Throughout the school year we have learned to work and play together. Every student has benefited from his own opportunity to carry out this theme. In our book we have attempted to present the work and the play of each student in O. H. S.

10 Bulldogs blocking; Ferguson on the loose. Real teamwork!

When we thus portray the student and see the results of both his academic and non-academic activities, we are, in reality, presenting the theme of the school itself: students at work and students at play.

Passing through his much loved halls of O. H. S., the high school student seldom realizes the great bearing his high school life has upon his future.

It is while yet in high school that the student begins to understand in part the definite need for co-operation among fellow men. As he progresses through the different grades, meeting the many people, and studying the wide variety of subjects offered, the student is gradually tempered to meet the outside world.

Working together in a friendly manner is the very foundation of these United States and is the factor which determines the success or failure of our democracy. With this as an ultimate goal, our school has set before the student body an excellent curriculum directed by a staff of expert teachers in a sincere effort to prepare the student for his part in the future of America. The student realizes this as he undertakes the governing of his school and the enforcement of laws set up by himself and all other students within the school.

The friendly co-operation existing among the students and between the faculty and students is definite proof that a school program such as ours is bound to succeed. It is now up to the student to prepare himself for his future success.

*Lots of Luck

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The foundation of each student's school success, if traced to the beginning, will be found in the efforts put forth by the Board of Education. The seven members of the board are Mrs. Matt Lawrence, Harold Wilson, Charles Evans, Dr. Gerald Loerke, Sam Rickard, Dr. Harry Wing, and Lawrence Reedquist.

The general public, in electing the Board of Education, knows very little concerning the work and time spent by the participants, in making the Ottumwa schools among the finest institutions of learning in the state of Iowa.

The officers elected within the board are Mrs. Matt Lawrence, president; Harold Wilson, vice-president. The secretary, Walter McLain, and the treasurer, Arthur Trautwein, not members, are appointed by the board and elected by the people respectively.

Some of the many important duties of the Board of Education include the appointment of the following committees by the president: the personnel committee—Dr. Gerald Loerke, chairman; Harold Wilson, and Charles Evans; purchasing committee—Harold Wilson, chairman; Sam Rickard, and Dr. Gerald Loerke; finance and insurance committee—Sam Rickard, chairman; Charles Evans and Lawrence Reedquist; athletic field committee—Dr. Harry Wing, chairman; and Lawrence Reedquist. Mrs. Lawrence is also chairman of the building committee. Under her supervision, each member of the Board oversees the functions of certain Ottumwa schools. The election of a school superintendent and the hiring of teachers and custodians are also uppermost in the work of the board members.

Although this Board of Education at times seems to be "dull" and "uninteresting" to most "teen-agers," they do respect their work in many ways. Through this office are issued many work permits, enabling students to occupy part time jobs.

"Behind the scenes—"

Mrs. Lawrence, President

Mrs. Matt Lawrence, an outstanding personality known to Ottumwa as a prominent leader in civic activities, now holds the position as the first woman president of the Board of Education. Her friendly and gracious manner of presiding over meetings develops unity among her co-workers, enabling goals to be successfully won.

The efforts of the Board of Education to better our schools deserve everyone's approval.

The main reason for the success of Ottumwa's growing public school system is the work of the Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Frank W. Douma. Mr. Douma has held this position for eight years. During this period it has been his duty to co-ordinate the work of all the schools so that they will fulfill the state requirements.

Along with his work with the Ottumwa schools he is a member of the State Board of

June Clouse, Miss Jones, Sec'y McLain at the Board Office

Supt. Douma

In connection with the Board of Education, an office is maintained for the purpose of directing some of the secretarial duties of the board. These working in the office, performing efficient and dependable service for the welfare of the school system, are Clair Jones, superintendent's secretary; June Clouse, office secretary; and Emmaline Weeks. The regulation and controlling of teachers' and custodians' payrolls, book keeping, and general office work summarize the tasks of this loyal office staff.

Control of Athletics, and the North Central Association of high schools and colleges.

Another man who has an important position in the operation of the schools is the secretary of the board, Mr. Walter McLain. Besides keeping an accurate record of all board proceedings, he also has charge of the maintenance department. This includes the handling of the insurance carried by the schools, securing the many supplies and sports equipment that is needed, and any other business or financial transactions that might arise.

Under the guidance of these people, Ottumwa schools will continue to rank among the best.

CAFETERIA

Students and teachers entering the noisy cafeteria at twelve noon probably don't realize the thought and work that have been done in the preparation of their meals. On the average two hundred fifty people purchase a hot, wholesome meal each day. Students who bring their lunches from home also have the privilege of eating in the cafeteria, which being quite large, seats over five hundred. Although the cafeteria is run on a non profit-basis, it has never gone "in the red". This is undoubtedly due to Mrs. Thompson's capable management. Last year the cafeteria had between three and four hundred dollars to its credit after the overhead had been paid. Mrs. Thompson plans the meals, orders all food stuffs and keeps the books. Due to the wartime restrictions it takes more careful planning to obtain all the necessities and still serve nutritious meals. Thus management of the cafeteria is a huge responsibility. At the end of each month, Miss King checks the books and Mr. Rozeboom audits them.

Mrs. A. O. Thompson, the manager, has been employed by the Ottumwa High School for twenty-two years. The assistant manager is Mrs. Marie Bottorff, who has eleven years of service to her credit. This year to help take care of the increased patronage of the cafeteria, Mrs. Boland has been added to the cooking staff. Miss Florence Fast, one of the world history teachers of O. H. S., is the very capable cashier. At six-thirty in the morning the cooks start work. Mrs. Bottorff makes all the pastry besides helping with the main part of the meal. At noon usually six high school students wash dishes. In this way they earn their dinners; however the noon hour is not long enough for the students to do all of the dishes, so Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Bottorff stay until nearly three o'clock cleaning and doing the unfinished tasks. Until this year high school girls have helped, but demands from outside sources have taken the usual supply of kitchen help from the student body. Girls from Adams have filled the vacancies. The cafeteria provides ample accommodations for the annual Junior Carnival, and the club parties.

ENGINEERS

To the maintenance staff of the Ottumwa High School, the student body of O.H.S. owe a salute. The work done by these engineers might be classed as the backbone of the school. Each morning they start out by unlocking doors, turning on the many lights, opening lockers for students who forget their keys, and doing many other duties. Often many things happen to disrupt their daily schedules. For instance, there are sixty-eight telephones, fifty-nine bells and sixty clocks which must be kept in perfect running order. Every day all of the halls and the one hundred sixty-one rooms, which represent a total of one hundred seventy-five thousand, four hundred thirty square feet of floor space, must be swept. Probably the most important of their work is the operation of the heating units and various motors. Forty-six of these electric motors are needed in the operation of the school mechanism, while three, one hundred and fifty horsepower boilers must be operated to heat all of the rooms of both the Adams and High School.

Students and fans do not realize the significant part this staff plays during the sport seasons. Football season finds the custodians in charge of Schaefer Field. Besides keeping the field house in order, the electric scoreboard must be manipulated and the field marked for use. This also includes all games played by other teams at the stadium. Basketball season also means extra work. Before each game, the floor must be cleaned and the seating capacity arranged. The school board hires one man who is the engineer of all the public schools. Mr. Leslie Thompson holds this position, and it is his co-operation with the engineers of the various Ottumwa schools that keeps the system running smoothly. Heading the twelve members of the O.H.S. staff is the chief engineer, Mr. Mier, who has worked at the high school for eighteen years. The first assistant is Mr. Wilkinson who has held his position for eight years.

SENIOR ADVISER

MISS ROTH

To Miss Ruth Roth, the senior class adviser, we owe many thanks, for it was with her constant guidance that our class attained many successes in all it undertook—the many dances and parties in our junior and senior years.

It is with deep regret that we see our class association with Miss Roth fade into the past. We hope that we have fulfilled her every desire for us as a class, and we know that we have thoroughly enjoyed our work with her. She has given us her understanding; we, in turn, give her our sincere appreciation.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

At this time the senior class of O.H.S. is about to bid a sad farewell to the fond memories of high school life. As is the case of all senior classes, ours has held and enjoyed that certain prestige known only to a graduating group. It is with regret that we leave the halls and class rooms of O.H.S. for destinations yet unknown. It is said that one's best years are those spent in high school; this is true from both the standpoint of pleasure and education. It is here that the foundation of our citizenship is laid. It is here also that we take pride in the honors received for extra curricular activities.

Looking back to the highlights of our entire four years in high school we recall memories of such events as "The Road to Freedom", the brilliant production which followed the course of our country's history to its present-day democracy; the various operettas and plays; each year's Homecoming; the traditional Junior Class Carnival; and in conclusion the Senior Prom, the Junior-Senior Prom, and the Senior assembly.

"Watch us work and watch us strive, we're the class of '45" has been our class yell and just how well we have carried out the meaning of those words may be seen from our records from year to year. In the realm of sports we have come through with flying colors; the Dramatic Club has discovered and put to use the talent of various seniors; and in similar ways each member has helped to form the class as it stands today.

There is a great solemnity attached to the receiving of our diplomas as we pass through the last phase of our high school years. Especially with world conditions as they are at the present we need even a more complete education than in recent years. It will be up to us and the classes coming after to settle the problems arising from this great conflict. Our knowledge and the wisdom we employ in these matters is going to be of prime importance to the following generations—not only of the United States but also foreign nations.

It is our hope that the present underclassmen as well as newcomers to O.H.S. will recall some phases of our years' activities and that perhaps our achievements will spur them on to equal success.

JUNIOR ADVISER

To the Junior adviser, Miss Florence Fast, goes the task of guiding approximately four hundred students through their last years at O. H. S.

Miss Fast has found that there are many duties to be performed by an adviser. Probably the most important of these duties is the planning of the two major highlights of the junior year—the Junior Carnival and the Junior-Senior Prom at the conclusion of the year.

With her kindly and efficient guidance, Miss Fast, together with the aid of capable class officers is making her class of "46" a very successful one.

BOB ANGLE, Vice-President
DORIS SMITH, Treasurer
JIM OSGOOD, Secretary

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The class of 1946 has reached the mid-way point—the point from which they can look back with pleasure on the accomplishments of their sophomore year, and ahead with anticipation to the bright future of their senior year. Yet each and every member strives to make this, his junior year, equally as bright and outstanding as the other two.

This year has been an uncertain one for the junior class. With victory in sight the students did not know whether to expect a senior year of war or peace. They did not shirk their studies because the prospect of peace was in view, however. Each worked on with added vigor, preparing himself for the different world in which he is to live after the victory is finally won.

Under the expert guidance of Miss Florence Fast, their class adviser, the members of this class have established a brilliant record in all the regular activities in which it is traditional for the junior classes of O. H.S. to take an important part. With the help of their competent class officers they made a success of their annual carnival and the all important Junior-Senior Prom. Each of these projects required a great deal of time, thought, and hard work; but not a single class member failed to do the job assigned him to the best of his ability. Many junior students took part in both these annual events given at the Ottumwa High School. They were not without representatives in the High School Night program, or the pageants given for the entertainment of our families at Open House. Much potential talent is still hidden among many junior students. This talent combined with the splendid accomplishments already attained will provide material for one of the finest senior classes ever graduated from O.H.S.

The members of this fine class have certainly developed into able school leaders in every phase of school activity—seldom have there been so many representatives of a single class outstanding in all extra curricular activities—sports, forensic work, dramatics, and music. Likewise in the regular curricular branch of school life their colors have flown high. Certainly in this year the class of 1946 has proved its worthiness in fulfilling the promise of the class yell:

"Fame With Wisdom We Will Mix

SOPHOMORE ADVISER

MISS EIGHME

Guiding approximately four hundred fifty sophomores through the first trying years of senior high school is Miss Eighme, the sophomore adviser.

The sophomore class is one of the largest ever to attend O. H. S. Coming from the three junior high schools of the city, they are already making their imprint on the history of the Ottumwa High School.

Already the sophomores have started an active role in the school's extra-curricular activities. In one or two years, these students will be the ones who will carry the banner for O.H.S. throughout the state in football, basketball, dramatics, debate, and other activities.

The motto of the sophomores is "Fame and honor we hold dear, forty-seven is our year." During this year the class has begun to fulfill this slogan, and let us hope that the sophomores will always continue to uphold their motto.

Our class is very fortunate in having as capable an adviser as Miss Eighme and also as able counsellors as Miss Vacha and Miss Kittleson. Miss Eighme, who is the director of the Art classes, is comparatively new in our building, having been here only two years. We sophomores feel confident that our stay in Ottumwa High School will be secure with Miss Eighme as our leader.

The officers that the sophomores have elected are Ed Buckley, president; Jo Ann Newell, vice-president; Joy Wilson, secretary; and Deane Stoltz, treasurer. Under the leadership of these officers we have started well on the long road to success.

We students are under the handicap that war has brought. Let us hope that when we, the sophomores, have completed our high school course, the world again will be back to normal; that peace shall once more reign throughout the earth. We certainly will be thankful when again we will be able to work and play without the strain of war upon us. In the war effort the sophomores have taken an active part. Many of the students have worked in war plants during the summer months and a large majority of them are backing the war stamp sale in our school regularly.

After spending our first year under the roof of the "big high," we sophomores are very grateful to the faculty and upperclassmen for the heartfelt welcome they have given us. In accordance with superb leadership, we shall try to fulfil the expectation which is placed upon us.

The student in O. H. S. is learning to play as well as to work. Although play may seem non-essential, it is an important part in every student's education. It is for this reason that O. H. S. has put before its student body a large and varied extra-curricular program.

Such a varied program presented to the student enables him to find some organization that coincides with his interests. There are clubs stressing the importance of careers, those encouraging creative ability, and organizations for athletics; there are even societies within societies to create within the student an incentive to excel. All add up to make the non-academic life in O. H. S. a most important factor in the life of a student.

Whether participating or not in certain activities, the student derives some satisfaction from the results obtained by the other students. For instance, not every student can be on the football or basketball team, yet what great enthusiasm the whole student body displays at football and basketball games! Not everyone can help in the various stage productions; still, one can enjoy such presentations.

The creeds of fair play, good sportsmanship, and friendly co-operation, which the student learns from these activities, prepare him for the part he will play as a citizen in this United States.

Torch Club, the national honor society toward which all Ottumwa High School students strive, is finally attained by only a select few, chosen by a committee of teachers of which Miss Clara Enoch is chairman.

The members are chosen twice a year and only juniors and seniors are eligible for this great honor. The qualifications for Torch Club are scholarship, leadership, character, and service. To qualify under scholarship one must have an average of not less than eighty-five per cent. A student is required to have a definite number of activity points, which are earned by participation in clubs, holding school offices, and other extra-curricular activities, thus satisfying the requirements of character, service and leadership.

Everyone who attains this great honor is held in respect and high regard by his fellow students, and his success serves to spur them on to greater efforts. Indeed the Torch Club is the "coup de maitre" of the successful efforts of the student to benefit himself and his school.

TORCH CLUB

Martha has become prominent in O.H.S. through her work in debate and music.

Ted, too, has been active in debate work and has also been active in the work of the Dramatic Club. For three years, he has helped to operate the school projection machine.

Lois, Dick, and Jim have all served three years on the student council. Lois has also worked three years on the Argus Annual Staff. Both Dick and Jim have been active in sports; Dick winning a name for himself in football and track and Jim being prominent in basketball, football, and golf.

At the mid-year honor assembly, eighteen seniors were honored with membership in the Torch Club.

Many of these students were active in the work of the music department. Gene Allender, George Alton, Roberta Bailey, Patricia Joy, Frances Pettigrew and Jane Smith were all "letter-men" in the band. Especially outstanding in music was Patricia Click, who was well-known for her vocal work.

Those prominent in the field of sports were Gene Allender, Dick Armstrong, Jim Kitts, Jim McClure and Sidney Poling.

Virginia Lee Hazen, Patricia Click, Lucille Roberts and Marjorie Stoltz were all leading forensic speakers.

Those students who were busy on the publications of O. H. S. were Gene Glasgow, Marjorie Greenwood, Patricia Joy, Betty Rutherford, members of the "News" staff, George Alton and Marjorie Stoltz, editors of the "Annual."

Worthy of mention are the officers of the Senior Class. Jim McClure, for three years has been president of his class; Sara Lee Desper and Marjorie Stoltz have been class officers for two years; Jim Kitts has served as the vice-president this year.

STUDENT COUNCIL

In any society or large group of people we deem it necessary to have a governing or ruling body of some nature. In Ottumwa High School the Student Council is the group organized for this purpose.

Each class elects four members to make up the Student Council, under the able direction of Miss Rose Miller.

The offenders to the rules which the Council passes and enforces, with the help of the Student Reserve, are given a fair trial before the Student Court. What a privilege to belong to a school where the students have so great a voice in its operations, particularly in contrast to the institutions where all the activities of the students are dictated!

Pep assemblies, the check room, the school club room and the lost-found department are taken care of conscientiously by the members.

The "Inner-council," the group which controls the Bulldog Lounge, the official club of O.H.S., has one member from every advisory group. These members work to improve the Lounge.

The Council is made up of the student, by the student, and for the student, and we believe it helps to make democracy work and live.

This is your book, students of O.H.S., and how proud we are to present it! If it helps to build up your interest in O.H.S., or if it helps to preserve happy memories of this school year, it will, indeed, have served its designed purpose.

This year's work on the annual has been a grand mixture of work, pleasure, and especially, education. After working a year on advertising the members of the ad staff have acquired more poise in meeting people of the business world, while the members of the editorial staff have gained much experience in writing. This year we of the annual think special credit is due to our "hard working ad staff," who went over the top with their ad selling, producing four extra pages of advertisements for the annual.

Again, through another year of war, our staff has had to work under war-time conditions, the same difficulties that annual workers have faced since nineteen hundred forty-one; nevertheless, with the able, kindly, and continuous assistance of Miss King, the annual adviser, the editors and their departments have endeavored to give you a creditable book.

THE ARGUS NEWS

In 1915 O.H.S. made an important addition to the school's extra curricular activities, The Argus News. Since that time this organization has kept the student body informed of various events, assemblies, and school gossip. This group's adviser, Miss Creswell, is assisted by the page editors and a staff of approximately fifty students. This staff also publishes the Argus Daily, the important mimeographed bulletin that is read in the advisory groups, and the Argus Angus, the annual gossip sheet. The News, which is published monthly, gives an accurate account of the school's activities.

This year the News continued an innovation begun in 1943, that of a separate editor for every page, making four in all. The publication of the News not only keeps the school well informed, but also gives the members of the staff excellent journalistic experience. The News has the able assistance of Miss Burrish, who is critic for the student publications.

Members of the News staff possessing high standards of character, scholarship, and service are also eligible for membership in the Quill and Scroll and the Arguseers, both national journalistic societies.

DECLAM

In Ottumwa High School there is a great deal of interest in declamation and declamatory contests. Possibly this is because of the record made by some of the contestants, but more likely this is because of the excellence in the coaching and the benefits derived by the students taking part.

The members can compete in any one of four divisions: dramatic, humorous, oratorical, and radio speaking. The latter has only recently been developed. Annually a local contest is held in which competent judges select the winners in each section. These chosen speakers become members of the declam squad, and if successful, advance to the county, the sub-district, the district, and the state contests. This year the squad consists of about twenty members, all of whom have participated in some meet.

The "Iowa-Nine" contests, entirely separate, differ in one regard; boys compete against boys and girls against girls. In these meets representatives of O. H. S. have been extremely successful. Both the boys and the girls won second place honors in the final contests. Ronald McNamer, Virginia Lee Hazen, and Joyce Linder were the outstanding Ottumwa speakers in the "Iowa-Nine," each receiving superior ratings.

Two other meets considered of great importance are the ones held at Coe College in Cedar Rapids and at the State University of Iowa at Iowa City. The contest at Coe College is open to radio speaking, extemp, after dinner speaking, and poetry. Competing at Coe was Lucille Roberts, who was awarded superior rating in both poetry and radio speaking.

The new sponsor of declam is Mr. Laurence Hamley, who is succeeding Miss Dorothy Lindley. Under his direction the members have added greatly to the laurels of the school.

The poise and self-confidence gained by participation in declam will be extremely useful when these students are ready to enter business for themselves. It is indeed most interesting and well suited for any student interested in improving his speech.

"To help make American students more proficient in the most valuable tool of life, the English language." This is the motto of each and every one of the sixty members of the Debate Club, including their coach, Mr. Hamley.

Features that make this club so popular are the intramural debate contests and the out-of-town meets.

The University of Iowa sponsors one of the leagues in which the club takes an active part. The topic for the league this year is, "Should the voting age of United States citizens be reduced to eighteen years of age?" Winners of these high school contests are not chosen exclusively on the points they present, but also on the merits of their speaking ability.

There are many sideline duties, also, that must be performed by the club. It raises funds to cover expenses of the traveling teams, furnishes chairmen and timers for tournaments, and does research work for the benefit of the contestants, all of which are very essential for the success of any debate.

The Ottumwa Courier has very willingly co-operated in sponsoring an annual tournament to encourage students interested in debate. Each team has a coach to teach them the technique of debating. This tournament is only for students who are not associated with the club.

Debate members have honored the following students by choosing them for their officers: Homer Wilson, president; Hart Williamson, vice-president; Patty Click, secretary; and Charles Stewart, treasurer.

"Curtain Going Up!"

Almost every high school has its Thespian group—a group whose aim and responsibility it is to provide its school and community with fine entertainment. Such is the Ottumwa High School Dramatic Club, one of the largest and most popular clubs in the school. Each year under the direction of Miss Arlene Danielson, this group presents three plays and contributes to the many other stage productions given during the year.

The functional value of any dramatic club is determined through the combined efforts of all its members. The one hundred twenty-five members of the O.H.S. Dramatic Club realize and understand the need of doing away with "stage fright" and developing art of "poise", thus enabling them to entertain successfully their fellow students and the general public.

This extra-curricular activity includes not only actors and actresses, but many crews organized for the purpose of perfecting costumes, advertisements, make-up, staging, and lighting, needed for the completion of a production.

Having obtained seventy-five points, earned none too easily, the more ambitious Dramatic Club members are recognized by the Players' Club, the select and treasured position within the Dramatic Club. Points are gained by working on the previously named crews, selling tickets, or assuming a role in the cast of the play. Every spring a play, cast entirely from the Players' Club, is presented, a fitting memento to their successful efforts.

Those performing duties as officers of the Dramatic Club are Marjorie Stoltz, president; Wayne Nauman, vice-president; Barbara Thurlow, secretary; and Doris Robinson, treasurer.

With the co-operation of these officers and of all members, the year was destined to be one bringing outstanding achievements and undiscovered talent. The inward hope of all is success.

"SKY ROAD"

First among the Dramatic Club's full length productions for the year was the three act, suspense packed play, "Sky Road". Because of the story, calling for plane crack-ups, a discharged stewardess falling from a control tower, and a mercy flight through a peasoup fog to obtain a physician to save the girl's life, the cast was required to play more dramatic roles than usual. Written by N. Richard Nusbaun, the thrill filled plot was one of the most difficult presented behind O.H.S. footlights. Directed by Miss Arlene Danielson, head of the dramatic department, the cast spoke their lines like experienced troopers. With Jimmie Kitts, star O.H.S. fullback, as "Bill Jones" and Marjorie Stoltz as "Lucky Parker" the principal roles were exceptionally well handled.

HIGH SCHOOL NIGHT

"Lamentation" dancers at dress rehearsal.... Part of the cast in "Rhapsody in News".... Dancers in the Nite Club scene.... The Mixed Chorus takes the part of a church choir.

Many students of Ottumwa High School were given an opportunity to take part in last year's High School Night program. Each performer did his part with near professional skill and helped to make the program one of the finest ever to be presented for this annual occasion.

Capably directing and producing this program was a faculty committee headed by Miss Dorothy Lindley.

The High School Night program was entitled "Rhapsody in News," an appropriate title, since the story centered around a group of newspaper reporters and the places they visited in quest of news. The various programs supposedly attended by the reporters included a concert, an impressive vesper service, and a modern ballet. The concert was presented by the Ottumwa High School orchestra, the vesper services by the Mixed Chorus, the ballet by a group of Ottumwa High School students, all performing in a most exceptional manner. Also included in their visitations was an athletic show, given by the O.H.S. tumbling team.

As a grand climax to their perfect evening the reporters attended a night club where they viewed the gaiety of dancing couples, the liveliness of a floor show by Ottumwa High School talent, and the music of a rhythmic swing band.

Upon returning to their office the reporters discovered happily, when listening to a radio announcement, that the war was over! As a patriotic finale the scene shifted to a battle front showing a realistic view of the soldiers' reaction to such an announcement.

PLAYERS' CLUB

A challenging goal toward which many Dramatic Club members strive is the Players' Club, composed only of the most diligent, capable, and experienced Dramatic Club members. The purpose of the organization is to give recognition to those who have excelled, a reward for their efforts and skill. To attain membership in this inner and select group one must acquire seventy-five points, no easy task. Means by which one earns these points are: selling tickets, prompting, working on the numerous stage, paint, costume and business crews as well as acting.

Players' Club assists Miss Arlene Danielson, the dramatic coach, in various ways. The members judge Dramatic Club tryouts, plan Dramatic Club initiations, furnish student directors for plays, and select crew managers. Last but not least they annually produce a play, usually in the spring, in which are cast only the Players' Club members. The officers are: Bob Loerke, president; Marjorie Greenwood, vice president; Lucille Roberts, secretary; Gene Glasgow, treasurer.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

O.H.S. may well be proud of its honor societies. We have local chapters of Torch Club, Quill & Scroll, Thespians, and the debate society, the National Forensic League, founded in 1924 at Ripon College, Ripon, Wisconsin. This organization soon grew from fifty-five charter chapters to the present limited membership list of five hundred affiliated schools. Our local chapter was organized in 1939.

This year Mr. Lawrence Hamley is the coach for both the regular debate group and the members of N.F.L. Membership in N.F.L. carries a great deal of distinction, for to obtain full status as an active member is often difficult. Our chapter has a membership of twelve students.

Members of N.F.L. must earn a total of twenty points to be eligible for the degree of merit. Upon receiving fifty points they become holders of degree of honor. A few outstanding speakers and debaters may attain the total of one hundred points necessary for reaching the degree of excellence.

Upon the receipt of one hundred and fifty points the members attain the highest honor N.F.L. can bestow, the degree of distinction. It is a tribute to our coach's skill that O.H.S. has more than its share of speakers of distinction.

Each spring an initiation ceremony and banquet is held. At that time new members attain full-fledged active status. Local chapters may elect officers from their ranks. The leaders holding office for this year are: president, Marjorie Stoltz; vice president, Martha Alton; secretary, Patty Click; and treasurer, Virginia Lee Hazen.

Each year before the war, the national council held a national N. F. L. tournament. These tournaments gave the members of local chapters an opportunity to match their skill with speakers of talent and experience. Unfortunately these tournaments were, of necessity, forced to abandon their valuable work. However, with the largest membership in its history, N. F. L. looks forward to a very bright post-war future.

The songs that ring forth from the music room give proof that the members of Mixed Chorus thoroughly enjoy their musical training. Negro spirituals and medleys of old, familiar songs are apparently the favorites of the class. After an hour's practice third floor resounds with the voices of choristers singing as they leave class.

The past few years the entire chorus has been unable to attend the State Music Festival and the State Music Contest due to lack of transportation facilities. However, a few soloists have entered the State Contest.

Each year A Mixed Chorus presents an operetta. This year "The Pirates of Penzance" or "A Slave of Duty," a Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera was given. Next in importance is the annual Christmas Pageant which is produced in co-operation with the Ottumwa grade schools. Often the Mixed Chorus sings for Ottumwa businessmen, civic meetings, Open House, and the High School Night program.

When a student has acquired fifty points, he is eligible for a music letter. These points are accumulated by checking in and out choir robes, accompanying and singing in small vocal groups, checking attendance at operetta rehearsals, and singing with the entire chorus at any performance.

This year the membership of A Mixed Chorus was increased by twenty students, totaling an approximate one hundred and twenty. Thus, Miss Selma Aas, the competent director, was kept busy with her chorus.

This year, Mary Ann Horner was the accompanist for A Mixed Chorus.

"THE PIRATES OF PENZANCE"

A panorama of colorful costumes, elaborate scenery, and effective lighting delighted the audience which witnessed the presentation of "The Pirates of Penzance," a Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera.

Frederic, having completed his apprenticeship to the pirates, felt he must go back to the world of honest men. However, he soon became infatuated with Mabel, a daughter of Major General Stanley, who by claiming he was an orphan evaded the pirates' clutches. In the course of events that followed, the entrance of the police and their ensuing struggle with the pirates produced the high point of humor in the production.

Outstanding in the leading roles were Patricia Click, Bob Frazer and Homer Wilson. This musical production was under the expert direction of Miss Aas and Miss Danielson.

TRIO

From the fine musical talent which is abundant at Ottumwa High School, each year are chosen three select voices which make up the girls' trio. These three girls work together with their accompanist and their director, Miss Selma Aas, to perfect effective arrangements of old, familiar, and modern compositions to be presented at the student assemblies, civic organizations, churches, and community gatherings for which they are in constant demand.

Often the trio is chosen to represent Ottumwa High School at the State Music Festival held each year in some Iowa town.

The girls in the trio meet twice each week with Miss Aas to select new songs, improve upon the old ones, and learn to understand music in general more thoroughly.

Few students realize the time and effort a small vocal group, such as this, puts into its efforts. Their work is well rewarded, however, in the charming presentations which are ready whenever the occasion arises.

SEXTETTE

The small vocal groups of O. H. S. are representative of the talented musicians and vocalists who compose the glee clubs supervised by Miss Selma Aas.

Those chosen for these small groups, not necessarily superior to other "glee clubbers", have stepped forward and proved to the teachers and student body that they possess a pleasing voice, capable of blending harmoniously with others.

The sextette, one of the larger vocal groups, is composed of chosen juniors and seniors. Those giving time and practice in order to make this project a success, are Virginia Lee Hazen, Bettye Danielson, Dorothy Yoerks, Henrietta Howe, Doris Smith and Marjorie Greenwood. The pianist for this group is Mary Ann Horner.

Because of the loyalty and harmonious work of the group, they have been sought by many clubs and organizations of the city to provide entertainment.

The sextette has received great honors in the life pages of O. H. S.

QUARTETTE—Bob Brown; Homer Wilson; Bill Rozeboom; Fred Nydle; Henrietta Howe, accompanist. OCTETTE—Junette Harding; Joan Perry, accompanist; Patricia Click; Lois Van Ness; Virginia Burt; Bob Liley; Homer Wilson; Bob Frazer; Orlo Nichols.

Another prominent small vocal group chosen from the members of A Mixed Chorus is the boys' quartette. The four boys who make up this group, Robert Brown, Fred Nydle, Bill Rozeboom, and Homer Wilson, along with their accompanist, Henrietta Howe, are well known in the community for their artistic presentations of well known songs and ballads.

To be a member of the quartette it is not necessary for a boy to possess a particularly exceptional voice. It must be of clear quality, accurate pitch and able to blend pleasingly with others.

The boys of the quartette spend much time on their vocal numbers, perfecting each selection in their repertoire. Aside from their regular singing with the A Mixed Chorus, the quartette meets several times a week for special practice with Miss Selma Aas, their director.

The boys' quartette is sometimes selected to represent Ottumwa High School at the State Music Contest held each year.

Many experienced vocalists step into the limelight when the octette appears before student assemblies, public audiences, and civic organizations. Composing the octette are sophomores, juniors, and seniors, striving for harmonious co-ordination.

Those chosen, and giving freely of their time in order to make this octette outstanding, are Patty Click, Virginia Burt, Junette Harding, Lois Van Ness, Bob Liley, Orlo Nichols, Bob Frazer, and Homer Wilson. The pianist for the group is Joan Perry.

The blended voices of these sopranos, altos, tenors, and basses are popular with many social organizations that desire the octette to sing on many occasions.

In contesting for places in vocal groups, these students have demonstrated their talents to the highest degree. Under the expert supervision of Miss Selma Aas, those possessing quality voices are selected and trained for public singing.

The octette, as all the other vocal groups, is appreciated by young and old.

To achieve a well-balanced program of music for the average high school is often an extremely difficult task. Otumwa High is fortunate to have a well-planned music department featuring both vocal and instrumental music. Instrumental music, under which the O. H. S. Orchestra is classified, offers a wide field of opportunity to the high school pupil. The school orchestra, built around a few upper classmen, has finished the school year with a great deal of success.

With a wide variety of student talent to choose from, Mr. Scott, capable faculty director, assembled a group that brought much praise from the public as well as from the student body. The general public enjoys very much the numerous programs in which the orchestra participates.

Both the students and the public enjoy the selections presented at such times as Open House, High School Night, Baccalaureate, and Commencement. These programs give members an opportunity to demonstrate their musical abilities. The members of the group take every opportunity to prove what a high school orchestra can accomplish. Rehearsals for the entire group are held twice a week, with the various ensembles devoting two additional periods to the developing and polishing of the selections played by the group. Any student possessing and demonstrating sufficient talent in playing a musical instrument is eligible for this organization. Mr. Waldo Scott, personally directs the work of the orchestra and spends much of his time giving helpful individual attention to the members.

"Left, right, left, right! Line it up!" These are the sounds commonly heard at Schaffer field at 8:45 a. m. where the band is practicing. The band was unusually busy last fall preparing for the Southeastern Iowa Teachers' Convention at which it presented two concerts. Besides these concerts it had the usual assignment of preparing programs for the football games. This year O. H. S. had an exceptionally large and well balanced band. The marching band was composed of nine full ranks of eight, plus two twirlers, and the drum major. The band played at all the pep assemblies and marched in most of the city's parades. Our band, as usual, was under the direction of Mr. Cleveland Dayton, who is affectionately known as "Prof." This year Wayne Mosier was the drum major with Lola Orman and Dorothy Hyde as twirlers.

During the basketball season the band began practice for the spring concert which is always open to the public. They spent many weeks in preparation for this concert and as a result the audience as well as the musicians enjoyed it. The Band and Orchestra Mothers annually give a party for the personnel of the band and orchestra. Although preparing for concerts, playing at games, marching in parades, and practicing at the field when hands are cold and horns frozen is strenuous work, not one band member would want to give it up. Those in the band feel as though they have an active part in bringing victory to the Ottumwa High Bulldogs.

HI-Y

To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character is the purpose of Ottumwa's Hi-Y. Although their goal is high, the members are striving with all their ability to achieve the principles of the club which are clean speech, clean sports, clean living, and clean scholarship. The Ottumwa Hi-Y is a small fraction of this great world wide organization. The Hi-Y is one of Ottumwa High School's outstanding boys' organizations. Although it has a very small membership, forty-five boys, the club is still important.

Members of Hi-Y attend the annual state convention where they meet new friends and pick up ideas that often prove beneficial to their own particular organization. In addition to attending the state convention, the Hi-Y participates in other school activities. They often have picnics and sports contests with Hi-Y'ers from neighboring cities. The members entertain their parents at "Mother and Son," and "Father and Son" banquets.

The highlight of the club's activities is the sponsoring of the annual Homecoming Day, at which the members have charge of electing the homecoming queen, organizing the parade and sponsoring the homecoming dance.

The officers whom the Hi-Y members have elected are Sid Poling, president; Dick Armstrong, vice president; Jim Osgood, secretary; and Earl Winkleman, treasurer. All the boys of the Hi-Y greatly appreciate the help given them by Mr. Newell of the High School and Mr. Adams of the Y. M. C. A. as advisers for their club.

No introduction is necessary in speaking of the Hi-Tri. This club, one of the largest at O. H. S., flourishes through the efforts of those girls who are interested in promoting a life of service to their school and community, and in learning to overcome the obstacles of future leadership. Those elected as officers of this organization are president, Ruth Carr; vice president, Marilyn Edmonson; secretary, Marion Ask; and treasurer, Emmaline Weeks. Under the supervision of these officers and Mrs. Cox, the Hi-Tri adviser, many good times are enjoyed and much knowledge is gained, so essential to every girl of today.

The purpose of Hi-Tri is to assist all those who join, in overcoming shyness and lack of self confidence in social contacts.

Every girl is taught to give service to the community and to take part in social affairs. All functions of this club are developed through Christian faith and devotion to God. This unity is made possible by group committees. The chosen committees, the chairman, and those assisting are,—service: Ruth Carr, Vivian Gallup; social: Phyllis Ross, Jacqueline Weeks; program: Vada Mourer, Myrtle Owen; membership: Marilyn Edmonson; sports: Alice Clark, Laveta Boyer; worship: Jeanette Grubbs; music: Elva Lou Buckley. These committees and the officers of the club are called the "cabinet". This group holds meetings at different intervals to discuss the future work of Hi-Tri. The combined efforts of the entire club help each girl to be a better "woman of tomorrow."

ART CLUB

The Art Club, one of the busiest of all O. H. S. organizations, is a "bee hive" of activity. Under the expert supervision of Miss Marietta Eighme the "brush wielders" produce exceptionally fine pieces of art. Art Club is open to the members of the art classes as well as any high school student interested in art. The group's adviser felt that pupils, who appreciated art but did not have much artistic talent would not join. This is the reason that the organization is open to one and all. The purpose of the group is to create and develop a better understanding and a finer appreciation of the different types of art. Several times a year members of Ottumwa High School are given the privilege of examining the "finished products" of the members of the department, which are exhibited in the halls. Surprisingly, the art department's work has not been hindered in that it has had very little trouble in securing supplies. This year, as last, art pieces were sent to Iowa City where they were displayed with other high schools' works and rated according to merit. About the only compensation the art student receives is the satisfaction and pleasure he gets from his work.

Once a month the club holds a meeting, which is more or less a social time for those participating in art work. Jack Conder, the social chairman, is assisted by a committee composed of Janet Fiedler, Janet Foster, Ronnie McNamer, and Richard Spurlock. Miss Eighme reported that the enrollment of the organization is constantly increasing. The membership has already exceeded fifty workers. The director helps to stimulate originality and avoid stiffness and formality in her students' work. Art exhibits, placed on the walls, add a festive note to the room and are a source of inspiration. The Art Club officers are: Marilyn Stansberry, president; Lucille Roberts, vice-president; Donna Fishburn, secretary-treasurer.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Commercial Club is organized for the purpose of studying the intricacies of modern business. Its members consist of the students who have enrolled in the commercial classes and wish to learn more about business. They found they learned more by discussing the problems which might arise; so, at the meetings held twice a month they discuss these problems. Many of the members work in down-town stores, and in this way gain more first-hand information about business. Many of these students retain their jobs after the close of the school year. In this manner they come in close contact with civic life, which is part of their training.

The Iowa State Commercial Contest, which is held each year for the students who wish to compete with each other in typing and shorthand contests, is entered by some of the students who are outstanding in either or both. The chance to test their skill with one another arouses the competitive spirit, which is essential if they are to succeed in the business world. All is not work, however, for the parties which have been given have done much to further interest in the club. Without doubt the students attending this interesting club will some day be doing the very things they are now observing and discussing. It would be unfortunate if the information given them by Mrs. Wilson, the club's adviser, is not put to use by the present members at some future date.

Row I—Yvonne McClure, Eva Mae Hollingsworth, Velma French, Miriam Ask, Patty Schoech, Betty Lasley, Peggy Grinstead, Alyce Clark, Emmaline Weeks, Aletha Chadwick, Myrtle Owen, Nadine Grandia. Row II—Mrs. Wilson, Doris Lewzader, Marie Tipton, Frances Gay, Marilyn Edmonson, Jeannette Grubbs, Ruby Carr, Jean Wingate, Joyce Linder, Naomi Pumroy, Betty McBride, Dorothy Dayton. Row III—Laveta Boyer, Louise Peck, Arlene Long, Vivian Gallup, Phyllis Ross, Lola Orman, Betty Rusch, Donna Summers, Paroda Simpson, Dorothy Engstrom, Donna Zellers, Iva Mae George. LIBRARIANS' CLUB

"The hub of information of O. H. S." is a fitting description for the library of the Ottumwa High School. By using this place of study, a student can find almost any material he needs to supplement his class room work. Our library, in every respect, uses the Dewey Decimal System of classification which is used by practically all public libraries. In this system, the numbers found in the card catalogue compare with the numbers found printed on the stacks. This makes it comparatively easy to find any book that is needed. The stacks are revised each year with many new additions to give students a wide assortment of every type of book.

There are approximately thirty students that compose the "Librarians' Club." Under the capable supervision of Miss Irene Galanar, who devotes all of her time to the library, the club takes charge of checking out books, stacking, handling fines, preparing new books for use, and many other duties that are to be found in operating a library. Each member works in the library one period of the day with the entire group meeting there during advisory period. Besides being open the five regular periods of the day, the library is also open during the noon hour and sixth period. At the close of each semester, the Librarians' Club elects new officers for the oncoming year. The following officers have been chosen for this semester: Jane Smith, president; Jack Dungan, vice president; Ralph Curtis, secretary-treasurer.

Started by the students in Senor Hamley's Spanish classes in the fall of 1927 was a new organization, to be known as the O. H. S. Spanish Club. As in times past, this club has two purposes. One is to entertain; the other to educate. Although the primary objective is to give pleasure, opportunities for education are not neglected. To entertain, the club has many picnics and parties during the school year. To educate, the club invites various prominent people to its meetings. Naturally, the club's interest is centered upon the nations of the south; therefore, these lecturers' talks are of a Latin-American nature. To obtain membership in the club a passing grade in Spanish is required.

The officers of this group contribute a great deal to the club's success. Co-operating with Senor Hamley, the adviser, these officers direct the club's program. Holding office for the school year are the following: el Presidente, Senor Gene Glenn; el Vice Presidente, Senorita Marilee Knebel; el Secretario-Tesorero, Senor Jim Hartman; el Jefe de Programa, Senor Ronald Huber. Without Senor Hamley's able assistance much of the group's work would remain undone. The club's friendly atmosphere does much to make new members take a part in the activities. One of the best liked features of the meetings are Senor Hamley's Spanish songs. The final meeting of the year has an exclusively Spanish atmosphere. The customs and dress of Spain are observed, and Spanish is the only language spoken.

Row III—Miss Kasischke, Barbara Orman, Betty Brewer, Mary Lehman, Wilma Jean Williams, Doris Simmons, Betty Clark, Shirley Tull, Connie Martin.

The slogan, "For Home and School," adopted by the Home Economics Club as their purpose for organizing, is used by the members to point out the need of home art in home and school life. At each meeting, committees act as hostesses in serving refreshments. In so doing, the girls acquire skill and learn to become charming hostesses in their own future homes. These and other objectives probably make this club one of the most profitable in O. H. S. Those serving as officers of the club are president, Connie Martin; vice president, Alice Bright; secretary, Connie Vanderhorst; and program chairman, Kathleen Day. These officers and the club adviser, Miss Kasischke, strive to have an enjoyable club for all girls interested in home economics.

The club's work is in reality supplementary to that of the Home Economics department. Here are found courses in home nursing, home management, house planning and decorating, planning, preparing, and serving meals, child care and training, and selecting and styling clothing. The club merely wishes to "touch" all of these subjects so as to keep clearly in the minds of the girls the necessity of knowing the essentials of home management and life situations. Much of this material is learned through the importing of speakers outside of school and the educational entertainment provided by student committees. At each meeting, some type of educational entertainment is presented to the club. Participation in the Home Economics Club gives cultural value to each girl's future.

NORMAL TRAINING

Normal Training is a course given for the benefit of the juniors and seniors who plan to enter the teaching profession. After completion of the two-year course the students desiring to continue are given an examination by the state board. Those who receive the required passing grades are eligible to teach in any rural school in the state. In former years any high school graduate could take a state examination, be ranked in first, second, or third class, and be paid accordingly. Now only students having two years of normal training may take this test, and their pay is set by the school board of the district in which they teach.

The course deals mainly with the subjects to be taught and the methods of teaching these subjects so as to obtain the most desirable results. Besides the regular school subjects, normal training students must take home-economics, psychology, and school management. The normal training group is under the direct supervision of the State Department of Public Instruction and all plans for teaching must be approved by that department. The instructors are given very specialized training, which is also under the direction of this department of the state. After the work of the class has progressed reasonably far in the unique class room, which is modeled after a rural school, the future teachers journey to nearby schools to see and hear the teaching techniques of the practicing teachers. The future leaders of the United States will have to have strong minds in order to fulfill their expected duties as citizens; therefore, their training and education is of fundamental importance. In order to secure their instruction they must attend schools which have able and competent teachers. The training of these teachers starts in the normal training classes of our school. Of course, it continues in the state institutions, but the fundamentals must be secured here.

ALL SCHOOL DANCE

Students pause for refreshments in the cafeteria. The crowd "gathers 'round" to hear Bob Dyke play a little "boogie woogie."

One of the newer forms of entertainment for the students of Ottumwa's high schools has turned out to be a great success. It is sponsored by the board of education and is known as the "All City High School Night." Any high school age student of the tenth, eleventh, or twelfth grade may participate in this popular party. One of the main features of this event is that it is not only for the student body of "O. H. S." but also for the students of the Catholic Central High School.

The gymnasium and cafeteria of the high school have provided excellent facilities and ample room to accommodate every one attending. Music for the dancing is furnished by a student orchestra. A committee appointed by the board takes the responsibility of securing the entertainment and providing the refreshments for the several hundred participants. The school board and faculty made elaborate preparations to make the party a success. They served refreshments to the long line of students.

Three parties were scheduled for the 1944-45 school year.

JUNIOR SENIOR PROM

Last year, as in every year, the climaxing occasion of the school term was the annual Junior-Senior Prom, presented by the students and advisers of the classes of 1944 and 1945. The formal dance was as brilliant a success both financially and in enjoyment by the students as in any previous year. Colorful with the bright spring dresses worn by the girls and the effective decorations in carnival style, the dance floor presented a beautiful picture. Excellent music was provided by the Rhythm Kings" a swing band, brought to Ottumwa, from Kirksville, Missouri. The orchestra was seated in an attractive band stand decorated in the manner of a circus tent with brightly painted cardboard animals encircling it.

The evening was highlighted by two important events; the first was the traditional grand march led by the president of the class of 1944, Charles Eckroat, and his dancing partner. The second, and most awaited event of the evening was the crowning of the "queen of the prom," Miss Darlene Conder. Darlene, Marjorie Greenwood and Delores Barnes were elected by the students.

COACHES

After several months' absence overseas in the service of the Red Cross, Don Newell has resumed his duties as head coach of O. H. S. With Fred Maasdam, as assistant, we have had two exceptionally competent coaches.

Don has been selected coach of football and basketball, with Fred Maasdam assisting him in both of these sports. Mr. Maasdam has charge of track and cross-country running, and together Don and Fred instruct the boys' physical education classes.

The capable business manager of athletics is Mr. Tiede, who takes charge of selling tickets, reserving seats, directing the ushers, and doing other related activities.

New in the coaching realm of O. H. S. was Walter McIlrath, formerly coach of the Muscatine High School, who had charge of the sophomore football team.

With five regulars from the championship squad of last year plus the return of Coach Don Newell from the foreign Red Cross service, O. H. S.' opening hopes were very high. The Bulldogs while smashing eight out of nine conference and non-conference foes also seized the Little Six scoring title by massing one hundred twenty-five points in five conference games.

The sole blemish upon the otherwise perfect record of the squad was a 26-0 drubbing handed them by an aroused and alert Burlington eleven. Easily plowing under the first six opponents, the Bulldogs were stopped short by the stone wall of Burlington. That defeat left the team licking its wounds and seemingly doomed to failure. Springing back from that trouncing, the Bulldogs growled again when Coach Schnack's "Muskie" were mauled to the tune of 23-0. Our boys, in addition to being the outstanding offensive team, was also the second best defensive team in the Little Six conference.

This year Ottumwa again took pride upon being represented on the "All State" football teams. Dick Armstrong was placed by both the I. D. P. A. and by Jack North of the Des Moines Register on the "All State" first teams and Don Ferguson was awarded the backfield position on the fourth team. With an abundant wealth of material from which to choose, Coach Don Newell and assistant coach Fred Maasdam found it difficult to select a starting line-up. An aggregation composed of Armstrong and McKelvey at ends, Ware and Davis at tackles, McElroy and Guter at guards, Olson at center, Ferguson at quarter, McClure and Boone at halves and Kitts at fullback was chosen for the first home game and practically that same line-up started each game during the entire season. Although deprived of both state and conference titles, 1944 proved to be a successful year for football at O. H. S.

These boys practiced faithfully all season with the able assistance of their coach, Mr. Walter McIlrath. The Bullpups had a very successful season, with a record of four victories and one tie.

Row III—Dave Williams, Leon Vaughn, Charles Eckroat, Eugene Stansberry, Jack Williams, George Russell, Kenneth Davis, Allen Rogers, Coach Maasdam.

Under the guidance of coach Fred Maasdam the 1944 track team made an excellent record. Paced by several veterans the team produced outstanding performances. During the season, the Ottumwa High "thin clads" took part in many meets. At the annual Valley Relays in Des Moines they finished in second place, losing to the formidable East High Des Moines track team. But in the ensuing meets they displayed considerable improvement. Blue ribbons were won by the Ottumwans at the annual Oskaloosa Relays, a feat which has been accomplished far too infrequently by Ottumwa teams.

At the Fort Madison Relays, the next event of the season, Ottumwa again earned top honors. It was there that Dave Williams, Ottumwa's outstanding athlete, established a new record when he hurled the discus one hundred fifty-one feet and seven inches. Three other school records were also broken by our team; the 220 yard hurdles, the 440 and 880 yard relays.

Continuing their winning pace, the Bulldogs took both the conference and district relays. They also attended the Grinnell Relays, which features the most powerful teams in Central and Eastern Iowa. Here the Bulldogs again won second place honors.

At the state meet, the most important track event of the season, at which every large high school in Iowa was represented, the Red and White placed fourth, an excellent score for this particular meet.

Although several of the track team members have graduated, we fully expect to have another winning team this year.

BASKETBALL

Smashing their way through a regular schedule of eighteen games with but one loss, O. H. S. cagers racked up an impressive record. Winning from Burlington twice by counts of 37-34 and 40-29, and splitting a pair of games with Muscatine, 38-27 and 28-38, Ottumwa gained a half interest in the Little Six conference title. In tournament competition, Ottumwa was placed in class AA; therefore, did not compete in the Sectional. We came through the District, defeating each opponent by large scores. Burlington, our foe in the Sub-State tournament held at Ottumwa, was defeated by the Bulldogs 28-25. Ottumwa, by virtue of being undefeated in tournament competition, advanced to the state meet. The first round game saw the defeat of a Bulldog squad that was ahead all the way but lost when a "longie," fired by "Chuck" Mason, Muskie forward, broke a 27 all tie.

Two O. H. S. Basketeers were chosen on the I. D. P. A. All-State squad: Don Ferguson, guard, on the first team, and Dick Armstrong, center, on the second lineup. We tip our hats to the four regulars who are seniors and have played their last game for O. H. S.: "Hoot" McClure, Jim Van Antwerp, Dick Armstrong, and Sid Poling. The remaining seniors on the squad served faithfully as reserves. Don Newell and Fred Maasdam, coaches, Mr. Tiede, business manager, Stan Swanson and Jim Davis, student managers, also deserve much credit for giving O. H. S. a great cage year.

GOLF

Row I—Don Koetting, Harold Schafer, Bob Bastron, Jimmy Van Antwerp.
Row II—Sid Poling, Coach Day, Dave Williams

Once again O. H. S. has attained the highest and the most coveted honor the state golfing association can present. As in 1943 our team once more sent ten other competing teams down to defeat in the state tournament. By accomplishing this, the golf trophy again rests in the trophy case of O. H. S. With two veteran golfers graduated and one transferring to another school, the golf coach, Mr. Day, used his remaining "turf-toppers" to make a clean sweep of all opposition. With Bob Bastron's 79-18 hole average sparking the team, Ottumwa first met the Indians of Oskaloosa and the divot-diggers of Newton in a triangular meet. Mastering them, the team moved on to victory over North and East High Schools of Des Moines. The next step was a win over the Centerville foursome and the downing of Catholic-Central High of Ottumwa. Incidentally, it was in 1939 that the Bulldogs gained the Little Six golf championship.

Since that time the team has never relinquished the title. In the state tournament, held at Des Moines, the Bulldogs faced a field of ten competitors; among them were tough pill-poking teams such as Ames, Roosevelt of Des Moines, Boone and Davenport. The team proceeded to play a calm, unhurried game that put them six strokes ahead of the second place winner. By the way, the team turned in the best game score of the season. In addition to this, two O. H. S. club-swingers tied for medalist. Sid Poling and Bob Bastron each needed but 76 strokes to play the circuit. With all playing a "bang up game," O. H. S. captured its second straight golf crown.

Although this year there are but three senior members, the underclassmen should give a good account of themselves. Last year as freshmen, they easily defeated Oskaloosa's second team. With an experienced foursome and with eager reserves, O. H. S. should again "sweep the field."

CHEER LEADERS

"Yea Red! Yea White! Yea Ottumwa! fight! fight! fight!"

On into the game the "cheering four" of O. H. S. lead their band of Bulldogs to battle. The term "battle" should always be classed as friendly, as they not only cheer for victory, but they strive for the greatest asset of any game—good, clean sportsmanship. The Bulldog cheers at every home game and practically every game out of town are led faithfully and enthusiastically by these yell leaders.

It has become necessary to have two teams to fulfill the many duties that are handled by the cheerleaders. Football games find both teams leading the cheering since the student body is spread out over a large section. Both teams are also needed to present the pep assemblies before the games. The second team usually works out a skit for these assemblies to help make them more interesting, adding a little humor to the program and building up the enthusiasm of the students.

The members of the first team this year are; Marjorie Stoltz, Lucille Roberts, Virginia Lee Hazen, and B. J. Zaerr. Virginia Burt, Carol Clausen, Mary Catherine Hutton, and Ronald McNamer make up the second team. Each member of the group is chosen by the number of votes he or she receives from the ballots cast by the students during the preliminary and final election assemblies.

This year the "pep generators" are under the capable supervision of four members of the faculty, instead of only one as it has been in the past. They are Miss Vida Bernau, girls' physical education instructor, Miss Katherine Maasdam, typing teacher, and Don Newell and Fred Maasdam who are boys' athletic instructors. They oversee any of the events that are presented by the leaders.

Although not members of the athletic teams, these cheerleaders can be given credit for many of the victories that the followers of the "Red and White" enjoy.

G. A. A.

The Girls' Athletic Association, which is a national as well as a state organization, is not merely a social group, as it gives the girls excellent health training as well as pleasure. The girls play such games as badminton, baseball, hit-pin ball, and volleyball. They play basketball in tournaments much like the boys' intramural. Besides these games the members do folk dancing and some perform in the water pageant produced by the Shark Club.

An outstanding characteristic of the group is good sportsmanship. All the girls do their utmost to create and develop this spirit. The G. A. A. is sponsored by Miss Vida Bernau, who is also the physical education director.

Each member of this organization strives to obtain five hundred points, which entitles her to a G. A. A. letter. She may select the activities in which she will engage to earn these coveted points. However, only one third of the points may be obtained in any one certain sport. Points may also be won by showing good sportsmanship, passing American Red Cross swimming skill tests, and displaying leadership. After she receives the G. A. A. letter, her efforts are directed toward securing five hundred additional points. These merit her a state G. A. A. pin. She is then able to transfer all her points from this school to any other in the state. The officers of G. A. A. are Marilyn Dodds, Leda Ellis, Corinne Major, Colleen Sibert, and Martha Cudworth; president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and point secretary respectively.

Despite the fact that there are few athletic organizations for girls in Ottumwa High School, the few that are offered always boast a large membership. Such an organization is the Shark Club, an honor swimming society directed by Miss Faye Wensel.

The club is organized for those girls who enjoy swimming and are able to pass the entrance qualifications. These requirements for membership in Shark Club are rigid, and the girls must have considerable knowledge of the art of swimming and diving in order to pass them. It is necessary that this be so, since it is from the members of Shark Club that life guards are chosen to assist Miss Wensel in conducting her daily swimming classes.

This year the Shark Club presented a swimming and diving exhibition for the Open House Program. The highlight of the Shark Club year, however, was the annual pageant which was presented in February. On this occasion, after much careful rehearsing, the swimmers presented a program of expert swimming and diving which followed a definite theme in costuming, music, and lighting effects.

In addition to these activities, the club meets every week in the pool for a period of leisurely swimming and diving to keep the girls in trim condition. At these swims the girls drilled until they attained the final perfection desired for their pageant.

The officers of the Shark Club are Patricia Bremhorst, president; Corinne Major, vice president; Marilyn Story, secretary; and Marilyn Dodds, treasurer.

HOMEcoming

The 1944 Homecoming, as in the past, was an exceptionally gala occasion. All of the events of the day, including a parade, the election of the queen, and the dance, were sponsored by the Hi-Y. Much credit is due to this organization for the success of the Homecoming celebration.

Beginning with a rousing pep chapel at three o'clock, the Homecoming set off to a grand start. Immediately following was the parade, the largest and most colorful in the school's history. Incidentally, the judging of the floats in the parade was extremely difficult, since they were all exceptionally well-planned. Players' and Dramatic Club's float captured the coveted first prize. ning in a dead heat for second place honors were the floats entered by Art Club and N. F. L.

Holding sway over the festivities was the queen, Marjorie Stoltz, and her two attendants, Lucille Roberts and Margaret Amos. Selection of the Homecoming "royal family" was made at an election at which the entire student body of O. H. S. cast ballots.

Thousands of fans crowded the stadium Friday night, but to their disappointment, were forced to return home without seeing the game. At approximately eight o'clock the field lights suddenly went out, and for over an hour the crowd waited in total darkness. A heavy rain had shorted the lighting system and the game was postponed until Saturday night. The lapse of time did not affect the 23-0 drubbing the Bulldogs handed Coach Schanck's Muskies.

Nor did the delay of the game mar the successful Homecoming dance, which was held on Friday, as scheduled.

There was only one regret concerning the postponement of the game. Nearly all of the three hundred students from Muscatine, including their sixty piece band, were unable to remain for the game, and were compelled to return home without seeing the Muskies in battle against the Bulldogs.

CRAFTSMEN

in the Modern Art of Meat Making....

In every worth while product, there is one indispensable element... the sincerity and fidelity of its maker. And that, we believe, includes the selection and training of men and the skillful use of raw materials.

The men who transform pork and beef into the finished Morrell Meat Products are craftsmen just as surely as those who work with wood or metal, only their skill is keyed to standards of fine flavor, expert trimming and cleanliness.

These Morrell craftsmen have the priceless guidance of Morrell's 118 years of experience, which began in Bradford, Yorkshire, England, in 1827. They work with the most modern facilities and equipment.

But, most important of all, they have constantly before them the traditional ideals of the House of Morrell which have always placed quality and craftsmanship far above mere volume.

JOHN MORRELL & Co.

Established in England in 1827 • • In America since 1865

The World is Yours

THE MULTIPLE-SIDED PROBLEMS IN TODAY'S WORLD CHALLENGE THE BEST THAT IS IN YOU, OTTUMWA HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS, AND, ALL OTHER YOUNG PEOPLE.

WE OF ANOTHER GENERATION CAN ADVISE AND SUGGEST, BUT WE ARE NOT UNMINDFUL THAT MUCH YOU WILL HAVE TO SETTLE IS OF OUR MAKING.

WE HAVE AN OBLIGATION, TO BACK YOU UP IN YOUR UNDERTAKINGS. YOU HAVE THE STAMINA, THE INTELLECT, THE ABILITY AND RESOURCEFULNESS TO UNDERTAKE THE JOB—IF YOU HAVE LEARNED FULL WELL DURING THE LAST FOUR YEARS. ON THEM IS BASED WHAT YOU WILL DO HENCEFORTH. THE BEST OF LUCK, ALWAYS.
