

Delores Horn In Conservation Study

Mrs. Delores Horn of New Providence, winner of scholarships from the Hardin County Soil Conservation District and the Hardin County Wildlife Club, is presently spending three weeks at Springbrook State Park at Guthrie Center.

Mrs. Horn and some 150 other teachers from all parts of Iowa will be learning conservation at the park by taking field trips led by a number of the state's top experts. This is the eleventh year of this outdoor school, which was the first of its kind in America.
