

St-John of God while washing the feet of a beggar, recognizes in him Our Blessed Lord who says to him:
"Thou dost to Myself, what thou dost to the poor."

Julio Beauchy, photog.

San Juan de Dios, Seville

Murillo

Figure of Jeanne Mance
from the Maisonneuve Monument in the Place d'Armes, Montreal. by Philippe Hebert
By permission of Little, Brown & Co.

Hygeia
Goddess of Health

KARL VILHELM SCHEELE (1742-86), SWEDISH CHEMIST,
WHO DISCOVERED OXYGEN IN 1771.

From a statue in Stockholm, which represents Scheele, a young apothecary, meditating upon the cause of combustion.

Fig. 14.—The Lady of the Lamp. Derby memorial to Florence Nightingale. Erected in the Grounds of the Royal Infirmary, Derby, England.