Four-Way Stop

Things We Do

There seems to be so many things to do nowadays. From movies to dances, to parties to work, we seemed to have a mixture of each at OHS.

Uniqueness was quite observed in this area. There usually was something for everyone to do, but not everyone's choices of amusement were the same.

Parties were the in thing this year. There seemed to be a party for just any old reason. These parties really gave the students a chance to get to know everyone. It was an opportunity to forget about all the worries and hassles of school and just have a good time.

Movies and going out to eat seemed to be in a close second. The movies "10", Caddyshack, and Ordinary People were very well attended. The openings of Taco John's, Godfather's plus longtime favorites Pizza Hut and Happy Joes were still ever so popular.

Disco dancing phased out, only to be replaced by the traditional dances of the 40's and 50's.

Arcades were once again brought back. Students seemed to like the challenge of trying to beat a game. Even OHS's Student Council Lounge acquired many new electronic games.

Gas seemed to put a damper on the traditional "Scoop the Loop." Kids seemed to think of more economical ways to spend their time and money.

School functions saw more attendance than ever before. It was an inexpensive way to see some great entertainment.

Well, it seems that the OHS students will always have something to do at any given time. There will probably be all sorts of new extracurricular activities emerging in the years to come, but we can honestly say that we have learned from all of our experiences through the years at OHS.

CURVES AHEAD

Fashion '81

What? You paid $40 for a new pair of designer jeans. That seems really dumb when you can get a pair of good old Levis for half the price.

For some people, designer jeans were the only thing to wear. They were said to be really comfortable and they had that label so everyone knew that they were expensive.

Not everyone pays prices like that for clothes but having fashionable clothes was very important at school.

Designer jeans, the Cadillac of the business, are cropping up at discount prices as the battle for the market intensifies. Gloria Vanderbilt, Calvin Klein, Sassoon, and Jordache were among the many jeans that were sought. The styles ranged from the baggy look to straight legs.

If you are a girl, spike heels, tailored boots, baggies, straight legs, and slit dresses were the major essentials.

For guys, surgeon shirts, Nikes, cowboy boots, and straight legs were quite the thing to wear.

The preppy style returned as alligator shirts and topsiders were seen everywhere.

T-shirts seemed to appear with a wide array of logos printed on them. They ranged anywhere from "Mickey Mouse" to "Miss Piggy."

Whether you buy the original, or a reproduction, there's no need to worry because with all the new trends and fads you will always be in style!

Danette Gebel, Kerry Knauer, Juli Kyhl, and Peggy McCabe like the comfortable look.

Dresses with slits were a favorite as shown by Tana Parsons.

The World Around Us-1981

1980. The beginning of a new decade as well as the beginning of many changes in school, in the community, and in the world.

One of the most significant changes nationally was the election of a new president. Ronald Reagan unseated Jimmy Carter by a landslide victory of 489 electoral votes to the 49 that Carter received. This was largely due to the public trend towards conservatism.

On March 30, 1981, our nation was stunned by an assassination attempt on President Ronald Reagan. John Hinkley, a 27 year old from Colorado, fired 6 shots from a .22 caliber pistol outside of a Washington hotel where the President had just finished giving a speech. One shot hit the President, entering his body under the left arm and lodging in his lung. Of the five other shots, one hit the President's press secretary, James Brady, in the head. Another bullet struck a Washington policeman and a third hit and critically wounded a Secret Service man. President Reagan went into surgery and came out 2 hours later. This would normally have been a very trying ordeal for a 70 year old man, but the President made it through with flying colors and even joked with the surgeons upon entering the operating room asking, "I hope you're all republicans."

1980 was a year of many great disasters. On May 18, Mt. St. Helens erupted, heavily dusting 150 square miles of Southwestern Washington state. Thirty-four people died as a direct result of this volcano as well as 28 missing.

Nearly 3,000 people were also killed as a result of the destructive earthquake in Southern Italy.

On November 21, the MGM Grand Hotel and Casino burned, killing 84 people. The fire started in the kitchen and quickly spread throughout the upper levels of the highrise complex. This disaster brought about many investigations into precautionary measures in tall buildings for fire and smoke. It also brought about a greater awareness for public safety.

Locally, three workmen were killed when the Spurgeon's building collapsed while it was being demolished.

Because of Russia's invasion of Afghanistan, the U.S. Olympic Team, on the request of President Carter, decided to boycott the summer games in Moscow. This came as a blow to the athletes as well as the sport fans, but most people felt that the decision was justified. The U.S. Olympic hockey team made up for the U.S.'s lack of representation by winning the gold medal at the winter Olympics at Lake Placid, New York.

January 20, 1981, was a very important day for the United States. It represented freedom for the 52 American hostages that were taken November 4, 1979. These men and women who had been hostages for 444 days in Iran arrived here in the United States as heroes, greeted by millions with yellow ribbons. The eight men that died in the attempt to free the hostages were not forgotten.

Mark Chapman gunned down John Lennon, a former Beatle, on December 8. There were many demonstrations all over the world in memory of Lennon, including ten minutes of silence over most major radio stations on December 14, 1980.

A lot of good things happened at Ottumwa High School during 1980-81. The new gym was completed as well as a complete renovation of the school cafeteria. In Ottumwa, building and renovations were also occurring. Many downtown buildings are being demolished so that newer buildings can be built to bring in more business to Ottumwa. A new K-Mart mall is also in the process of being completed as well as many restaurants like Taco John's, Long John Silver's, and Bishop's.

Ottumwa wasn't hit as hard by inflation this year as a lot of other places, but students in the lunch lines at OHS did feel a pinch when they had to pay a 20 cent increase for lunches. Gas prices are still high but they are leveling off, hopefully, for good. If not, people are willing to make the best of situations by cutting down on travel and by walking and biking. A mild winter was also beneficial in cutting down gas consumption.

Who shot J.R. Ewing? If you haven't heard by now, you must be very out of touch. This was one of the major issues this year. It was news from coast to coast and has created a whole new line of jeans and t-shirts labeled "J.R.'s Private Stock." Other favorite TV shows this year were "That's Incredible" and "Those Amazing Animals." The movies ranged from the humorous "Private Benjamin" and the Academy Award winning film "Ordinary People."

1981 was a year to learn from, Americans will be taking closer looks at gun control, fire safety, terrorism, and inflation. We're on our way to better things, but we must all remember where we've been so far.

PEDESTRIAN CROSSING

The People We Meet

The people that we meet are very important and vital to our whole existence. We grow and learn from their ideas, values, and opinions about us and the world around them. They provide the foundation and key parts for us to be the people that we are and wish to become.

Through our relationships it has been possible for us to gain independence, as well as already having achieved a very valuable education. By having gained these things, we will be better prepared to accept the challenges that we will be faced with in the future. We will explore the many new directions that we may choose to follow while WE'RE ON OUR WAY.

As we look back on the year of 1981, we will always cherish the memories of our friends and the good times that we spent with them.

It seems funny how we always thought it would be great to be a senior, but when the graduation ceremony is over we finally realize that now those 12 years are in the past. We must develop our strengths and weaknesses, talents and skills to be what it is we wish to be.

Organizations

At 6:30 a.m. the alarm clock buzzes. You drag yourself out of bed with only 45 minutes to get ready for the school day. You leave your home arriving at school at approximately 7:30 or maybe after a long day at school you arrive home at 5:30. Why? Because of the much time, effort, devotion and responsibility that is needed to make our organizations the best possible.

Through our participation in these organizations, we explore new fields, learn how to communicate with others, and share new experiences with our friends.

We develop our talents, plan social functions, and offer community and school services.

By being a part of these organizations, we give to our school, but at the same time are receiving something in return — something that will be beneficial for the rest of our lives.

We're On Our Way

Bands Have Successful Season

The members of the Jr. - Sr. Band are involved in many of the schools events. They participate in contests and promote school spirit.

After the football season the band directs its attention to concert music. They perform three concerts and compete in the Iowa Solo and Ensemble Contest.

When basketball season rolls around, the band splits up into several Pep Bands to perform at every home game.

Several members of this year's band participated in honor bands around the state. We should be very proud of the bands at OHS.

Tom Bivens and Monte Goode put all they've got into their music.

Kathy Dutton handles the bassoon well.

They also auditioned for such things as all-state band and Orchestra, Southeast Iowa Honor Band and various college honor bands.

Activities of the band included marching with the juniors and seniors at all home football games, Pancake Days at Centerville, Octoberfest, the Burlington football game, and participation in state large group contest.

Singular members of the sophomore band who have shown outstanding talent are Kim Krieger, John Quinn, Diane Gebel, and Kathy Dutton. These sophomores have been selected for various college honor bands.

Bands Provide A Variety Of Music

What type of organization can provide music from the big band sound to contemporary rock sound as well as learning the basic techniques of jazz improvisation? The Ottumwa High School Jazz Bands.

Although the two bands are separate organizations, they are both made up of dedicated musicians who value music.

During the 1980-81 school year the Jazz Band 1 participated in the Augustana Jazz Festival, and the Washington, Iowa Jazz Festival. Jazz Band 2 competed at Central College and Washington.

Orchestra Is Truly Classical

If you are looking for the kind of music that's inspiring, easy to listen to and just plain classical, you should attend one of the many concerts the OHS Orchestra provides for us.

This orchestra is comprised of two groups, string orchestra with string players alone and full orchestra or symphony orchestra which includes all of the string players plus the wind and percussion players as well. String orchestra rehearses during first period every other day, and full orchestra before school.

Orchestra has a number of activities. The first concert is the Christmas Concert which they share with the chorus, then the late February Concert, then the Fine Arts Festival in mid-March, followed by State Solo & Ensemble Contest, the Tri-cities Music Festival, and finally they play for graduation. Additional students from orchestra perform on student recitals from time to time.

We owe a great deal of praise to our fine Orchestra for the achievements they have made.

Sophomore Chorus and Treble Choir = Hardwork

The activities of the Sophomore mixed chorus this year included a Christmas Concert, Winter Concert and a Pop Concert. The chorus singers learned many fundamental abilities in good choral singing and self-discipline. They also learned an appreciation for the art of singing. Future choral opportunities for sophomore chorus graduates include Treble Choir, Jr. - Sr. Chorus, and Madrigal.

Treble Choir is made up of girls who are hardworking, dedicated, and who just like to sing. Although small, the choir produces a very enjoyable sound. Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors participate in the Treble Choir. Voice quality, voice blend and choral balance are stressed in each rehearsal of the choir.

Jan McDonald and Berdie Copeland seem to enjoy Sophomore Chorus.

Tammy Palmer listens attentively to Mr. Schneider's instructions.

The Best Music

Some of the best music that has ever been sung can be heard coming from the Chorus room. Who is the group that makes this sound? The Junior—Senior Chorus.

This chorus is made up of about seventy-five students who are very dedicated musicians. They rehearse every other day in preparation for two school concerts and one festival. The sopranos, altos, tenors and basses sing four to eight parts, blending their voices together into a full, rich choral sound.

The first sopranos give it their best shot in Jr. - Sr. Chorus.

Dedication Is What It's All About

To be the best possible singer you can is what this group of singers have accomplished. Most of them have spent their entire life improving their musical ability.

The Madrigal is the most selective of all groups in the choral program. Only the more dedicated musicians will find this group rewarding. It demands a great amount of self-discipline, an average or above singing ability, high individual effort and outstanding cooperation and attitude. The madrigal singers responsibilities are very demanding. Community performances, school concerts, and invitational performances, are all part of their yearly activities.

The All-State musicians hardly need an explanation. They are the finest musicians, choral and instrumentalist in Iowa. These young superior musicians come from all over Iowa to assemble in Des Moines and Ames as members of a large chorus, band or orchestra. After hard practice with their fellow all-staters, these high school students put on a concert at the Hilton Coliseum in Ames as a finale to the All-State festival.

It is an experience that is both exciting and rewarding for each student who participated.

Kerry Knauer, Anne Warren, Jami Garmon, and Jill Reardon are assets to the alto section.

Computer Club Offers Skills

The OHS Computer Club is composed of ten students who wish to understand computers and the skills of computer programming.

The computers that are used are the TRX-80 and the Southwest Tech 6800.

This organization's main purpose is for students to share programs and ideas related to computer programming in basic.

Computer Club offers students the chance to learn the techniques of computer programming so that it could be a possible career for them.

Science Club provides the opportunity for the student to explore the uses of applied science in tomorrow's world and gives the basis of scientific research in pure science.

The Science Club member is involved in a wide variety of scientific and ecological experiences throughout the year. Membership is opened to any high school student that has an interest in science.

The Ottumwa Science Club is affiliated with the National Future Scientists of America Club. Regular meetings are held at the Ottumwa High School every first and third Tuesday of the month.

Student Librarians Contribute Time and Effort

What would a school as large as ours do without the few dedicated students who aid students in our libraries?

The library assistants volunteer their services to their fellow students at OHS. Their contributions of time and effort are certainly appreciated because it helps the learning center function more efficiently.

By offering these skills they may earn Torch Club points as compensation for being Student Librarians.

They accomplished all of their goals through the leadership of their officers, Stacy Reinier, Terri Melrose, Lori Arandus, and Donna Wanat.

Memories That Will Last A Lifetime

1981. We're On Our Way. That was the theme for this year's yearbook. To me it symbolized all the experiences and memories that we have had and all that will be to come in the future.

This year was filled with stories, layouts, photo assignments and the dreaded deadlines that we were always trying to meet. We tried to make this book special to everyone.

This book would not have been possible without the hard work and dedication the members of the '81 staff gave to me and this book. They seemed to always be willing to do anything just to keep the work moving at a steady pace.

Last but not least I want to thank my grazfather. I must admit that my grazfather probably didn't know what he was getting into when he asked me to do the book. In the beginning of the year I was so afraid to try anything for fear that it would be dumb or not right at all. All that I really needed was the encouragement and constant reassurance that my grazfather was able to give me. He seemed to always be right there when I became frustrated and started beating my desk. I bet he will never forget the cloud of air that was seen above my head during the first couple of months, or Janet and my constant breakfast break, the bugs that began to outnumber us, and the way that I could never seem to find anything, even after Janet's weekly cleanup.

I think that this book will be more mine than anything else I will ever have. It made my senior year really something special. I also hope that this book will mean as much to you as it does to me. It could not have been done without the participation that you gave to your school and the cooperation that you gave to our staff. You made this book what it is so I hope it is everything you expect it to be.

Shark Club Presents "Some Enchanted Evening"

The 1980-81 Shark Club Pageant held March 9, 10, & 12 in the OHS Swimming Pool was entitled "Some Enchanted Evening," a satire based on fairy tales.

Introducing the Shark Club with a musical rendition of "Some Enchanted Evening" were storytellers Drew Poling and Jill Olson.

Nikki Wohlbold(Cinderella) and Jolene Shindelar(Fairygodmother) appeared in the story of Cinderella.

The Three Little Pigs(Laurie Courtney, Laura Summer, Janice Merkey) and the Big Bad Wolf(Kim Eaton) made the scene as Punk Rock Porkers.

Aladdin(Kristi Banyas) had her wish granted by her trusted "Designer Genie(Lynanne Dyer).

Trying to maintain his youthfulness as a tour guide on a health farm was "Peter Pan"(Jane Bost).

Goldilocks(Anne Warren) managed to raid the home of the 3 bears (Lisa Krafke, Denise Glosser, Kim Dudycha) before getting her hand caught in the cookie jar.

Rapunzel(Brenda Stiles) found fame and fortune by introducing her line of hair care products until the wicked witch(Cherie Brown) locked her up in the high tower for ruining her hair.

Little Red Riding Hood(Emily Williams) is stunned by her liberated grandmother(Lisa Bard) and manages to cross paths with the wicked wolf(Linda Wallace).

The entire OHS Shark Club presented "Happily Ever After Celebration."

Cherie Brown acts out her part quite well as the witch who locked up Rapunzel.

A pyramid was how Denise Glosser, Kim Dudycha, Lisa Krafka and Anne Warren started their routine.

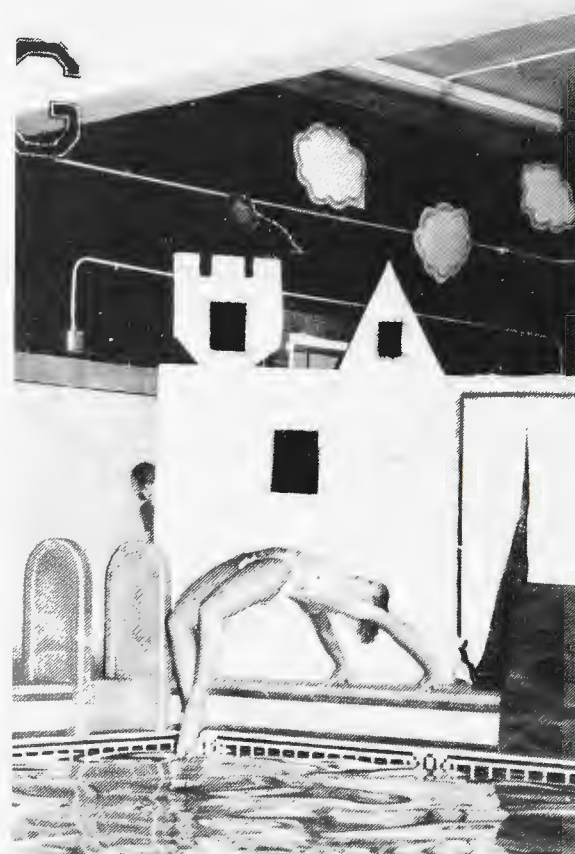

A pinwheel was one of the many routines performed in the finale.

Championship Debate: Stacy Siegel, Sharon Duffy, Barry Huston, Barry Johnson, Shelley Streeby, Janet Beisch.

The OHS Speech and Debate Team is involved in competition from October until the end of March. The 1980-81 season proved to be as successful as past years have been.

The twenty-three member Debate Team won a total of sixty-six team and individual awards during the season. The team was ranked among the top five teams state wide on the State Debate Poll for the fourteenth consecutive year. Ottumwa has won the state title six times, second place four times, and third place four times.

In District IHSSA competition OHS qualified three teams for the State Tournament. There Ottumwa won both first and second places. Barry Huston and Barry Johnson, seniors; and Shelley Streeby and Janet Beisch, juniors, had identical records. At the National Forensic League Qualifying Tournament, Huston and Johnson won the Championship and the right to compete at the National Tournament in Salt Lake City, Utah, in June. Streeby and Beisch were defeated in semi-finals. At that same tournament Drew Poling won first place in Humorous Interpretation, also earning him a trip to Salt Lake City. Streeby and Beisch were defeated by Dowling in the final round of the Iowa Forensic League Qualifying Tournament. Tim Kneen finished in third place in Lincoln-Douglas one-person Debate at IFL.

Seniors Tim Kneen, Dennis Harp, and Barry Johnson and junior Janet Beisch received the Double Distinction Degree from the National Forensic League.

Speech competition is held in the areas of Extemporaneous, Oratory, Poetry, Prose, Impromptu, Humour and Dramatic Interpretation, Radio, Storytelling, Book Review and Public Address. Twenty students competed in speech events for OHS this year. They won fifty-seven trophies and tournament finalist recognitions during the season. In IHSSA State Speech competition Drew Poling and Jill Olson were named Outstanding Performers (All-Staters) in their events. Poling, Beisch and Streeby were finalists in the NFL Tournament. They were also finalists along with Olson at IFL.

Because of its depth in both Speech and Debate, OHS won Sweepstakes trophies at several invitationals and the NFL Sweepstakes trophy.

HERO Accomplishes Many Things

Food service and child care were the two major areas that HERO members worked in this year. The members were given on-the-job training in these areas while at the same time attending school. The HERO program focused on family life and concerned itself with community living, personal growth and career exploration.

The projects accomplished by HERO this year were many and diverse. These included holiday parties at Smith-Warren, caroling at Ottumwa Manor, and participation in Ottumwa Clean-Up. They also worked with the March of Dimes.

Rewards for the chapter's efforts were given by the State of Iowa and the Ottumwa Chamber of Commerce through recognition of HERO'S youth involvement.

Office Education Has A Busy Year

Sherri Farrington does her filing in Office Education.

The Office Education Association is designed to develop leadership abilities, interest in the American Business System, and competency in office occupations. They are an organization that operates at the state and national, as well as local, levels.

Many things were accomplished by OEA this year; among them were numerous fund raising projects and social events.

OEA also had other projects in two areas, service and personal grooming. In the service area OEA adopted residents of Ottumwa Manor and gave food baskets to the Salvation Army. In the personal grooming area they had speakers on grooming and proper attire for the office and personnel directors.

Other projects of OEA this year were their state and national conferences, and one special highlight of the OEA year was the election of Jenny Rose to the office of state vice-president.

All in all, OEA has had a busy and eventful school year.

A Year Of Achievements

Throughout the year, DECA students have been working toward a common goal-to become future businessman and women. They have studied the areas of marketing, merchandising and management, and used these studies to further their knowledge of business.

Their skills in business were proven in their activities this year: State Delegate Assembly, Area and State Leadership Conference, National Conference, held in Anaheim California, the Employer-Employer Banquet and their many sales projects.

This year nine students qualified to go to Nationals and many more won awards at Area and State Conference. Through the Chamber of Commerce DECA also won a youth-involvement award in helping make Ottumwa someplace special.

This year, the VICA chapter has been involved in many community activities. These activities included establishing a railroad crossing, decorating the Mall with Christmas lights, sponsoring a Salute to Industry, and holding a bus survey.

In the Ottumwa School system they have held a safety poster contest, held a skating party, and window painted Mr. Quicks for "Support Bulldog Day."

The VICA chapter has also been awarded a certificate award for outstanding achievement by the Ottumwa Chamber of Commerce.

Spanish Club Learns Culture

The Spanish Club is to provide Spanish students with a fun-filled way to learn more about the Spanish speaking culture. It allows students to get to know students from other schools and each other better. It also provides a look at some of the occupations that speaking Spanish could be useful.

Included among the many things that the Spanish club did was to put on a Christmas program of skits, songs, and many other things. They also took two trips to Des Moines to see such things as dances and plays.

This year's Spanish Club took first place at Central College for a Foreign Language Field day on an advanced level. They also received many division I ratings at Kirksville Academic Festival.

Radio Club Communicates With Others

This year is the second year for the Radio Club. It is a small club but offers many opportunities for persons interested in the fields of communication. It improves a student's learning of the arts of amateur radio communications. They have contacted 23 radio stations with their radio this year.

The Future Teachers Club is a club designed to give students interested in the field of education a look at what it is all about by listening to guest speakers from various fields of education, tutoring in elementary schools and taking trips to different places.

This year the Future Teachers Club took a trip to U.N.I. to examine the teacher education program, and also a trip to local elementary schools.

Argus News Hits 53 Years

The Argus News has been part of OHS for 53 years. During this time, it has received high ratings from Columbia Scholastic Press Association and National Scholastic Press.

Editors attend a week-long summer journalism workshop at the state universities. This year, 10 staff members traveled to Iowa State University, Ames, for a one-day journalism seminar.

The 22 staff members work together to publish the student newspaper seven times a year. Papers are then mailed to the students' homes.

Staff members are responsible for reporting, photography, sales, and layout of the paper. This year's editor-in-chief was Rhonda Johnson. Shane Lynch was photo-editor and Steve Yarger was business manager. Lynn Davis has advised the Argus News Staff since the 1979-80 school year.

Rhonda Johnson and Sue Wise put a lot of hard work and effort on the newspaper.

Copying layouts was quite a familiar task for Rhonda Johnson and Sue Wise.

Key Club Fights Back

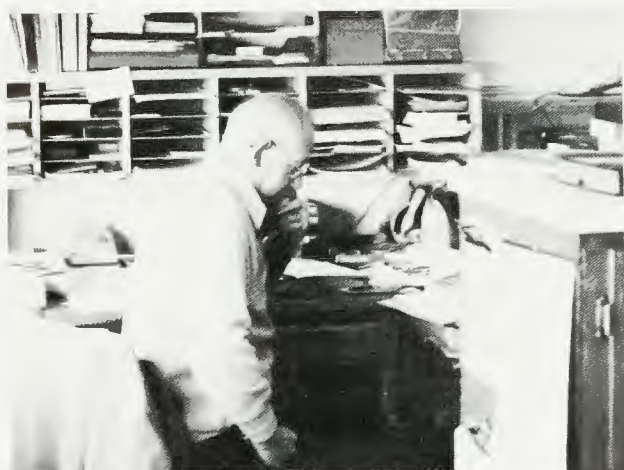

Key Club: Row 1 - Mary Smith, Julie Hermann, Sue Wise. Row 2 - Cheryl Evers, Renee Choe, Sarah Cochran, Vicki Caviness.

The Ottumwa High School Key Club is a club that is fighting back. This group of students is dedicated to bettering their community, but due to lack of members, they are directing their energies toward building the club up this year. Key Club, once an important part of high school life, has dwindled to a membership of ten people, but those ten people are fighting hard to bring the club back to its former standards. Key Club's main project this year has been the sale of candy bars and M & M's. This money will go toward helping the Key Club to go to an international convention from which they will bring home new ideas to help build the club back up. Key Club is a fun and exciting part of high school. Try it, you may like it!

A.V. Staff Keeps Film Rolling

The Audio - Visual Club offers students the opportunity to run audio and visual equipment. The students learn how to use these instruments by helping Mr. Potter tape sporting events, concerts and school plays.

In the spring A.V. took two trips; one to Iowa City, the other to the Amanas. The members were able to fund these trips through the money they made running concession stands at games, candy sales, and other miscellaneous fund raisers.

Upward Bound Travels To Pella, Iowa

Upward Bound: Karen Peek, Vernon Hoskins, Rhonda Wagner, Jeff Morrow, Vicki Caviness, Mike Patterson, Jeanne Caviness, Julie Wilkins, Cindy Kuder, Bob Irwin, Vida Sisco.

Upward Bound is a preparatory program designed to generate the skill and motivation necessary for success in education beyond high school among young people with college potential but from low socio-economic backgrounds.

The program is held for six weeks at the Central College Campus at Pella, Iowa. Classes are held, along with special interest meetings and recreational activities for the students. Each school has its own target coordinator working with them.

Accomplishments Were Many

The Student Council serves to keep students active throughout the year planning activities. They also serve to take ideas and complaints to the administration. The members of the Council learn to communicate with others and to serve in a leadership role.

Thirty students are chosen each year by their advisory representatives to be a part of the Council. Many projects could not have been accomplished without the aid of Student Council. The projects that were completed this year were the remodeling of two bathrooms, remodeling of the cafeteria, landscaping of the picnic area, an ice cream machine for the lounge, a stained glass arch above the door entering the lounge and many discos throughout the school year.

Officers elected for the 1980-81 Student Council were President Mel Pieper, Vice President Rob Radosevich, Treasurer Becky Forgy, Recording Secretary Jolene Shindelar, and Corresponding Secretary Ann Kent. Also, two members were elected to the South Central Student Council, Jill Olson Vice President and Liz Ward Treasurer.

Drama Groups Present Two Productions

Beginning in the fall with their production of Tell Me That You Love Me, Junie Moon, starring Kathy Hennen, Glen Gould and Jeff Morrow, and moving all the way through the year to their spring production, The Bad Seed, the OHS Drama Club has shown a multitude of extremely talented young actors and actresses.

In addition to their spring and winter productions, the Drama Club presented a public performance of the six events they took to state contest. They have also participated in Drama Workshops at the University of Iowa, Iowa State and Central College.

One of Drama's monthly projects was their trip to the five nursing homes of Ottumwa to involve the citizens there in creative drama.

Another trip they took, in the spring, was to the Tyrone Guthrie Theatre in Minneapolis where they studied professional acting skills.

The biggest accomplishments of Drama this year were the 1st place trophy they won in Reader's Theatre at the Brindley Tournament at University of Iowa and the clean sweep they made at district tournaments qualifying all of their entries for state contest.

Drama has definitely shown their talent through their many plays and contests.

Student Life

It's now five till three. Students are pacing the floor anxiously waiting for the three o'clock bell to ring. Now only five more seconds. Now four, three, two, one, ring. Hundreds of students can be seen running out the doors, hopping into cars, and racing down the street. All are trying to get home and prepare for the many activities that were to come that weekend. Games, dances, movies, and parties were quite the things to do.

Although some may think that school is all books, they're really very wrong. Through school we meet our friends whom we share the great times of our life with. The activities that we do and the people whom we participated with shaped our lives more than we realized. They will always be remembered for their friendship and support that were given in the good times and in the bad.

We're On Our Way

"Everybody's Workin' "

After one terribly long day at school, you sit and wish that you could be one of those who would have the evening free to do whatever you liked. But no, you are one of among many who are part of the working world.

It seemed like more students than ever were a part of the working world. Over $\frac{3}{4}$ of the OHS student body hold down part-time jobs.

Why do high school students want jobs now when they will be working the rest of their lives? Some say it's to pay for their college, to be able to own a car, to pay for a girlfriend's every whim, the experience that may someday come in handy, or just to have a little extra money.

The jobs that students participated in were of various natures. There were salespersons, auto mechanics, stockboys, and the deliverymen. The most favorite places to work seemed to be Happy Joes and HyVee.

With so many new businesses opening up, such as Taco John's, Country Kitchen, a new K-mart and a mini mall, there will be even a greater opportunity for the high school student to gain experience in the working world.

With such experience, a student will be more able to explore the wide variety of fields that are open to him and that may fit his potential.

Intramurals Are A Success

Have you ever heard of The Amazing Flying Banana Men, or The USSR (United Suicide Space Rangers)? Well, if you haven't, you must have missed out on the OHS Intramural action this year.

More people seemed to take an interest in the intramural action this year. Intramurals gave students a chance to just play a few games of basketball with some friends. The tenseness of competition seemed to be absent from these games but the jokes and tricks were always present. Each team's enthusiasm and spirit was high and their participation was great.

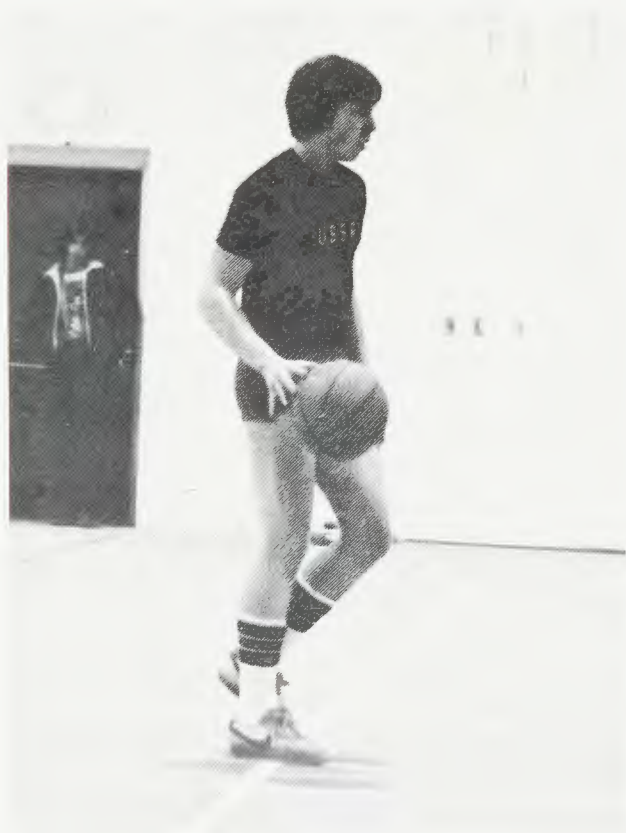

Some of OHS'S more creative minds came up with very unique names this year. There were the Trojans, The Rock Brigade, and The Rolling Stoners for the guys. For the girls, there were The Babes, A.V.'s, The Misfits, and The Speed Demons.

The Trojans were the 1981 Intramural Champs for the boys, and the A.V.'s were the Champs for the girls teams.

The foremost objective of these intramural games was to have a good time doing what you like to do. With each team's talents and abilities the 1981 intramurals were a success.

Leanne Hogarth Comes To The U.S.

Leanne Hogarth is an exchange student from Sydney, Australia, who is staying in Ottumwa for the year of 1981. She has been here now for four months, attending the high school and during her stay she'll be living with four different families. Her first family was the Hohn's where she experienced a touch of Mexican culture. She lived with them for three and a half months learning and experiencing many new things about living away from her own country and family. Her present family is the VonSchrader's and her preceding families are the Fletcher's and the Gibson's.

During her stay in the U.S. Leanne will be taking a month off in summer to go on a bus trip touring the U.S.A. with other fellow exchange students. The advantages of being an exchange student outweigh the disadvantages and the great opportunities and experiences one receives are innumerable and are to be treasured for the rest of their lives.

Going to a high school in another country, Leanne is able to appreciate the differences in the schooling system, the classes and different activities and sports the students are involved in. Leanne attended a private girls school in Australia where uniforms were mandatory (as in the case of all Australian schools). "American Schools have a greater range of subjects to choose from," Leanne said. "To do subjects such as typing or psychology, you have to attend a college or university. The range of subjects of U.S. schools are better so you can have an idea of what you are interested in for after graduation. The choices are easier to make for college. Colleges in Australia are generally fine but you can only enter them if you excel in the field school exams, which are statewide. Once accepted, Australian colleges and universities provide a wide and varied range of subjects with very high standards."

"Australia itself is as big as the U.S. yet only has a population of 14 million. The vast masses of land in the outback of Australia is desert and inhabited by aborigines or cattle stations. The majority of the population lives in the southeast part of Australia which includes the major cities of Australia-Brisbane, Sydney, Canberra, Melbourne and Adelaide."

This productive area is fertile and luscious and produces many of Australia's finest export trades, crops and industry.

The youth exchange program is a tremendous adventure in the fourth avenue of Rotary service since each year it enables many hundreds of students to travel to distant parts of the world to study for one year in an entirely different environment than their own. The impact this program will have on international relations in the future is incalculable, but perhaps more important is the impact that the program will have on the lives of the students fortunate enough to participate in it. These young people will be the leaders of their communities in the future.

"So far, I have really enjoyed my stay in Ottumwa and hope to return here after my year is over. America is a really exciting and fun place — but then again, so is Australia!"

Dawn Hobbs Travels To Norway

Dawn Hobbs traveled to Rena, Norway, in August of 1979 and returned in June of 1980. This trip was sponsored by the Rotary Foreign Exchange.

Rena is a town with the population of 4,000. It is approximately 20 miles from the Swedish border.

She lived with two families during her stay in Norway. Tore Lomo, her first host father, is one of Reno's two doctors. The Lomo's had one daughter living at home. Lisa was just like a little sister to Dawn; she was very interested in America and American people.

The Meglels were Dawn's second host family. The Megeles' oldest daughter, Maria, was an exchange student here in Ottumwa in 1978. She hopes to return in June.

While in Norway she attended two types of schools. The first school was the first year of Gymnas. It is equivalent to our sophomore year in high school. The second was called Husmorskole. Husmorskole is a school in which girls learn the basics of home and child care. This school is needed to enter many professions in Norway.

The schools in Norway seem to be much more serious than schools in the U.S. After graduating the students are only there if they are very serious about studying. The students know what is expected of them and they know if they don't do it they aren't kept in school.

"The winter was one of the most outstanding things in my year. Winter lasts from September til April. It is as if the sun disappears during winter. The sun may rise at 11:00 o'clock in the morning and set at 2:00 in the afternoon. It would get to -40° with three feet of snow. Summer proves to be just the opposite with sun all night long and warm weather.

"I did quite a bit of traveling during my time in Norway. I went as far north as you can get on the train system, was inside the arctic circle, and visited Oslo, the capitol city of Norway, many times.

Dawn learned very much about her own country by being away from it for a year. She learned how other nations look at America.

"The Norwegian people are very liberal and open in every aspect of their lives. The kids are left to make their decisions themselves, and because of this freedom they usually do the right thing.

Norway is a beautiful country with its mountains and ocean scenery. Some day I shall go back."

Weekends, Ah!

"Thank God it's Friday!" "I live for weekends!" or "Let's party!" were just a few of the exclamations that could be heard through the halls as the end of a long week drew to a close.

Throughout high school, there are two out of the seven days that many students look forward to the most. These, of course, are called weekends.

The activities from group to group were always changing and varied. Keggers could be found many weekends as could playing the many electronic games, cruising the loop, going out to eat or to the last standby, a movie.

A kegger seemed to be the one time when a large group of people could get together for a blast (or get blasted). This form of party was large and noisy! After a cold night in the football stadium, it didn't take much time for one of these parties to get going. You knew after that 3:00 bell rang on Friday afternoon, there would be a party at a student's house, at the lake, or at the widely acclaimed lagoons that night.

Pinball machines, space invaders and all other electronic games very popular this year. They could be found in just about any eating establishment as well as Ottumwa's new electronic game places, The Hole and Funtronics.

Cruising the loop was always fun for those who enjoyed people-watching. Driving around downtown always was different, perhaps because one never knew what would happen around the next corner. There was always that element of danger!

FOOD! The mere mention of the word would set some people in hysterics. Junkies seemed to be constantly filling McDonald's, Happy Joe's, Wendy's, and the favorite Pizza Hut. It seemed when all other plans fell through or when there was nothing else to do, people would go out to eat.

Theatres in Ottumwa offered a wide array of films. Movies were one place to forget problems and go into another world. It seemed everyone enjoyed movies. For those who wished to save money the new thing was HBO (Home Box Office).

Recreation time was important to all, at times seemingly more so than anything else.

Weekends were on everybody's mind as seen by this student's t-shirt.

A group of senior guys get in on some early partying.

The drive-in seemed to be a good form of entertainment.

You can tell the three o'clock bell has rung by the actions of these senior guys.

An empty bottle brings back memories for all.

"They Really Are Special"

Special Olympics brought many athletes together.

This year's Special Olympics district competition was held on April 11, 1981, in Mount Pleasant, Iowa. As the athletes prepared to march in, a little nervousness and anxiety could be seen by all. They wanted to win, but if they could not they would be brave in the attempt.

Special Olympics is an international sports program for the mentally disabled. It was created by the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. Foundation. Iowa Special Olympics provides an opportunity for the "Special" athlete which normally was given to only the "gifted" athlete. The events of competition are basketball, bowling, frisbee, run, dribble, and shoot, soccer, swimming, track and field, volleyball, wheelchair track, and annual art contest.

We are very proud of these athletes because they give their all as well as giving to the success of others. They really are "special" athletes as well as students at OHS. Congratulations to all the winners for your hard work and dedication.

Homecoming '80: A Week To Remember

Homecoming Week started off in just the perfect way. Monday was dedicated as a day of mourning for the Cedar Rapids Jayhawks (black day). The Powder Puff game will probably be remembered by all. Never before have two teams played so hard and ended in a tie. The first annual greased pig contest, won by Mike Vittetoe, was an ever popular event.

Crying a flood for the loss of the game was the theme for High Waters Day. Tuesday after school was the banana eating contest. Seniors were credited for winning that event. Wednesday was No Sweat Day in relation to the Bulldogs having to shed no sweat in the victory over the Jayhawks. Marty Kreutz-bender took first place in the rootbeer chugging contest that night.

Thursday was Backwards Day. This was to illustrate how the Jayhawks would play the game.

Students showed their school spirit by wearing their clothes inside-out. Thursday night was the Homecoming parade through downtown Ottumwa. The junior float placed first, sophomores second, and alternative school third.

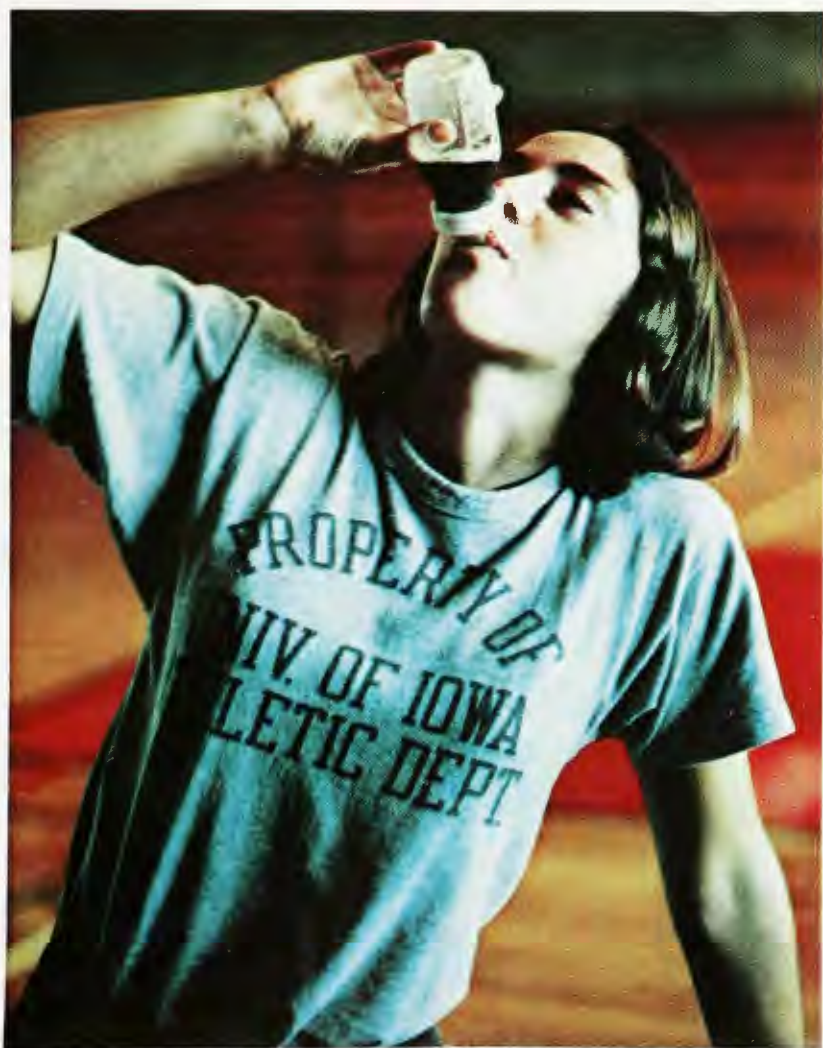

Then came the day of the football game. That day, of course, was red and white day. The crowd for the game was the most there had ever been. It was a hard fought game, but the Bulldogs just could not come up with the extra points needed to win. The Bulldogs went down to defeat 17-14.

The Homecoming dance, Saturday night, wrapped up the events for the week. King Brian Warren and Queen Theresa Bradley reigned over the 1980 Homecoming dance.

The 1980-81 Homecoming week will be long remembered in the years to come.

The Thursday night bonfire at Shaffer Stadium picked up everyone's spirits even though the Bulldogs lost to Cedar Rapids Jefferson 17-14 (inset).

Fine Arts Festival Provides

OHS's annual Fine Arts Festival for students involved in art, music, and drama was presented March 18 in the Ottumwa High School Auditorium.

This year's festival was divided into two parts. The morning portion was presented by a guest trio which performed classical string music. The band, orchestra, chorus, drama, and art classes displayed their talents in the afternoon.

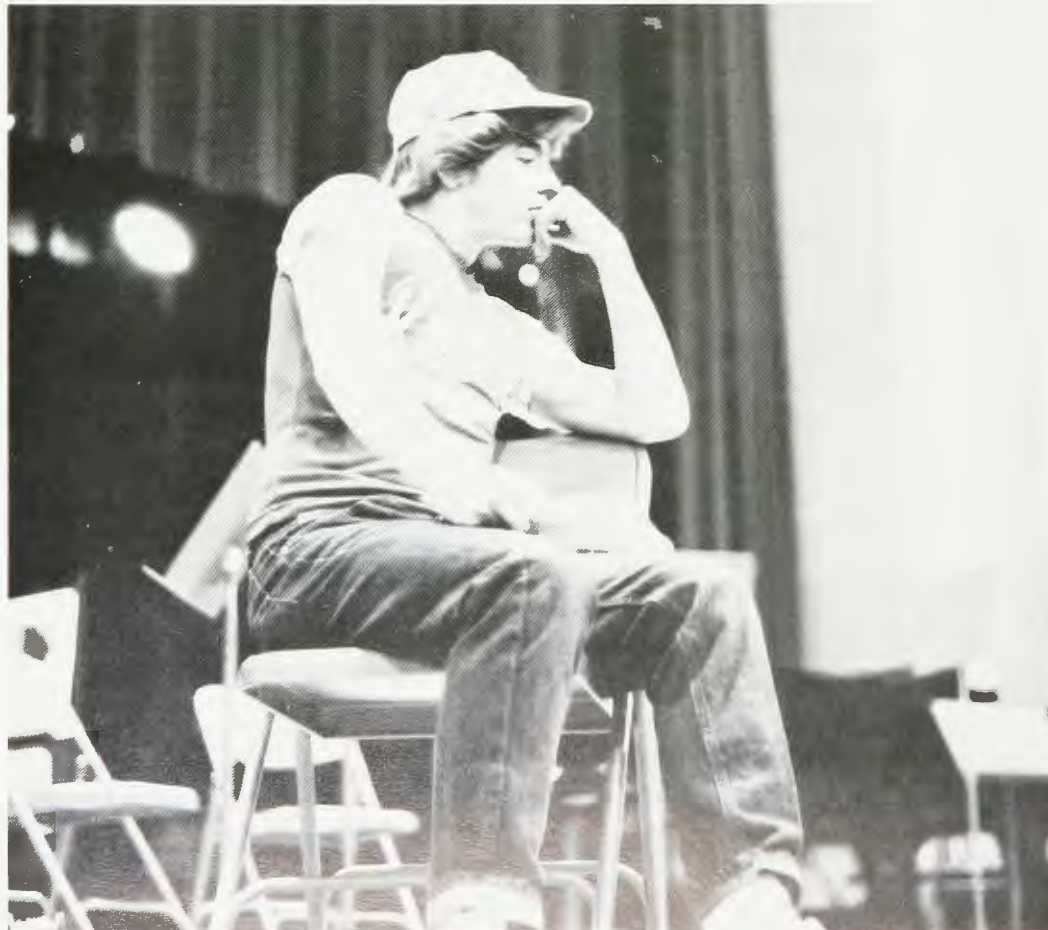

This year's guest performers were members of "The International Trio" for the University of Northern Iowa. Howard Aibel played piano, Vasile Beluska played violin and Stefon Reuss played the cello. They have travelled to many countries, won many honors, and have acclaimed recognition for their splendid musicianship.

The Fine Arts staff personnel feel that a Fine Arts Festival is important. It gives the students a chance to perform their talents to classmates as well as gaining valuable experience for the future.

This year's students seemed to strive to do their best in each presentation they participated in. We should all be proud of the fine young talented students we have at Ottumwa High School.

ROWS Week A Total Success

ROWS Week (Recognition of Winter Sports) is an annual event sponsored by the Student Council to recognize and conclude a great season of winter sports.

The Week started off with a jello-jump. Yes, you may find it hard to believe but students actually jumped into a barrel full of jello. After being dunked, the students were supposed to dive to the bottom to pick up golf balls in their mouths. Prizes were given according to the number on the balls.

The returning greased pig contest was the activity for Tuesday. In this contest students tried to catch an actual greased pig. To do so it might have looked easy but they soon found out differently.

Wednesday was the setting for the tug-of-war. The teams competed according to total weight. Class prizes were given away to the winners. Also that night a film festival was held. This seemed to be a very popular event with attendance reaching an all-time high.

The Second Annual Bed Races were held Thursday evening. Participants had to make their own beds consisting of a mattress and four wheels, four riders and four pushers. They were judged on speed and originality. Just over the finish line was a bed pushed by Tim Myers, Randy Martsching, Allan Hughes and David Schmitt along with rider Deanne Johnson, Julie Sieren, Stacey Brightwell and Barb Hennen. This team also won the originality award.

A variety show was held Friday night. Many students displayed their talents to the sell-out crowd.

Concluding ROWS week was the annual disco-dance Saturday night.

"You Can Go Your Own Way"

It seemed like everyone was "Goin' Their Own Way" and doin' their own thing the night of the 1980-81 Jr.-Sr. Prom. Formal attire still could be seen as tuxedos and long dresses appeared in every possible style. The big dinner beforehand seemed to set the evening off just right. Many students ventured to Bloomfield, Oskaloosa, and even as far as Bonaparte in a traveling motorhome to make this prom something special.

As you took your first steps over the bridge into the famous old drab gym, you were amazed to see all the colors of spring blossoming before you in a wonderful array of colors. Flowers, murals, and streamers were seen in every imaginable place. These decorations seemed to add just the right touch to set the mood that would be felt throughout the whole evening.

The great sounds that could be heard coming from the gym were provided by the band "Labyrinth." This band, unlike all the others, provided just the right music for everyone. No one could be seen just standing there; everyone was getting into the act and having a good time.

The common rest area, the balcony, was used by many people along with the traditional prom pictures that will be treasured for a lifetime.

To everyone who attended the 1981 prom, it was a success. To many seniors it brought a shedding tear as it was a final realization of how close graduation and the end to their high school days really was. It will be a night long remembered while each and everyone one of us are going our separate ways.

Looks Like We Made It

The occasion was graduation. It was a long awaited date for the class of '81. It had seemed like an eternity for the senior year to finally arrive.

As the graduates began to arrive statements like "Is my cap straight," "How do I look," and "Which side does this thing go on anyway" were heard all around.

As the processional began, nervousness was felt by all. Plans of the future and thoughts about the past were felt by all. Then the part came that the seniors had worked so hard for - the diploma, stating that they were no longer students at OHS but Alumni. One by one the seniors approached the podium to receive the diploma that signified they were no longer seniors but graduates.

Mixed feelings of anxiety and sadness filled their hearts, they were anxious to face what lay ahead of them, yet sad to be leaving friends and teachers they had grown to love.

As the graduates yelled their last class yell, tears could be seen as they said their goodbyes to classmates, making plans to see each other later, the graduates of 1980 walked off into the night to face whatever lay ahead of them.

PEOPLE

Day after day the same old routine. Early mornings being shoved into lockers, tardy bells, and, of course, tests filling our busy days. The people whom we encountered at school became our friends; we shared the most exciting and important times of our lives with them.

Every class contributed its own special part into the success of our school. The seniors were the leaders. They seemed to set the whole pace for the school. The juniors waited anxiously for their turn next year and the sophomores quietly kept to themselves praying that no upperclassmen would play any of the old school tricks on them.

As you look back to the year of 1981, remember that school isn't always learning from books. It is also a chance to learn to get along with others.

Through our friendships we will have gained all the ingredients that it takes for us to be successful.

— We're On Our Way —

SENIORS

When a student reaches his Senior year he suddenly stops to wonder where the years went. There always seemed to be another year, but now there will be no more.

As the year progresses it gets harder and harder to fill your mind with an upcoming test, term papers, or a creative project. Instead, you find yourself thinking about the Prom, play rehearsals, a sports event or the party last weekend.

The worries of what classes to take change to decisions of which college to choose, what job to proceed with, and the career you feel will best fit your talents.

Trying to recapture memorable experiences seemed to be what every Senior strived for. Memory books and Senior pictures were a very popular thing.

A Senior looks back on every moment as something special. He always thought he wanted to be free from the worries of school but finds that he will no longer have the protection of those high school years. He must now become an adult and be ready to accept any challenge that may come his way. The future will entail only what effort he wishes to put into the process of building it.

It just doesn't seem so easy sometimes. When you were a sophomore, you dreamed of being a junior, but now that you've reached your junior year it just isn't as carefree as you thought it would be.

During your junior year, you must establish who you are and what your priorities and goals will be. You look down upon sophomores as being immature and look up to seniors as idols or people that you wish you were like.

Your junior year is a time when you first must establish who you are, and then proceed on with the future.

Jill Olson seems deep in thought about something.

Academics

It's 8:20 a.m. Only ten more minutes until the first class begins. Students can be seen running down the halls trying to get to first period class without having to get one of the dreaded yellow tardy slips. It seems so hard to get through that first class, but after that the day seems just to breeze by.

Changes occur each year and this one was no different. Classes changed to meet the changing needs of students.

There was a wide variety of classes to choose ranging from Family Living to Lit. Masters. This opportunity gave students a chance to explore new fields and start preparing for their goals in life.

It seems that some students come to school just to make their presence known, and to get that diploma, but for most it's an opportunity for them to build their futures and try to outline their goals.

Each class had its own uniqueness, after all, no two people are the same. So a teacher's way of presenting the material would be different also. Nevertheless, all of these methods were combined together to make the OHS staff a whole.

With the help, encouragement, and praise from our teachers, more time was being spent on academics. The teachers made school more interesting and thereby encouraged the students to try harder.

For the students who tried, there was a lot to get out of each class, an education that would last a lifetime. For those that didn't, they will always remember their mistake and strive to make up for what they have missed.

We're On Our Way

Mr. Dye Retires As Principal

This school year of 1980-81 will be the last for our principal of 16 years, Lewis E. Dye.

Few of us stop to think that Mr. Dye's job means much more than resting his heels on his desk and ordering the wheels of the Ottumwa High School to turn.

But it does. It means that the voice of authority comes from a man who has proven himself capable of directing a complex organization.

In 1958, Dye joined the Ottumwa School District, becoming our high school's first vice-principal. Later in 1964, he became our principal.

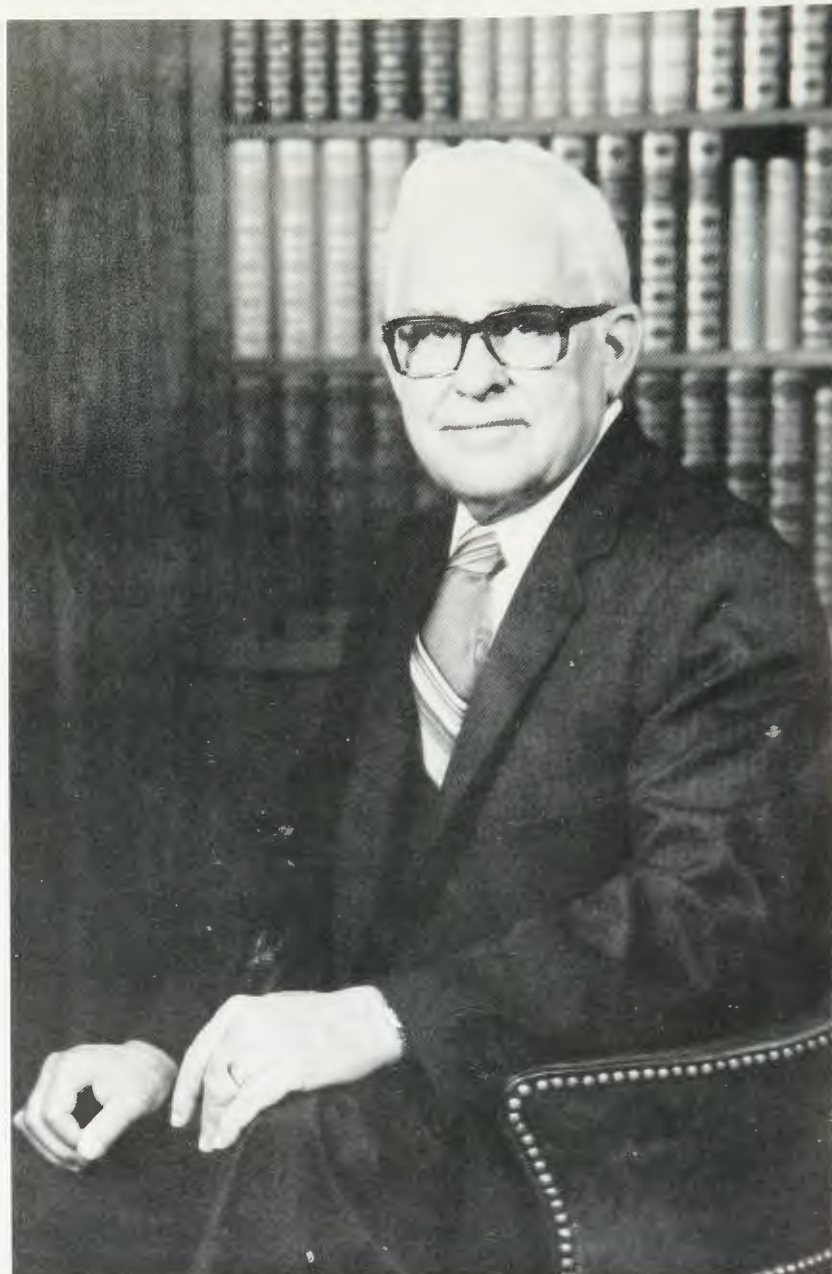

An Oskaloosa native, Dye received his Bachelor's Degree from William Penn College, and his Master of Arts Degree from the University of Iowa. He completed graduate work at Drake University and Northeast Missouri State University.

Before joining the Ottumwa School District, he taught and coached at Batavia, and at Sam Houston (Texas) High. He also taught at Bloomfield Junior College and Villisca High School. He also served as Wapello High School's principal for 8 years.

"I think Ottumwa High is the greatest. I really mean that," Dye said. "We have a fine faculty and staff and are one of the leading schools in Iowa. I feel very fortunate to have had the opportunity to principal this school."

And we at Ottumwa High School want to express our gratitude for Mr. Dye's untiring efforts toward the betterment of our school.

To everyone he is a well-known and much honored person, and we are sorry to lose him as our principal.

Guidance Looks Toward The Future

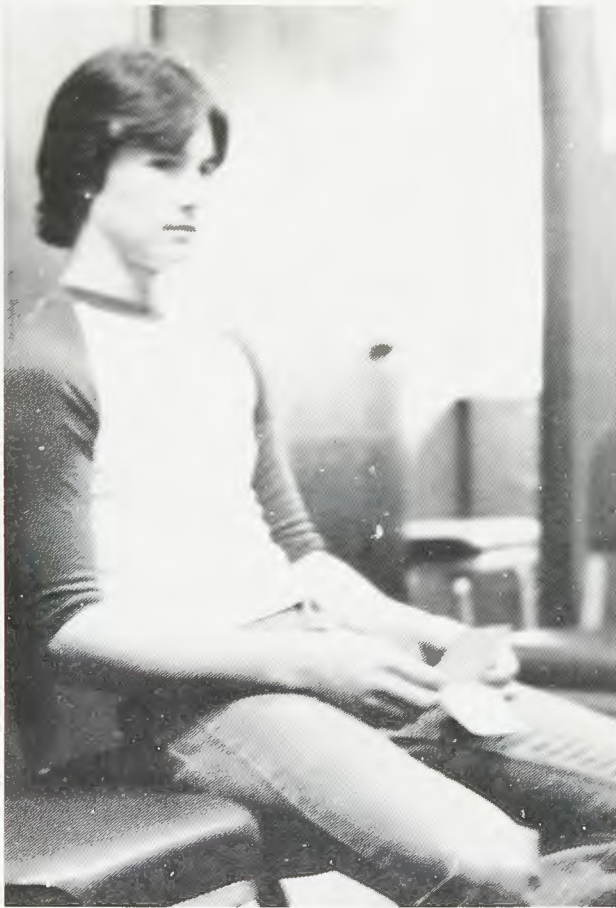

This year the counselors continue to focus on curriculum planning, career exploration, post high school plans, and social-personal development through individual conferences and small groups.

The guidance and counseling facilities were improved this year to enhance the atmosphere for students being assisted in developing personal skills, knowledge, and experiences in making choices, decisions, and plans leading to a useful and satisfying life.

The Career Information Room in the Guidance Office has been doubled in reference material to assist a student in exploring careers, financial aid, and post secondary education and/or training. The guidance department library of reference materials has been increased at the alternative school also.

Library Serves All Students

It seemed the word library had many different meanings for students.

The library was a place for quiet study, for relaxation, or a place where you could secretly gossip while trying to avoid the watchful eyes of the library aides.

The library is stocked with materials from everything from A to Z. It has reference materials, college outlook books, magazines and a microfilm viewer for the later date events.

For the more serious student or the relaxed reader, there was always something available for the area in which you are interested.

We owe a great deal of praise to the superb guidance and leadership that our library aides give. It seems that they are always there when that term paper is due the next hour, or when a last minute research project must be finished.

English Offers A Variety Of Classroom Activities

One of the necessities of life is communication. There are many different forms, levels and classes of English. These range from required Sophomore English to Literary Masterpieces.

Although all classes have to follow a certain guideline of what is taught every year, all the teachers try to teach according to the ability of their students. The department of English stresses a lot of creativity in both writing and literary interpretation. Some classes are even being taught semantics, which is the nature of meaning.

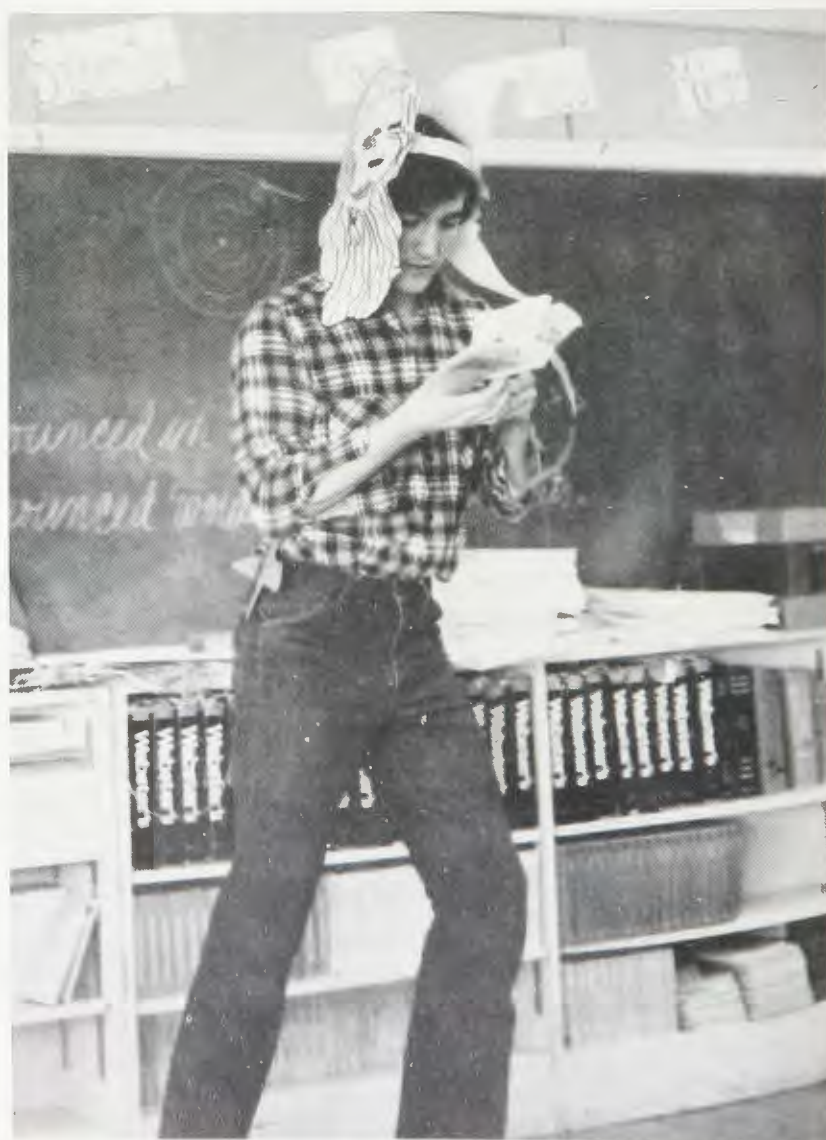

Although to graduate one only needs four semesters of English, OHS makes these valuable courses available all through the high school years. This is one skill you will need and use the rest of your life. So take advantage of these great opportunities while you can.

Mr. Graziano helps out one of his students in the library.

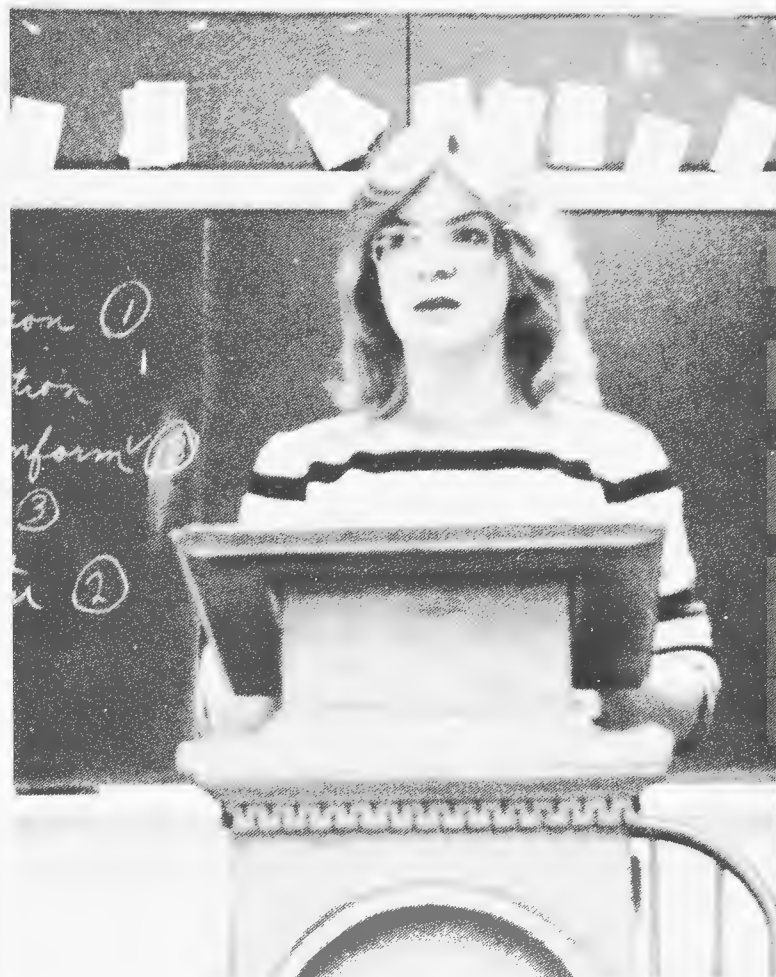

Stacy Sigel prepares for a test in American Literature.

Vernon Hoskins acts out his part in A Midsummer's Night Dream.

Math Offers A Challenge

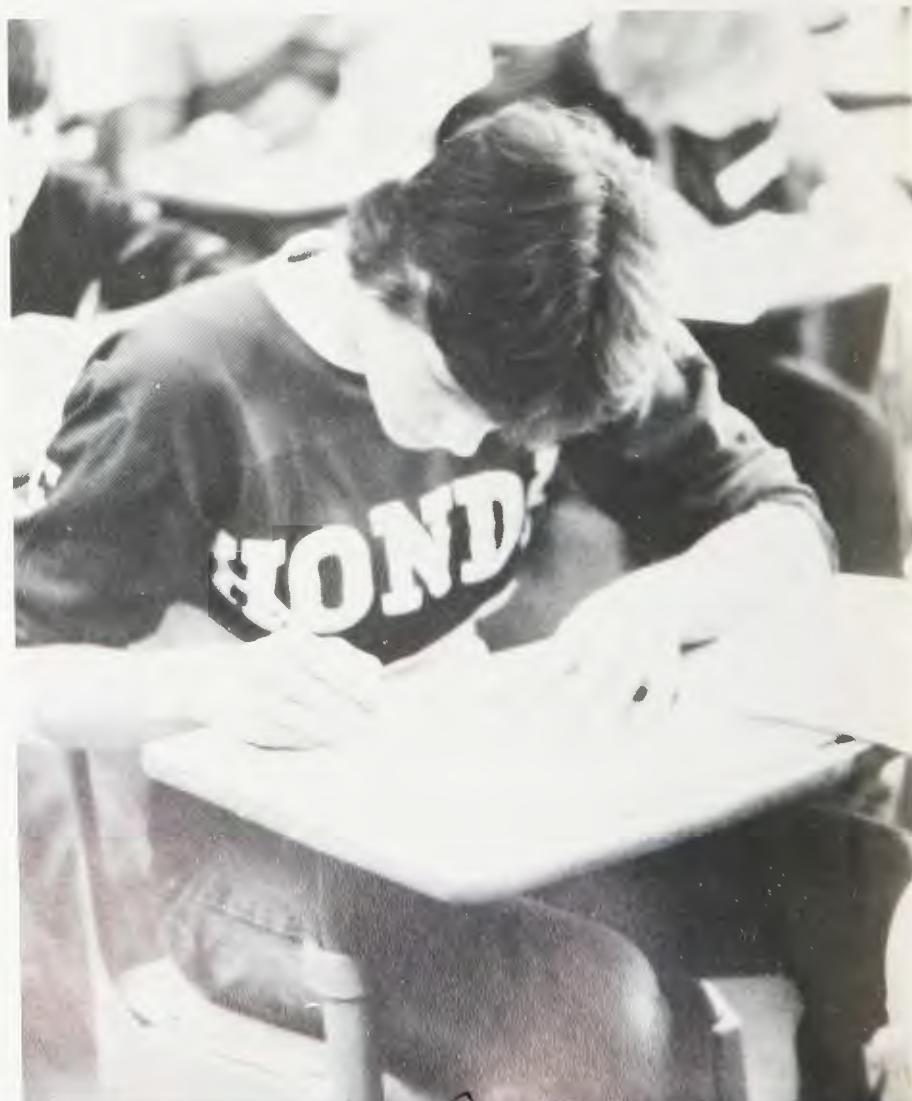

The OHS mathematics department is one of the more popular departments made available to all students. There is a certain amount of math required throughout the student's high school years, yet many students go on to further develop their mathematical skills by taking advantage of the classes. OHS offers geometry, Algebra II, Senior Math, trigonometry, and many others. These are very valuable courses for the math-oriented minds and for someone who just enjoys a challenge.

Social Studies Is Important

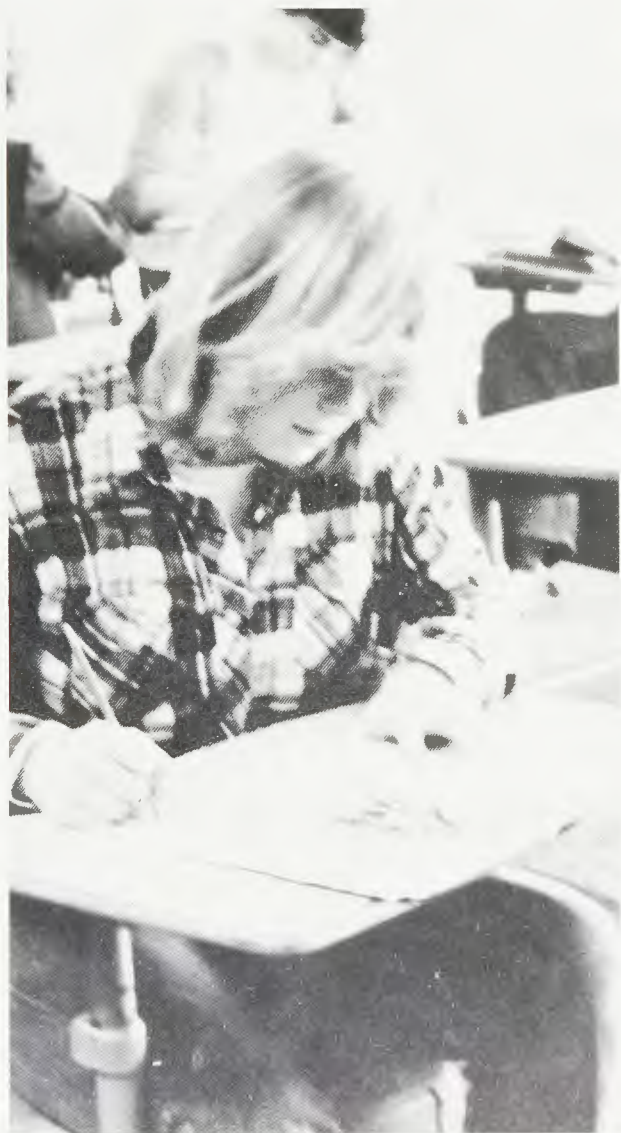

The Social Studies Department is very fortunate to have a talented and willing faculty to help with this year's Social Studies.

Most of the required work consists of reports and some sort of projects like models, posters, and group work. For the students that like extra work for more points, the teachers always have puzzles over the work they are studying.

Following federal guidelines, the state sets up minimum educational requirements. The local community decides on the requirements for their community schools. Most of the people feel that Social Studies is very important in our community. Therefore, we are required to take U.S. History plus four other semesters of similar Social Studies courses.

Science Department Offers Opportunities

While some other departments at OHS are following the same routine, the Science department is just booming with new and exciting things.

For example, OHS is in the process of building an observatory for the class of astronomy. This will come complete with a compact 2000 ml telescope. This will enable interested students to take part in astro-photography.

In geology, rock lapidary is becoming very popular, which is the grinding and polishing of rocks. Identification of rocks is a big part of geology, too.

In biology as well as chemistry and physics, computer programming is being offered.

There have been more guest speakers scheduled this year for the benefit of the students in other science courses such as Physiology.

So, if you enjoy things such as star gazing and computer programming, the Science department is for YOU!

Dennis Kurtz relies on the instructions of Mr. McDonald.

Mike Henson pays close attention in class.

Business Offers Opportunities

What is the field that offers the most jobs in the United States today? The first thing that should have popped into your mind was Business.

Business offers the opportunity to explore many new and exciting fields. Every day you experience a new problem, a discouragement, or gratitude for your achievements. We are subjected to these things through our Business Education Department.

Our Business Education Department gives every student an opportunity to learn the skills of typing and shorthand, the knowledge of accounting, the ways of managing a business, and the laws that guide us throughout each day. These things are very valuable lessons that will guide us through the future.

Lisa Shepherd gets help from Mrs. Swanson.

Shorthand is Sue Hartung's specialty.

Teresa Riedel prepares for a timing.

Mr. John Ohlinger, Mrs. Gayle Johnson, Mrs. Gullion, Mr. Frank Huston, Mrs. Judy Swanson, and Mrs. Mary Hoffman.

Co-op Offers On-The-Job Training

The Co-op department consists of four different on the job training programs. DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America), VICA (Vocational Education Clubs of America), OEA (Office Education Association), and HERO (Home Economics Related Occupations). These programs give the students an opportunity to explore the business world first hand. Students interchange school work, club activities, and on-the-job training for an all-around view of the business world.

Through in-class study, the students are prepared for actual problems that might arise while they are on the job. Certain problems that were studied included the setting up and running of a fictitious company and an exploration into the art of shoplifting.

These students gain valuable experience, they managed the school store and the selling of refreshments at football games.

The participants in all of the Co-op programs were lucky because they received something that most students lack, a realistic view of the future gained through personal experience.

Class discussions were a familiar part of HERO's daily activities.

Mike Hampton gives us the old DECA sales pitch — a friendly smile!

Brenda Garmon portrays the true personality of a secretary.

Shelley Riddle checks her work for accuracy.

Co-op Faculty: Frank Fleagle, Debbie Houston, Mike Thies, Melba Cox.

M.D. Aids Students Needs

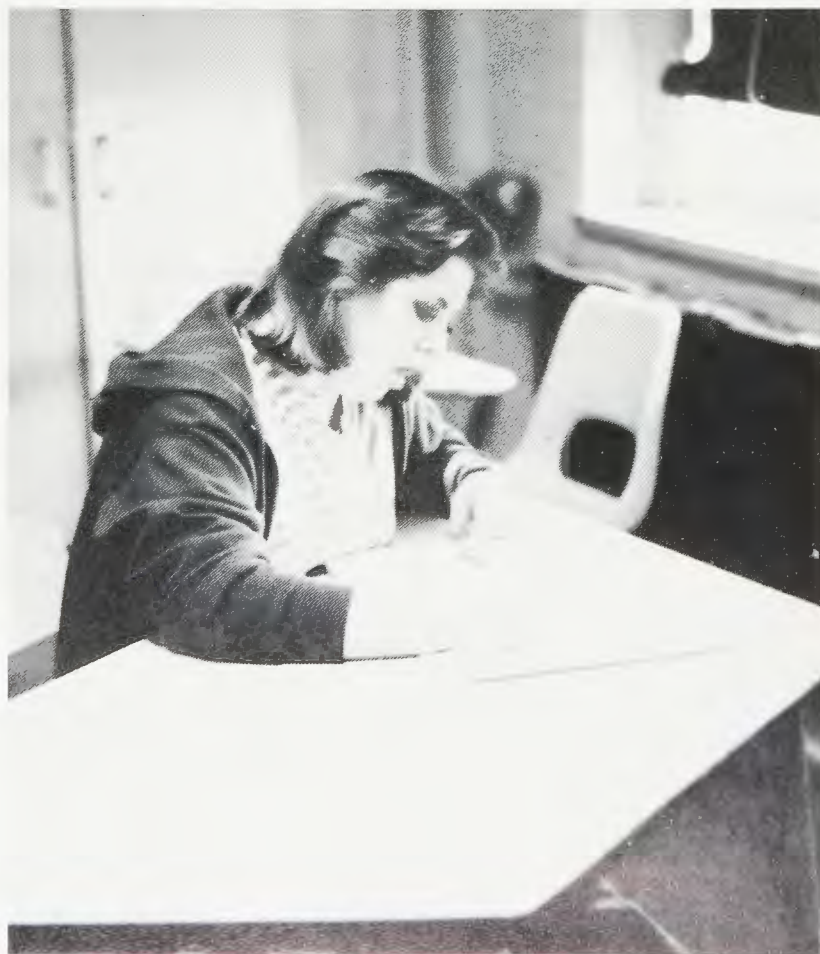

This department is made up of seven classrooms each designed to meet the educational needs of each student on an individualized basis. Vocational experience and job preparation and planning are stressed in classes taught by Ms. Edmundson, Ms. Swanson, and Mr. Van Wardhuizen. Many of the students are involved in a work-study program which offers them the opportunity to work and go to school at the same time. Mrs. Soendker's program stresses copying skills and offers assistance for other classes. The students who are enrolled in Mrs. Lay's resource room are provided with the extra help that they may need in their classes. Mrs. Porter and Ms. Wright offer classes in American Lit., History, and Science.

Eddie Owens completes a magazine.

Fine Arts Keeps Students Busy

Fine Arts?! Do people really know what they are? That they aren't easy? In fact, that they sometimes can be even harder than regular classes?

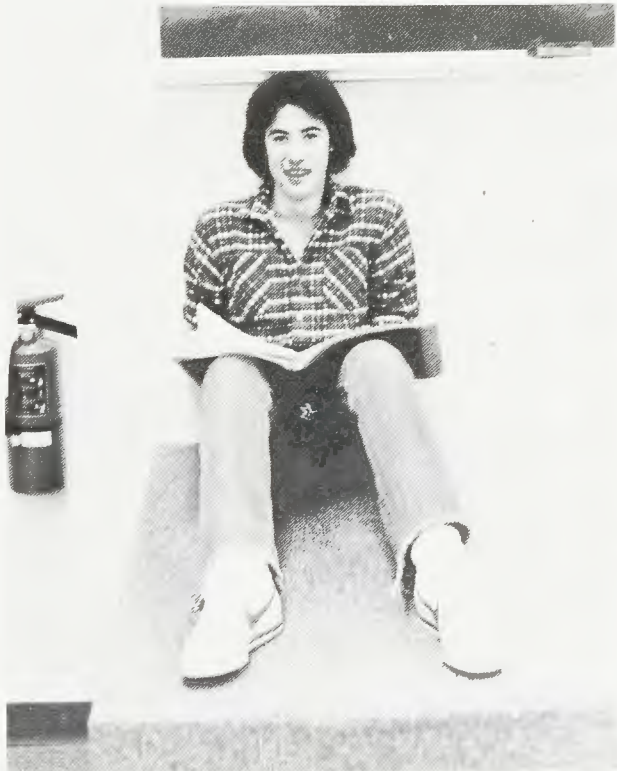

The hard demanding Mr. Schneider and the tough to please Mr. Demoss are just two of the teachers in the fine arts department who seemingly make impossible demands, that cause the groans and moans of fellow classmates as they complain of the new demands placed upon them by fine arts teachers.

But wait! If they hadn't worked their students so hard would Tell Me That You Love Me, Junie Moon have turned out as well as it did? Or would the art showcase outside the main office contain so much good "stuff"? And would all the concerts have turned out so well? Probably not.

Now, when it comes right down to it, the students in the fine arts department are really enjoying what they do and their complaints are really just half-hearted. The work that they have put in as well as the work put in by their teachers has developed the fine arts department into a strong and shining part of student life.

Troy Litch relaxes after his lesson.

Becky Tipton works on an art project.

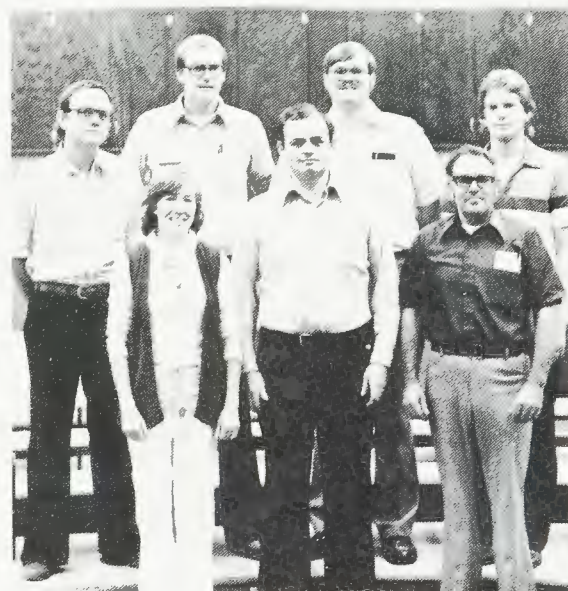

Nancy McGiverin sings her heart out in chorus.

Craig Caster and Jeff Morrow rehearse their lines.

Alan Messerschmitt puts his art skills to good use.

Vo-Tech Offers New Opportunities.

The new Vo-Tech building has given many new opportunities in the fields of all the working classes.

With the new location of our building, the students do not have the worry of bussing or poor facilities to consider. The rooms themselves are developed with the students in mind. They are more organized and more updated.

Mr. Myers, the head of the new building, says he likes the "better facilities". One of the advantages of the program is some of the classes are stretched into three hours. The classes that do extend are Electronics, Voc. Building Trades, and Auto Body because they require more than 45 minutes to learn the skills.

The Vo-Tech facilities have offered many new classes for the student body and it has given them a better range of new classes to choose from.

Allan Haag works on a project in a shop class.

Joe Short and Bob Irwin work to improve their skills in drafting.

Ken Madden studies the basic operations of a machine.

Pat Milks shows his skills in Woodworking.

Brian Payne smiles after a major accomplishment.

Vo-Tech Department: Larry Claybaugh, Ron Langgin, Dan Ford, Carl Lawrence, Lloyd Patrick, Charles Milder, Harley Hecker, Ken Corbett, Dave Hotchkiss, and Ed Myers.

Home Economics Teaches Living Skills

If by chance you are walking down the hall and you stray past the Home Economics Department doors, you might hear such topics as sex education, the nutritious foods you must eat, child care, and how to sew an attractive outfit. We have an opportunity to experience the aspects of all phases of life by studying ourself, peers, family, and the strengths that we must possess to be the best possible person we can.

Jeff Smallwood practices his ironing skills.

Linda Thompson cleans up after a cooking project.

Cecilia Roseleaf and Sarah Smith team up on a cooking project.

Jeff Lunsford rests after a big meal in Foods.

Debbie Widmar works on a sewing project.

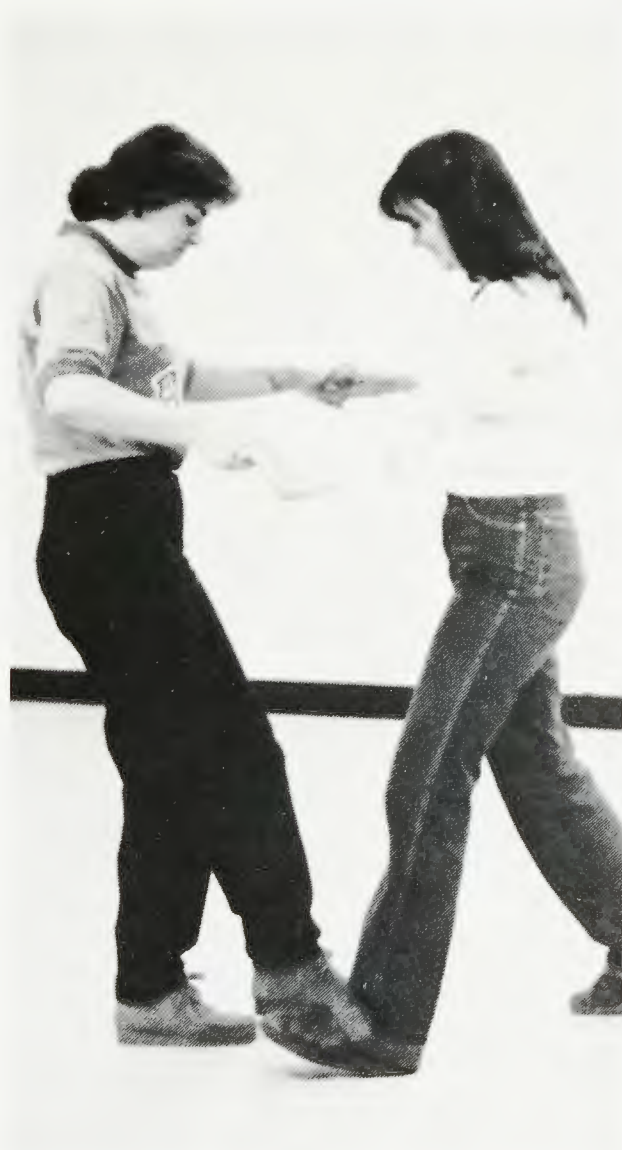

Home Economics Department: Ms. Shari Connealy, Ms. Mary Zesiger, Ms. Rita Klodt.

New Facilities For Physical Education Classes

This year OHS was fortunate enough to have a new gymnasium facility built. This facility gives the students more opportunities in the fields of physical fitness.

The students are given a choice of the activities they wish to participate in. They range from Racquetball to Arobic Dance. There are also classrooms, a wrestling room, and a weight room. The locker rooms have been modernized and more locker space has been added.

Many new staff members have been added to the physical education department this year. These additions will be beneficial to all of the students of OHS.

Dance class was a favorite for Sue Ammenhauser and Angie Campbell.

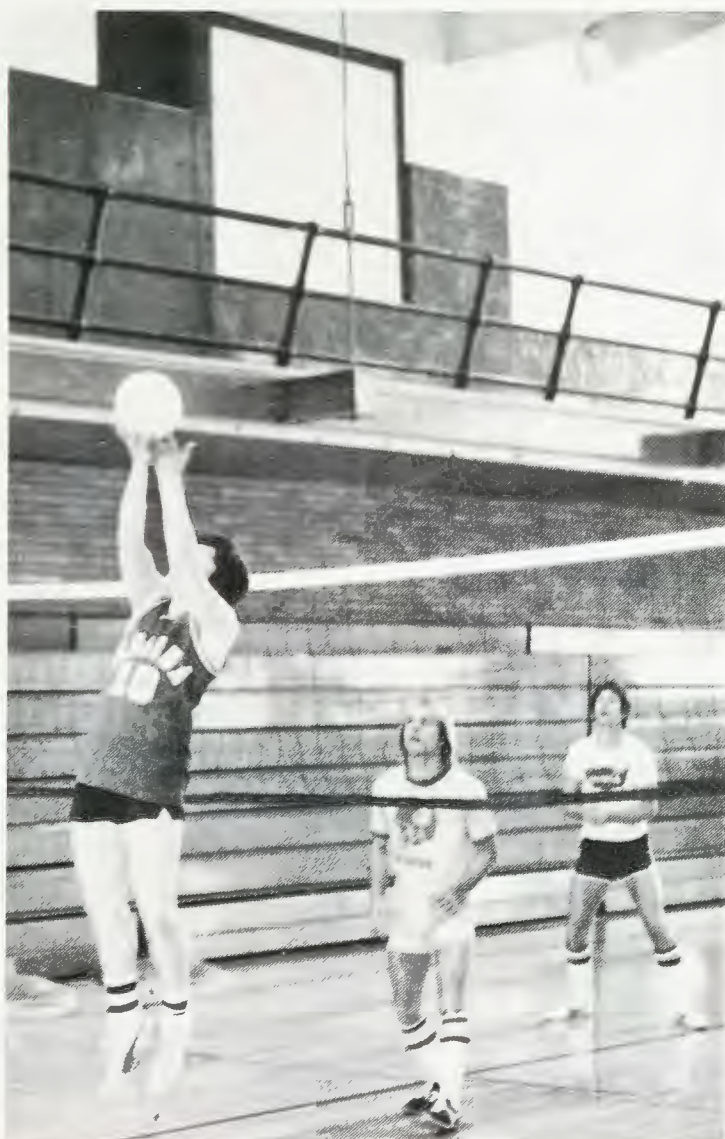

Coach Mary O'Brien shows Scott Versteegh the basics of archery.

Shane Lynch prepares to release an arrow.

Barton Craft gets in shape by jogging daily.

Cliff McNeal prepares for the next hit.

Mel Peiper and Doug Staton clown around in gym class.

Physical Education Department: Gary Anderson, Nancy Roberts, Dan Staggs, Rose Schultz, Harold Stevens, Mary O'Brien.

Driver Education Stresses Safety

This year is not unlike the others in many aspects. The Driver Education classes have maintained the same atmosphere as in previous years. The students this year have one more thing to be grateful for. They have a ripe opportunity to drive cars that are manual. Even though many of them groan when they think of having to learn how to drive an automatic and a manual, they soon learn the better of both.

The students here at OHS have had the luxury of a classroom, simulation room and outdoor driving. This added feature brings around the development of more drivers with more experience.

Mr. McCarty, one of the faculty members of the Driver Education course, states that, "The students seem to have a better attitude this year."

OHS students often dread, hate and even curse Driver Education, but they can be sure of one thing; their time has been well spent when they receive their license and are able to know the many more freedoms that they now have.

Mike Wilt buckles up in simulation.

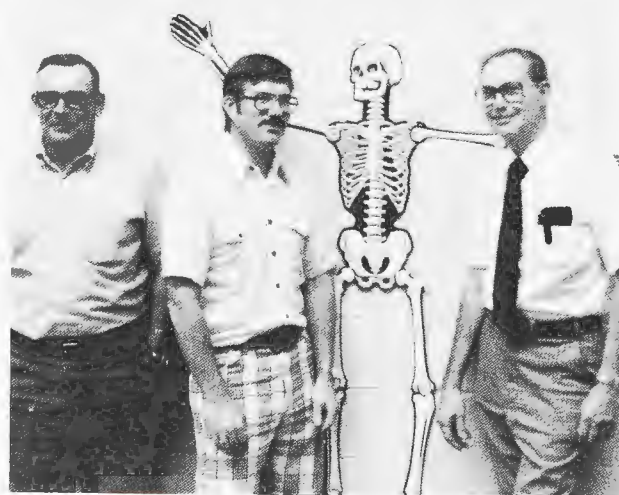

Joe McAntire and Tammy Stewart seem to be enthused about simulation class.

Jeff Pierson prepares for another flight with Mr. Jackson.

Julie Sigel gets ready to drive.

Driver Education Department: Mr. Larry McCarty, Mr. James Jackson, Mr. B. Bones, Mr. Bill Christenson.

Foreign Language Teaches Culture

The OHS Foreign Language Department helps students understand other cultures, aids in many vocations, and acts as a preparation for advanced study. Classes offered are French, Spanish and Latin.

The French classes present the basic structure of the language by means of four basic skills of listening-speaking, reading, writing in the form of short dialogs and reading narratives. Classroom activities stress speaking, writing, dictation, and listening.

Latin emphasizes basic grammar and vocabulary. There is an emphasis on English derivation. It acquaints students with Roman and Greek mythology, comparison of the ancient and modern civilizations, and the democracy of that country.

Spanish helps the student understand basic structure in the form of dialogs or reading narratives with an emphasis on oral practice. Attention is given to basic grammar, correct pronunciation, basic vocabulary, and writing practice.

Each foreign language class is offered for four one-year classes. Any students who are planning to attend a college or university should consider taking two years of one foreign language.

Terri Melrose studies for a Spanish test.

Lisa Prevett recites a Spanish passage from the text.

Shelley Hecker and Chris Critchelow enjoy their language hour.

Bill Shaw gets some extra help from Ms. Coulter.

Foreign Language Department: Lydia Coulter and Frank Krieger.

Athletics

Aching bones, sore muscles, long hours of practice, and having to do the same plays over and over till they were perfect are just some of the experiences an athlete must go through to be the best he or she possibly can.

Whether it be one person competing individually or many working together, an athlete must possess many things. He must have 1) dedication, 2) sportsmanship, 3) self-discipline, 4) cooperation, 5) determination, and 6) school spirit.

When victorious, we were satisfied with our performance. When defeated, we accepted our mistakes and strived for improvement. We represented our school on the teams and in the stands. We did this in a way that showed our desire to be #1.

— We're On Our Way —

Cheerleaders Give It All They've Got

The duties of a cheerleader are made up to help her as an individual, to get better acquainted with coaches and teachers, to have a better relationship with the team, and to make her school the best it can be.

A cheerleader must have the respect of others as well as for themselves, good attitudes, possess certain skills, good personality, lots of pep and enthusiasm, and the will to keep giving it all you've got no matter how tired you are.

Cheerleaders must represent their school in each opponent that they meet.

This year the cheerleaders seemed to possess all of these qualities. They were led by varsity captains Danette Gebel, Julie Sieren, and Deb Donovan, and sophomore captains Lisa Summers and Connie Kridelbaugh. They made an all-out effort to promote school spirit. They had many special events for each of the sports, made signs, planned assemblies, and prepared other spirit raisers.

During the summer of 1980, the varsity cheerleaders captured the first place trophy at the All-Star Cheerleading Camp. In the fall of 1980, they attended the Iowa State Wrestling Workshop, and again captured the first place trophy.

During the 80-81 year, the squads learned the importance of hard work and dedication. They became united as a whole and always managed to stick together through any situation. They wanted to be winners but would not jeopardize the friendships that would last forever. And to our sponsor - Mrs. Connealy, sister and friend to all of us, we owe her a special thanks for making us all become better people.

Harriers Finish With 8-1 Record

Ottumwa's Cross-Country coach, Mr. Bob Warren, was very pleased with this year's performances. The highlight of the 1980-81 season was the dual meet record of 8 wins and 1 loss. There were also the 2nd and 3rd place team finishes at Pekin's 3 and 6-mile classic.

Daryll Colton had outstanding performances in the 2-mile run with a time of 9:51. That is the 11th best in OHS history. In the 3-mile run he also got the 3rd best in OHS history with a run of 14:57.

Chosen captain for the 1980 Cross-Country team was Daryll Colton. He was also chosen the most valuable runner. Chosen most improved was Kirk Guy.

Coach Warren feels that this was the best season they've had in the last 4 years. He also commented, "The outlook for the 1981-82 season should be good. We have good runners coming up and 5 lettermen returning."

Todd Nash gets encouragement from Coach Warren.

First Season Is Fantastic

The OHS Girls Volleyball season was very outstanding for the first year.

The Varsity team came out winning 7 of their 10 games, while the Junior Varsity left a record of 3 wins and 7 losses.

Losing the championship game to Fort Madison Aquinas was a grueling match, but worth all the effort for a second place title in the Burlington Invitational. This was accomplished with victories over Burlington, Davis County, and Keokuk.

Volleyball coach, Ms. Melinda Swanson, was extremely pleased with all the girls' performance. The leading spiker for the 1980-81 season was sophomore Kathy Andersen; senior Krista Harms, their leading server; and leading setter, junior Sallie Tracy.

The Varsity captain, Wendy Vivian; co-captain, Sallie Tracy; and Junior Varsity captains, Rosanne Riedel and Lori Ransom kept the team's spirit high and led them on to working together as a unit.

The O.H.S. volleyball squad had a strong team this year and the outlook for the 1981-82 season is great. O.H.S. has a young team and knows what to work on in the future seasons.

Bulldogs Set New Records

The Bulldog's 1980-81 football season will long be remembered. The Bulldogs had a 4-0 winning streak going to give them a rating of 5th in the state. This record was their best since 1969. The season was highlighted by big wins over Burlington and Oskaloosa.

Coach Clement commented, "While the 5-4 record was disappointing I felt the attitude and effort from the players was excellent. The schedule was undoubtedly the toughest in OHS history as the four losses were all to excellent teams."

Many school records were set in the Bulldog's winning season. Brian Warren set school records for a 90-yard touchdown run against Mount Pleasant. His rushing average for a single game was 21.6. Pat Jones had the longest kick-off return for a touchdown of 83 yards. He also tied the career record for interceptions (seven, including three this year). Tailback Doug McAntire had a great season with 175 rushing attempts, 1131 rushing yards, 252 career rushing attempts, and career rushing yards of 1552.

The outlook for the 1981-82 season brings lots of new faces as 21 of the 22 starting positions were seniors. Eight lettermen will be returning and a number of excellent players from the sophomore team will join the varsity.

Four Qualify For State

The 1980-81 Bulldog Swim Team improved its dual meet record to 4 wins and 6 losses.

In invitational competition they placed 5th in Marshalltown, 4th in Newton, 5th in Ames, 8th in Burlington, 6th in Urbandale, and 6th in the district meet in Cedar Rapids.

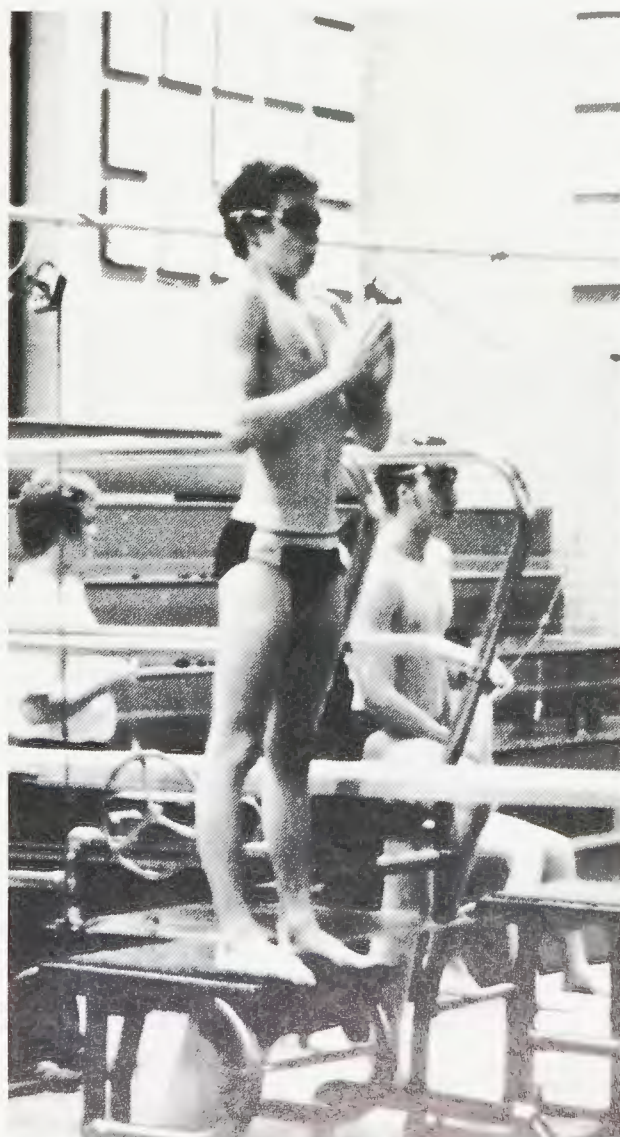

The outstanding performances of Jeff Starkweather, Judd Yetley, Mike Vittetoe and Rod Starkweather qualified their medley team for state competition. Two of the members of the medley relay team qualified as individuals: Mike Vittetoe in the 100-yd. Backstroke, and Judd Yetley in the 100-yd. Breaststroke. Yetley broke the oldest school record in the OHS books in the District meet. He lowered the record from 1:07.4 to 1:05.08 and lowered it again at the state meet to 1:04.53.

Three of the team's four state qualifiers will return next year. Mike Vittetoe was voted Captain, Most Improved, and Most Valuable.

The Ottumwa girls swimmers had a 1 point win over Keokuk in their pool on Oct. 11. The most valuable swimmer was Kim Dudycha. She was a state qualifier in the 100-yd. Breaststroke with a new school record time of 1:15.30. The Bulldog Award (sparkplug) went to Karla Andersen. Denise Glosser got the most improved swimmer for this year. The team co-captains were Laurie Courtney and Karla Andersen. They got a 7th place finish at the District meet where all the girls, with 3 exceptions, hit their lifetime bests in the events they were swimming.

Swimming Coach Mary O'Brien said she thought this was an excellent year for her young team. She comments, "I feel they didn't come close to reaching their potential as quite a few held back until the end of the season. We made some mistakes due to inexperience but I feel we made up for them as the season progressed."

The team will lose only 2 seniors for the 1981-82 season. Of the 15 returning, 7 of them will be sophomores. Six of the returning lettermen will be seniors next year led by state qualifier Kim Dudycha. Coach O'Brien said she felt that they were looking at a great deal of experience, leadership and talent that hasn't been touched. "They were just seeing their ability at the end of the 80-81 season and I feel they'll come back into the new season with a great deal more confidence in themselves."

Two Wrestlers Go To State

The 1980-81 wrestling season turned out to be a good one for the OHS Boys. Starting out with a record of 1-4 they finished with a record of 5-5-1.

The season's first highlight was winning the dual meet at Chariton. This win gave them confidence to go on to tie Fort Madison and then defeat Fairfield in a dual meet.

In this meet OHS won five matches and drew one, "which showed quite a bit of improvement!" said Head Coach John Ohlinger.

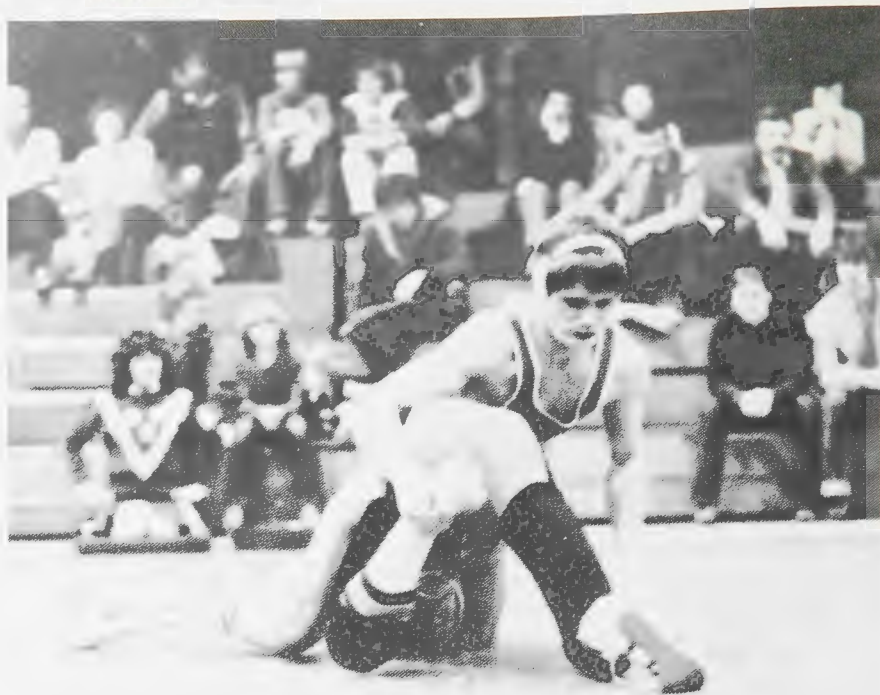

Finally the district meets came up and they gained two state qualifiers, Jim Wood and Daryll Colton.

The outlook for the 1981-82 season, according to Ohlinger, will be a "Rebuilding Year. We have experience in the lighter weights but will need to improve greatly in the heavier weights."

But, OHS is not without talent. Some of the men that gave the team outstanding performances were Larry Shepherd, John Ellis, Daryll Colton, Jim Wood, Steve Klawonn and Doug Staton. Leaders for the team next year will probably be Jim Wood and Larry Shepherd.

The goals for next year are to achieve another winning season and to be the best possible wrestlers they can be.

Bulldogs Set A New School Record

The boys basketball team had a record of 6-14. They doubled their wins over last season as their previous record was 3-14. Jim Magnusson resigned as head coach to take an assistant's job at Long Beach State. Dan Staggs took over as head coach with little time to work before the season got under way. A lot of hard work paid off. Towards the end of the season, they became a good team. They won three of their last four games. They were stopped by Southeast Polk by just one point in the District Finals. Southeast Polk went on to State.

The Bulldogs set a new school record, shooting 67 percent against Newton. Brad Worth tied for fourth in the OHS single season scoring with 410 points and finishes his career with 625 points in sixth place.

Greg Shaver led the team in shooting percentage (52.7) and Worth was second (49.8). Worth led in freethrow shooting percentage (75.2) and Mike Moreland was second (67.7). Worth lead in rebounds (208) and total points (410).

Starters for the season were: Most Valuable Player and Co-captain Brad Worth, Co-captain Mike Moreland, Most Improved Players Greg Shaver, Brian Warren, and Pat Jones, all seniors. Other team members were: Senior Kevin Anderson; Juniors Doug Wetrich, Bob Martsching, Steve Ash, Tony Sparks, Kevin Ward, John Breed, Bill Brooks, John Larkin, and Malcolm Ellis.

Coach Staggs says the outlook for next season should be promising as "several juniors have varsity experience and with the development of our bigger boys we should be very competitive."

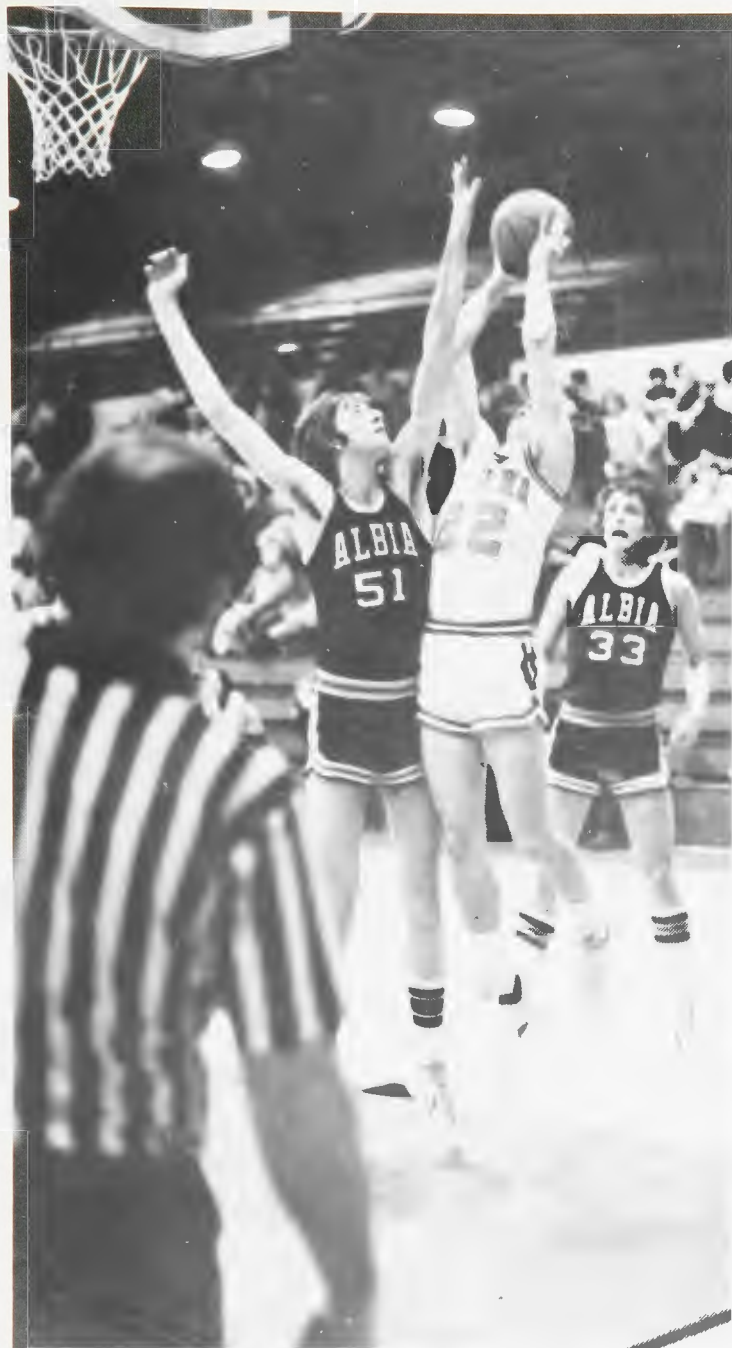

Although outnumbered, Tony Sparks is able to pull through for the Bulldogs.

OHS Girls Break Records

Although an unlucky team on last second shots and double overtimes, the OHS Girls Basketball team managed to set several school records.

Trace Fitsimones set records for points in a game(72), field goals in a game(33), free throws in a game(20) and also finished with a 33.2 scoring average which set her third on the OHS list. Fitsimones was also named to the 4th team All-State by IDDA. Michele Watts set a season record for blocked shots with 26. Other new team records include field goals in a game(41), field goal percentage in a game(24 to 34%) and free throws in a season(358).

Tremendous offensive effort allowed the team to average 79 points per game and to finish with a 12-10 record for the 1980-81 season.

Coach Huston says the outlook for next year looks very encouraging with the return of Fitsimones and several other outstanding members of the team.

OHS Gymnasts Have Successful Season

This year's Gymnastics team was by far one of the best yet. With a won loss record of 16-2 and a ten year total of 138-30, it looks like the team gave an all-out effort to the success of their team.

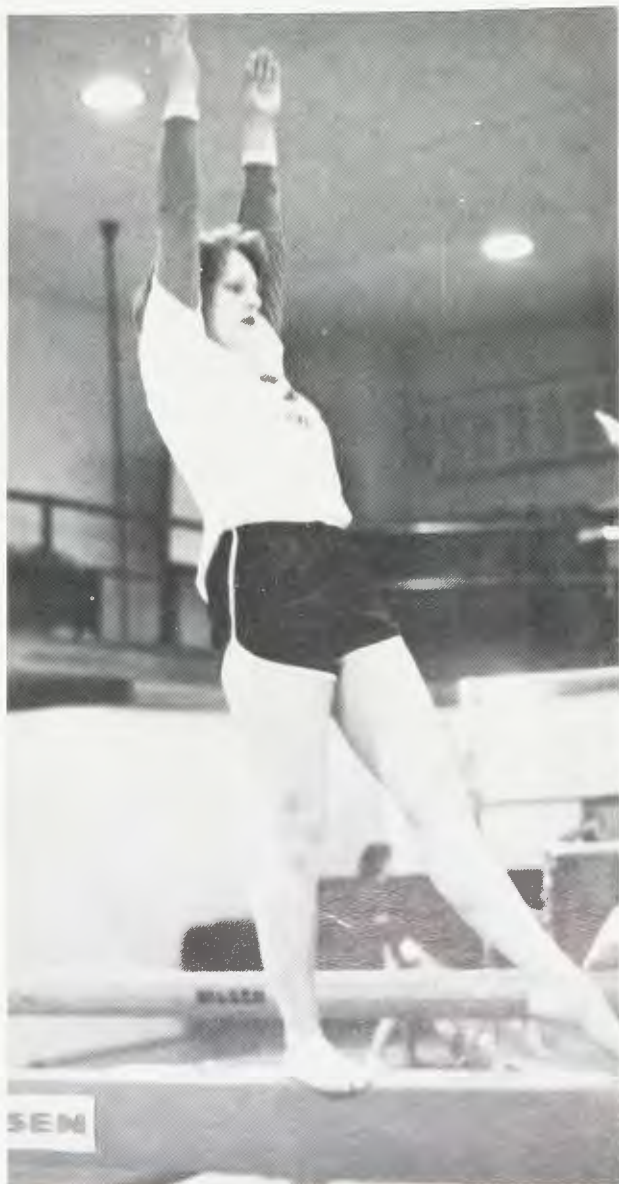

Pam White and Jill Swanson were co-captains for this year's team. They led the team in individual scoring with a 391 from White and a 371.01 from Swanson. This qualified them for entry in the 300 Points Club along with Kara Gottschalk with a point total of 320.26.

Nine gymnasts were named to the All-Regional teams. On the first team were Pam White, Kara Gottschalk, Jill Swanson and Tracy Linn. Gaining second team berths were Chris Oliver, Anita Sprenger, Marla Arnold, Amy Harding and Barb Hennen.

What is the outlook for the 1981-82 team? It sure looks like only the best is yet to come!

Boys And Girls Tennis Teams

The OHS Boys Tennis Team experienced a moderate season with a record of 5-6 at the time of printing. This was due somewhat to the loss of the top six players last year.

The '81 team was an inexperienced one but improved a great deal during the season.

The outlook for next year is very good. With the range of experience, the close matches will be won next year.

Have Successful Seasons

Lynn Lawson concentrates on her opponent.

The OHS Girls Tennis Team finished its season with a record of 10-0. This was their first undefeated season in a few years. The experience of seniors along with very talented underclassmen made the season what it was.

Senior Linda Parker was the outstanding number one singles player. She has a chance to go to state for her 3rd time.

Several fine seniors will be lost but the depth and potential in the younger players should make an outstanding team next year.

The OHS Boy's Golf Team once again showed their stuff by compiling an undefeated record of 12-0. It was due to a very well balanced team who gave it their all. The first four men went from 2.79 to 3.71 strokes over par.

Next years team will be bolstered by lettermen, Mike Ketcham, Doug Wetrich and Jim Batterson along with several promising underclassmen.

The 1980-81 Varsity Track Team compiled an outstanding season. The 4 x 400m relay was fifth at the Drake Relays (Kirk Guy, Doug McAntire, Tom Bivens, Monte King). Individual records were set by Brian Warren. The 4 x 800m relay was very outstanding (Daryll Colton, Steve Ash, Ed Tormey, Doug McAntire).

Brian Warren performed outstandingly all season long. He broke two school records: the 400 m low hurdles (56.5) and second best long jump in school history (21' 9 1/4"). He also recorded the most points scored (120 1/4).

Prospect for the 1981-82 season look good with some good middle and distance runners returning.

Qualifiers for the state meet were Brian Warren (110m high hurdles, 400 m low hurdles), Daryll Colton (800m run), and Kirk Guy, Doug McAntire, Tom Bivens, and Monte King in the 4x 400m relay.

State qualifiers this year were Traci Fitzimmons in the long jump, 4x400 meter relay team, and the 400 meter low hurdles. Lisa VanRoekel qualified in the 200 meter dash and the 4x400 meter relay team. Anne Warren and Tara Coady make up the remaining members of the 4x400 meter relay team.

The team will be losing some very important seniors, but they expect to return next year with more strength than ever.

Traci Fitsimones improves her time on the 400m low hurdles.

Girls Softball Wins 45 Games

The 1980 Softball summer squad won 30 games while losing only 5. They qualified for the state tournament for the 8th time placing 10th.

The fall squad won 15 games while losing only 3. The cumulative softball record is 300 victories and 40 losses for the state's best win-loss percentage of .882.

Outstanding performances by Traci Fitsimones qualified her for All-State 1st team as a sophomore. She is the 1st OHS sophomore to accomplish a 1st team spot. Michele Watts also got 4th team All-State as a pitcher.

Coach Frank Huston commented, "Continuous improvement and team togetherness were the 1980 team's strengths." With Fitsimones, Watts, Kim Kitterman, Pam Boettcher, Theresa Bradley, Cathy Smith, and Mindy Harter returning and newcomers Diane Pickerell and Cindy Smith playing a good fall season, the outlook for the 1981-82 season is bright for continued success.

Boys Baseball Eighth In State

Strike one is called on an Ottumwa batter.

Pat Milks receives some last-minute advice.

The boys baseball team gave an outstanding performance in 1980. They finished their regular season with a 28-4 record.

In only their third season, their performance led them into the state tournament in which they came out in 8th place.

They broke the old school record of 8 consecutive wins. The record now stands at 11. Coach Wollums contributes their success as a team effort on the part of all the kids.

With only two seniors graduating, most of the regulars will be returning and "should be one of the top state contenders," Woollums says.

Coach Woollums announced that he would be retiring this season. He leaves his very promising team in the hands of Randy Mathews.

Andy Davis compares his strategy with others.

Thinking back about the past and how it might always last.

Trying to remember old friends that we knew and the things we'd think of to do.

Like messing around and having a ball or just playing cards in study hall.

All through the week we would work on grades, then on Friday nights it was off to the games.

We would support our teams whether they won or lost, and go to all the dances no matter what the cost.

Although some of our memories are happy and sad, they will always remind us of good times that we had.

We've come to the end of the year and this book, and so we come to the end of another volume of our history.
As you keep constantly moving and the world keeps moving around you, this book will serve as a record of the way things were in our world of 1981. It will also be a reminder of the way things were for a while.
While We Go Our Way to the many directions our lives have taken.
