

No-till tours are June 12

Anyone who has an interest, or after this erosion-plagued year, a need in no-till farming, may participate in upcoming tours.

They are Tuesday, June 12, at 1:30 p.m. at the Steve Oberreuter farm near Ryan and at 7 p.m. at the Harold Kimmerle farm, near Dundee. The no-till tours are sponsored by the Delaware County Soil Conservation service and the Delaware County Extension service.

Several items will be shown and discussed, such as residue and stand counts, erosion control, herbicide treatments, and insect and disease problems.
