

New Providence FFA Boys Win Soil Judging Contest

Members of the New Providence Future Farmers of America chapter, first place winner in the annual Hardin County Soil Judging contest held at the Carroll Groen farm last Thursday, are shown above. The top four

Providence boys, which comprised the winning team, were Melvin Jeske, Keith Young, Marvin McKenzie and Eugene Taber. Jeske was awarded for being the contest's high scorer. Shown are, back of pit, left to right: Roger Struck, Eugene Tabor, Jerry Swin-

ford, Keith Young, Marvin McKenzie, Gerome Hoffman and Paul Lawler. In the pit, left to right: Ronnie Pippin, Ronnie Hockett and Melvin Jeske. Eldora's team finished second in the contest. (Picture on inside.) —H-I Photo