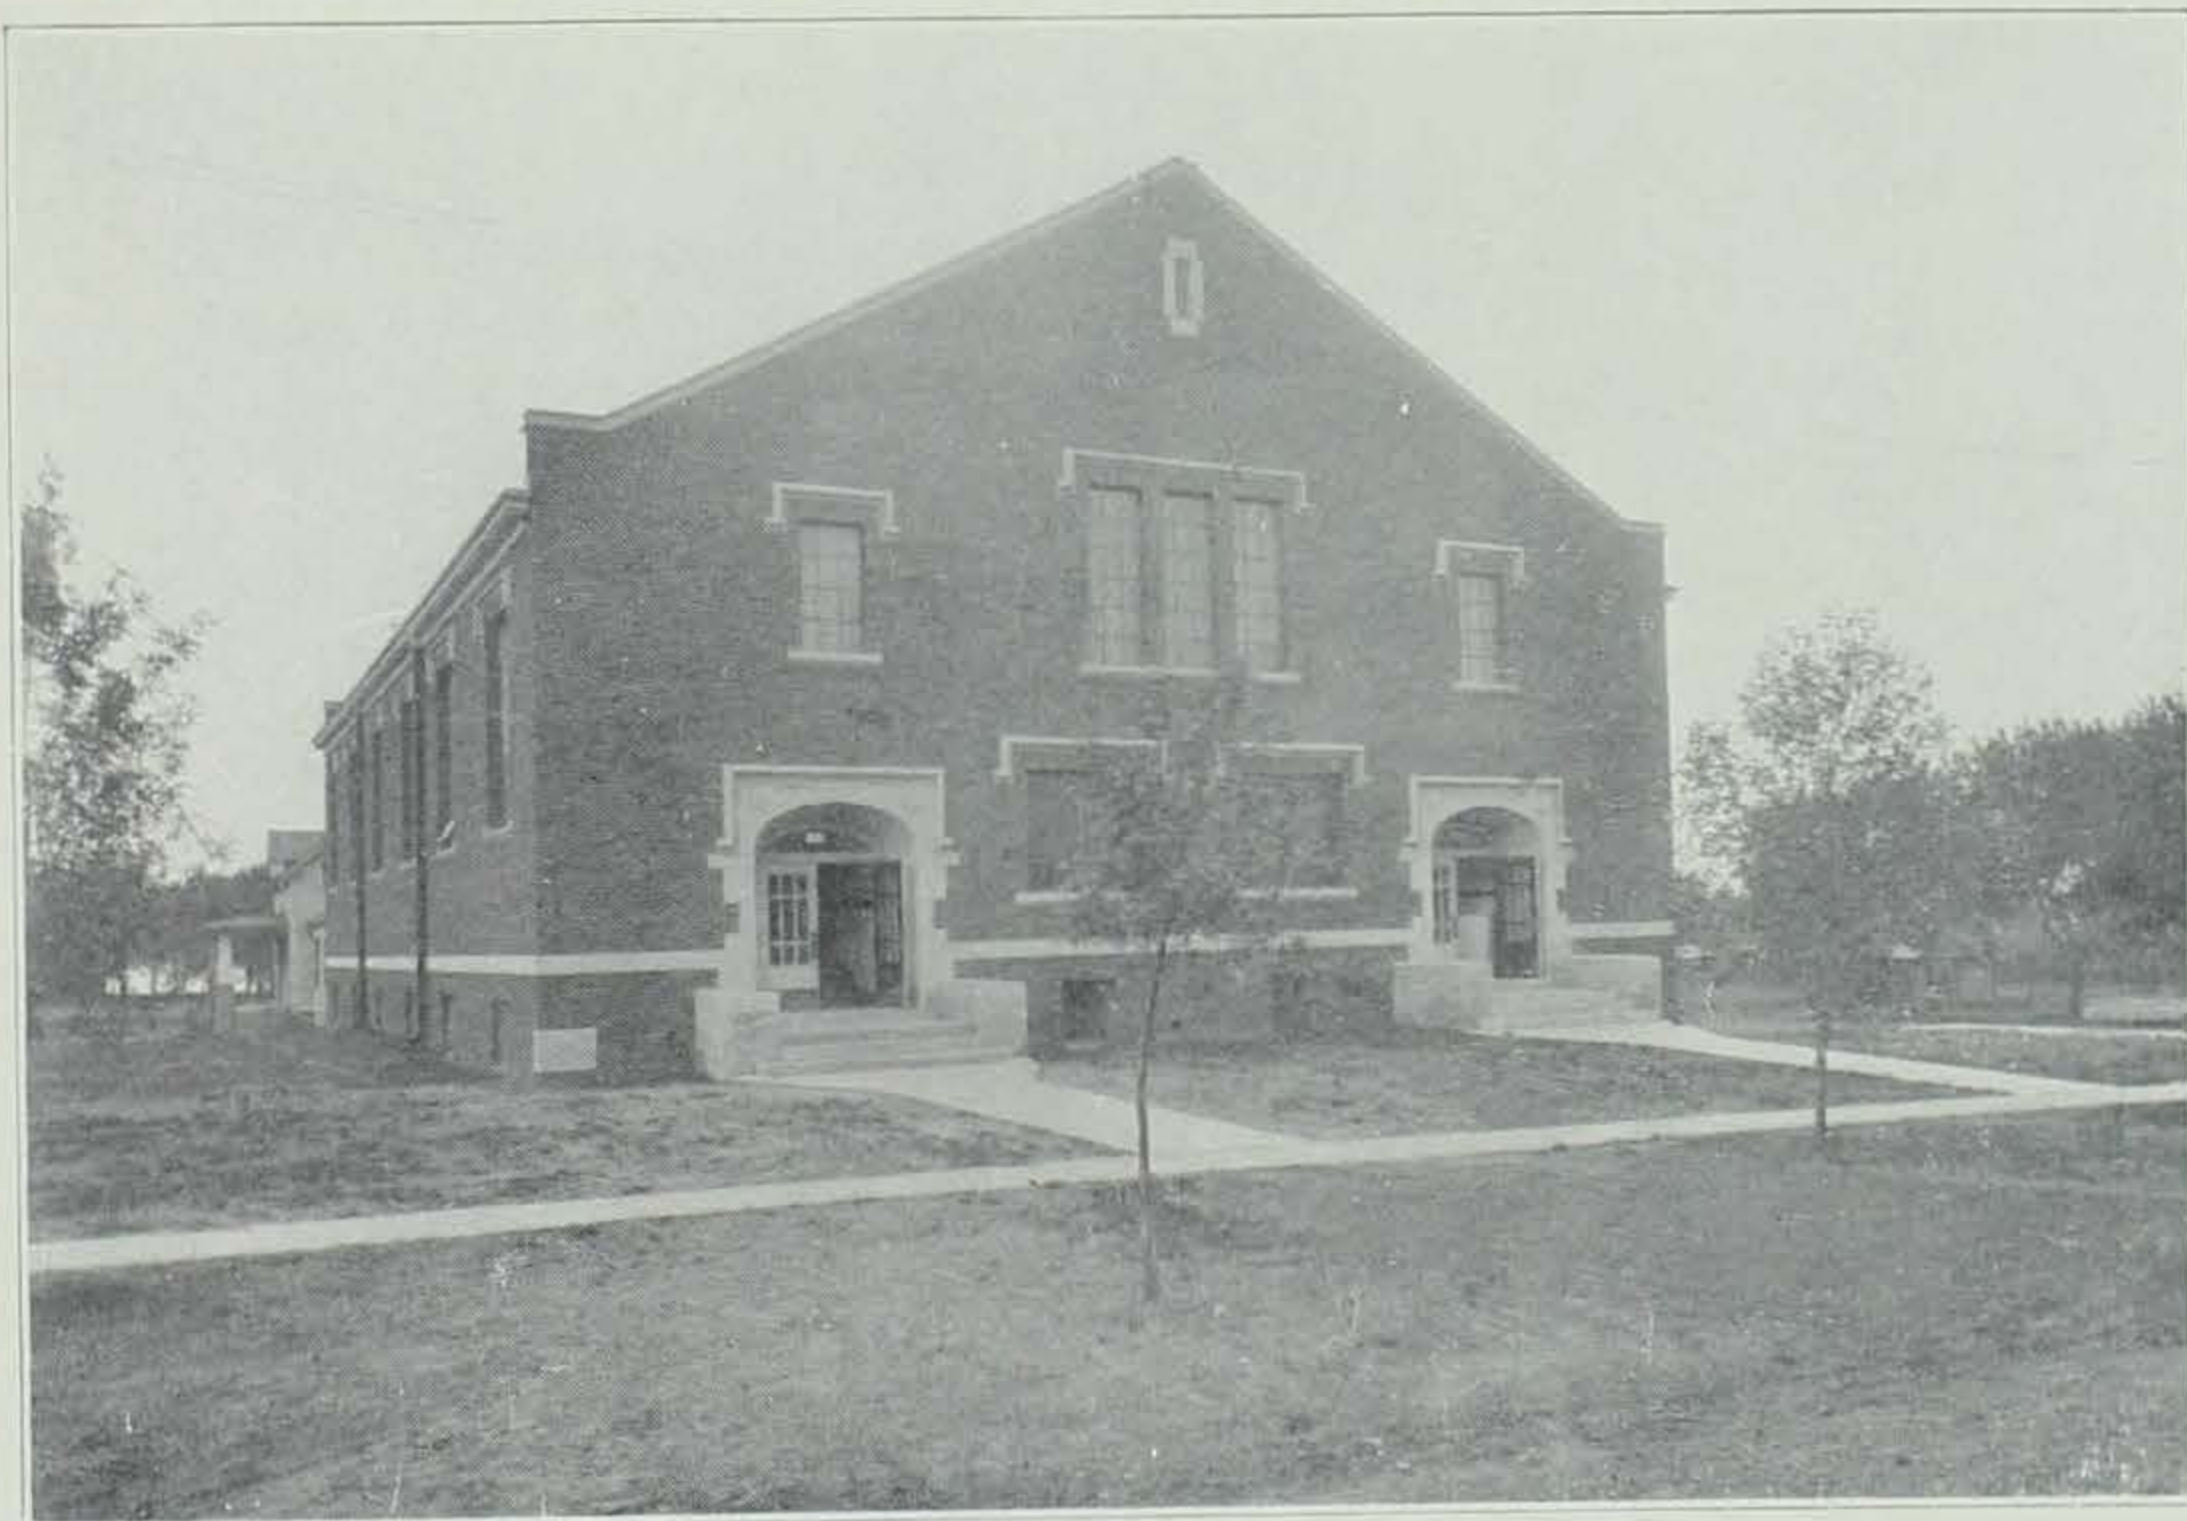

DONALD THOMPSON

Red Oak, Iowa

Fullback

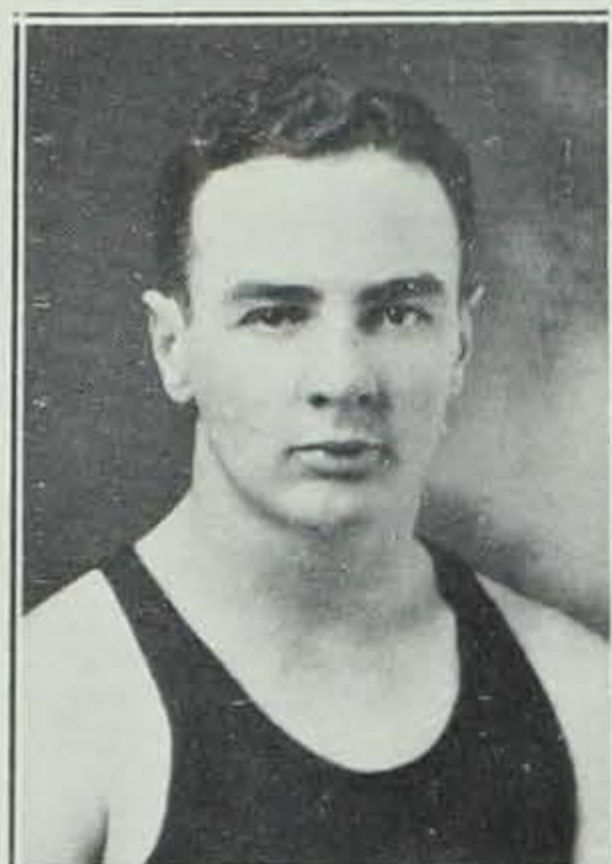

"Tommy" alternated at fullback with Quinet, McGuire and Young. He was generally good for a substantial gain. He also is a freshman.

VICTORY HALL

BASKETBALL

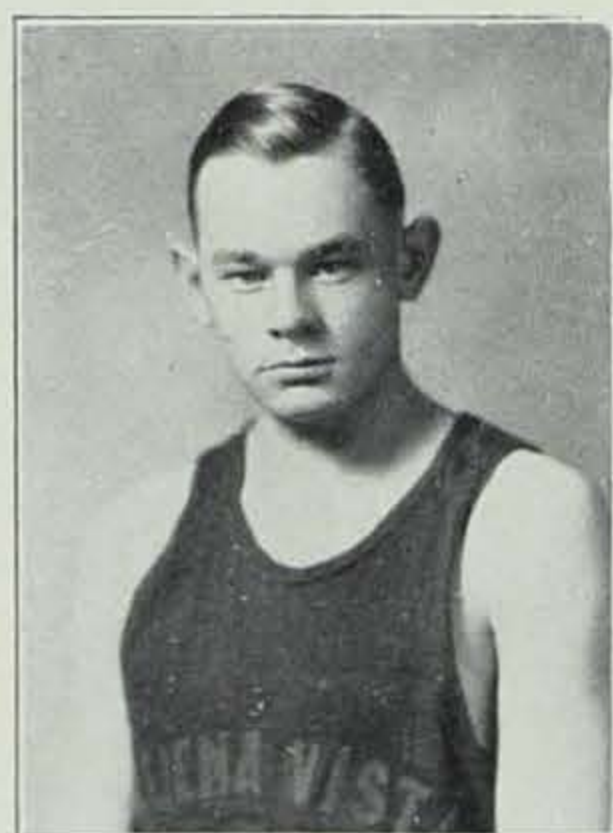

M. F. CHRISTIE

Escanaba, Michigan

Forward

A football injury kept "Duke" from playing any length of time. He started nearly all the games and showed his old time speed and cleverness as long as his injury permitted him to play. He led the Beavers to a conference Championship in 1925 and was chosen on several all conference teams that year. This was his fourth and last year.

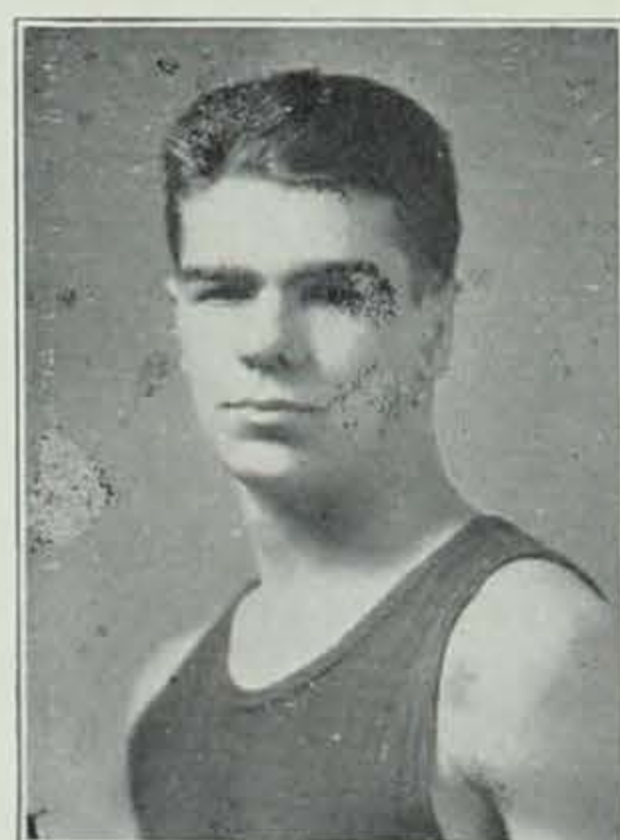

ELMER MOE

Laurens, Iowa

Forward

Elmer playing his third year on the team added many laurels to the fine reputation he had previously acquired. He is tall, rangy and fast, covering the floor to perfection. Moe is a consistent, hard fighting player always giving his best. He hits the basket from all angles both far and near. The harder the games the better he played. Next year he will write the closing chapter of his splendid career in the making of Buena Vista basketball history.

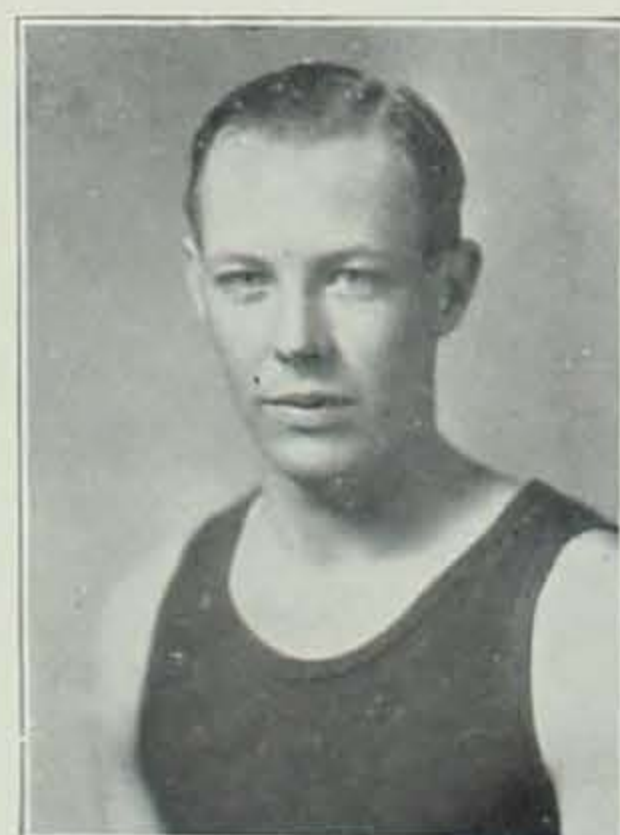

MURRAY KIMBALL

Bagley, Iowa

Guard

"Kim" played some nice basketball this year. He showed great improvement over his last year's work and we predict a bright basketball future for him. "Kim" is a sophomore.

JAMES STILLMAN

Dolliver, Iowa

Forward

"Jimmie" playing his first season in Iowa Conference basketball saw service in all the games. His clever floor work and sharp basket eye were features of his playing. Teamed with O. Moe, he was at his best. "Jimmie" will wear the colors for two more seasons.

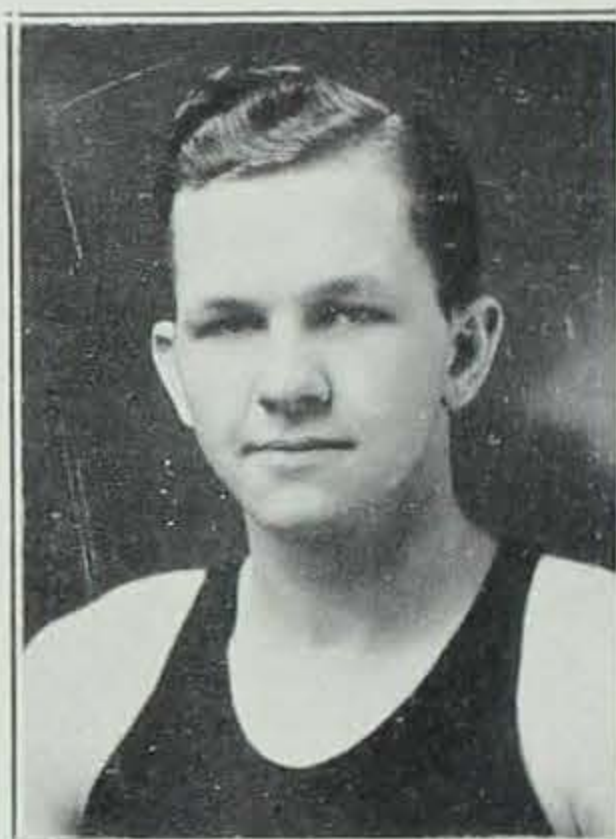

BASKETBALL

ARCHIE MARSH

Sioux Rapids, Iowa

Guard

Very few opposing players ever got by Archie. He was one of the best guards in the Iowa Conference circles. In addition to holding opposing forwards scoreless, he garnered many needed points. We expect a lot from him in the next three years.

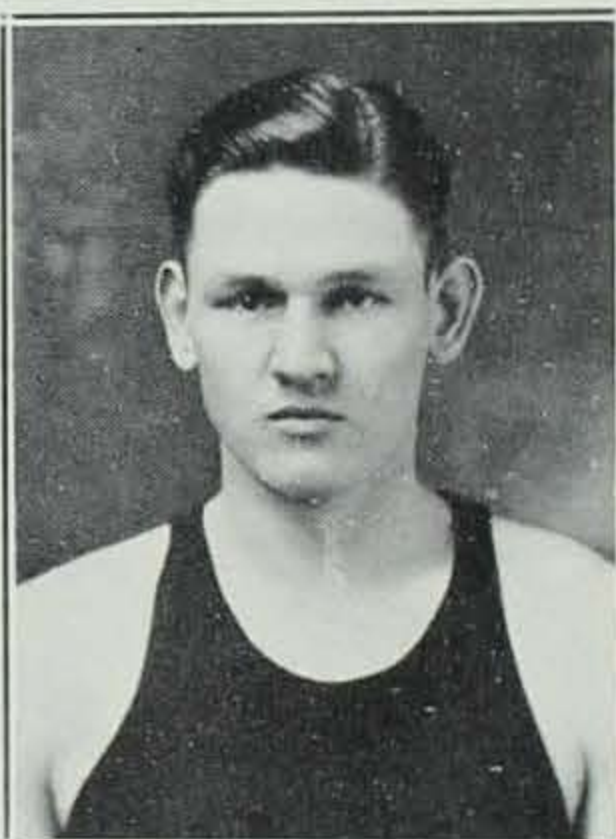

RUSSELL MILLER

Ida Grove, Iowa

Center

"Russ" as in football was the big man of the squad. He encountered very little trouble in out-jumping the opposing centers. Miller was equally good on both offense and defense. He is a freshman.

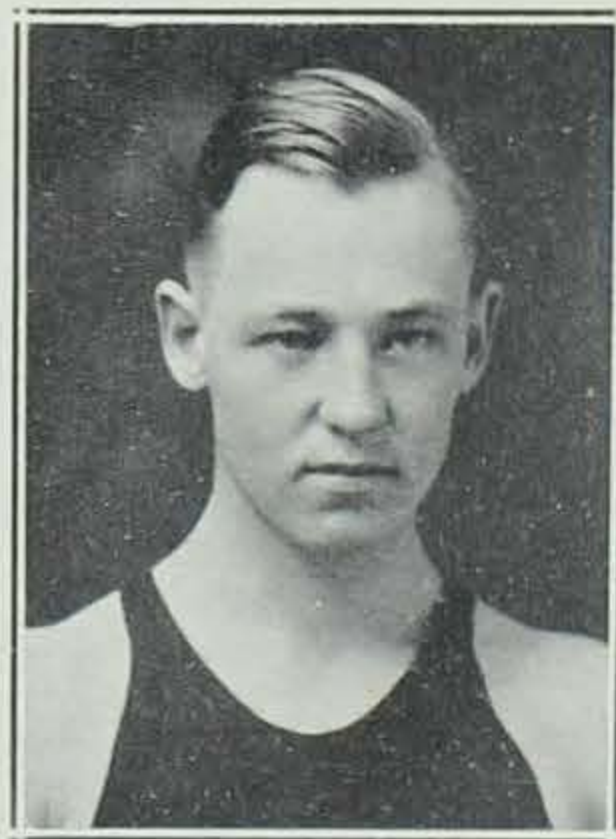

ORION MOE

Laurens, Iowa

Forward

Orion, a freshman this year, played his position like a veteran. He was handicapped by injuries during part of the season but this failed to effect his basket eye. He is going to make a real record in his next three years.

GARLAND REINHARDT

Laurens, Iowa

Guard

"Bud" completes the famous Laurens trio. He is a coming star. "Bud" is a hard man to shoot over and blocked many shots headed for the net. Bud made his share of the points. "Bud" has three seasons left.

THE BEAVER BAND

The Buena Vista Band, under the able direction of Professor George R. Aylesworth has taken tremendous strides. The band has grown to a membership of twenty-four pieces. They were the leaders in pep at the football and basketball games. Trips were taken to Sioux City, LeMars, and Des Moines. With the growing enthusiasm, the band is to be made into a concert organization next year.

One big step in advance was made this year when they purchased a new set of uniforms, made of the college colors, Salmon and Black. They made a snappy looking aggregation when fully decked and in action.

CHAPEL CHOIR

First Row: Miller, Bruce, Tellier, Schar, Hadenfeldt, Fisher, Nicholas, Price, Myers.
Second Row: F. Colburn, Dethlefsen, L. Anderson, Coats, Duitsman, Mack, Rowlands.
Third Row: Steig, Stearns, Angier, Horton, C. Hartman (Accompanist), L. Colburn, Walker, Haskin.
Fourth Row: Lewis, Barger, Collins, Aylesworth (Director), Hinde, Burge, Rogers.
Fifth Row: Hussey, Bakey, Brader, Jordon, Mansfield, Hamlin.

In September an experiment uniting the Men's and Girls' glee clubs as one organization, the Chapel Choir, was tried, and under the able direction of Professor George R. Aylesworth the experiment proved so successful that the Chapel Choir is now one of the most effective organizations in Buena Vista.

The Chapel Choir leads regular chapel singing, and it has always been ready with special numbers for special occasions, in and out of the college. In April a fine program by the Choir was broadcast through station WOI at Ames.

Not only have the members of the Choir received splendid training in group singing but they have also gained a knowledge of how to direct group singing, a training which will enable the individual members as teachers or as citizens to offer a valuable service to their communities.

Much credit is due Professor Aylesworth for the splendid work that the Buena Vista Chapel Choir has accomplished this year.

As official newspaper of the college, The Buena Vista Tack, which is published semi-monthly, wields a certain amount of influence over student opinion. This year, as in other years, the editorial staff of "the paper with a point" has endeavored to present the news to its readers in an unbiased manner. With all members of the staff especially interested in journalism, some unusually worthwhile material has appeared in the columns. The Buena Vista Tack is a member of the Iowa College Press Association which held its twelfth annual convention at Iowa City on April 20th and 21st.

Another successful year is about to close for the B. V. Players. They opened this year with "The Whole Town's Talking." This delightful comedy was the talk of the town.

The next big production will be Sutton Vanes big stage success "Outward Bound." This play is different from anything ever presented to a Storm Lake audience. This play represents more work, both by the cast and presenting staff than any ever before attempted.

Under the able co-direction of Professors Dewey Deal and Glenn Pinkham, the Players have won fame far and near. We are looking forward to even a bigger and busier year in 1929.

"Let us all play our part in this great play--Life."

The aim of Alpha Psi Omega, dramatic fraternity, is to develop dramatic talent and the art of acting, to cultivate a taste for the best in drama, and finally to foster the cultural values, which we believe dramatics develop and to provide an honor society for those doing a high standard of work in dramatics.

Alpha Psi Omega does not stage plays as an organization. The badge of Alpha Psi Omega is only a recognition of merit, it works in connection with the Buena Vista Players.

WOMEN'S DEBATE

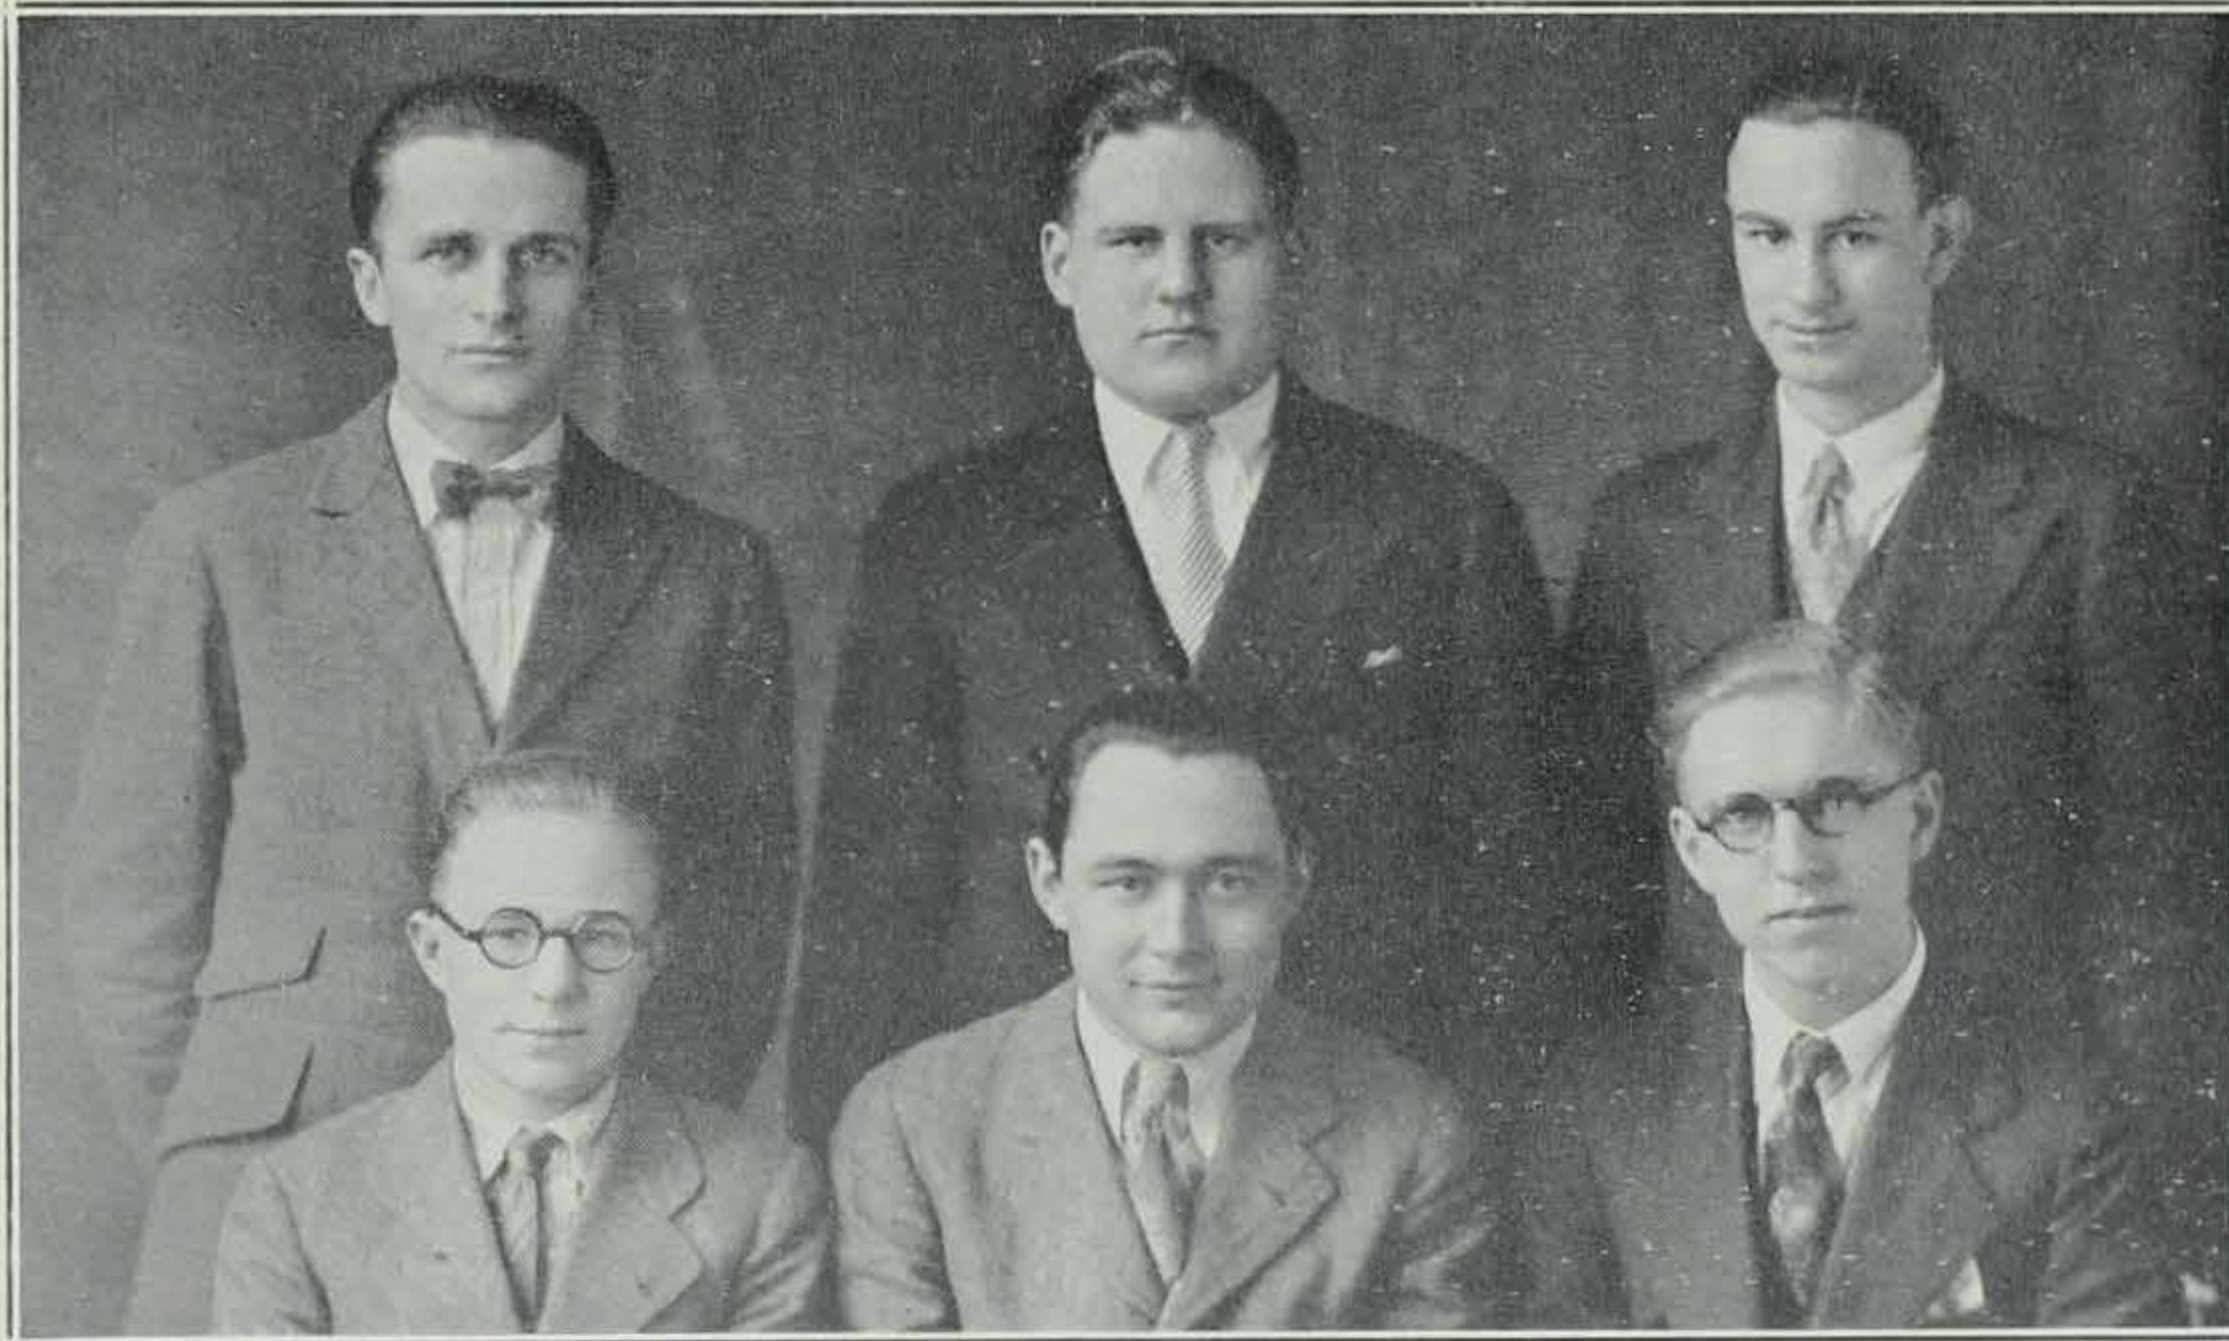

Upper Row: Nichols, McFadden, Gaffin, Yocum.
Lower Row: Holmes, Kaufman, Angier, Cowan.

This year the Debate schedule for women has far surpassed anything in previous years. On February 29, a team composed of Marjorie Holmes, Ruth McFadden and Joyce Kaufman met a team from I. S. T. C. here, and on March 5 Ruth Angier, Lois Gaffin and Mary Yocum debated at Cedar Falls, defending the affirmative side of the question. March 24, the affirmative team met a negative team from John Fletcher here, while on March 26 and 27, the negative Buena Vista team debated Penn and John Fletcher at Oskaloosa.

The question which was debated the entire year was, "Resolved, That the United States should cease to protect by armed force, capital invested in foreign lands except after formal declaration of war."

MEN'S DEBATE

This year nine debates were scheduled for the men, and they debated the same question as the women. The teams were composed of Marion Thorson, Glenn Mill, and Weldon Pickering on the affirmative, and Harlan Loomis, Paul Lahr, and Walter Hammer on the negative.

In the local Women's Oratorical contest held January 6, Miss Florence Bakey with her oration, "What Price Glory?" placed first. Other contestants were Ruth Angier, Sophia Wass and Pearl Taylor. Miss Bakey represented Buena Vista in the State Contest at Parsons College, February 17.

The local Women's Extemporaneous contest was held January 18 and Miss Mary Yocum speaking on "Prohibition," won first. The other contestants were Helen Haskin who spoke on the "Rural Church" and Edna Rogers, who spoke on "Mayor Thompson of Chicago." Miss Yocum represented Buena Vista College in the State Contest at Parsons, February 17, and spoke on the "Trouble with Nicaragua."

Walter Hammer with his oration, "Hyper-Nationalism, America's Menace," represented Buena Vista in the Men's State Oratorical Contest held at Penn College, Oskaloosa, March 5.

The Y. M. C. A. of Buena Vista College is the only Christian organization on the Campus that is entirely for the men of the College. Its function is to guide the lives of the students into a Christian way of thinking. It is not only interested in the affairs within the College, but sends out Deputation Teams to various towns. These Teams take over the Church services and in that way spread the ideals of Christianity and the spirit of Buena Vista through the surrounding territory.

The Buena Vista Y. M. C. A. is in good standing with the State and National Y. M. C. A.'s. The members of the Buena Vista Y. M. C. A. are entitled to Y. M. C. A. privileges in Y. M. C. A.'s throughout the country. The Buena Vista Y. M. C. A. attempts to make friends with and to help all new students at Buena Vista.

BUENA VISTA

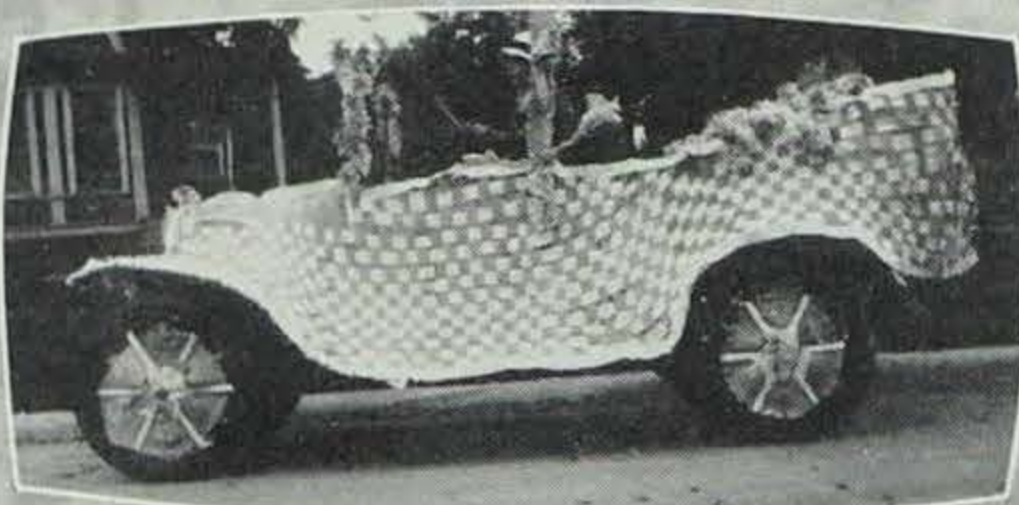

Buena Vista, Buena Vista, go right through that line,
Get the ball and take it for a touchdown every time,
Rah, rah, rah.
Buena Vista, Buena Vista, make that goal your aim,
Come on boys fight, fight, fight and win this game.

MEN OF THE GOLD AND BLUE

Men of the gold and blue,
We place our trust in you,
To fight for our Alma Mater
Bring glory and fame to you.
We back you to win this game,
To bring more honor to our name,
And when you fight, fight right,
Fight with all your might,

JOKES

Dean Banghart: "Every day we breathe oxygen. Mr. Vogel, what do we breathe at night?"

Paul Vogel: "Nitrogen."

Arney: "Fools are certain; wise men hesitate."

Ruth A.: "Are you sure?"

Arney: "Certain."

Preach: "Say Nicholas, you and Margie had some words, didn't you?"

Nicholas: "I had some but I didn't get a chance to use them."

Marsh: "Who's chairman of the Literary department of the RUDDER?"

E. Moe: "Why"

Marsh: "I have a piece of poetry for them."

E. Moe: "That will go in our department."

Marsh: "What's that?"

E. Moe: "Jokes."

AS SHAKESPEARE SAW THE CLASSES

Freshman: "Comedy of Errors."

Sophomore: "Much Ado About Nothing."

Junior: "As You Like It."

Senior: "All's Well That Ends Well."

Mrs. Smith in Chapel: "That reminds me of some good stories, but I can't tell them now."

The early bird has to get his own breakfast.

Say it with flowers, say it with sweets,
Say it with kisses, say it with eats,
Say it with jewelry, say it with drink,
But always be careful not to say it with ink.

Gaskins: "Who was Booker T. Washington?"

Bill Brown: "That one is easy—George Washington's father."

Gaskins: "I didn't think you knew."

Prof. Saylor in Education: "If you people knew the saloons as well as I do—" ?

"What breed of dog reminds you of a chew of tobacco?"
"A Spitz."

Smaage: "Say, does Joyce's car pick up very fast?"
Youde: "Yes—on a nice afternoon like this it should pick up two or three fellows in fifteen minutes."

Prof. Smith in Botany class: "Mr. Olhausen, how many more times are you going to be late to class?"
Olhausen: "How many more classes do we have?"

Keister (calling first meeting to order): "Order."
Robertson: "Ham and Eggs."
Keister: "Order."
Robertson: "I did."

Casey out at football practice: "All right men, three more plays and you are through."

Casey (half hour later): "Penny, go in and get that ghost ball."

Orville: "Dearest, I've lost all my money."
Mildred: "How careless of you. The next thing you know you'll be losing me."

B. V. WILL SHINE

B. V. will shine tonight, B. V. will shine;
She'll shine in beauty bright,
All down the line,
Rah, rah, rah;
B. V. will shine tonight, B. V. will shine;
When the sun goes down and the moon comes up,
B. V. will shine.

Prof. Pinkham: "Do you know Poe's 'Raven'?"

Bonnie: "No, what's the matter with him?"

Al is like a kerosene lamp.

He isn't very bright; he frequently smokes; and oft goes out at night.

Prof. Brown: "Wixon, I am surprised at you. How is it that you can never repeat your history lesson?"

Wixon: "Aw, what's the use? My dad says history repeats itself."

The pencil has made a number of pointed remarks about a sponge being soaked all day and the waste-baskets being full. The scissors are cutting up and the paper weight is trying to hold them down, while the mucilage is sticking around to see that the stamps get a good licking. The ink's well, but appears to be blue, while Bill is stuck in the file and the calendar expects to get a month off. The blotter has been taking it all in.

Keister: "How did you learn to stay under water so long?"

Kimball: "I once lived at the same beach with one of my worst creditors."

THE LAST OUNCE

When the foe's at your door, when your body is sore,
When you're losing your grip and your place,
When you're beaten, bereft, you have something still left,
Though defeat kicks its dust in your face and it isn't a smile or a song for awhile,
And it isn't refusing to pet;
When you've used every pound of strength you have found,
It's the ounce you haven't used yet.
It's the pull at the last ere the harbor is passed,
It's the leap when the laurel is won,
It's the end of the trail when the Mountain you scale,
It's the last twenty yards that you run,
It's the last little bit when the other lads quit,
One more struggle, one cast of the net,
It's the rise to your feet your opponent to meet,
With the ounce you haven't used yet.
You've not given your best till you've given the rest,
Done it all till it's all you can.
It's the last sturdy blow, it's the last step you go,
That will show what's inside of a man.
For you never are through, not with something to do,
And disaster you never have met,
Till you use all the power in that critical hour
Of the ounce that you haven't used yet.

Dook: "What are you drawing on my head?"

Lois: "A rabbit."

Dook: "But why a rabbit?"

Lois: "So there will be a little hare (hair) there."

E. Moe: "Will you accompany me on the piano?"

Lena Hamlin: "Not without a chaperon."

Much that we have written may seem without sense, but with "Charity for all and malice toward none," we have endeavored to please, and have a little fun.

The Annual is a great invention. The faculty gets all the fame, the printer's get all the work, and the Editors get all the blame.

ANOTHER "Waterloo" Annual

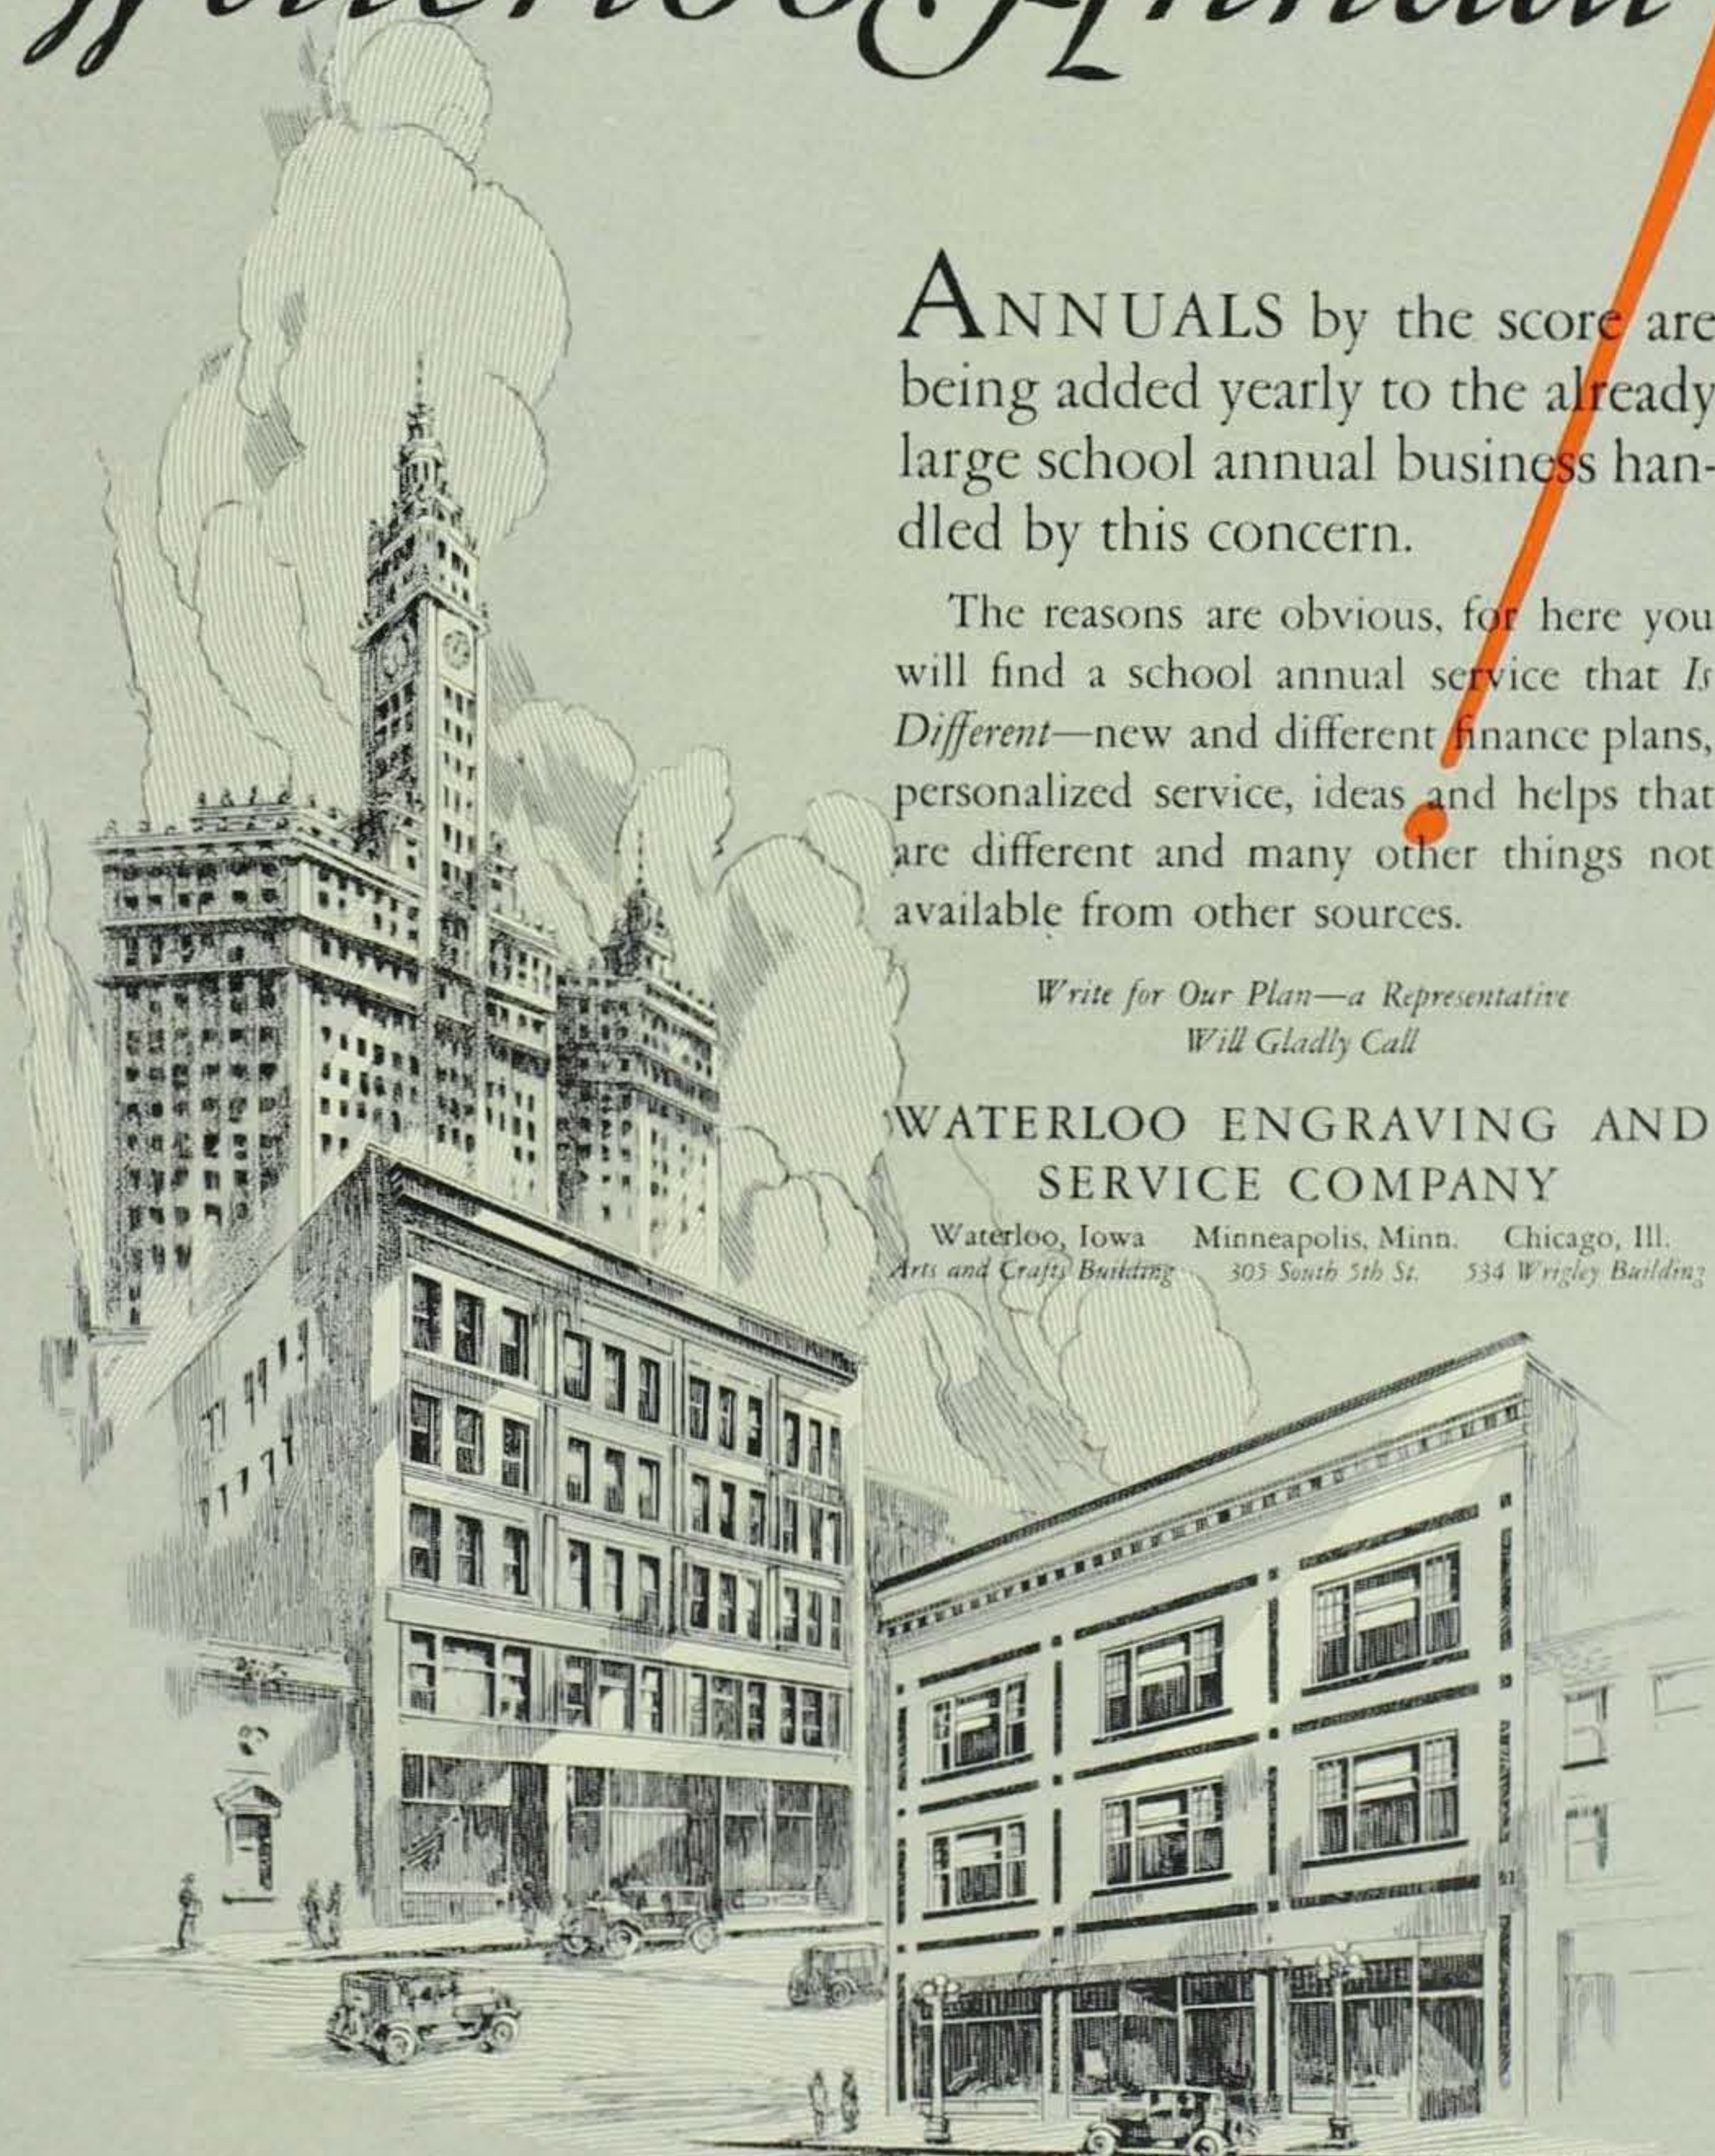

ANNUALS by the score are being added yearly to the already large school annual business handled by this concern.

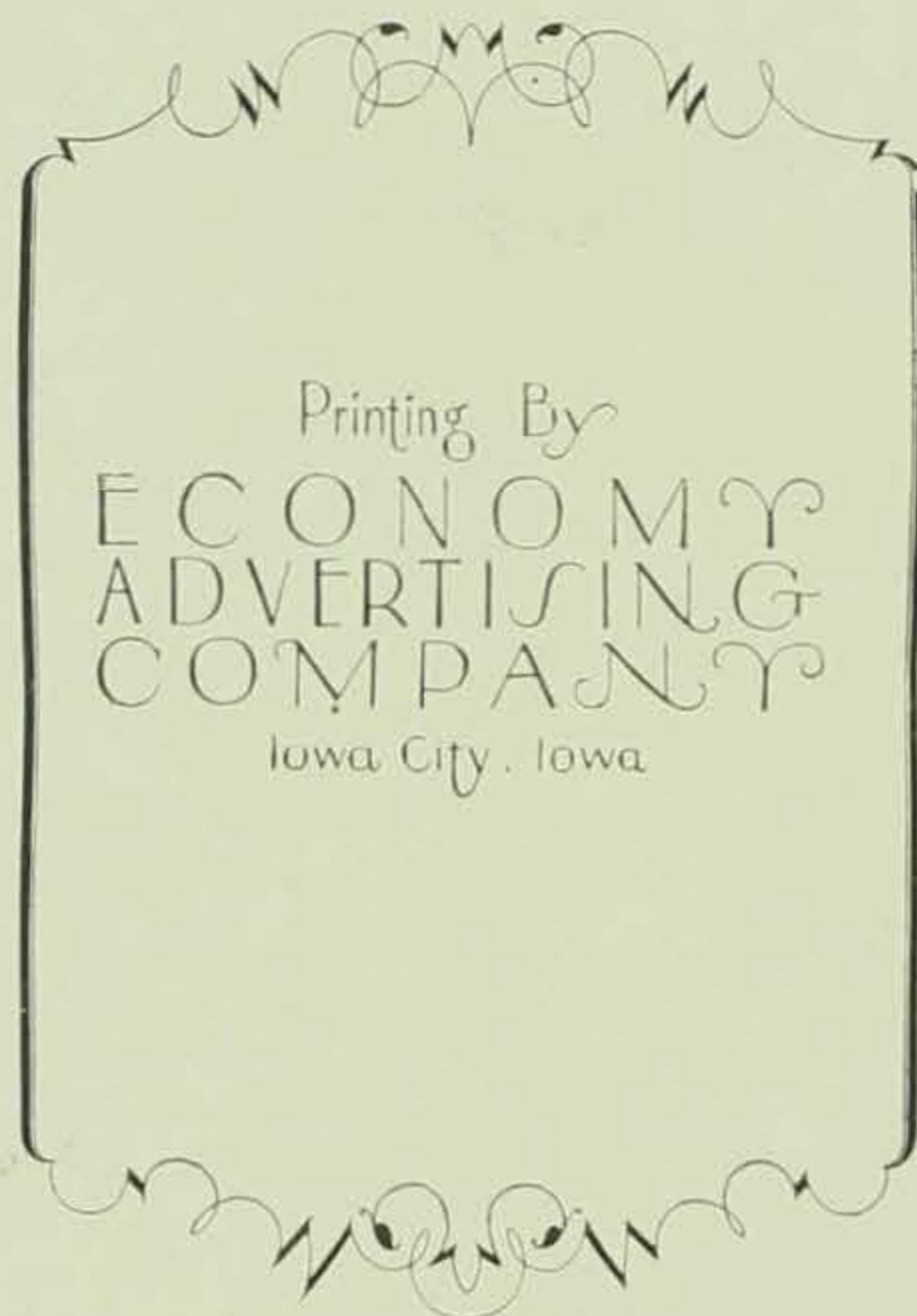

The reasons are obvious, for here you will find a school annual service that Is Different—new and different finance plans, personalized service, ideas and helps that are different and many other things not available from other sources.
