STUDENT ORIENTATION DAYS

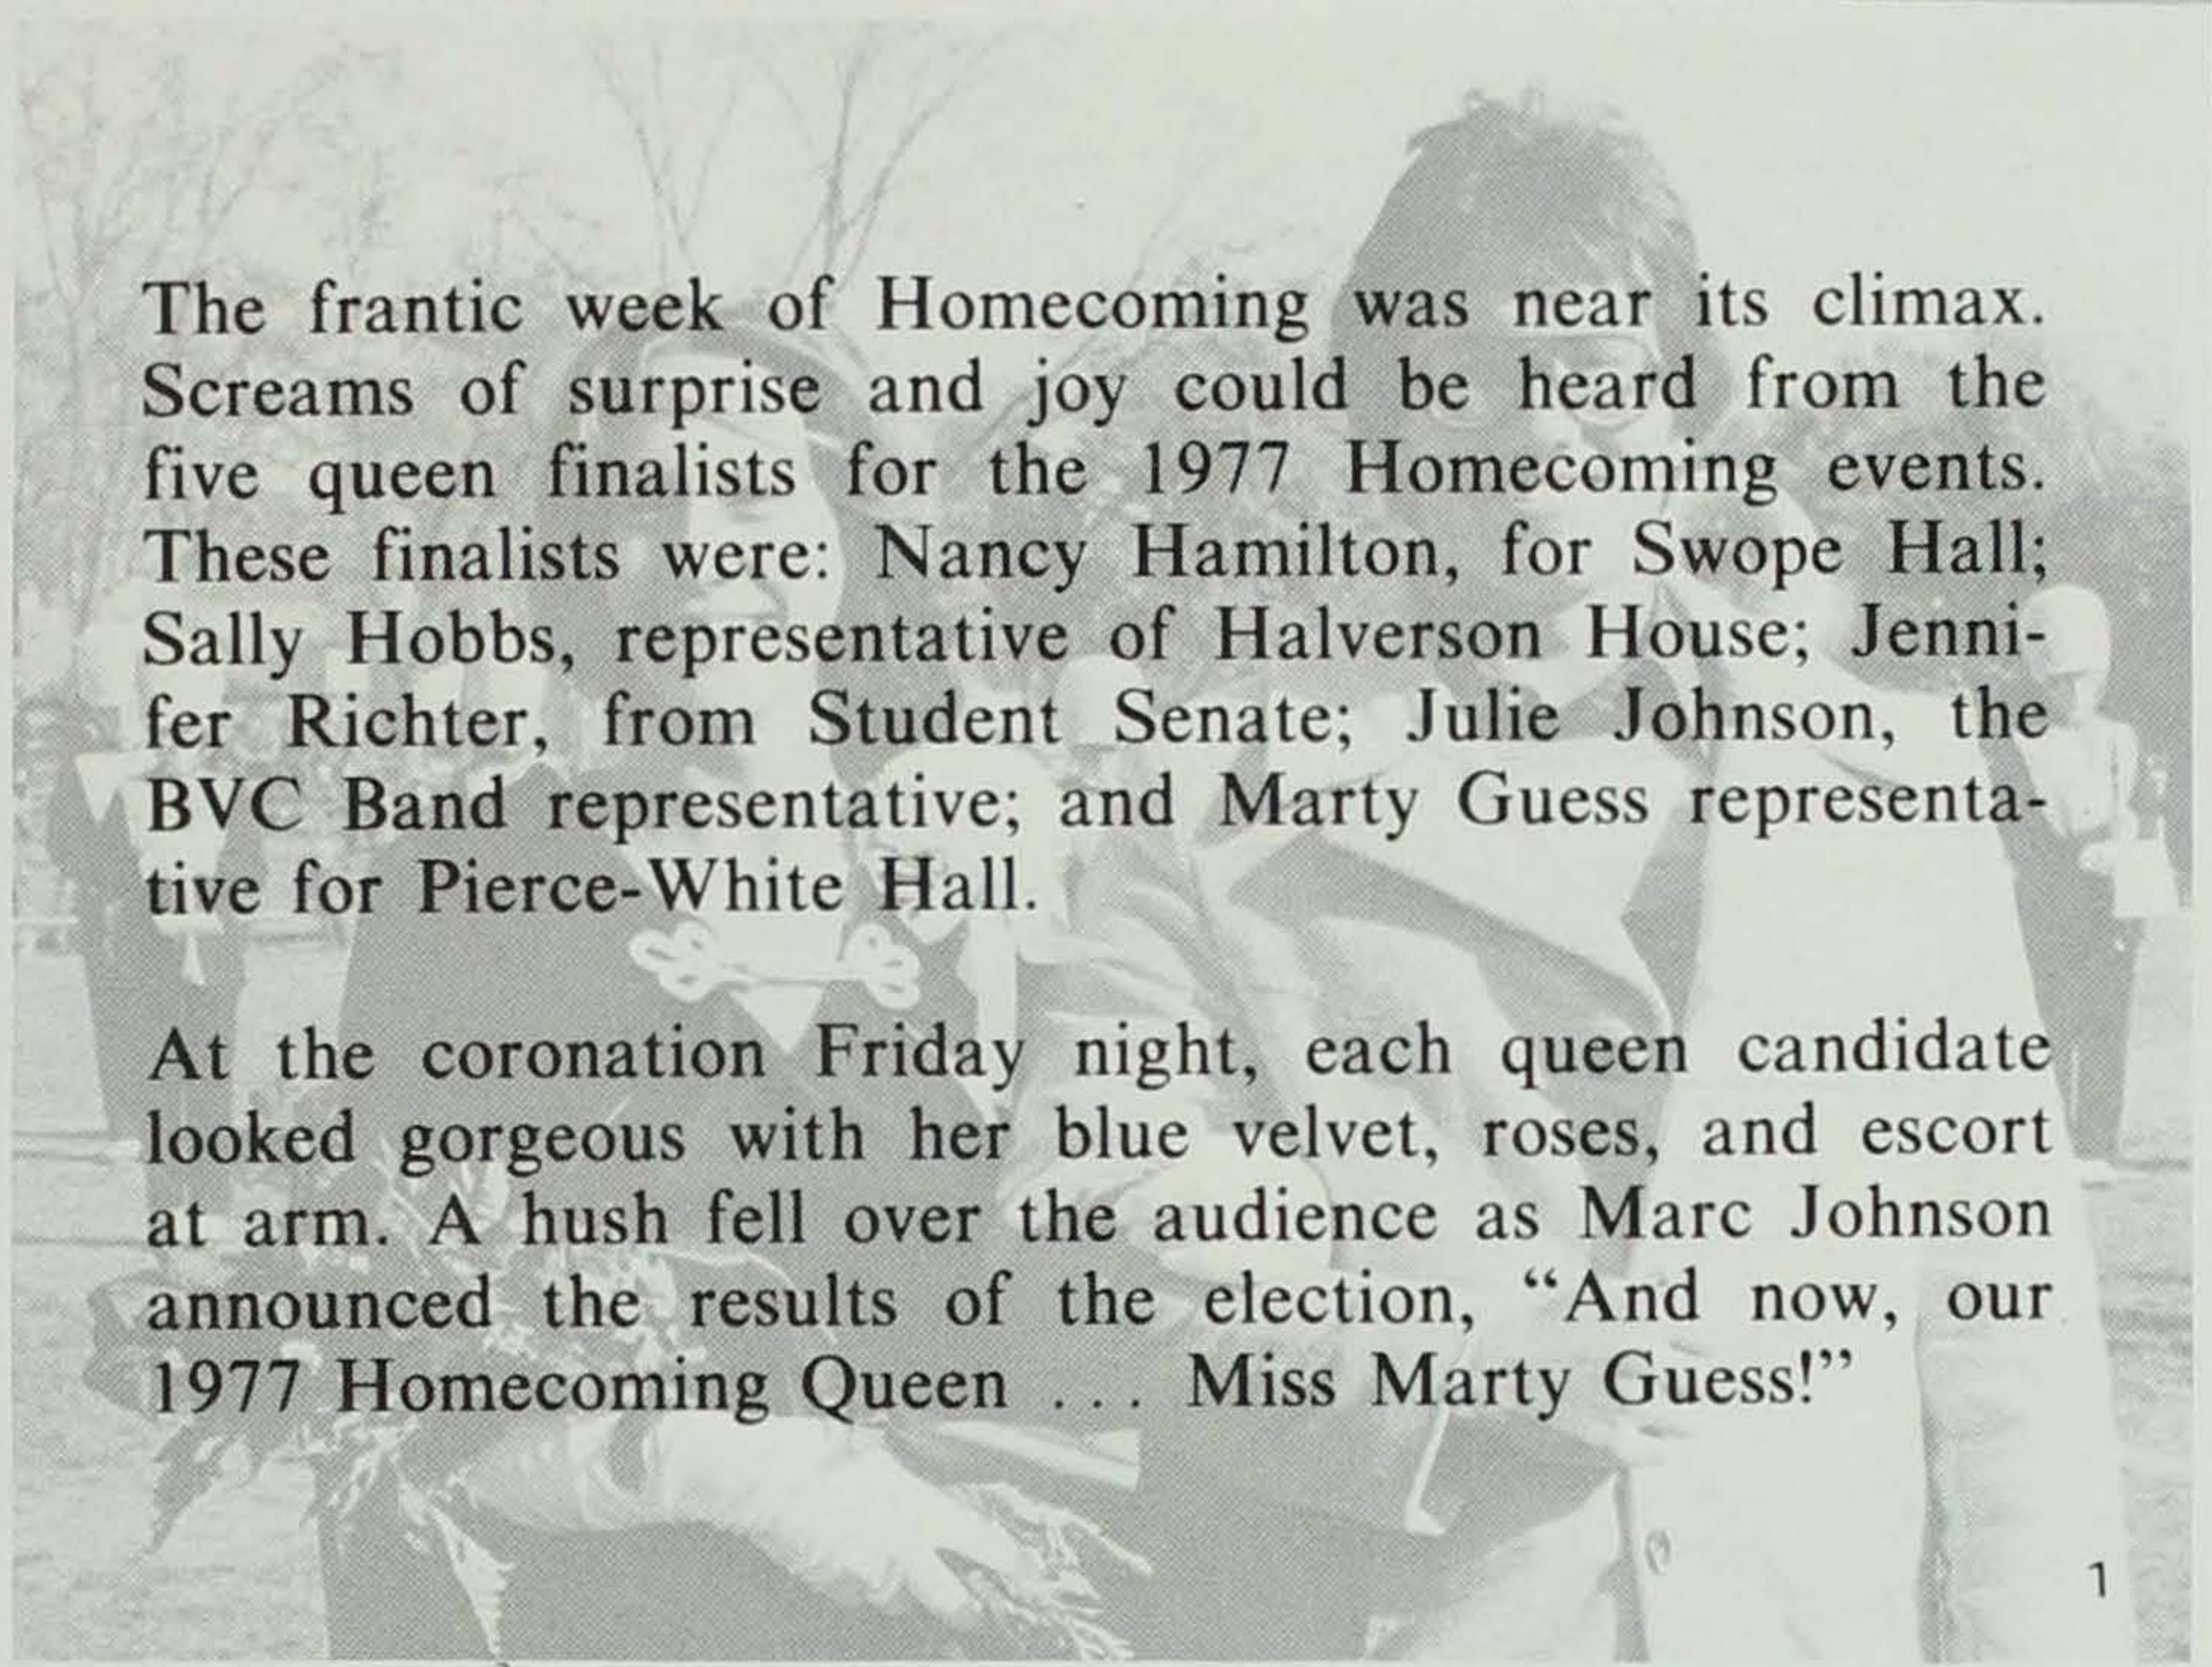

September 4-6 were Student Orientation Days at Buena Vista College. It all started on Sunday when one could see freshman and transfers flocking in from all over the United States.

Through the next several days the Student Orientation Staff (S.O.S.) kept new students entertained with tug-of-war contests, advisor meetings, picnics, and a myriad of contests between color coded groups.

The festivities ended with the annual Beanie Hop, where admission included one beanie. During the dance the Beanie King and Queen, Doug Blue and Sheila Pedersen were announced. They were chosen by the S.O.S. according to their participation during Student Orientation Days.

These days were only to be an introduction to new students of the fun of being part of the Buena Vista family.

HOMECOMING

The frantic week of Homecoming was near its climax. Screams of surprise and joy could be heard from the five queen finalists for the 1977 Homecoming events. These finalists were: Nancy Hamilton, for Swope Hall; Sally Hobbs, representative of Halverson House; Jennifer Richter, from Student Senate; Julie Johnson, the BVC Band representative; and Marty Guess representative for Pierce-White Hall.

At the coronation Friday night, each queen candidate looked gorgeous with her blue velvet, roses, and escort at arm. A hush fell over the audience as Marc Johnson announced the results of the election, "And now, our 1977 Homecoming Queen ... Miss Marty Guess!"

As windows were being painted, skits being planned, the football team practicing, band marching, and variety show being rehearsed, one could easily see that Homecoming 1977 was near.

Thursday night the pep rally and bon fire started our Homecoming activities.

On October 14, the variety show got under way. Dan Lintin, and Lyle Ewing hosted this entertaining show, while skits, songs, and of course the announcement of the queen ended it.

Everyone awoke early Saturday morning for a cold, but enjoyable parade.

One o'clock finally arrived as the crowd, cheerleaders, alumni, and, of course, the football team gathered on the field. The half-time show consisted of the marching band and the presentation of Queen Marty and her court. The final score was B.V. 34, and Dubuque 16. A dance at the Cobblestone ended the 1977 Homecoming festivities.

MAYNARD FERGUSON

October 19, 1977, at Siebens Center, was the scene of one of the most exciting events ever to take place on the B.V. Campus ... Maynard Ferguson in Concert.

Ferguson was the highlight of the Buena Vista Jazz Spectacular which also included a mid-afternoon clinic for high school students. The clinic featured several area jazz artists and was easily termed a success.

That evening, the B.V. Jazz Band served not only as a warm-up for Ferguson, but as a source of fire for the huge crowd that was charged up for the arrival of Ferguson himself.

Ferguson's concert was highlighted by the themes from Rocky and Starwars. Both of the numbers brought the crowd of nearly 4,000 to its feet.

The members of the committee that made the concert possible were: Russ Nagle, Julie Johnson, Jeff Carver, Janet Hallengren, and Dan Lintin. Jody Mitchell, of the activities center, also played an important role. They spent nearly seven months in preparatin for the concert.

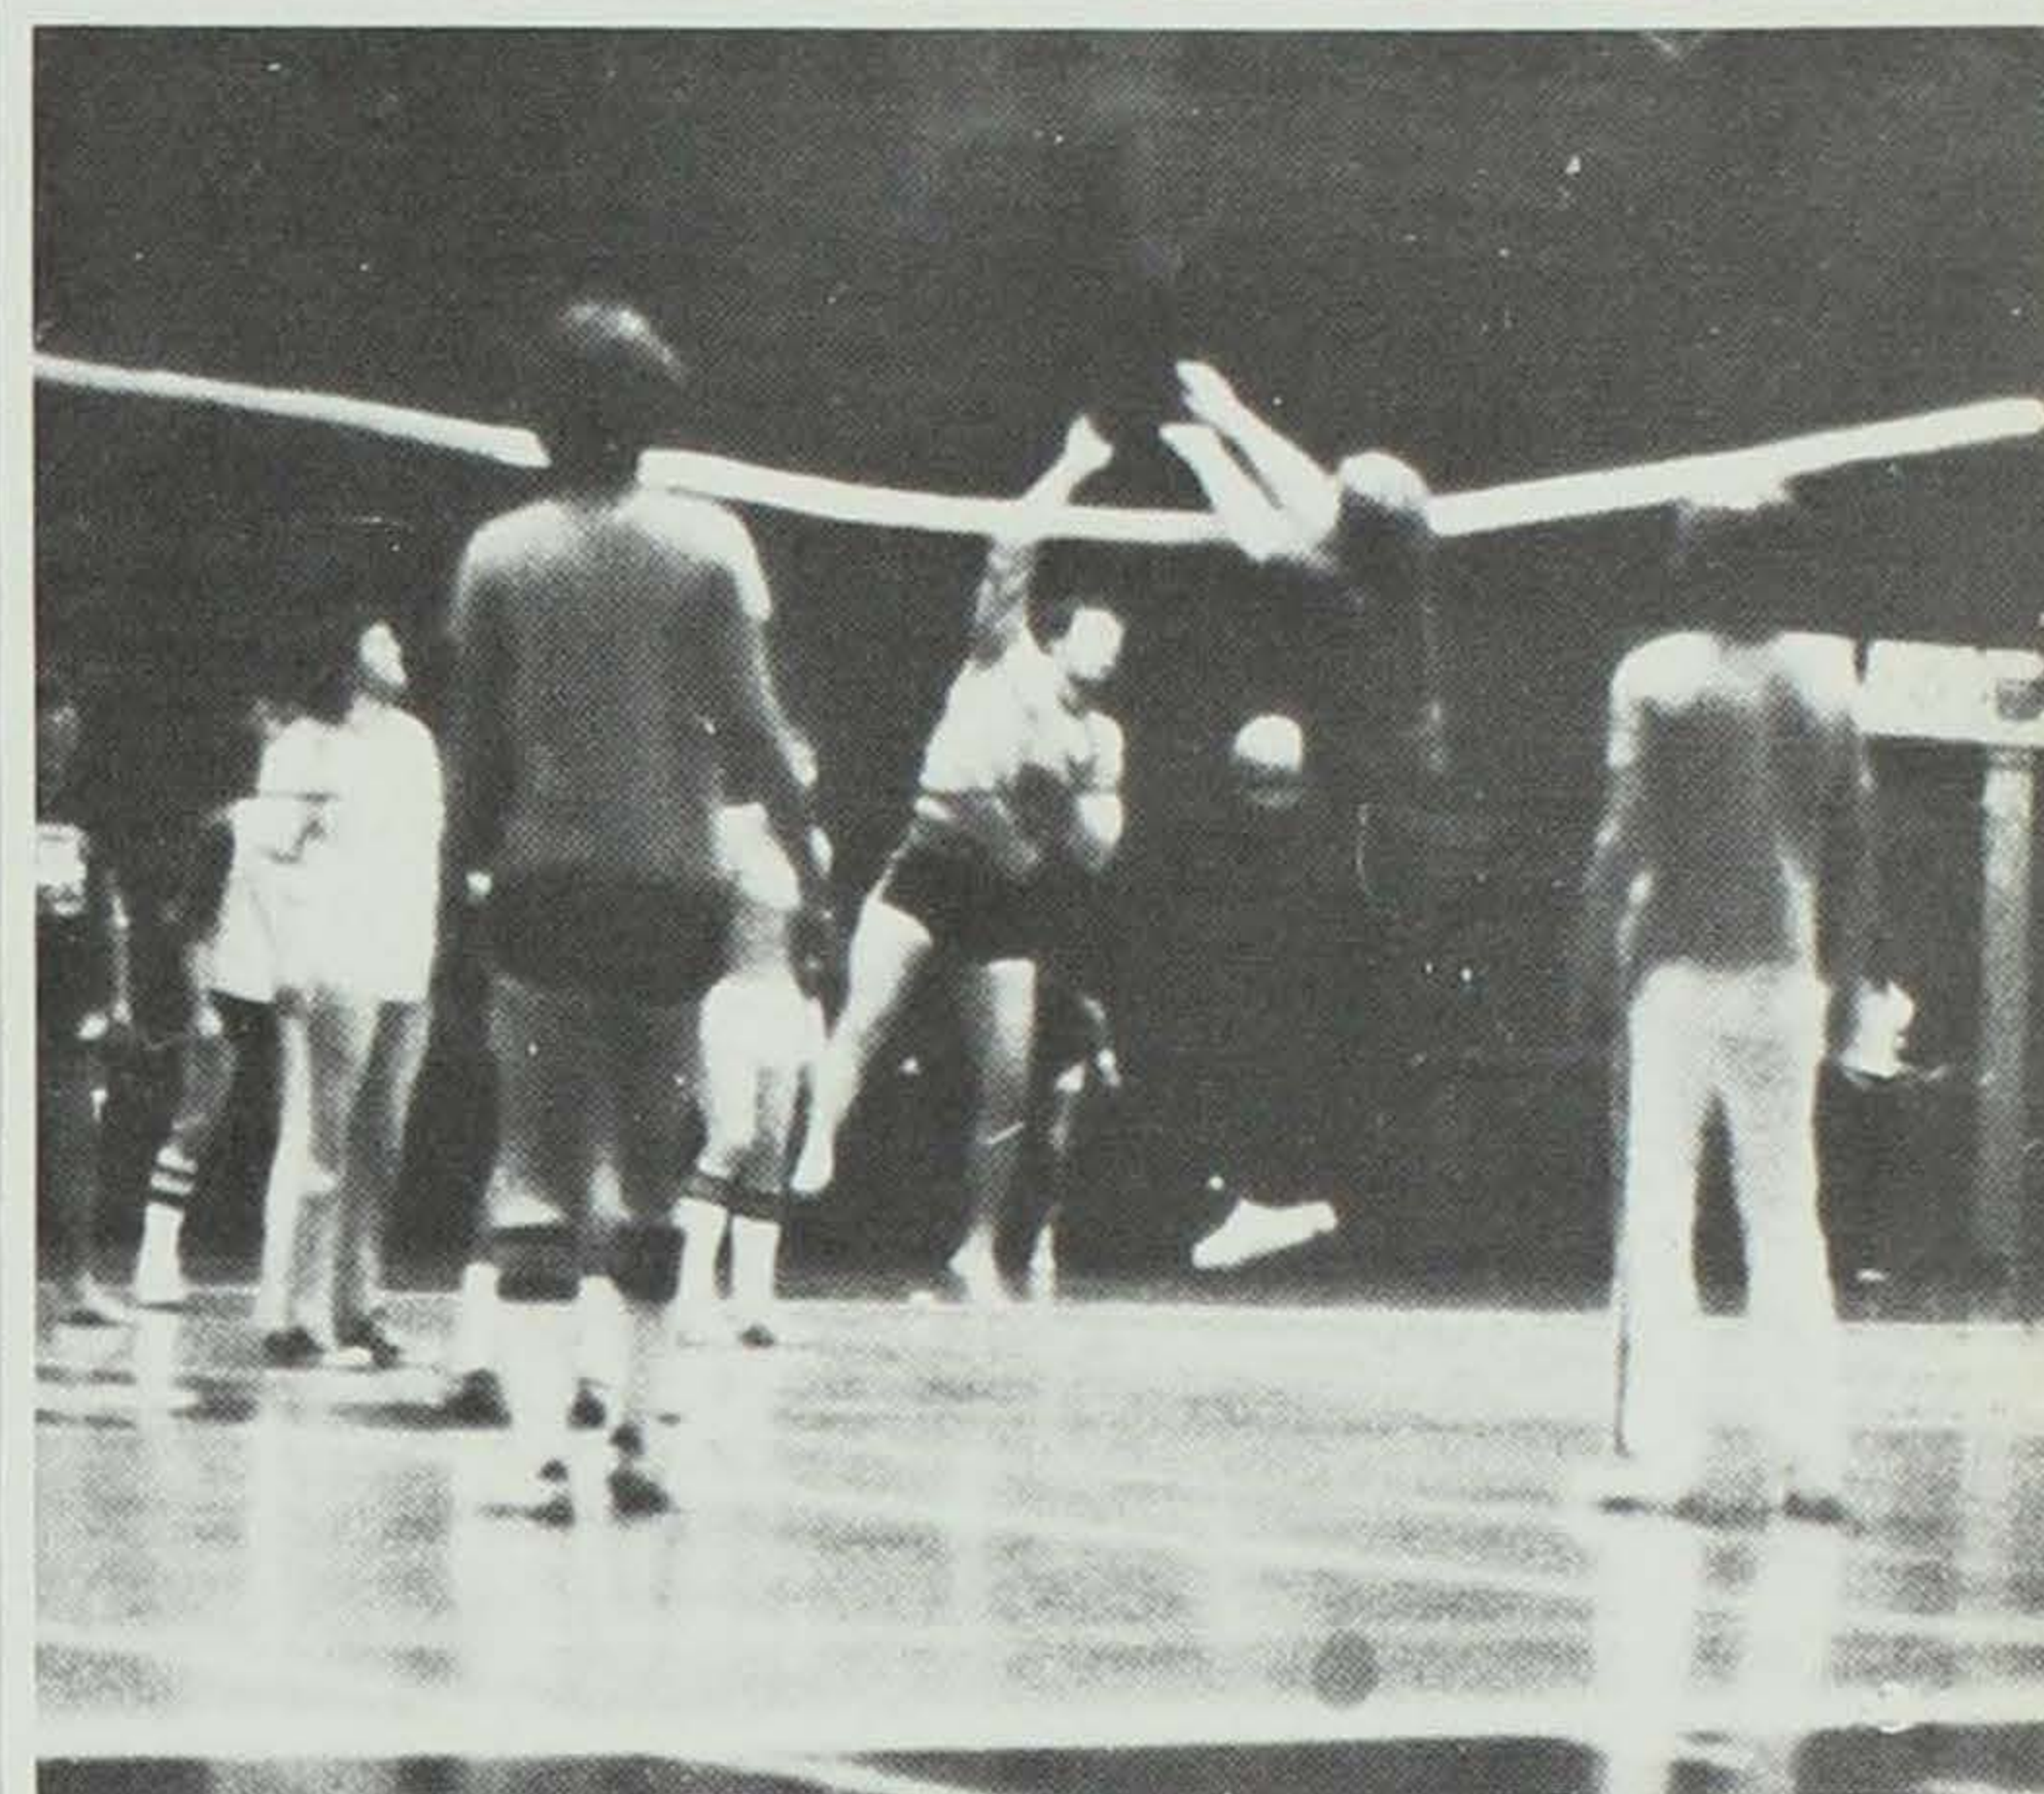

The purpose of bringing Ferguson to B.V. was to expose the students to an exciting experience in the music of the jazz era. The concert was a smashing success in the eyes of all concerned.

This success was due to the hard work of the committee, Ms. Jody Mitchell, and Mr. James Hejl. Thanks to them all. It was an event we will never forget.

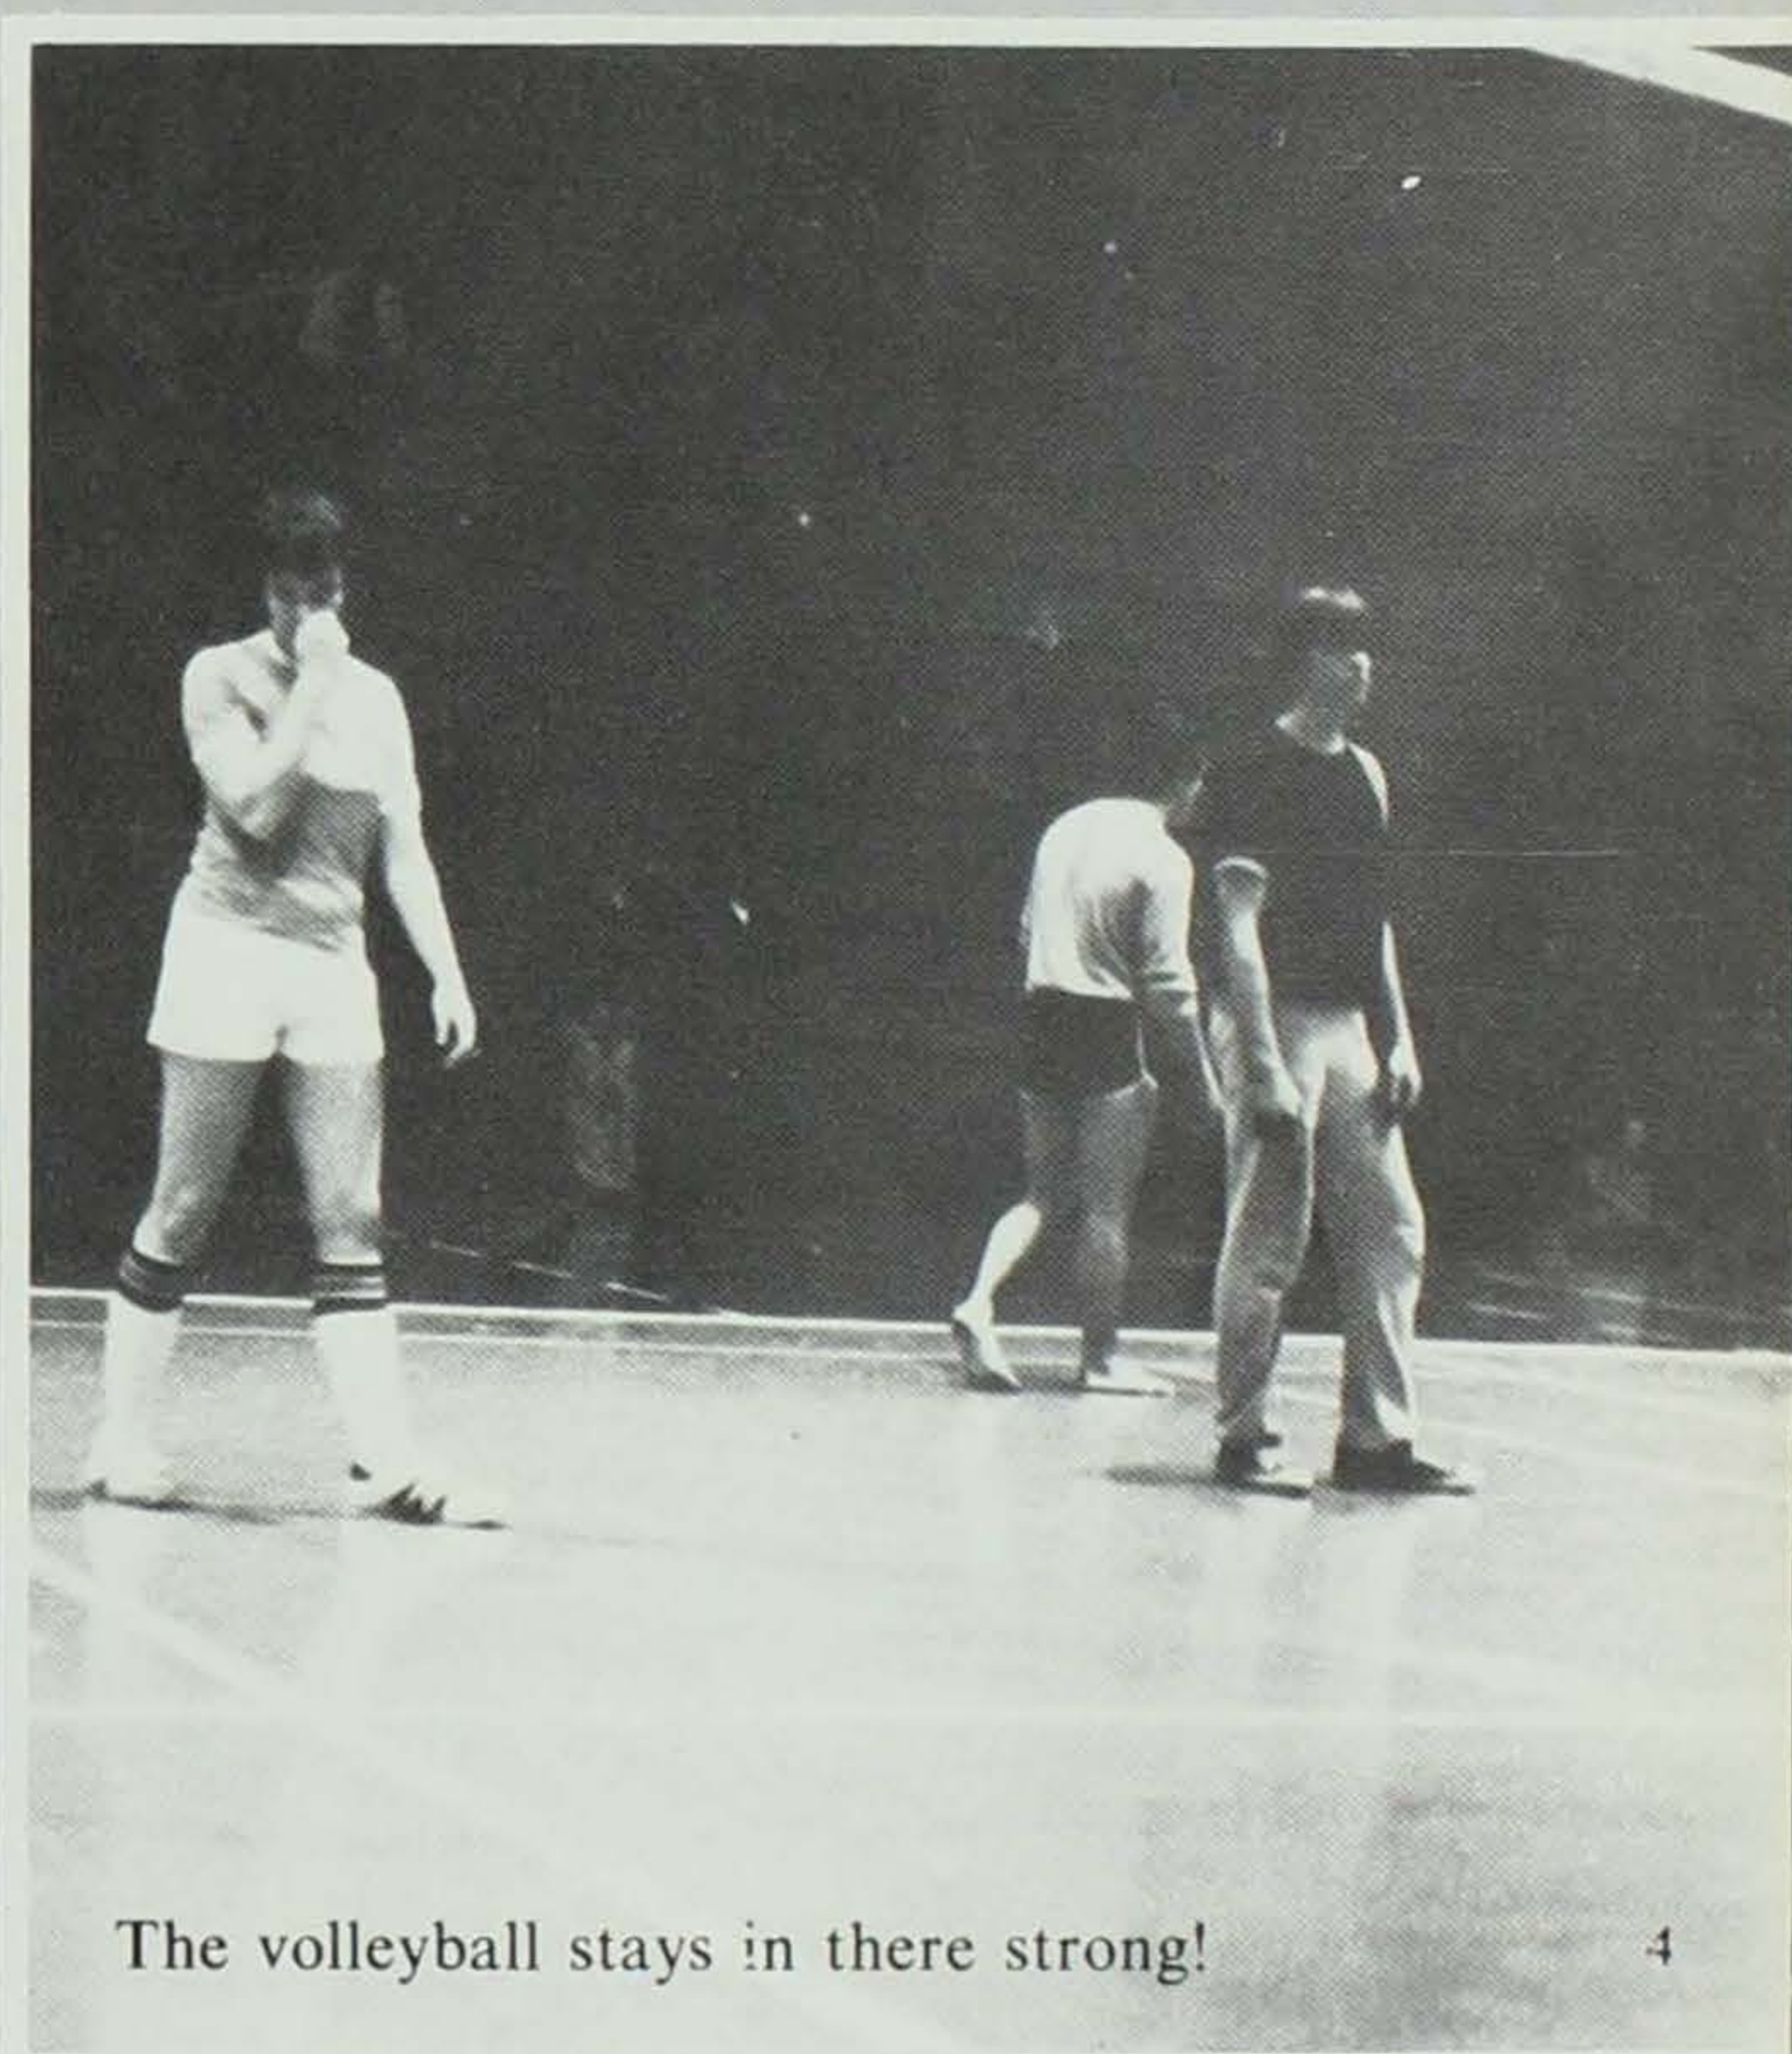

There has usually been some sort of Muscular Dystrophy Marathon in the past, and there was again this year. A carnival including 30 hours of volleyball and weight lifting, 7 hours of frisbee throwing, and laps of skateboarding, was held. In addition there were booths for such things as the dunk tank and win a cake.

The volleyball games were March 10-11, while the rest of the activities were March 31-April 1. The M.D. committee was advised by Jody Mitchel and chairpersoned by April M. Clough. The other members were Ginger Finley, Gayle Snow, Mike Deal, Kim Danielson, Mary Thomas, Barb Hornstein, and Maynard Ohl. A successful $3,500 was the result.

MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY MARATHONS

YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU

"You Can't Take It With You" a comedy, was presented November 3,4,5, in Schaller Chapel. Dr. Whitlatch, asst. professor of Speech and Drama, directed this successful play.

The story is based around the Sycamore family, which is not the average New York family. Each family member shows his own individualism. While Penny writes plays, Grandpa goes to commencements, and Essie dances, Alice is the only family member living a normal life working all day long in an office. She also manages to fall in love with the bosses son, Tony.

Eventually Tony's family and the Sycamore's meet. Arguments arise as we see these two families are very opposite; this is where the action begins. Soon everyone gets along and Alice and Tony plan to live happily ever after, and we presume they do.

Many weeks of hard work went into this play, and a very entertaining show was the result.

WINTER WEEK

Winter week, February, 20-25, started Monday with broom hockey. These games continued through Thursday. Meanwhile, Tuesday was the scene for the relay races in the Lage Campus Center. The winning teams were:

1. Hayes and Follon
2. Beckman and Presley 1
3. None
4. none

Wednesday Mr. America was announced. There were many excellent candidates, and it was difficult to choose a winner but, eventually the judges decided.

1. Doug Stilwell
2. Gary Fell
3. Dan Nedrow and Jeff Hargus (team)
4. Dave Grubb

Thursday the Broom Hockey champions were chosen and the results:

1. Hershberger and Echo
2. Beckman and Presley 1
- 3.-4. (tie) McCord and Sunny Halverson and Olympia 1

Also Thursday a Banana Split eating contest brought screams of laughter to the many participating teams. The winners:

1. Follon and Hayes
2. Athena and LaFoy
3. Beckman and Presley 1
4. Halverson and Olympia 1

Friday and Saturday each team received points for attending the B.V. Men's Basketball games. Throughout the week the points were added up for each team and at the dance Saturday night the overall winners were announced:

1. Hershberger and Echo
- 2.-3. (tie) Beckman and Presley 1, Hayes and Follon
4. Halverson and Olympia 1

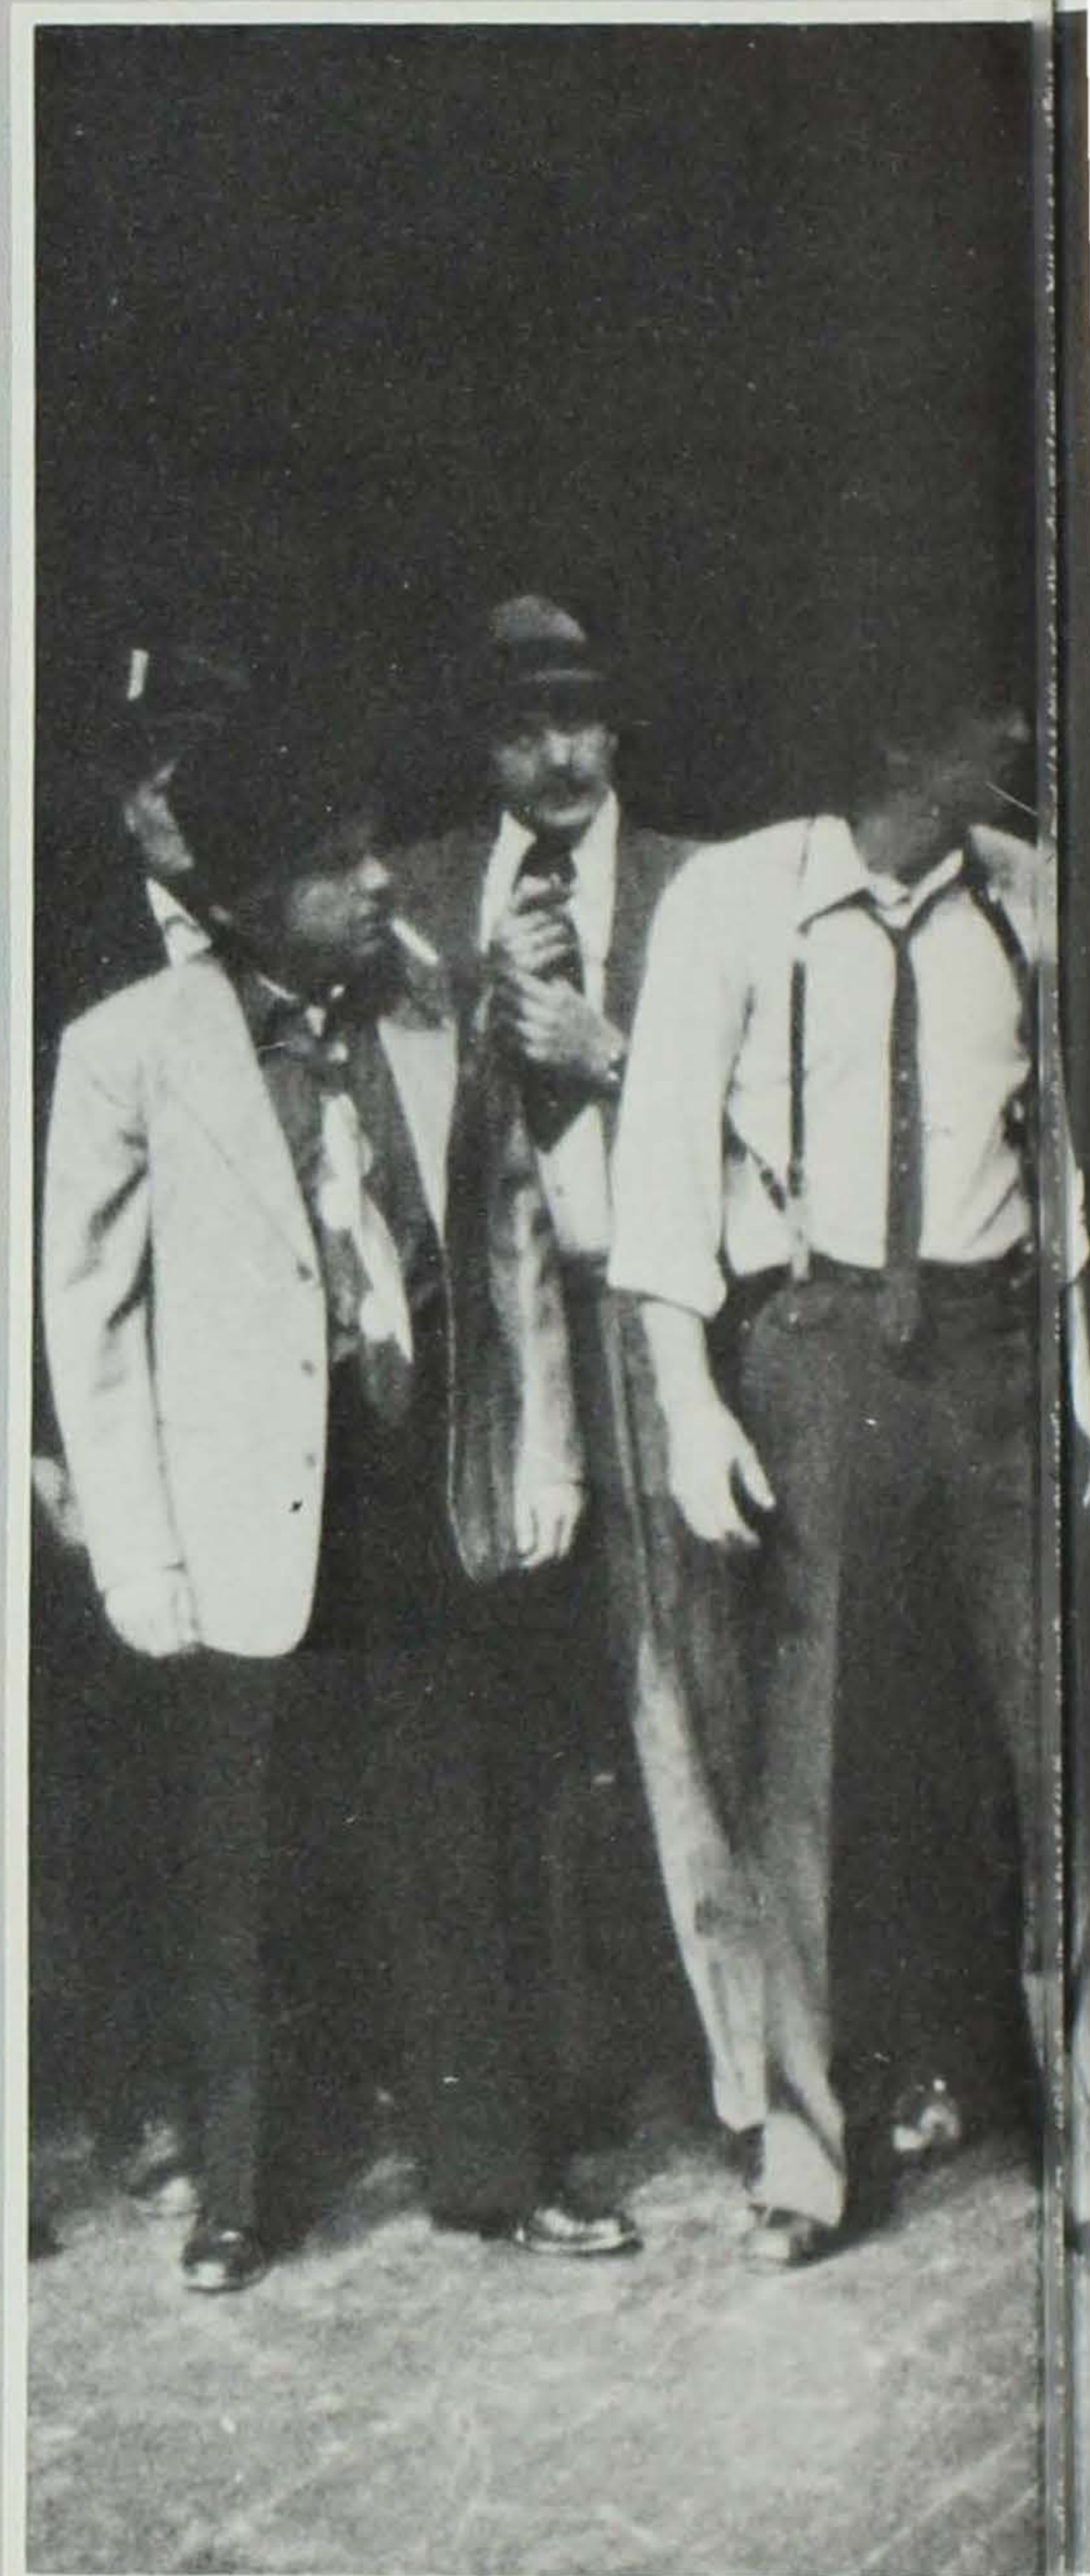

Actors, as well as orchestra members, technicians, and directors stood nervously waiting for the curtain to open on the Broadway backdrop for the first scene of Guys and Dolls. During the three performances, on April 20, 21, and 22, over 2,000 people were never able to sense those nerves due to the successful show which brought two audiences to their feet.

The play is set in New York City in the late 1940's. It revolves around Nathan, the leader of the permanent floating crap game of New York; Adelaide, featured Hot Box dancer and singer; Sky, the highest gambler of them all; and Sarah, the mission doll. Gamblers, Hot Box Dancers, and the Mission Band are a few of the groups which add to the excitement of the show.

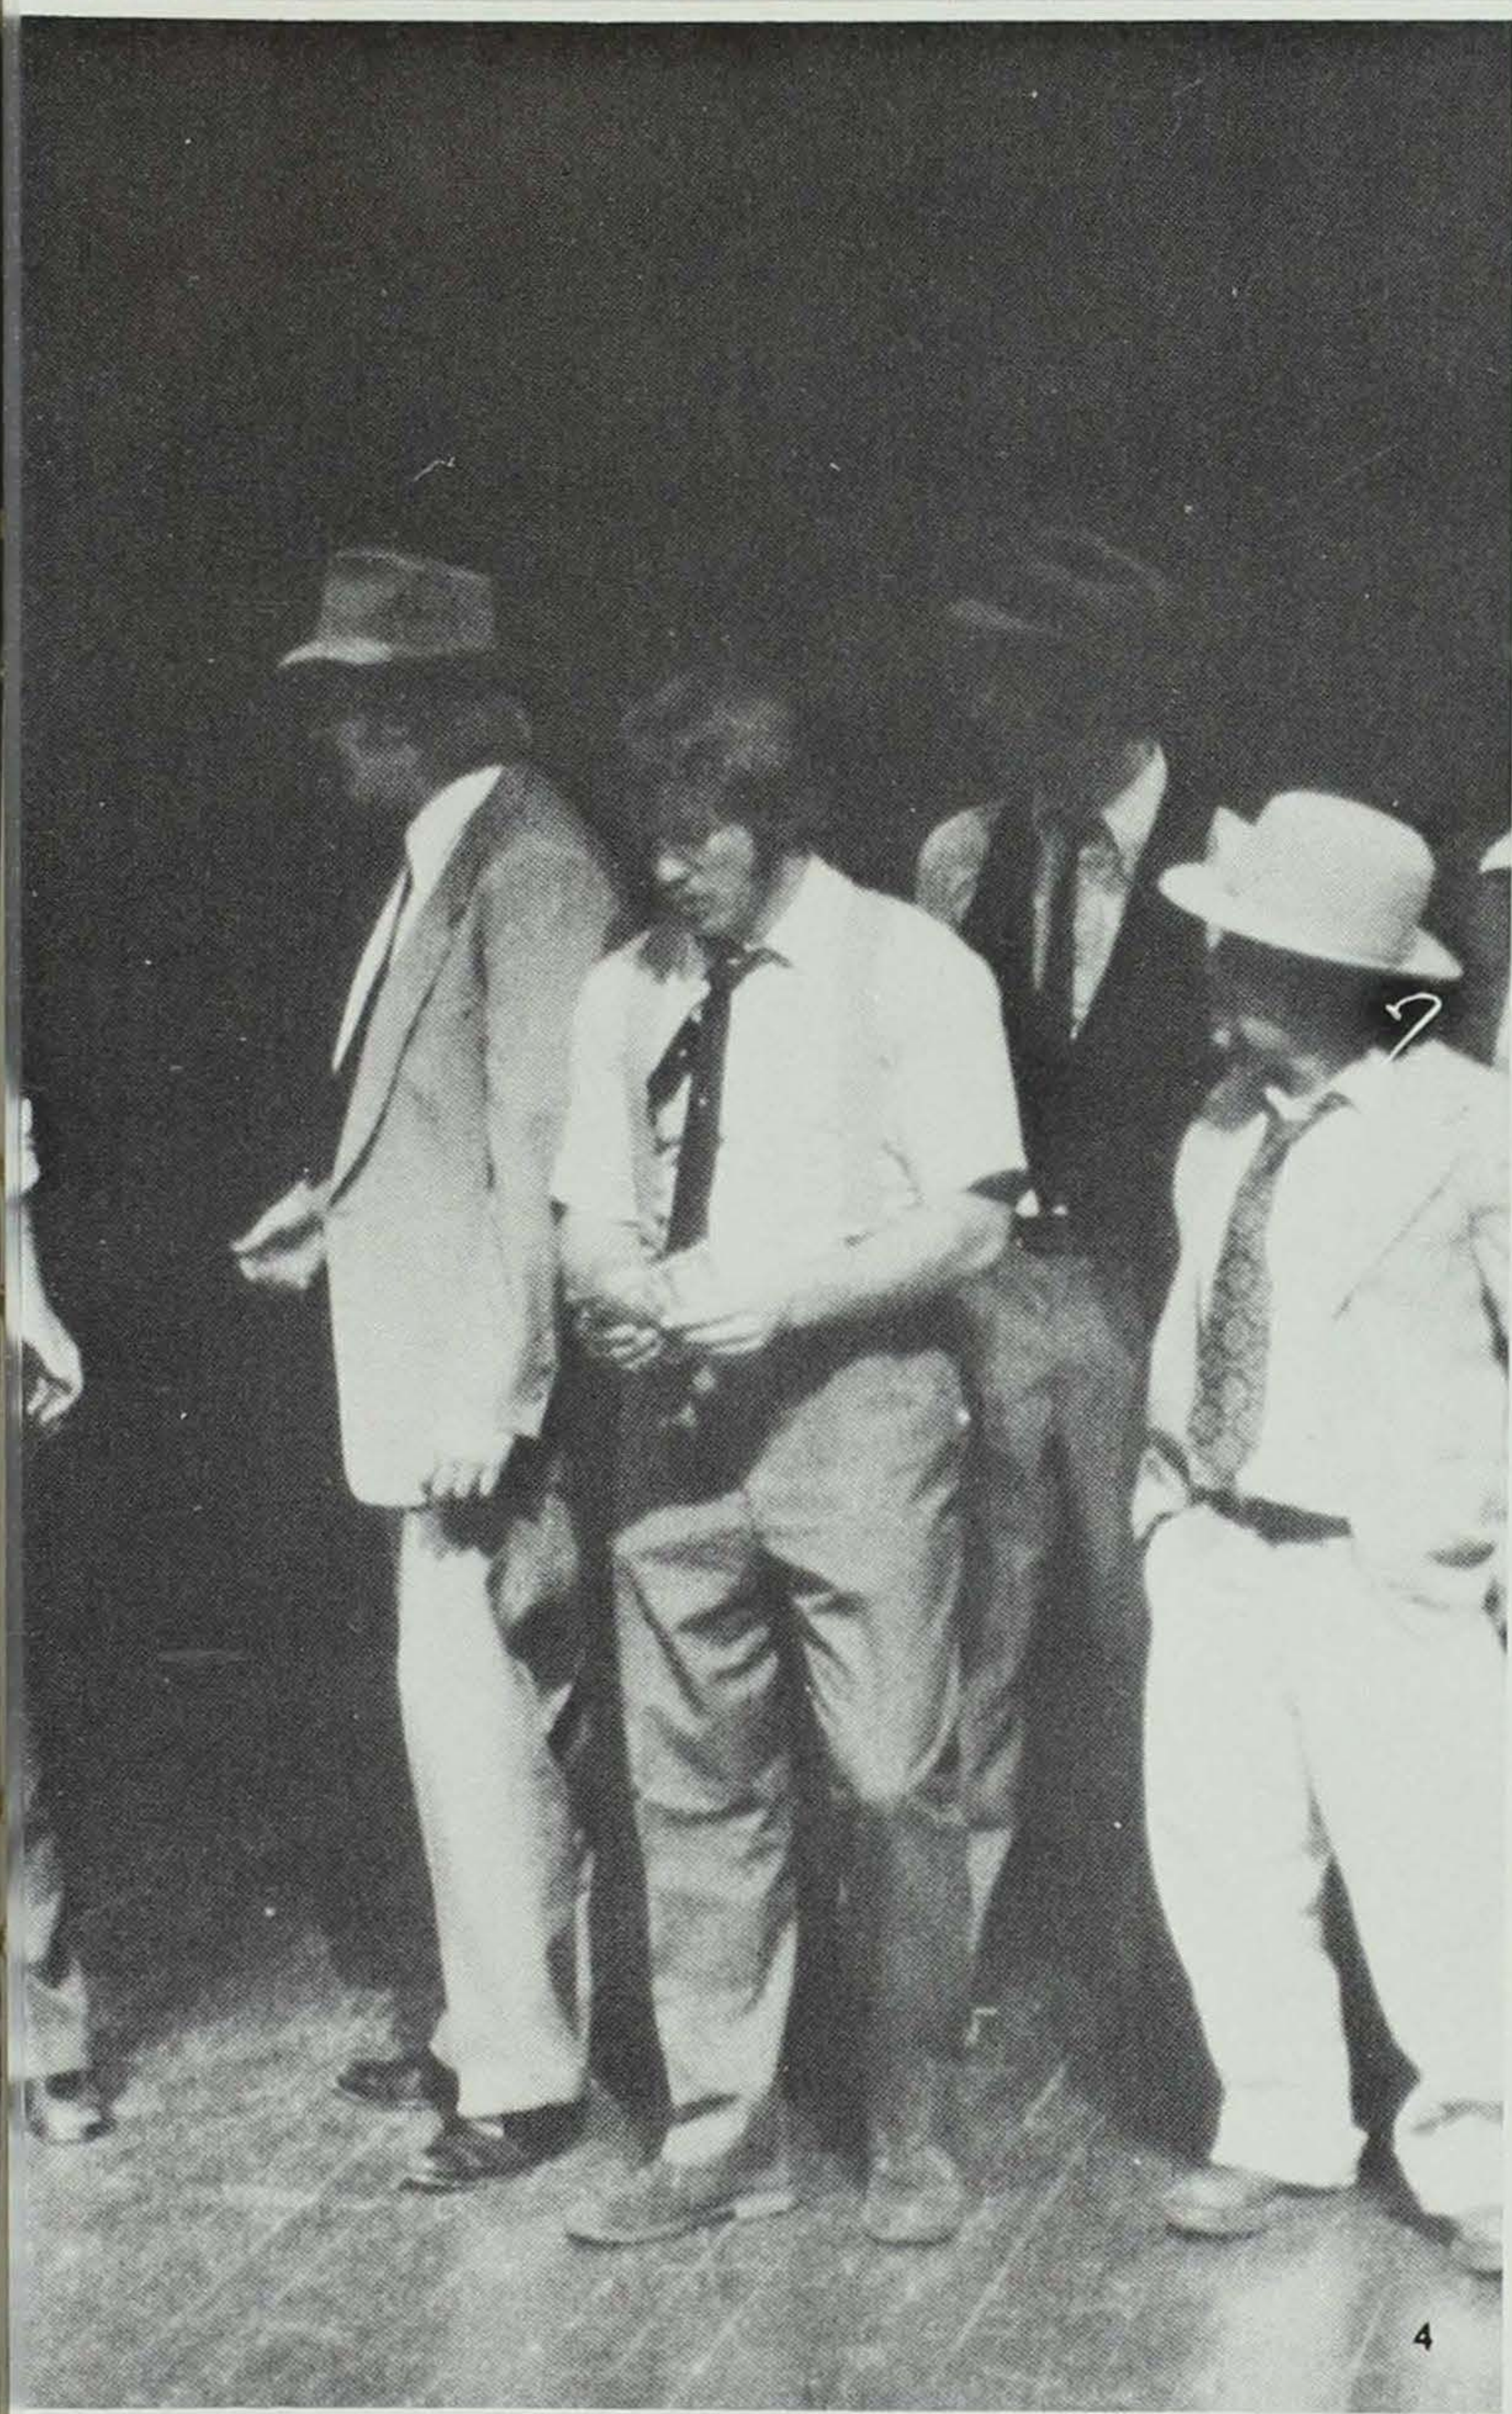

Some interesting scenes in the play included a crap game in the sewer, a mission doll getting drunk in Cuba, and a prayer meeting attended by all kinds of gamblers. The final scene, the wedding scene of the two couples, ends the show on a happy note.

Everyone should be credited with a fine production: Dr. Michael Whitlatch; Dr. Leonard Denham; student director, Renee Schmidt; choreographer, Jean Whitlatch; and, of course, the 100 and more students involved.

BEAUTIFICATION DAY

May 4th marked the third annual Beautification Day at Buena Vista College. On this afternoon, planned by the BV Gardeners, trees and flowers were planted over the entire campus. Students, along side of faculty members and their spouses, worked hard, as you can see, to make Buena Vista a truly "Beautiful View."

After four hard years of work, graduation finally came for 266 students. May 14, began with Baccalaureate at 10:30 am. in Schaller Chapel. This service is modelled on the liturgy of the Church of Scotland (Presbyterian) and contains elements of various great Reformed and Presbyterian groups around the world and throughout the centuries to which Buena Vista college belongs in tradition.

Commencement followed at 2:30. The B.V. Band played for the processional. The recognition of the 50 year class followed the invocation by Robert Tollefson. Edgar E. Mack (Vice-Chairman Board of Trustees) spoke followed by a Commencement Address by Cal Olson. Fred D. Brown presented the class and recognized the honor students. Keith G. Briscoe gave the Conferring Degrees. Honorary Degrees were: Henry Fawcett, Eben Hopson, Ralph T. Mirse, Charles Zalesky. The Alma Mater was sung, the Benediction given and Recessional played. The Resident's reception ended graduation for another year. 1

The Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. James Hejl, provided entertainment for the campus as well as the local community.

1. Mr. Hejl directs the band during the long hours of practice before a concert.

2. The band as it appeared during the Spring Concert in Schaller Chapel. Unfortunately, this was the last concert that Mr. Hejl directed on the campus of Buena Vista College before moving to another state. He will certainly be missed.

CONCERT BAND

The B.V. Jazz Band this year was not only a performing group but also a learning experience. The group serve as a basis for experimentation in improvisation and exploration of the broad visa of the jazz and pop repertoire.

The highlight of the year for the group was, without a doubt, playing the warm-up for Maynard Ferguson who was here on campus in late October.

JAZZ BAND

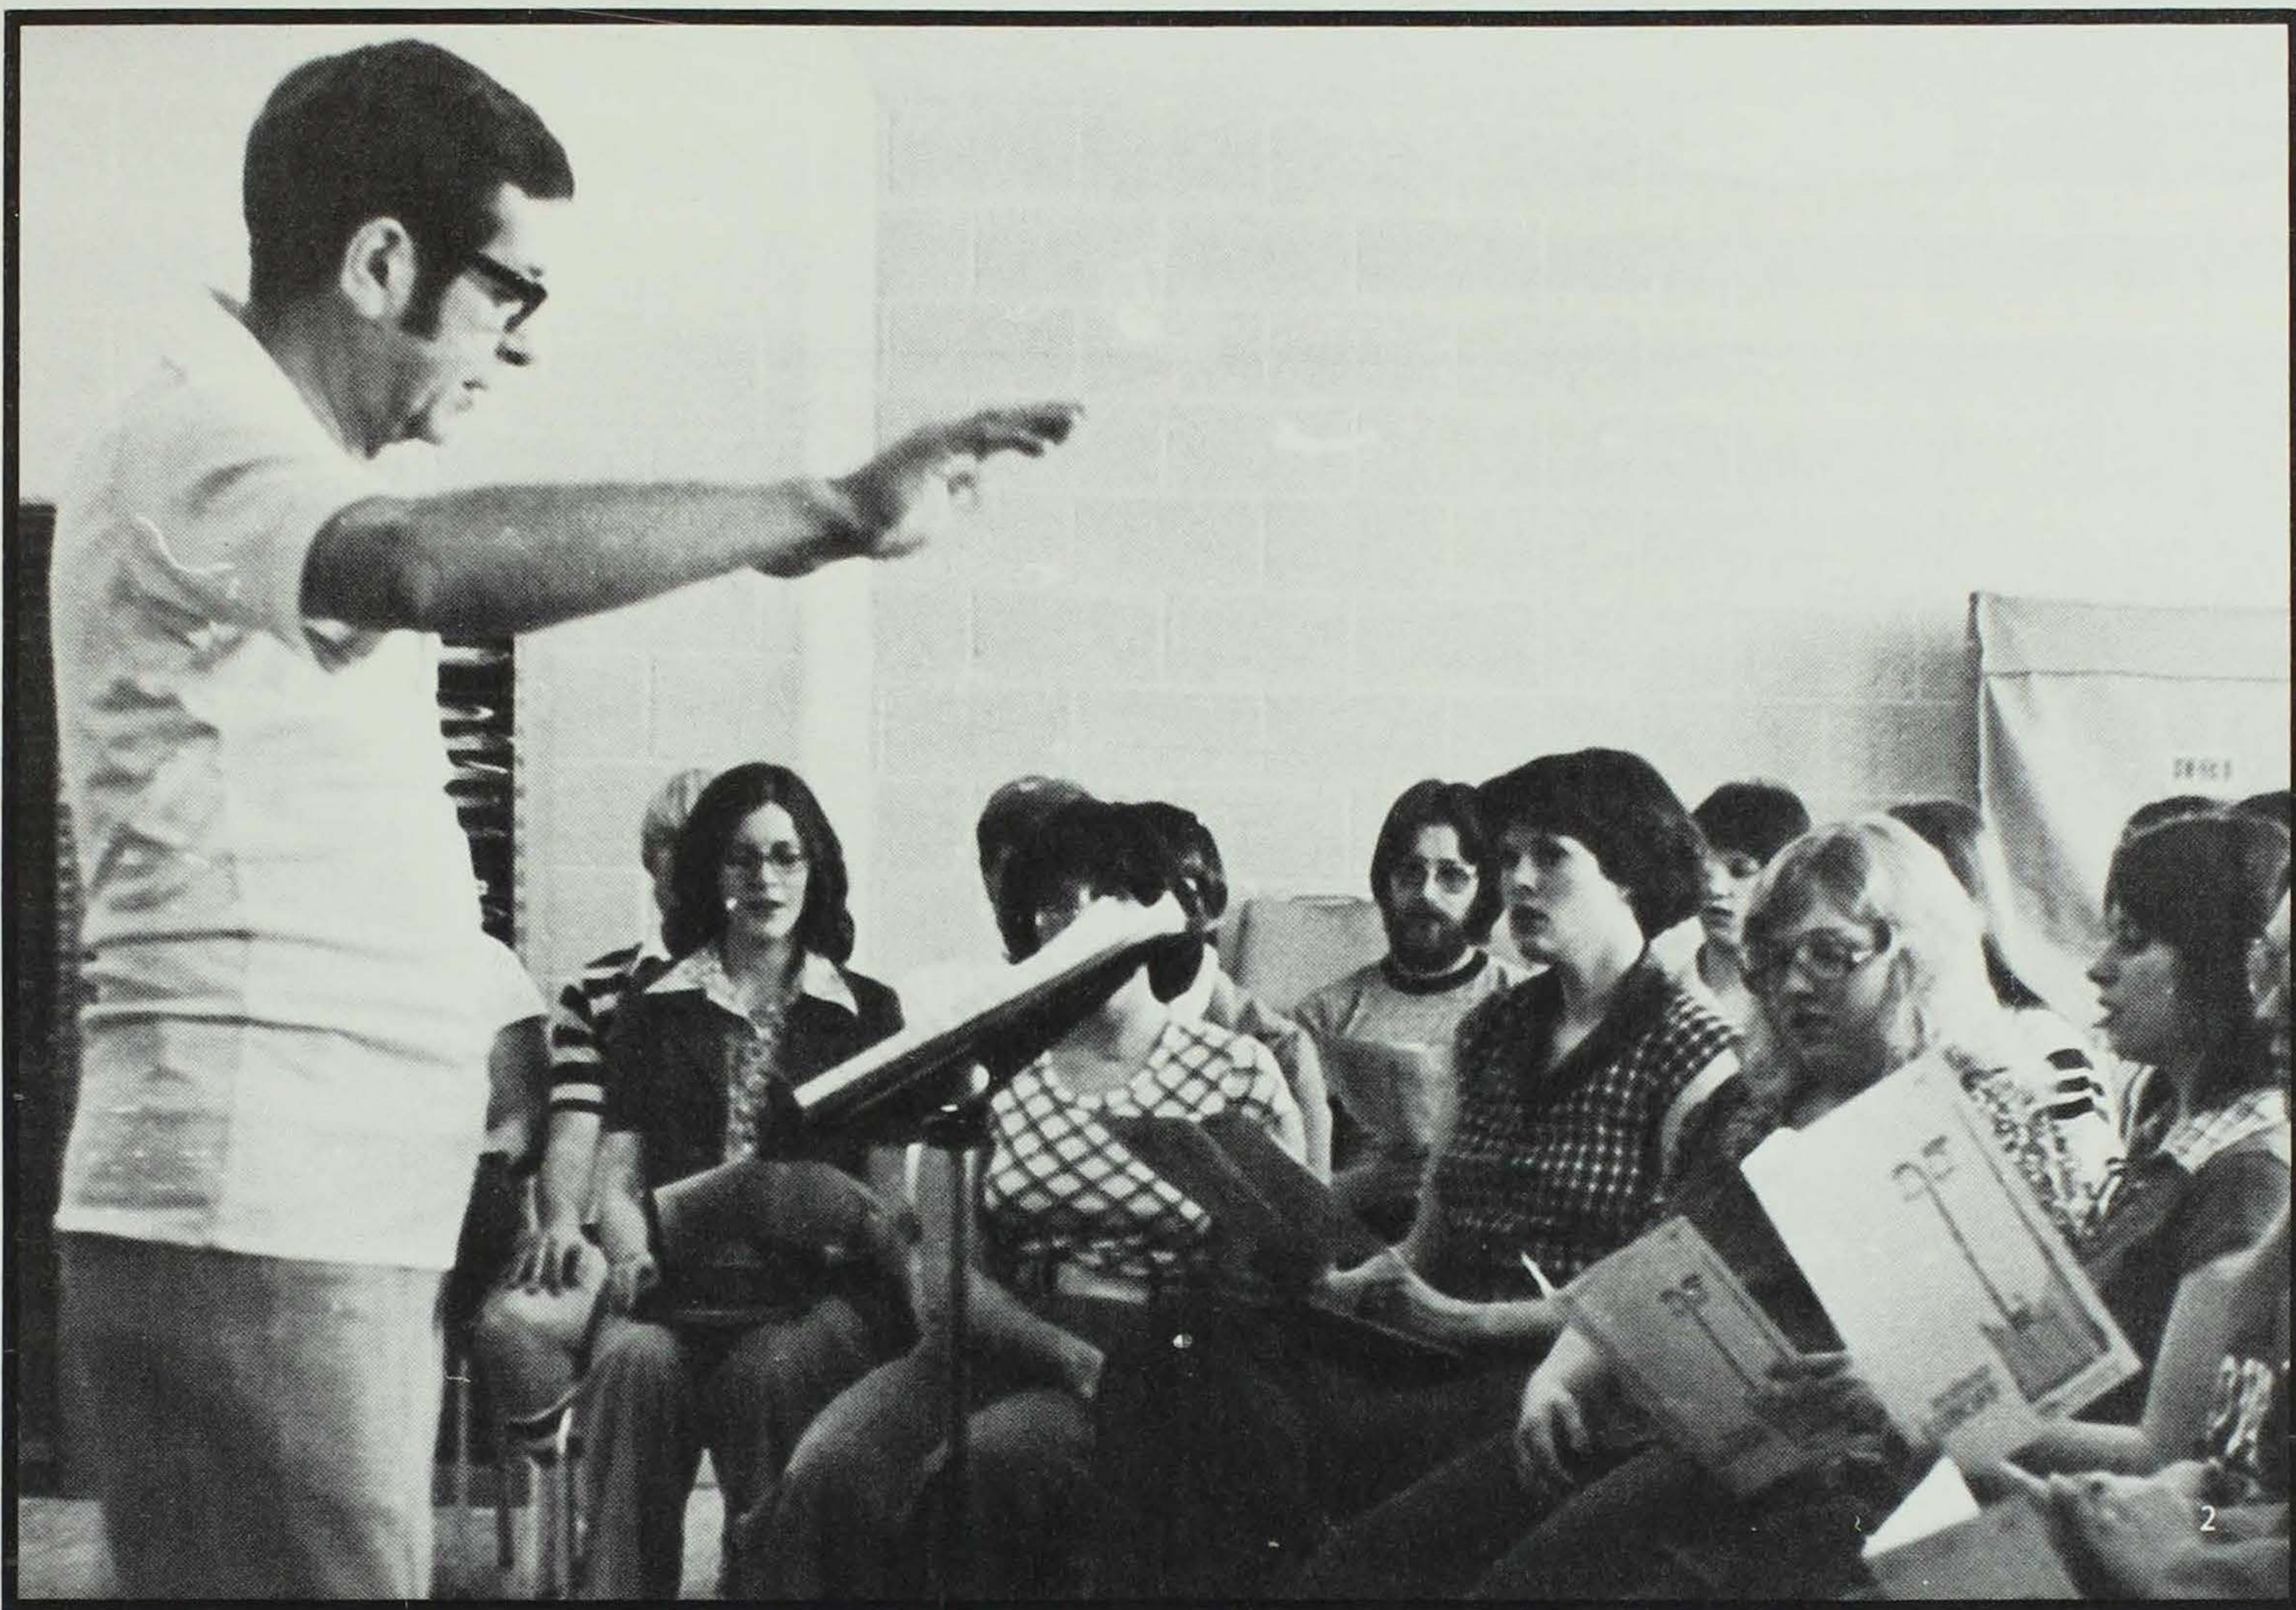

The Buena Vista College Concert Choir provides musical entertainment throughout the year. A highlight of the year is their famed Christmas Concert. Their performances are directed by Mr. Robert Pfaltzgraff.

In the Conference Tournament, Ruth Munch, a Jr., won the 2nd flight singles.

MEN'S TENNIS

This year's men's tennis team is playing better than last season's team, but the caliber of competition has also improved. Team members Gordy Stull, Kent Jespersen, and Jay Cook have improved from last year. Tom Kopp, Randy Hanson, and Bob Ingebritson are new.

 May 5 Wartburg: B.V. won.
 May 12-13 Central, Penn., Luther, Wartburg: B.V. won.
 IIAC Conference: B.V. finished fourth.

This year the Buena Vista men's golf team was undefeated among small colleges until the IIAC Conference at Lake Creek. B.V. took fourth in the conference title and B.V.'s Steve Smith took medalist honors. This season all team members shot under an average of 80, making the team the best since 1958. Through the last sixteen years B.V. has a total record of 112 and 31 in dual meets. This year's team was made up of very dedicated young men. Several members graduated but the team's future looks good.

The Beavers ended the season with a 7-2 record and a conference record of 5-2. Injuries to players were factors in the season, especially to Quarterback Rollie Wiebers, who was injured early. Coach Hershberger feels the replacements did a fine job and he is looking forward to next year.

VOLLEYBALL

MEN'S and WOMEN'S TRACK

This was the first women's track team since 1973. The track team was started again to provide a well rounded program for women and to increase the quality of women's sports. This season the team had a slow start, which was anticipated as there hadn't been sufficient time to recruit members. The team should be much sufficient time to recruit members. The team should be much larger for next year. There will be an increase in the number of meets the team participates in, depending on the interest of the women.

SOFTBALL

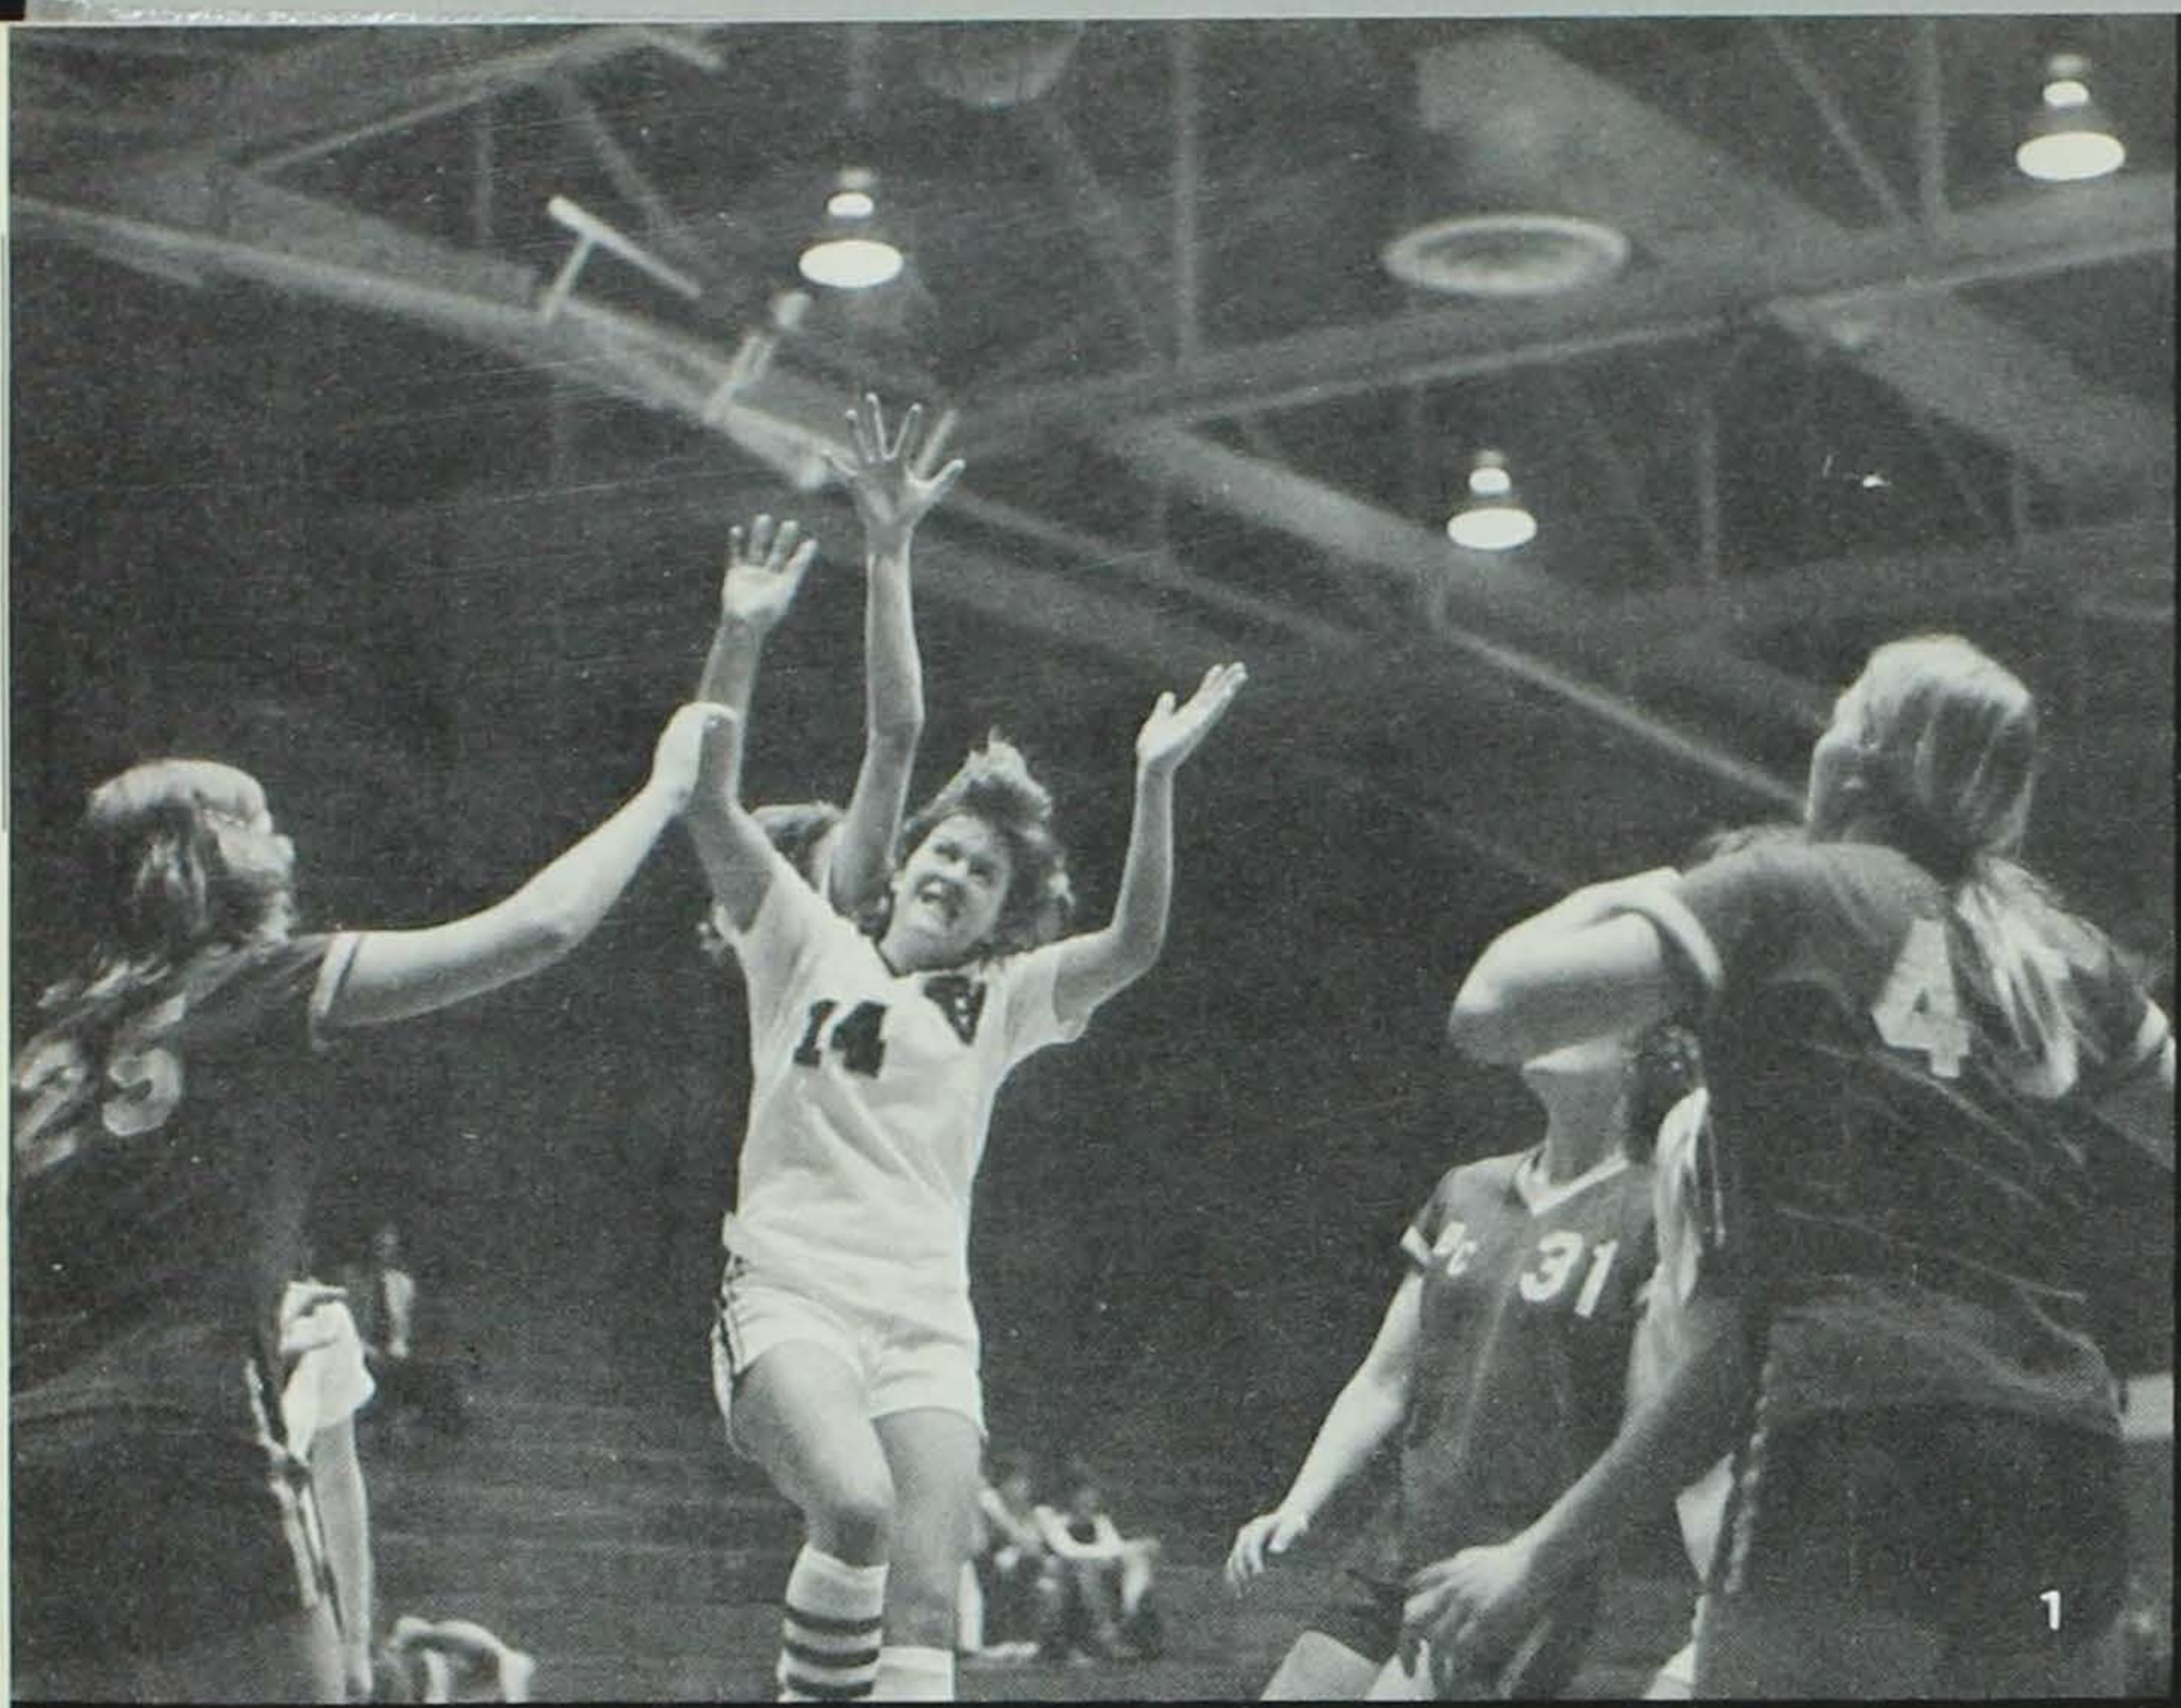

There were quite a few injuries to team members that happened all at once but the women's softball team managed to improve their record over last year's. They played good ball-games, such as the game with Drake, which was a very satisfying win. There were problems with the weather, causing the team to lose six games because of rain.

The woman's basketball team had a record of 15-7 and at one point won 8 games in a row. During the season the team lost center, Lori Gries, because of injury. Last year she set a school record by grabbing 177 rebounds and averaging 14.1 pts. per game. Another freshman, Jenny Delzell, added 9 pts. per game. Defensively the Beavers did very well also, by limiting their opponents to a 52 defensive average. Two main contributors to BV's defense are guards Becky Lehr and Cindy Stockdale. Naughton was very satisfied with the efforts of his team whose goal is to build the team the best they can with what they have.

This baseball season could be divided between the spring trip and all the rest of the games. There were 2 wins and 8 losses in the south which was chiefly because of better competition. The trip was productive in that it gave the team a chance to play in good weather and be ready for the games here. In Iowa the team record was 11-8. Coach Beekman felt his team did well in hitting the ball but the defense wasn't quite as good as it could have been. Kirk Hilsabeck, who was All Ia. Conference last year was leading in the conference this year with a .471 batting average. The pitching was spotty but the main pitchers were sophomores and should improve with more experience. Near the end of the season, left-handed soph., Dale Knight pitched a no-hitter against Dubuque. This year there was quite a few freshman on the team and Coach Beekman feels they have performed well, if not better than he expected.

BASEBALL

the 1978 interim

Buena Vista College operates on a 4-1-4 calendar, that is, there are two fourteen week semesters that sandwich a four week interim in January.

This interim is a chance for students to explore different areas that may not be available during the regular semesters. Besides classes ranging from Sign Language to Jazz Improvisation, there is the chance for the student to travel across Iowa, the United States, and the world. There is the opportunity for students to dream up their own projects or programs of study as another option during interim.

The teacher aide interim is one that is directed toward education majors. It is designed to give students experience in the classroom and school settings which will help them to decide whether or not teaching is what they really want to do.

This interim class is a requirement by the education department that is generally taken during the interim of a student's sophomore year. During this period, the student is placed in an area school to not only observe the students, teachers, and administration, but to serve as an aide to the classroom teacher in preparing for lessons, helping students, and doing follow-up work.

Through this acquaintance with the school environment in a different perspective, that of being a "teacher" rather than a student, the teacher aide should be able to evaluate how he would fit into the school environment and therefore put himself on the correct track for his future goals.

the european trip

Over January this year, a group of B.V. students, accompanied by Drs. Slagle and Hutchins, toured across seven European countries.

After reaching Europe by air, the bulk of the trip was spent traveling by boat and train: two modes of transportation few of the students were familiar with. Among the several stops were visits to four capital cities ... London, Paris, Rome, and Vienna.

Experiences during the trip of cultural, historical and entertainment value included visits to museums, live theatre, sporting events, landmarks, and yes, to Heinekin's Brewery in Amsterdam.

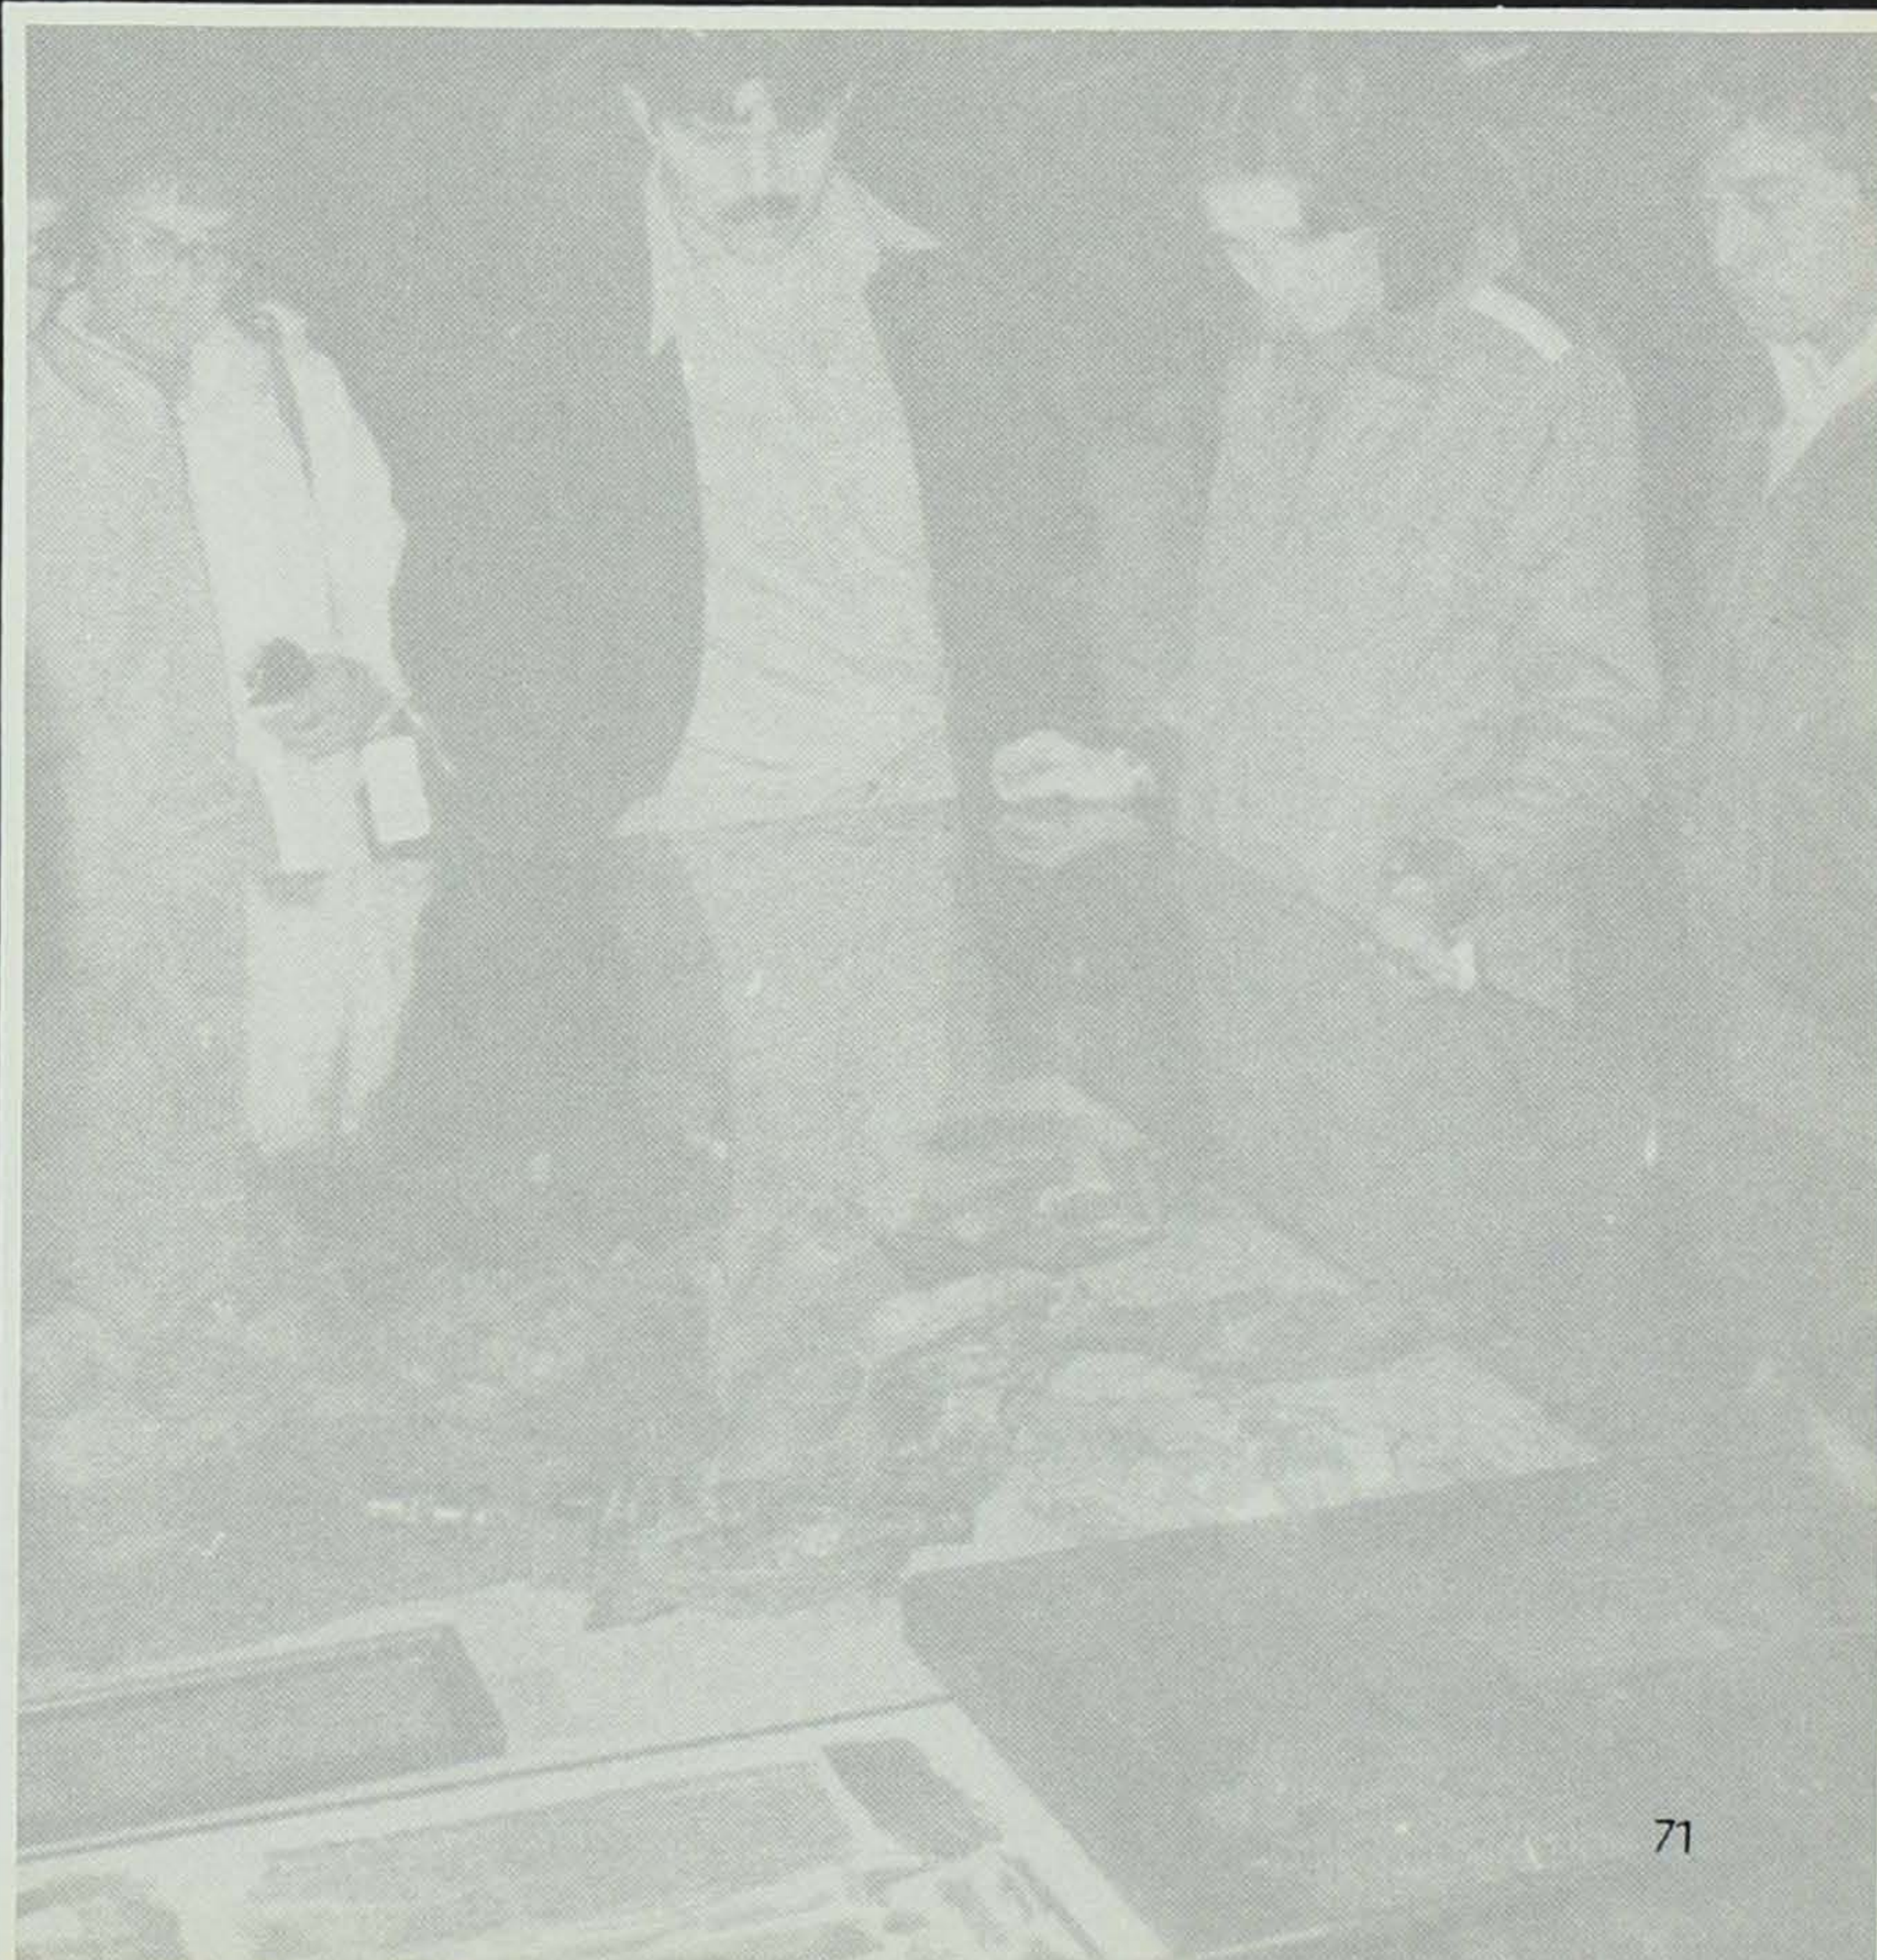

Did the students have a good time on the trip?

"I never wanted to come home."

"You bet! It was fantastic."

"I can't wait to go back again. I loved it."

What do you think?

interim classes

For those of us who were campus bound, a number of interim classes were offered to satisfy a variety of interests. "Like what?" you ask. Well, just look

1. The Fifties Phenomena: The Beat Movement to the 1950's in America.
2. Time, Work, & Leisure-Crucial Factors for Meaningful Living.
3. The Four Horsemen in History: War, Famine, Disease, & Death.

19. Mathematics & Economics.
20. Understanding & Memory: An Experimental Approach.
21. Water Safety Instruction (WSI).
22. Advanced Training & Conditioning.

23. Wanted: Sociology Majors Only.

And for those fortunate to engage in off-campus activities, there was:

24. Teacher Aide
25. Kindergarten Practicum.
26. Politico-Economic Internships.
27. Business Management, Accounting, Economics & Finance Internships.
28. Florida Exchange.
29. Art Studio & Gallery Hopping
30. A Corporate Visit to Kansas City.
31. Field Biology in the Southern Great Plains.
32. European Cultural Experience.

Along with all of these, there was the option of devising independent study programs. So you see, when we say we have variety, we HAVE variety.

field biology trip

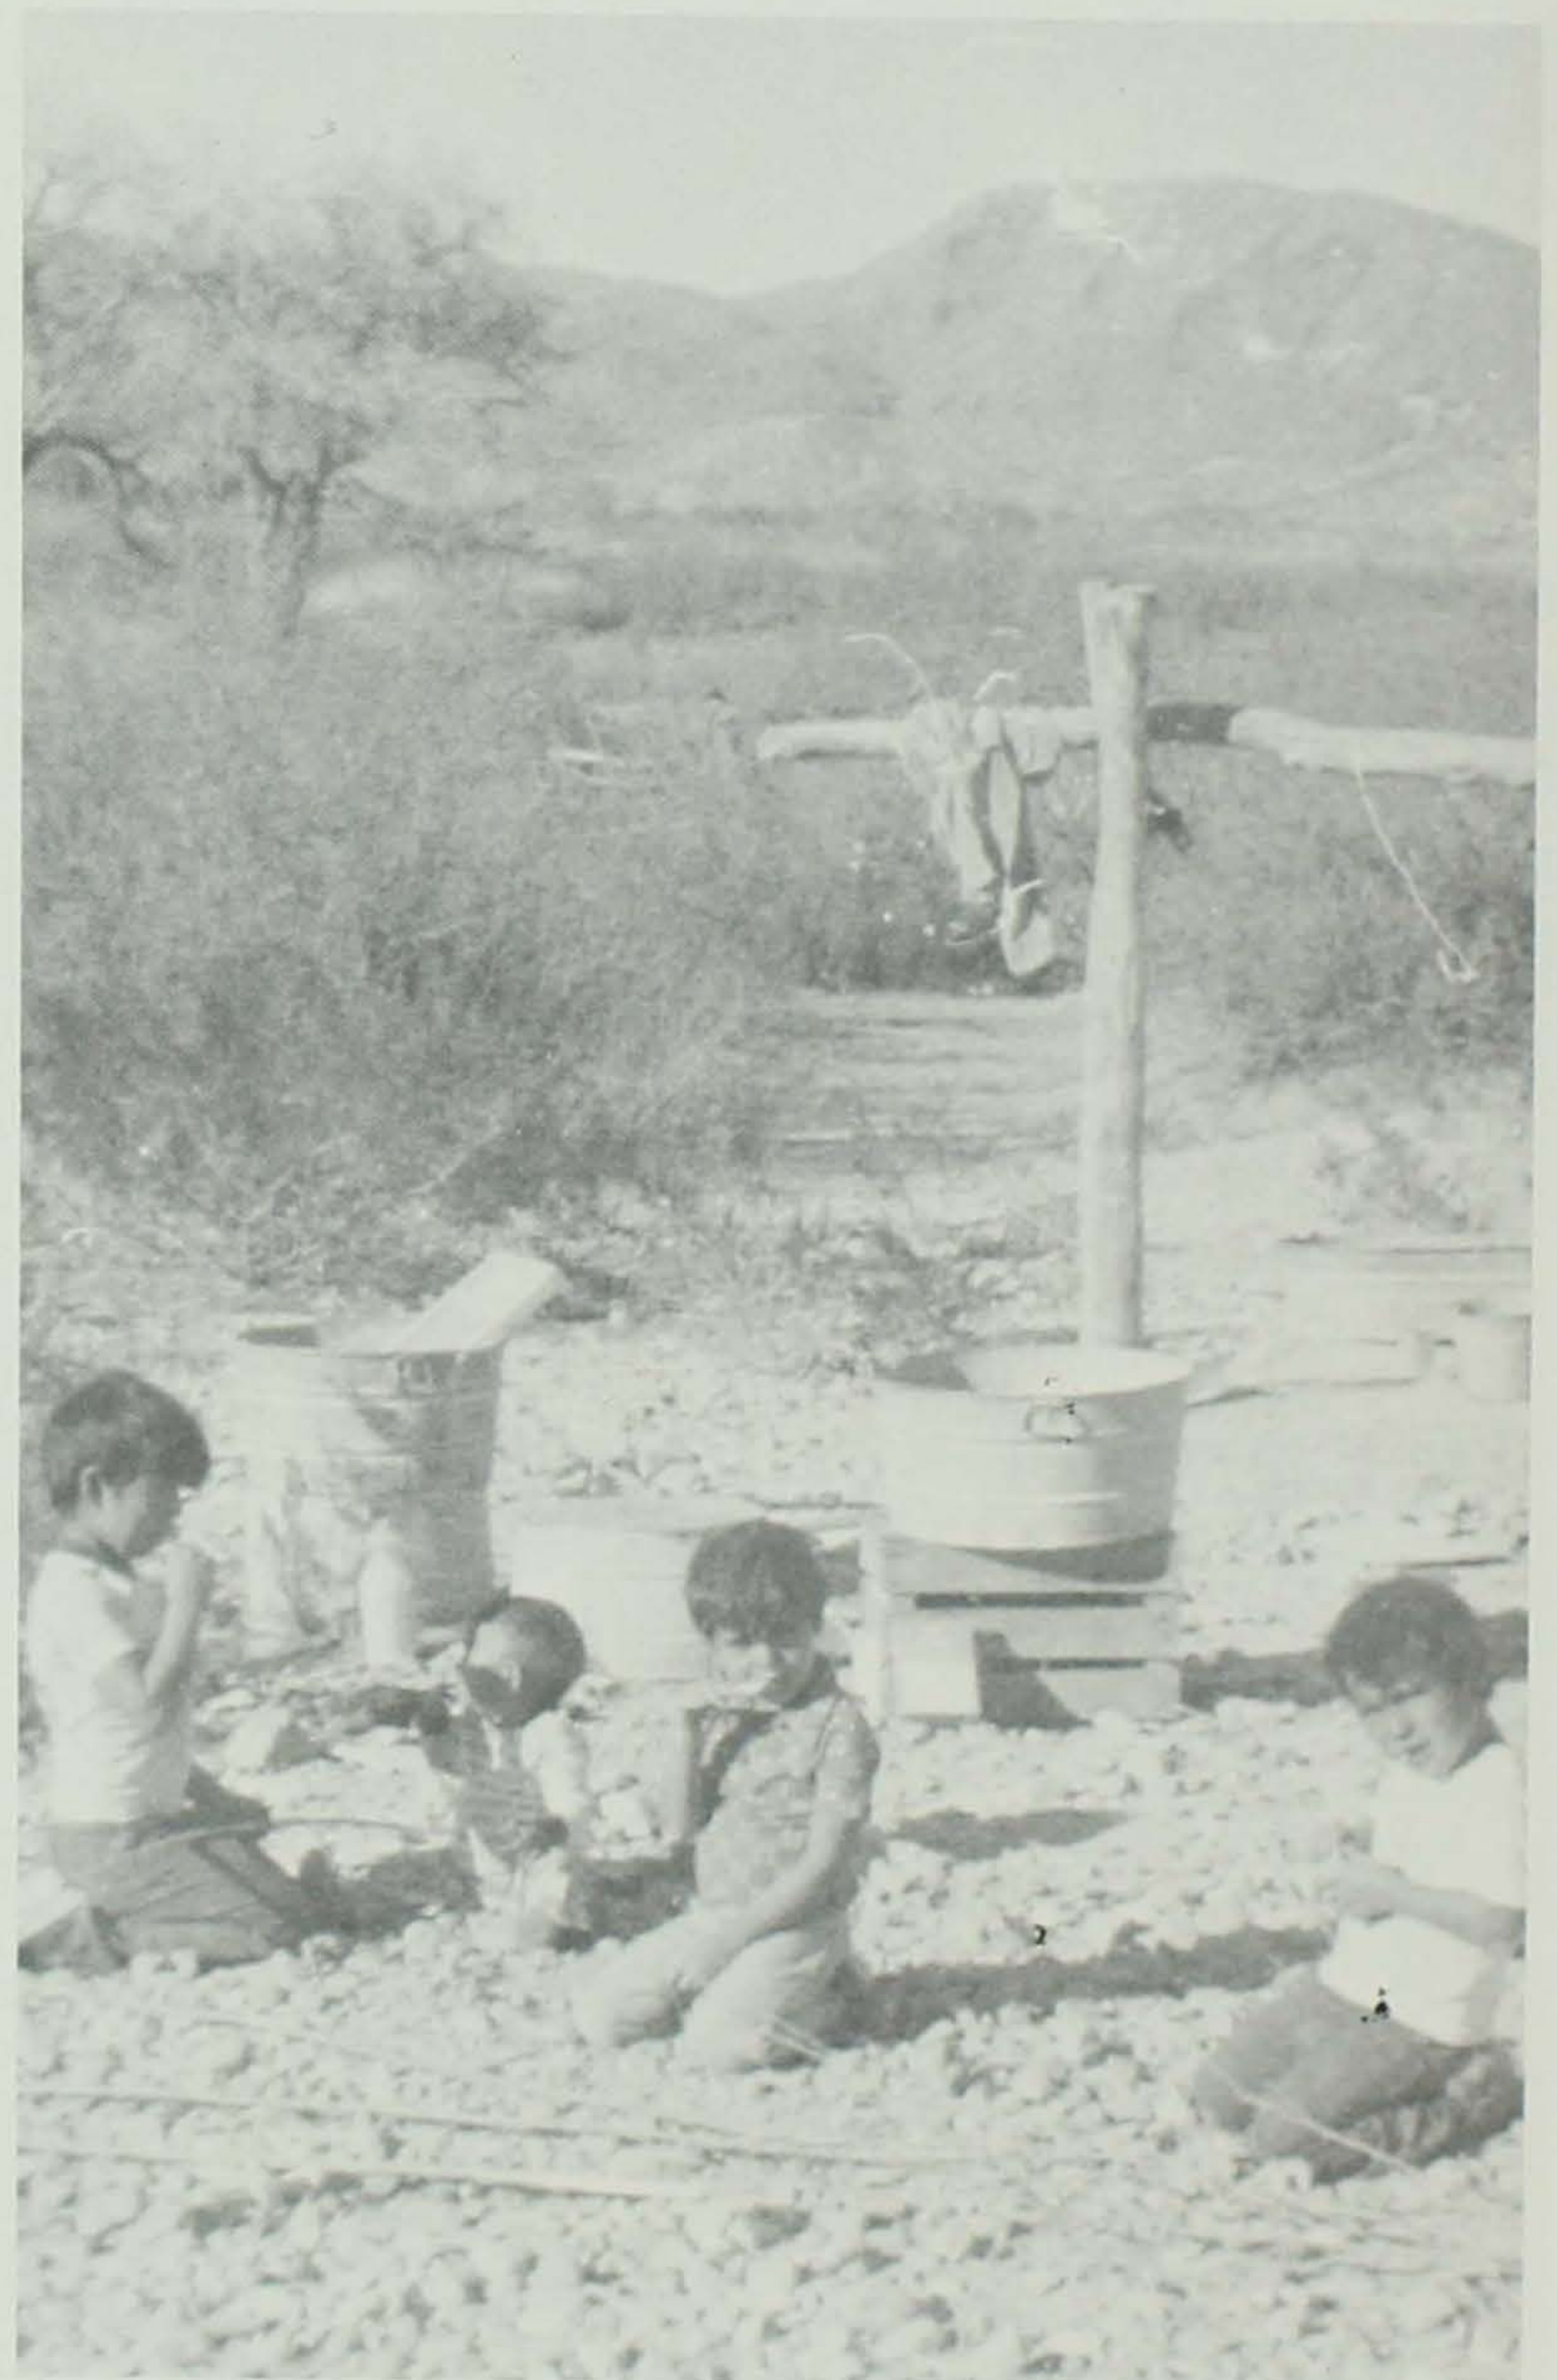

On January 3, 1978, Dr. Jerry Poff, Dr. Richard Lampe, and twelve students left on a camping trip to biologically interesting areas of the Southern Great Plains. Bat caves in southern Texas were visited along with Padre Island National Park, Big Bend National Park, Carlsbad Caverns, and Los Alamos National Laboratory in northern New Mexico.

Most of the time was spent at Big Bend National Park where there was the opportunity to examine eco-systems at different elevations.

Jan. 9: "(We) returned to Rio Grande Village (in Big Bend) at 1600 and took the group to Boquillas Canyon stopping on the way at the overlook for pictures. We walked into the canyon-----beautiful!"

An unplanned trip into a pueblo village in Big Bend left a deep impression on many of the students — it was truly a valuable cross-cultural experience.

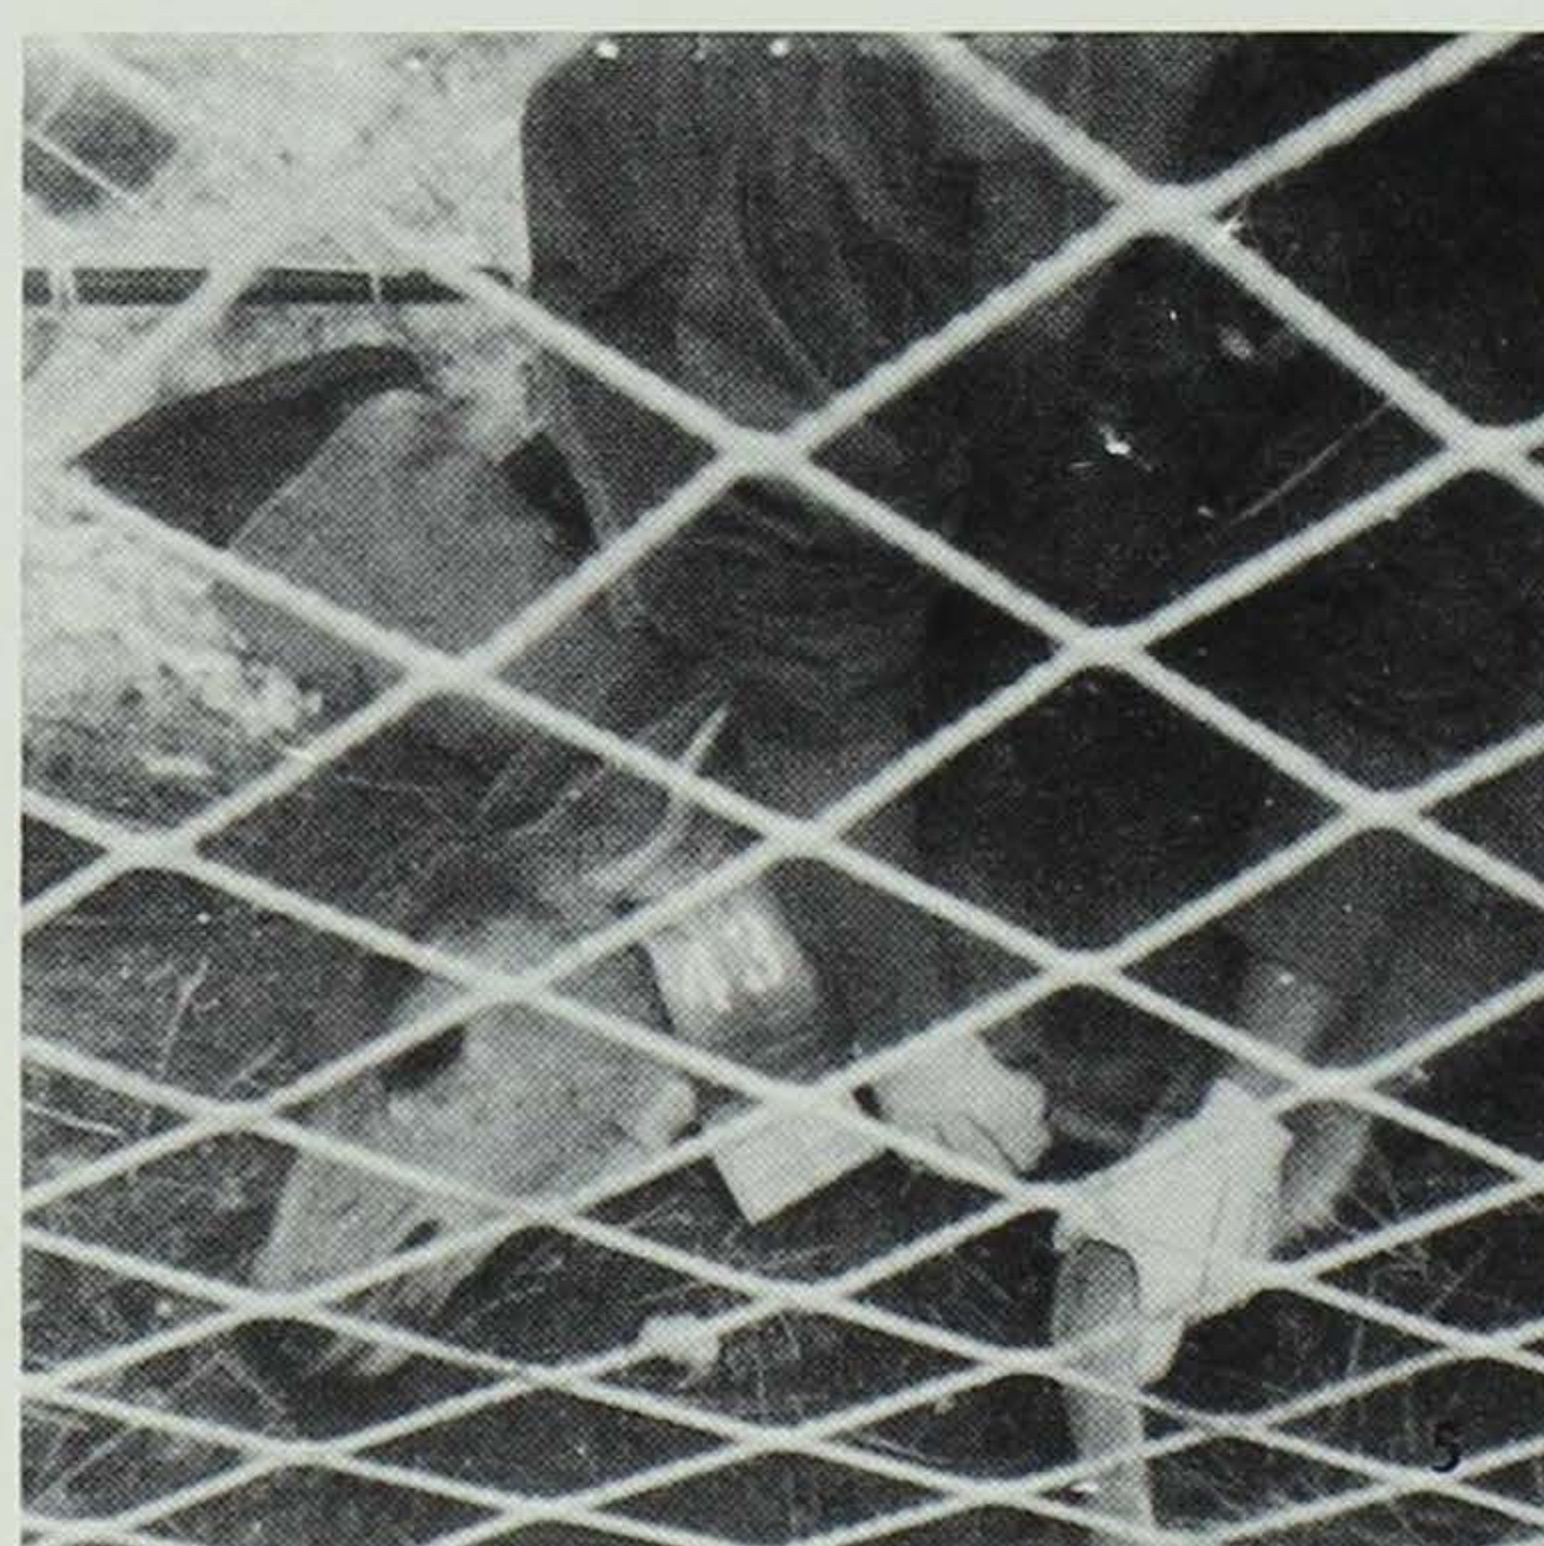

1. Pueblo village in Mexico.
2. The Frijoles Ruins.
3. Looking into Mexico in the Sierra Del Carmens in Big Bend National Park.
4. Dave Bibler looking over the Rio Grande.
5. A deer caught in an elk trap in Los Alamos, New Mexico.

FERINM

At Padre Island, the students observed migratory fowl and the marsh ecosystem while Los Alamos provided demonstrations of wildlife management techniques.

The trip served to show the students the uniqueness and beauty of the desert ecosystem — an experience they will long remember.

INTERIM CLASSES

You don't have to go off campus to get a truly valuable interim course offering. A case in point is "A Basic Course in Manual Communications (Sign Language)". The following article concerning the success of this particular course, by Mary Mapes appeared in the January 30, 1978 issue of the Tack.

LANGUAGE COURSE FOR HANDS ONLY!
Kathy Jones, a B.V. senior, developed a sign language Interim course due to interest expressed by several faculty and students. Jones, a certified interpreter, felt that students who took the course "had a real desire to learn sign language". Jones was pleased with the group's enthusiasm and got many interested in the sign language workshop which she attended for six weeks in St. Paul, Minnesota, to certify her as an interpreter for deaf people.

Jones's program consisted of two classes which met everyday, with a total of 25 people enrolled. Classroom time was spent learning the sign language alphabet and exercises designed to implement the alphabet. Daily tests were given, with videotapings of the class's progress once a week.

The success of the program lies not only in its popularity, but the demand for sign language in school systems. Many public schools are beginning to integrate deaf children into the classroom. As a result, teachers are required to learn sign language.

Kathy Jones felt the need for more students to gain teaching experience on campus, and felt the administration highly receptive. They have picked up on Kathy's idea and there is speculation on whether Buena Vista College will offer sign language as part of the curriculum.

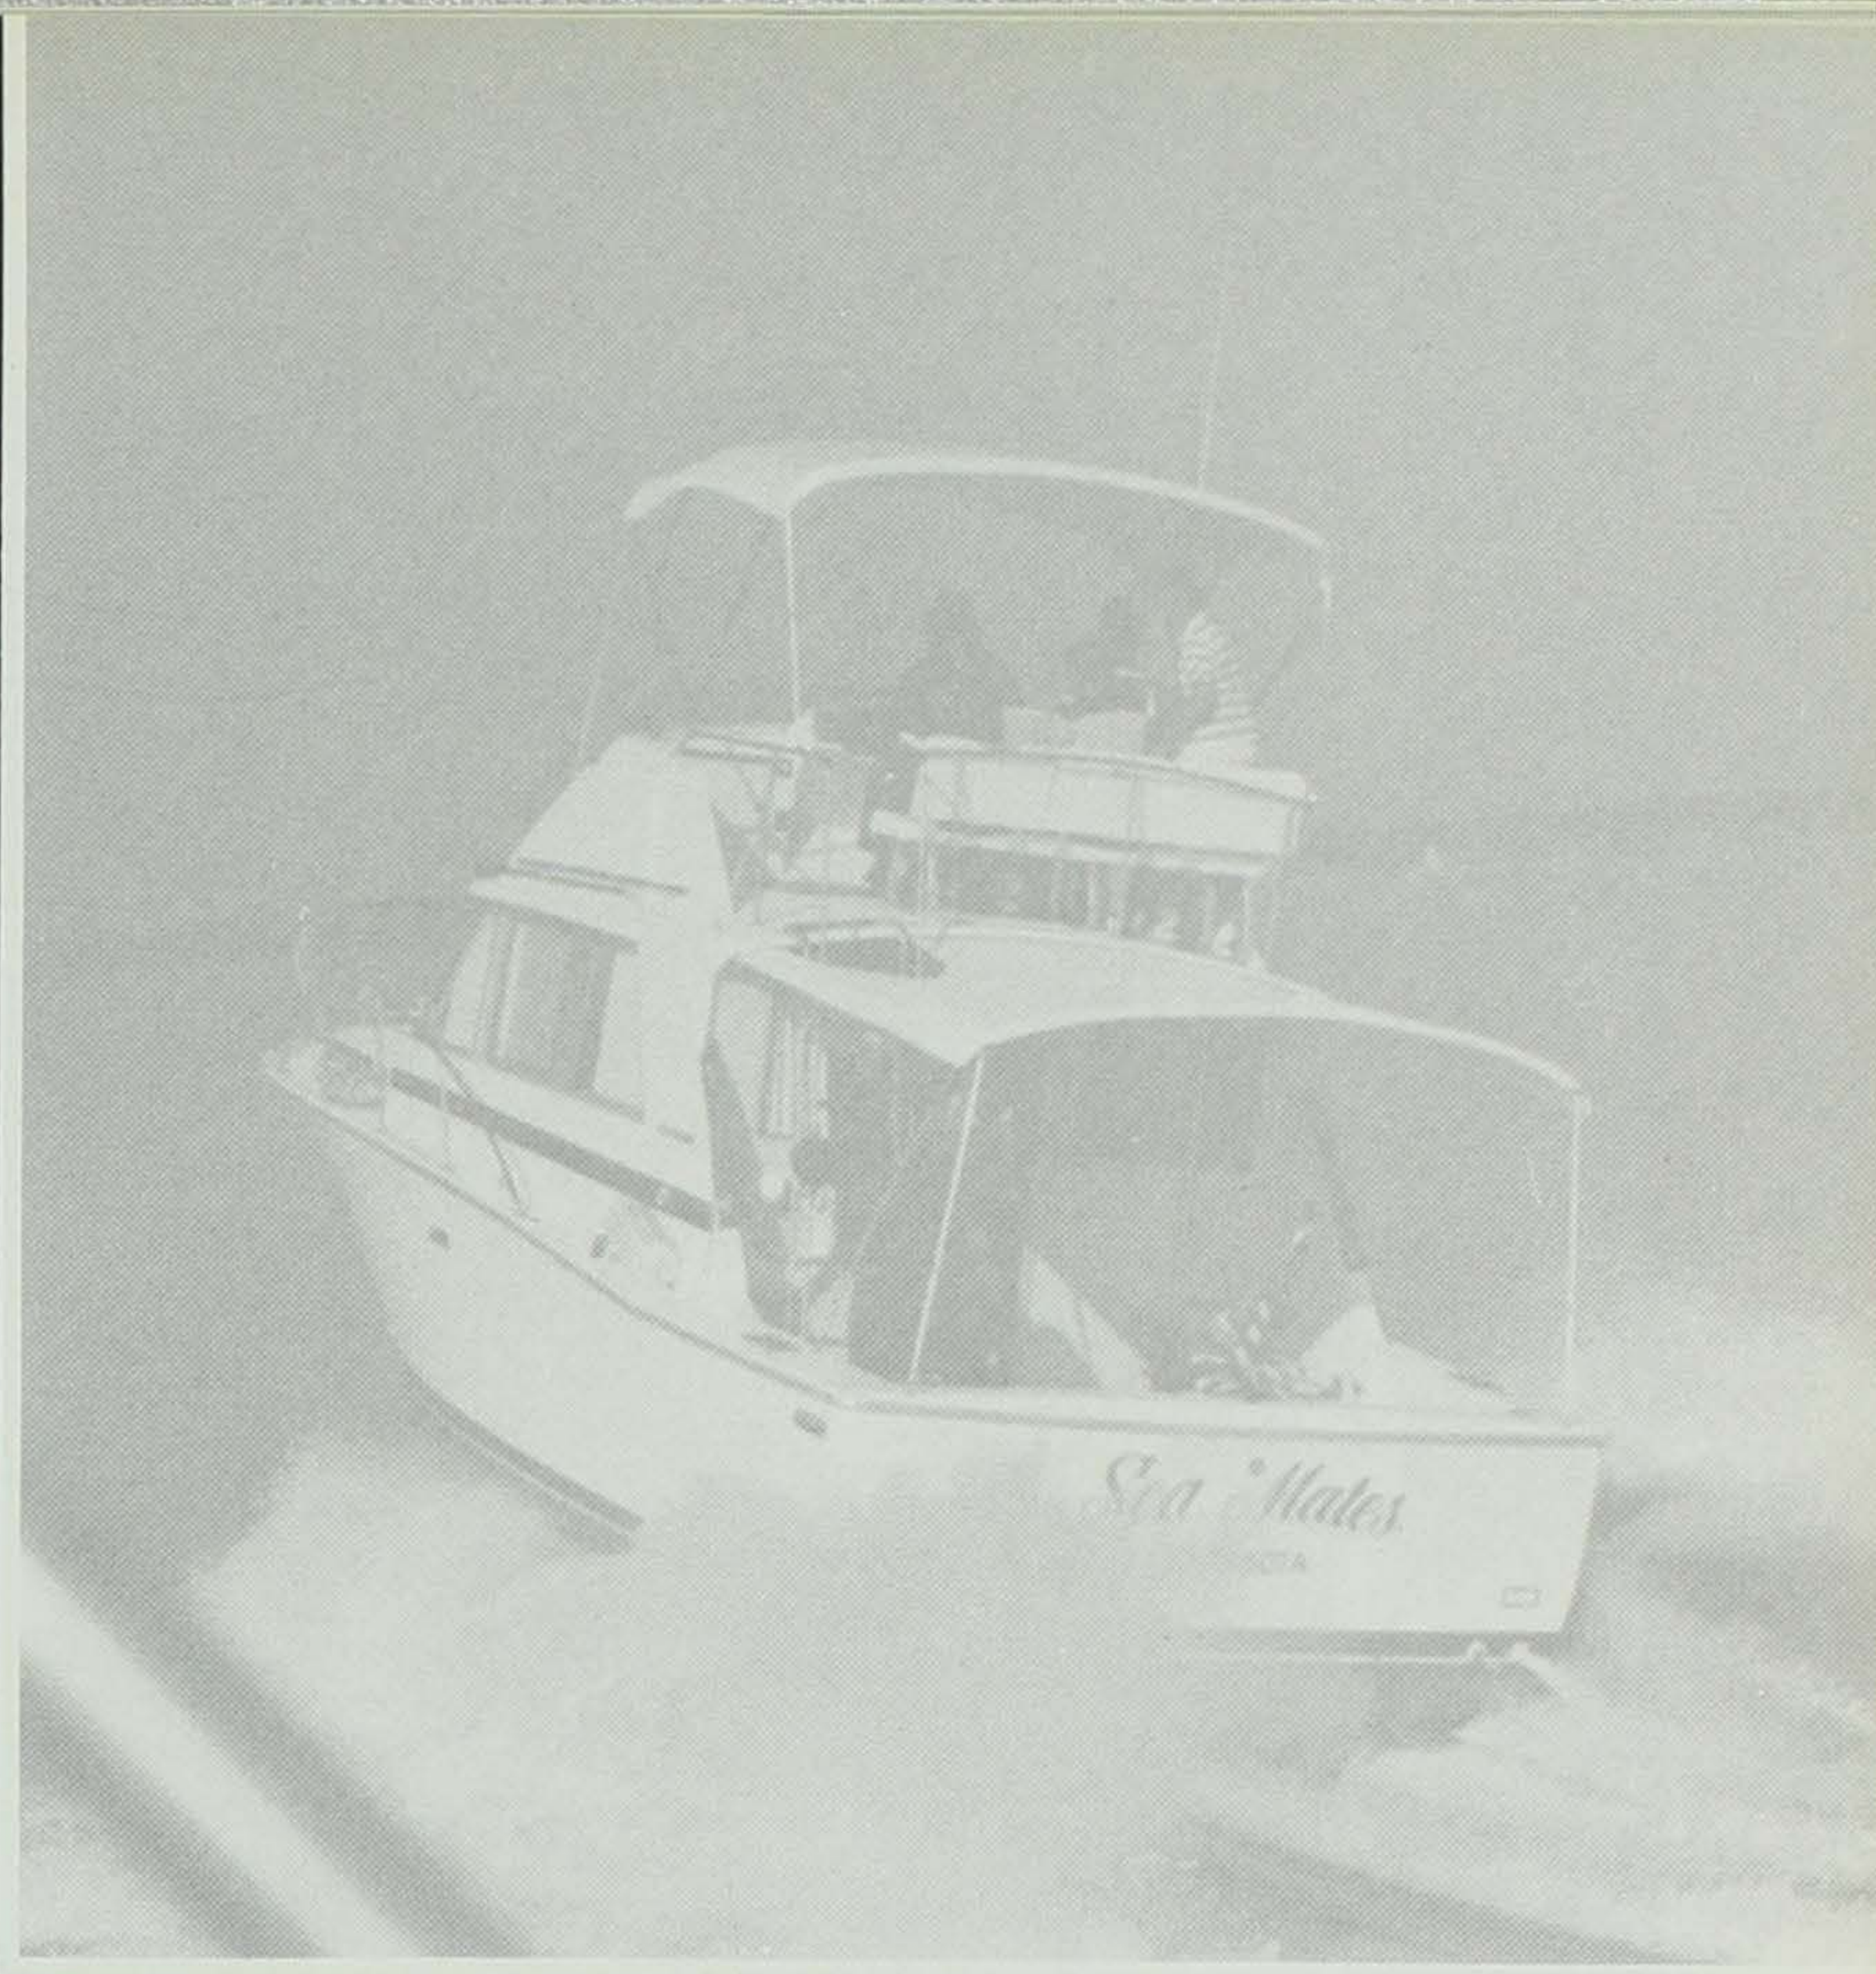

FLORIDA EXCHANGE

Sarasota, Florida was the scene of one of B.V.'s travel interim classes. The Florida Exchange was directed at those interested in business careers. This experience consisted of a series of seminars featuring many American business leaders speaking about the organization and management of their particular businesses.

The seminars were usually held in the morning thus leaving the afternoon and the evening free for the students. As you can see from the photographs below, this spare time was spent basking in the Florida sun, playing volleyball on the warm beaches, and checking out the yachts. Also included were trips to Walt Disney World and Sea World.

The Florida Exchange was both educational in nature and lots of fun. In other words --- the perfect January interim.

CAMPUS LIFE

DORM LIFE

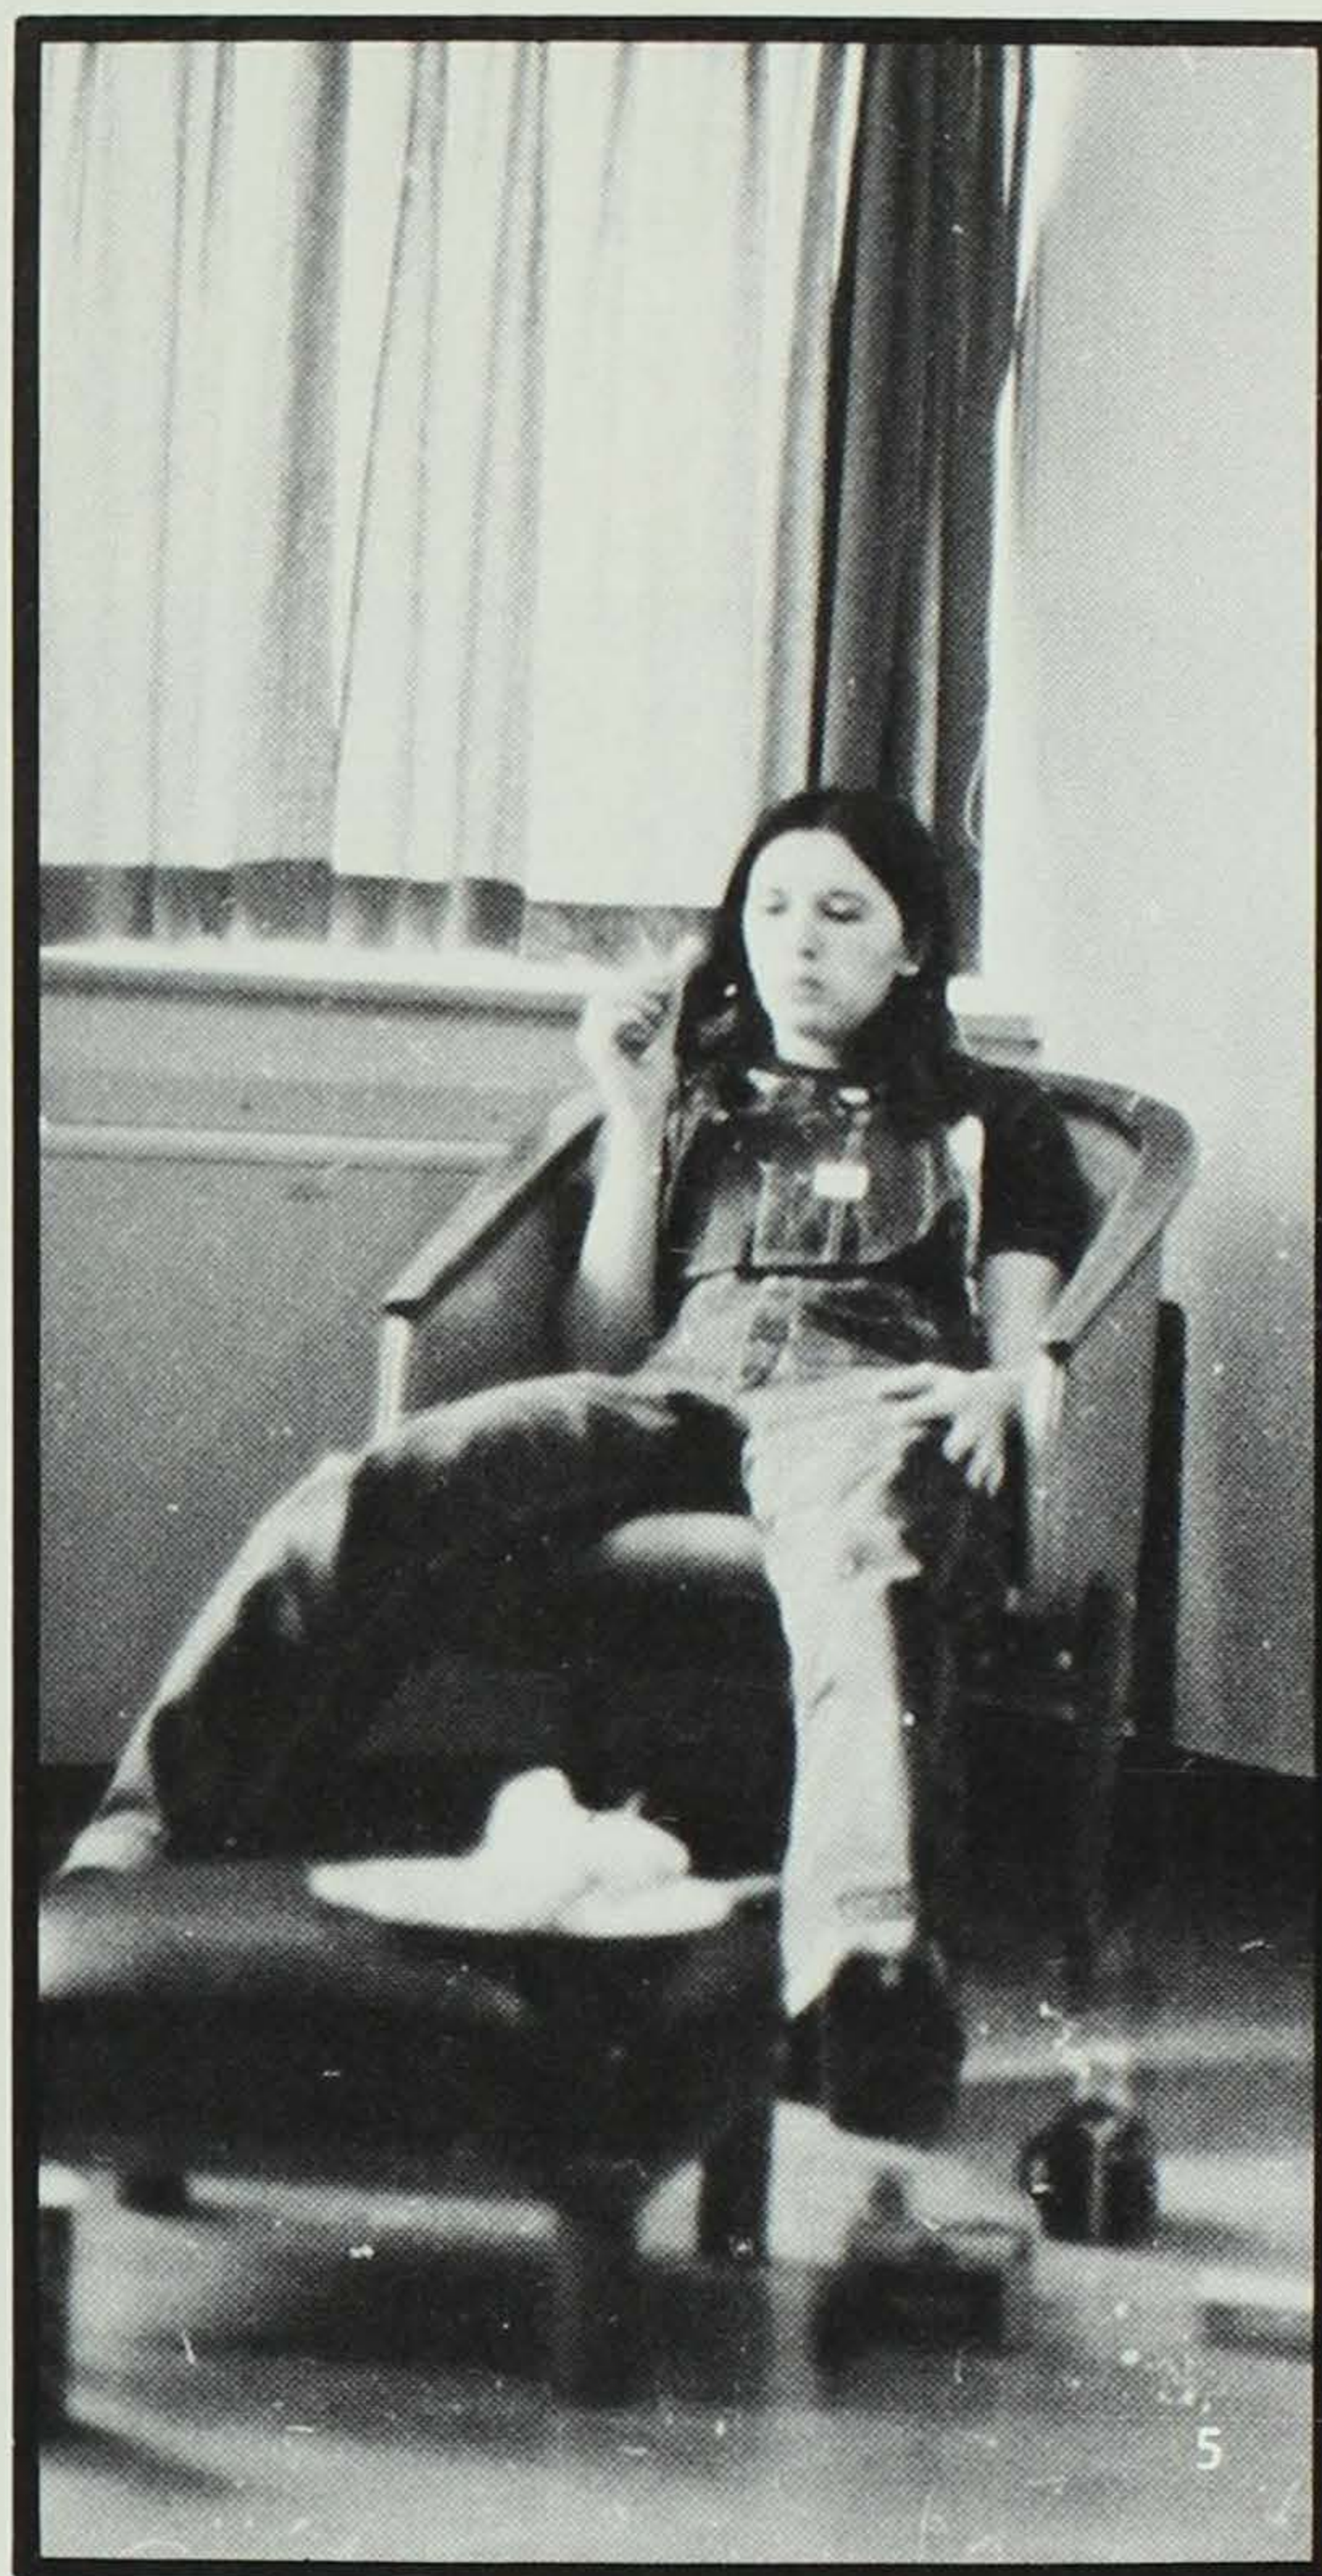

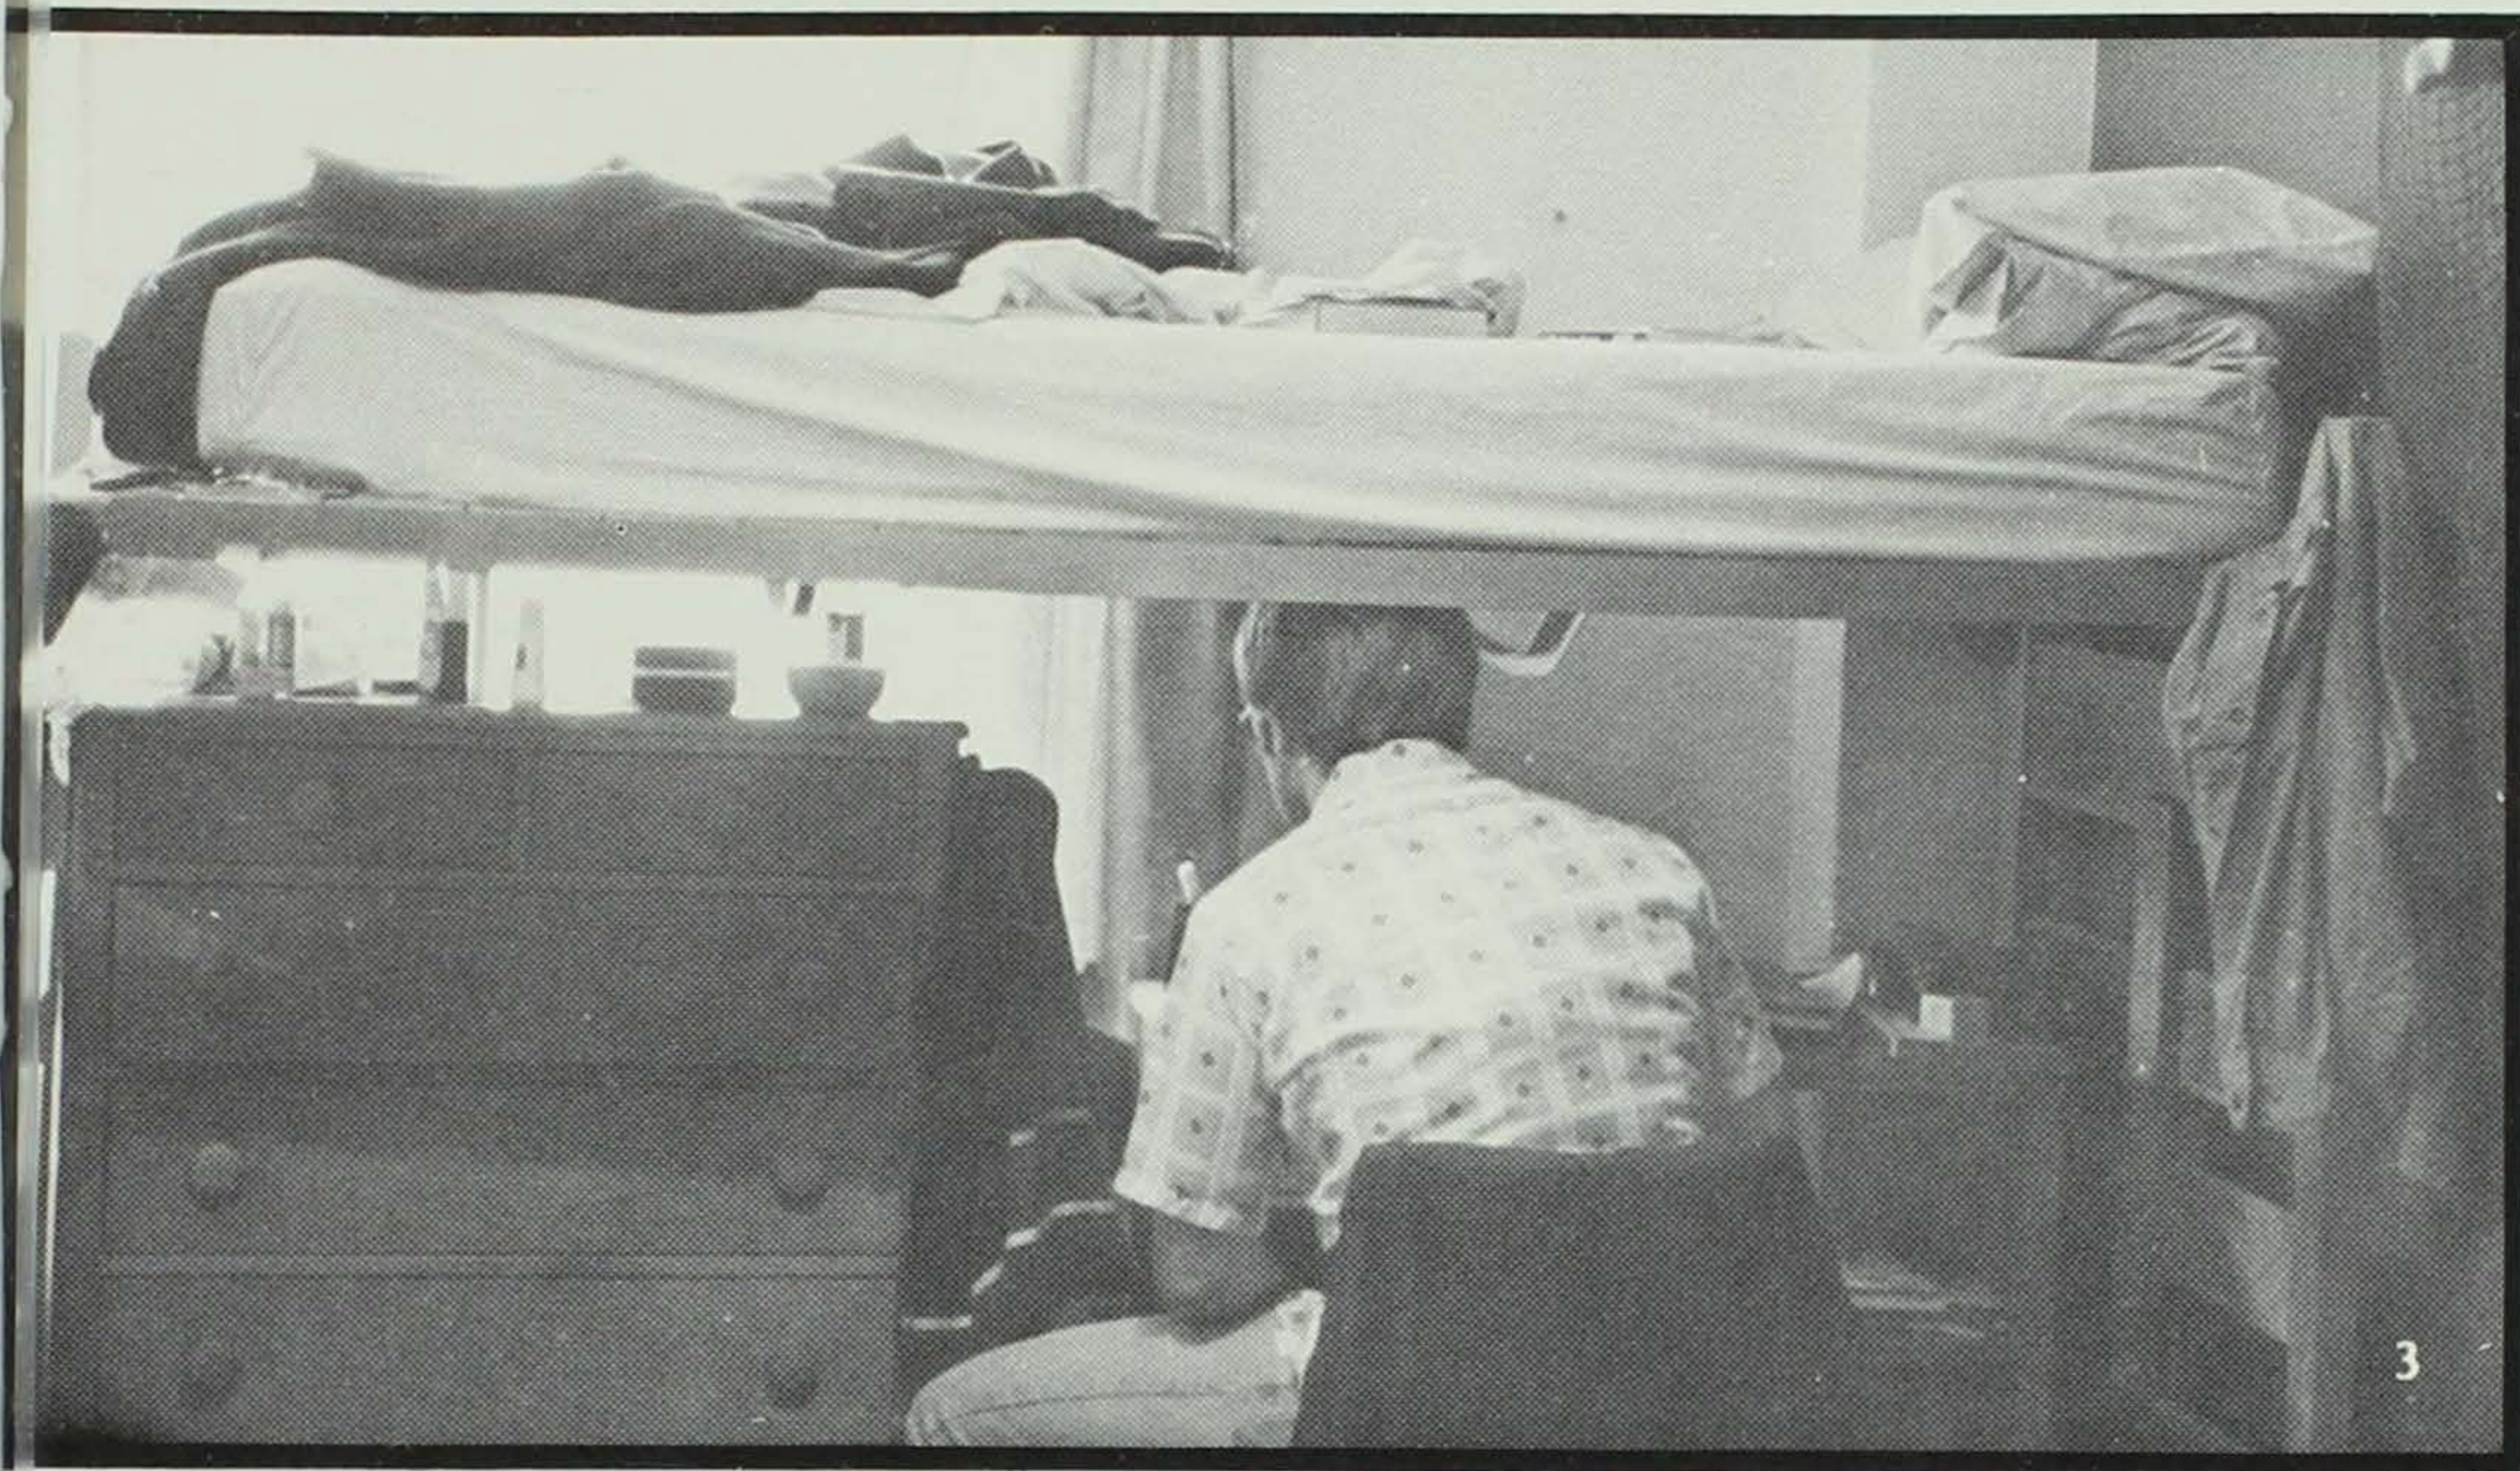

Dorm life, probably one of the most important parts of college, is not just sleeping and studying in your own little room. It is the place where students socialize and learn to adjust to others; something they probably haven't had to do a great deal up to the time they entered college.

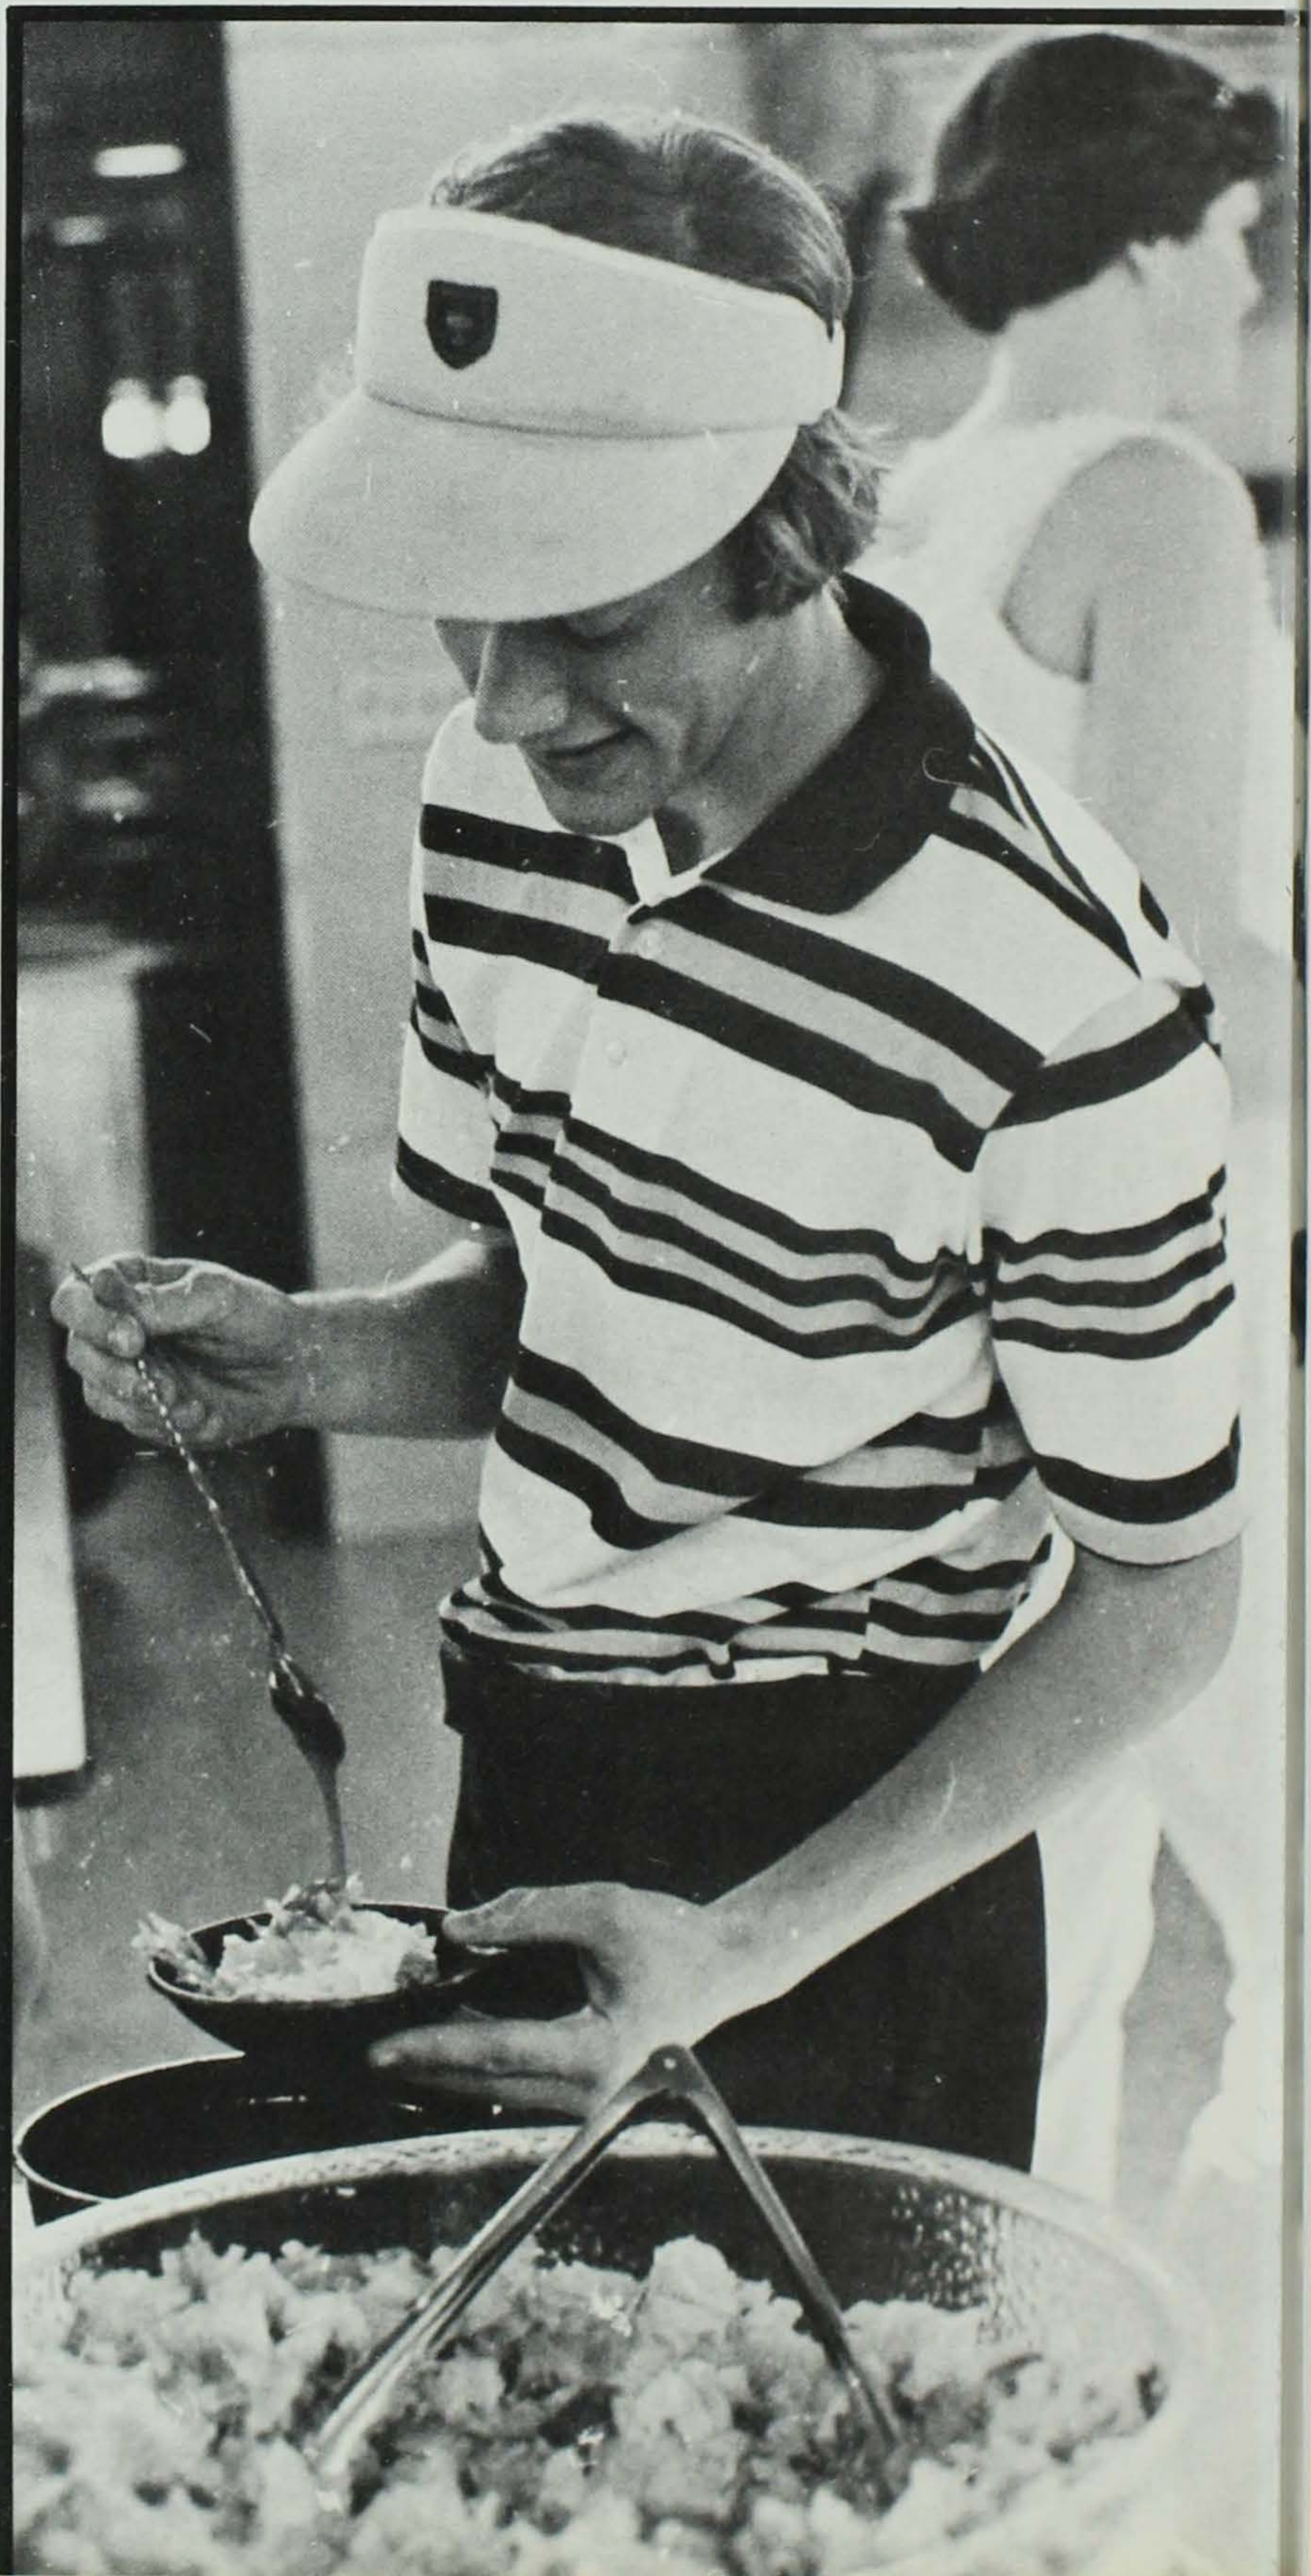

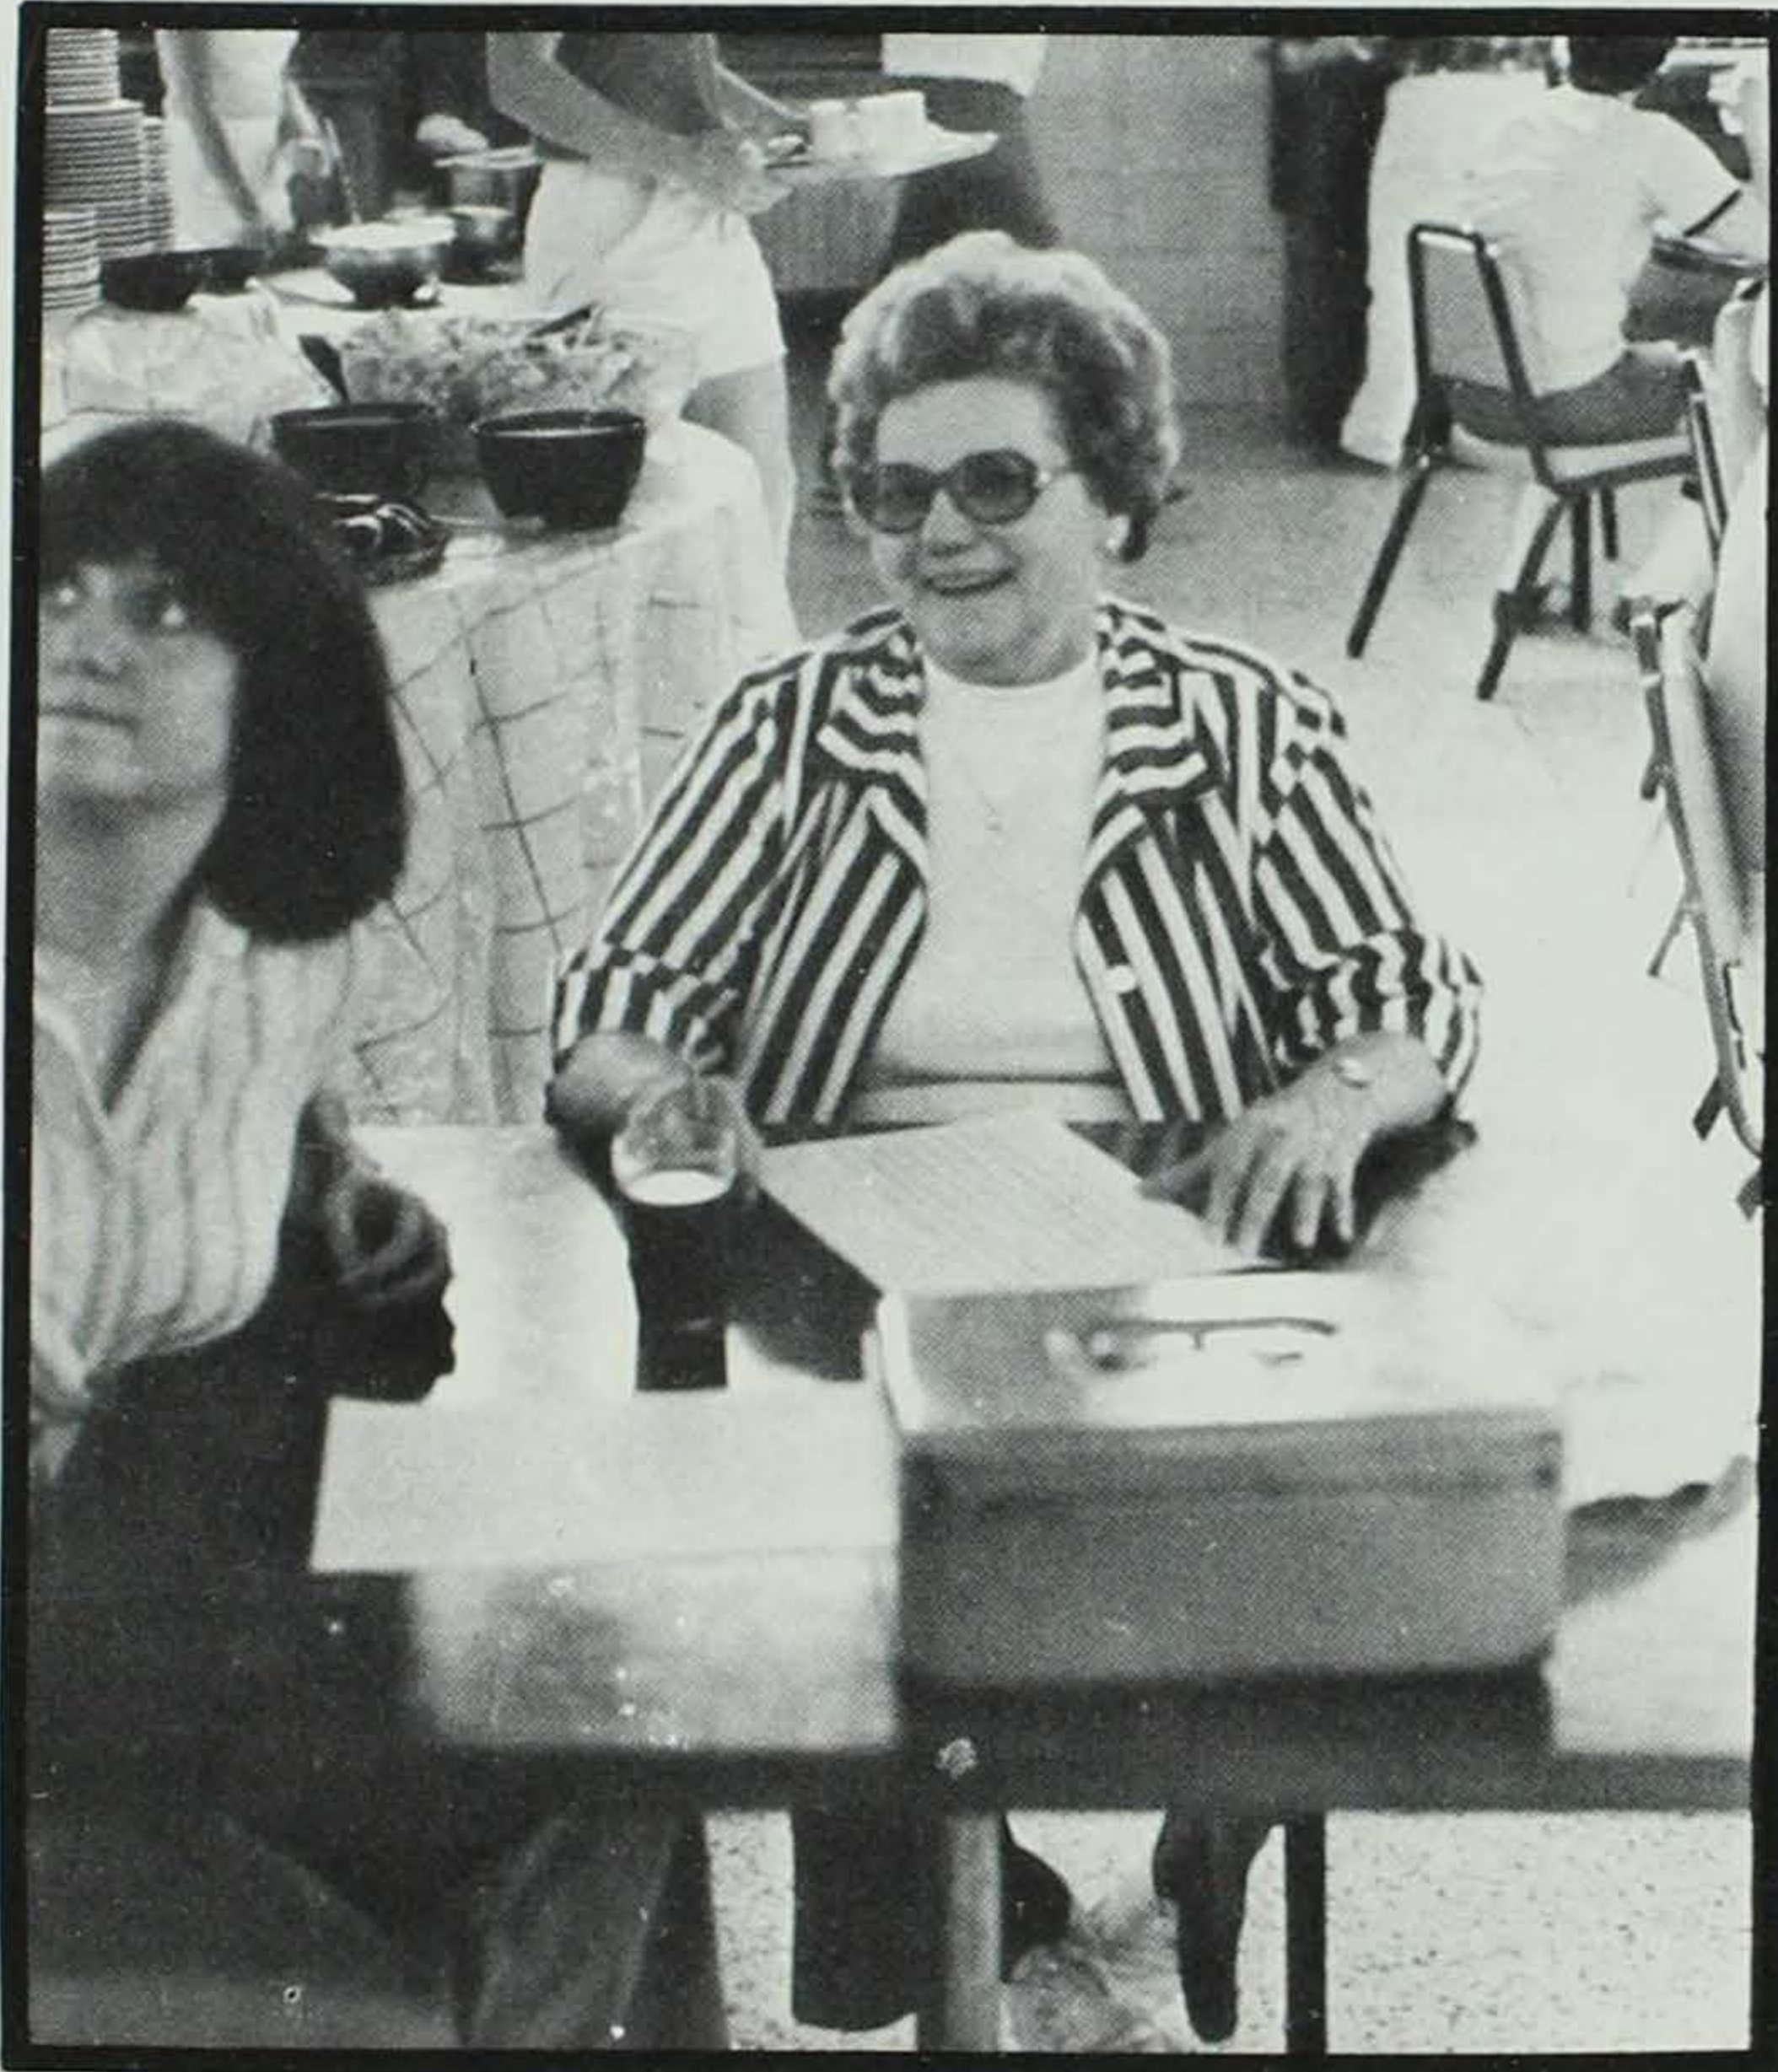

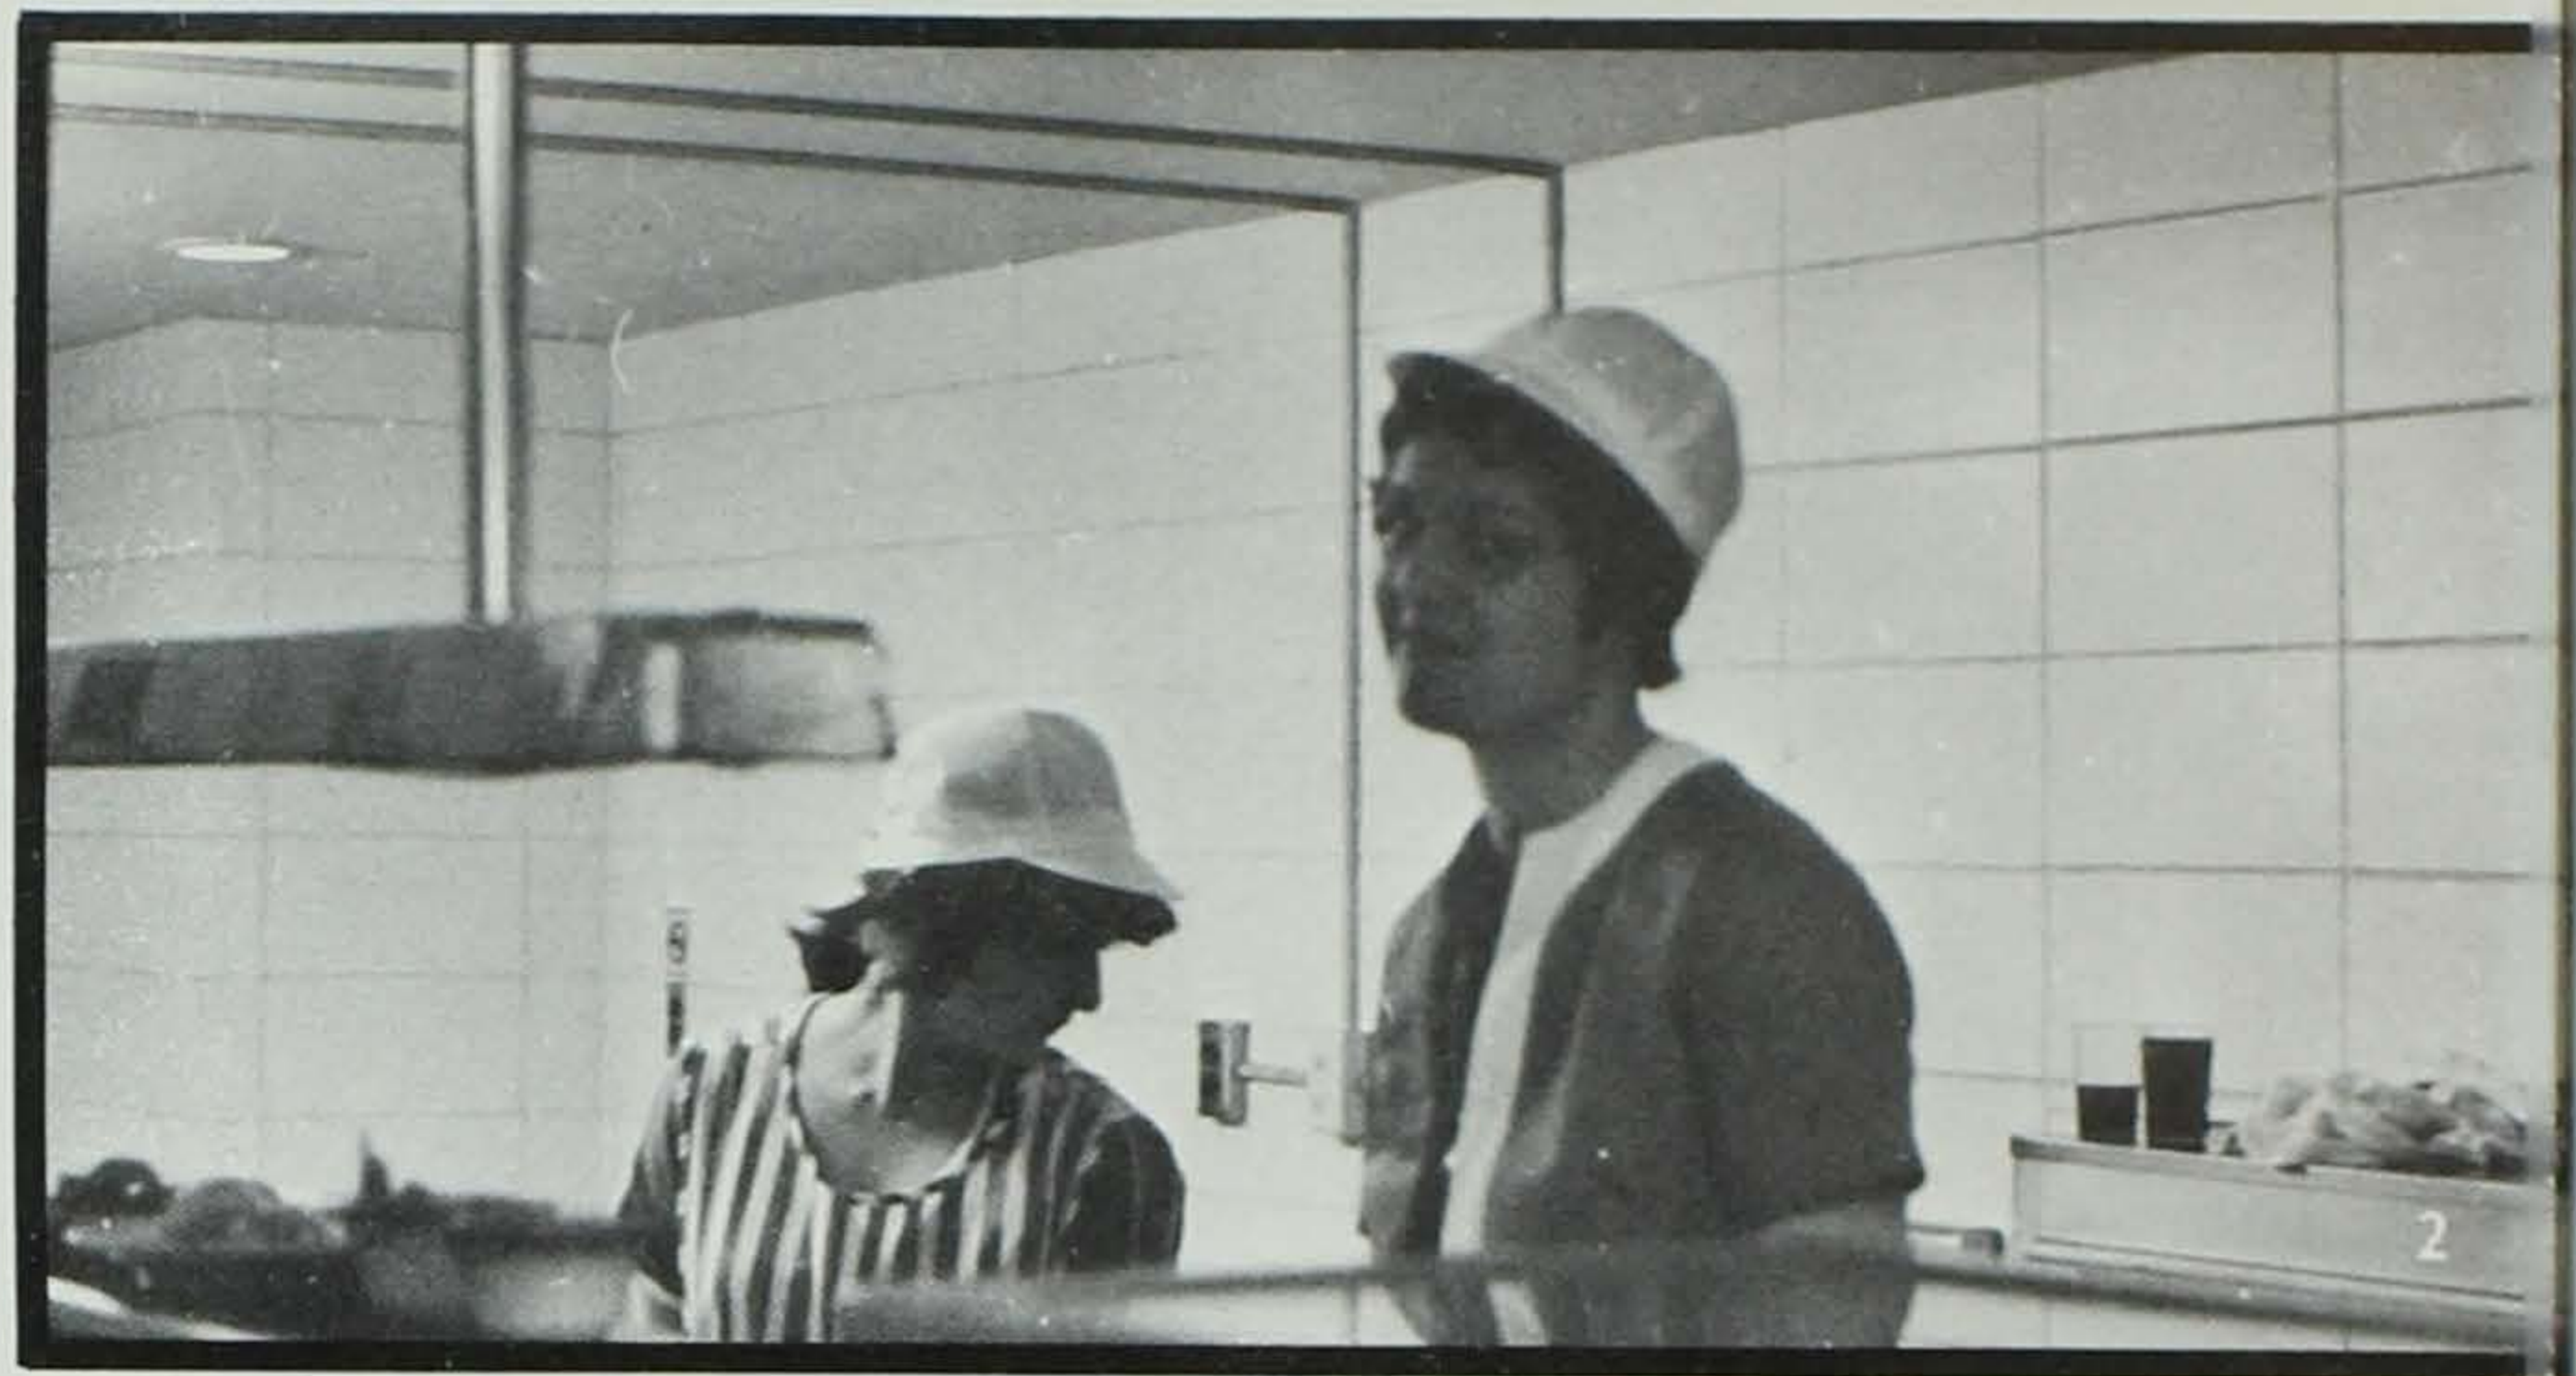

At B.V., dorm life is rarely dull. Between parties, planned activities, and at least twenty stereos per house, things are kept pretty lively.

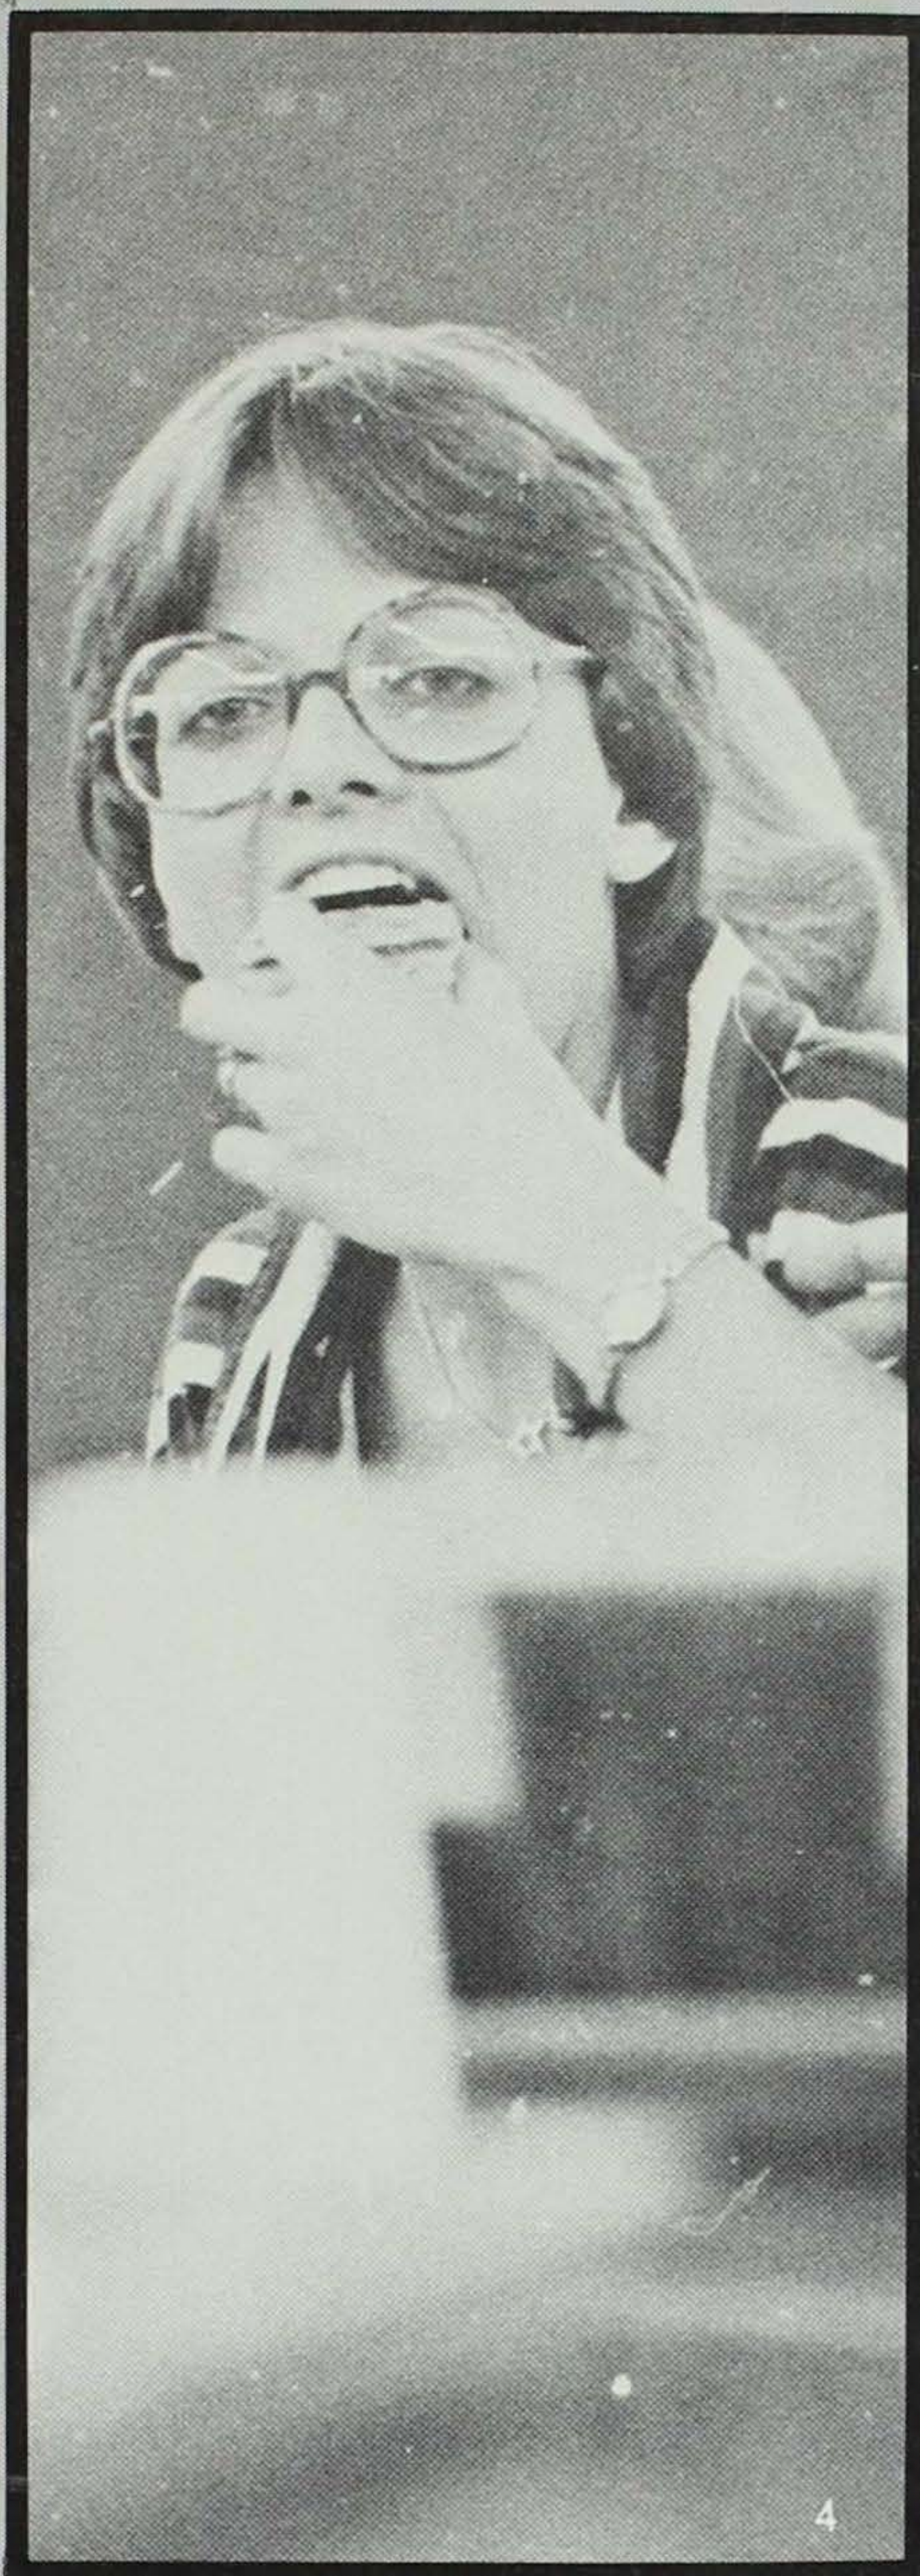

The dorms are built on a house system with student advisors (R.A.'s) in each "house". Activities planned between houses include anything from intramural football to picnics to Halloween parties. While these activities are a lot of fun, most will agree that it is the unarranged moments they will remember most. During these times, a student makes new friends and in essence finds a new "family". It is, indeed, the time when B.V. becomes a student's home away from home.

CAMPUS LIFE

IN THE CAFETERIA

Next to the dormitories, the cafeteria acts as the next biggest socializing center on campus. Sure, there is the food (which is pretty good), but it is the conversation that keeps the students in the cafeteria for a full hour at a time.

Not only does the cafeteria serve as a lunchroom, but it is often the scene of many bizarre events. Among those are a Halloween costume contest, a male beauty contest, and a mimeist breaking up the students with his show. This all goes on while the students are enjoying their meals. And yes, Mom, all that and your son or daughter is getting three square meals a day, too.

CAMPUS LIFE

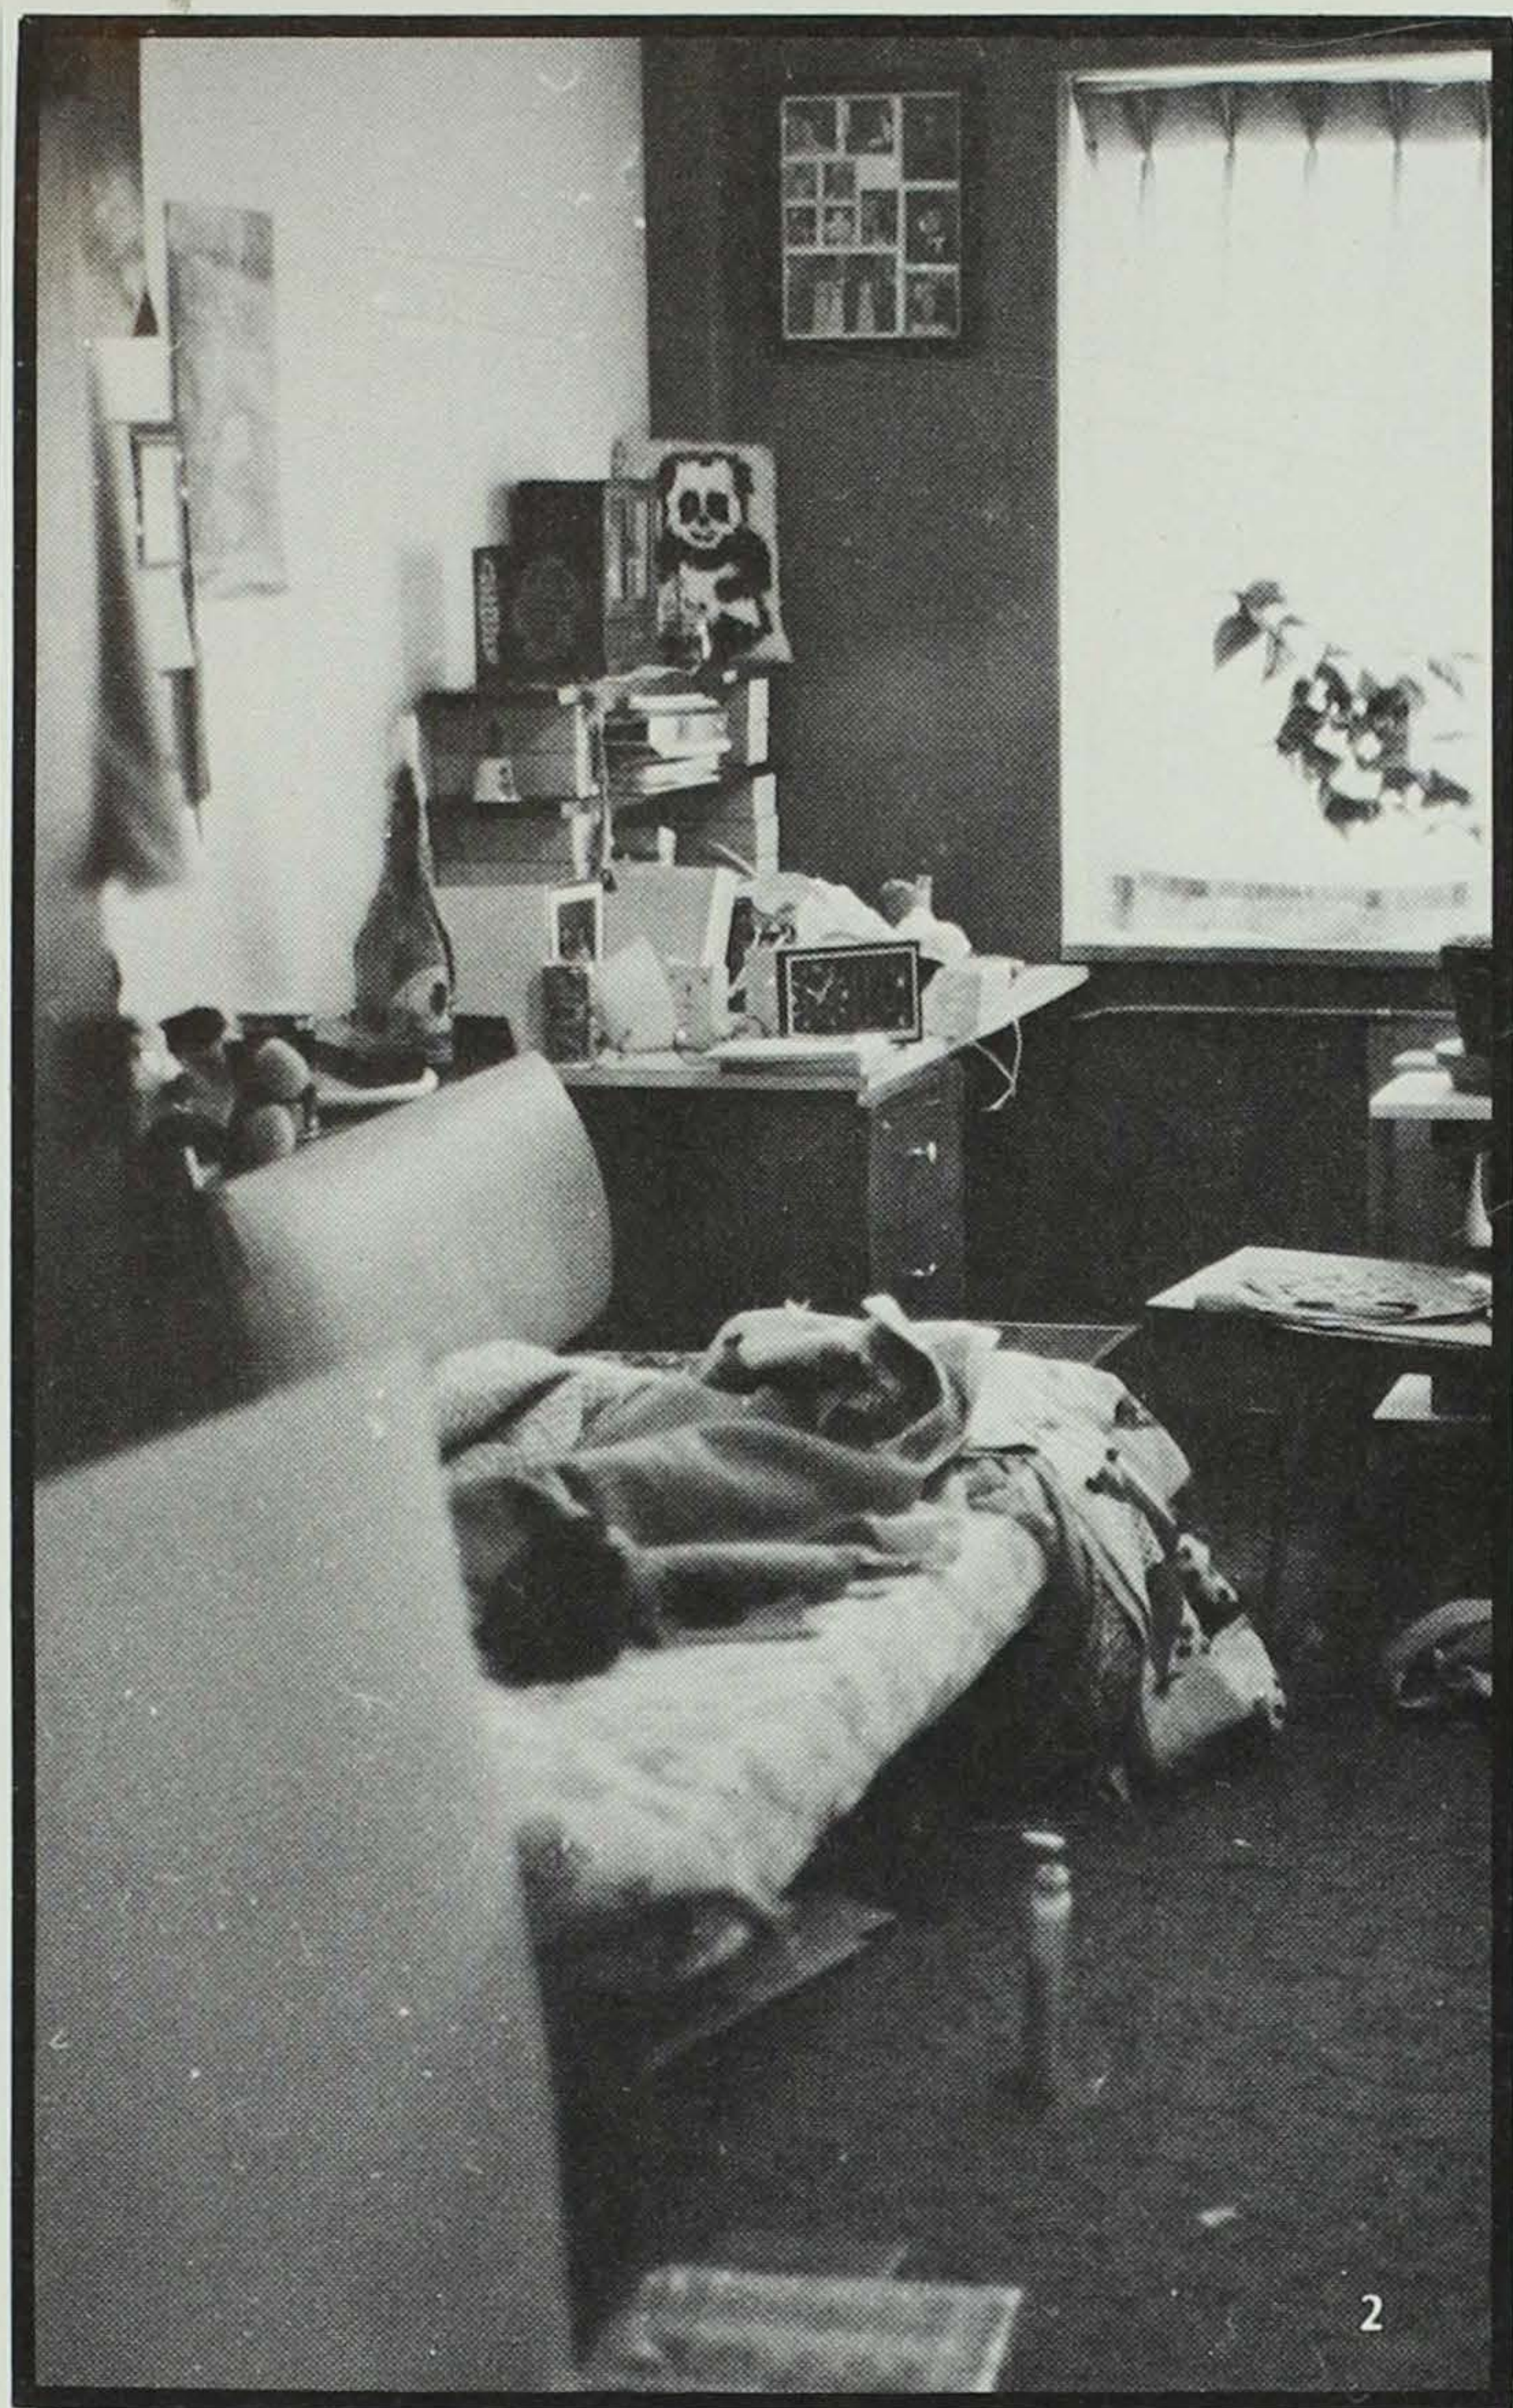

FINALS WEEK

Finals week at Buena Vista College is probably much like finals week in every other college across America. There is not only the problem of getting everything packed up to go home, but there is, of course, the pressure of meeting deadlines for projects and papers and doing well on a final that could determine whether one passes or fails a course.

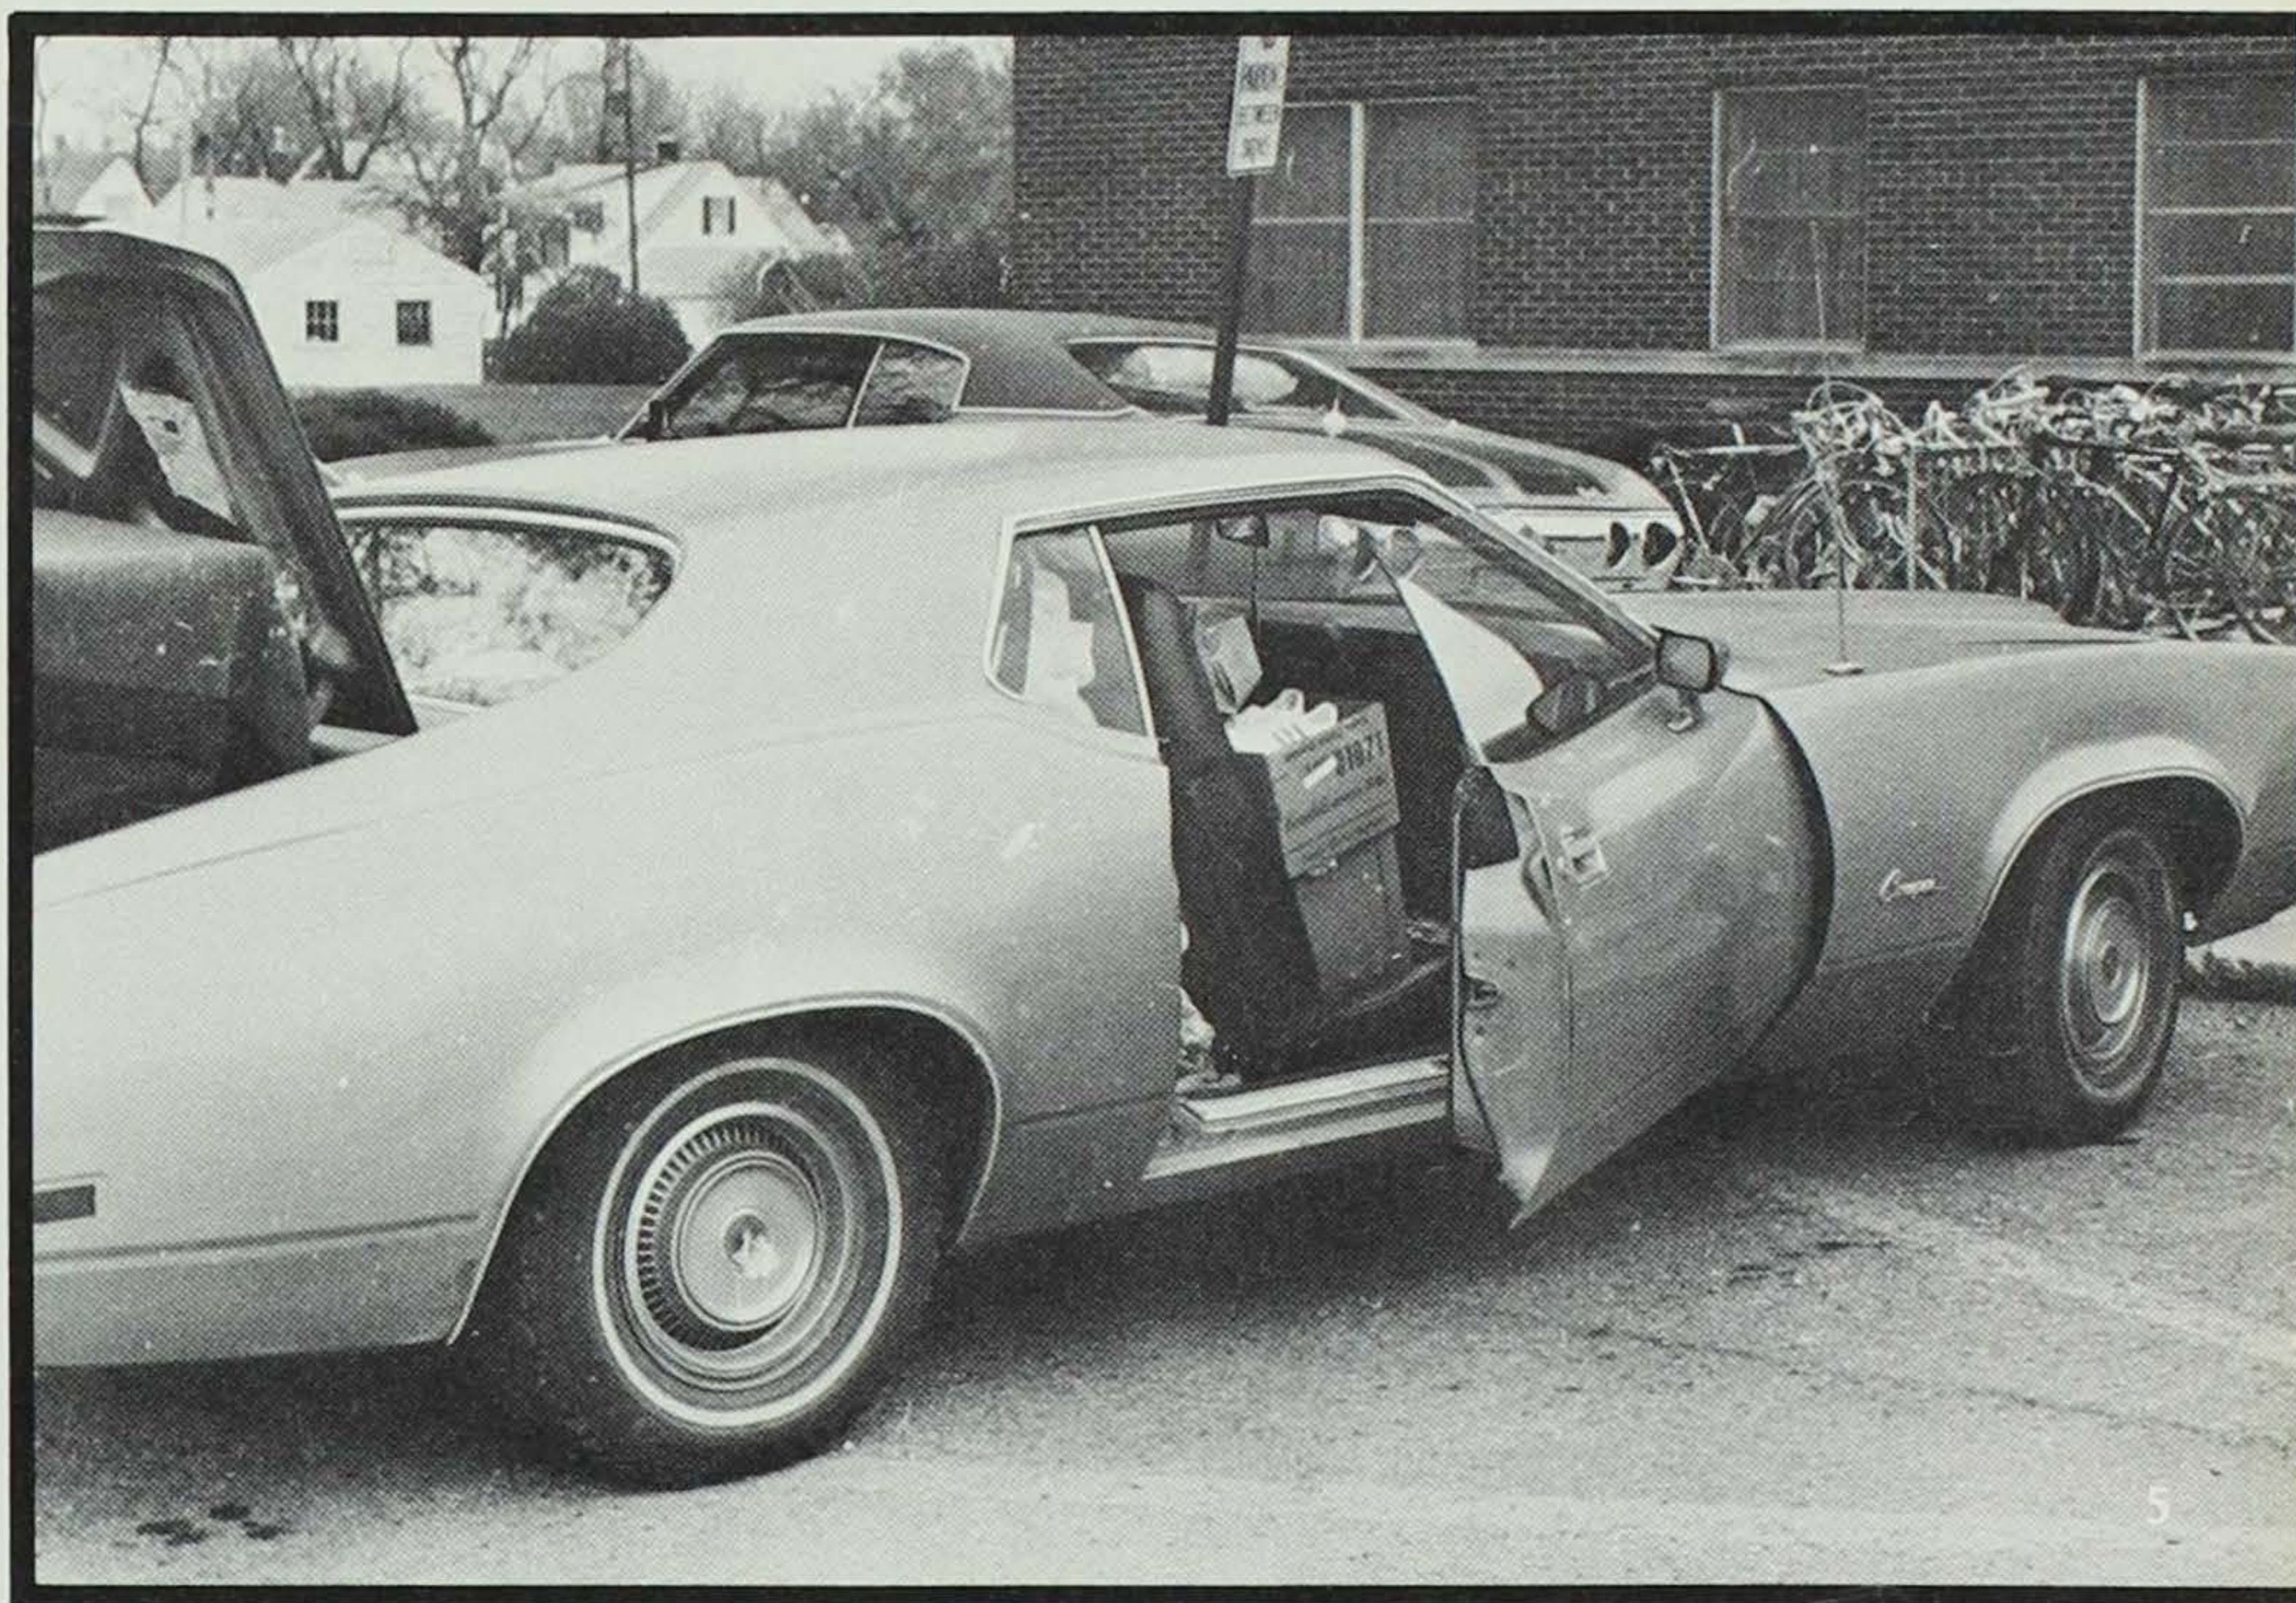

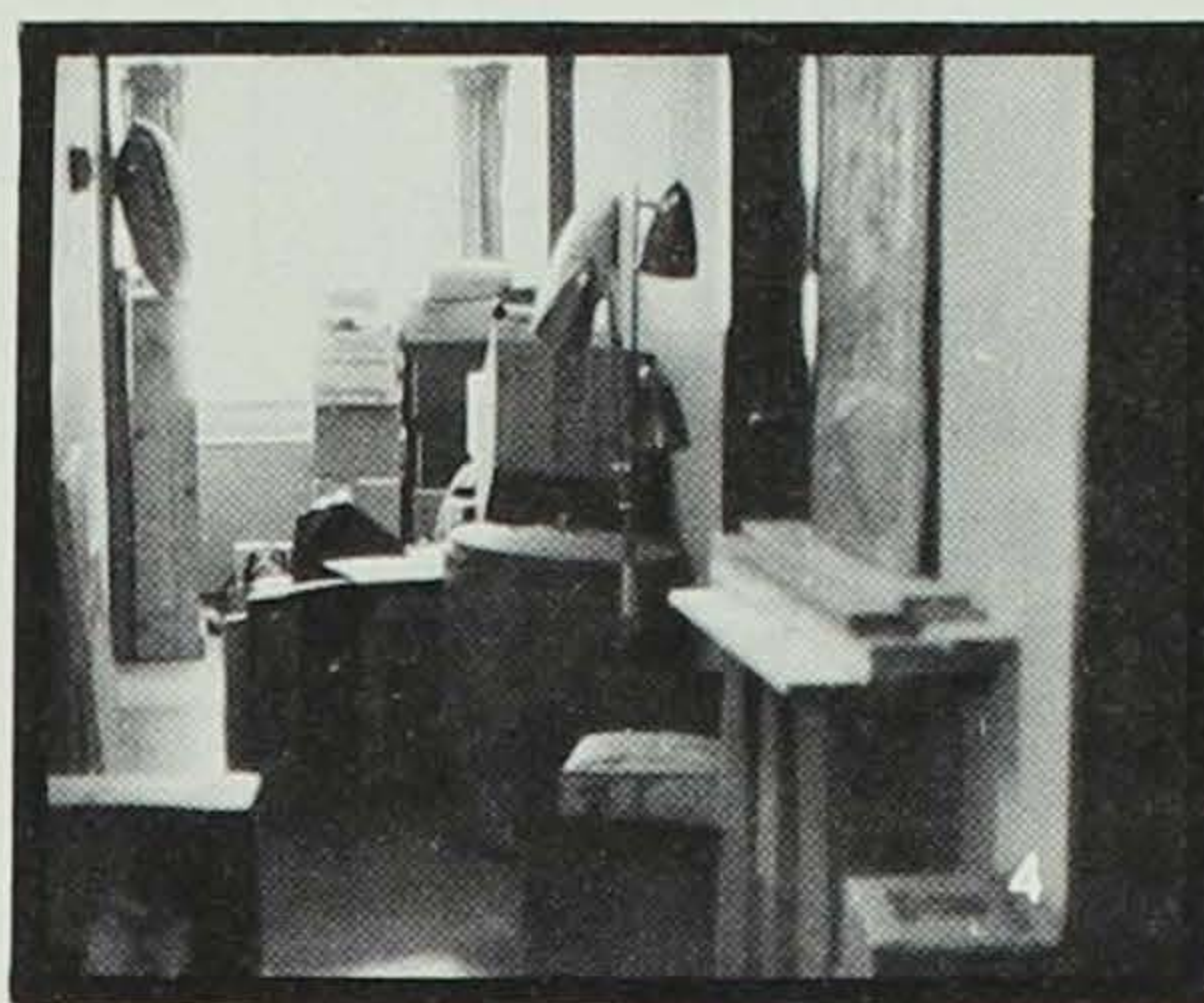

It is not unusual to find a freshman wandering around the library looking bewildered because finals week is the first time that he has been in the library. It is also common to see students nod off to sleep after passing that point where their minds can no longer absorb any more information.

No ... finals will never change. There will always be the cramming, sleepless nights, and total exhaustion. But remember folks ... it only comes once a semester ... Thank God!

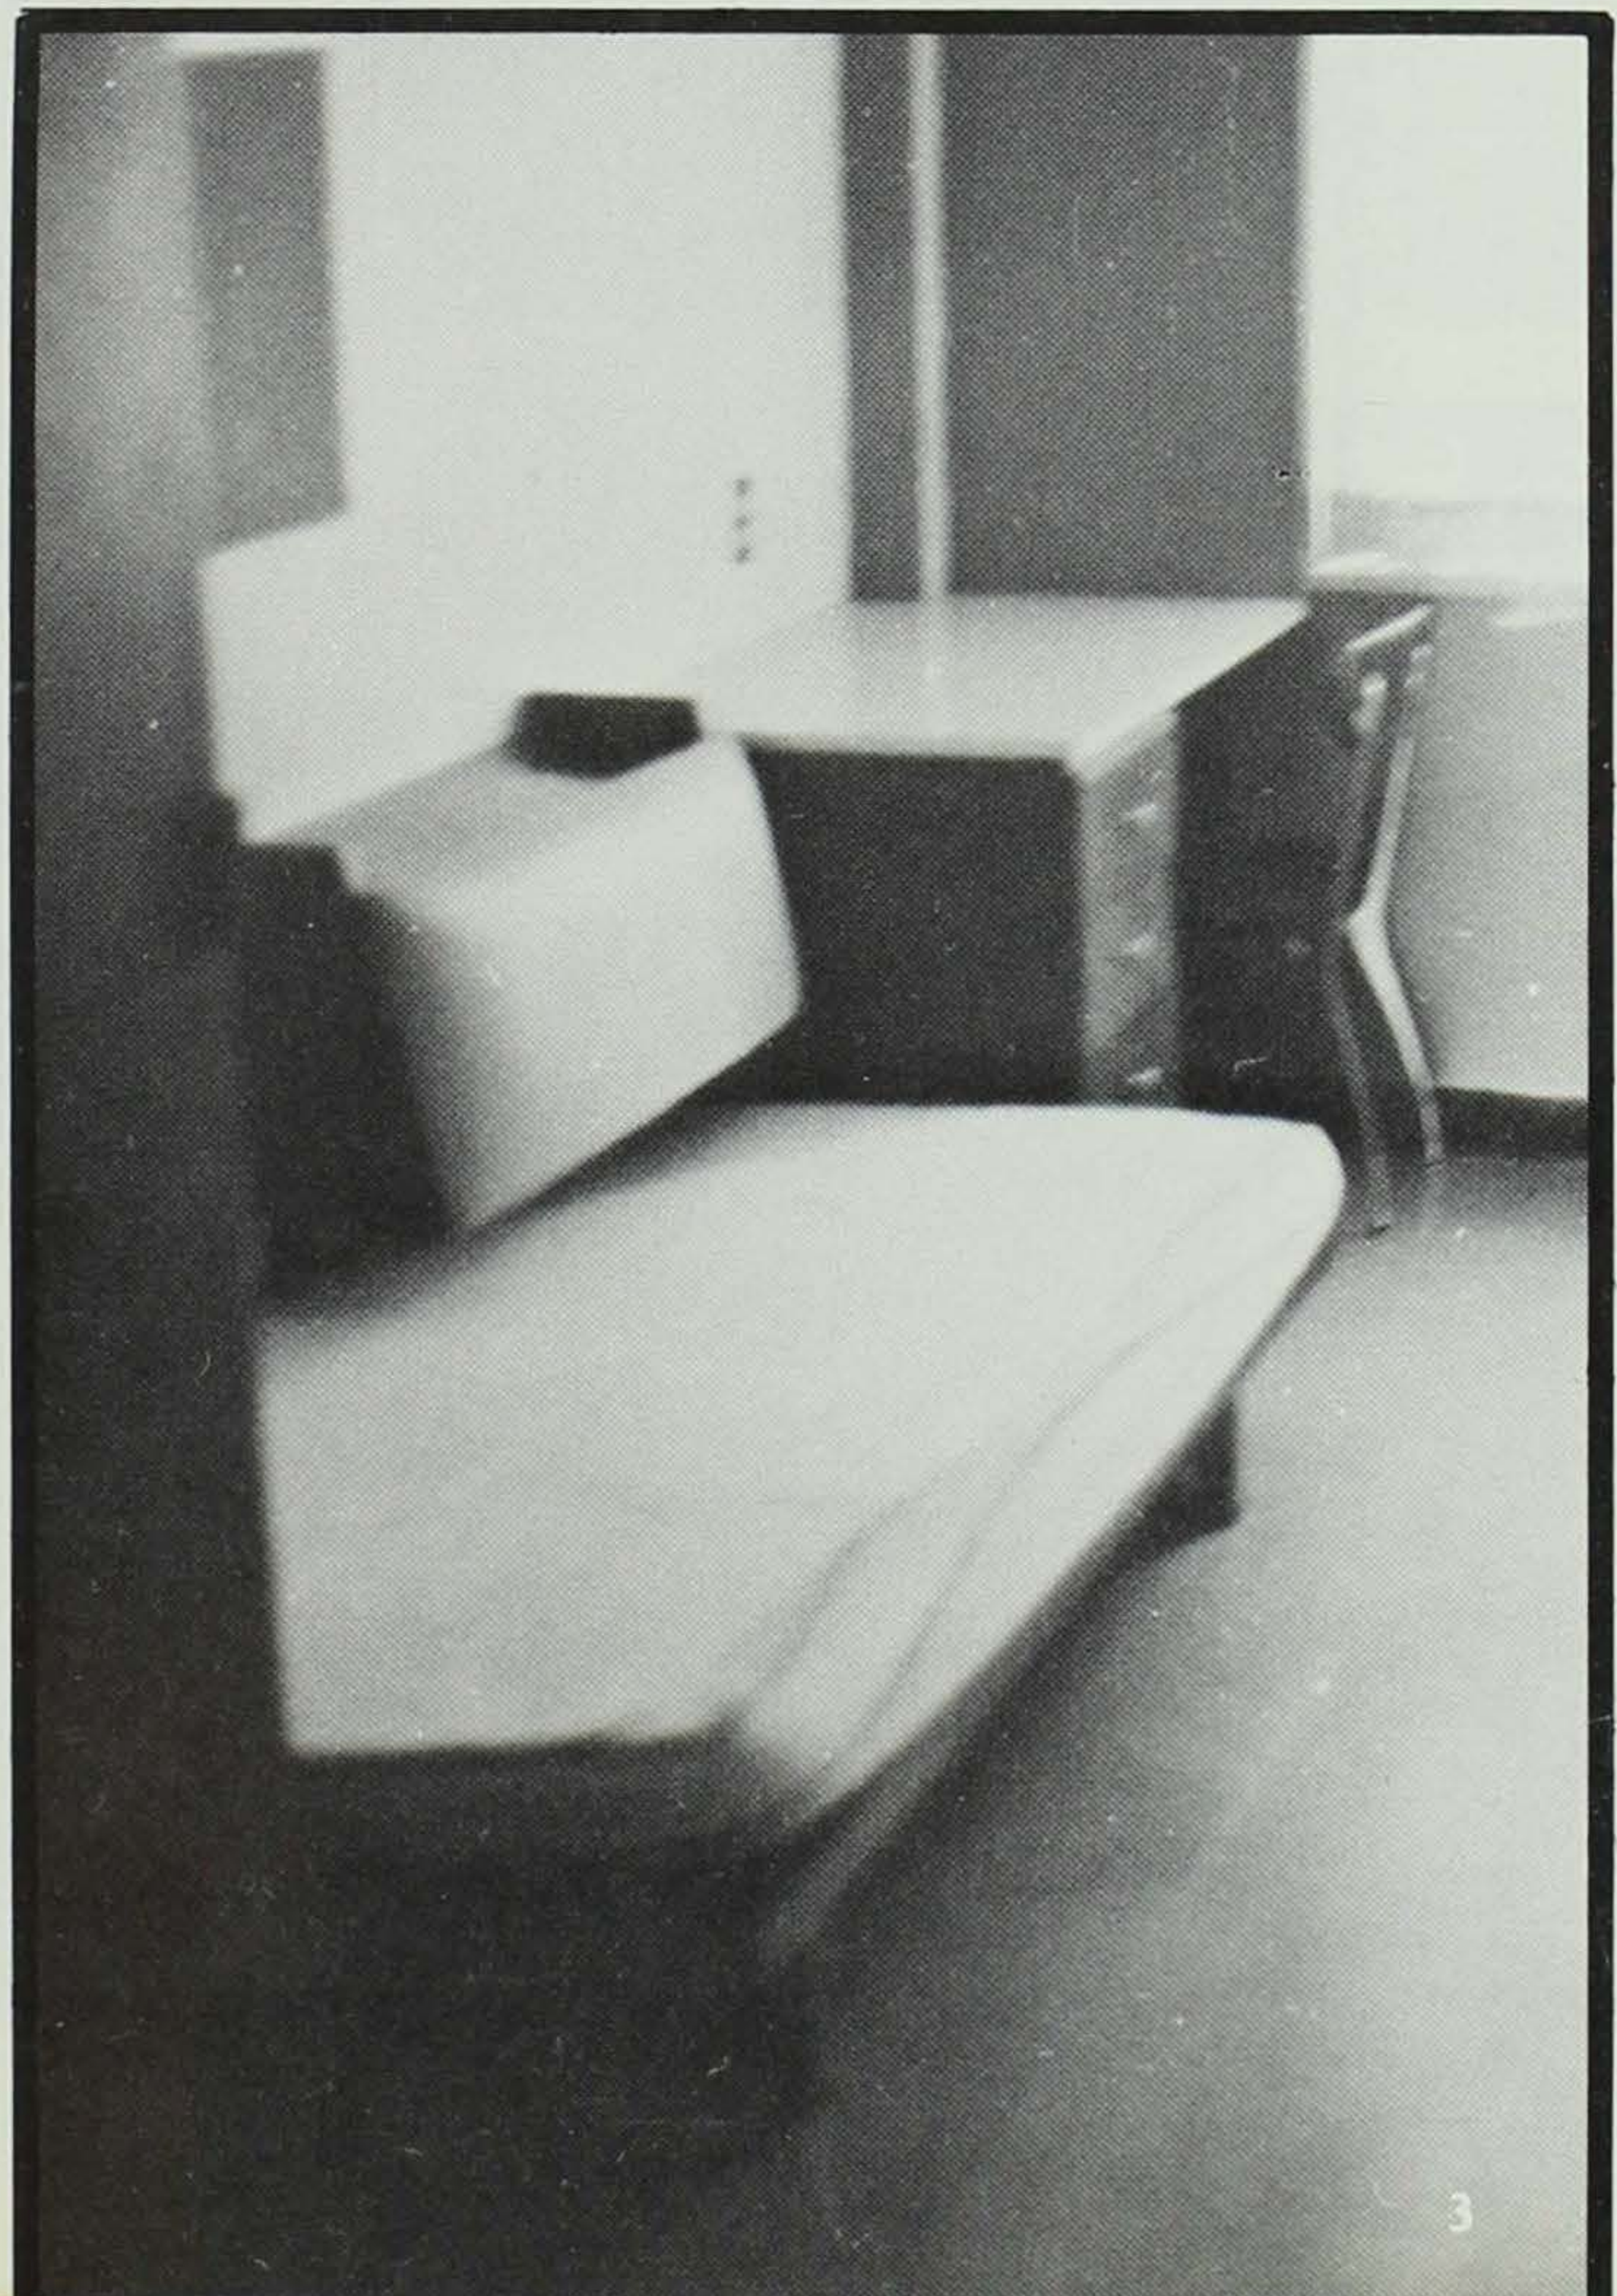

1. Lori Van Osbree, along with other students, spends many hours in Ballou Library studying for finals.
2. A room in Swope Hall at 2:00 on Thursday, May 11, 1978.
3. That same room at 4:00 the next day, May 12, 1978; B.V.'s final day of classes.
4. Boxes and belongings clutter the hall as students wait for their families to pack them for home.
5. Cars are loaded to their roofs and ready to head for home.
6. Sarah finally gives in to sleep after hours of studying for finals.

CAMPUS LIFE

ARTS AWARENESS

Buena Vista means "beautiful view" and this year the art department did its best to make that translation more meaningful.

Among the flowers and trees on campus were nestled several sculptures in wood and metal created by Assistant Professor of Art, Mac Hornecker and his students.

We could say more but gaze upon these pieces yourself and let them tell you the rest of the story.

1. Looking through flowers at a sculpture at the corner of Smith Hall.
2. The big yellow sculpture at the corner of Dixon-Eilers Hall.
3. Not only a work of art, but a jungle gym for some area children.
4. A cluster of sculptures as one walks from D.E. to Smith Hall.
5. We caught Tammy Boulware as she was using one of the sculptures as a study lounge.

Keith G. Briscoe is the sixteenth president of Buena Vista College, serving since the summer of 1974.

Prior to his appointment as Buena Vista College president, he served four years as vice-president of College of Steubenville, Steubenville, Ohio. Previously he was assistant professor for student life and director of college union and student activities at Baldwin Wallace College, Berea, Ohio.

He has also served as the assistant director of the Memorial Union at the University of New Hampshire, Durham, N.H., and as assistant director of the University of Wisconsin at Stevens Point.

Briscoe earned his undergraduate degree at the University of Wisconsin at LaCrosse where he was named to the Dean's List, and his Master of Education degree from the University of New Hampshire. He has also undertaken graduate work at Case Western Reserve University. He was awarded an Honorary Doctorate from Idaho College in 1977.

In addition to his formal education he has participated in workshops and special studies for executive skills at Loyola College of Baltimore, University of Iowa, University of Texas, Oklahoma State University, University of Wisconsin at Madison and Baldwin Wallace College.

President Briscoe is a member of the board of directors and treasurer of the Council for the Advancement of Small Colleges (CASC), and is a member of the executive committee and treasurer of the Iowa Association of Private Colleges and Universities.

He is a member of the finance committee of the Iowa College Foundation and serves as Chairman of the Educational Advisory Committee to Congressman Berkley Bedell.

Briscoe has been named to Outstanding Educators of America and Who's Who in the Midwest.

He received Student Government Awards three separate times at Baldwin Wallace College and was given a Faculty Award for Middle Eastern Travel and Study at the same institution.

His teaching experience includes educational psychology at College of Steubenville and student independent study coordinator at Baldwin Wallace College.

Briscoe is a member of the American Association of Higher Education, American Association for the Advancement of Science, American Association of Colleges, American Federation of Arts, Association of College and University Concert Managers, Inc., Association of College Unions International, National Association of Student Personnel Administrators, National Education Association, Rotary International, and Free and Accepted Masons.

Of Buena Vista College President Briscoe says: "The most important part of Buena Vista College is its people . . . Our strength is in our people, their talent, their intelligence, their dedication, and their values."

Mr. Briscoe and his wife, Carmen, have one daughter, Susan.

1. Dr. Leonard Martz, Jr. is professor of English and education. He holds degrees from the University of Iowa, the University of South Dakota, the University of Nebraska and received his doctorate from the University of Nebraska. His special interest in the English language led to his completion of a thesis on profanity. He has served on the North Central Association evaluating teams and as a curriculum consultant for city and county school systems. Dr. Martz has also had several years experience as a radio news announcer and as news editor of a county newspaper.

2. Dr. Sandra Madsen is assistant professor of speech and communication art. She teaches courses in speech communication and is director of the forensics program. She is also sponsor of Phi Kappa Delta, National Honorary Forensics Fraternity. She received her B.A. at the University of Wisconsin — Whitewater, and also her M.A.T. Her Ph.D. was received from the University of Kansas. She really enjoys working with the bright and ambitious people at Buena Vista. Her position here is challenging, interesting and always changing. She feels that the most unique aspect of this college is the close, personal relationships which can develop between individual students and faculty members.

3. Dr. Carl Adkins is professor of English and chairman of the division of language and literature. He teaches classes in written communication, American literature and Shakespeare. He is also involved with the Dambuser, a literary magazine here at Buena Vista. He received his B.A. in English from Grinnell College, his M.A. in English from the University of Idaho and his Ph.D. in English from Kansas State University. He especially enjoys meeting and working with the friendly students and staff members.

4. Larry Maness is assistant professor of mass communication. He attended Kansas University for his B.S. and Goddard College in Vermont for his M.F.A. Before coming to Buena Vista he taught mass communications at Emerson College in Boston where he chaired the journalism department. In additions to teaching, Mr. Maness has written several articles, films, and has had two books published.

5. Dr. Darrell Peck, professor of English has been on the college faculty two different times for a total of fourteen years service. He received his doctorate from the University of Nebraska two years ago during interim. He served a term as vice-chairman and chairman of the faculty senate and is now a member of the academic policies committee. Besides teaching, Dr. Peck is a member of Phi Delta Kappi, professional education fraternity and National and Iowa Councils of Teachers of English. He has also been college faculty representative to the Iowa congress.

6. Dr. Michael Whitlatch is assistant professor of speech and drama. He received his Ph.D. in theatre last August (1977) from Bowling Green State University, Ohio. At Bowling Green he held a teaching fellowship, serving this past year as chairperson. Other duties there included set construction and supervision of the scene shop. Dr. Whitlatch earned his M.A. in theatre from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, where he held an assistantship. He prefers directing and staging musical theatre and absurdist theatre. He has directed several productions and has had experience with the technical production of theatre.

7. Kenneth Hill is an instructor of mass communications here at Buena Vista. His individual courses are mass communications, broadcast; film and speech. Attending East Tennessee State University he received his B.S. in speech and history. He received his M.S. with a speech major, and a political science and journalism minor at the University of Tennessee. Hill has held positions as announcer and newsman for radio stations in Gate City, Virginia; Knoxville, Tennessee; Johnson City, Tennessee; and Terre Haute, Indiana. He is a Christian lay speaker for various churches and is a Sunday school teacher at the First Baptist Church in Storm Lake. He enjoys especially the opportunity to work with the students in the pursuit of knowledge. To him every aspect of the college is unique.

8. Dr. Charles Partee, professor and chairperson, who holds degrees from Maryville College, Austin Theological Seminary, the University of Texas and doctorate from Princeton is especially interested in the areas of philosophy, theology, history and literature. He has lectured at many scholarly conferences, including the American Academy of Religion, the Central Renaissance Conference, and the Medieval Institute. Dr. Partee has several publications which include essays in classical philosophy, medieval and reformation theology and Renaissance philosophy. His book on Calvin and classical philosophy has been published by E.S. Brill, in their series, "Studies in the History of Christian Thought."

9. Dr. Robert Tollefson, professor maintains the consistent observation that biblical materials were directed to concrete situations and his classes in theology are conducted as a dialogue with students. His is unhappy with what he finds as the generally static framework of education, Dr. Tollefson invites students to join in looking at present and future possibilities for man. He has traveled in Europe and Asia, has served as a pastor and has a bachelors degree in engineering from Michigan College of Mining and Technology. His doctorate from U of Iowa.

1. Dr. William Cumberland, professor of history, was born on a farm near Urban, Iowa. He received his bachelor's degree from the University of Dubuque and his doctorate from the University of Iowa. Dr. Cumberland has continued his interest in American religious history and has offered an interim course on "Little Known Religious Groups." State and Local history are preoccupations of Professor Cumberland, an interest which resulted in his authoring The History of Buena Vista College, among other works. Dr. Cumberland has served as Vice President of the Iowa Chapter of American Association of University Professors.

2. Atukathil G. Thomas, assistant professor of sociology, was raised in India where he later worked among several native groups. After his undergraduate work in India, he pursued graduate work at Ecumenical institute in Geneva, Switzerland and at St. Augustine's College in Canterbury, England. He came to the states for ecumenical studies at Boston University and received the S.T.M. degree. He then received his master's degree in sociology from Boston University. He has also been doing graduate work in sociology for four years at New School for Social Research in New York and Iowa State.

3. Dr. Jeffrey Perrill, assistant professor in history, was born in Missouri. He received his training as an historian at the state university in Columbia, Missouri. He traveled to India and England to do research in 1970-71 and returned to live in Pakistan during 1974-75. At Buena Vista, Dr. Perrill divides history teaching duties with Professor Cumberland. Jeff's three vices are pipe smoking, musty book collecting, and unflinching loyalty toward various losing athletic teams.

4. Dr. Ron Maclay, assistant professor of sociology, while a native Californian, has spent most of the last twenty years as a midwesterner. He received his B.A. and M.A. from Blackburn College and Northern Illinois University, respectively, nine years of college teaching has followed. He has recently completed his Ph.D. which involves the writing of an introductory sociology "primer," that will speak to today's student. Dr. Maclay has also had several other jobs in various periods of his life.

5. Michael Binder is a Buena Vista College graduate who has returned to instruct business finance and management after experience in the office of the United States Atomic Energy Commission. Mr. Binder took his M.B.A. at Drake University after graduating Summa Cum Laude at Buena Vista College. His experience at the AEC included administrator of contracts, procurement, budgeting and international contacts including administering the US-USSR scientific agreement at Fermilab.

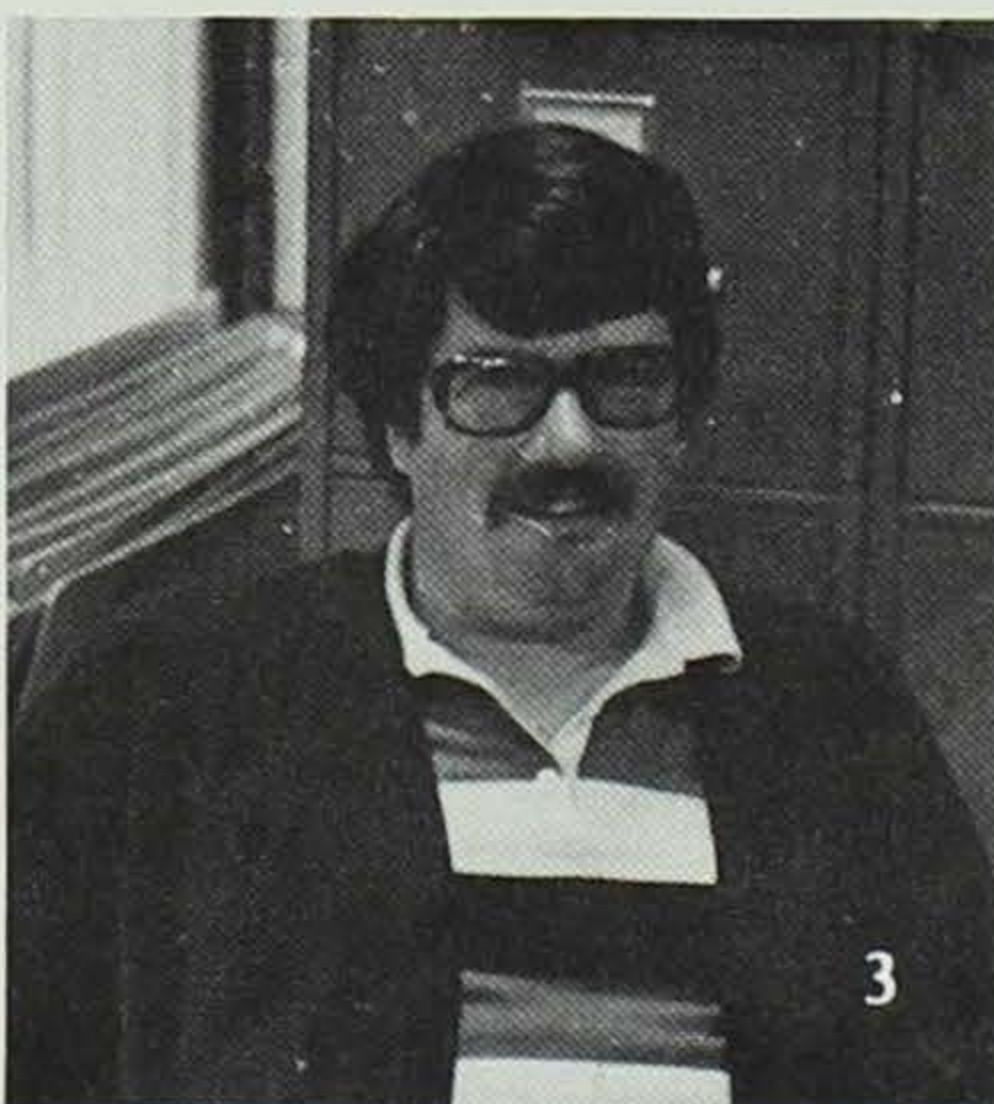

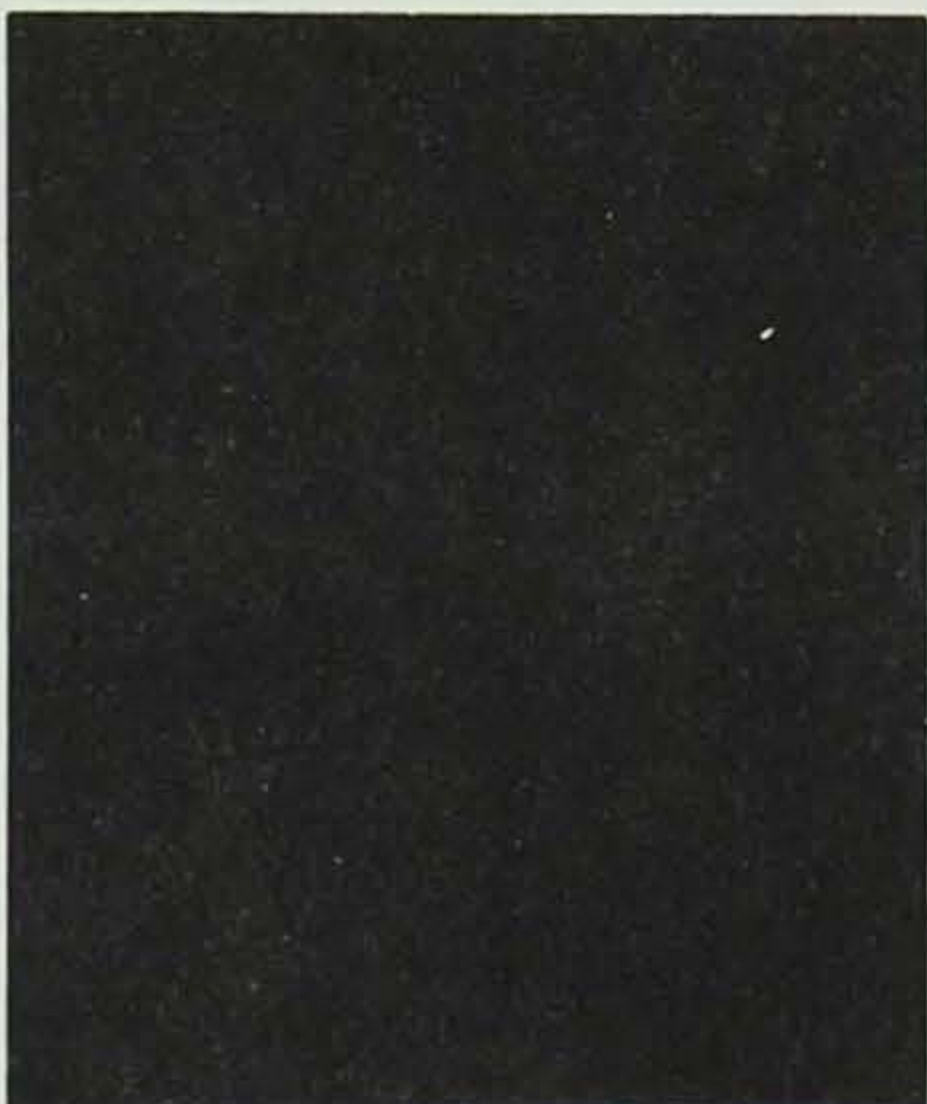

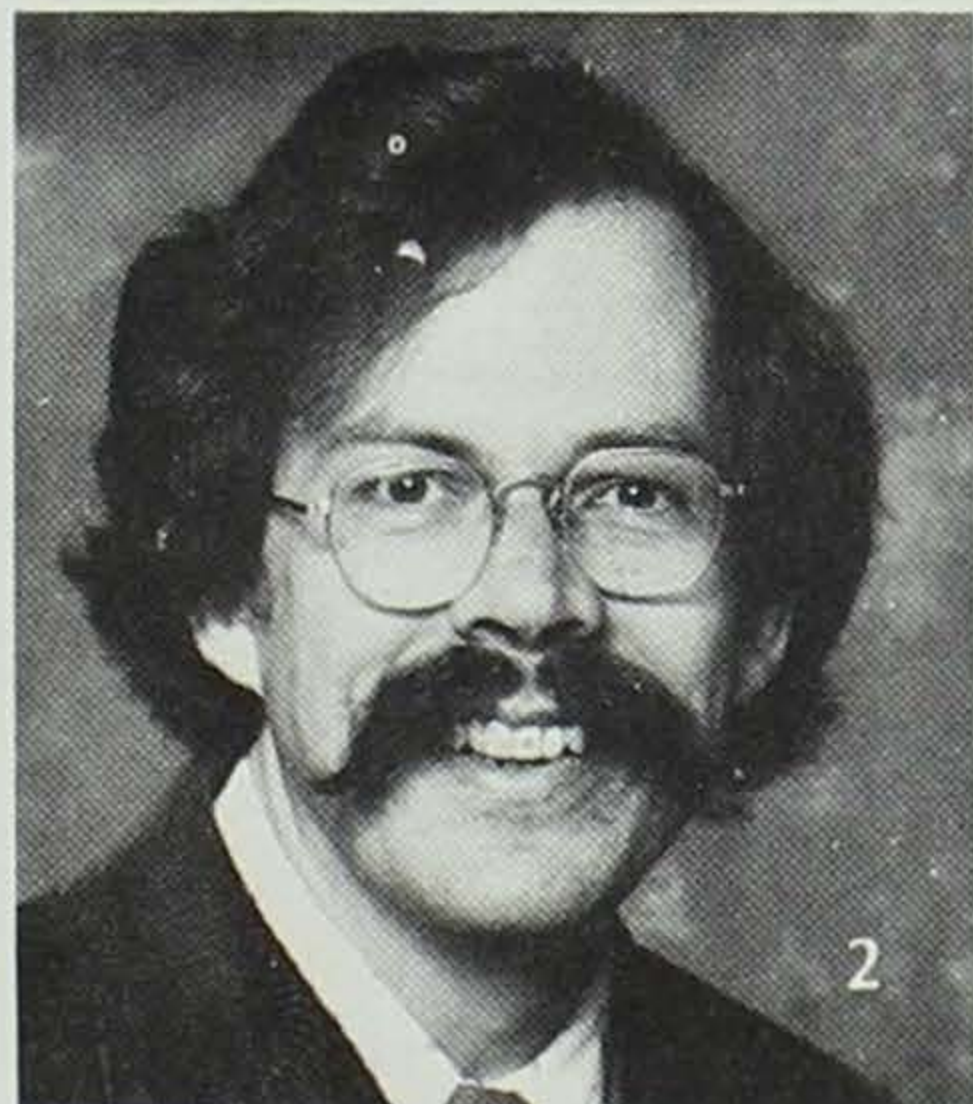

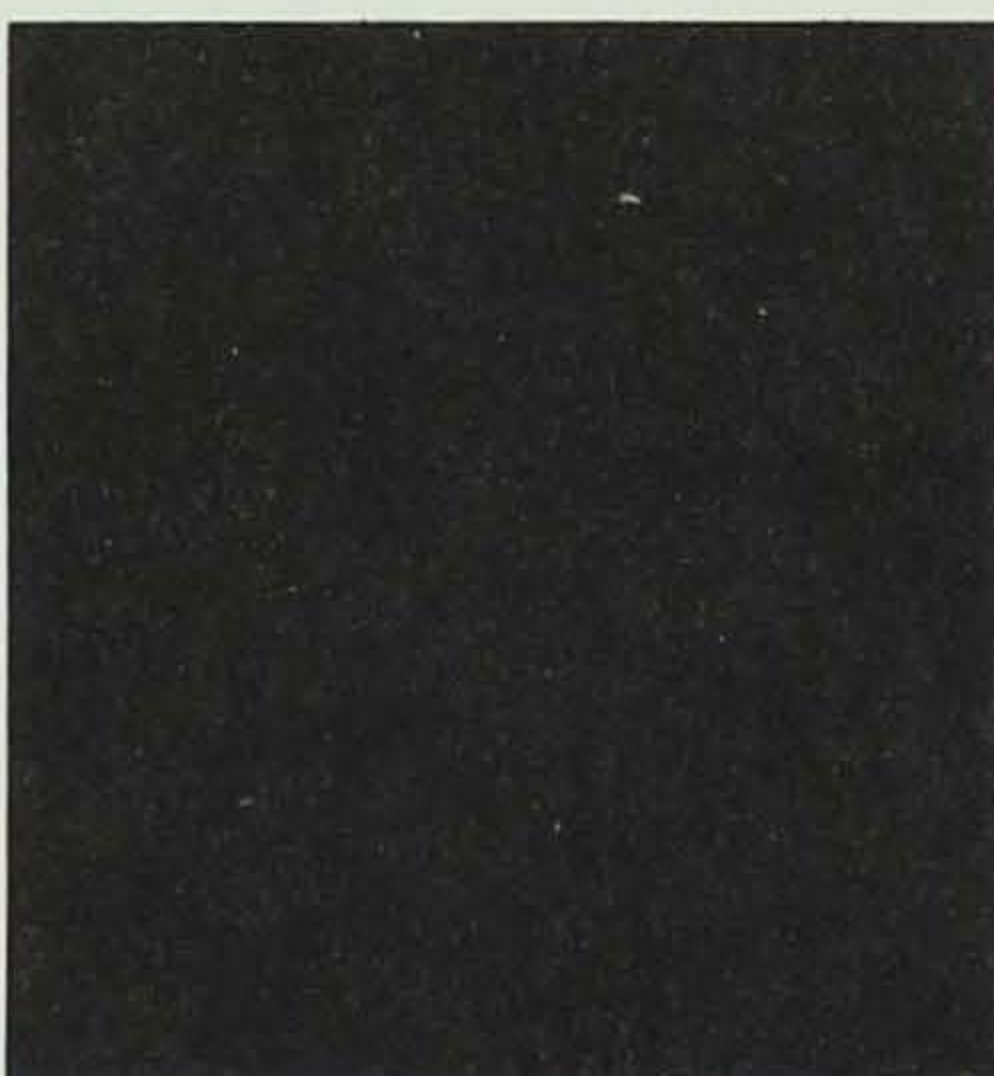

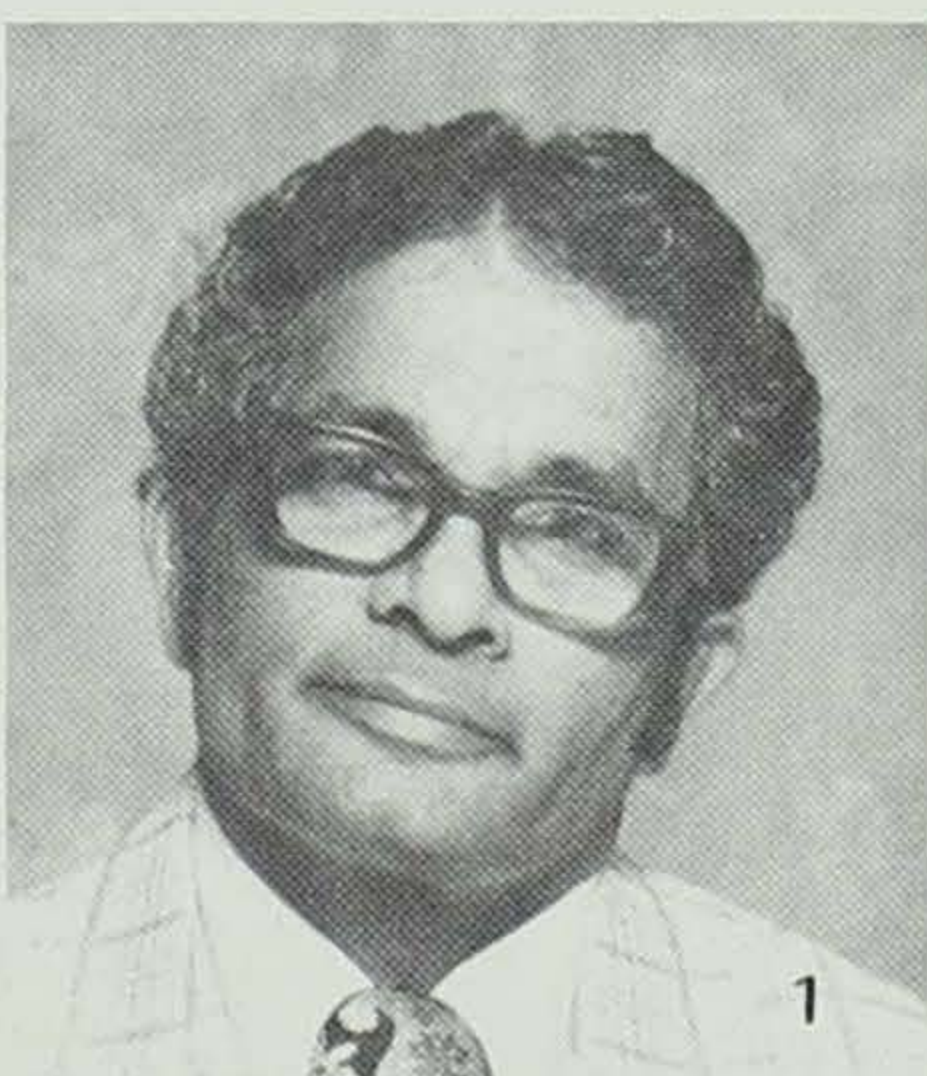

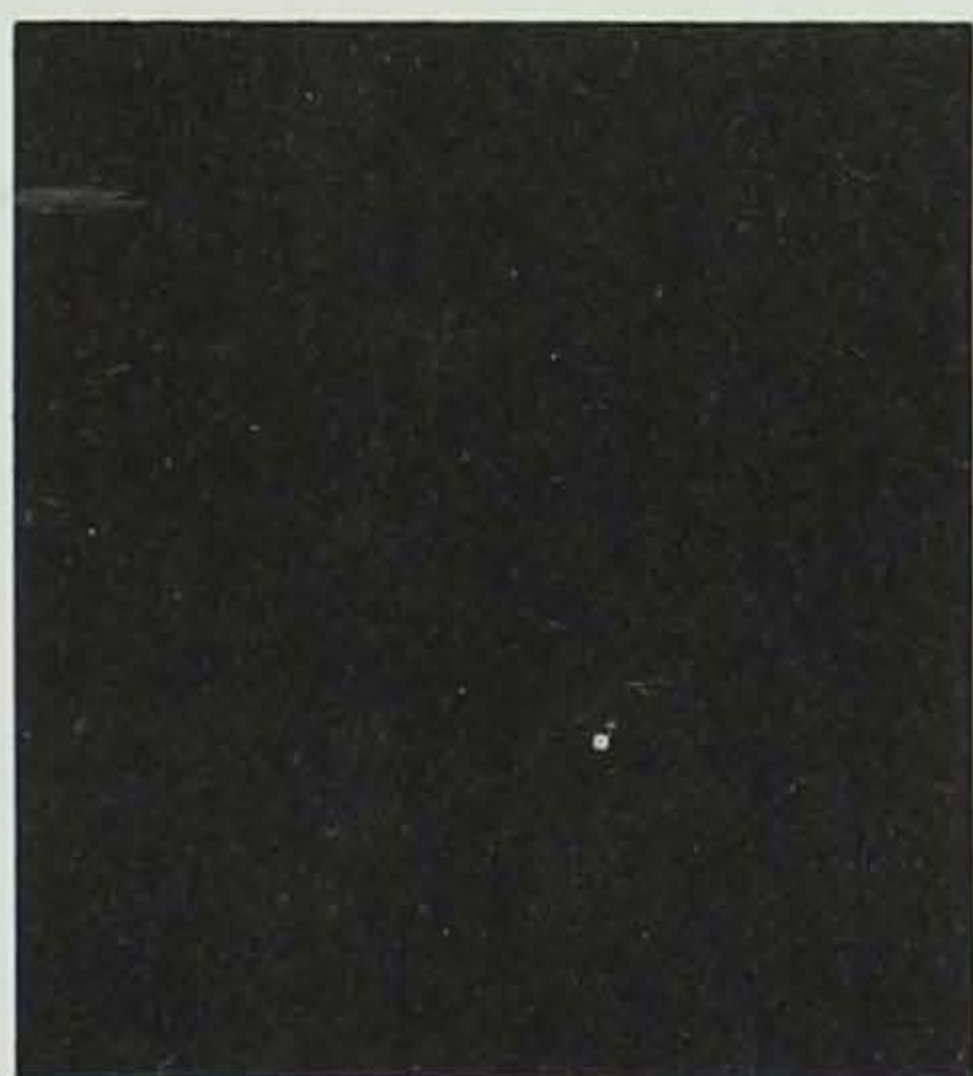

6. Paul W. Russell, associate professor of economics shares the birthplace (St. Thomas, Ontario, Canada) and many of the ideas of the economist John Kenneth Galbraith. Mr. Russell is continuing in a family tradition: his father, an Irish immigrant, has been a pastor and a college professor. Mr. Russell's education has been at colleges and universities in South Dakota and Missouri (B.A. from Northern State, N.B.A. from University of South Dakota, and work towards a doctorate at the University of Missouri).

7. Floyd G. Sage, assistant professor of accounting, joins Buena Vista College after extensive experience as Assistant Professor of Business at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point and at Baker University in Kansas. A Certified Public Accountant, Mr. Sage has served Haskins and Sells of Minneapolis, the Northwest Paper Company in Minnesota and Procter and Hendrickson in St. Paul. He took his B.A. at the University of Minnesota, Duluth and his M.S. at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis.

8. Dr. Gunnar Wikstrom Jr., associate professor of political science and chairperson, was born in Massachusetts and spent most of his early years in New England. He completed his undergraduate work at Tufts University, followed by a B.D. at Hartford Seminary. After four years in the pastoral ministry in Congregational Churches, he returned to graduate school and received a M.A. from Syracuse University and a Ph.D. from the University of Arizona. Dr. Wikstrom was the project director (1976-77) of an Iowa Program Impact Project designed to aid local government officials in long-range planning. He is the advisor to the College Democrats, and is the chairman of the Faculty Senate.

9. Norman G. Bonnema, associate professor of business administration, joined the B.V.C. faculty after an educational professions from junior college (Northwestern College), Bachelor's degree from Westmar College, to a M.B.A. degree from the University of Iowa, and teaching experience at other institutions. As a recipient of a fellowship in business, he spent a summer interning with executives of Iowa Public Service Company. He joined the navy to see the world, but only got as far as Hawaii. Now, once a week, he is a member of a Naval Reserve Drill where he holds the rank of commander.

1. Atukathil Thomas
2. Jeffrey Perrill 3.
Paul Russell 4. Gunnar Wikstrom

1. Jack Leggett is assistant professor of small business management. He came to Buena Vista from Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, where he held the positions of lecturer in marketing, associate director of the Center for Management Development, director of the Environmental Center, and was with the Division of Continuing Education, where he developed new methods and procedures for assessing the career education needs of people in Southern Illinois. He received his M.S. from Ball State University, Muncie, Indiana, and his B.S. from Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan. He also attended Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio.

2. James Hejl, Director of Bands, associate professor of music, and chairperson, came to Buena Vista in 1975, following an impressive career in the state of Texas. From 1970-75, he was asst. director of bands at the University of Texas, Austin. He has designed shows for performances at the Cotton Bowl, Gator Bowl, and Super Bowl. He received his bachelor of music degree from the University of Texas and the Master of Music Degree from the University of Michigan. He is active, not only as a clarinet soloist, but also as a guest conductor, clinician, and adjudicator at various clinics and festivals throughout Iowa.

3. Robert D. Pfaltzgraff is the director of the Buena Vista College Choir. His involvement with choral music involves festivals and contests throughout Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, and Nebraska. He received his degree in Bachelor of Music Education and Masters of Music Education from Drake University. He has also studied at the University of Southern California, the University of Colorado, and the Aspen School of Music. Before coming to Buena Vista he taught in high schools in Iowa. He was elected to "First Chair of America," as outstanding director and also as a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Music Fraternity.

4. Francis Heusinkveld is departmental coordinator and associate professor of music. She has enjoyed and practiced music all of her life. She has completed a major portion of her work toward a doctorate in organ literature at the University of Iowa. There she became a member of the Sigma Alpha Iota National Music Sorority, and was elected to Pi Kappa Lambda, national music honor society. She has also taught in high schools and Upper Iowa University. She has been an active organ recitalist and church organist for the past several years.

5. Dr. Leonard Denham, who is from New York, is professor of music at Buena Vista. He has also taught and lived in Seattle, London, Paris, and Oslo. He earned a music diploma from Trinity College (University of London); B.S. and M.A. degrees from Columbia University and the D.M.A. from the University of Washington. Recently Dr. Denham has taken an interest in the development of music theatre and opera in this country, as evidenced by his affiliation with a number of professional organizations and projects. Dr. Denham has also taught voice and piano in a variety of private and academic situations.

6. Edward (Mac) Hornecker has designed and built a creative play sculpture for the Cherokee park system. He has had eight one-man shows in the last six years, as well as participating in many invitational and competitive shows. He received his BFA at the Kansas City Art Institute and then his MFA at the University of Oklahoma. There are three sculpture awards to his credit including the All Iowa of 1972. The US Department of Housing and Urban Development has published one of his works in the National Community Arts Program. He is presently serving on the Advisory Panel on Environmental Arts and Architecture of the Iowa Arts Council.

7. Dennis Dykema is a successful artist and teacher. Not only has his work been presented in a number of one-person shows in Iowa, but he has pieces represented in private collections from Vermont to California. In 1970, after earning his MA in painting and pottery at the University of Northern Iowa, Dennis came to BV. His interests range from Educational Learning Theories to Enduro Motorcycle Racing.

8. Dr. Floyd A. Pace has had a long career in education including teaching in junior high, high school, serving as a school superintendent, and teaching Spanish, French, and courses in education at the college and university level. He received his BA from Drake University, MS from Iowa State, PhD from Iowa State and additional graduate work at the Universities of Iowa, Nebraska, and South Dakota. He especially enjoys the mutual respect of faculty and students at BV. He feels that "the best way to implement the benefits of a liberal arts education in the society at large is to give a solid, liberating education to our future teachers, administrators, and business men and women."

1. Jack Leggett 2. James Hejl 3. Robert Pfaltzgraff 4. Francis Heusinkveld 5. Leonard Denham 6. Floyd Pace

1. Bernard Weiss is assistant professor of physical education. He is the head men's basketball coach, head men's tennis coach and the FCA advisor. He received his BS in education from Wittenburg University in Springfield, Ohio. His MS was received from Ohio State University. He enjoys teaching and coaching at the college level here at BV along with the responsibilities and life style that goes along with it. He feels that a unique aspect of the college is the great deal of love involved which overshadows the shortcomings of the institution.

2. Associate professor of health and physical education, Dr. Albert Lewis has involved himself in all aspects of the physical education discipline. He presently is serving as vice-president elect of recreation in the Central District of the American Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. He attended Ottawa University, where he completed his BA and from there he went to Plains, Kansas for six years to coach football and track. He completed his doctorate at Oklahoma State. He came to BV in 1970 to head the health and physical education department.

3. Roger Chaffin, assistant professor of psychology, was born in Northhamptonshire, England. He received his BA in philosophy and psychology at Oxford. He came to the United States for graduate work, receiving his MA from the University of Delaware and PhD from the University of Illinois. He has a great curiosity about the nature of human knowledge, which has led him to study language, thinking, and reasoning.

4. Dr. Mary Crawford, who is assistant professor of psychology, was born in Pottsville, Pennsylvania. She received her BA in music education at West Chester State College before studying psychology at the University of Delaware, where she received her MA and PhD degrees. She approaches psychology from an ethological view-point, comparing the behavior patterns of different species. Her research dealt with the learning of fear.

5. Ken Schweller, assistant professor of psychology, is from St. Louis, Missouri. He received his BA in English from Wesleyan University in Connecticut. Following two years in the service he began graduate work in psychology at the University of Illinois where he received his MA degree. He is in the process of completing his PhD dissertation which involves situational factors underlying a person's ability to communicate effectively.

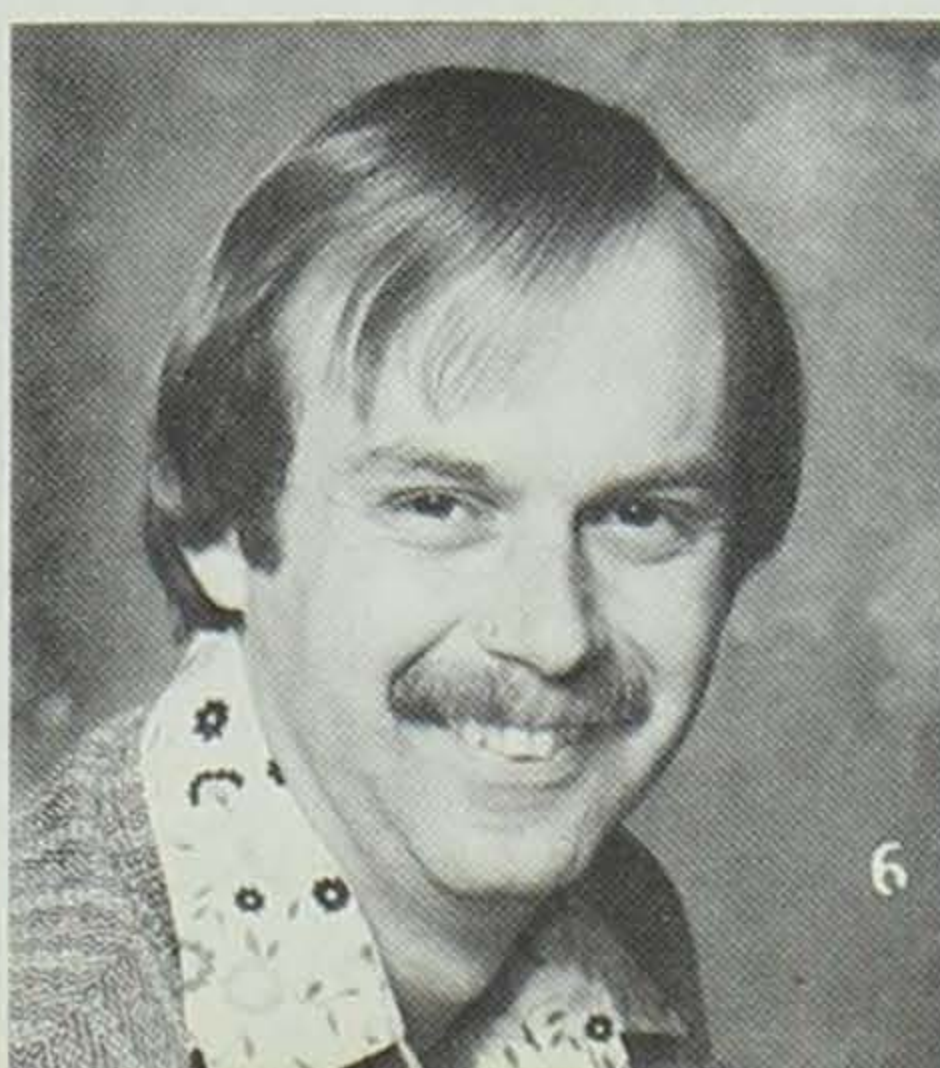

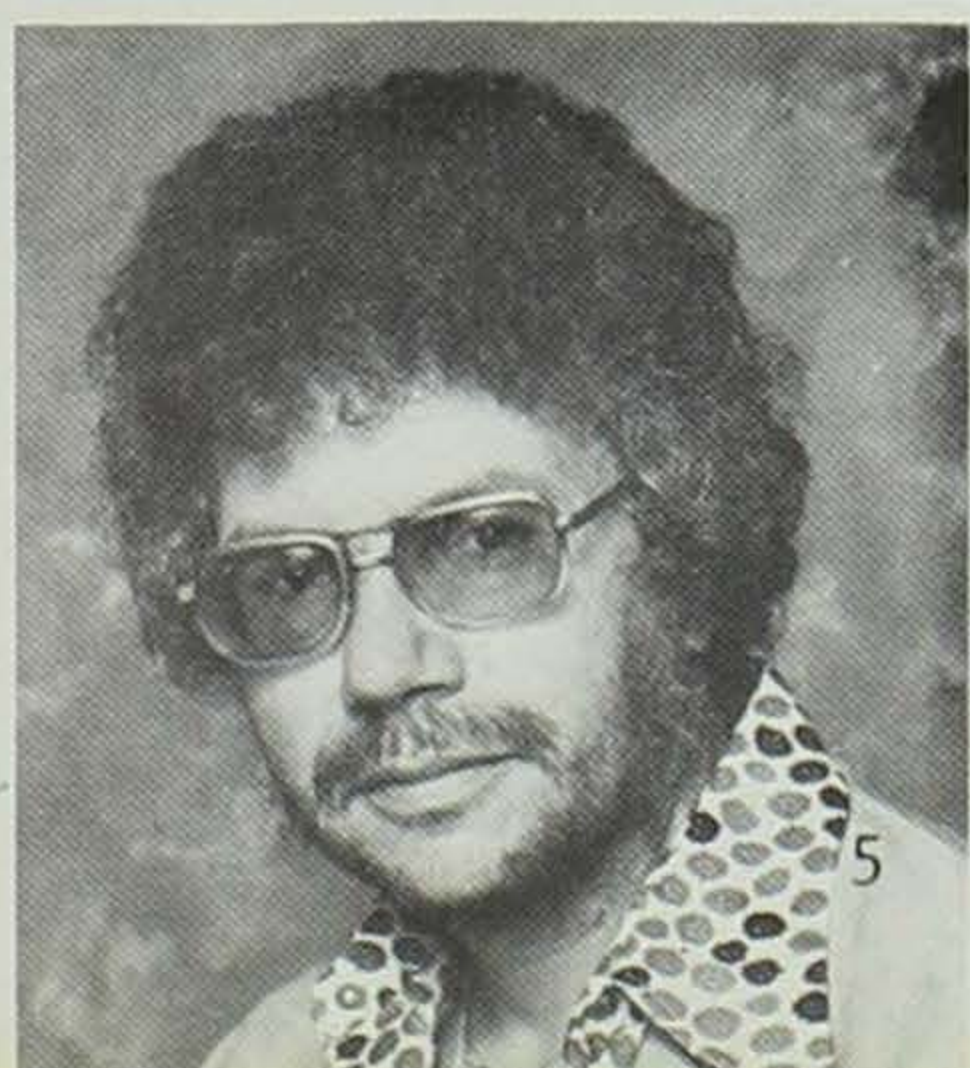

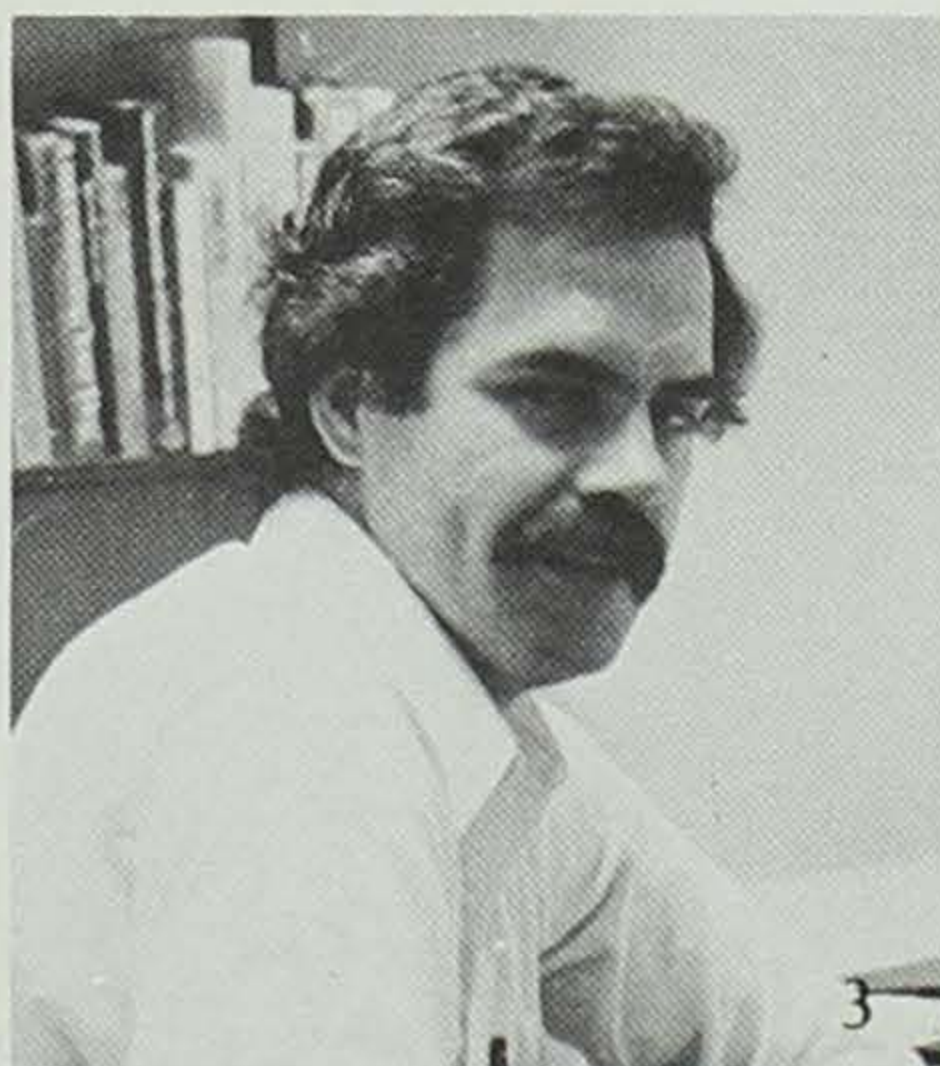

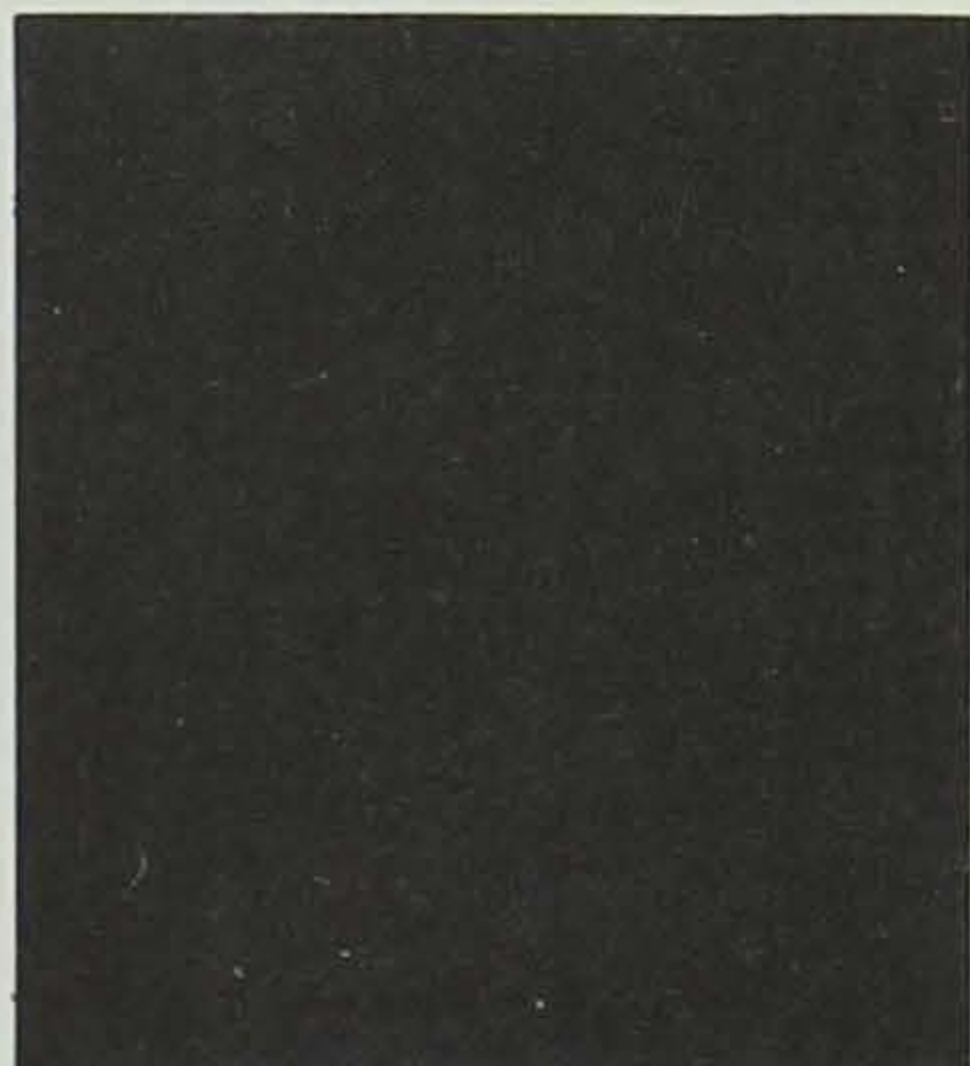

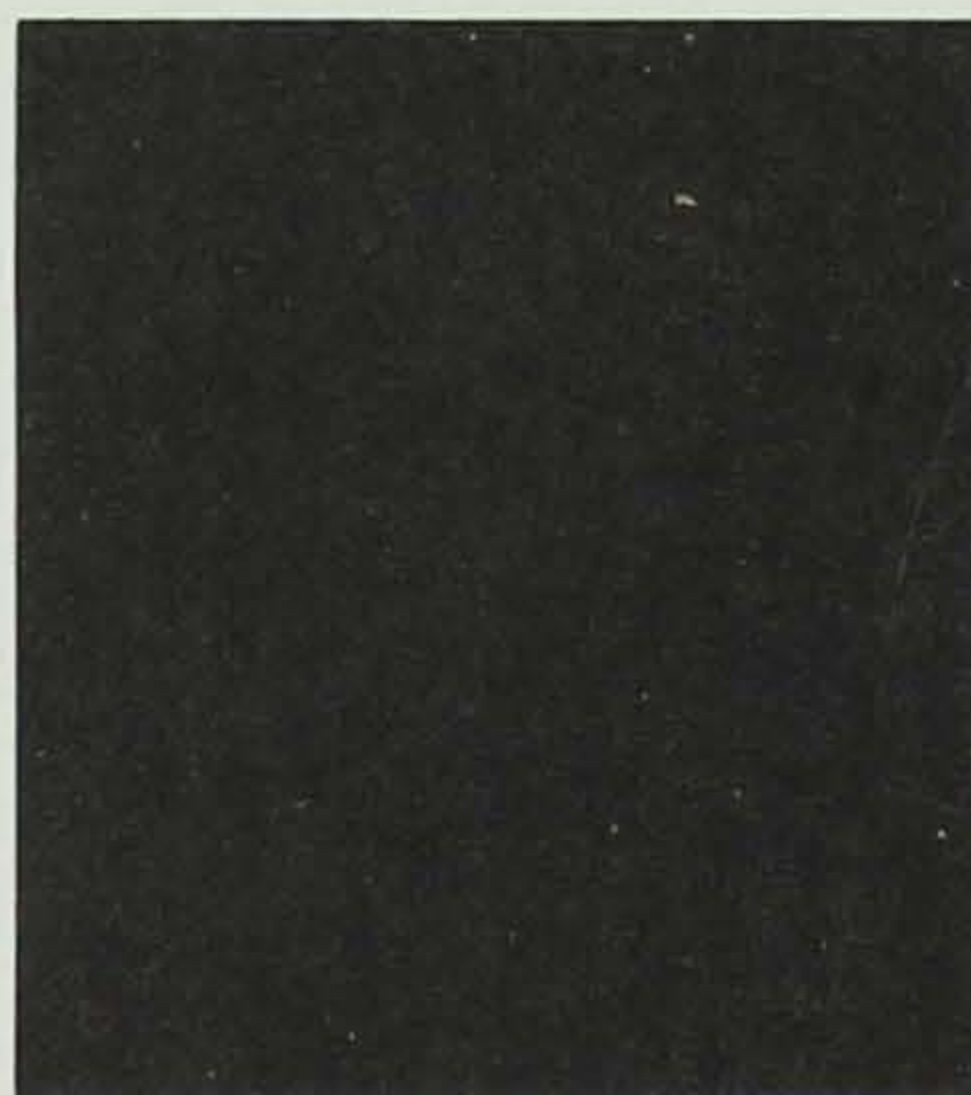

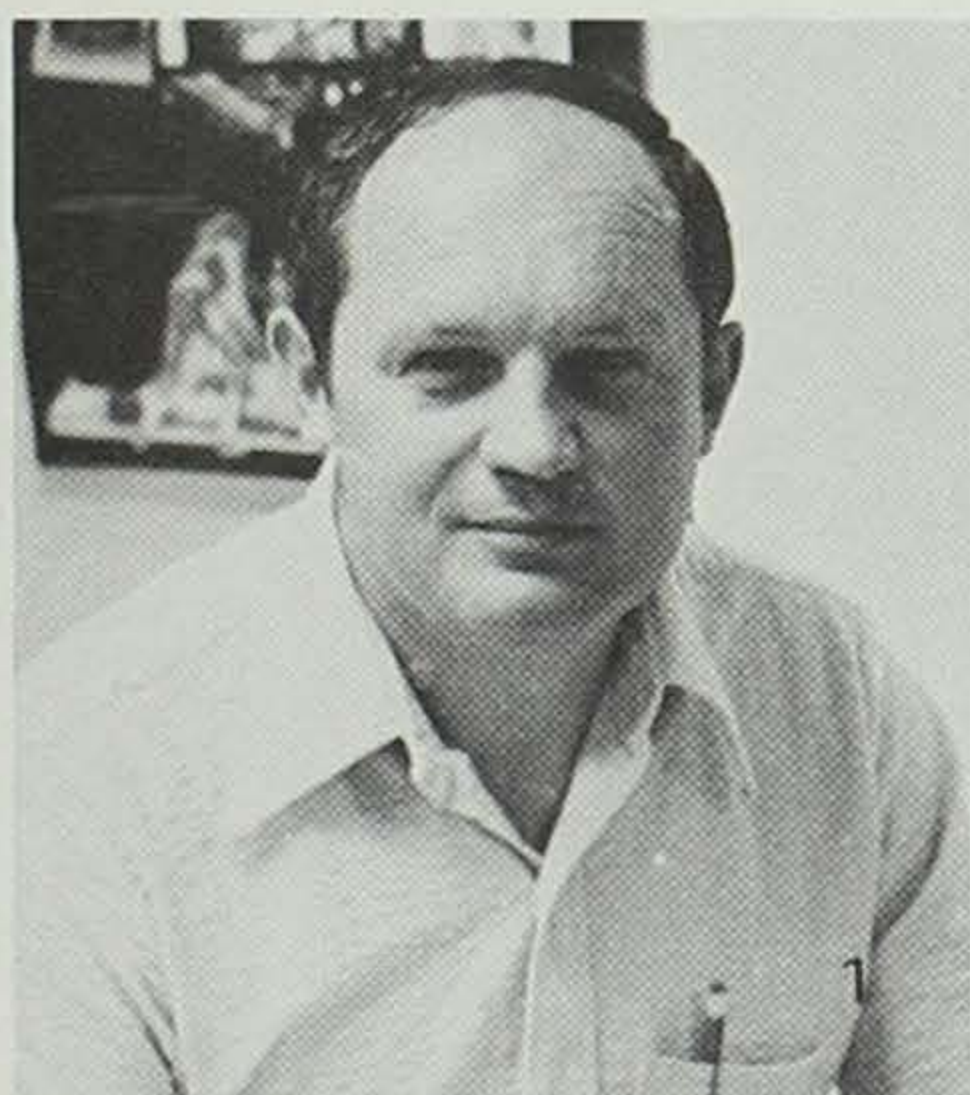

6. Assistant professor of psychology, Dr. Jeanne Tinsley, attended Carleton College in Northfield, Minnesota before transferring to the University of Illinois in Champaign - Urbana. There she received her BA, MA, and PhD degrees. Her graduate major was personality psychology, her minor was developmental psychology. She has conducted research using both human and animal subjects in the area of self-punitive behavior and masochism.

7. Dr. Brian Lotven, assistant professor of Secondary Education, received his BA in Secondary School Science, MS in history, and EdD in Secondary Education, all from Oklahoma State University. He has taught high school in Dallas, Texas, and Perkins, Oklahoma. He taught two years as an Instructor in Education at Oklahoma State University and one year in history and Political Science at Western Oklahoma State College. His major goal at BV is to challenge students to constantly scrutinize their opinions and attitudes in light of ever changing evidence and to continue this process of scrutinization after the formal learning ends.

8. Assistant Professor of Education, Gerald DiMinico, possesses a rich and diverse experimental background. After receiving a Bachelor of Science Degree in Industrial Management from Northeastern University, Boston, Professor Diminico was employed in that field and simultaneously continued his education. He completed an ME at State College of Boston and implemented his learning in an innovative grade school program. He has taught at institutions on both the west and east coast. Professor DiMinico's most recent experience was with John Jay College of Criminology within City University of New York where his talents were directed toward development of new curricular instruction of New York City policeman, and an active role in an innovative program for open enrollment.

9. Dr. James Lockard is associate professor of education and chairperson. After receiving the BA in German from the University of Northern Iowa in 1967, he spent nearly three months working in Germany and traveling throughout Europe. The next year he completed his MA in German at Northwestern University followed by the move to Storm Lake and Buena Vista. After teaching two years at BV, he took a two-year leave of absence to study the administration of higher education and educational media at Iowa State. While teaching at ISU he completed his PhD.

1. Marilyn Wikstrom, assistant professor, enjoys teaching and working with young people. Through most of her career she has alternated between teaching and continuing her education. She attended Defiance College in Ohio and later to Hartford Seminary where she met her husband Gunnar. She then received her Master of Science Degree from Northern State College in South Dakota. She has continued further graduate work at Iowa State University, Mankato State College and is currently pursuing an EdD from the University of South Dakota. Marilyn's committee work at BV involves Affirmative Action Committee, Education Sub-Committee, the Senate, and Chairperson of the Academic Affairs Committee.

2. Mr. Jay Beekman is the Director of Athletics here at BV, with this being his 22nd year here. He is involved with Physical Education, and he is baseball coach. He is co-sponsor of letterwinners club and participates in FCA. He received his BA from Buena Vista in 1942 and his MS from Drake in 1956. He especially enjoys working with young people, and likes to think that he helps young people to better understand themselves in their quest for the ability to adjust to their environment. He feels that a unique aspect of this college is that it tries to make a substantial contribution to helping in the development of each student's maximum potential in their chosen area of specialization and also in the general area of citizenship.

3. As assistant professor of Health and Physical Education, Harriet Henry also coaches the women's athletic program. Her special interest is water safety, however she is also past president of Storm Lake Women's Bowling Association. In Buena Vista County she currently holds position of Water Safety Chairman. She has acted as a volunteer at American Red Cross National Aquatic Schools from Goddard, Kansas to Bemidjii, Minnesota. She holds a BS in PE from Fort Hays Kansas State College, and an MA from the University of South Dakota.

4. As a resident of Iowa City, Merrit Ewalt grew up following the University of Iowa athletic teams. Now assistant professor of Health and Physical Education, he maintains an interest in all types of sports. His free time is largely spent hunting, fishing, and golfing with his two teenage sons. However, he also enjoys bridge, something less strenuous. Merrit boasts several technical skills which he is putting to good use. Experienced as a brick-layer and housebuilder, he has recently built two houses in Emerald Park.

5. James Hershberger, assistant professor of Health and Physical Education, finds that the game of football teaches the lessons of life. As a member of the American Football Coaches Association, Jim has been more than just "interested" in the game. When he coaches at Buena Vista, he does it with the background experience of a former football player. His concern for physical fitness extends into his private life as he enjoys hunting, fishing, and golfing with his family.

6. Mary Anne Gray is head librarian and instructor of library science at BV. She completed her BA degrees in English and Education at Calvin College and a Masters in Library Science at the University of Southern California. She taught elementary school in Illinois and Michigan, and then traveled to Germany for three years and won two outstanding teaching awards. She has recently co-authored a book on humanistic education to which she contributed an extensive annotated bibliography on the subject.

7. The assistant librarian is Tom Culbertson who is also an instructor of library science. He grew up in Moline, Illinois, and St. Louis, Missouri. After receiving a BA from Knox College in 1970, he stayed on as varsity cross-country coach until the Army provided a two year vacation at Fort Leonard, Missouri. He then moved to Ithaca, New York where he held several jobs while earning his Masters Degree in Library Science at Syracuse University.

8. Reference librarian and instructor of library science at Ballou Library is Linda Searcy. She is also involved with the BV film society and Ex-Libris Club. She received a BA in psychology and sociology from the University of Victoria, and a MA in library science from the University of Washington. Linda never has a dull moment and enjoys contact with the students and faculty. She feels that a unique aspect of the college is the informal and close contact between everyone.

9. For John Naughton, Assistant Professor of Health and Physical Education, professional and leisure activities are almost identical. When he is not teaching or coaching, he can be found on the golf course or in the stands as an avid spectator of nearly every sporting event. He carries this attitude of enthusiasm into his teaching. Mr. Naughton has spent several years in education and teaching and finds that he thoroughly enjoys the activities related to the teaching of physical education.

1. Dr. Robert Borgman, professor and assistant to the president, is a native of Chicago with an exceptionally strong background in Biology. He received his BA degree from Central College, his MS from Kansas State University and his doctorate at Iowa State University. Dr. Borgman's name appears in several important places, including Who's Who in The Midwest American Men of Science, International Scholars Registry, Outstanding Educators, and Who's Who in Ecology. During recent years he has received eight grants from the National Science Foundation to conduct training institutes and develop new curriculum in science.

2. Jon Hutchins, assistant professor, born in Plymouth, England, earned his BA from University College, Oxford and his PhD from the University of Minnesota in Organic Chemistry. Since then he has done post doctoral research at the University of Southern California and the University of Utah. Dr. Hutchins came to Buena Vista after two years at California State University at Long Beach and one year at California State Polytechnic University. His research interests lie in the interface of organic and biochemistry, specifically biochemical reaction mechanisms and theory of enzymatic catalysis.

3. Lanny E. Grigsby, presently assistant professor of mathematics, graduated from Buena Vista in 1960 and joined the faculty the next fall. He has totaled over one hundred hours of graduate work towards his doctorate at Iowa State, Bowling Green, University of Illinois, and Oklahoma University. He holds a Master's Degree from Bowling Green and Illinois with his dissertation on "Orthogonal Latin Squares." At BV he won three athletic letters and was quarterback for the 1959 football team which finished the season with an 8-1 record. He served as assistant coach in football, basketball and baseball.

4. Dr. Joseph Traylor, assistant professor, graduated cum laude from Ashbury College with a double major in physics and math. He received his PhD from the University of Tennessee in physics, with his thesis work done in solid state physics. His research was performed at the High Flux Isotope Reactor at Oak Ridge National Laboratory. Dr. Traylor spent six years on a joint teaching/research appointment at Iowa State University and Ames Laboratory. His teaching specialties include physics of music, sound; physics of sound reproduction and teaching physics to non-scientists.

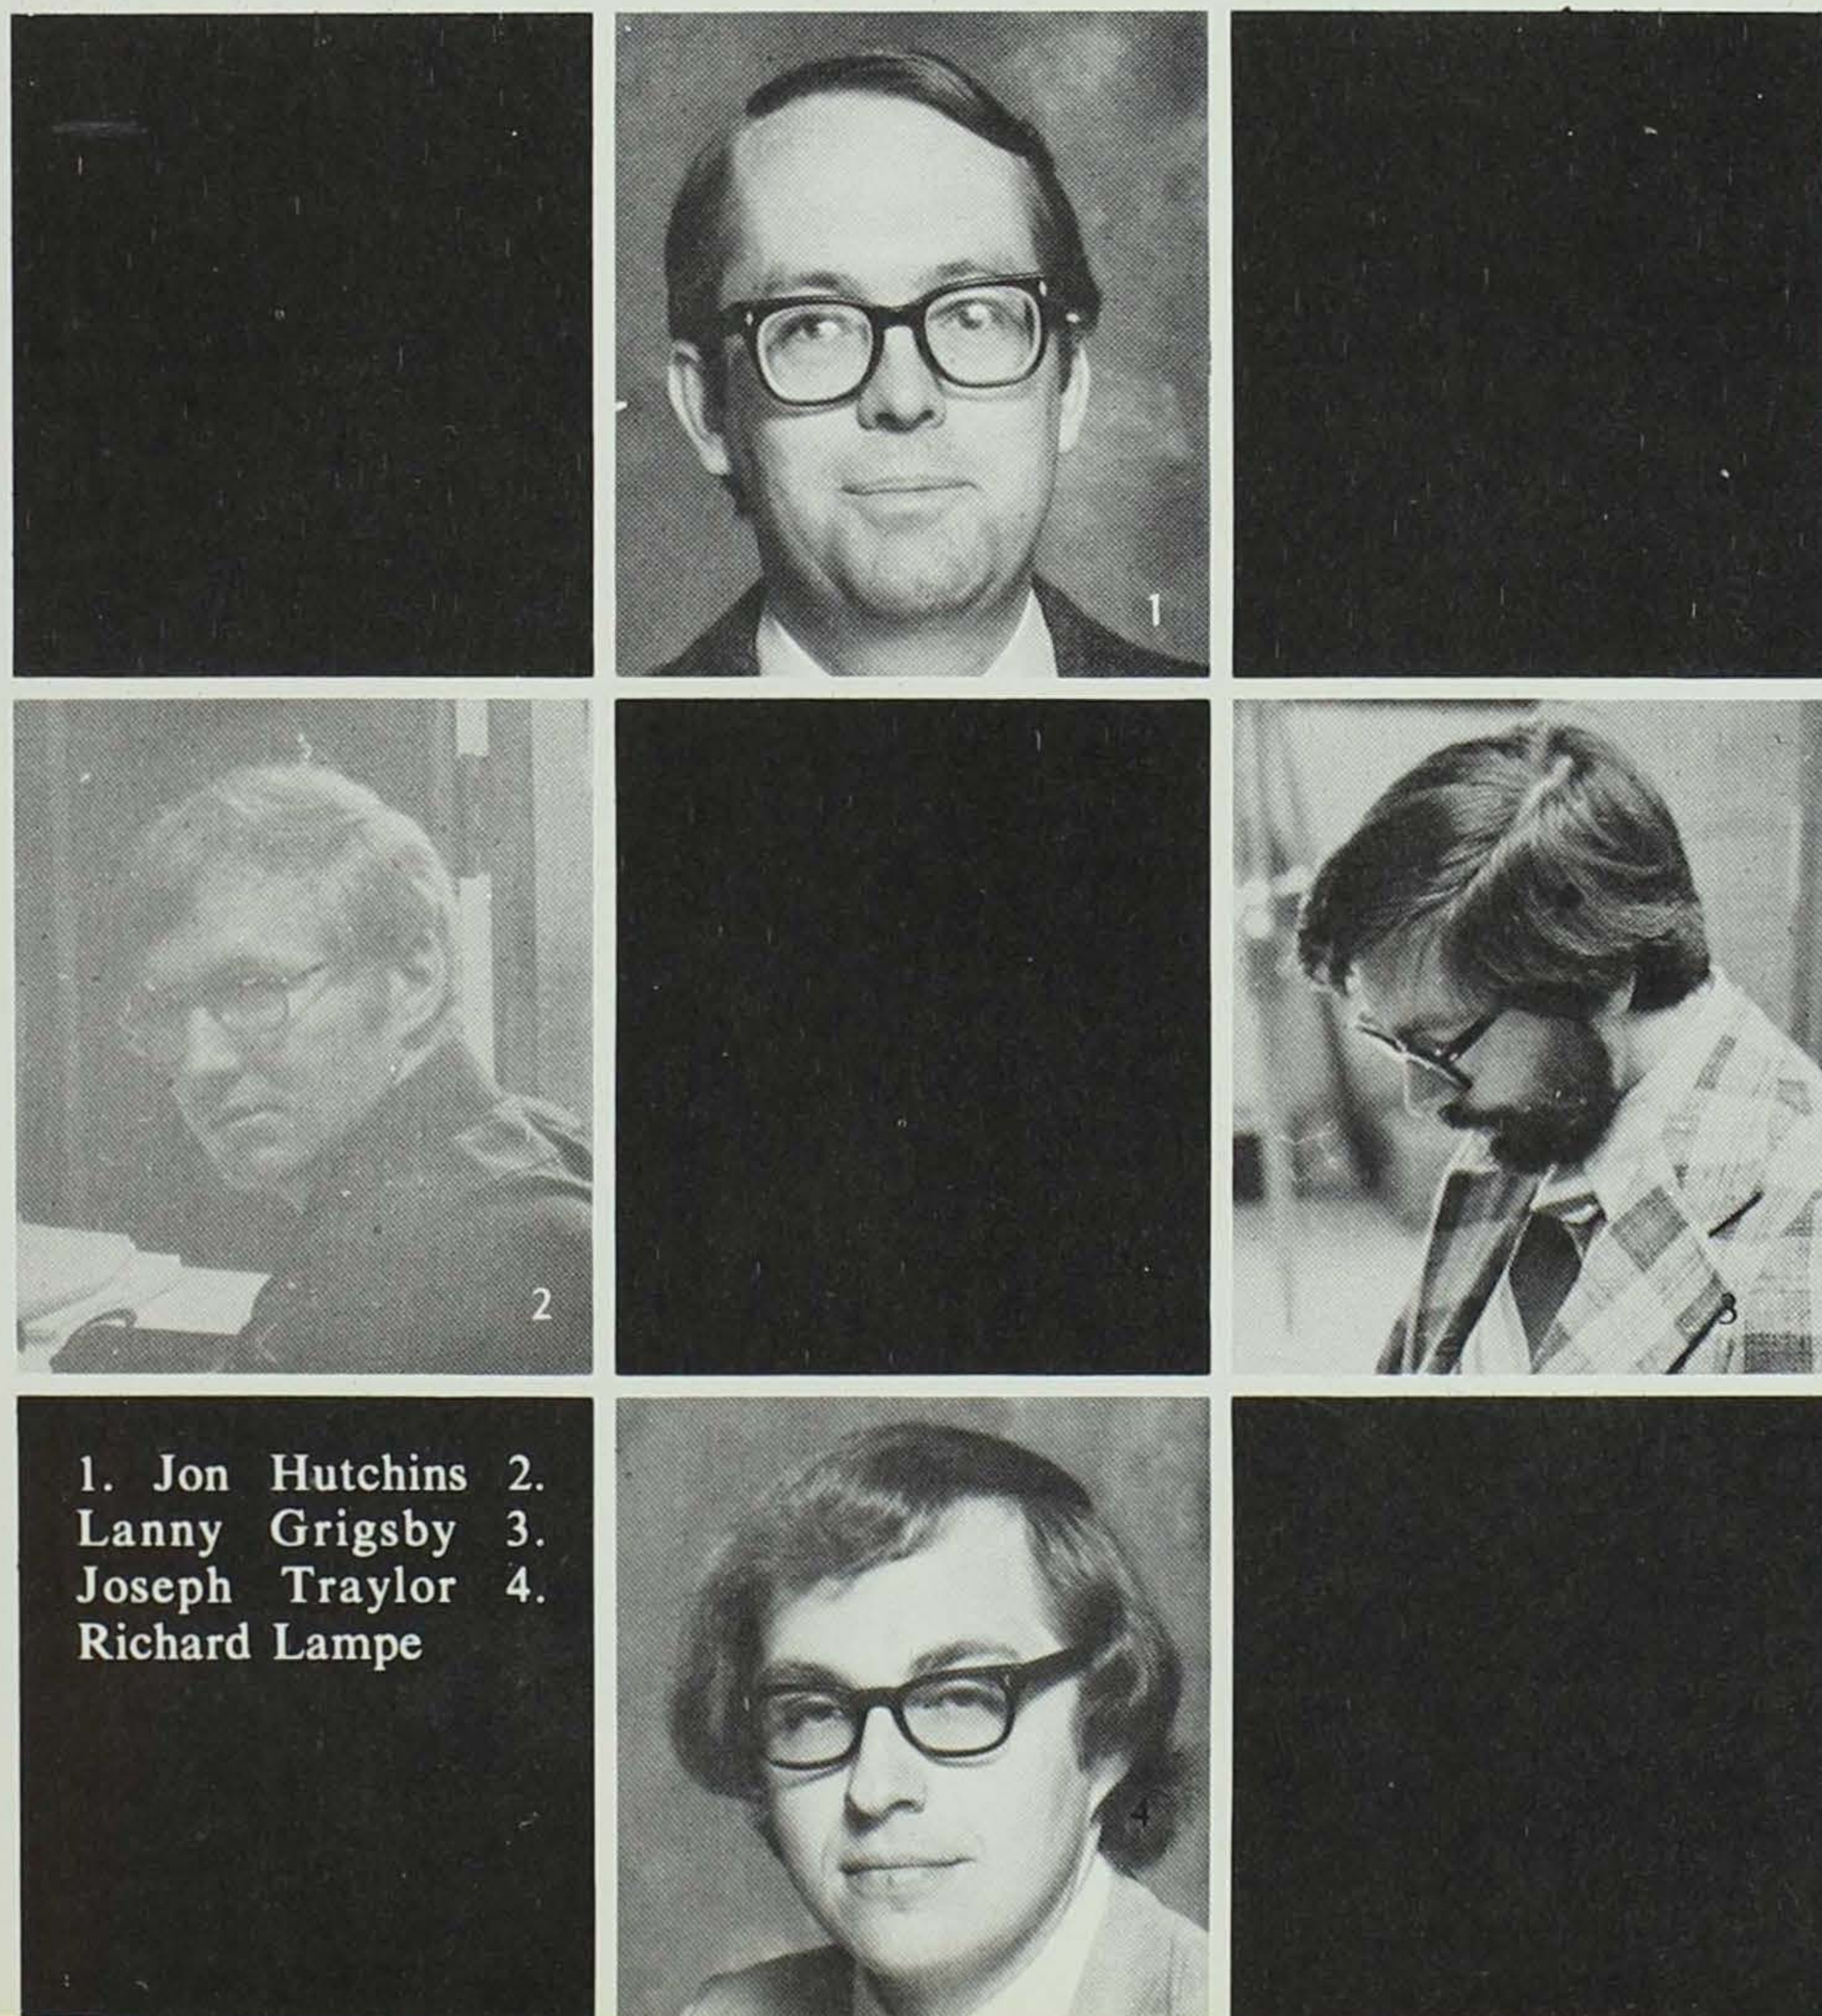

5. Dr. Charles F. Slagle, associate professor, is a graduate of Buena Vista College (1960), who later received his doctorate from the University of South Dakota and returned to teach at BV. Dr. Slagle's work experience extends beyond the chemistry classroom. In the past he has worked as a printer for four Iowa newspapers and during a five year period worked as a professional musician. Additionally, he taught high school science for five years. Dr. Slagle's familiarity with computers has brought additional dimensions to students who seek to utilize technology in their learning experience.

6. Dr. Gerald Poff, is associate professor of biology and chairperson of the Division of Natural Sciences, and is originally from Pennsylvania. He received his BS degree from McPherson College in Kansas and earned his PhD in Physiology from Colorado State University. His research activities led him to take a position as senior physiologist with a corporation where he evaluated the effects of cardiac assist devices in animals.

7. Dr. Richard P. Lampe, assistant professor of biology, is a native of Iowa and graduated from Buena Vista in 1960. He has attended the University of Kansas where he received his MA in Systematics and Ecology in 1971 and the University of Minnesota where he completed his PhD in 1976. His research interests include the predation of badgers on pocket gophers and the distribution and ecology of mammals of the great plains. While at the University of Minnesota, he participated in a two-month course in Tropical Ecology offered in conjunction with Organization for Tropical Studies and the University of Costa Rica.

8. Benjamin Donath is assistant professor of mathematics. He has completed his course work and comprehensive examinations for his PhD at the University of Iowa where he held a teaching and research fellowship. He received an MA in mathematics and an MSS in statistics from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, holding a teaching assistantship there also. His BA in mathematics and philosophy was earned at Illinois College, Jacksonville, where he was a Phi Beta Kappa student, graduating at the top of his class.
