Field days include women's program

Conservation is a family interest for urban as well as rural people so there will be women and children as well as men attending the Iowa State Conservation Field Days and Plowing Match in Hardin county Sept. 5 and 6.

Because women and children are less deeply involved in the technical processes and practices and will have time to spend watching other programs, of interest, a program especially for them is planned in the women's tent and the varied industries tent. The women's program will begin the afternoon of Sept. 5.

At one o'clock Mrs. Jean Clause, home services demonstrator for the Oster Manufacturing Co. will present a demonstration of the home blender and its many uses for daily living and entertaining. At 2:30 p.m. Iowa's Miss Wool, who will be selected during the 1968 State Fair, will be presented to give a presentation of the Miss Wool project and activities.

At 2:45 p.m. Betsey Harris of Linda-Marshall home service department of the Maytag Company will present a fashion show using Hardin county residents as models.

On Sept. 6, the program in the women's tent will begin at 10 a.m. with Richard White, representing Master Products Co., Nevada, and White Sales and Service of Des Moines will present a demonstration on antiquing furniture, one of the recent trends in home furniture refinishing. At 1 p.m. Norma Whaley, home demonstrator for Amana Refrigeration, Inc., will demonstrate its new electronic home range, the Rada-range. And at 2:30 p.m. Miss Harris of Maytag will again be in charge of a fashion show of fall and winter styles.

Mrs. Ethel Marsden of the Carousel Shop, Eldora, will be the mistress of ceremonies for the one and one-half day program.

Models and assistants for the style show will be Diane Tjaden, Linda Kuser, Laura Folkerts, Sara Reimenschneider and Mesdames Diane Paglia, Cora Goodman, Carmen Faust and Lorraine Lehmeier. The Farm Bureau women's committee of Hardin county is in charge of ushering and home economists in the Homemaking Club are in charge of stage assistance.

Committee for the women's program consists of Mrs. Barbara Reisinger, chairman; Mrs. Jane Primus, co-chairman; Mrs. Evelyn Cook, Mrs. Marlene Ziesman, Mrs. Jean Groen, Mrs. Teresa McCarthy and Mrs. Pat Shea. Mrs. Donna Jensen is chairman of the varied industries exhibits.
