

NE FOR THE PRINCE OF WALES—To the left is a picture taken in the latter part of 1915, of the war. It shows the heir to the British crown as a stoop-shouldered, scrawny-necked, young man. To the right is his latest picture, which shows him to be well filled out, brawny and cheerful. This change comes from campaigning with British troops, living a soldier's life.