Search Underway For 1964 Queen Of Conservation

A pretty farm girl from the Hardin Soil Conservation District could become Iowa's 1964 "Queen of Conservation."

The "Queen of Conservation" is being co-sponsored by the Soil Conservation Districts of Iowa and the Farmers Grain Dealers Association of Iowa (co-operative).

The contest is open to all single girls between the ages of 16 and 21 who live on a farm in Iowa. The queen will be chosen for her poise, personality, intelligence and personal attractiveness.

The district contest will be held Thursday, July 16 at a luncheon at Blanche and Ethel's Tea Room in Eldora. Entries must have been mailed by July 10 to the local Soil Conservation District office, Eldora.

Member companies of the Farmers Grain Dealers Association of Iowa participating are Farmers Cooperative Elevator, Hubbard; Lawn Hill Cooperative; Owasa Cooperative Elevator; Farmer Cooperative Elevator Company, Radcliffe; Farmers Cooperative Company, Garden City, Farmers Cooperative Elevator, Iowa Falls, Farmers Cooperative Elevator Co., Macy; Company, Ackley, and the Alden Cooperative Elevator.

The two district winners will each receive an engraved sterling charm bracelet and will compete in their area's regional contest to be held at the Butler County Fair in Allison August 1.

One winner from each of Iowa's nine soil conservation district regions will compete for the title of 1964 "Queen of Conservation" in the state-wide contest to be held at the State Field Day in Adel on September 9th.

The state winners will receive a wrist watch and a check for $250. The new queen will also act as official hostess for the Annual Conference of Soil Conservation District Commissioners, Fort Dodge, and appear at the 1965 Convention of the Farmers Grain Dealers Association of Iowa (co-operative), Des Moines.
