THE NURSES' PLEDGE

I pledge myself before my God,
Make this my sacred vow:
To pass my life in purity,
No faithlessness allow;
From every wrong will I abstain,
No harmful drug will give,
Will not partake of these myself,
My motto is: "Let live."

With friendliness I'll do for all,
Each color, race and creed,
By kindness, love and sympathy
To help in every need.
A gentle act, a ready smile,
A happy word of cheer
Brings comfort to a lonely heart
And memories most dear.

I will no confidence betray
To doctors give my best;
To patients give my every care,
My pledge to stand the test.
Forever loyal to my cause,
In word, in deed, in thought.
My standard I will carry high,
My calling I'll exlt.
