

In the prison camps:

Palawan: I was more respected, had more power ^{than} tahnany officer although being only a Yeoman first class enlisted man.

a helper and a aid moral booster and a nursemaid to the sick.

on the ship Horror Muru to Japan I was the undertaker.

Someone had to throw the men over the side the Japanese would not ~~shu~~ touch them and we could not let them lay next to you dead.

Each time I threw one over i washed my hands under the leaky old steam winches. where I had my canteen sätting for the little drippings of the water.
