

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO—

NOVEMBER 11, 1982

"Gas pipeline blast fatally injures five people" a headline said. The story which followed told how Lester and Mike Huisman, Caspar Niehaus, Diane Runyan and Dave Krsnak were all killed in a disastrous fire whose flames could be seen for 50 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Kelly of Waterloo were the parents of a baby boy, Christopher Ernest, born October 27.

Media Specialist at Hudson Elementary, Marilyn Lilja, had several articles and book reviews published recently and the elementary music teacher published a book "Capsule Units for the Autoharp, Recorder, Guitar and Xylophone."

A daughter whom they named Abbie Dawn was born November 6 to Mr. and Mrs. Dennis See of Montrose, Iowa.

Funeral services for 79-year-old James Lynch, Sr., now of Leasburg, Oregon, formerly of Hudson, were held in Springfield, Oregon.

Nine-hundred seventy-seven residents of Hudson went to the polls to cast their ballots in last Tuesday's general election. Here, Cooper Evans defeated Lynn Cutler for Representative in Congress, Terry Branstad defeated Roxanne Conklin, Marcia Farrington and Jim Bittner for Governor and Lawrence Pope defeated Bob Anderson for Lt. Governor.

Linda Stevens would be hosting an Art show and Sale at her house on November 12 and 13.

Several photos were printed, taken by Ken Murray, showing the intense flames Waterloo and Hudson firemen braved in fighting the fire which occurred at the gas pipeline explosion in a farm field west of Hudson.
