BEA

VER LOG

Dedicated to the Buena Vista of the future

May the enthusiasm of her students and the leadership of the faculty, combined with the spirit of Christian education, lead her to ever-increasing heights of accomplishment.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

WILLIS C. EDSON
Buena Vista '93

President of the Board of Trustees

Mr. Edson has been a member of the trustees for over forty years.

Some college presidents are figure heads; some are autocrats; and a few put their schools first and themselves second. Buena Vista's Dr. Olson belongs to the third group. No one else connected with the college gives so much of his time, his interest, and himself in its behalf.

HENRY OLSON

President of the College

B.A., St. Olaf College; M.A., University of Iowa; L.L.D., Buena Vista

WILLIAM D. WESSELINK

Dean of the College, Registrar, and Professor of Mathematics

A.B., Central College; M.A., University of Iowa

They just don't come any finer. Whether it is encouragement, a reproof, or advice one needs, visitors to Dean Wesselink's office always feel better for having talked with him.

DEANS

PHOEBE C. LAFoy

Dean of Women

B.A., Grinnell College; Graduate work: U. of Wisconsin,
U. of Southern Calif.

Mrs. LaFoy also teaches stenographic subjects.

Buena Vista's deans are not regarded as disciplinary officials whose sole purpose is to act as wet blankets to exuberant spirits. Rather they are regarded as friends in need, ready to help with any problems from securing living quarters to helping find employment.

KENNETH BLACKMAN

Dean of Men

B.A., University of Iowa; Graduate work:
University of Iowa

Mr. Blackman adds his dean's duties to those of athletic director, coach, and professor of physical education.

THE OFFICE FORCE

Anyone who wants to pay bills, get mail, cash checks, or buy books and supplies comes to the business office, where he receives service—with a smile.

ALMA KLOSE
Office assistant and professor of English

VIVIAN LATHROP
General Secretary

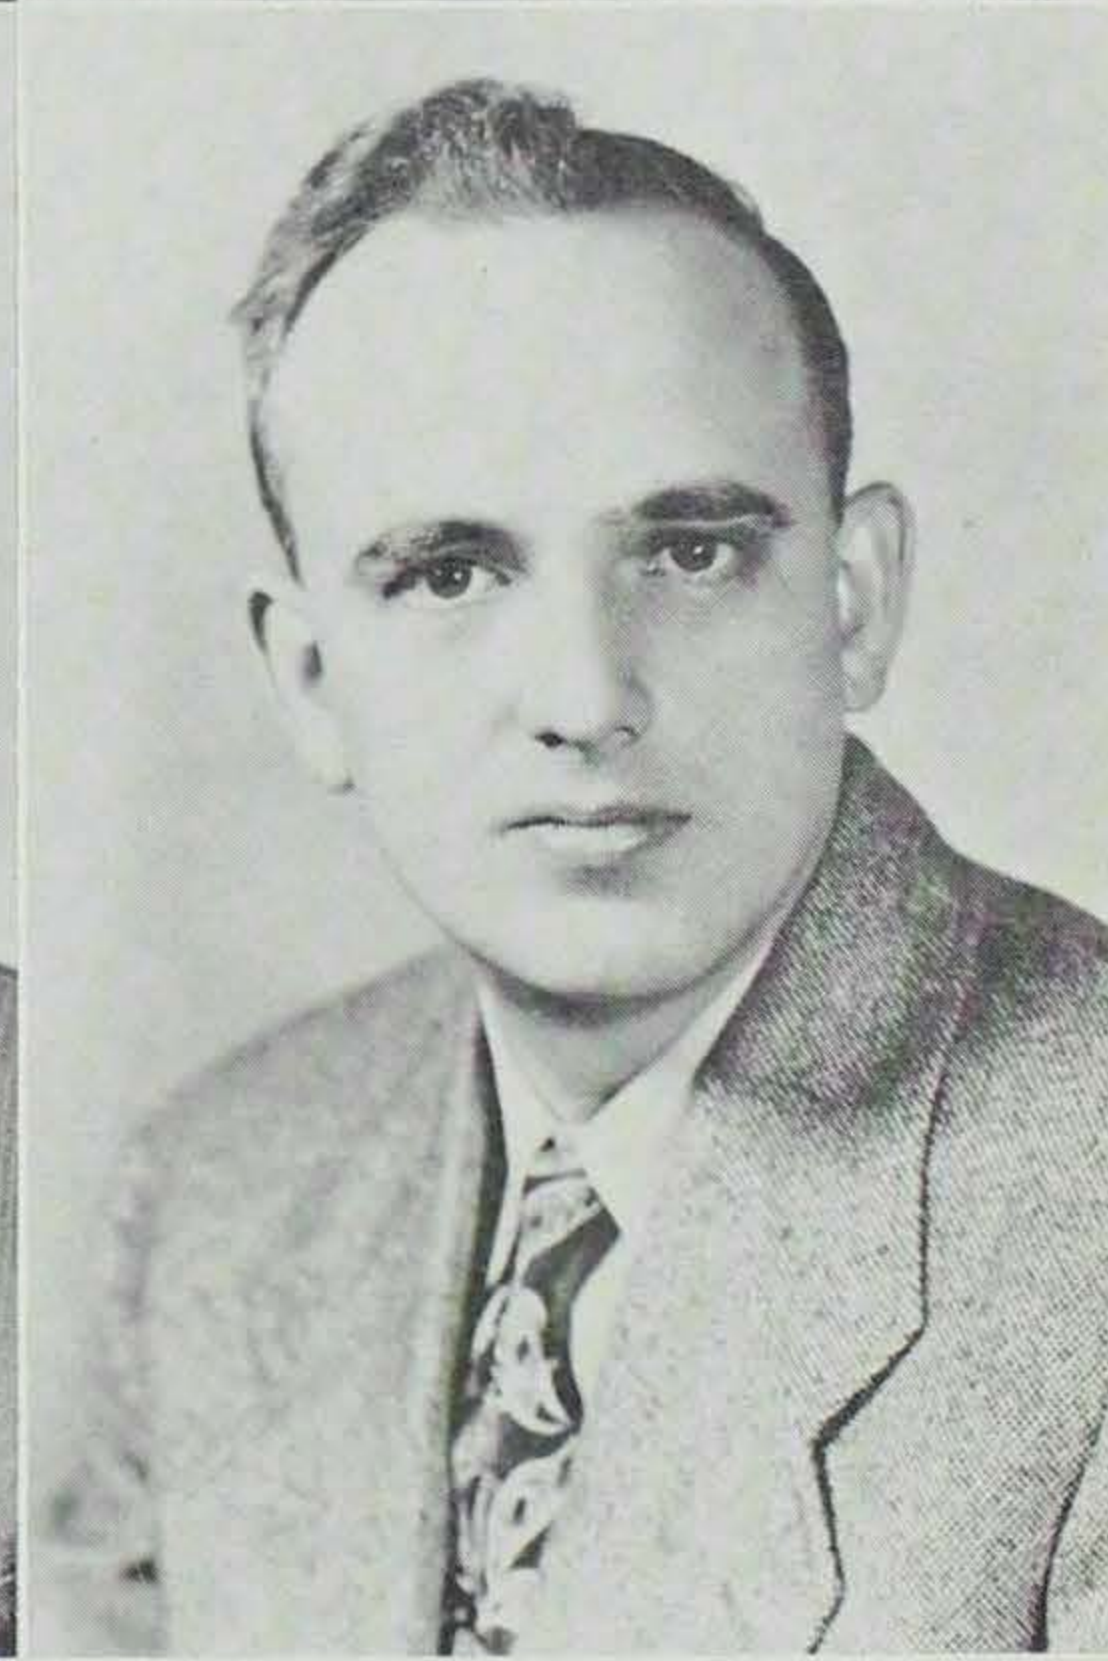

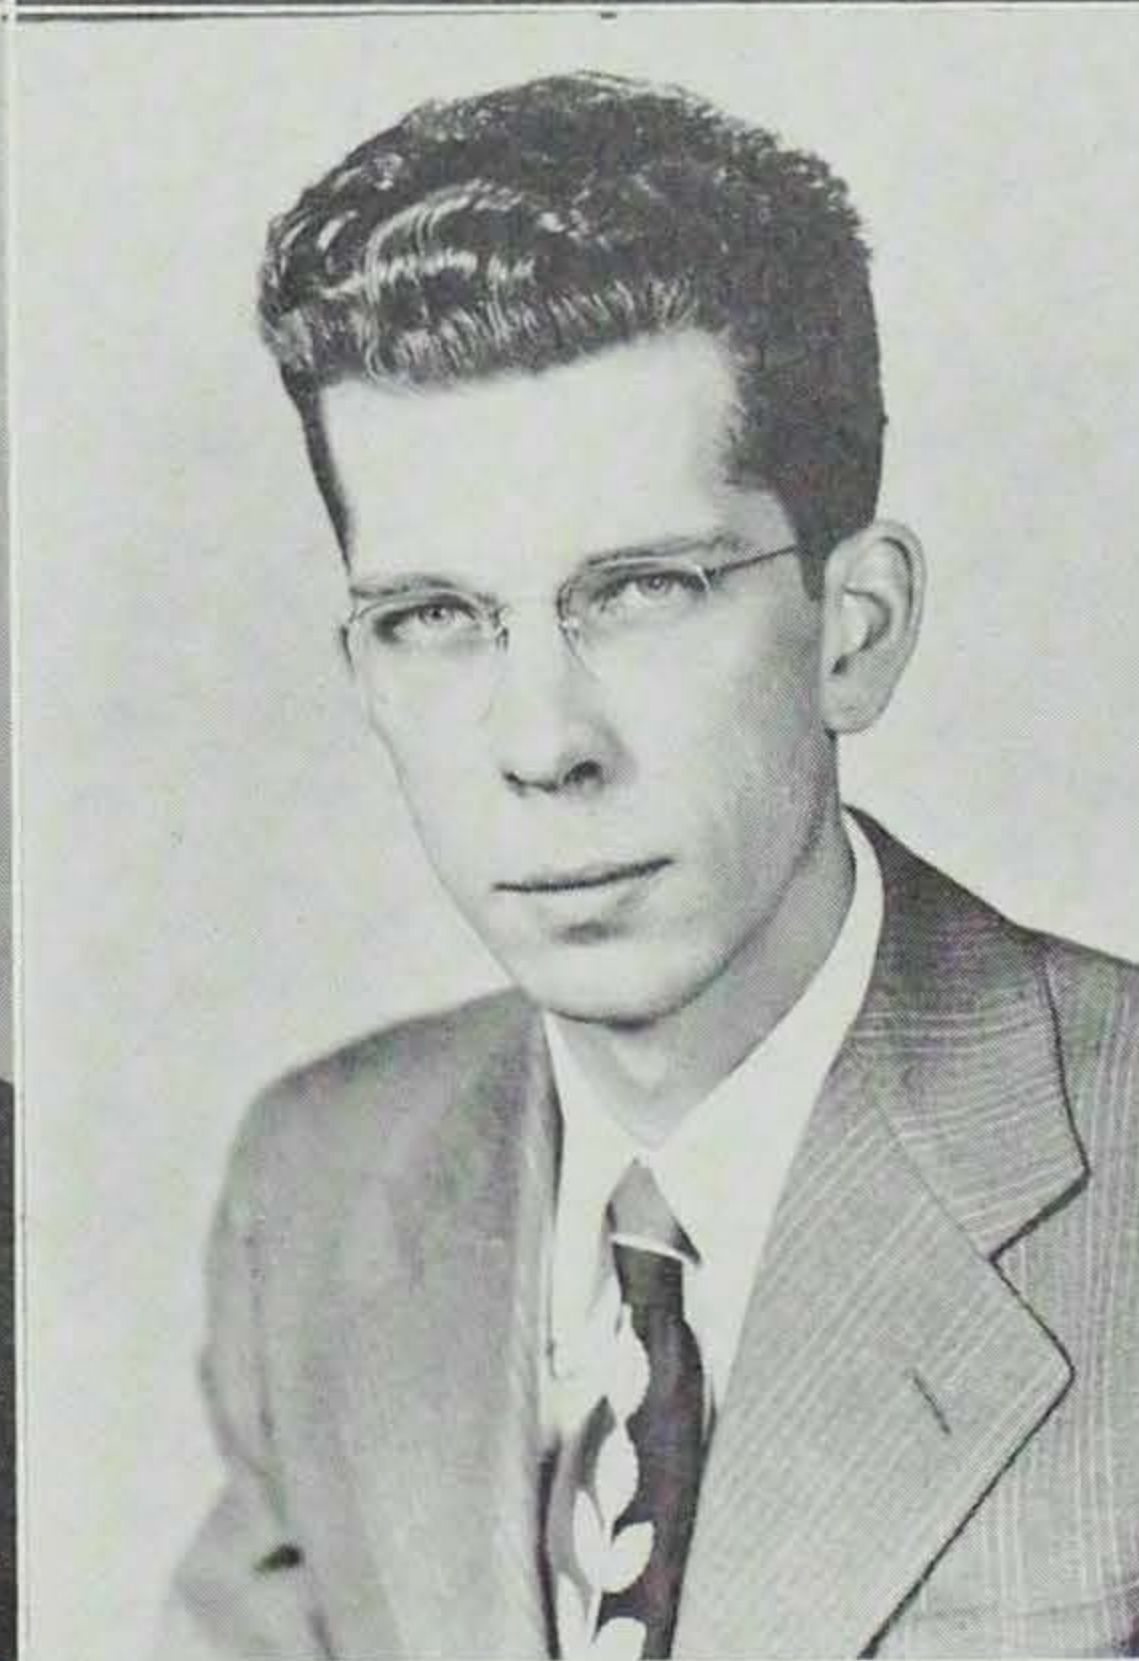

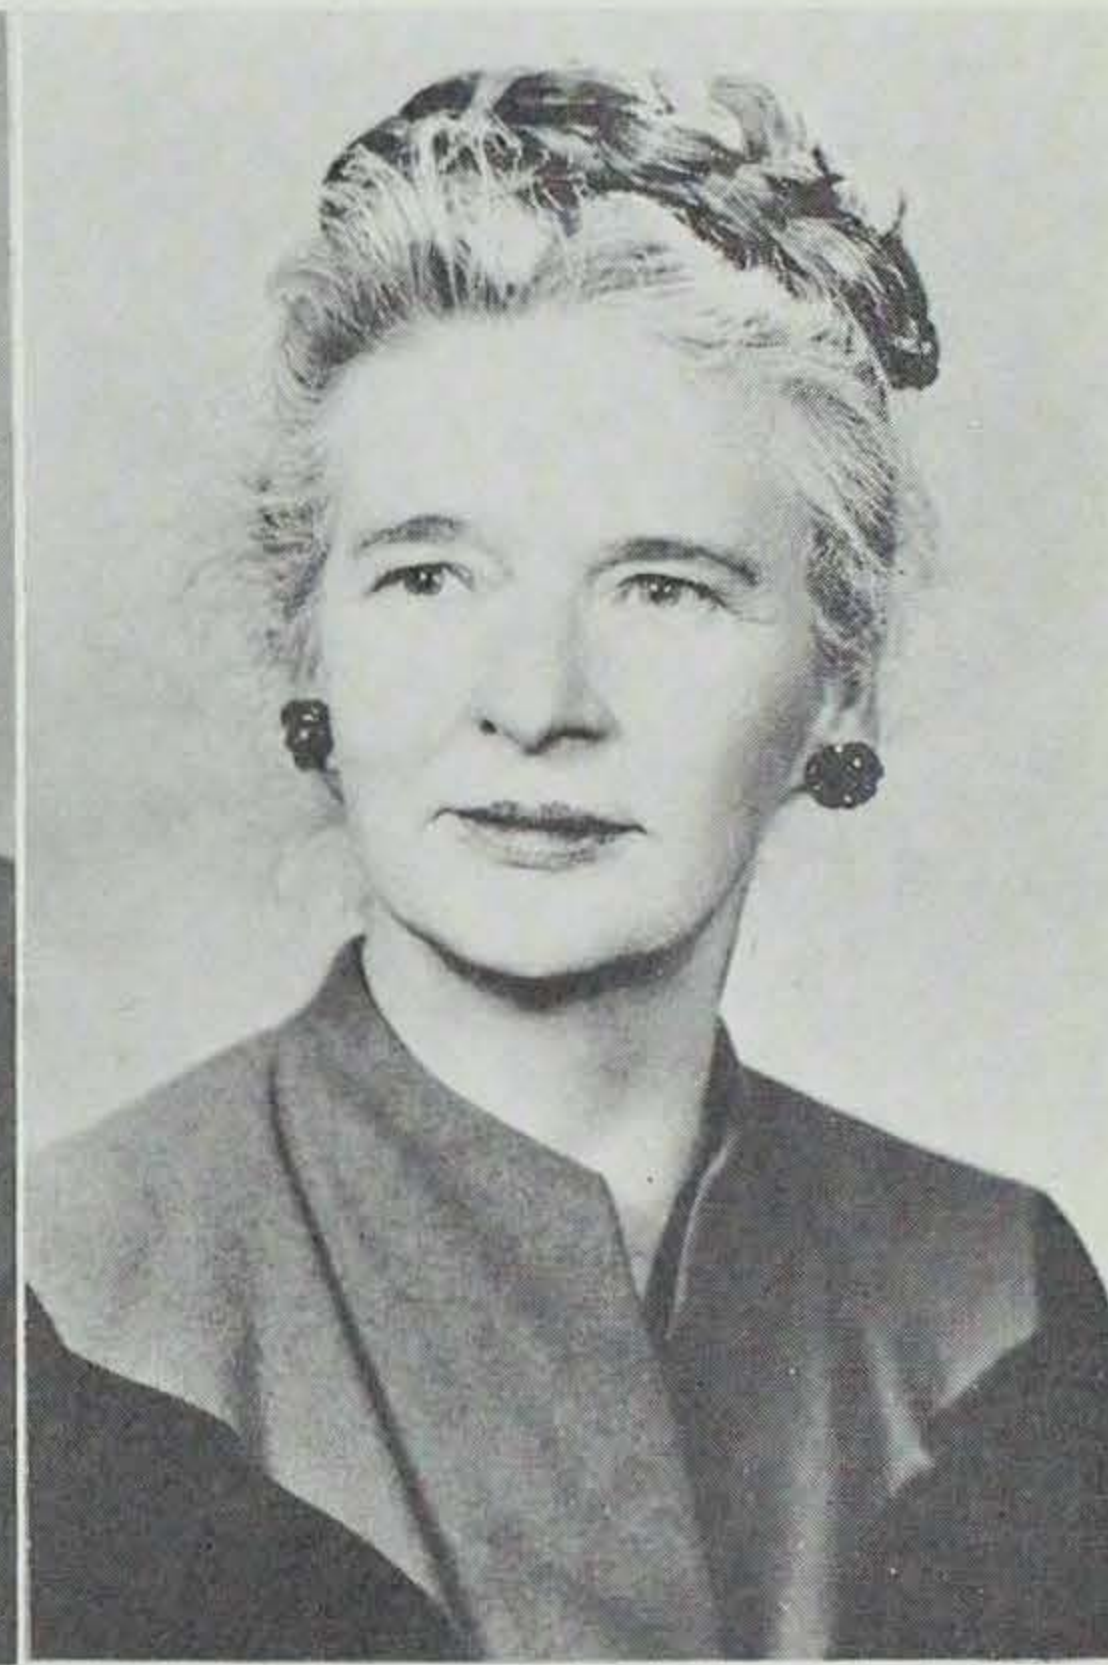

F. M. SANDY

SHIRLEY VORLAND

Students who want to enroll, drop a course, secure a permit to cut chapel, or get answers to their questions will always find Shirley willing to help.

IN NON-ACADEMIC MOOD

The faculty, in spite of dignity and degrees, knows how to let its hair down and have fun. From this ability stems their willingness to participate in student activities and, above all, their sympathetic understanding of student problems.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The administrative officers and faculty at B. V. welcome the suggestions of the Student Council, which functions not only to give students a voice in regulating their activities, but also to relieve the faculty of many minor responsibilities.

Under the capable leadership of President Dwayne Stille the 1947-48 Council has been an active, effective organization.

Fall

ANOTHER YEAR BEGINS

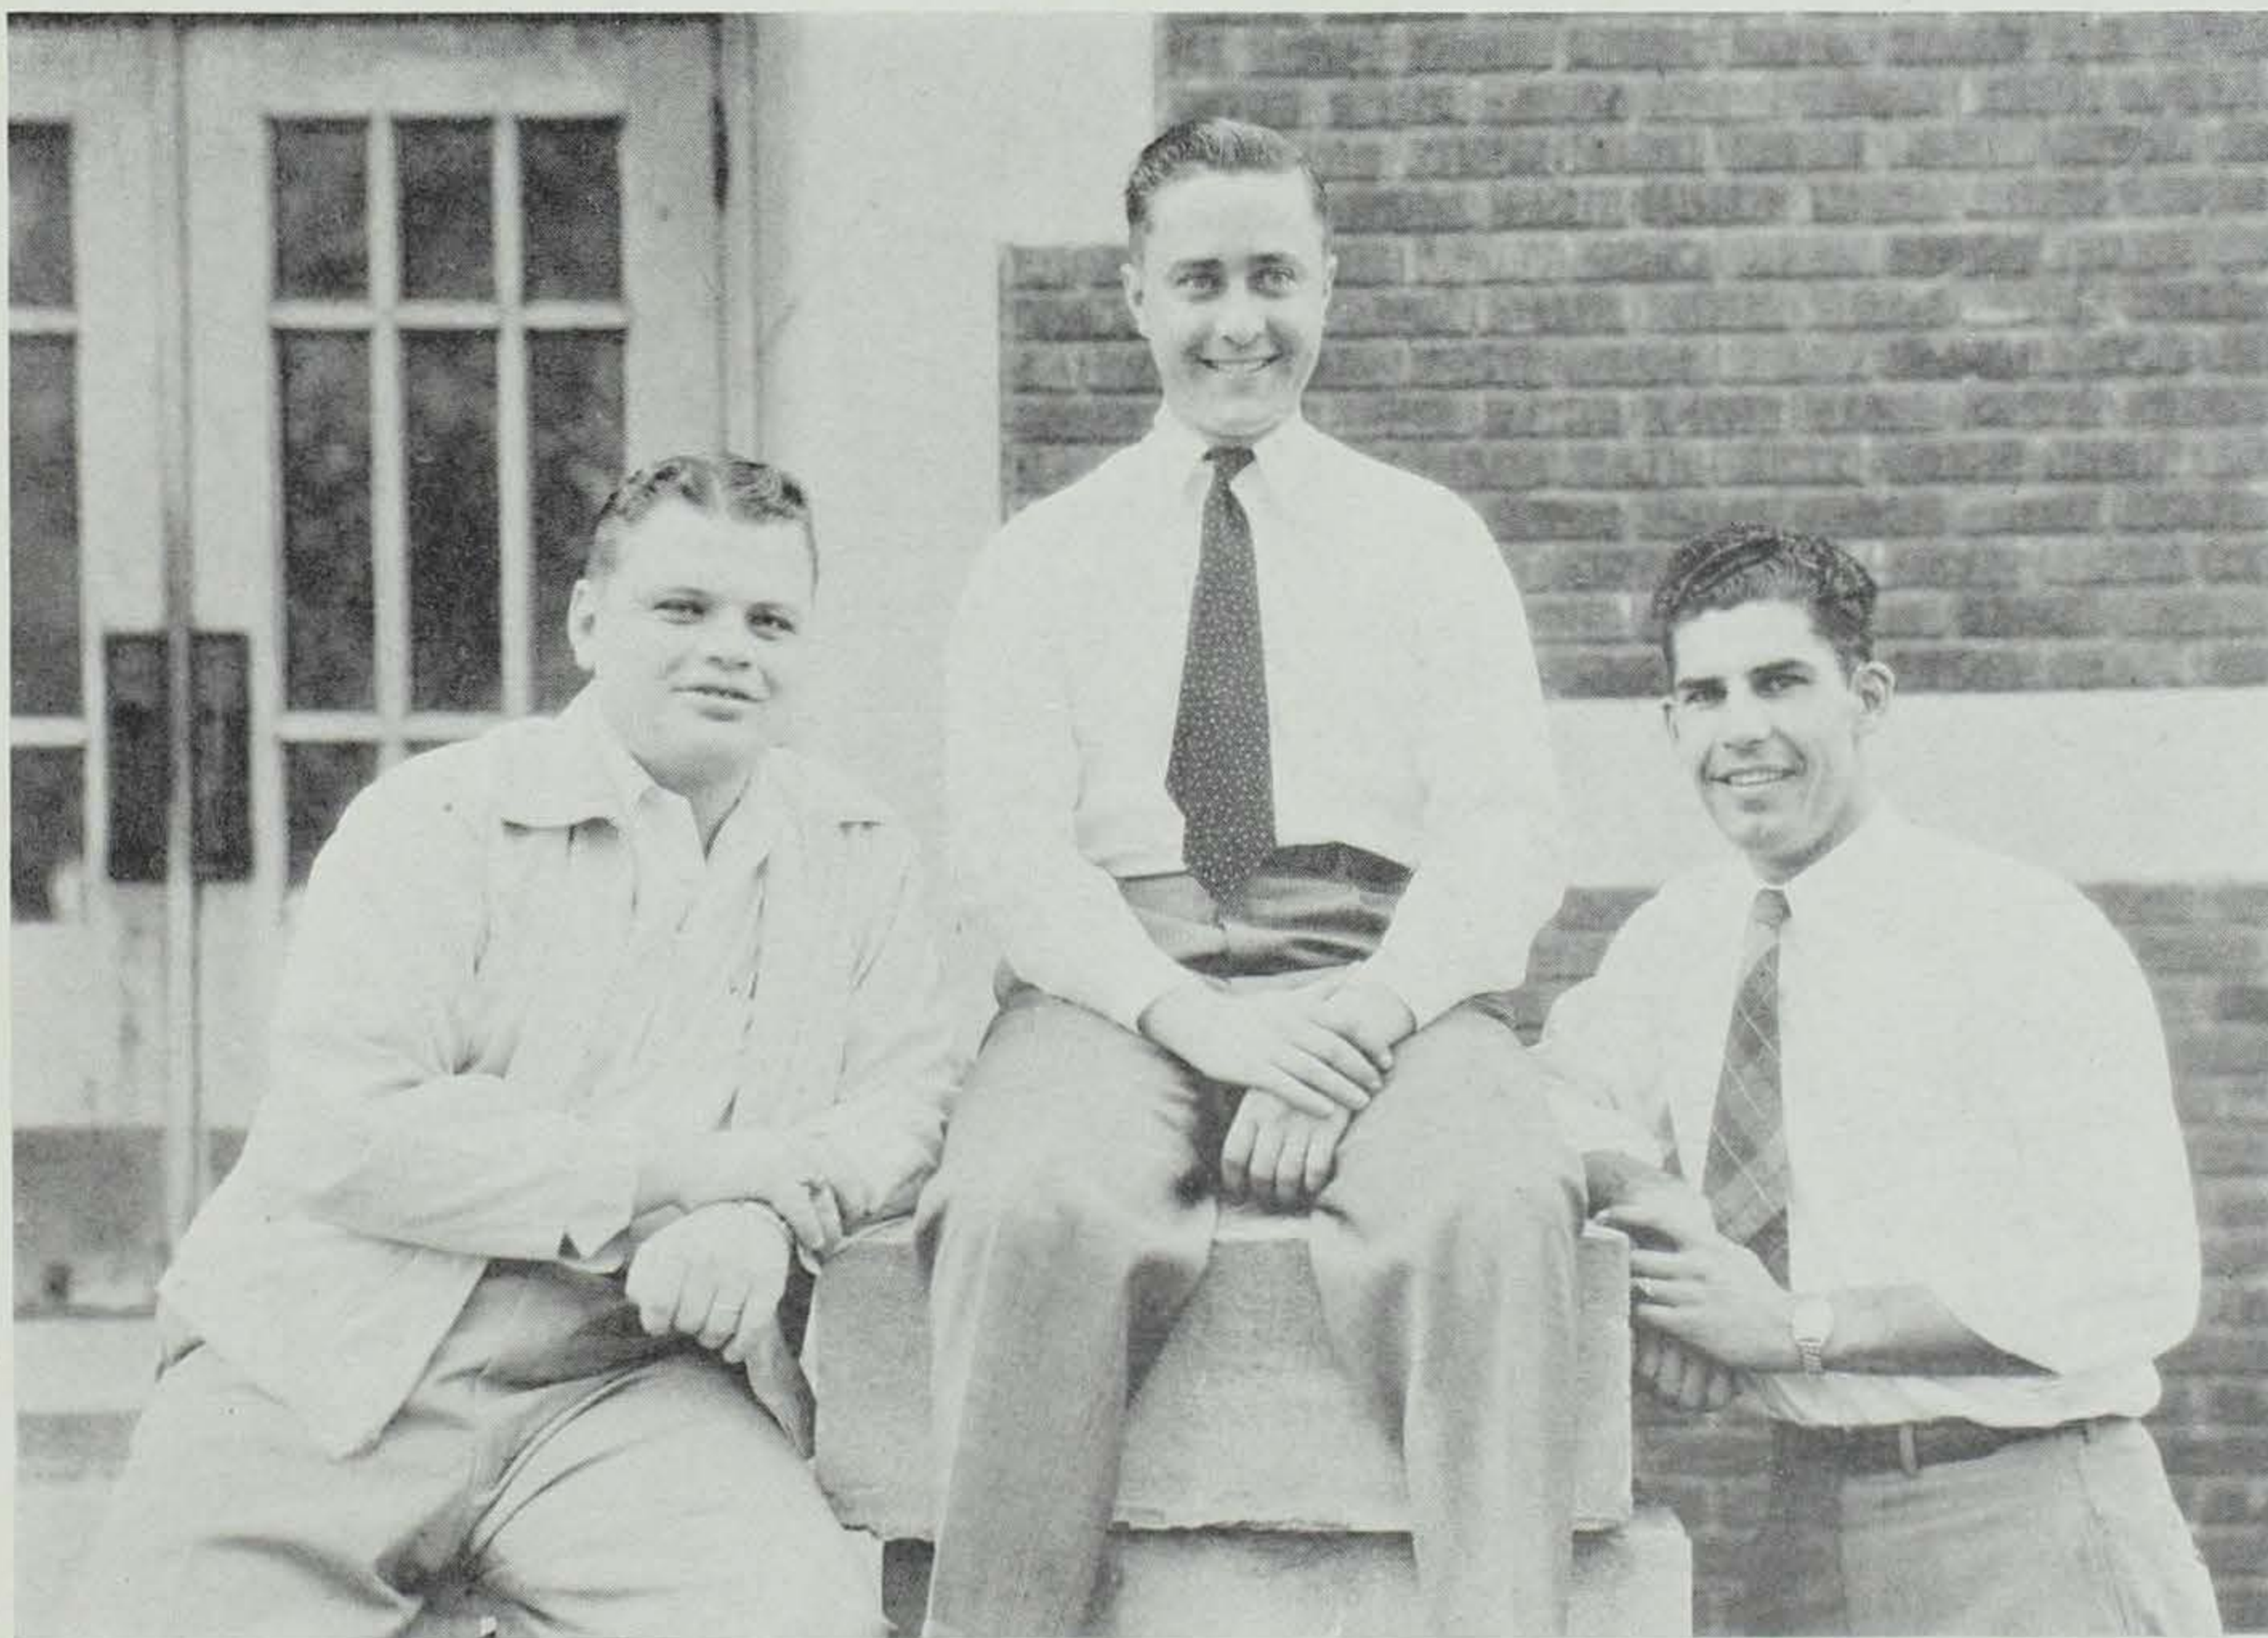

When the first fitful gusts of autumn winds began to ripple the summer calmed surface of the lake, activity began again on the campus of the best little college of them all.

The staff of the BEAVER LOG is proud of the opportunity of compiling for the students, alumni, and friends of Buena Vista an account of the year 1947-48. The staff recognizes that the primary reason for attendance at any college is to secure an education, but it also realizes that the acquisition and retention of knowledge is an individual affair which rarely makes interesting reading. We therefore present an account of a year's extra-curricular activity in the hopes that in years to come the book will serve to bring back cherished memories of college days.

SENIOR CLASS

Whether or not the senior class is the most important class in school is, according to Lykens, Olson, and the remaining members of the LOG staff, not even a debatable question. "We're not only good," says Ralph; "we're the biggest senior class in the history of the school."

Be that as it may, since the seniors have the last voice in the organization of the annual, we present first among the student organizations, the members of the class of 1948.

JUNIOR CLASS

Class Officers

STEPHEN EKDOM, FRANCES DAVIS, JACK HENNEBERRY

The smallest, but in their own estimation, the mightiest class at B. V. is the group which at present makes up the class of 1949. This group will be greatly augmented before next fall by the addition of a large group of students who will complete enough hours during the summer session to become full seniors by the end of August.

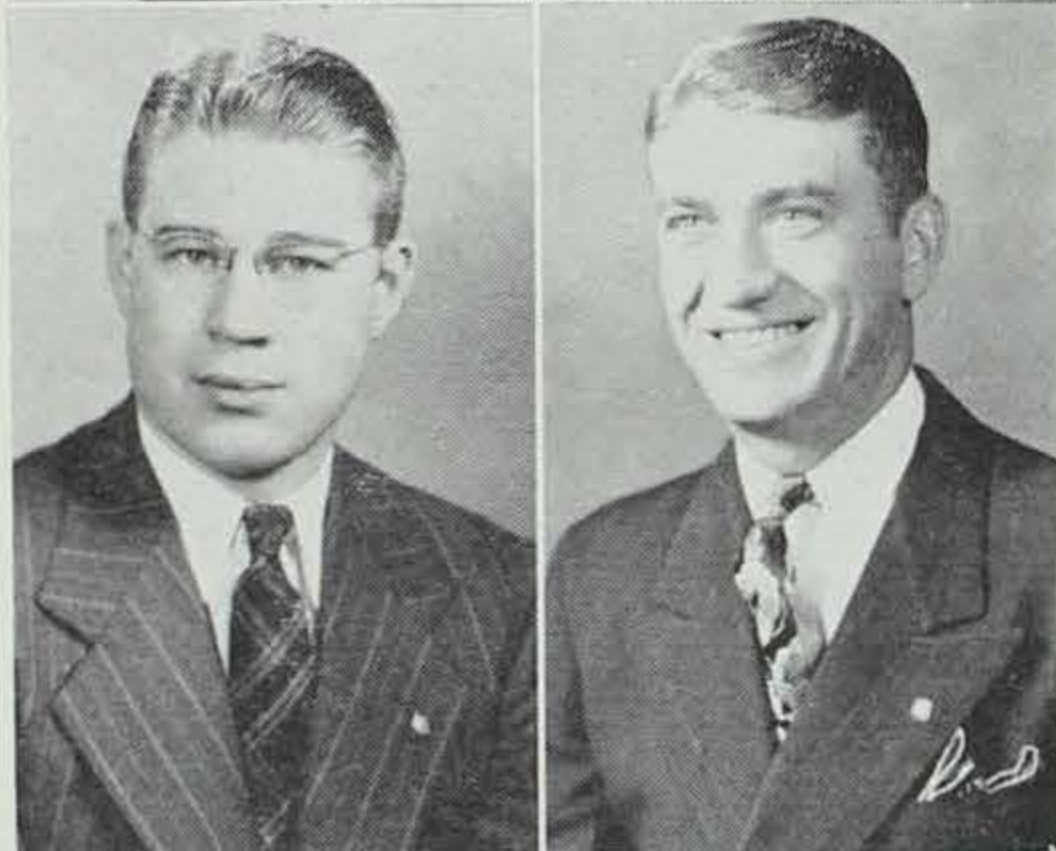

The class of '48 knows that the future of B. V. activities is safe in the capable hands of the class of '49.

This year's sophomore class claims to be "bigger and better than ever". It boasts many members in all activities and at least a fair proportion of the honor roll students.

Graduates of the two-year normal training course are classed as members of the sophomore class, since most of them return during summers until they eventually receive a degree.

VARSITY

The '47 football season ended, paradoxically, with the Beavers co-champions of the Dakota-Iowa conference and on the bottom of the Iowa conference.

It was not only in conference standing that inconsistencies were evident, for the season fell into two distinct parts, separated by the departure of Head-Coach Harland Riebe and the subsequent reorganization of athletics which "gave the game back to the boys" and put the two deans in charge of coaching. They were assisted by Ben Toay of Storm Lake, Jake LaFoy of Storm Lake High School, and our own "Pop-Eye" Toohey.

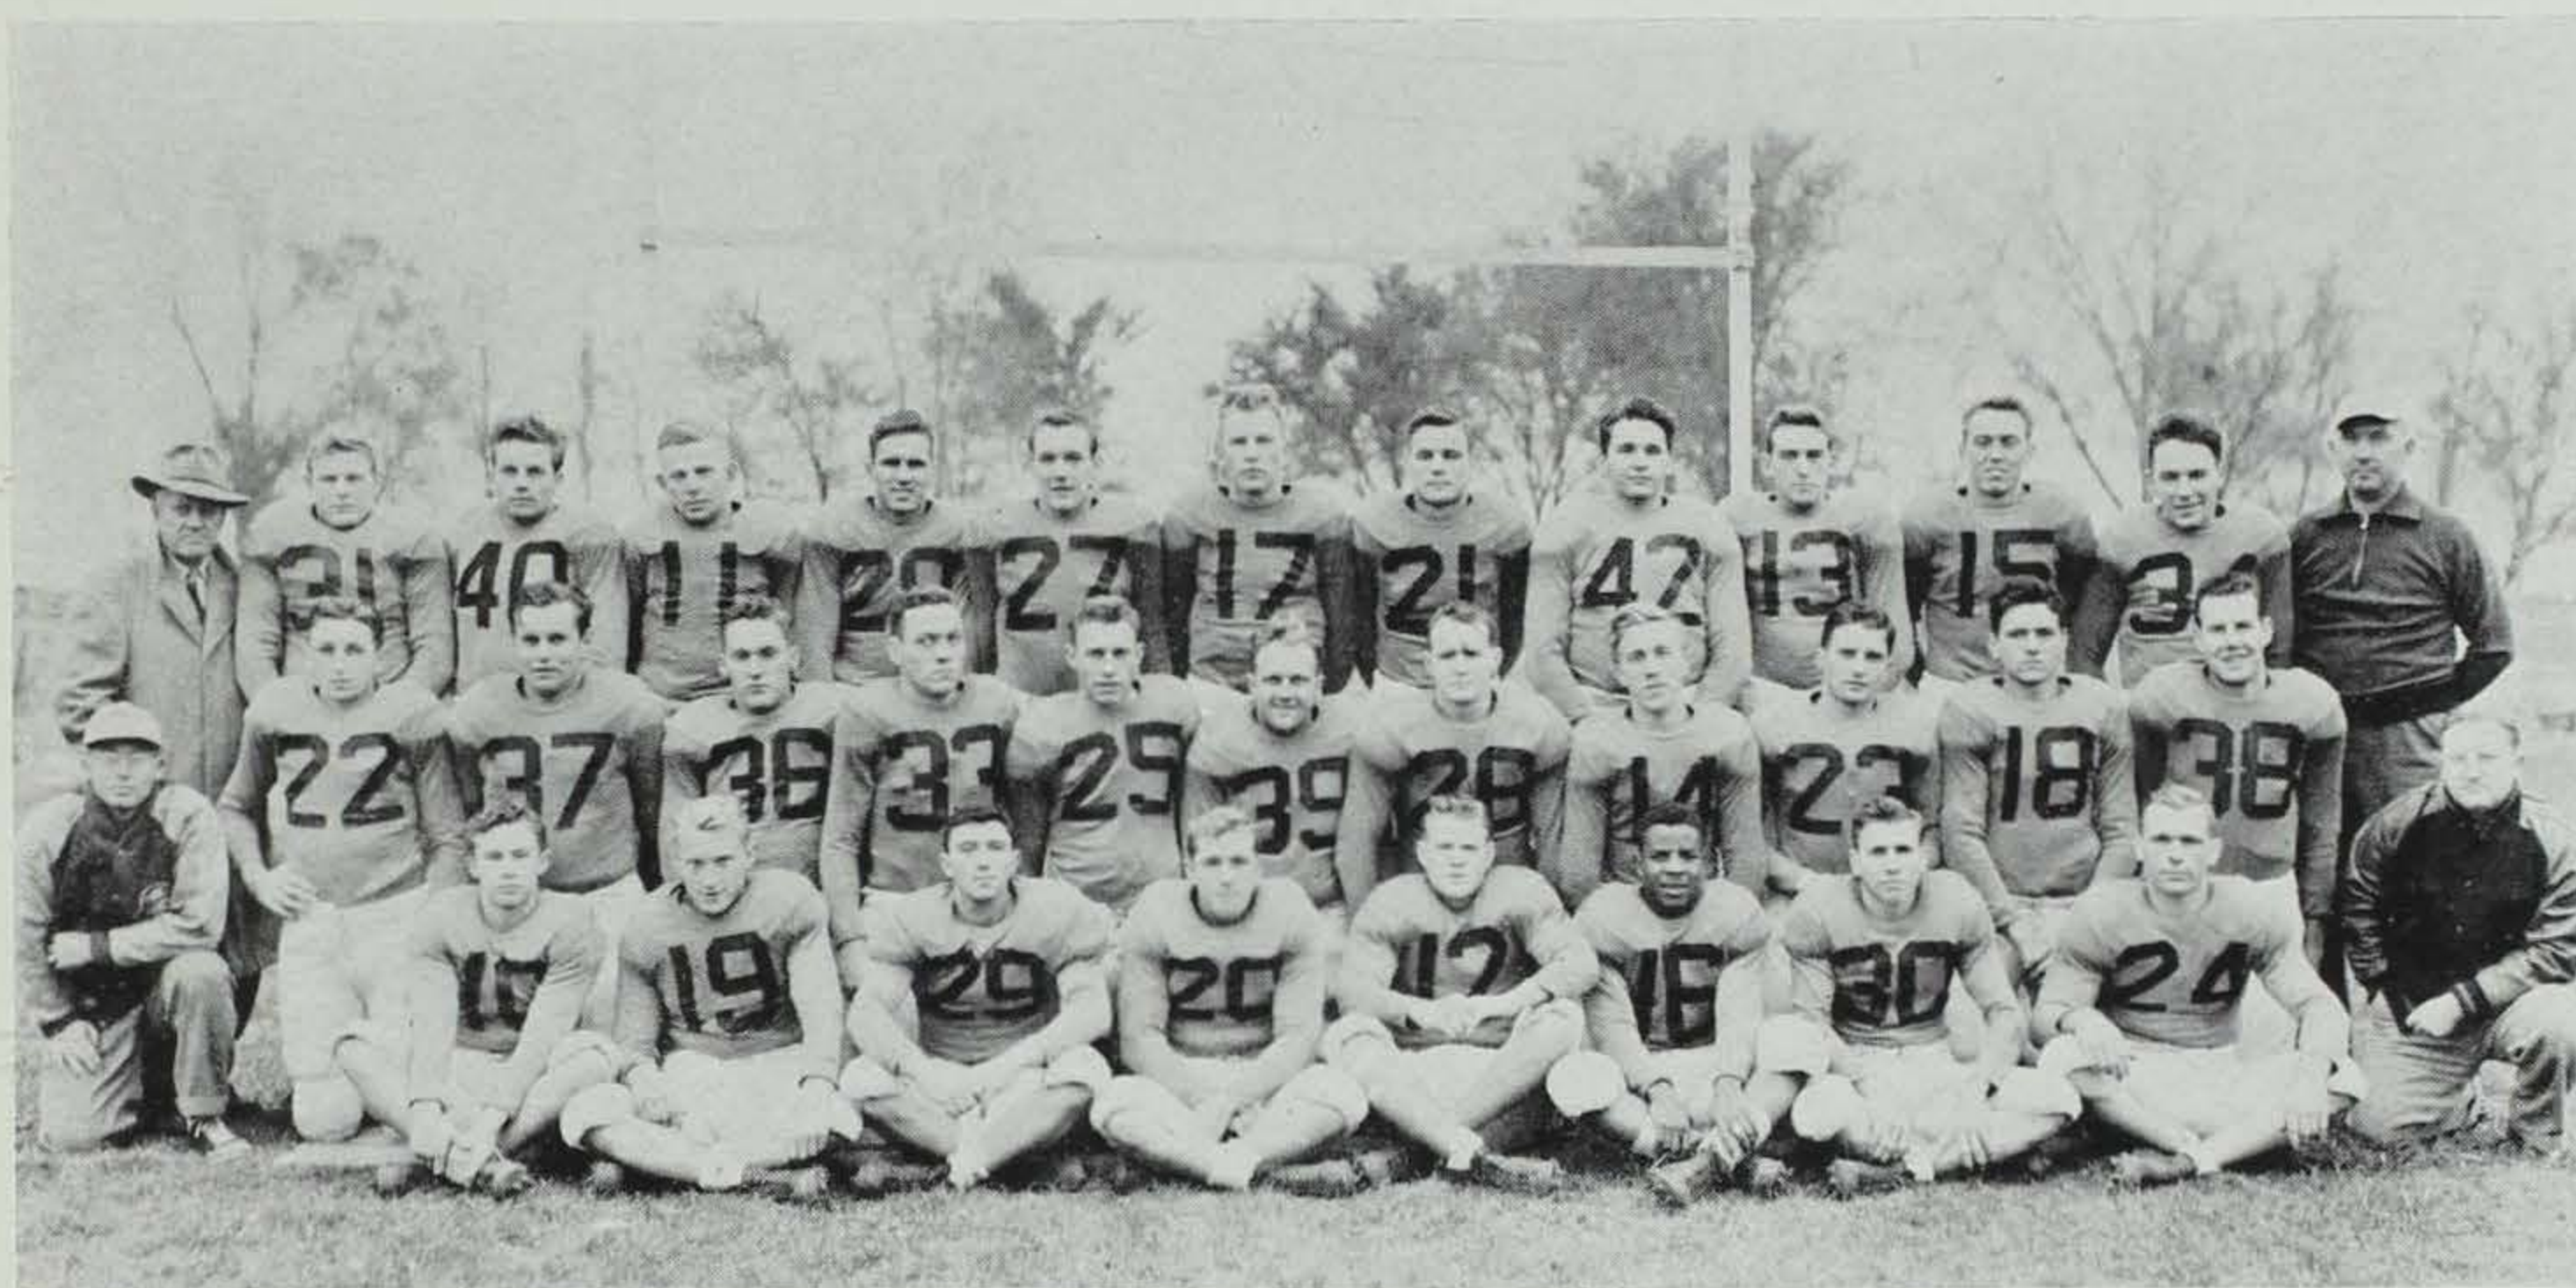

During the first part of the season the hard-working varsity lacked the spark necessary to earn the victories their ability seemed to deserve, since they won only one game out of the first six played, and that by the narrow margin of one point. During the last part of the season, the inspired Beavers, playing three games in eight days and spanning the state to do so, wrested an almost impossible victory from the league-leading Dakota Wesleyan; trounced Sioux Falls; and yielded to Parsons only after a magnificent battle on a rain-soaked field.

"Bill" Wesselink, Dean of the College and Registrar, took over the line coaching assignment. His boys held the larger Dakota Wesleyan team for four downs on the two-inch line, and they fought more like tigers than Beavers every minute.

"Kenny" Blackman, Dean of Men and Assistant Coach, became Head Coach and concentrated his efforts on the backfield boys, who ran, plunged, and passed to two glorious victories in three games. "Kenny" is now Athletic Director.

Vic Christenson

FOOTBALL FACTS

At the close of the season three Beaver players were named to the Dakota-Iowa conference team, selected by coaches of teams in the conference. They were: Vic Christenson, a sophomore guard, Don Castle, sophomore backfield man, and Clyde Simons, senior, an end. This was the second straight year that Vic has had the All-Conference guard position.

Dubuque Over-runs BV — 28-20

Buena Vista lost the first game of the season to a heavier opponent despite the Beaver's speedy deception. All three of BV's touchdowns were made by passing. Bernie Saggau's efforts were prominent in each score.

Breaks Go To Upper Iowa — 20-7

Buena Vista lost its second game by two touchdowns to Upper Iowa who capitalized on a pass interception in the first quarter and a BV fumble in the last period. Castle carried the ball over for Buena Vista's only score.

BV Takes Dakota-Iowa Opener — 7 to 6

The first home game was played under the lights with Huron bowing in defeat. BV crashed to within Huron's five-yard line in the first quarter, but failed to push across for a score. In the last minute of the first half, Glenn Theulen threw a long pass to Jerry Lehr, who took the ball 47 yards for the score.

Homecoming Game Lost by Field Goal — 9 to 7

A partially blocked pass was caught by a Wartburg end for the first score of the 1947 Homecoming game. Neither team was able to cross the goal in the first two quarters. BV tied the score in the third period by a strong ground attack. With only a few minutes left in the game, Wartburg completed a field goal from the BV 7 yard line to win the game.

Penalties Block Beavers — 25 to 7

Although Buena Vista and Western Union were rather evenly matched teams, penalties against the Beavers at crucial moments carried the Eagles to victory by a large margin. Dick Utter and Ed Lashier were outstanding in Buena Vista's line.

BV Fights Yankton in Mud — 7 to 7

Under the home field lights for the second time in the season, the Beavers slid back and forth on a rain soaked field with Yankton. No score was made by either team in the first two quarters. After Yankton pushed the ball to a touchdown in the third period, BV retaliated by tying the points on a pass from Bernie Saggau to Everett Grapenthin, who carried the ball over with the blocking of Tom South.

"CAME THE REVOLUTION"

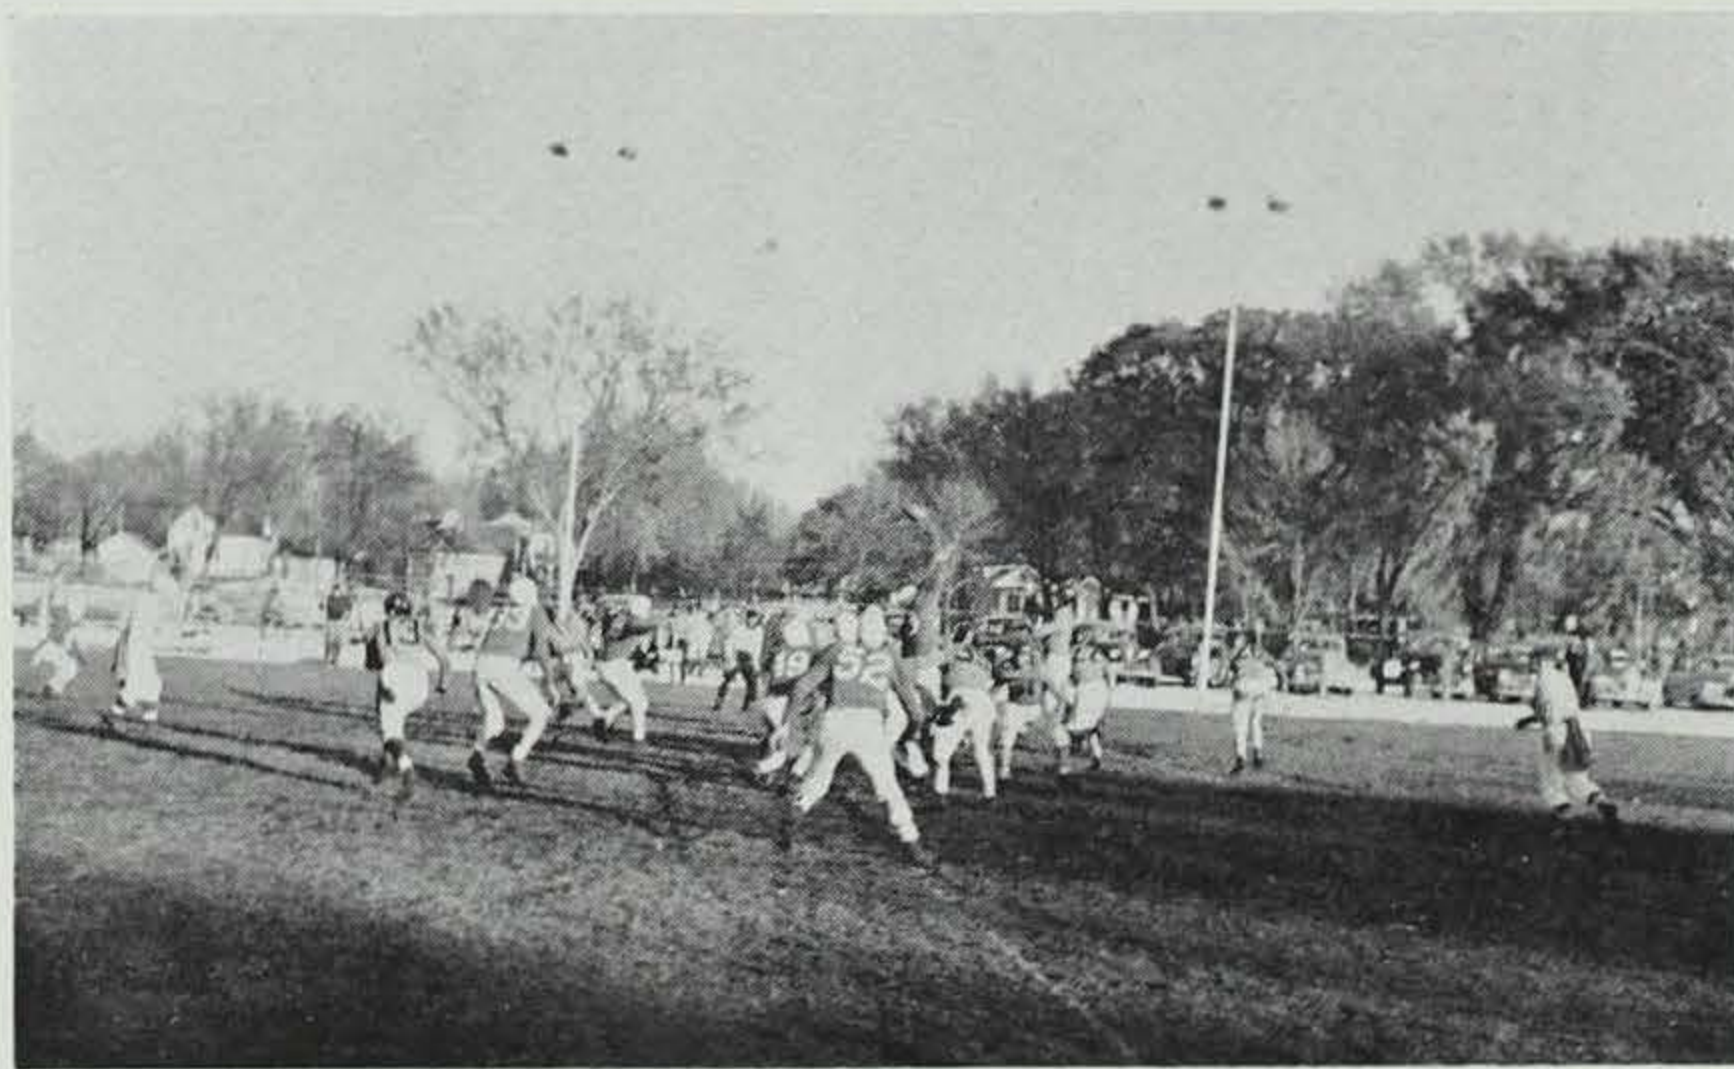

Dakota Wesleyan Goes Down — 25 to 20

In the most thrill-packed game of the season, a rejuvenated Buena Vista team handed their new coach, Kenny Blackman, a victory over the Dakota-Iowa conference leaders. Fighting spirit was at fever pitch as the Beavers pushed through the big Dakota team to overcome a seven point, half-time lead. Buena Vista made one score in each quarter, completing only one conversion. Outstanding players of the day — the linemen, the backfield, and the reserves!

Rain, Snow, and Sioux Falls Beaten — 12 to 0

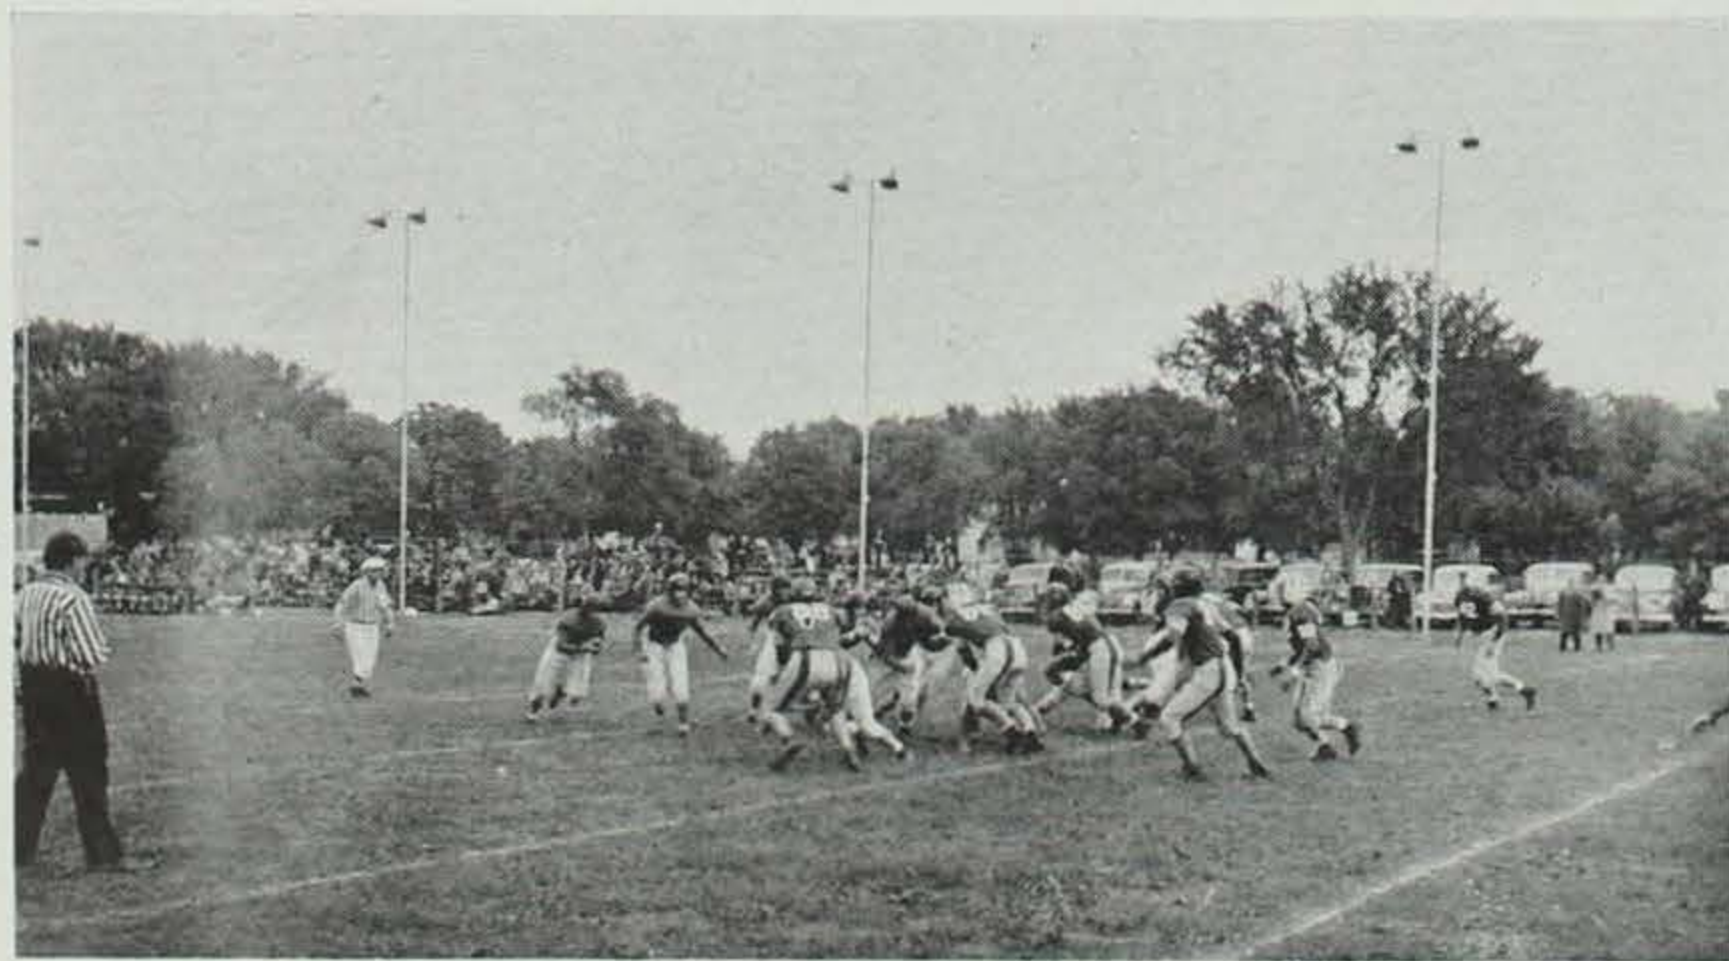

Buena Vista became co-champions of the Dakota-Iowa conference by winning the game with Sioux Falls. It was played in below freezing weather in rain and snow which all added up to make it difficult for both sides to handle the ball. Don Castle made the first touchdown and Ivan Mason blocked a kick which fell over the goal and was covered by Everett Grapenthin for the second score. More than 200 rooters "followed the Beavers" to see the game.

Parsons Upsets Beavers — 12 to 0

For the last game of the season, Buena Vista traveled to Fairfield to meet Parsons. The weary Beavers failed to score for the first time this year. The weather again made it tough going for all concerned. In the third quarter, Dick Toohey blocked a punt and the ball was carried to the 18 yard line, but BV could not get it over the goal.

SALUTE TO THE RESERVES

The "B" squad played only three games, since it was disbanded after its big upheaval, unfortunately before its picture could be taken. Some of those who were eligible for competition joined the varsity squad and appear in that picture. The members of the squad were: William Bibow, Bob Brown, Russell Davis, Darold Faulkner, Gordon Fett, Jack Henneberry, Vern Horn, George Jacobs, Don Johnson, Floyd Latta, Gordon McKinstrey, Carmen Ness, John Nicholson, Charles Olofson, Roland Richards, Orville Salmon, William Saylor, Willie Schnirring, Earl Shriner, LaDon Sorenson, Tommy South, Earl Stafford, Harlan Strampe, and Dick Toohey.

SALUTE TO THE RESCUE SQUAD

Dawn of the first game under the new coaching regime found Bradford Field under a four-inch blanket of snow. Excitement was at fever pitch and the game had to go on, which meant that the snow had to come off. Dean Wesselink, Mr. Hilmer, Mr. Leedy, and Miss McKeehan dismissed their classes and students from these groups, augmented by the coaches, many of the players, and volunteers from Beaver Hall scoured the town for shovels and went to work.

Thanks to them, and to the trucks provided by the Cuppy Ice Company, Doug. Phillips and Jim Rice, by noon the field was cleared and the wind was drying it so that by game time the battle of the century could go on as scheduled.

HOMECOMING

Queen Norma

The final score of the homecoming football game was a disappointment, but the rest of the festivities were a total success. Even the weather cooperated.

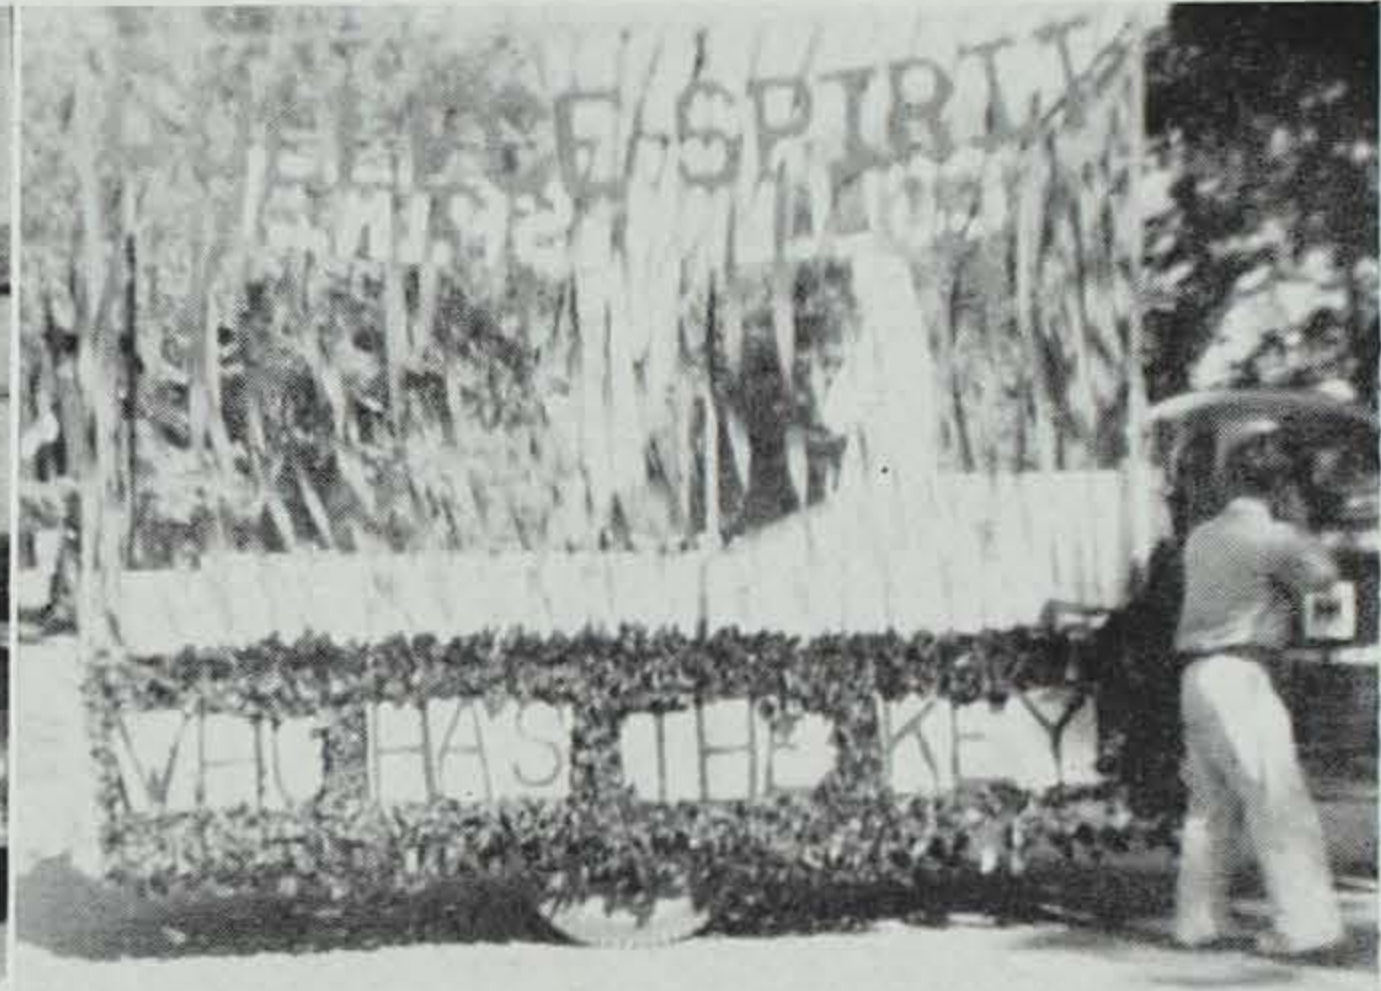

One of the highlights of the day was the crowning of Norma Johnson as Queen of the 1947 Homecoming celebration.

THE CORONATION CEREMONY

Dwayne Stille, Pat DeMers, Norma Johnson, Loretta Jensen (behind Norma), Betty McKinstrey, and LoRaine Devereux.

FESTIVITIES

The Homecoming parade was the biggest in the history of Buena Vista. First prize went to the new music fraternity which combined its float depicting college spirit imprisoned in a large cage, with the inscription "Who Has the Key?" with the band float which bore the answer, "We Have."

Second place was awarded to the seniors for their Feudin' and Fightin' float, and third place went to the choir which had a Wartburger wagon.

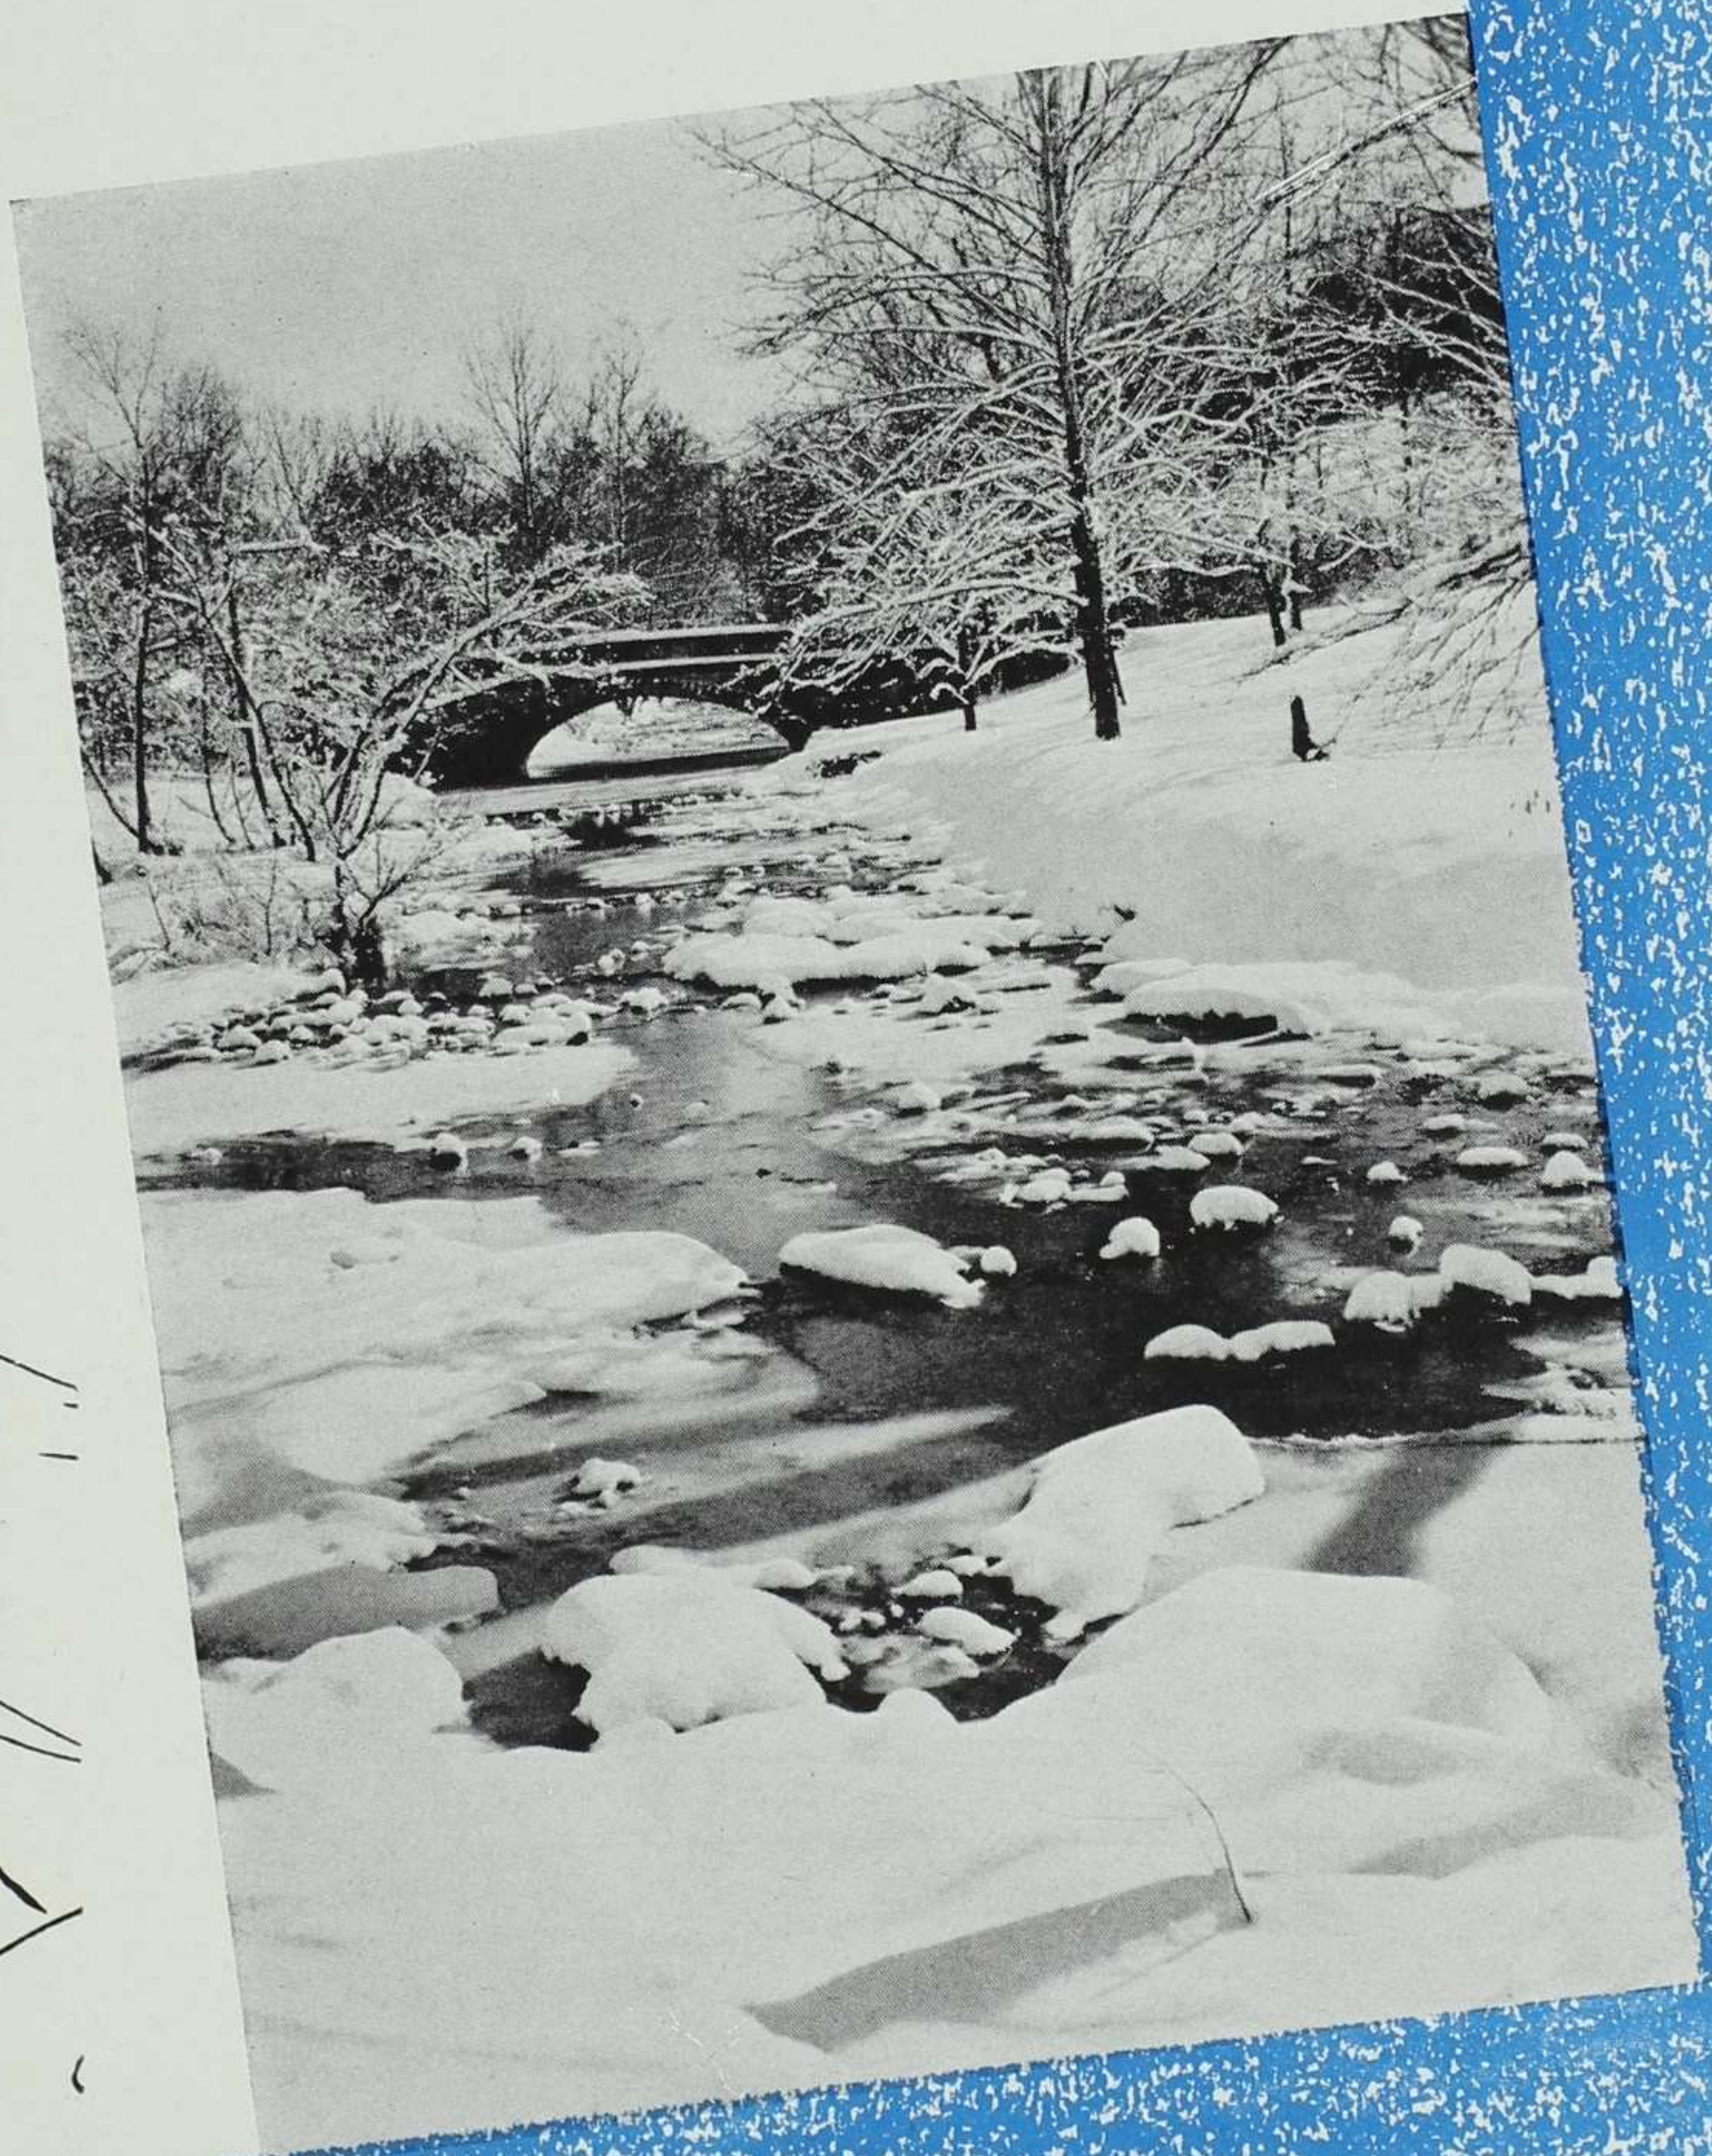

CHEER LEADERS

Buena Vista's five cheer leaders never gave up, even during the unfortunate early season football games. After the revival of spirit they carried on better than ever and went on into the basketball season to organize a Pep Club which took over the activities of the group of unidentified Buena Vista supporters who had undertaken a pep-poster campaign which resulted in the "Follow the Beavers" movement.

Winter

WE SETTLE DOWN

As the north wind sweeps the frigid blasts that herald winter down from the Dakotas and Minnesota, football and other fall activities become memories, and Buena Vista settles down to basketball, beauty contests, and mid-year exams. Somewhere in between lessons and athletics, all the other groups on the campus find time for their programs which do much to make students happy.

Music activities claim much attention, and the Student Christian Association climaxes its endeavors with Consecration Week. In addition, new freshman, initiations, and stunt night combine to make Buena Vista a grand place to be in winter.

BASKETBALL

Varsity Coach

"B" Coach
FRANK MILLER

Although the basketball season was a long tough one, Kenny and Frank lead their teams to at least their full share of victories. Both teams were plagued by injuries, and the varsity suffered from one tragic death; but, reflecting the spirit of their coaches, the boys refused to let either trouble or officials keep them from giving everything they had in each game.

In Memoriam

Earl Shriner, one of the finest boys on the varsity, died January 22 following an emergency operation. Earl's splendid character, athletic ability, fighting spirit, and good sportsmanship are sorely missed; but the influence of his clean-cut life still stands as an inspiration to all who knew him.

Second Row: Fred Lawson, Glen Oatman, Jerry Parker, Jerry Lehr, Ralph Shriner, Coach Blackman

Playing with spirit and determination rather than height and experience, the varsity managed to win 11 out of 23 games. A unique feature of the season was that the Beavers lost only two home games and won only two road games. Two of the losses and three of the wins were by one-point margins. This gives some indication of the snappy nature of the season.

Three games stand out in the memory of the fans, the upset of the famous Globetrotters, the "return" engagement with Sioux Falls, and the heart-breaking loss to the fine team from Yankton.

Only Vernon "Dutch" Huseman, high scorer for the Beavers during his junior and senior years, will be lost to the team by graduation.

John Naughton, who joined the team at the beginning of the second semester, does not appear in the picture.

Although the "B" team began playing at 6:30, the games were so popular that a large crowd of loyal rooters was always on hand to cheer them on. They won nine out of fifteen games against a variety of opponents, including other "B" teams, junior colleges and independent teams.

Cold statistics don't half tell the story of the wild and woolly 1947-48 basketball season. However, as one of B. V.'s loyal rooters remarked, nobody who saw the games will forget them, and nobody who didn't see the games will believe the tales that could be told, so we'll just present the facts and let the details be matters for locker room and Beaver Hall sessions.

"B" SQUAD RECORD

Figures don't tell the tale of the "B" squad games either, but they help to show that Coach Miller's boys had a fairly sound idea of what that hoop at either end of a basketball court is used for. "B" squad members play under a little less strain than varsity players, but there was no lack of spunk or spirit in any of the encounters. The boys could have outplayed many college varsities.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

Champs (E. Lashier's team)

Front Row: R. Miner, I. Mason, J. Shelp, T. Murphy
Back Row: T. Schuler, E. Lashier, C. Grieser, D. Utter

Runners-up (R. Warner's team)

J. Rice, O. King, H. Gorman, L. Hensley, B. Weldon, R. Warner

Under the leadership of Coach Blackman's basketball theory class, with "Pop-eye" Toohey in charge, twelve teams entered this year's intramural tournament, with the following results:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	W	L
Warner	8	3
Henneberry	7	4
Mahaffey	6	5
Shirk	4	7
Rhenstrom	4	7
Kearney	1	10

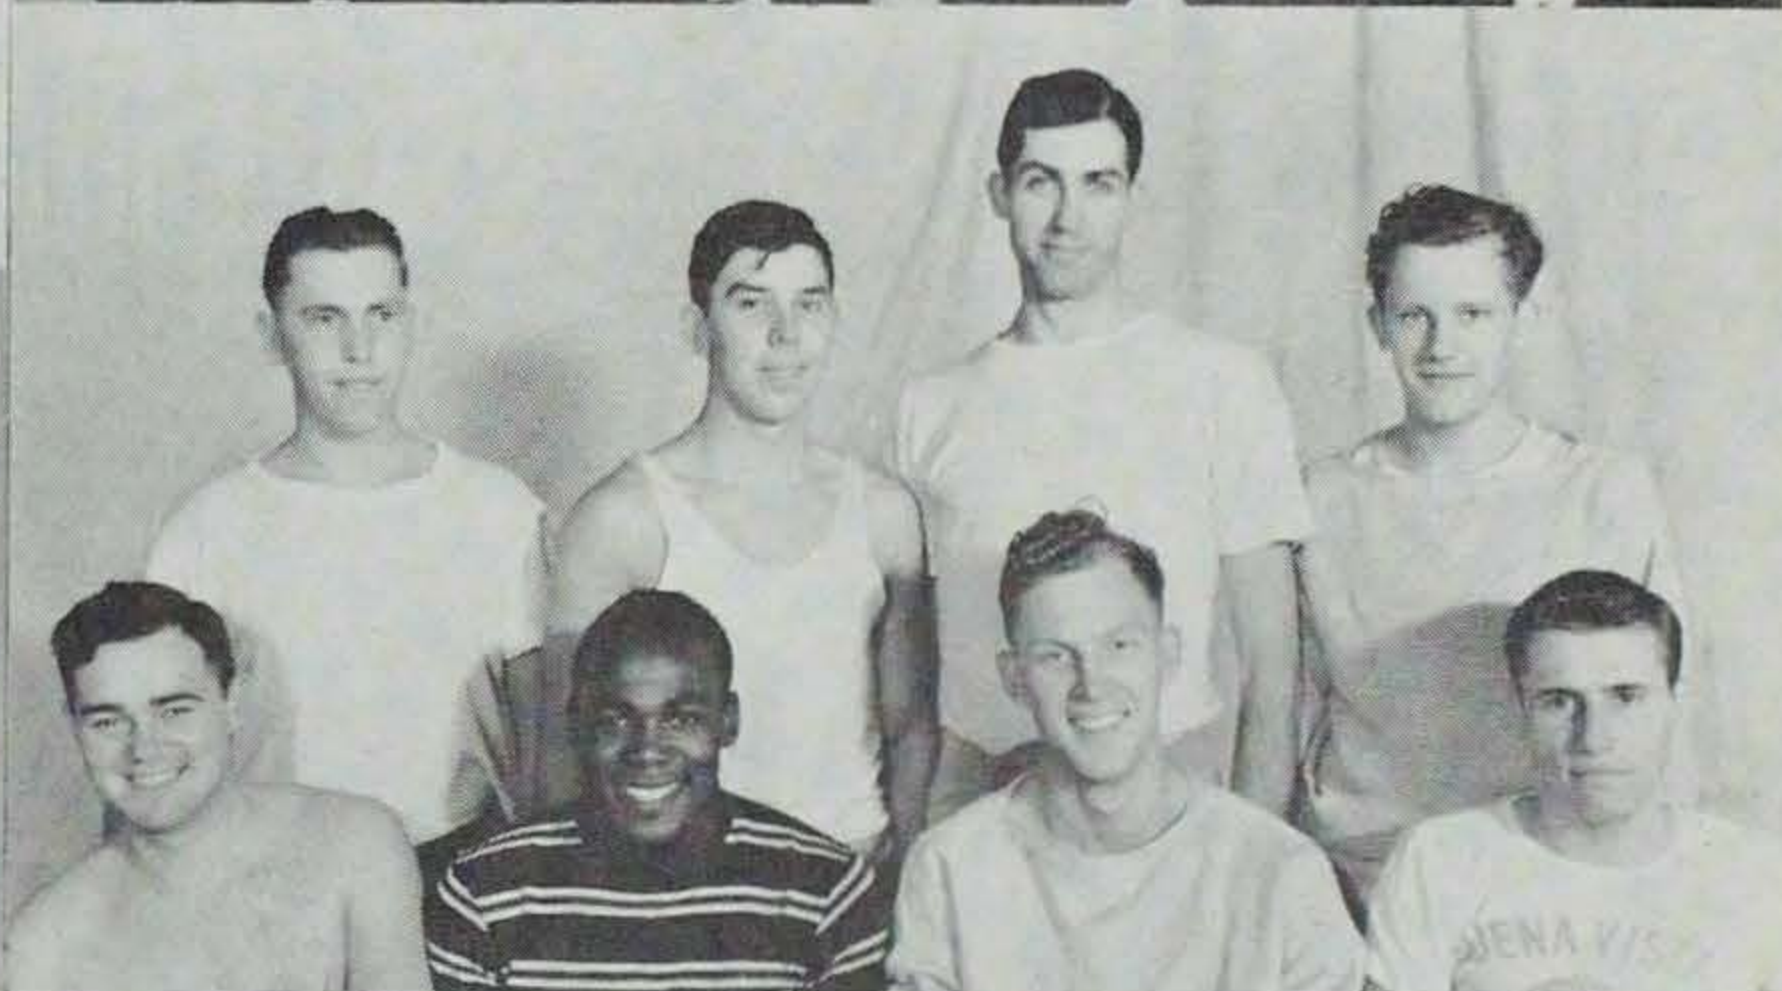

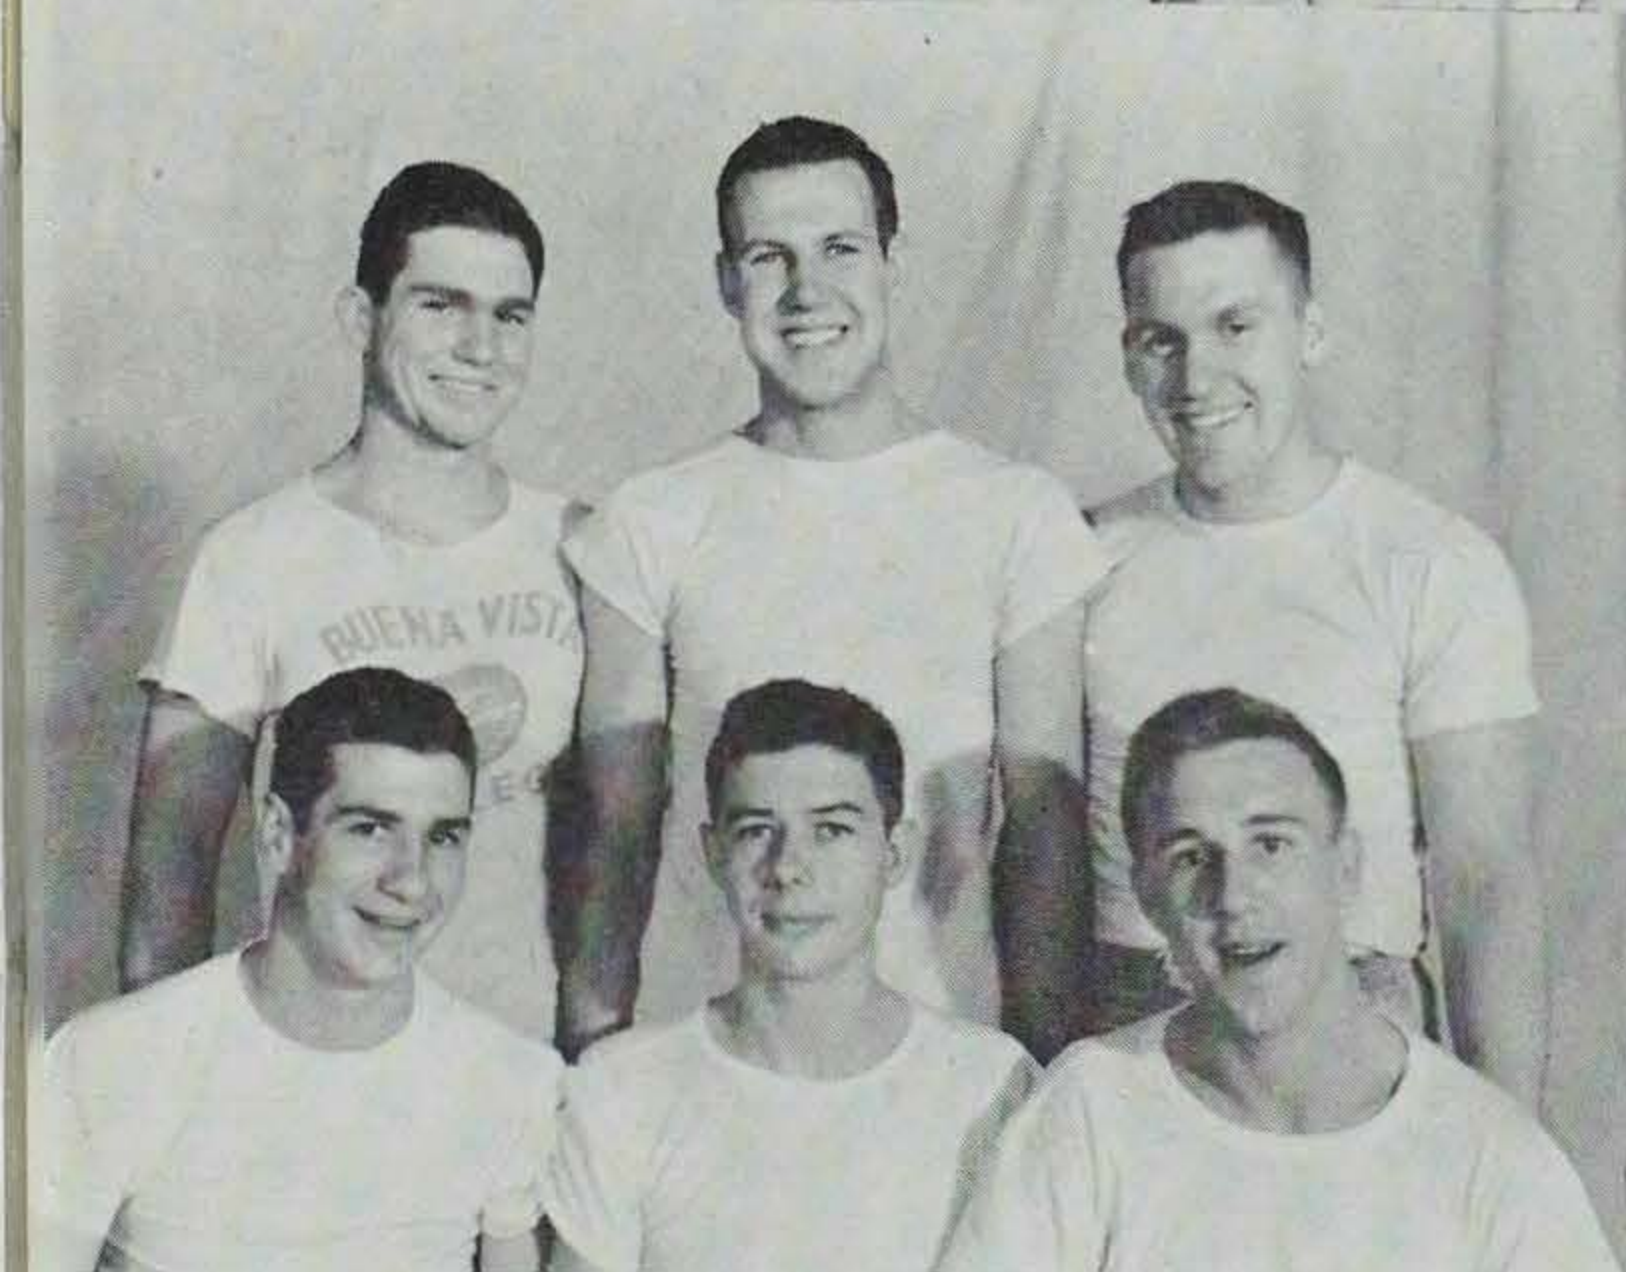

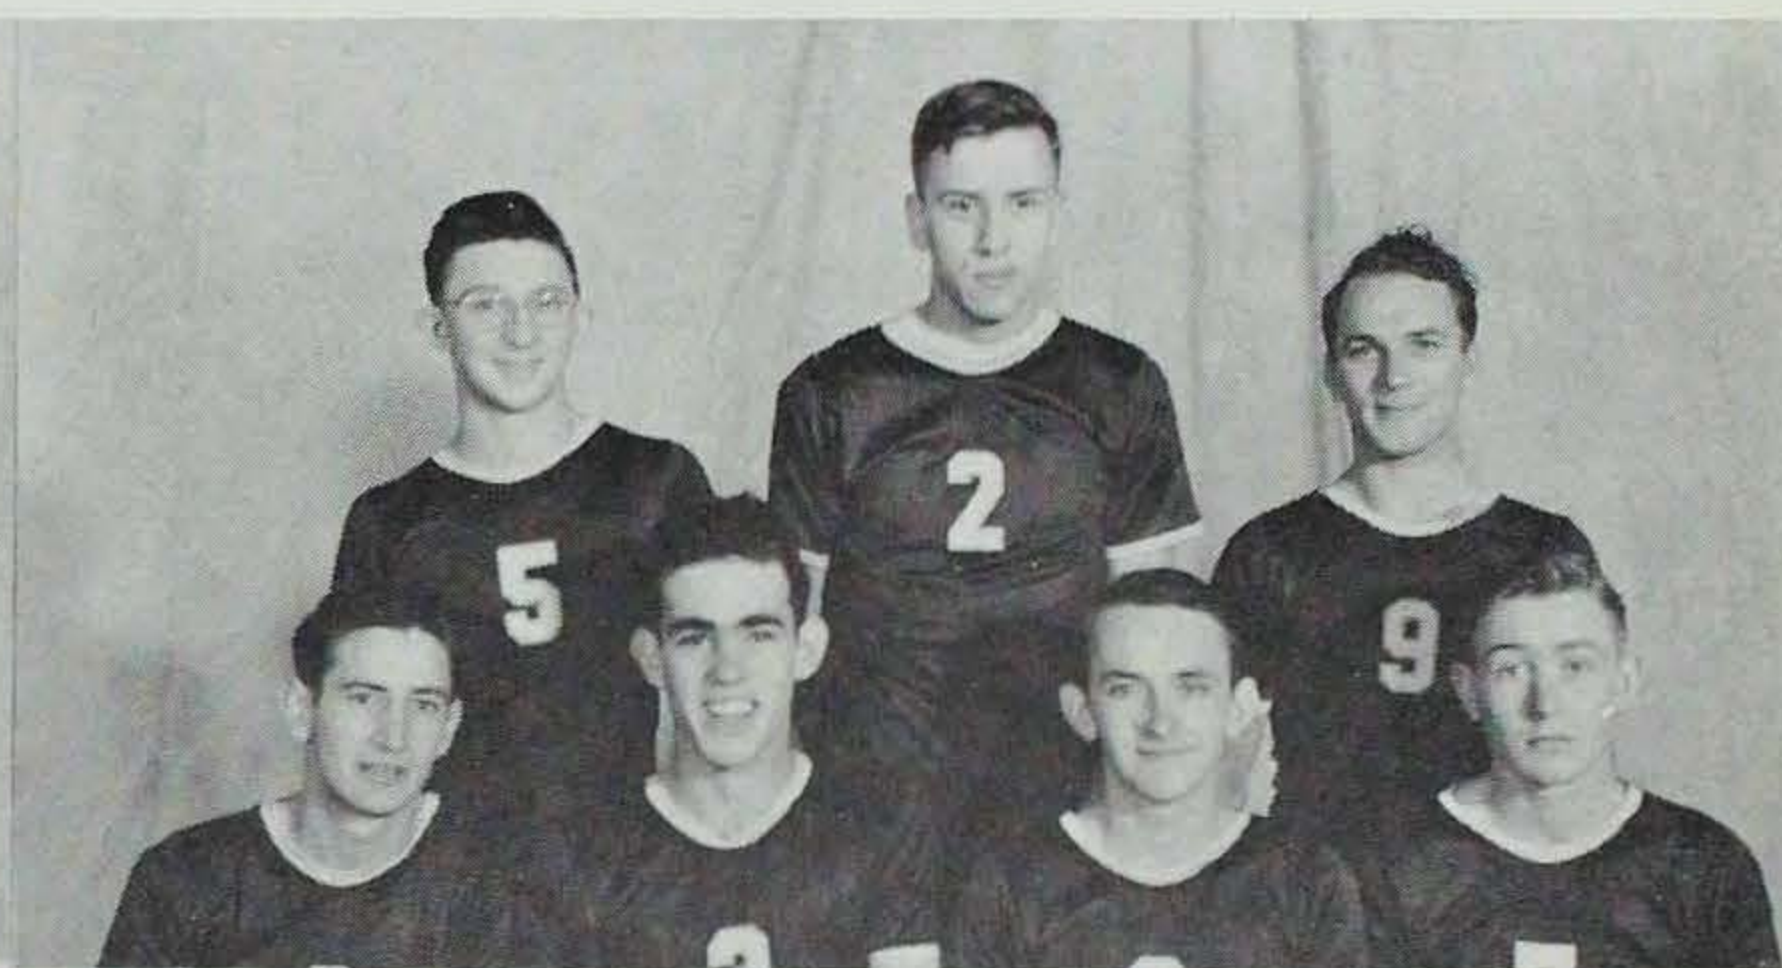

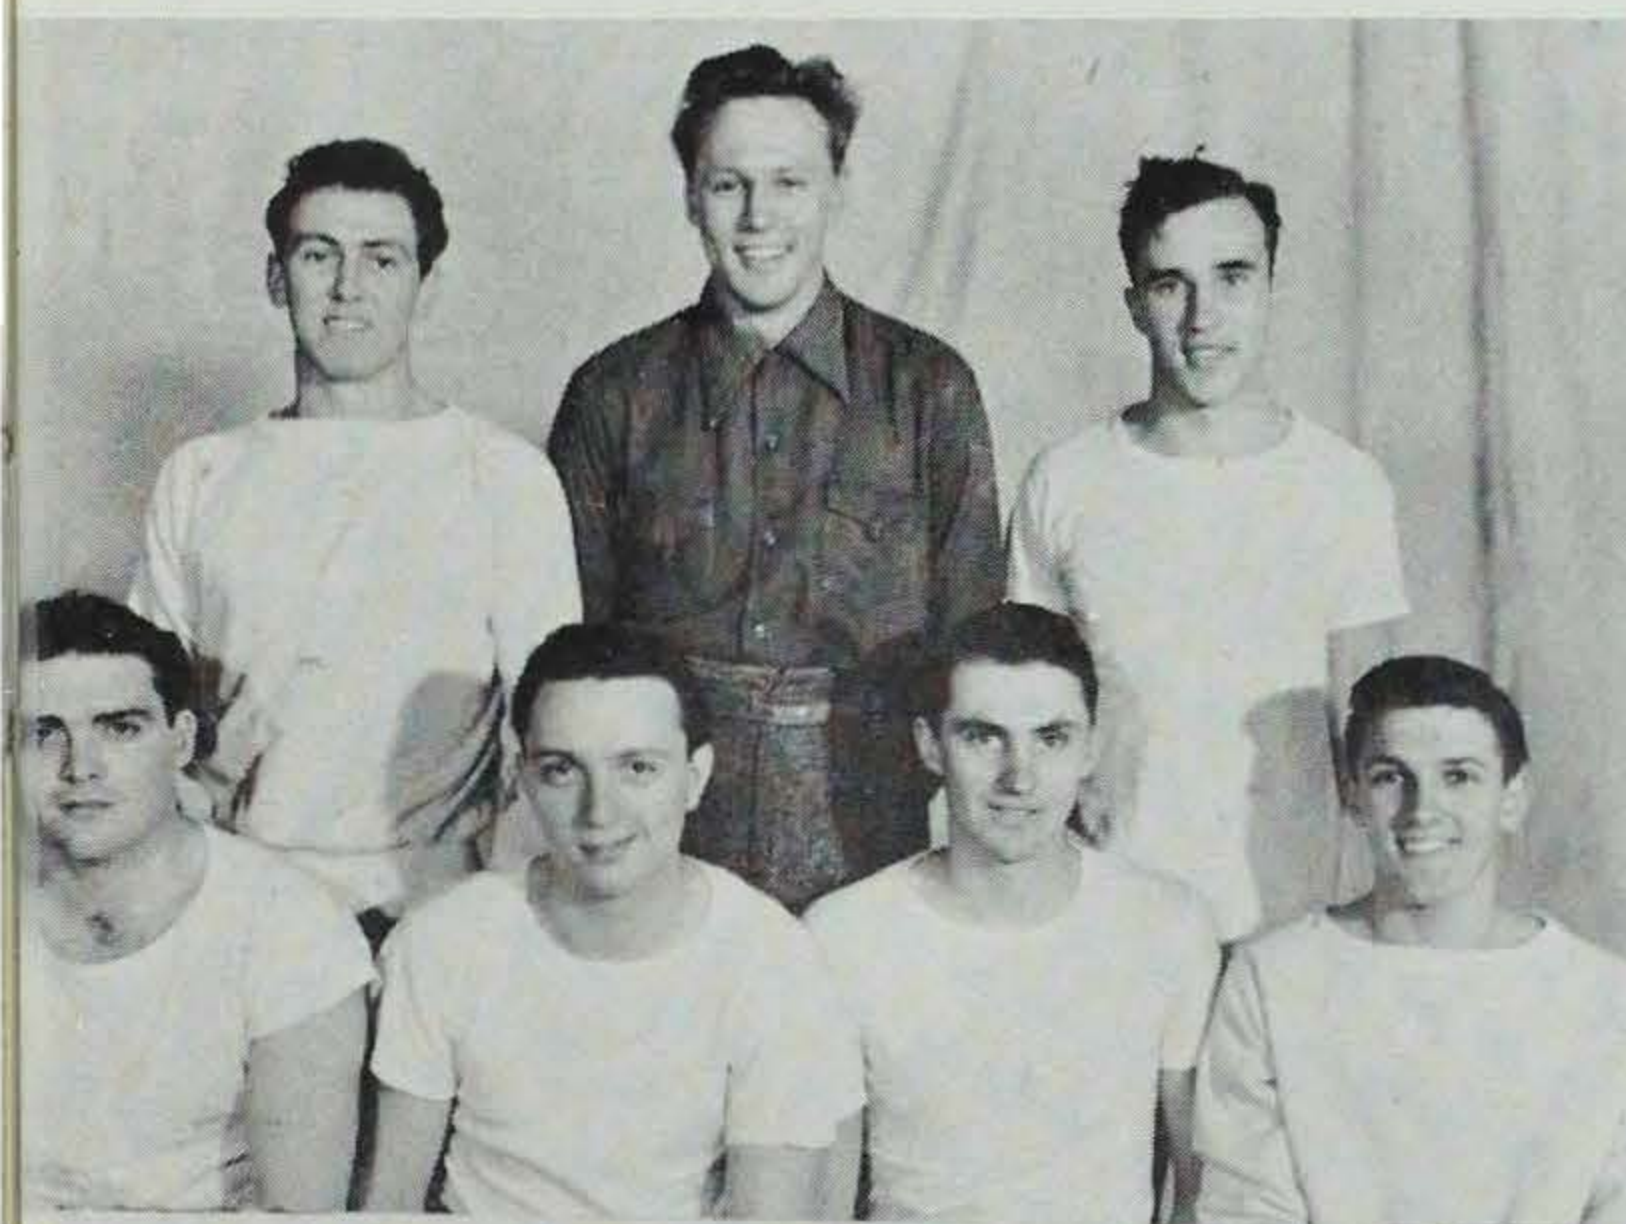

NATIONAL LEAGUE

INTRAMURAL PLAYERS

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

It takes a lot of time and work to earn a letter. Maybe that is the reason the lettermen find time to do so much work for their club.

During the football season the members sold programs, hot dogs, and coffee. During the basketball season spectators were able to supplement their early suppers with hot dogs and quench their thirst with cokes. Candy was provided for dessert.

As if these food sales were not enough to keep them busy, the lettermen sponsored the second annual 12-team independent basketball tournament, which incidentally was won by LeMars. The Storm Lake Amvets won second place, Schaller third, and Fonda fourth.

The Lettermen's Club sponsored several banquets and two dances, one just before Christmas and one semi-formal in April. However, all of their funds were not spent on pleasure, since the lettermen purchased the awards for the intramural winners and coaching jackets for all graduating members.

FIAT LUX

Ed Green, Roy Johnson, Frank Bozarth, Don Kearney, Tom Lykins

Fiat Lux was organized during the school year 1946-47. The purpose of the club is to discuss interesting and controversial topics of local, national and international significance.

During the first semester Roy Johnson was president and Thomas Lykins, secretary. The second semester a new regime took over with Frank Bozarth as president and Ed Green as secretary.

The limited membership and somewhat secret activities of the group does not keep the club from making its presence felt. If a student is ready to argue at the drop of a hat, or if he grins furtively when Fiat Lux is mentioned, the chances are that he "belongs."

PHI ALPHA PI

Front Row: Rosemary Whitcanack, LoRaine Devereux, JoAnne Rice, Jeanette Gustafson, Frances Davis, Lola Lahr, Doris Barnes

Phi Alpha Pi's again contributed their rightful portion to campus activities. Homecoming beauties Norma Johnson and Pat DeMers, Beaver beauties Pat DeMers, Pat Stafford, Jackie Battern and Norma Johnson, Sigma Tau Delta members, Lola Lahr and LoRaine Devereux, and Alpha Psi Omega's Marje Murphy, Lola Lahr and LoRaine Devereux, all display Phi Alph pins. Pledge week saw the twelve would-be Phi Alphas overalled in keeping with a Tom Sawyer theme. Final initiation for the new members was at the end of traditional hell week.

The sorority acted under the faculty supervision of Miss Ruth Lawrence and Mrs. Gladys Kuehl. Officers were Jeanette Gustafson, president; Joanne Rice, vice president; Frances Davis, treasurr; Marjorie Murphy, secretary; Lola Lahr and Jeanette Gustafson were Pan-Hellenic council representatives, and LoRaine Devereux represented the girls on the Women's Governing Board.

The Phi Alph's took part in all school activities, including stunt night, and Joanne Rice and Jeannette Gustafson have the distinction of being the only girls who "followed the Beavers" to every football game.

DELTA PHI BETA

Front Row: Mary Ann Christensen, Jean Ann Mitchell, Doris Latta, Rosemary Saunders, Edna Thomas
Second Row: Janet Currie, Rosanne Broderson, Marianne Aust, Ardith Sievers
Back Row: Marge Lashier, Donah Jarvill, Emily Lou Noyes

The Beta's, under the leadership of their president, Doris Latta, had a year brim-packed with fun and work. They started with a bang by holding a bake sale early in the fall. It was not only a financial success, but the between meal snacks were so welcome to the students and faculty that several other sales were held during the year.

In addition to the usual round of rush week and "hell" week activity the group participated in stunt night, winning second prize for their efforts, put on a stunt for a football pep meeting, and entertained the spectators between halves at one of the football games. Of course, they had a float in the homecoming parade and met their alumnae at a luncheon that same day. They competed with the Phi Alph's in the annual Pan-Hellenic winter and spring formal dances.

Doris was assisted in her management of Beta affairs by Marjorie Lashier, vice president; Jean Mitchell, secretary; and Rosemary Saunders, treasurer. The Women's Governing Board representative was Edna Thomas, while Rosanne Broderson and Emily Lou Noyes were on the Pan-Hellenic Council the first semester. Donah Jarvill took Rosanne's place the second semester.

Mrs. M. E. Whiteside, Mrs. Phil Jarnagin, and Mrs. W. D. Hussey are patronesses for the group. Dr. Alice McKeehan is the faculty sponsor. Before they left, Mrs. Harlan Riebe and Mrs. Russell Leedy were co-sponsors.

ENTRE NOUS

For the fifteenth year Entre Nous was one of the largest and, they claim, one of the liveliest social groups on the campus.

Entre Nous girls feel that among their best times of the year were the date party held in the Art rooms one November evening, the Christmas party, the buffet supper, the etiquette discussions, the Entre Nous sponsored college dance; and (pin a rose on the members who displayed hidden talents) especially their winning the prize at Stunt Night for presenting "them yokels o' the hills" who certainly took the cake, or rather the pie.

WOMEN'S GOVERNING BOARD

First Row: LoRaine Devereux, Mrs. La Foy, Edna Thomas
Back Row: Edith Osborne, Rosemary Whitcanack

The Women's Governing Board, which consists of a representative from each of the social clubs and one student from the freshman class at large, was organized in 1942 by Mrs. Phoebe LaFoy, Dean of Women.

The function of the W.G.B. is to assist the Dean of Women with social and disciplinary problems concerning all college girls. Fortunately there have been so few problems this year that it has not been necessary for the group to be very active.

W.G.B. was responsible for the "Lighthouse" skit on Stunt Night.

F. T. A.

B. V. students who belong to the Future Teachers of America are a part of a national organization which has among its purposes interesting young men and women in educational careers, encouraging the careful selection of teachers with emphasis on character and scholarship, giving future teachers the experience of working together, helping students to become acquainted with the history, ethics, and progress of the organized teaching profession, and the endeavoring to set up higher standards of preparation in order to bring supply and demand in the profession into a reasonable balance.

Miss Opal Roark is the faculty sponsor for the Buena Vista Chapter.

MUSIC

The music department has just completed its second year of reorganization. Two new faculty members have been added to care for the increased enrollment. Professor Dean Howard took over instrumental instruction and the band, while Professor Richard Johnston directed the choir and gave voice lessons.

Varied activities from student recitals to band concerts and choir tours have given the music students ample opportunity to display their talents and, more important, to entertain the students and the public.

Music isn't always serious. The German Band has provided lots of fun on various occasions. The members are: Melvin Cleveland, Prof. Richard Johnston, Keith Miller, John DeVolder, Prof. Dean Howard.

BAND

Second row: J. Anderson, R. Drennen, M. Thomas, D. Vetter, R. Johnston, W. Roepke, J. Toay, C. McClintock, J. Rice.

Third row: D. Stille, P. Read, J. Nickelson, G. LeWarne, L. Wehmeyer, H. Huffman, C. Cooper, L. Martz, R. Whitcanack, R. Thompson, K. Miller.
Drum majorettes: P. DeMers, J. Gustafson, P. Stafford.

The past school year saw the reorganization of the college band under Professor Dean Howard. A pep band which appeared at home athletic contests did a great deal towards the fostering of an increased support of our teams. On February 19 the band presented a concert at Storm Lake High School. In spite of below zero temperatures, a large and enthusiastic audience applauded not only the first appearance of the band in uniform, but also its brilliant performance of a widely varied program which included: "Three Chorals" by Bach, "Pavanne" by Morton Gould, "In a Monastery Garden" by Ketelby, "Andalicia" by Ernesto Lecuona, Director Howard's arrangement of "Night and Day" by Cole Porter, an "Overture" by Director Howard, and several invigorating marches.

Third row: N. Swanson, R. Dreosch, B. Fifield, B. Redman, R. Baker, J. Skaar, D. Madsen, E. Peters, R. Drennen, J. Hawbecker, K. Hebron, C. Cooper, M. Van Voorhis, M. Flieg, V. Horn, C. McClintock.

Back row: M. Cleveland, M. Yager, B. Michael, E. Stokes, H. Stille, T. Van Bruggen, G. Le Warne, B. Woody, B. MacDowell, L. Wehmeyer, D. Veerhusen, B. Jacobsen, H. Huffman, G. Bezoni, F. Congdon, K. Miller, J. DeVolder, R. Donaldson.

CHOIR

The a capella choir of more than 80 voices was the largest in the history of Buena Vista College. Its first public concert, other than at chapel, was presented at Lakeside Presbyterian Church on December 17. This religious concert showed the group's ability to create a dynamic effect through the perfect blending of voices, and the program provided a fitting beginning to the Christmas season.

The choir went on an extended tour of approximately a thousand miles, presenting programs in neighboring Iowa communities and also in several out-of-state cities, including St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minnesota. This tour covered a greater territory than any previous trip undertaken by the choir and helped to spread the fame of Buena Vista.

B. V. SINGERS

Buena Vista Singers were reorganized at the beginning of the first semester in order to include several new members. Since it is a more wieldy group than its big brother, the choir, the B. V. Singers are much in demand for programs in and around Storm Lake. One of their most interesting experiences was to appear before the Fonda Woman's Club on March 5.

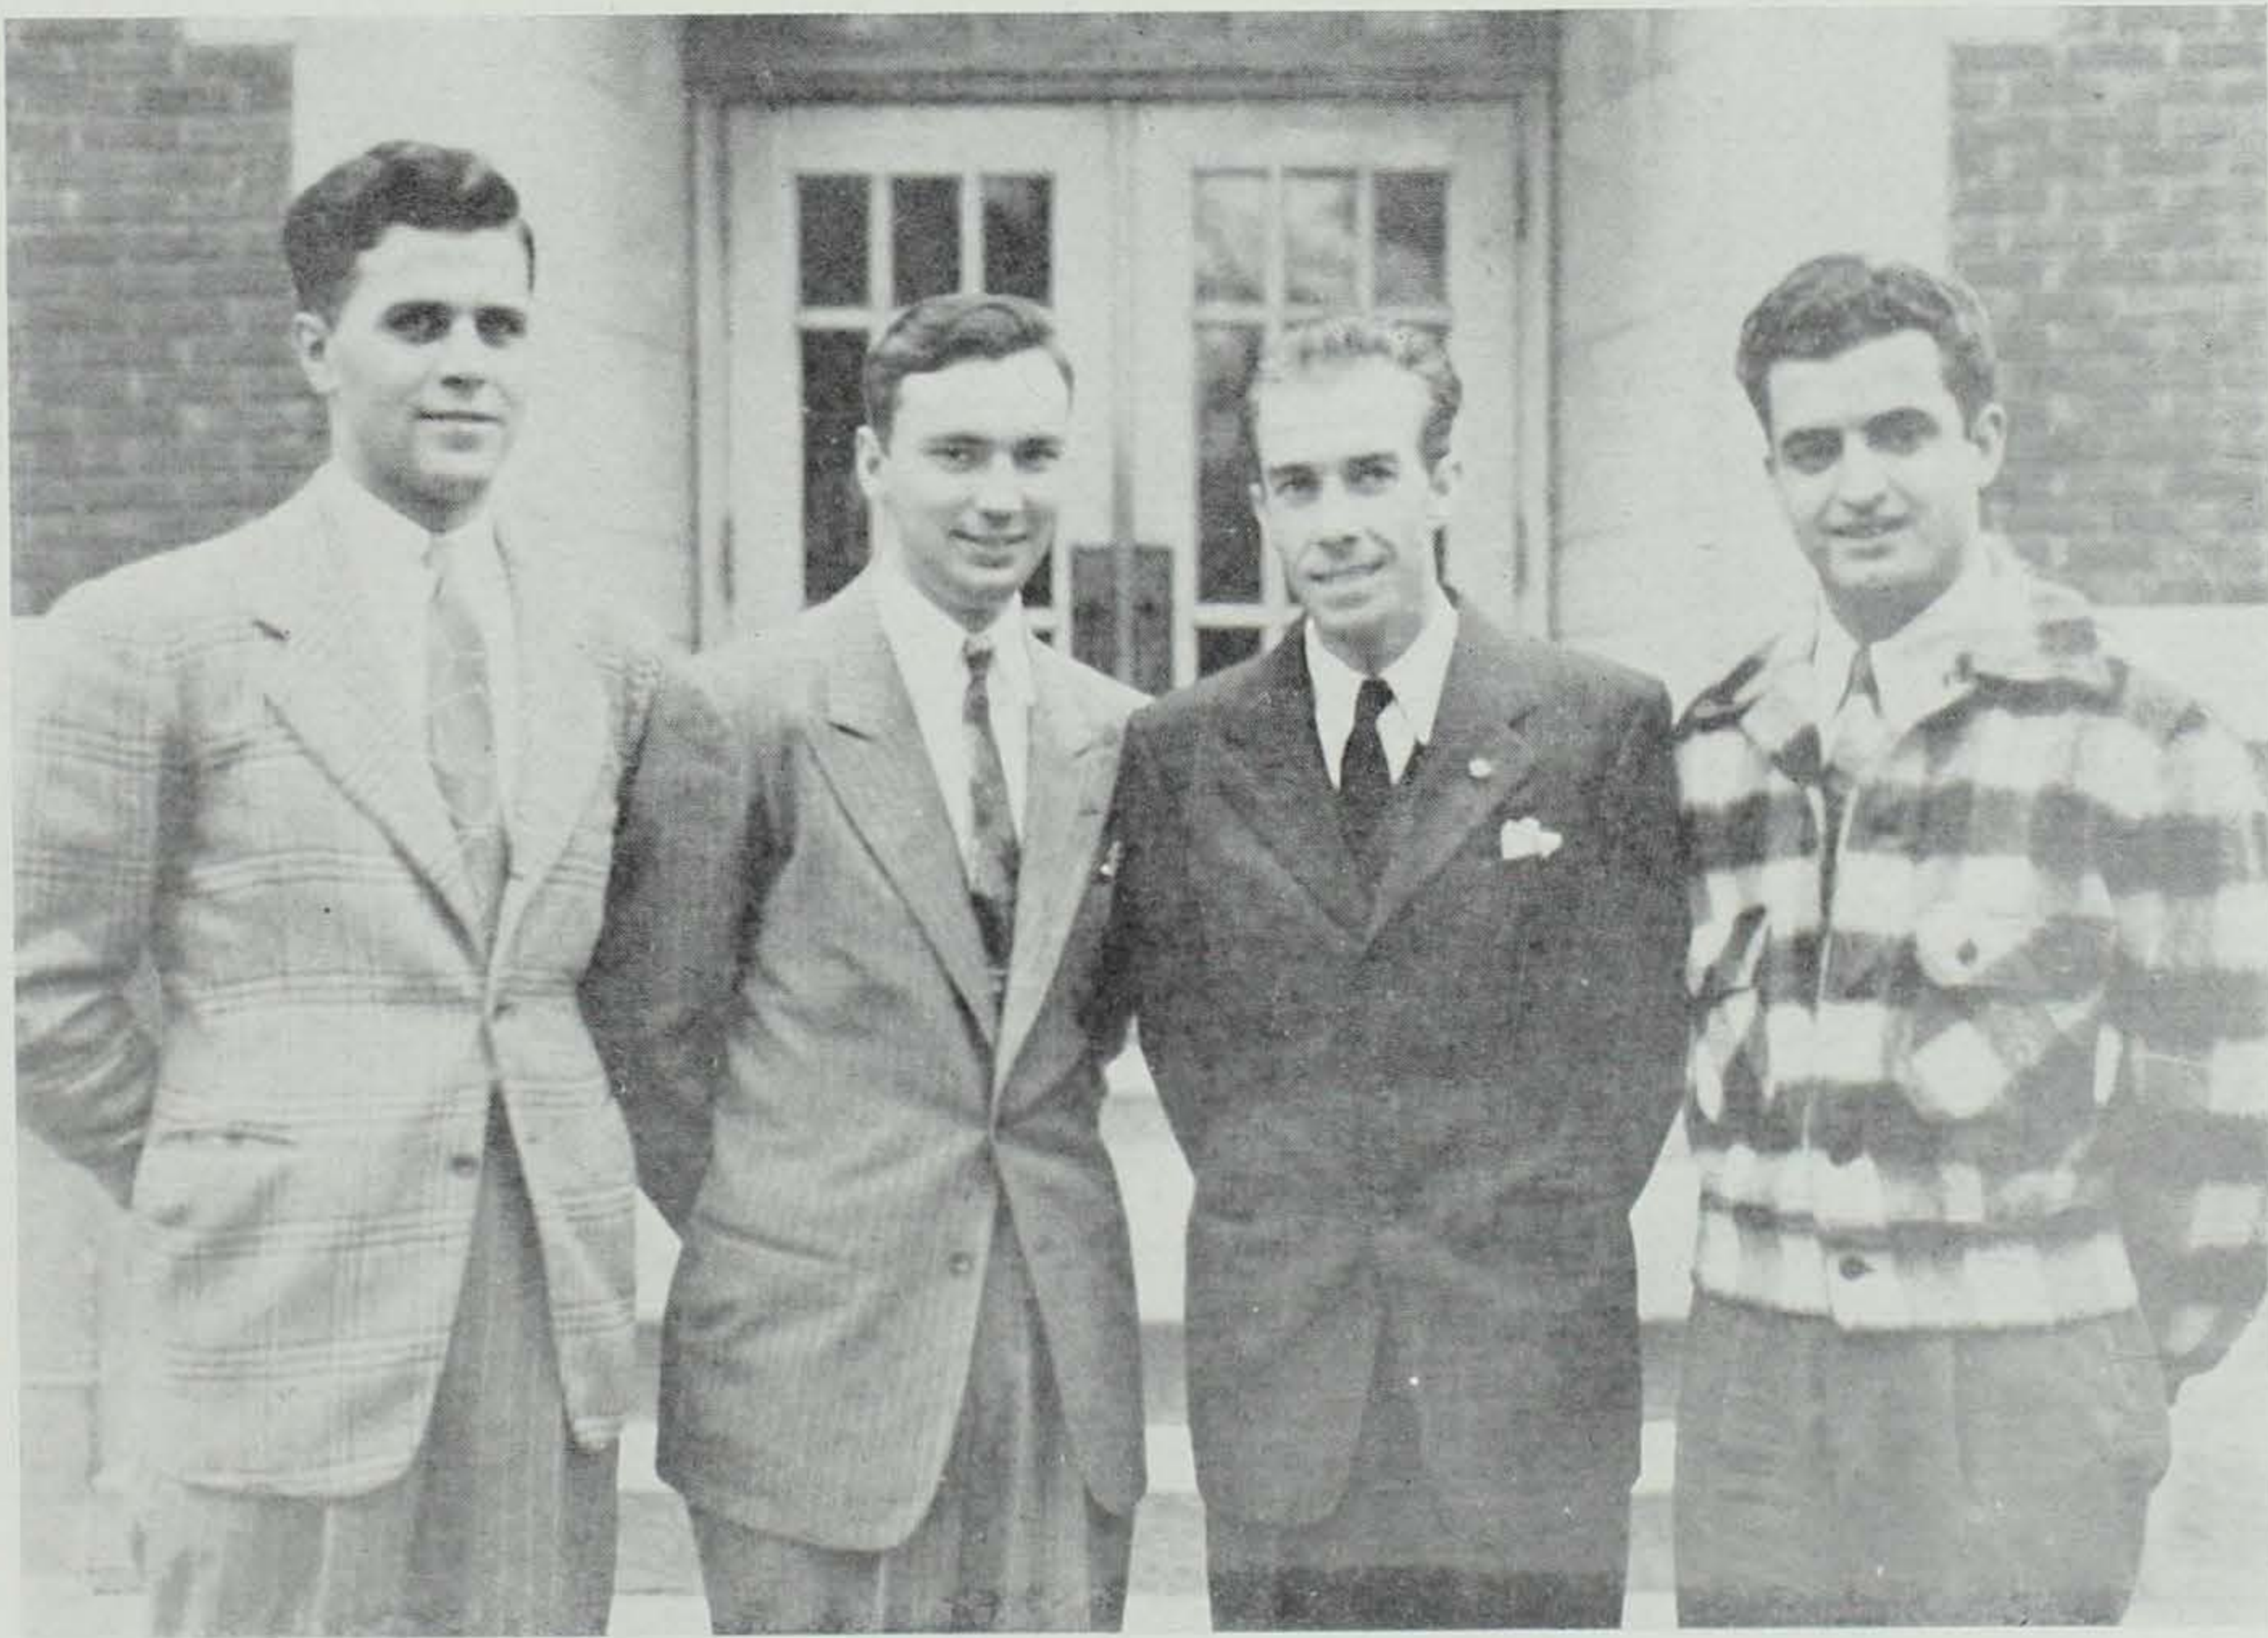

The group is under the direction of Professor Ruth Lawrence.

First row: Doris Barnes, Lois Vogel, Miss Ruth Lawrence, Director, Betty Spindler, Jeanette Gustafson, Marilyn Moore.

MEN'S QUARTET

The Men's Quartet, under the leadership of Professor Ruth Lawrence, is always ready to sing at the drop of a hat or without it. Real harmony ranging from the classical to the barbershop variety issues forth when these four open up. Their public appearances included, among others, a P.T.A. program in Nemaha, the Storm Lake Rotary Club, and Stunt Night, although it has been facetiously suggested that the less said about Stunt Night, the better.

Henry Gorman, Jim Skaar, Marvin Rees, Morgan Thomas

BOYS' ENSEMBLE

Harold Stille, Bill Michael, Russell Dreosch, Bill Fifield, Robert MacDowel, Robert Woody, Theodore Van Bruggen, Russell Donaldson, Robert Drennen.

Ed Stokes and Conrad Cooper were not present when the picture was taken.

The versatility of the Boys' Vocal Ensemble is proved by the range of its performances, which included providing between-half entertainment at basketball games to singing in the homes of invalids. They also sang before high school and church groups in such towns as Spencer, Carroll, Jefferson, Algona, Des Moines, and many others.

PHI DELTA CHI

Back row: Russell Donaldson, Darold Veerhusen, Marvin Rees, Norman Hoft.

That locked room on the third floor of Old Main—locked unless the choir is using it—is the home of Phi Delta Chi, that up-and-coming music fraternity which hopes soon to become a member of a national organization. This group, in the first weeks of its existence, took first prize in the homecoming parade.

Ping-pong and other recreational activities in the club room help to foster a spirit of fellowship among these men who are also banded together by their common love of music.

Row 2: John DeVolder, Russel Donaldson, Robert Drennan, Don Madsen

"Something new on the campus", in the language of Professor Ruth Lawrence, sponsor, is the Buena Vista Student Members' Chapter of the M.E.N.C., or Music Educators' National Conference. This organization is affiliated with the N.E.A. and is composed of students who expect to make a career of teaching music. After graduation members will be eligible for membership in the teachers' chapters of the conference.

There are seven chapters of this organization in Iowa. Morgan Thomas is president of the local group, John DeVolder is vice-president, and Henry Gorman is secretary-treasurer.

Row 2: Norbert Sauter, Roland LaRue, Hugh Farquarhson, James Bucklin, Henry Strasburg, Frank Miller, Lyle Foster, Lloyd Nelson.

A large number of new students entered Buena Vista at the beginning of the second semester. A few of them are pictured here. All of them soon absorbed the spirit of the school, and they weren't "new" very long.

An organization which actively promotes Christian service and fellowship on the campus is the Student Christian Fellowship, whose two-fold purpose is carried out through special programs, discussion groups, Gospel Team work, Bible study and prayer meetings, and wholesome recreation. Among its activities were the planning and direction of Consecration week, special chapel programs for Christmas, Easter, and Mother's Day, and the Dads' Day banquet. The Rev. Wm. B. Grobe, Dean of the Chapel, is the adviser.

CONSECRATION WEEK

One of the finest features of a church-related college is the provision for the development of the spiritual life of the college family. In Consecration Week students, faculty, administration and community united in placing first things first. The program for the entire week was arranged by the Student Christian Fellowship which secured as the speaker Reverend Louis Berks of Minneapolis.

LAKE SIDE CHURCH

Although all of the churches of Storm Lake and the surrounding towns make Buena Vista students feel welcome, Lakeside Presbyterian Church, as the most closely related to the college, is the church home of a large number of students and faculty members. Somewhere within the many organizations of the church there is a religious and social group for everyone.

Dr. Clarence C. Richardson, who is on the executive board of the college, is pastor at Lakeside.

CUSTODIANS

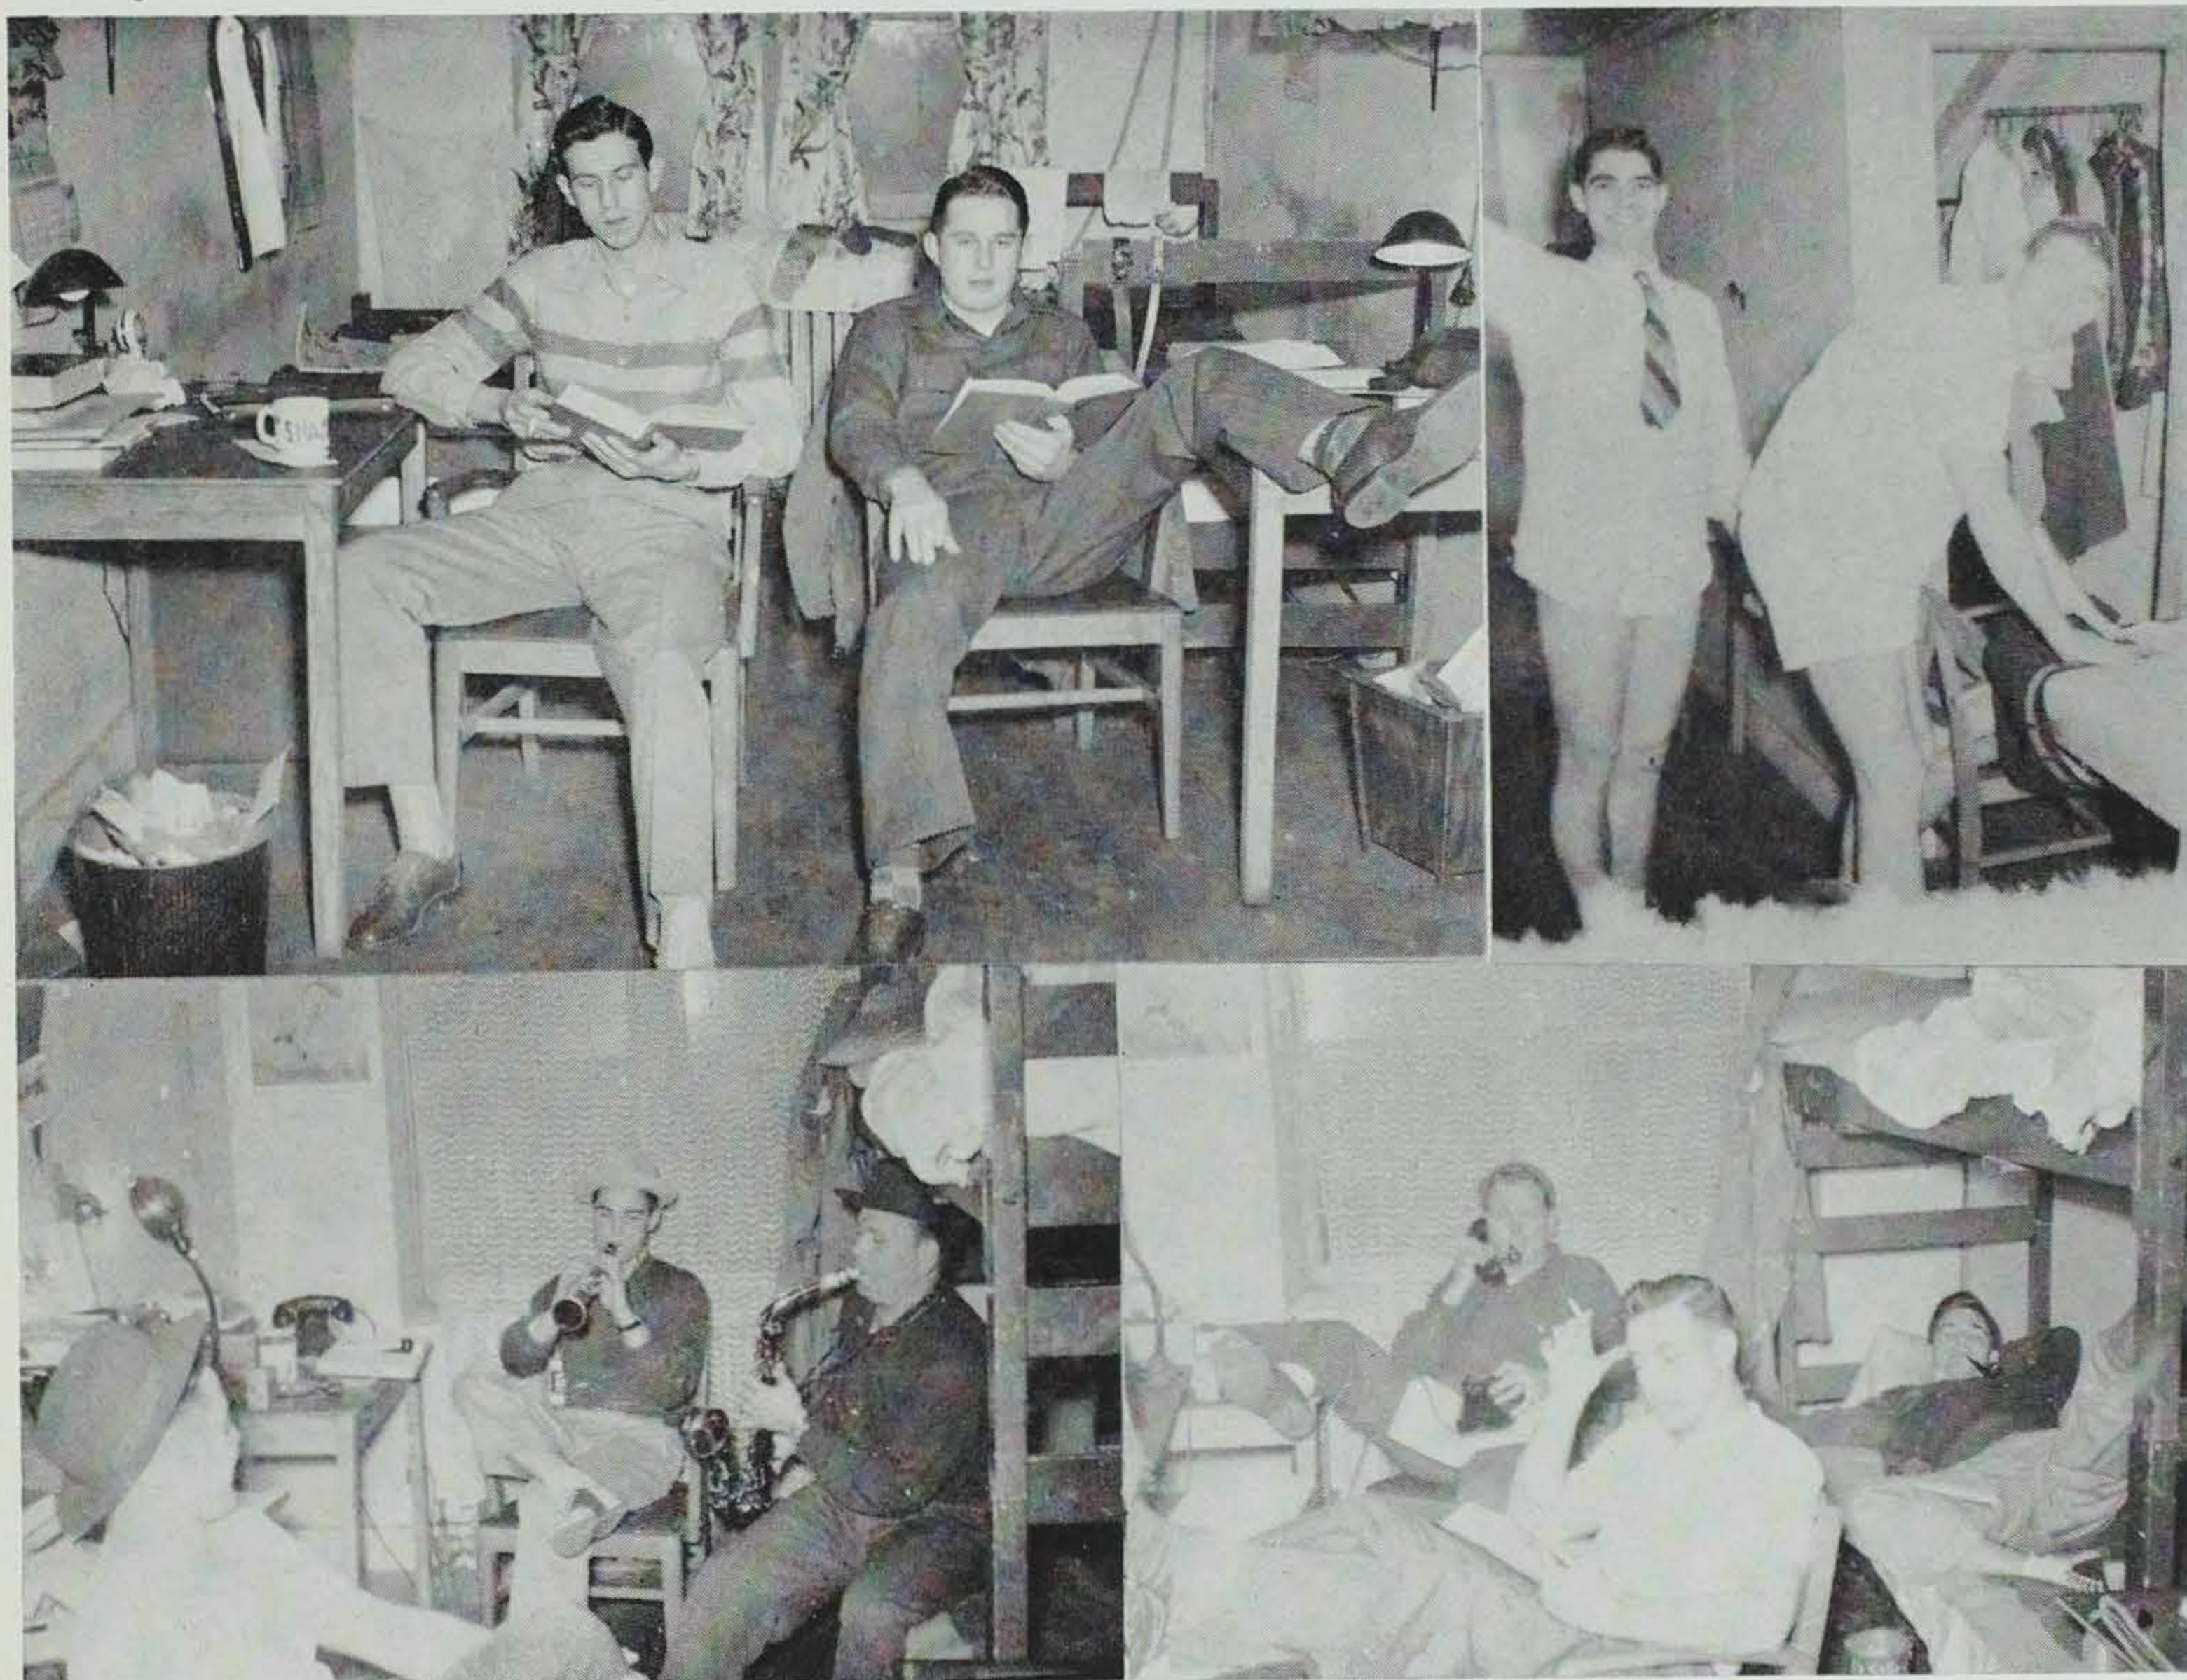

Jay Fell and John Lawler

John and Jay guarded the comfort of all the students and faculty members during the entire first semester. Everything from lugging mattresses to the dorm to repairing leaking roofs came under their care. Of course, Ralph Olson and "Mack" Mahahhey insist that the two "J's" couldn't have gotten along without them, but that matter is open for discussion.

At the beginning of the second semester John left us, and Joe Zaugg took over his duties. At the same time Marcellus Wenimont was added to the force.

All four, John, Jay, Joe, and "Hey You" are valued members of our big, happy family, and they are among the most ardent rooters at all our activities.

DORM LIFE

Life for forty-four fortunate fellows who live in the dorm at Victory Hall is just one merry day after another.

After they have clambered up past the rafters of the gym (stairways are provided, although the boys say they aren't necessary), the lucky lads are at home in comfortable, spacious rooms which provide a place for sleep, study, and above all, companionship.

This year our dorm family included, in addition to residents of Iowa, representatives of nine states: New York, New Jersey, Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and California. This country-wide span brings together boys of varying ideals and backgrounds, but they play and work together like the life-long friends they will probably be.

The eleven rooms have large dormer windows, two spacious closets, double bunk beds, dressers, and study tables. Beyond this basic equipment, the boys' individuality takes sway, and the furnishings are as different as the occupants. "Go up and see them sometime."

As an afterthought, we add that the fellows claim the glimpses they get of the girls' gym classes and of the basketball practices are worth the price of the room rent.

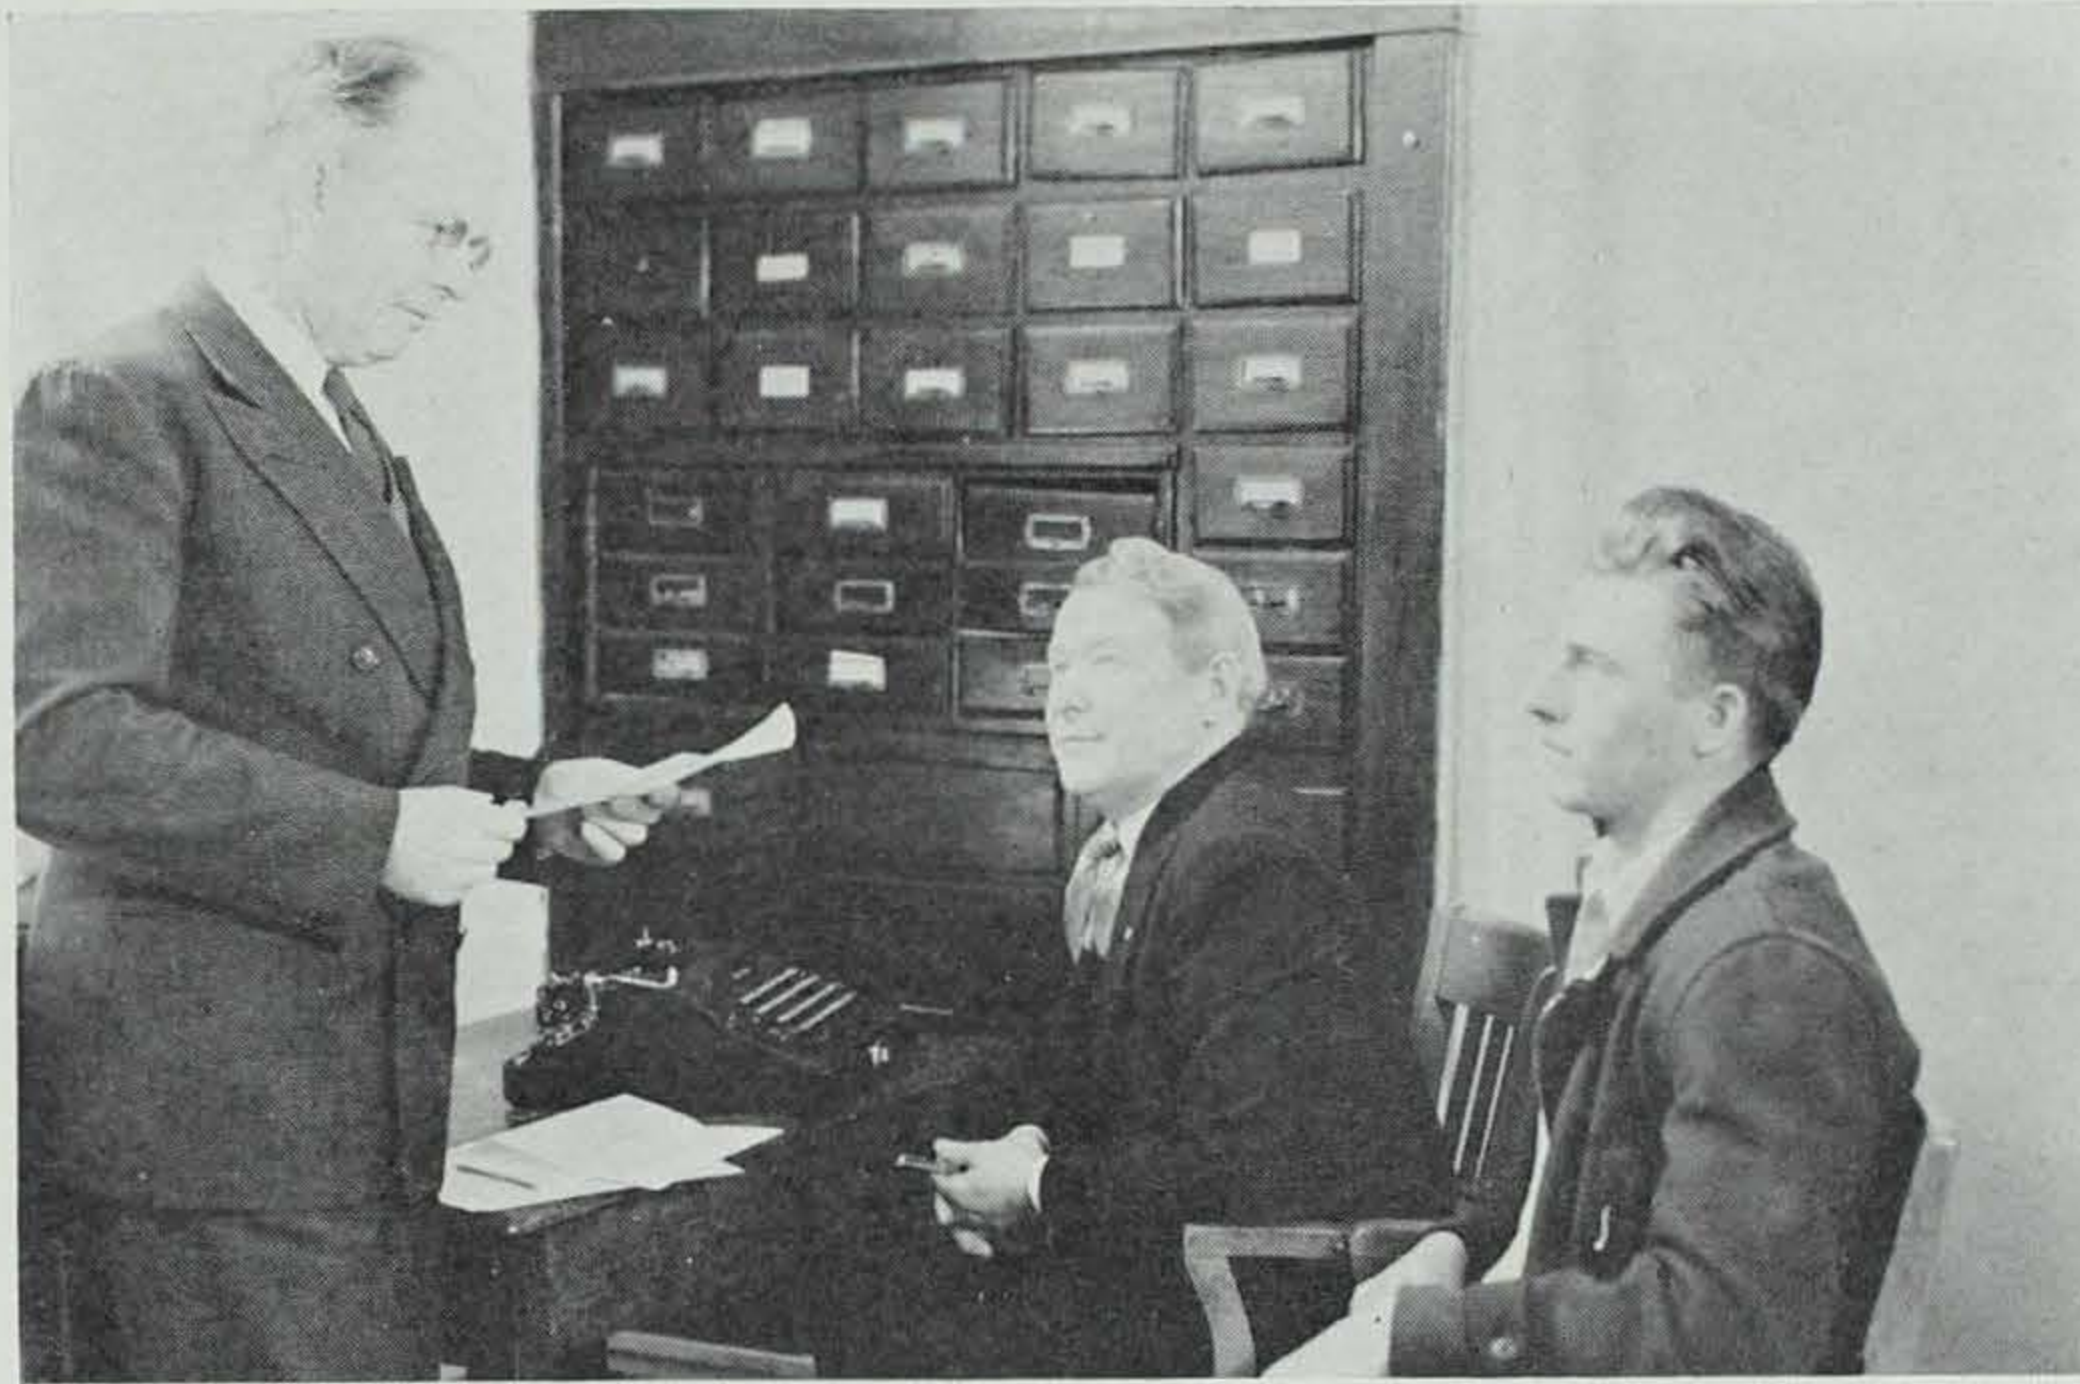

BEAVER HALL

Whether it is for a nourishing lunch or a refreshing coke, a session with "the fellows" or a sorority dance, Beaver Hall in the basement of Old Main forms the social center of B. V. Tiny's genial smile and his wife Arla's efficiency contribute to the cheery atmosphere furnished by the gay red and white tables and chairs. Though the cafeteria is operated primarily for serving meals to students three times a day, it is open also for snacks, cokes, or ice cream at any time between 6:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. and remains open at a later hour if a club wishes to meet there or a social group plans a dance. "Come and join me, pal, for a coke or a game of cards" is the familiar greeting day after day. Occasionally an alert observer even hears plans for "studying", accompanied by coffee and cigarettes.

The Shakespeare class claims the distinction of being the only one to use Beaver Hall in a body, since this group nightly adjourns to the "coffee house" for recess.

V. A.

Mr. A. G. Sieverson, Mr. C. B. Keith, Marvin Amendt (G.I.)

Although the "V.A." is no longer the continuously functioning and somewhat formidable, though friendly, organization it was in the days when "Bill" Wesselink, Paul Shafer, and Dean Raaz held forth in the gym for daily conferences, both voluntary and "by request"; the G.I.'s on the campus still have to check in occasionally to be sure they are not deviating too far from the regulations set up by our Uncle Sam.

At the present time all of the P.L. 16's and 346's, which means all the veterans enrolled in the college, are supervised by Mr. A. G. Sieverson, who is the Training Officer for this district and is always available for consultation.

For a while Mr. W. A. Keith was contact officer for this territory and spent every Monday morning answering any and all questions for veteran students.

VET'S

Joe Sins, treasurer; Cletus O'Rourke, secretary; Vic Christensen, president; John Cook, vice president

The Vet's Club, which has the largest membership of any of the campus organizations, has as its purposes the fostering of fellowship among veterans, the protection of their interests, and the providing of social affairs for their benefit.

The year got off to a lively start with two dances, one at Jes-Mil and the other an all-college "hobo" dance at the Cobblestone.

Since these dances the club has not been as active as in former years, but its presence and potentiality are still strongly felt.

VISTA

"By the shores of Gitchie Gumee (Storm Lake to you) stand the wigwams of the veterans — B.V. students are the veterans." (Excuse us, Mr. Longfellow, but we do love our American literature.) Anyhow, down on the lake shore are thirty-five units for married veteran students. At the moment the total population is eighty-four persons, but the vital statistics are subject to sudden change.

Life in the Courts is just one interesting event after the other. Lessons frequently interfere with the social activities, but nothing will ever interfere with the memories of the fun of working and playing together here.

The Holmes, Virgil, Joyce and Jimmy, make up one of the best-known families in the Courts for Virgil is B. V.'s teachaphone student as well as the special service officer of the Disabled American Veterans. The glimpse of the Holmes apartment shows a typical court interior.

COURT

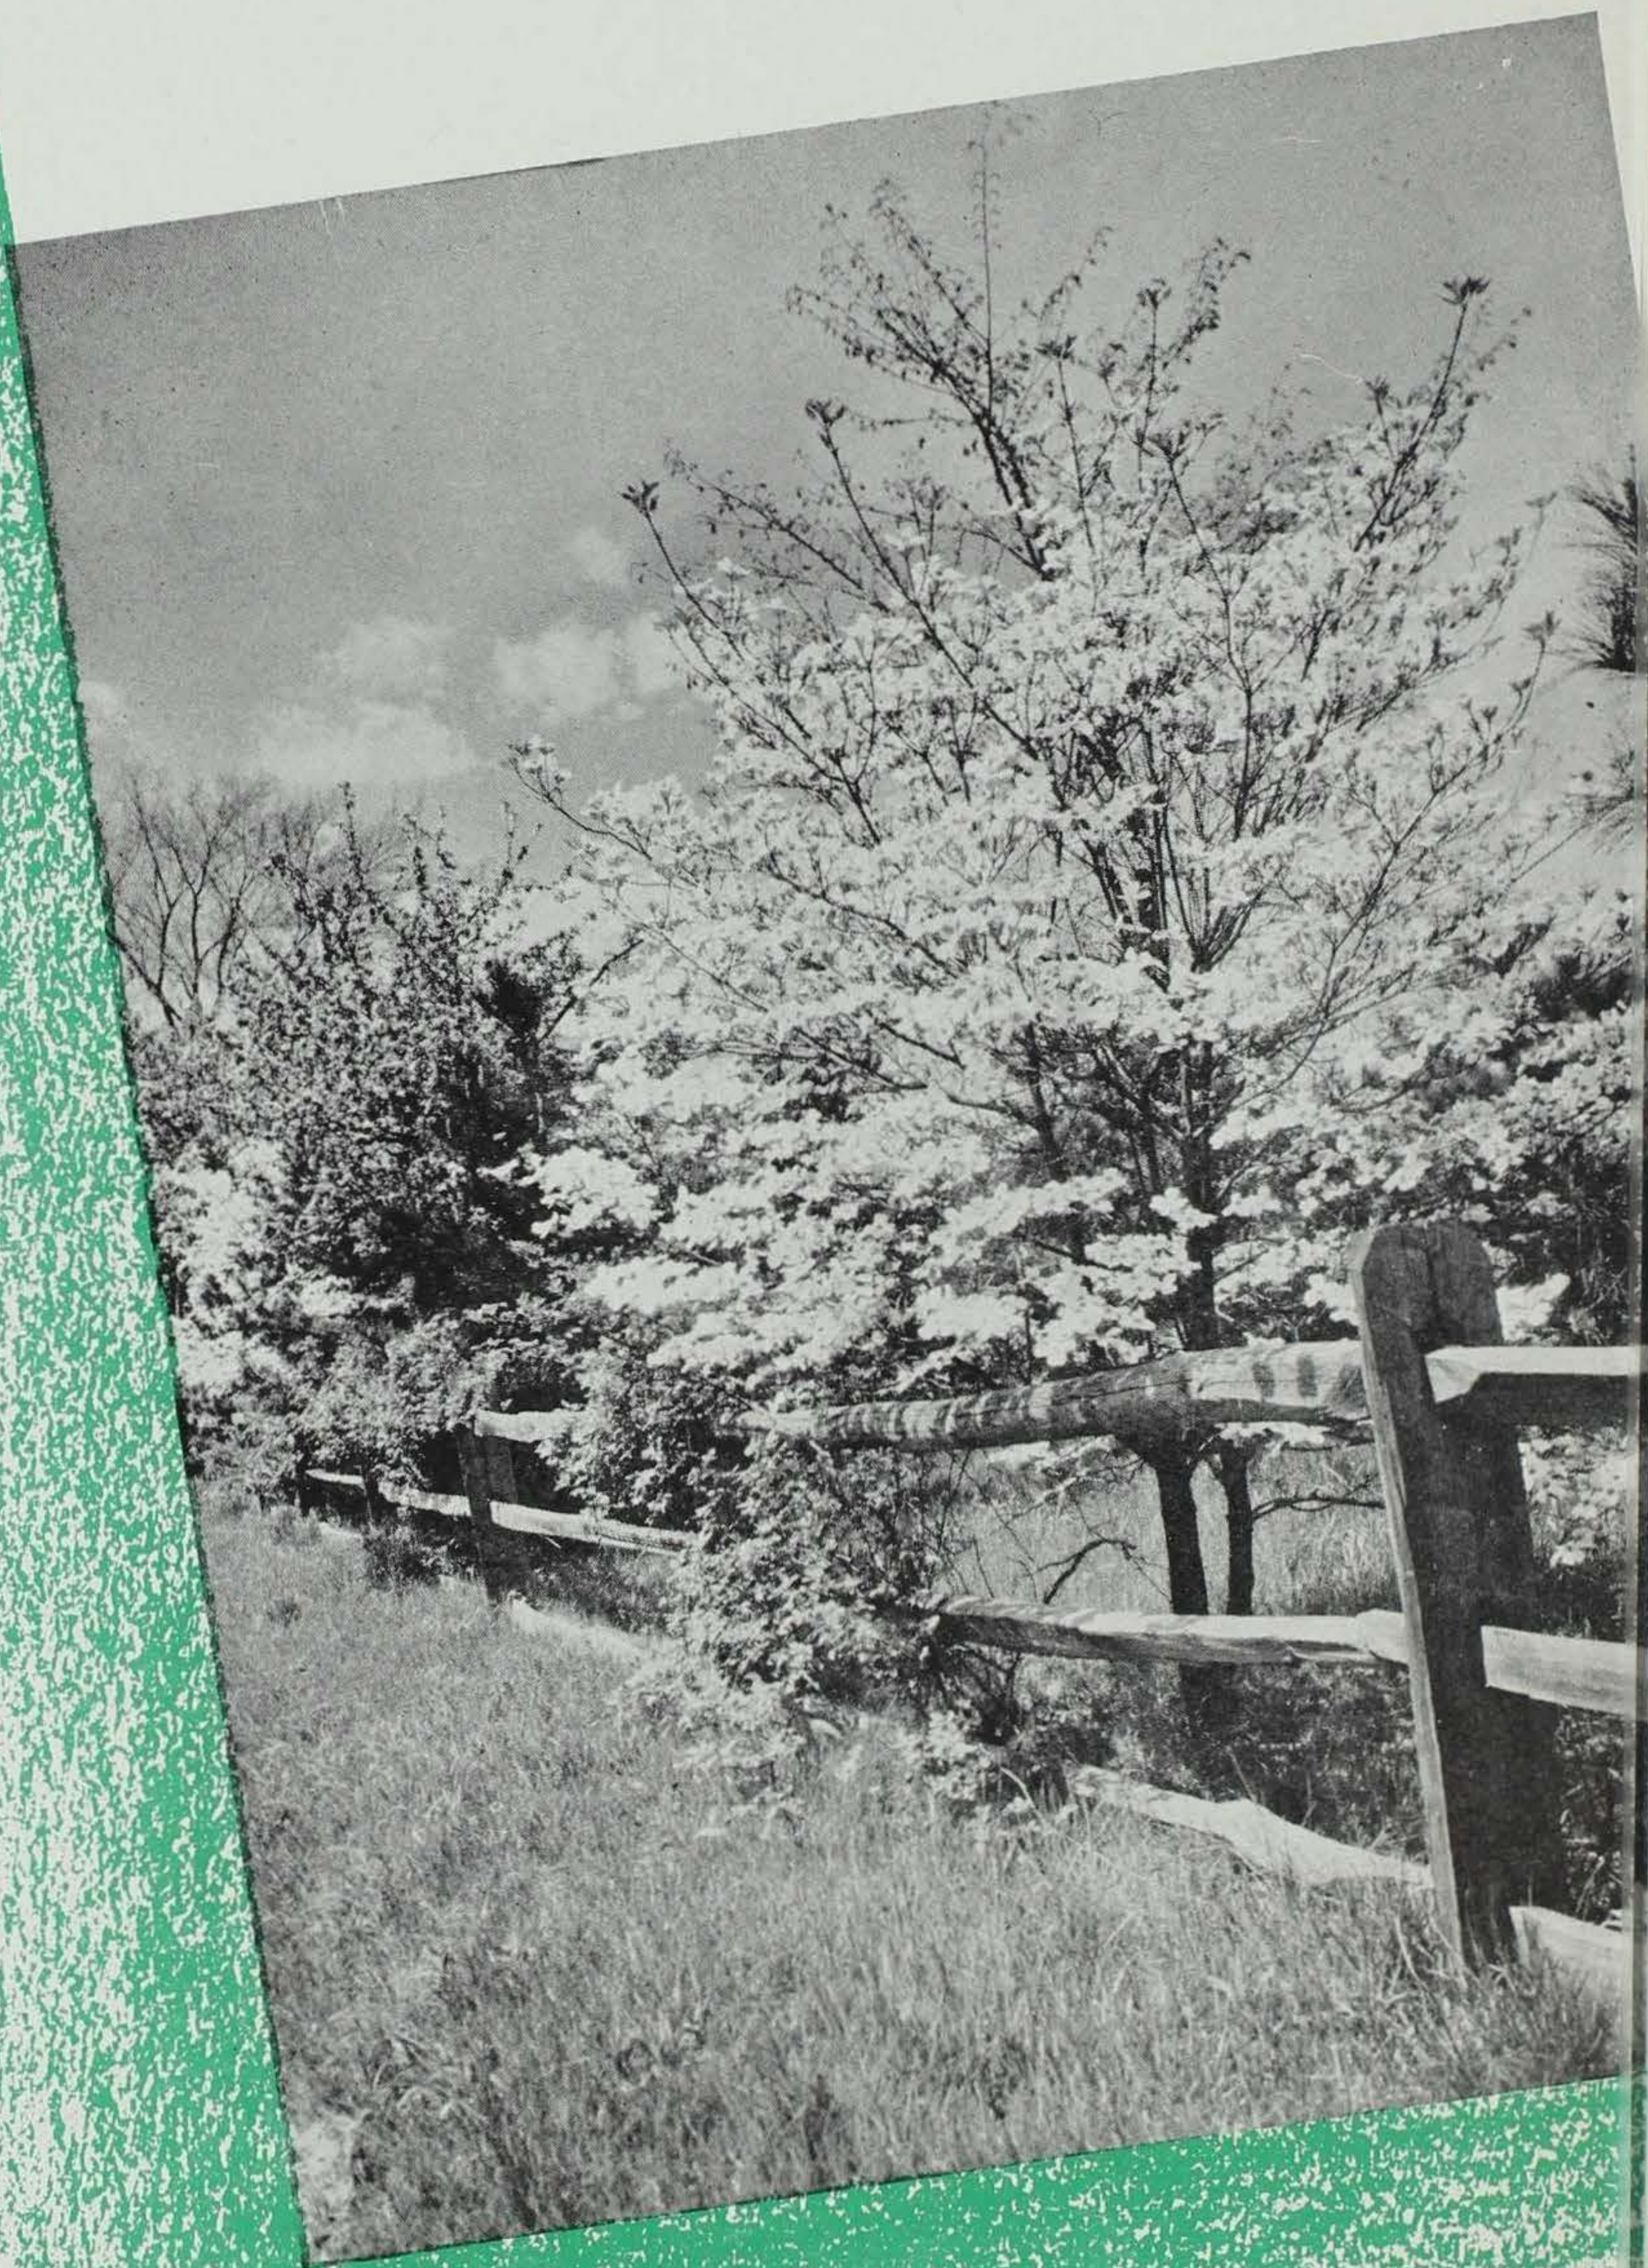

Vista Court inhabitants say, "Let it snow, let it snow, let it snow." They can't help themselves anyhow. Besides, the snow covers a multitude of deficiencies in the yard work, which the veterans claim suffers only because of their intense application to their studies.

However, whether it be in the snows of winter or the heat of summer, the Courts are a mighty nice place to live. In the warm weather the cooling breezes from the lake make the units the most comfortable places in town, and in the winter, when the breezes aren't quite so welcome, the "courtsters" (Attention, Mr. Webster, that word is copyrighted) have the advantage of an unobstructed view of unparalleled sunsets.

This is little Sharon Bozarth, one of the many cunning court kiddies. It's too bad we couldn't have snaps of all of them, but our limited space meant "first come first printed." Besides, we couldn't have kept up with the new arrivals.

Spring

SPRING

When it is so warm on Monday that students loaf around without coats and then wade through snow on Tuesday, slog through mud on Wednesday, get soaked by rain on Thursday, and shiver in a gusty wind on Friday, spring has come to Buena Vista. Just as the entire faculty gets ready to join the students and emigrate to more temperate climes, the south wind gets to work some night and the next morning the trees unfurl their first tender green leaves, the crocuses pop up, the balmy breezes blow, and spring fever arrives in full force.

This is the season when the crunch of spikes and the thud of bat on ball herald the reign of new sport activities, when organizations begin winding up their year's work and planning their spring formals, when seniors and two-year normal students begin to think about diplomas, when the last plays and concerts take place, when the beauty contest closes, and, above all, when the annual staff settles down to the serious business of trying to get the LOG out on time.

Way back in October Tom Lykins, editor, and "Dunc" Olson, business manager, started lining things up for the 1948 LOG. After Prof. "Where are your teeth" Buntrock had shot here, there and everywhere. Prof. "Where are your write-ups" McKeehan took over the supervision of the undertaking and the LOG got underway. It bobbled around at times, but everyone worked hard, and, if you're reading this, all those snaps, identifications and articles finally were assembled in a reasonable facsimile of order and were duly printed.

Back in 1895, an enterprising student of B.V. was selected to edit the college newspaper. He called a staff together to choose a name for the publication. After the purpose of the meeting was announced, the group sat in deep thought. All of a sudden, the young editor leaped from his chair screaming, "I've got it! I've got it!!"

And he did have it. He extracted a tack from that portion of his body some prankster had meant it to intersect. The staff was convinced, the paper was named The Tack and has been published under that name ever since.

Prof. Kermit Buntrock is the faculty advisor. This year's editor was Don Kearney; Ed Green was business manager and John DeVolder, copy editor.

B. V. PLAYERS

To belong to the B.V. Players you must be interested in acting or in the production of plays. The club was organized in 1923 to stimulate interest in campus dramatics. It has always achieved its purpose, and it has been particularly active this year. Nearly all the members of the casts of the various plays which have been presented this year are to be found in the club ranks, and its members are responsible for the coaching and production of the one-act plays.

THE STATE OF THE UNION

In January the dramatics department and the B.V. Players presented a three act drama, "The State of the Union." The play, winner of the Pulitzer Prize in 1946, is a satire on current Washington problems. The cast, headed by Donald Madsen, Marjorie Murphy, Pat Demers, Conrad Cooper and Don Bock, presented a frank depiction of the condition in our governmental machinery. Angles of the political campaign were brought in by Jack Henneberry representing big business, Helen Gaherty, expert on the foreign vote, and Jay Hamiel—labor's "Coca-Cola boy." George Pappadackis as a Southern judge together with his wife, portrayed by La Vonne Gutel, added comedy relief as the typical hen-pecked husband and heavy-drinking wife combination.

As the play proceeded, it became more effective, for it seemed to awaken the audience from its "lethargic state" into a condition of thought on the American political situation.

In the spring, too late for a report on its undoubted success, a second three act play was presented. At press time the tentative choice was "I Remember Mama," but the selection was subject to change. THE LOG staff all agree, however, that it is safe for the yearbook to state, "It was well done."

PRODUCTIONS

During the course of the year the dramatic groups presented six one act plays, two in the fall and four, all of which were taken "on the road," in the spring.

The first of the fall plays was Lima Beans, a fantasy coached by Marjorie Murphy and including in the cast Ed Stokes, LaVonne Gutel, and Russell Dreosch. The second play was a serious drama, Corn Husk Doll, a scene of which is pictured below. This was coached by Wesley Larsen and Darold Veerhusen.

The plays which took to the road and played in many of the surrounding communities were presented under the auspices of the B.V. Players, but were open to all the students.

The plays and players were:

A Minor Miracle, a fantasy, which was directed by Wesley Larsen and Darold Veerhusen. The cast included: Howard Vorland, H. D. Stenseth, George Pappadackis, Earl Linden.

Carrie of the Carnival, a farce melodrama, which was directed by Conrad Cooper and Dorothy Lathrop. The cast included: Dean Stille, Jay Hamiel, Russell Dreosch, Norma Du Bois, Charlotte Straight, Bill Stratton, Betty Spindler, Lloyd Nelson, Stanley Johnson.

High Window, a suspense play, which was directed by Don Bock. The cast included: Helen Gaherty, Ed Stokes, Rosemary Whitcanack, Sally Irvine, Raymon Volkert

For the Love of Allab, a folk farce, which was directed by Don Madsen. The cast included: Bob Jacobsen, Jack Henneberry, Gene Byrne, Rose Mortensen, Helen Anderson, Bulah Gutel.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Alpha Psi Omega is a national honorary dramatic fraternity, members of which are students who have attained distinction in campus dramatics.

Qualifications for individual membership include satisfactory scholarship and one of the following: a major role in one full-length play; two major roles in one-act plays; authorship of a play; efficient work as business director or stage manager; directing two long plays; staff work such as carpentering, property man, electricity, art, costuming, or minor speaking parts in four full-length plays or five one-act plays. Honorary and faculty membership may be conferred only after securing permissions of the Grand Cast.

The local chapter is known as the Chi Cast.

SIGMA TAU DELTA

Front row: John DeVolder, George Lehigh, Laverne Shannon, LoRaine Devereux, Lola Lahr, Theodore Van Bruggen

Back row: Prof. Kuehl, Prof. McKeehan, Joe Sins, Prof. Klose, Mrs. Klose

Three of the most active members, "Mack" Mahaffey, Mrs. Maxine Steig, and Frank "Don" Smith, were unable to be present when the picture was taken.

Sigma Tau Delta is a national honorary English fraternity. Active membership in the Nu Delta chapter is limited to upper-classmen especially interested in English and ranking high scholastically.

New members were initiated at a banquet held in Hotel Bradford in November, at which time Lilith Lorraine, poet, publisher, and Founder-Director of Avalon World Arts Academy, was guest speaker. Initiation included writing a poem, humorous or serious, to the cornucopia centerpiece. Ted Van Bruggen outshone all others and won the laurels.

Every year Nu Delta chapter sponsors a creative writing contest for the student body. Winning selections, combined with contributions from chapter members, are printed each year in the Nu Delta Magazine. Members also contribute selections to the national S.T.D. magazine, "The Rectangle."

Sigma Tau Delta sponsors the College Stunt Night, held the second semester each year. All organizations on the campus and the faculty, as well as individual students, are invited to present "stunts," for the evening of fun which is one of the highlights of the school year.

S.T.D. stands for sincerity, truth and design; and these are emphasized in all of the organization's undertakings.

Officers for the present year are LoRaine Devereux, president; Professor Klose, secretary-treasurer, and Dr. McKeehan, sponsor for the chapter.

STUNT NIGHT

This year's stunt night went from the sublime to the ridiculous—and it was all good, from Conard Cooper's beautiful "Mother Machree" to the completely wacky Faculty Follies.

First prize for individual performers went to Morgan Thomas, who really went places on his trumpet, and second place to Conrad Cooper. The first prize for groups was copped by Entre Nous for their skit " 'Tsall right with me" and second place was awarded to the Beta's for their thoughtfulness in presenting a book of autographs to Virgil Holmes.

The faculty men and women revised their roles, the men appearing as chorus girls while the women dressed in a variety of men's clothes. Their program included instrumental "solos" and vocal numbers by the "men," numbers by the "girls'" trio, and a finale, which included the whole group in a hilarious "Can-Tan."

The program consisted of:

Russell Donaldson—"I Believe"
B. V. Players—If Men Played Cards as Women Do
Student Christian Association—King of Arcadia
Future Teachers—And the Lamp Went Out
Phi Alph—Band Aids
Beta—Real Beaver
Entre Nous—"Tsall Right with Me"
Male Quartet—"Juanita" and "Shortnin' Bread"
Chub Cooper (Conard)—"Mother Machree" and "Asleep in the Deep"
B. V. Singers—The Ode to Flat
Women's Governing Board—Light House
Howard Vorland—Drug Store B Weaver
Morgan Thomas—Trumpet Imitations
Phi Delta Chi—Bedlam
Faculty—Follies

Dr. Hirsch was absent when the picture was taken.

The International Relations Club is not a new organization on the campus but one revised since the war for the purpose of international thought, exchanging ideas and discussing these relationships in an open informal manner.

Under the guidance of Dr. Reynolds, the club has gained momentum and proves to be a worthy movement toward international thought. Aided by several of the faculty, the club members have presented panel programs on Germany, Palestine, India, British Commonwealth, China, and Russia.

Lyle Buscher is president and George Pappadackis, vice president. Other than the officers, the club has no definite membership; no dues are charged; and the panel presentations are by volunteers.

BASEBALL

Front row: Duane Zimmer, Vic Schultz, Oliver Vogt, Dean Teague, Dean Stille, Jimmy Waters
Second row: John Poulson, Joe Hermesen, Wally Hamann, Bill Michael, Allen Dawson, Tom South, Wayne Roepke, Everett Grapenthin, Jim Fanning, Roger Jorgenson
Third row: Jerry Lehr, Ralph Shriner, Gordon Le Warne, Glenn Oatman, Burton Toyne, Coach Blackman, John Cook, Bill Wolter, Leroy Hensley, John Nickelson, John Naughton

These baseball candidates strenuously objected to being termed a "motley array" and insisted that their diversity of uniform was completely in keeping with spring training everywhere. "In fact," John Poulson argued, "it's just like rookie training in Florida except ———."

The boys do own baseball shoes, but for some reason they aren't welcome on the gym floor.

Spring training and uniforms can do wonders though, and from this assortment came B. V.'s baseball team which, no doubt, worked wonders with the following schedule:

April
Thursday	22	Eagle Grove J. C.	There
Saturday	24	Omaha University	Here
Monday	26	South Dakota State	Here
Tuesday	27	Morningside	There
Wednesday	28	University of South Dakota	There
Friday	30	Omaha	There
May
Saturday	1	Creighton	There
Thursday	6	U. of South Dakota	Here
Friday	7	Western Union	Here
Thursday	13	Eagle Grove J. C.	Here
Friday	14	Western Union	There
Monday	24	South Dakota State	There

TRACK

First row: Herman Decker, Floyd Latta, John Sparapany, Floyd Ogle, Russell Davis, Bernie Saggau

Second row: Jim Egli, Gordon Fett, LaDon Sorenson, Bob Jacobson, Bob Eshbaugh, Vern Horn, Don Castle, Dwayne Stille, Coach Sandy

Before the track season actually started, the team blazed forth in the glory of new uniforms all their own. At the moment the picture was snapped, they were grateful that the basketball suits were available; otherwise they might have been in even more varied costumes than the baseball boys boasted.

The thinly-clads face a tough five or probably six meet schedule with confidence. The LOG staff suggests that its readers fill in scores for both track and baseball on these pages.

TRACK SCHEDULE

April 13—Triangular meet with Morningside and Omaha University—Sioux City
 April 17—State Teachers Relays—Cedar Falls
 April 23—Sioux City Relays or Drake Relays
 May 7—Dakota-Iowa Conference Meet—Yankton
 May 14 & 15—Iowa Conference Meet—Simpson

SPRING SPORT NOTES

Just before the Easter vacation Coach Blackman called a meeting of golf and tennis enthusiasts. Enough responded to insure a team in each sport, although the schedules could not be obtained by LOG press time.

Tennis aspirants are: Kevin Genter, Hugh Farquaharson, Gordon McKinstrey, Jack Bunnelle, Angus Johnston.

Those who expect to meet all-comers in golf are: Robert Hansen, Albert Allen, Jack Colwell, Jerry Lehr, Gene Bunnelle, Morgan Thomas.

Incidentally after Easter "Coach" Wesselink, acting for Coach Bob Otto, who will report at B.V. in June, issued a call for spring football. Approximately 35 players reported and went through a strenuous drill on the new plays which will be used next fall.

BEAUTY CONTEST

There they are, ladies and gentlemen, the 1947-48 beauty contest winners. THE LOG staff congratulates the winners, all eleven of them, and claims no responsibility for the decision other than that it selected the original committee which chose the candidates.

The final ranking was made by Columnist Billy Rose of New York City.

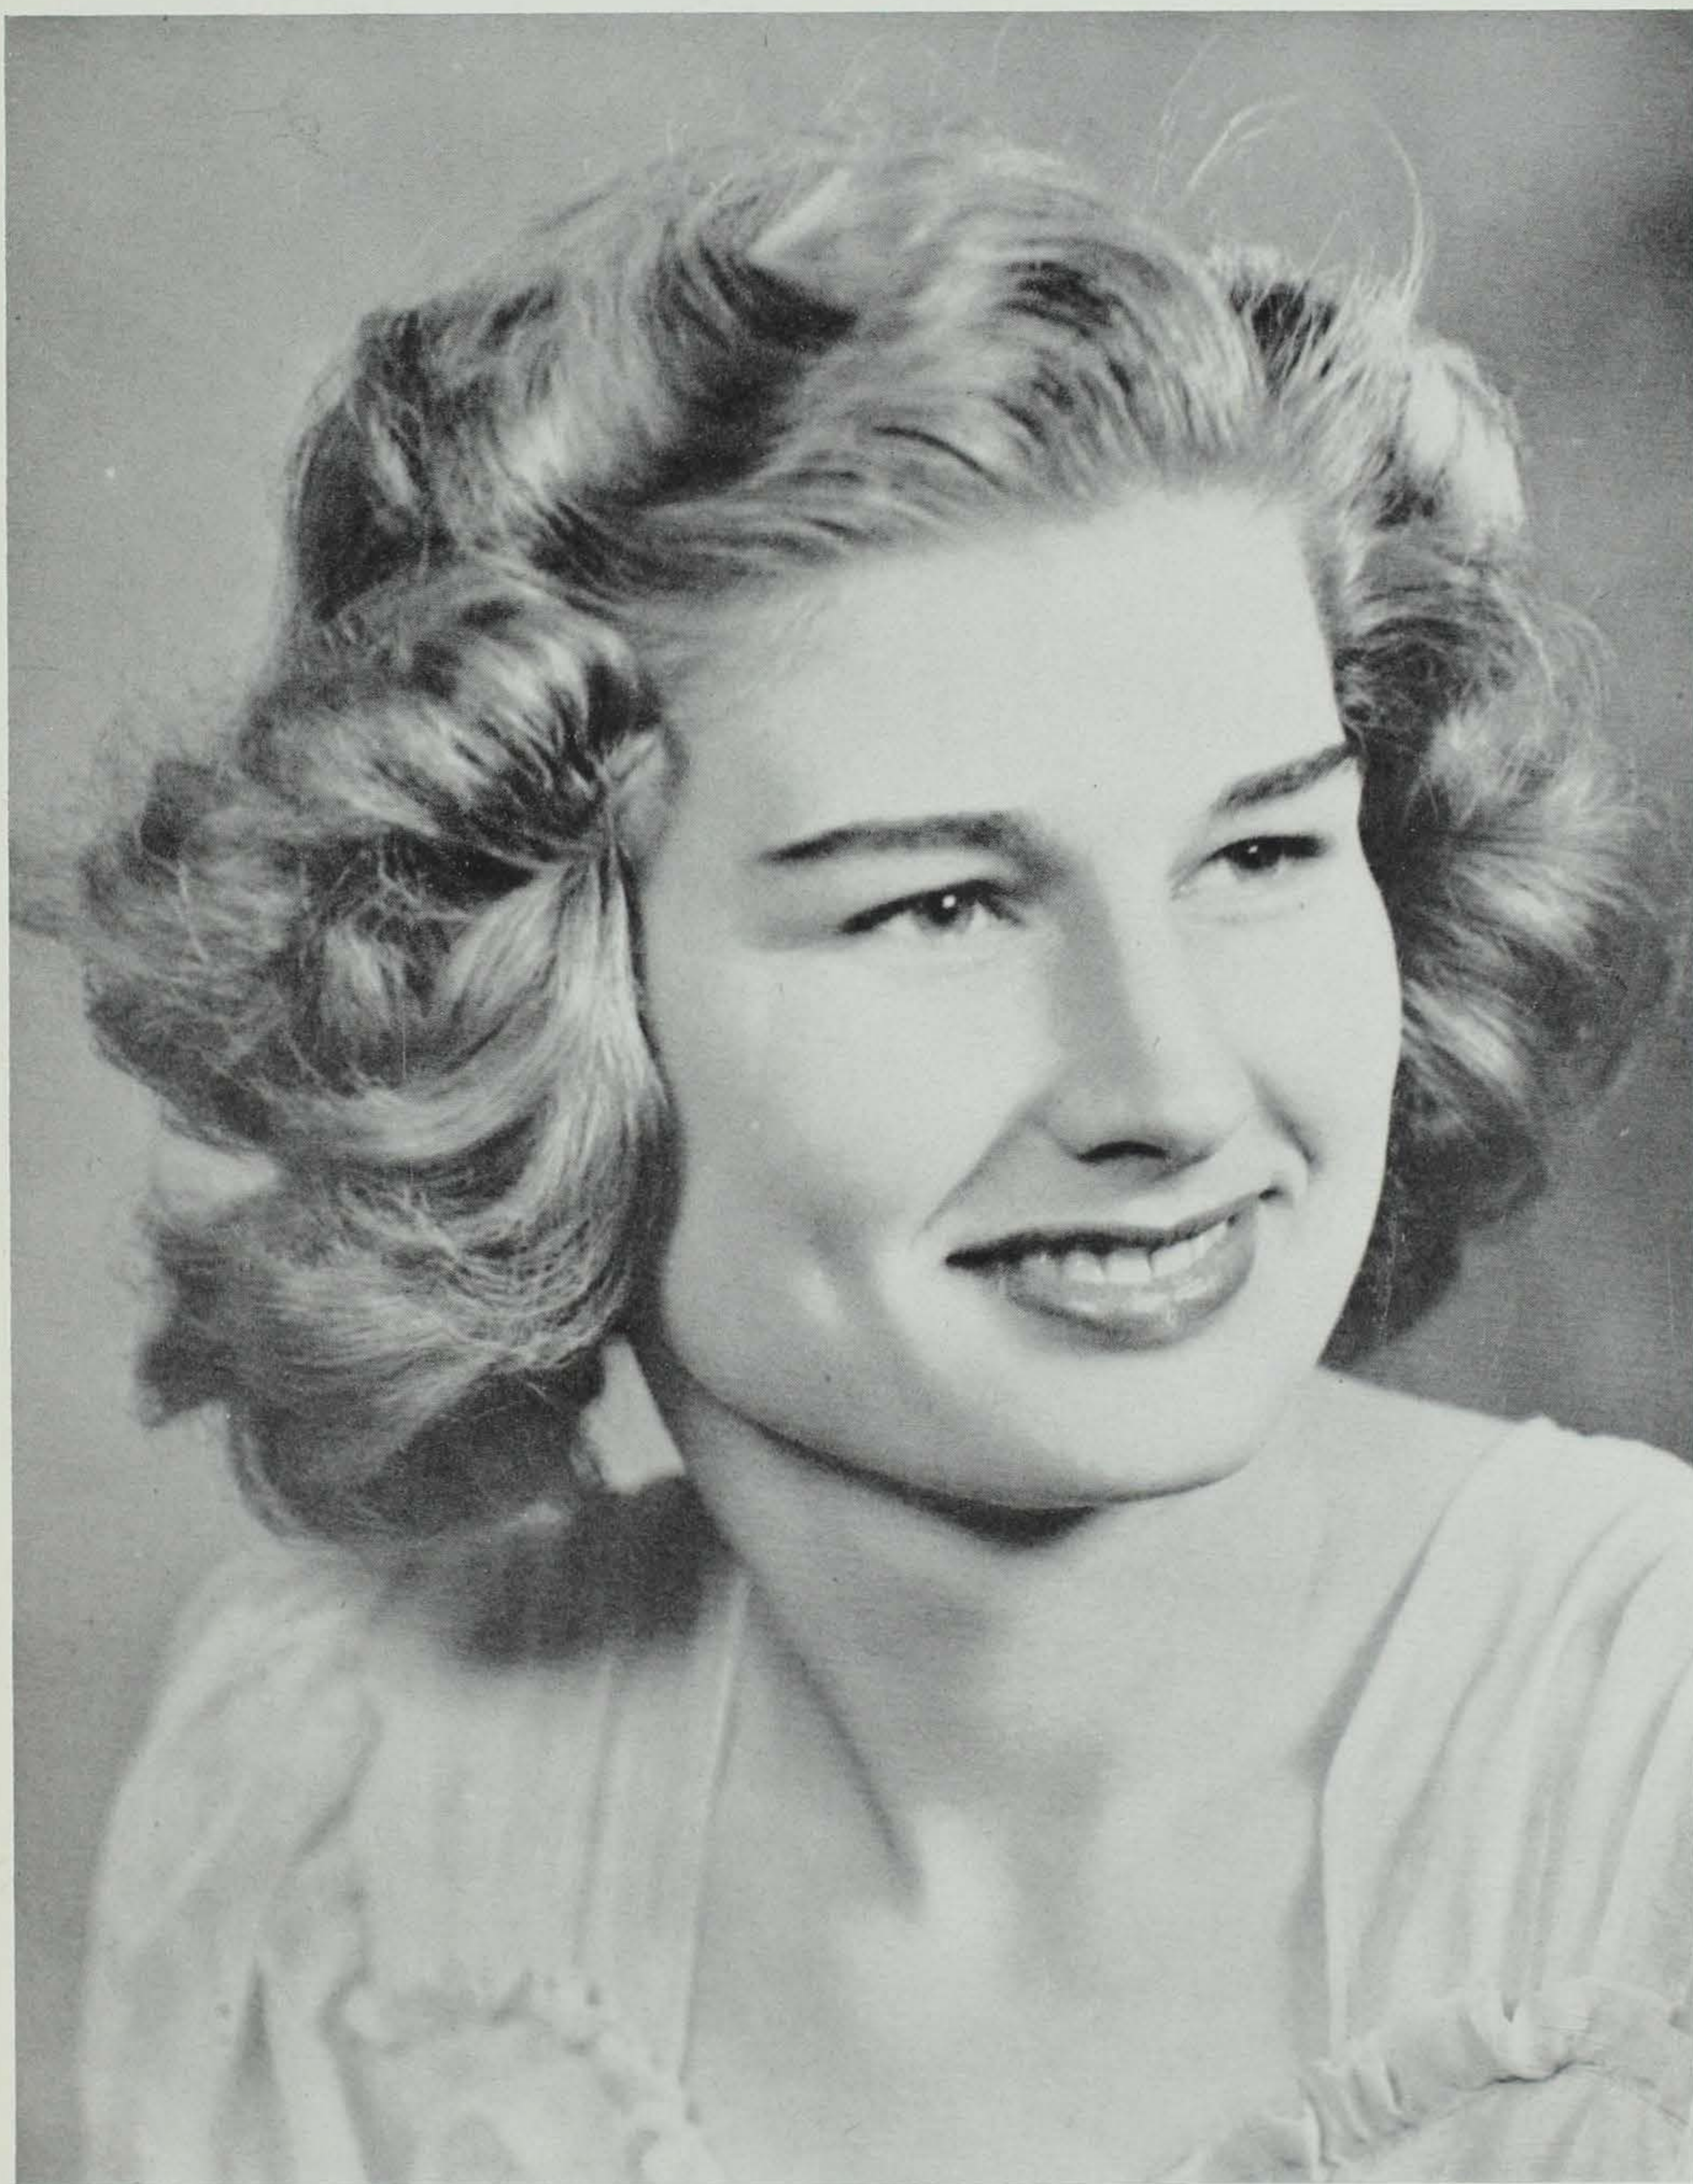

The Queen's attendants and the six "court attendants" are here pictured in alphabetical order, which is not necessarily the order of their selection.

LIBRARY

After twenty-nine long years Buena Vista at last acquired a new building—a much-needed library.

No one will ever forget that hilarious moving day when the chain-gang recruited from Dean Wesselink's, Prof. Smith's, Prof. Ostergaard's, and Prof. McKeehan's classes transferred the books and equipment from the dingy crowded quarters in the basement of Science across the street to the cheerful, sunny, spacious new location in a building all its own.

Since that day many new books and periodicals have been added, the catalogue revised, and all those things done which were necessary to give B. V. students one of the finest of small college libraries. Librarian Isa has worked hard.

Continued unavoidable delay in completing the exterior of the building and adding the desirable landscaping have made it impossible for the LOG staff to obtain an exterior shot which would do the building justice, but this inside view gives some indication of the beauty of the new library quarters.

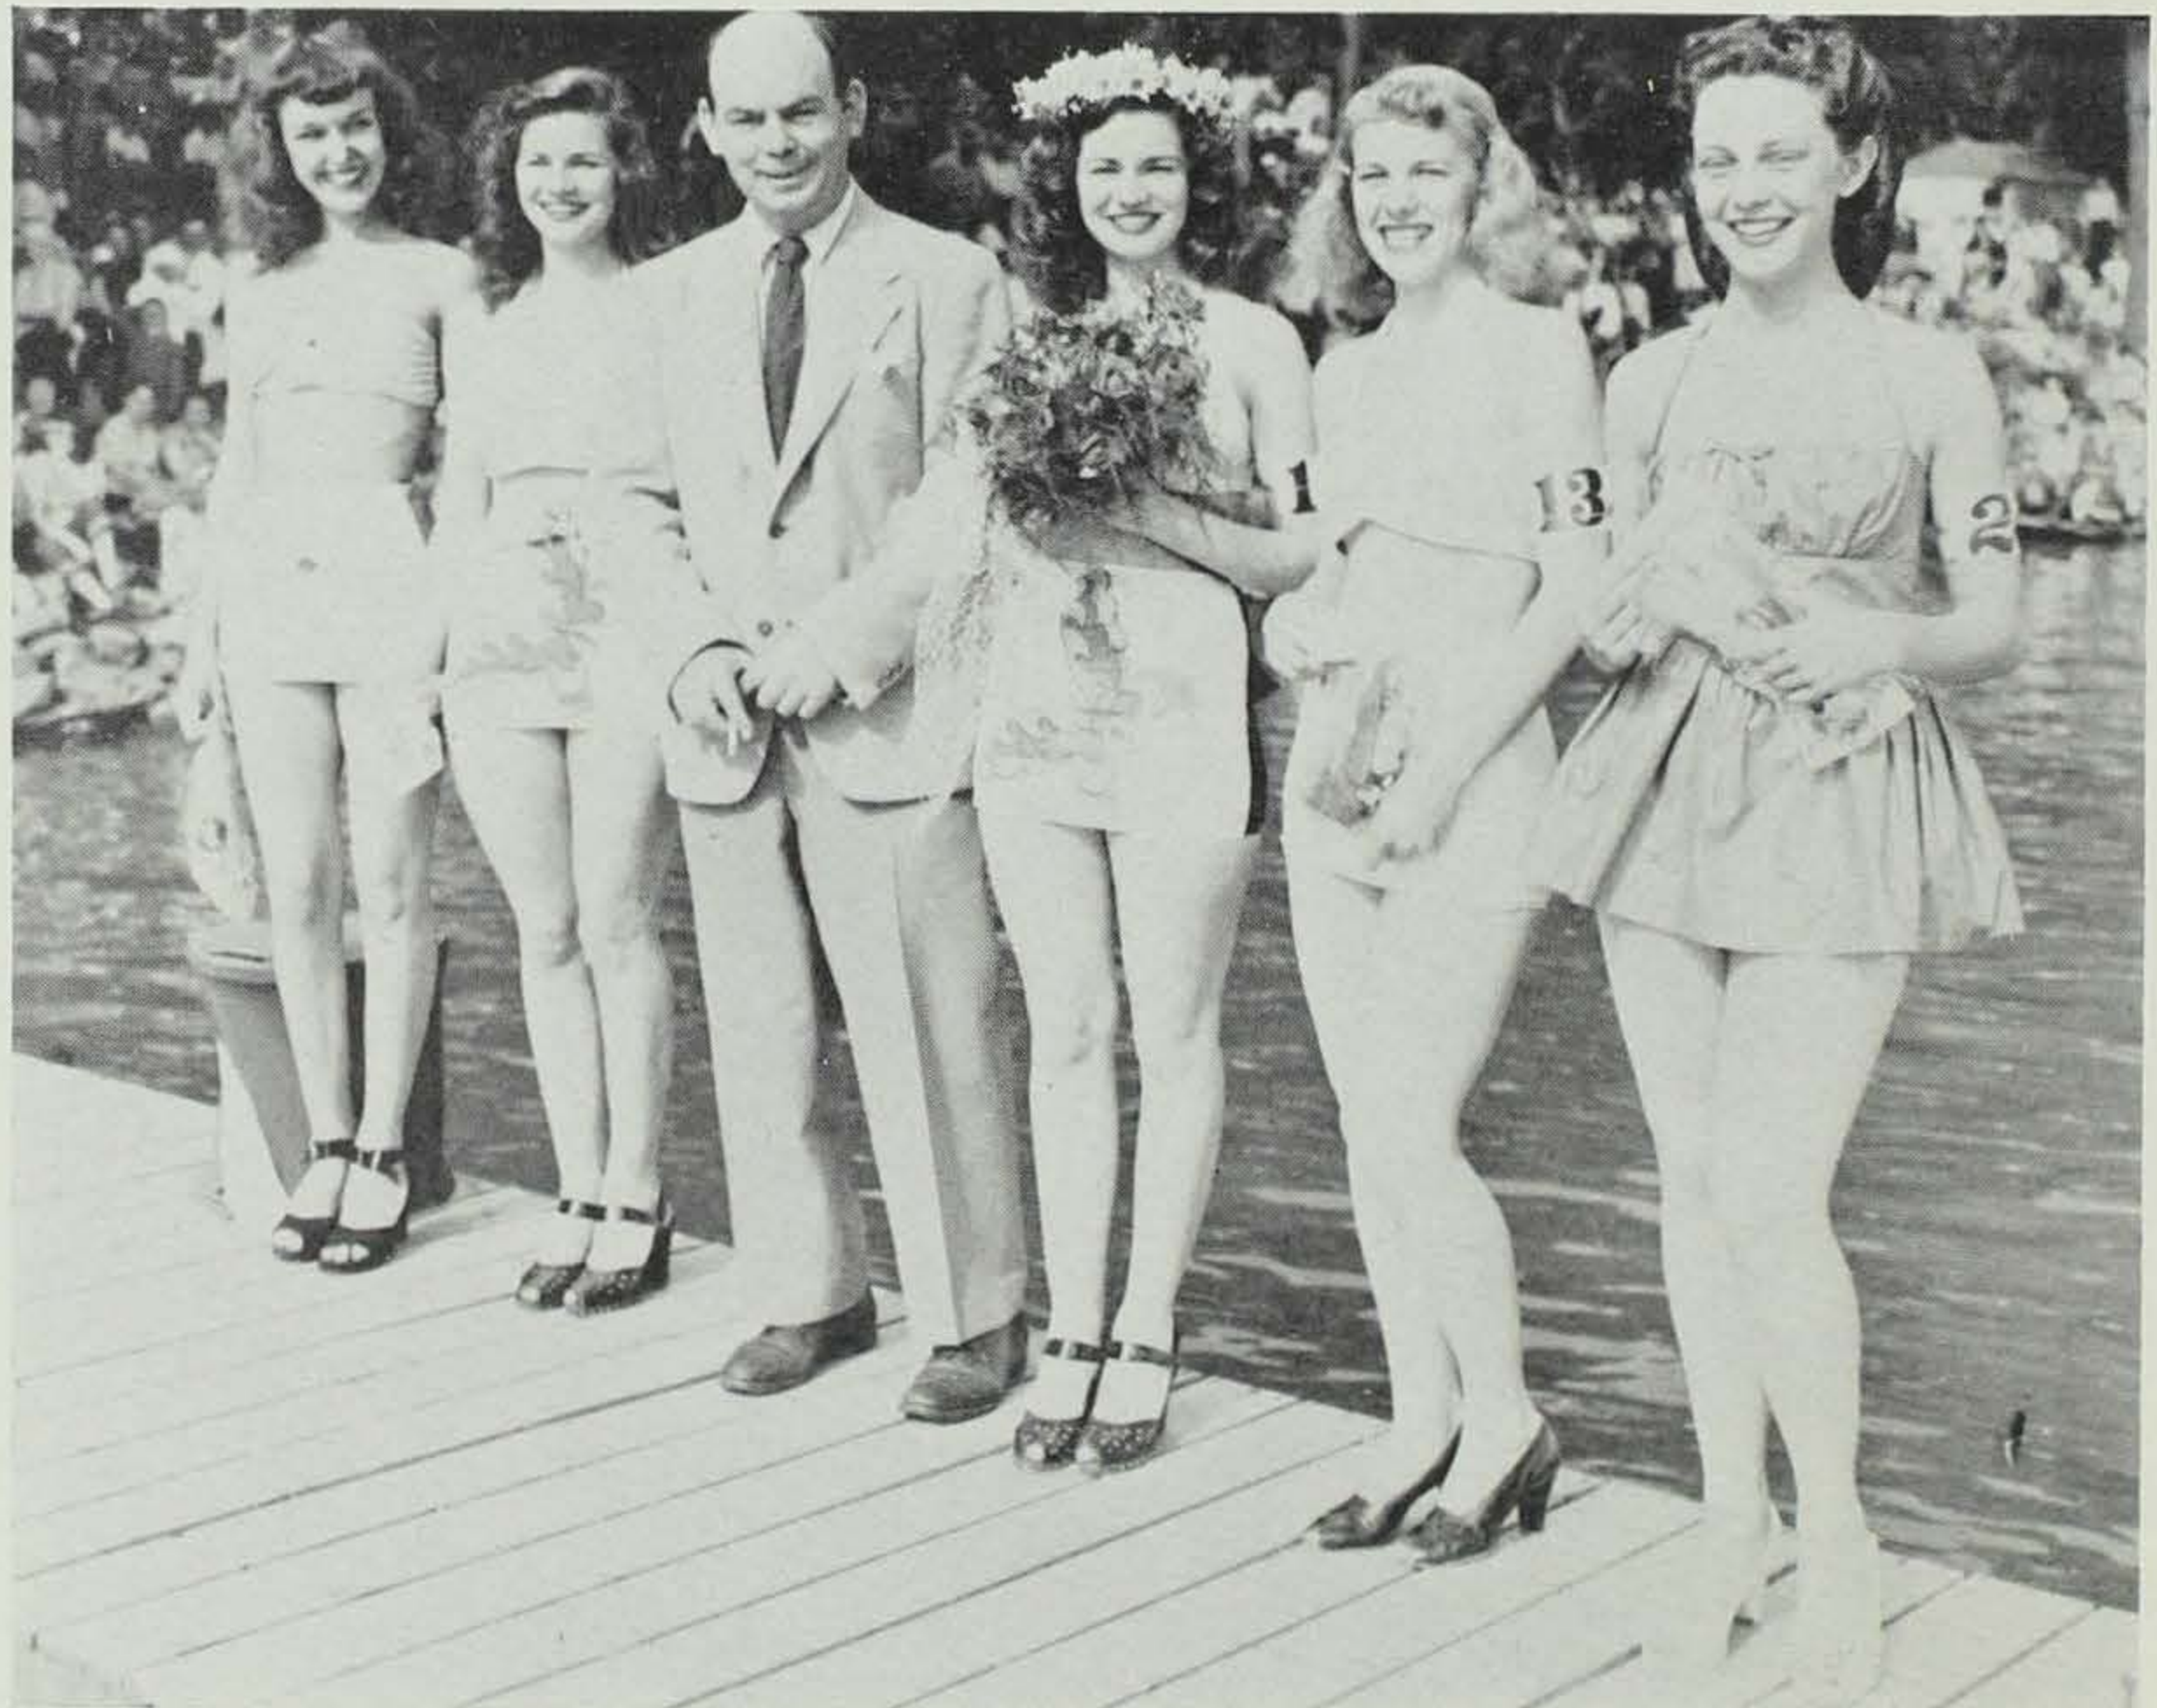

THE LOG staff has left this page blank in order that you might use it for pasting in your own snapshots of hobo day and the graduation ceremonies.
