Conservation District Is Sponsor Of Art Show

School children in kindergarten through sixth grade in Hardin county are eligible to enter the second annual Conservation Art Show April 17-19.

Sponsored by the Hardin Soil Conservation District commissioners, the show awards are based on an artist's original interpretation of conservation in the county. Themes should express man's use of the environment to achieve the highest quality of living. Examples might be found in wildlife, soil or land management, forestry, water management, recreation, human resources or urban conservation of air and water.
