

A look at the past

This 51-year old magazine sketch was contributed by Kenneth Koehler. It recounts the National Corn Husking Contest held near Grundy Center in 1931. Note the sketch of Mrs. W.R. Wallace of Beaman who was the champion woman husker. The artist was Frank King, who is a brother of Conrad's Martha Keefer and uncle of Warren King. Frank now lives in Phoenix, Arizona, where he has been a political cartoonist for a newspaper.
