DEDICATION

DEAN SAYLOR

To one who, since he became associated with Buena Vista College, has always labored for its betterment; who has proved to be our friend and dependable counselor; to one we have learned to love, honor and respect through the last two years; we, the Junior class, respectfully dedicate the 1926 Rudder to Dean J. F. Saylor.

PRESIDENT JONES

Buena Vista was fortunate in securing Dr. Evert Leon Jones as President. He has proved successful in more ways than one, being an expert in financial matters, an interesting speaker, and a perfect gentleman. The students have enjoyed this year that we have spent together, and are confident in the success of the college under his efficient leadership.

1926 RUDDER STAFF

We of the Rudder Staff wish to thank all the students who have helped us in any way. We appreciate the splendid support of the student body that has made this 1926 Rudder possible. Our task has not always been easy, nor pleasant, but we will be satisfied if this Rudder succeeds in its mission, of keeping in the memory these college days, and of carrying to those who have never attended Buena Vista, something of the true BeaVer spirit. What this staff can do has been done. The book must now stand upon its own merit. May it be a worthy successor to the long line of "Rudders" that stretches far back into the history of our college, and may it exemplify the forward strides that it is now taking.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. this year has gone a long way toward making the association what it should be among the men of the college. During the past year Arthur Hanson represented the Y. M. C. A. at the conference at Des Moines and Earl Elkins at Mt. Vernon. Each delegate brought back news inspiring to the club. Only recently has it measured up to its true sphere in college life. This interest, however, is still confined to a small group, but we feel that the enthusiasm will prove contagious and set others on fire for a Christian life.

THE TRIO

The women's trio—Miss Margaret Green, Miss Neva Hines and Miss Dorothy Green, as first soprano, second soprano and alto, respectively, has appeared in programs at the following towns: Early, Schaller, Wall Lake and Churdan. They have also appeared in several local programs. Miss Catherine Hartman has recently taken the place of Miss Neva Hines, as second soprano.

The Buena Vista College Girls' Glee Club consisting of thirteen voices, in the spring of 1924, presented the cantata, "Flags of the Floating Islands." They have also appeared in local programs in nearby towns.

Prof. Aylesworth Geisinger Pearce
Tellier

The Male Quartette of Buena Vista College, composed of Mr. Pearce, first tenor; Prof. Aylesworth, second tenor; Mr. Geisinger, baritone and Mr. Tellier, bass, have appeared on the following programs: The Pioneer Pow-wow at Spencer, Ia.; sacred concerts at Sulphur Springs, Rockwell City, Aurelia and Lytton; lyceum courses at Churdan and Early.

THE COLLEGE BAND

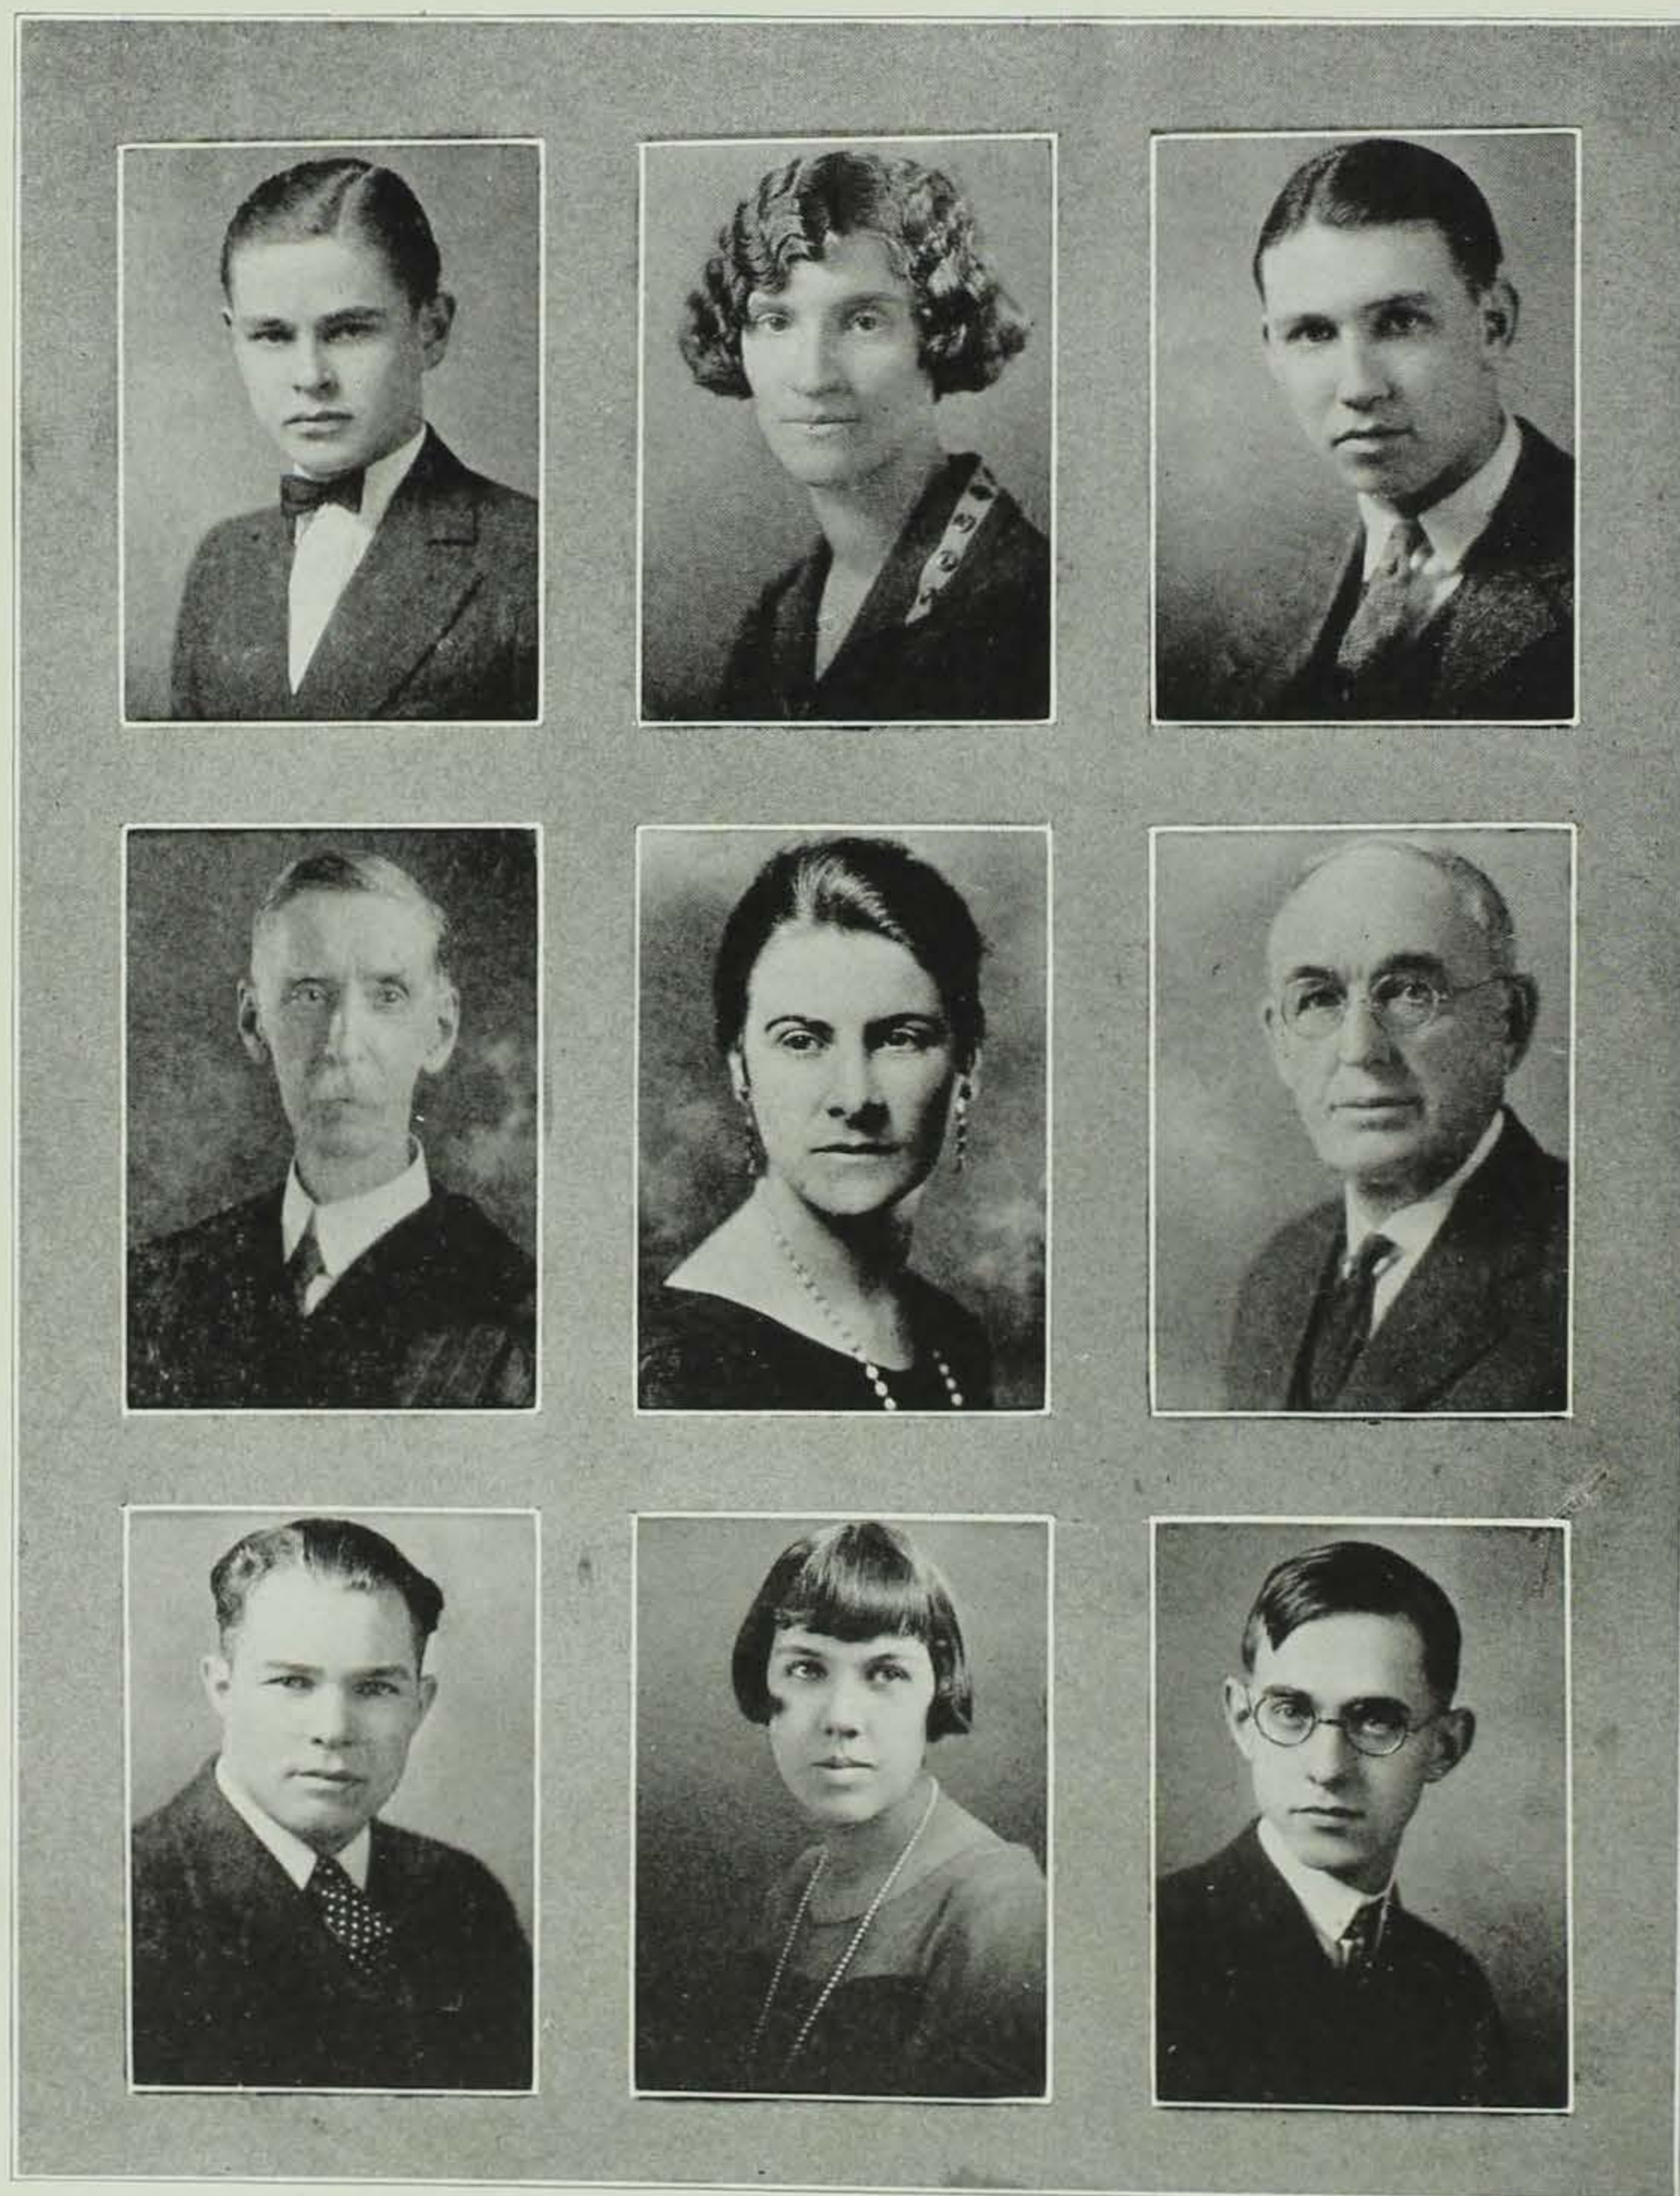

The college band, consisting of sixteen pieces, has furnished music for special occasions in the city of Storm Lake; and at Wall Lake a concert was given during Educational Week. Much credit is due the band for the inspiration and "pep" which it gave the men on the gridiron and the B. B. boys in their successes of the past season.

The Iowa Kappa Chapter of the Pi Kappa Delta was granted to Buena Vista College by the National Convention in March, 1924. On April twelfth the chapter was installed by Professor Marsh, the National President, with a membership of twenty qualified and five honorary members, the largest chapter ever installed.

The Pi Kappa Delta is a national Forensic Fraternity. Its purpose is to stimulate progress in, and to promote the interests of intercollegiate oratory, debate and public speaking. Any student who has represented the college in intercollegiate debate, oratory or extemporaneous speaking, or an instructor in Public Speaking is eligible for active membership.

The Pi Kappa Delta has done much for Buena Vista College in the past year. Its direct influence has been exhibited by stimulating and encouraging a greater degree of interest in forensic activities than has been heretofore shown.

WOMEN'S DEBATE TEAMS

The Buena Vista Women's Debating team debated the regular Pi Kappa Delta question this year, which was, "Resolved that Congress shall by a two-thirds vote be empowered to over-ride decisions of the Supreme Court on constitutionality of acts of Congress."

Muriel Minglin, Florence McFadden and Vera Fritcher were chosen to uphold the affirmative, and Mabel Florey, Margaret Green and Dorothy Green with Mildred Perkins as alternate upheld the negative. Alice Brown substituted for Mrs. Fritcher before the debate with Western Union at LeMars, Iowa, which took place March 4.

On March 25, Misses Florey and D. Green debated Huron, S. D., in an extemporaneous debate, no decision given.

With the exception of one all of the girls will be here next year and it is hoped that they will get an early start and bring home some new victories.

Slutsky Edwards Hurley Carter Hanson
 Redenbaugh Karges Mill

MEN'S DEBATE TEAMS

On January 9, the debate tryouts were held with the following men chosen to debate: Hurley, Carter and Redenbaugh, negative, with Edwards alternate; Karges, Slutsky and Mill with Art Hanson as alternate, held the affirmative. On Feb. 26 a dual debate was held with Western Union with the affirmative team losing to Le Mars there, and the negative winning at Storm Lake.

On March 11 Carter and Hurley made up a two-man team and debated a traveling team from Gettsburgh, Pa. The local men put up a splendid argument. But a wonderful rebuttal speech by one of their opponents lost a one to nothing decision for them.

On April 4, Carter and Hurley will journey to Huron, S. D., for a no-decision debate.

Buena Vista has had a splendid year considering the fact that only two of the men had had any previous experience. However, Karges and Hanson are the only ones who will not be back next year so the future looks bright.

ORATORY

Buena Vista College was exceptionally fortunate in the selection of a Women's Orator to represent Buena Vista in the Women's State Oratorical Contest. Miss Dorothy Green, who represented us, won first place, a very noteworthy achievement, and so brought great honor to our college.

Prof. C. H. Woolbert of the University of Illinois, who acted in the capacity of critic judge, praised Miss Green very highly, saying that this oration, "The Great Crucifixion," was the best college oration that he had ever heard delivered by a woman.

Mr. Thomas Rushton, a sophomore, represented Buena Vista College in the Men's contest that was held at Simpson College. While he was not so successful in securing a high place, yet he was able to go through the preliminary elimination contest, and competed in the finals.

EXTEMPORE

Buena Vista College was also represented in the State Extemporaneous Contests. Miss Mable Florey represented us in the Women's State Contest, and succeeded in winning third place. Through a misunderstanding, Miss Florey was deprived of a part of the time for preparation, and so did remarkably well, considering the time allowed her.

Mr. Morris Sultsky was the extemporaneous speaker who carried the Beaver colors into the men's State Contest. Although he did not place, still we know he was doing his best for us under the circumstances. He was working at somewhat of a disadvantage, having drawn the hardest topic on the list, and the only one on which there was no definite material.

Taken altogether, we feel that this year has been a banner year for B. V. C. in the field of Oratory.

Recognizing the high place the drama has held among the cultured and refined things of civilized nations and believing that there is a growing recognition of the value of dramatic production in spite of the moving picture, radio and other modern substitutes for the theatre, the founders of this order have bound together into one group such men and women in Buena Vista College as have demonstrated their theatrical ability in the production of dramatic work. It is the purpose of this order, the B. V. Players, as embodied in the preamble of their constitution, to stimulate progress in and to encourage each dramatic activity as may serve to enrich the traditions, honor and fame of Buena Vista College.

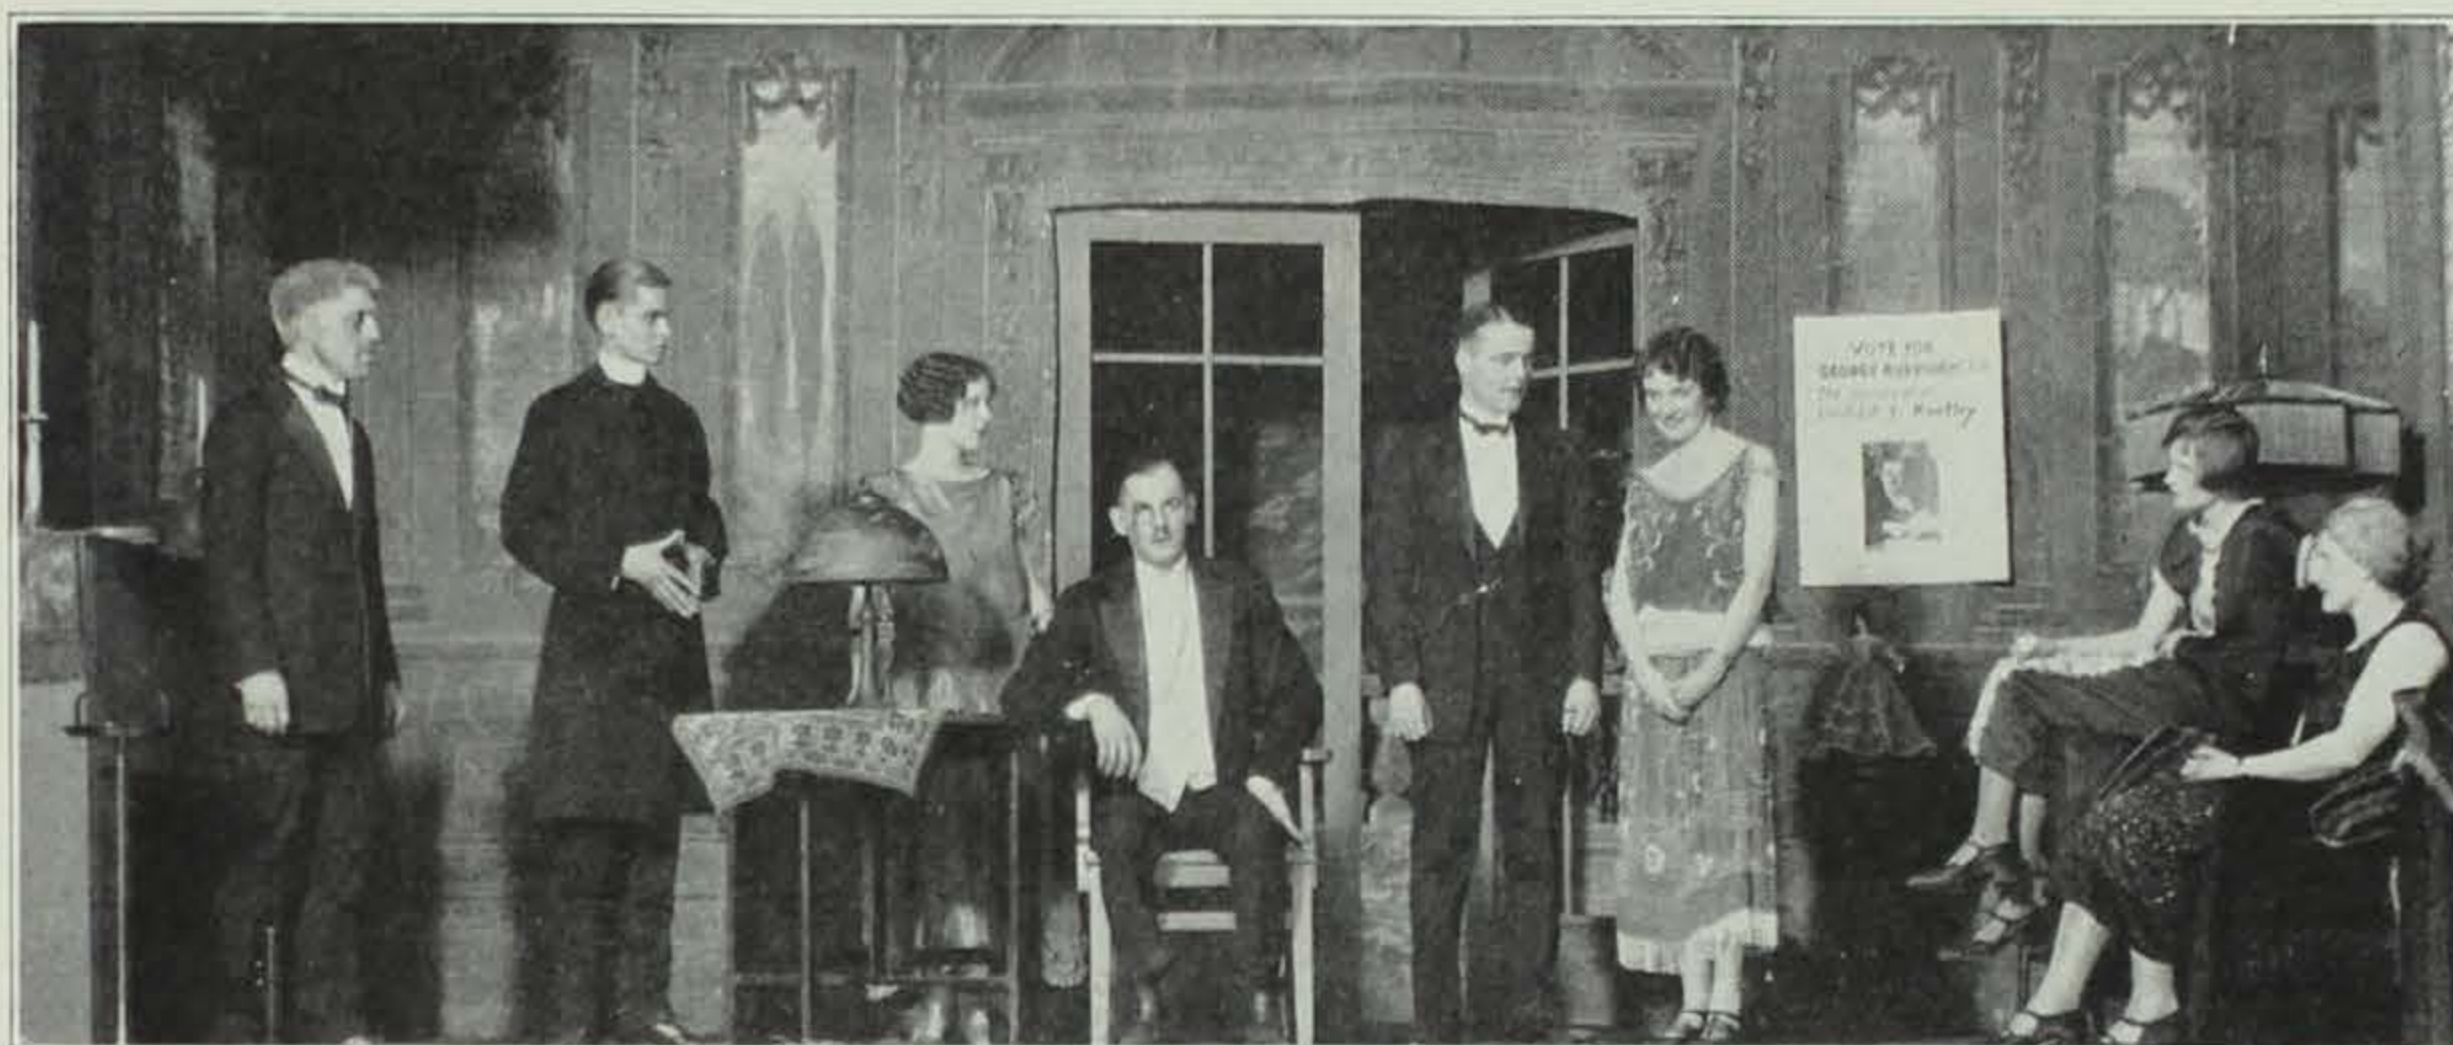

Toward this end, the B. V. Players of the year 1924-25 have been earnestly striving. Much interest was exhibited at the tryout held in the College Chapel October 30th, from which fifteen new members were accepted from a tryout of thirty students. The Reception Banquet for the new members was held at the Bradford Hotel on the evening of November twelfth.

The B. V. Players will present three plays during the college year. The first play, "The Champion," was presented at the Empire theatre with a greater degree of success than has accompanied any former play for a number of years. "You and I," by Philip Barry, and "Smilin' Through" by Allan L. Martin will be presented the latter part of the school year.

The club has met regularly most every week for an hour of dramatic study. Alternate meetings have been devoted to programs while the remaining meetings were devoted to caring for the business of the club.

"THE CHAMPION" PLEASES CROWD

Buena Vista College Dramatic Club Presents Mid-winter Attraction

Buena Vista college Thespians delighted a large audience at the Empire last Thursday night when the dramatic club of that institution presented "The Champion."

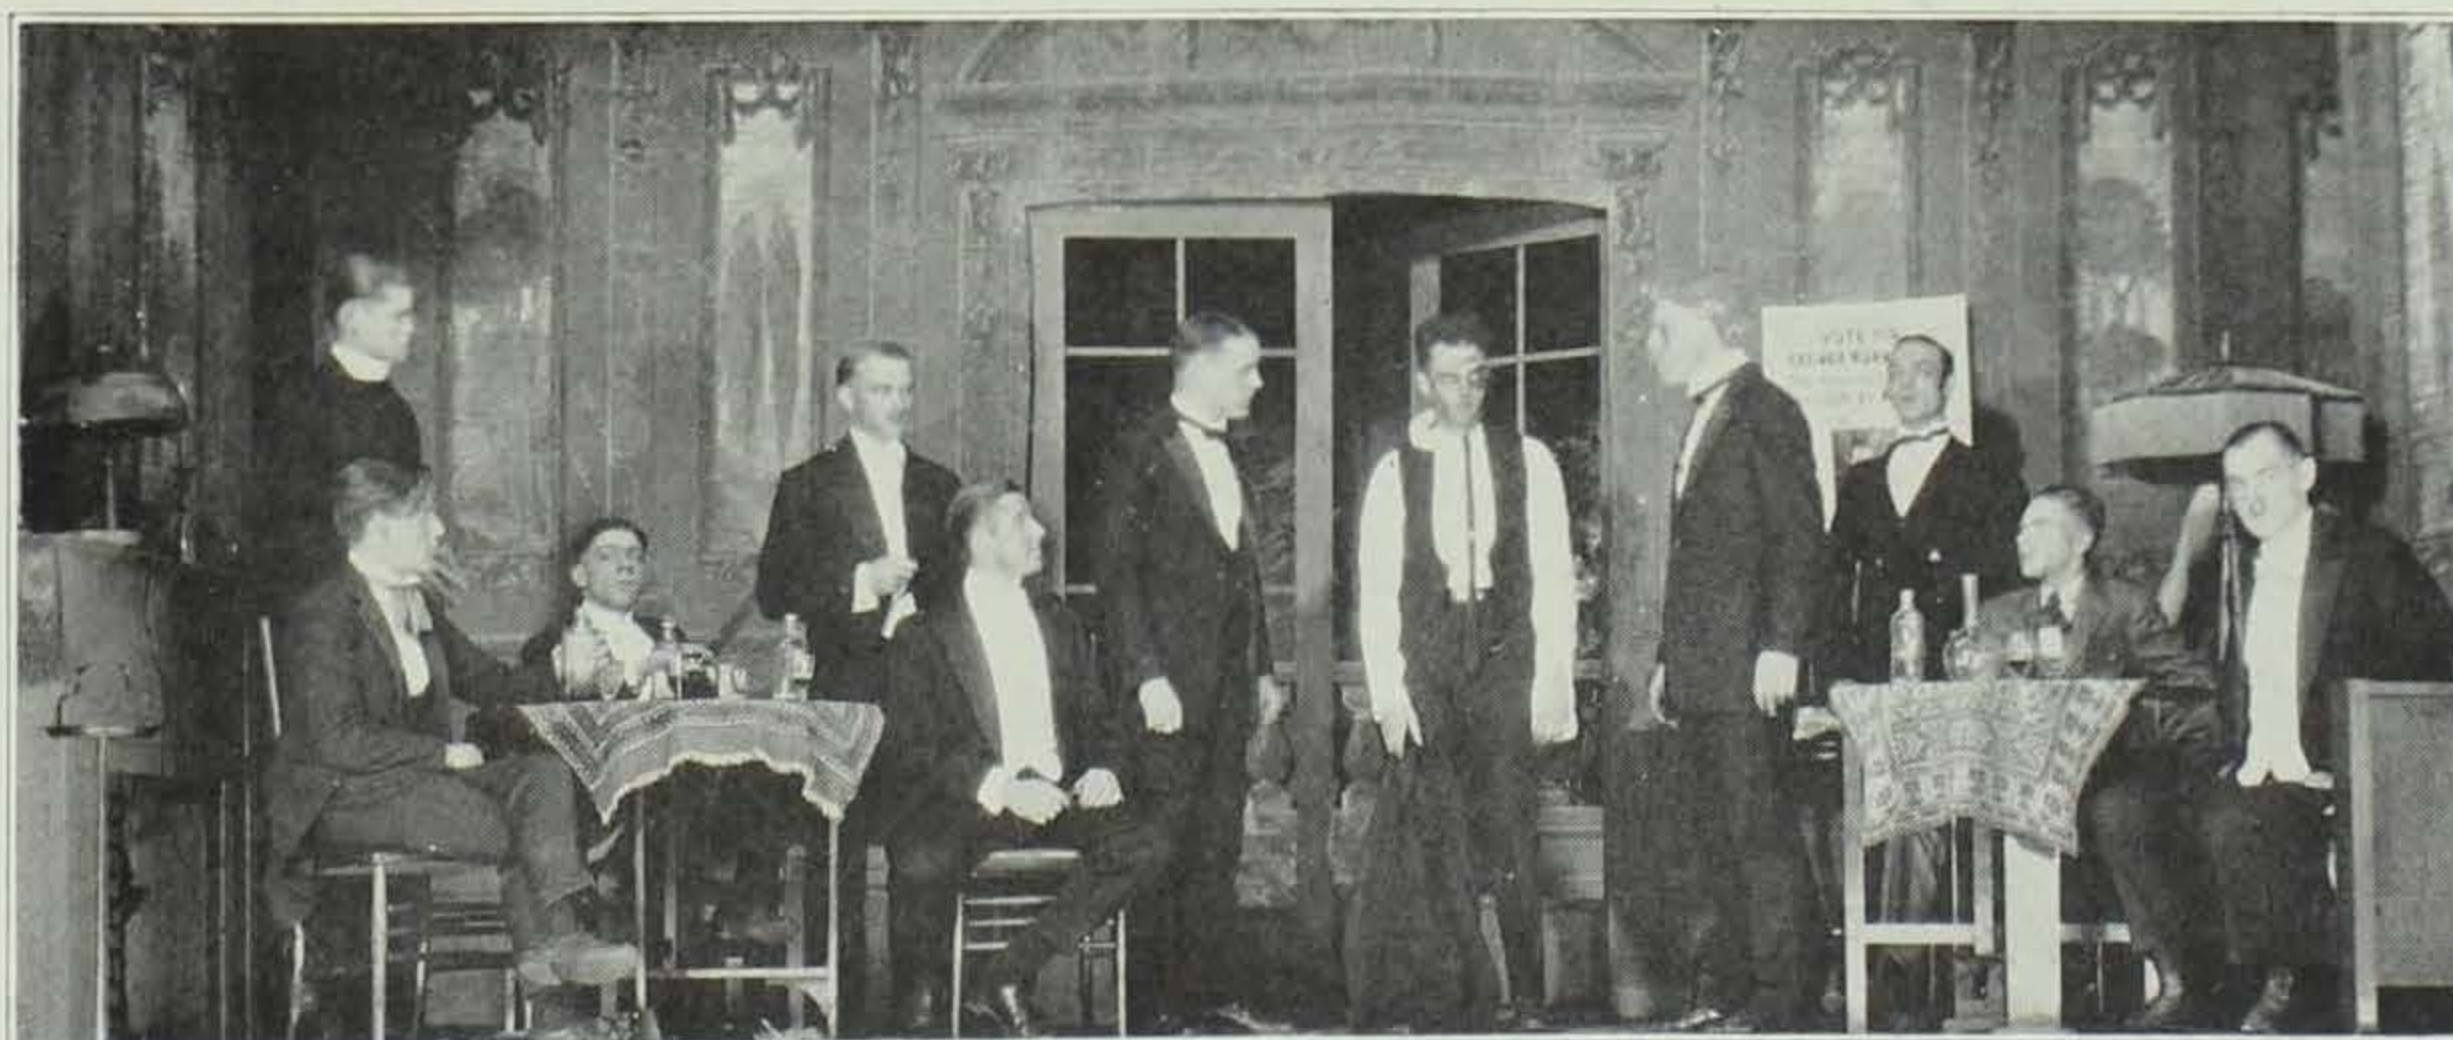

This is a three act comedy, featuring the return of a prodigal son to the home of his aristocratic parents in England. The prodigal proves to be "Gunboat Smith," an American prize fighter. The consternation that his return causes among the members of his family with one or two exceptions, proves to be delightfully hilarious to the audience.

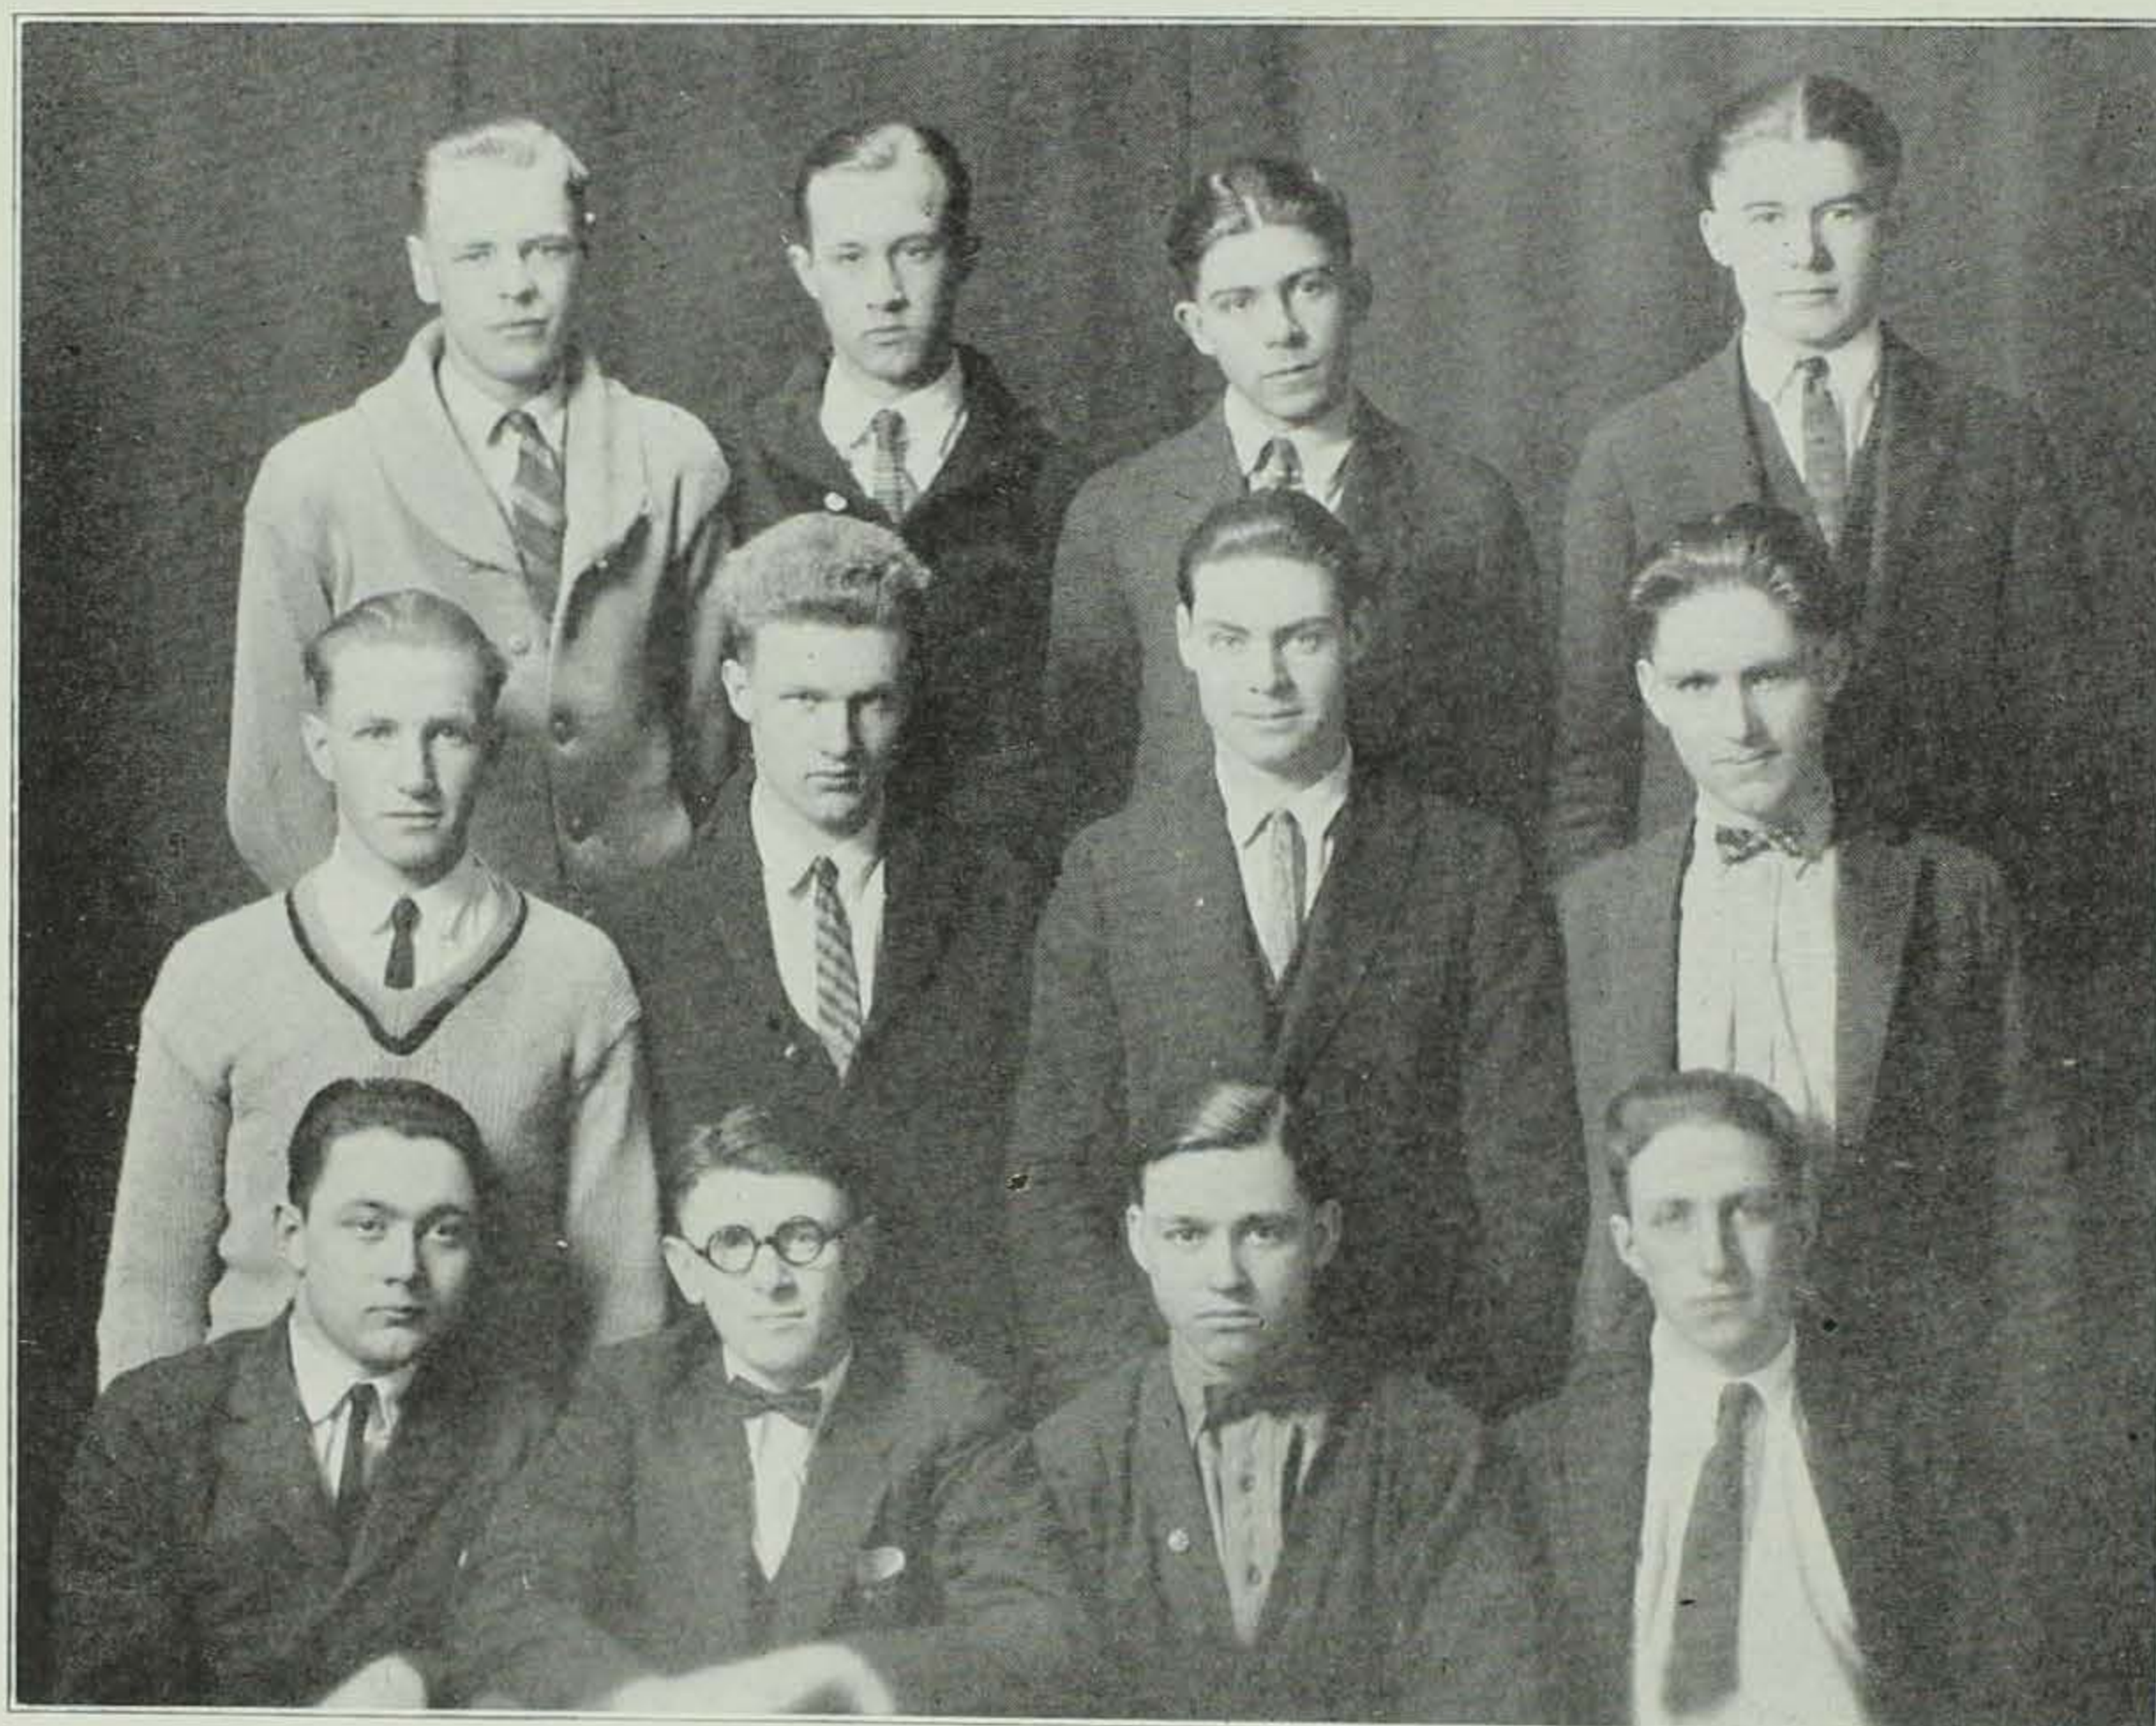

In the end the stern father capitulates to the refreshing American, the latter discomfits the villain who has been deceiving the fair Lady Betty and everything ends as it should.

Ed Karges as the Champion carried the bulk of the play and did it very well. His supporting cast was excellent throughout. Those who have attended the college plays in the past declare that never has one surpassed this year's production. Miss Burtis, who directed the play, is entitled to highest praise for her efficiency both in selection of cast and manner of presentation of the play. Those taking part were:

Mary Burroughs (younger sister)	Jane Jarnagin
John Burroughs (Father)	Walter Crissey
George Burroughs (Elder brother)	Edgar Pearce
David Burroughs (Younger brother)
	Don K. Carter
Lady Elizabeth Galton	Prudence Morgan

ATHLETICS

COACH J. D. KELLEY
South Dakota State University

Much credit is due Coach J. D. Kelly for the superior brand of athletics exhibited at Buena Vista College this year.

The past football season saw the BeaVers the winners of the Iowa Conference Championship.

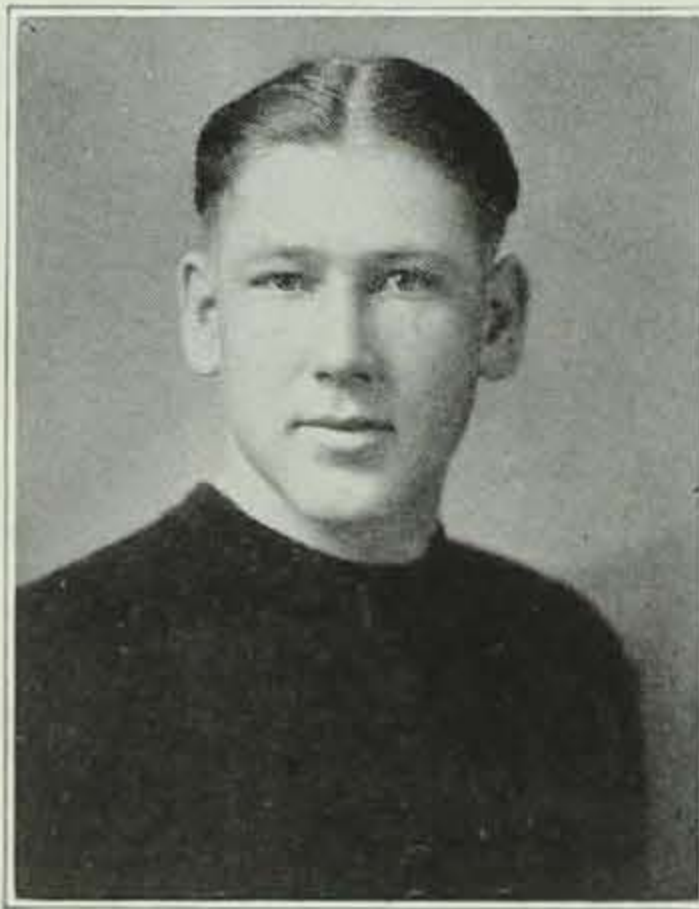

The basketball season was one of the most successful recorded in the annals of Buena Vista basketball history.

For two years the BeaVer relay team has been a record breaker.

As to Mr. Kelly's coaching ability these facts speak for themselves.

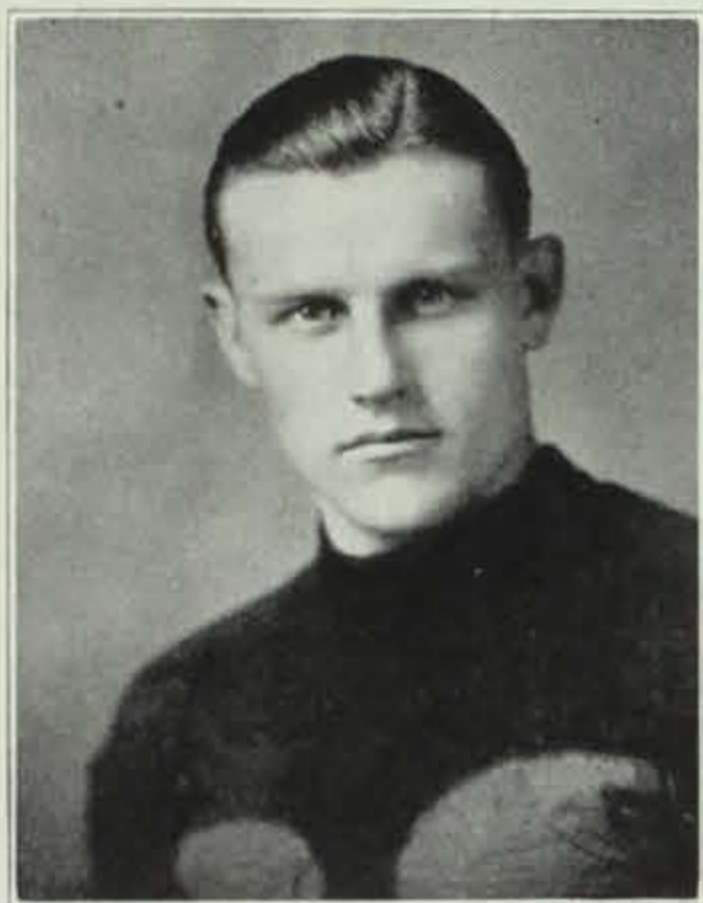

Buena Vista has a very limited number of students and consequently, a limited number of athletes, but numbers make no difference to Coach Kelly. It is quality that he looks for, it is quality that he has developed. And even though he has only fourteen men out for football, only seven men out for basketball, and only four men out for his relay team, he injects into them that spirit and enthusiasm that fills his being—and he makes clean winning teams.

FOOTBALL

SAGGAU

Captain Edward Saggau of Denison, was the able leader of the Varsity, and the pick for quarterback on most of the All Conference teams. He was elected to the captaincy at the close of the season last year, and proved conclusively through his brilliant playing and natural leadership, that he was the man for the job. At quarter, Saggau found no man—during the whole schedule—that outplayed him. His passing was accurate and his kicking above the average, while his coolness and judgment at critical moments always kept the team fighting. His work was always of a consistent nature, and perhaps in the Trinity game, the rooters saw "Eddie" at his best.

ROLLINS

"Whitey" Rollins, without doubt one of the best halfbacks in the state and a great open field runner, hails from Denison, Iowa. At half, he played a superior game, both on the defense and offense, although handicapped by a bad ankle part of the season. Long runs, of from 40 to 70 yards, are Rollins' specialty; and he had a pleasing way of making them at just the right moment in the game. He played a great game at Des Moines, until forced out by injuries; but not until he had shown enough stuff to be given Honorable Mention on the All State team, and a place on the second All Conference team.

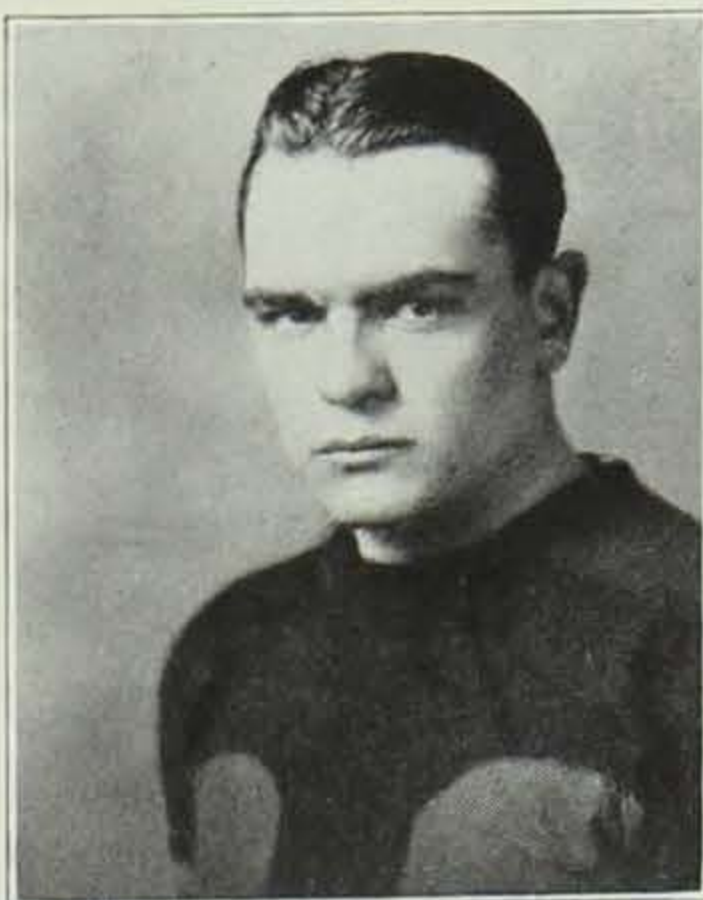

HAGEDORN

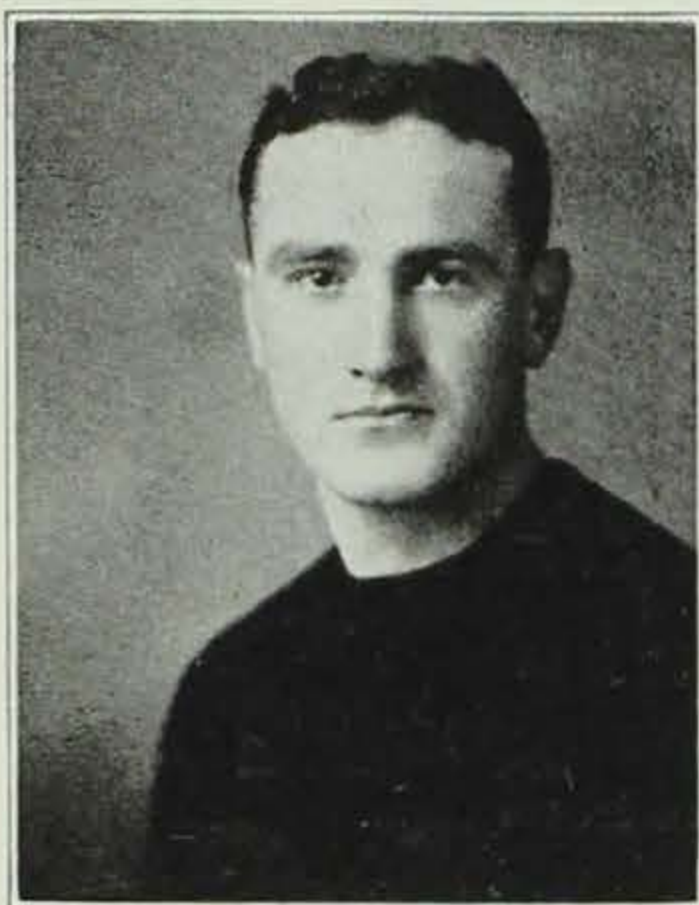

Edward Hagedorn of Denison will captain the team next year. He was picked on the Des Moines Register's Mythical All State Eleven, and on the All Conference team. At center, Hagedorn found no man that could handle him. His passing was accurate and his tackling deadly, and he always kept the center of the line steady. "Heck" played consistent football all season, and was outstanding in every game. He was particularly adept at breaking up forward passes.

GAFFIN

Forrest Gaffin is a veteran athlete, having won his letter for four years. Gaffin is a football player of unusual qualities. Besides being a great kicker, "Gaff" maintained a practically invincible and indestructible defense; and through his sureness in breaking up plays, he consistently hammered down the morale of the opposition. "Gaff" was a great line plunger, and his 49-yard dropkick against Morningside, and his 53-yard kick in the Columbus game were the high lights of the season. He was placed on the second All State team, and first All Conference team. Gaffin is a senior and his loss will be seriously felt. Doubtless, no man on the campus is better known and better liked than "Gaff."

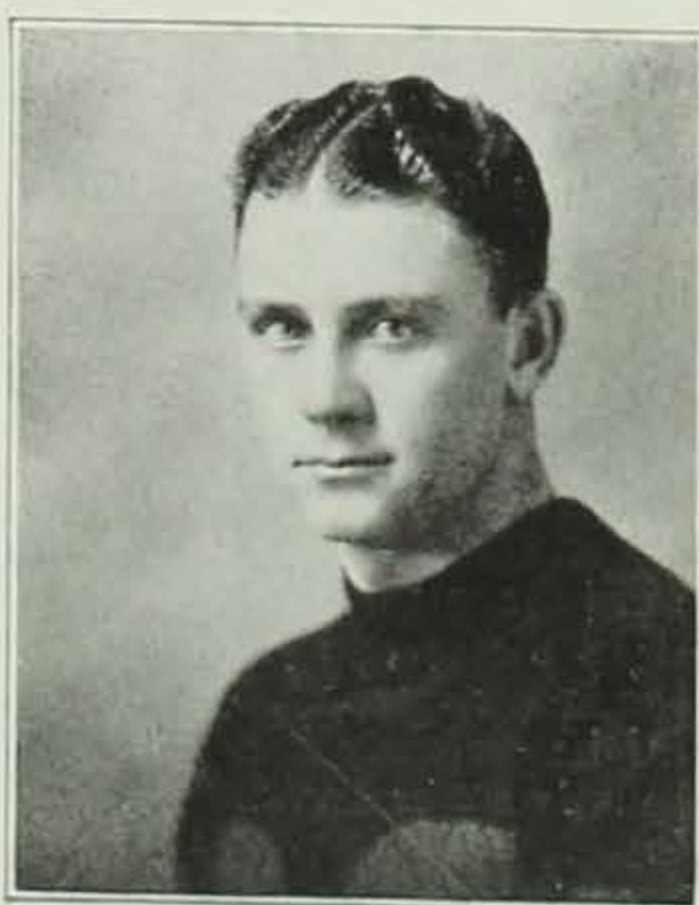

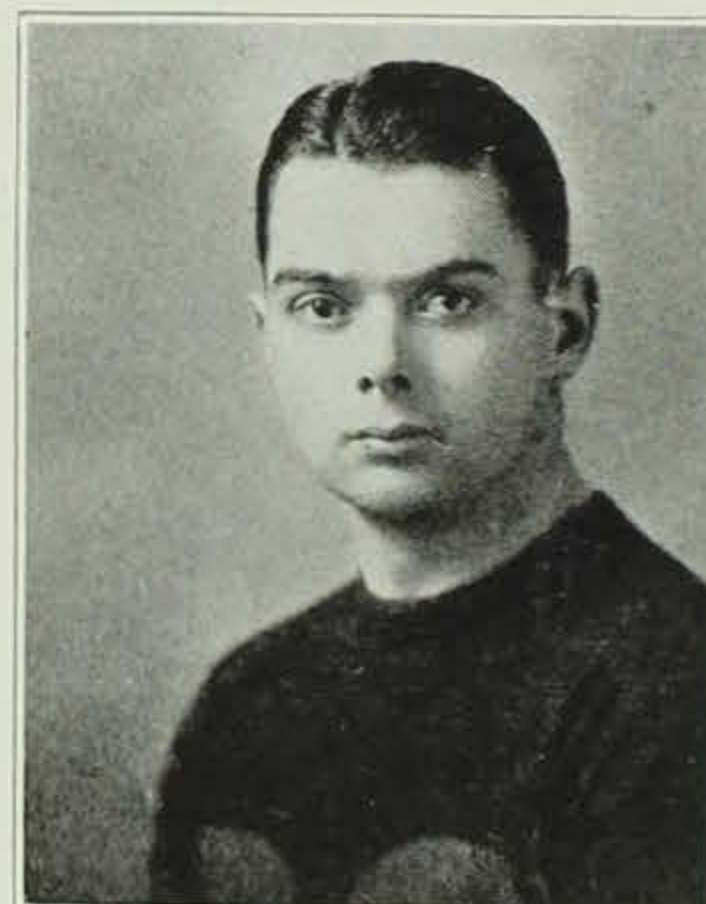

BRADFORD

"Bim's" performance throughout the season and particularly his work in the Des Moines and Morningside games won him much praise as one of the smartest ends in the state. "Bim" was in every play and looked best when the going was the hardest. He has one more year and with his increased speed and ability to grab passes should make a great end for the Beavers next year.

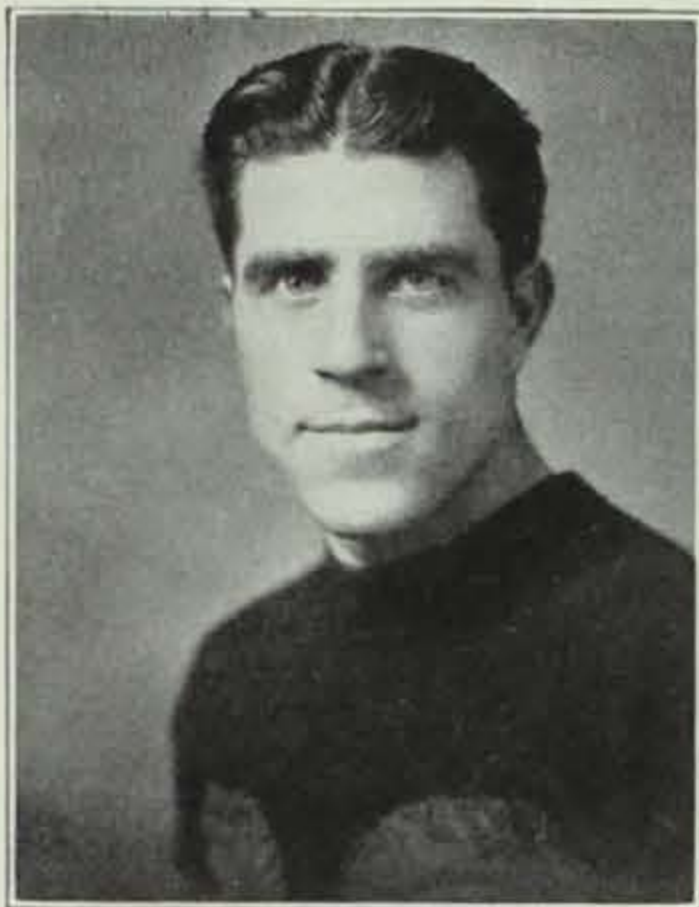

HENSLEY

Hensley of Iowa Falls, besides being the heaviest man on the team, was one of the fastest. His defensive ability, his prowess on offense, and his speed in going under punts made him a dangerous man at all times. Playing in every game of the season, he was at his best in the Des Moines and Morningside games; and practically no gains were registered through him by the heavy, plunging backs. He was placed on the Des Moines Capital All Conference team.

COULSON

Glenn Coulson of Storm Lake developed into one of the best ends that Buena Vista has ever had. He is well built, powerful, and fast; and repeatedly he showed his ability on the defense, his fight on offense, and a deadly tackle on plays around end and down under punts. Coulson is playing his second year, and from the first game until the close of the season, he played remarkable football. His natural ability, combined with headiness and fight, made him a great end. He was at his best in the Trinity game.

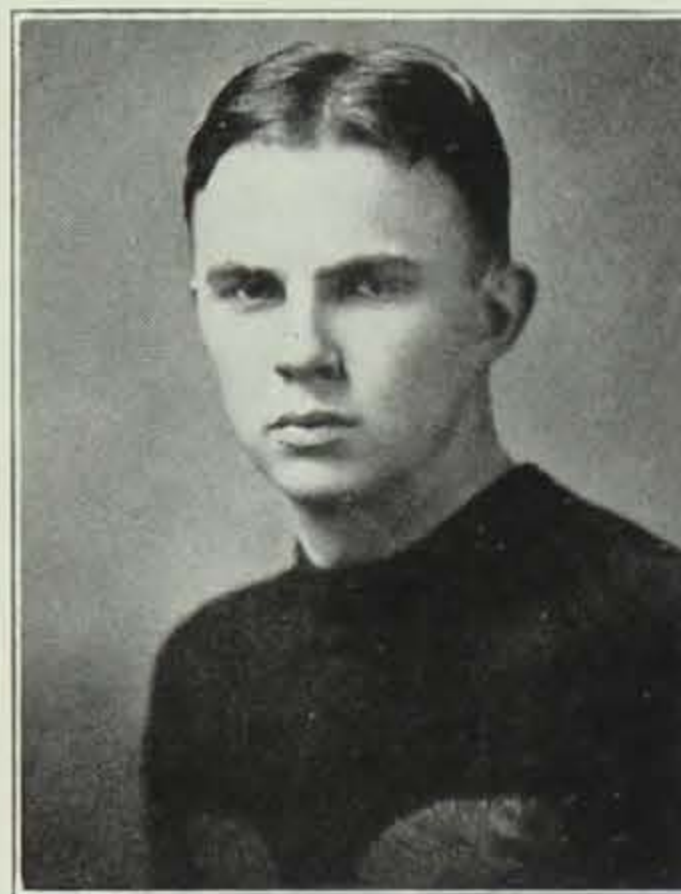

CRISSEY

Walter Crissey plays either guard or tackle, and what he lacks in weight he makes up in fight, always doing his best for the team. Playing in every game of the season, he was at his best in the South Dakota State and Still games. "Abe" is a good man to lead the back on end runs, and his ability on defense earned him a tackle berth on the Des Moines Capital All Conference team.

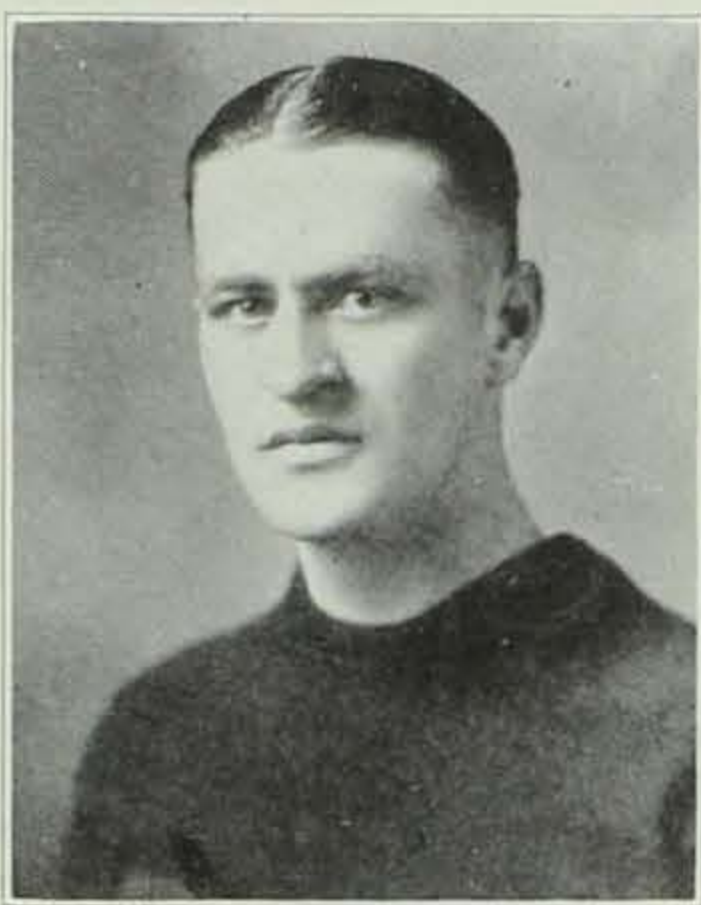

COWAN

Andy Cowan played a consistent and hard game of football. His first college game was against South Dakota State and he came through in fine style and was one of the main cogs in giving the Beavers a winning team the rest of the season. Andy has shown the student body what a man can do with hard work and the determination to win.

KARGES

Karges, a sure tackle and hard runner, would be a valuable asset to any team. Although Karges has been out the last two years, his work did not show up to the best until this year. In the Morningside game he distinguished himself as a real end.

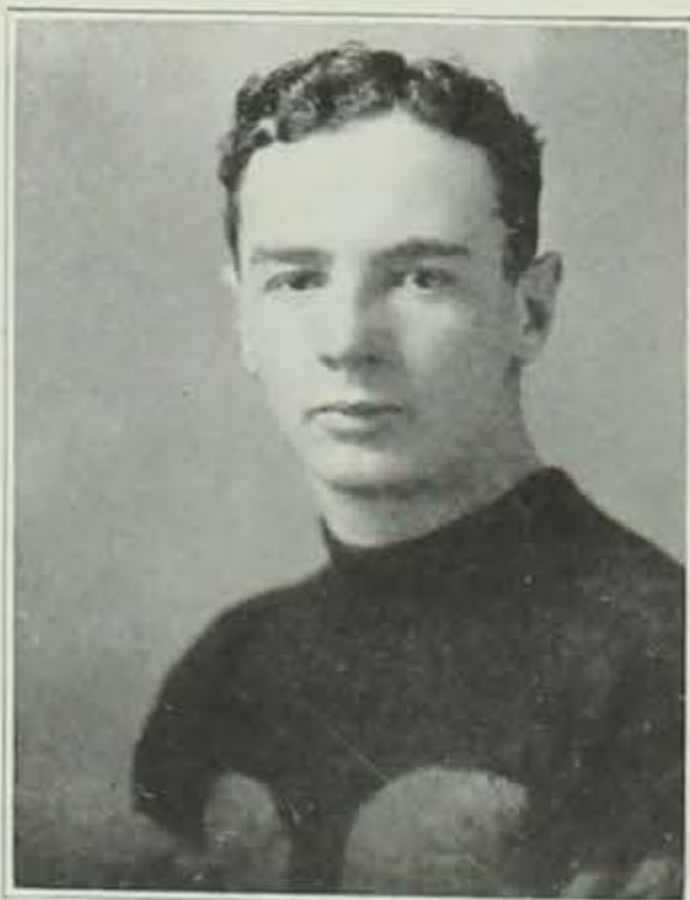

SMAAGE

"Ed" Smaage is a new man at Buena Vista. He plays either center or guard and what he lacks in weight he makes up in fight, always doing his best for the team. He was at his best in the Maryville game and did much toward stopping their hard running backs. He has one more year of football ahead of him.

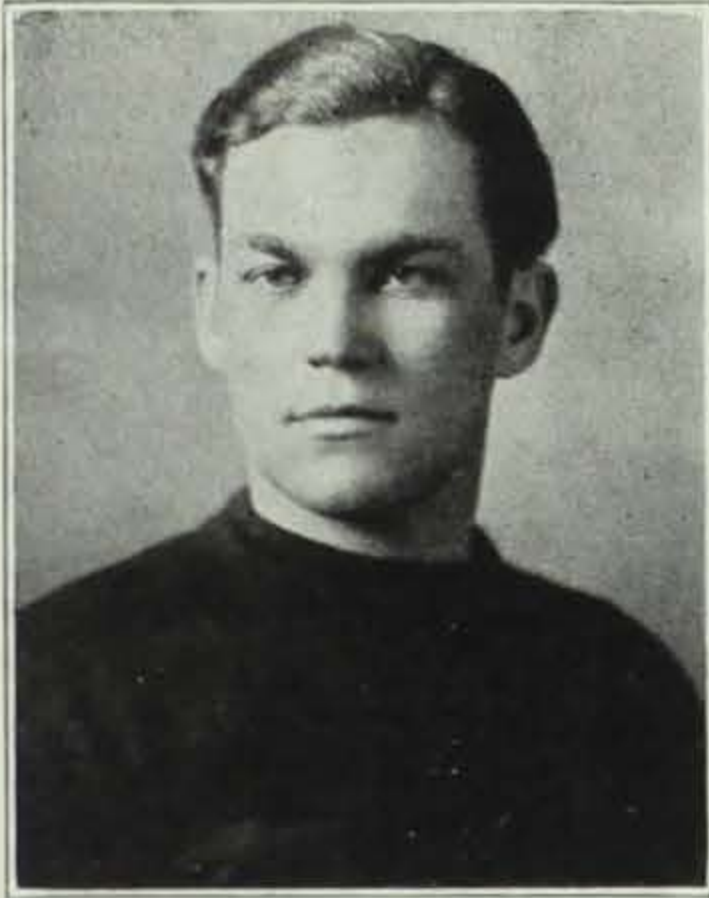

HEMENWAY

Harper Hemenway, although hindered to a certain extent throughout the season by minor injuries, played a consistent and hard game of football. Nearly 185 pounds in weight, he was fast and fairly shifty, and displayed a cool judgment in every game in which he performed. With a little more college experience, Hemenway should develop into a halfback of unusual ability and value to the team. "Harp" hails from Spirit Lake, the heart of the Lake Region.

CHRISTIE

"Duke" Christie at half, though reporting late, was able to come up to the standard demanded of the back field. His experience on other teams added greatly to his ability in picking holes. His speed, and ability to change speed at the right time, made him a dangerous open field runner. Injury received early in the season kept him out of part of the games. "Duke," who is from Escanaba, Mich., taught Morningside something about grabbing passes.

DELONG

Ben DeLong of Spirit Lake won his first letter this year, and is conceded by many Beaver backers to have the making of one of the best line men to don the moleskin for Buena Vista. DeLong did not report for practice until after the South Dakota State game, but the first night's scrimmage marked him as a winner. Although but 170 pounds in weight, he is the tiger type of linesman, and his efficient work on defense and terrific onslaught on offense made him a man of inestimable value to the team. He was picked as a tackle on the second All Conference team.

CARROLL

"Plute" came to us from Storm Lake High School, where he made an enviable reputation as a fullback. He had the hard luck of getting his hand and arm in the way of a charge of shot while cleaning his shotgun during Christmas vacation. But the arm and hand are coming fine and with three years ahead of him, "Plute" should develop into one of the strongest back-field men in the state.

DR. FARNSWORTH

Much is due to Dr. Farnsworth for the efficient care of our boys, both on their trips and in the games.

THE BEAVERS

Football Champions of the Iowa Conference

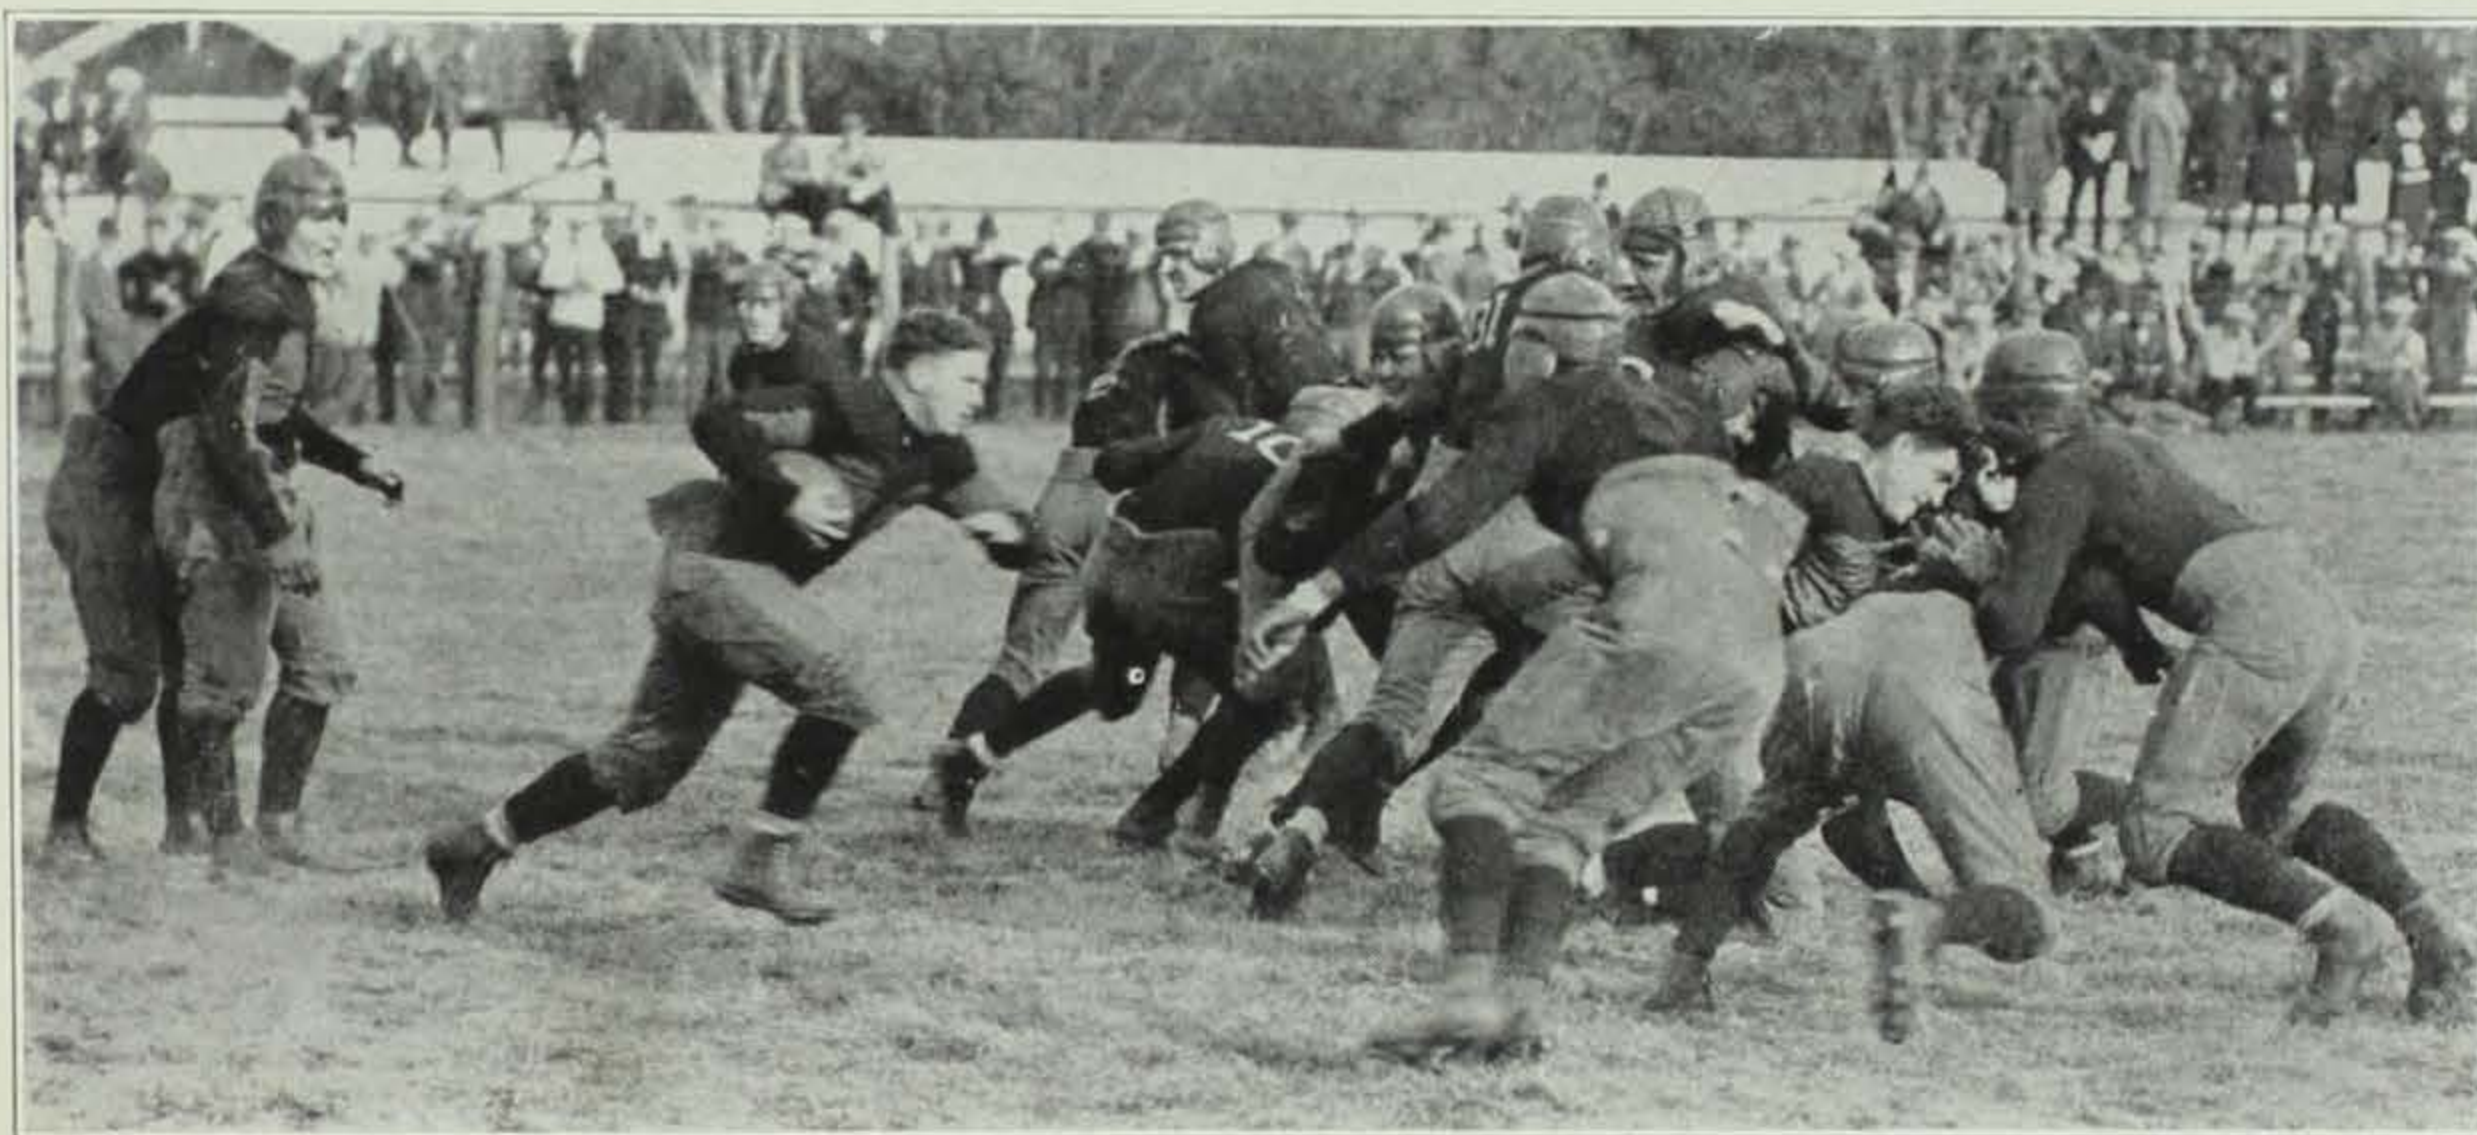

Under the tutelage of Coach Kelly, Buena Vista College was successful in placing a team on the gridiron which won the highest honors in the Iowa Conference, and earned a reputation outside the state for clean hard playing. In fact it was the best all-round football team that ever represented this college on the gridiron. Passing, kicking, and punting ability made the team one to be feared by schools many times the size of ours.

The loss of the initial game to South Dakota State (champions of the North Central Conference) was excusable. The Beavers entered the game with several green men in the lineup while South Dakota had a veteran team, many of them playing their fourth year. It was something of a testing time for the team when the men had an opportunity to try out their powers against the great strength of the South Dakota team, and gave a good indication of the strength of the Beaver aggregation. Even at that the going was pretty hard for the Dakota boys, as Buena Vista grabbed a three point lead and held it until the middle of the last quarter.

Two weeks later the Beavers met Still and while they were able to gain much ground, were unable to put over a touchdown and the game ended 0 to 0. The game was tense and exciting, and a real exhibition of football.

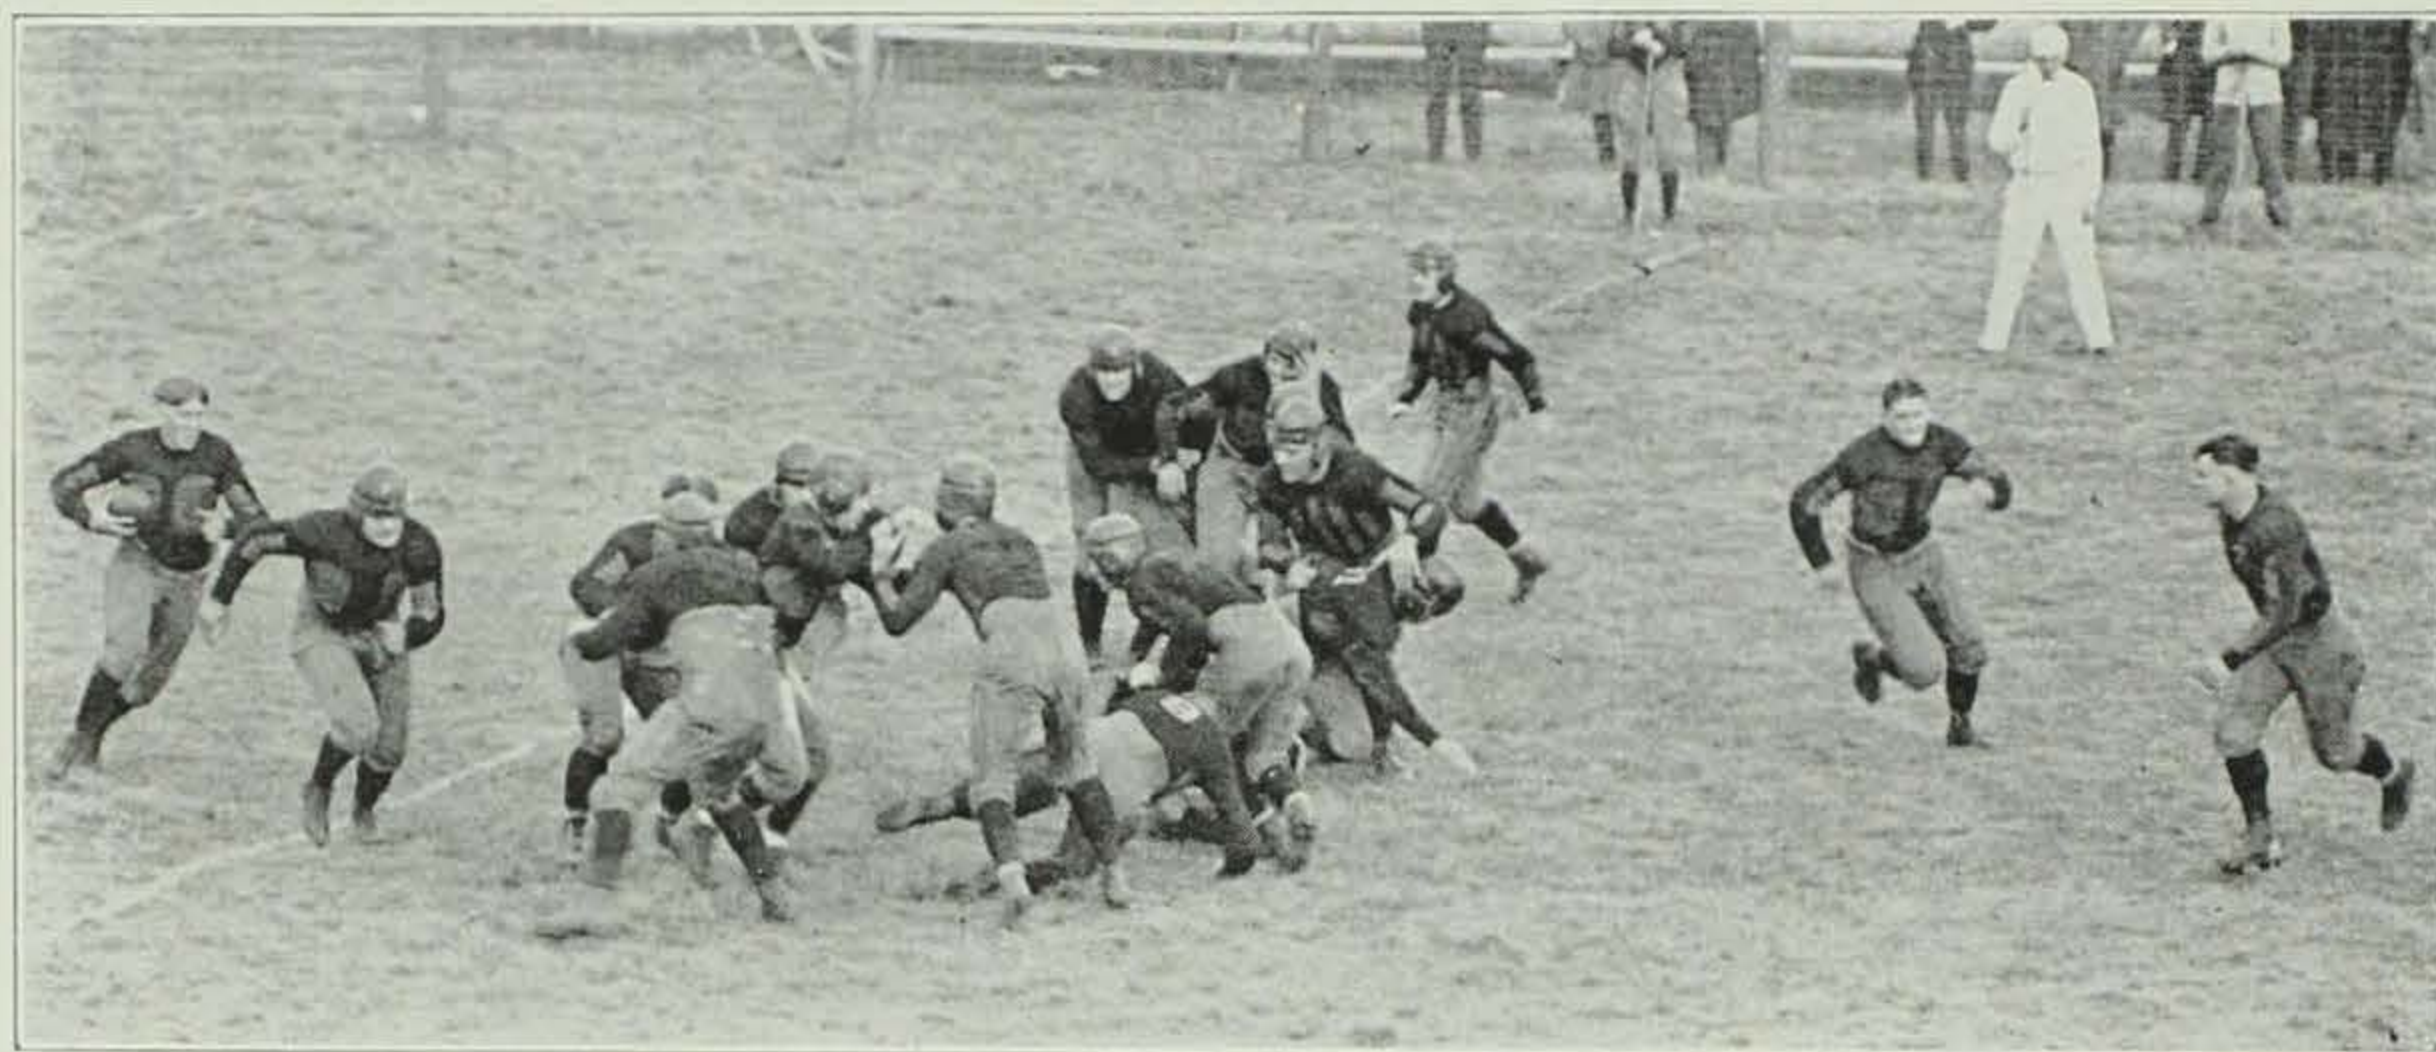

The next Saturday saw the supporters of the Beavers out determined to win their first Conference game and the result was a 40 to 3 victory over Western Union of LeMars. This was a great game and gave the Beavers a lot of confidence.

Following the victory of Western Union, the Beavers went to Des Moines the succeeding week where they surprised the football world by winning over the powerful Des Moines University team by a score of 29 to 7. In this game the Beavers were at their best and were a great football team, but suffered heavy losses as Rollins was put out for the rest of the season and Saggau, Gaffin and Hemenway received injuries that slowed them up for the balance of the season.

The Morningside game was the one great battle of the season. Fighting to win the championship of Northwest Iowa, the Beavers entered the game with a crippled team and several stars on the side lines. Saggau, Christie and Coulson taught Morningside something about passing when they completed nine out of eleven attempts, and with Bradford and Karges taking advantage of the Morningside misplay the game ended 22 to 6 in favor of Buena Vista.

Trinity was next on the schedule and they came to Storm Lake for the Beaver "Home Coming." The game was never in doubt as the Beavers piled up 16 points in the first half and were able to hold the Trinity offense in the middle of the field. Saggau, Gaffin, Hagedorn and Coulson will long be remembered by the Trinity gridders.

The longest trip of the season was made to Maryville, Mo., following the hard game with Trinity, and the all-day drive through the mud, the team was not at its best. The line played poorly the first half, but strengthened and outplayed their opponents the last thirty minutes of the game. Neither team could make much headway on the wet field, and the game ended 0 to 0.

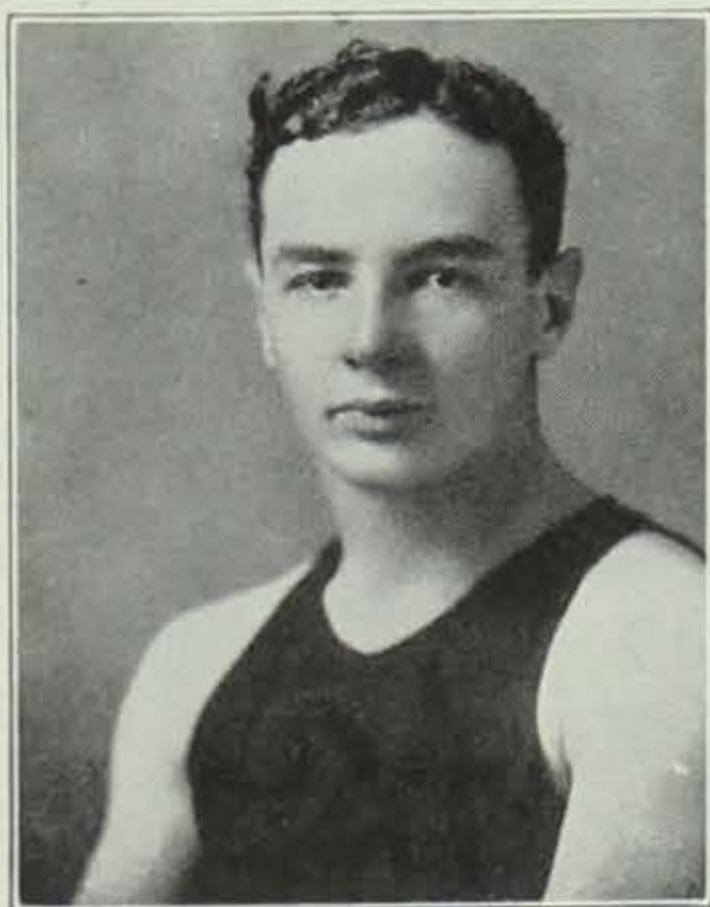

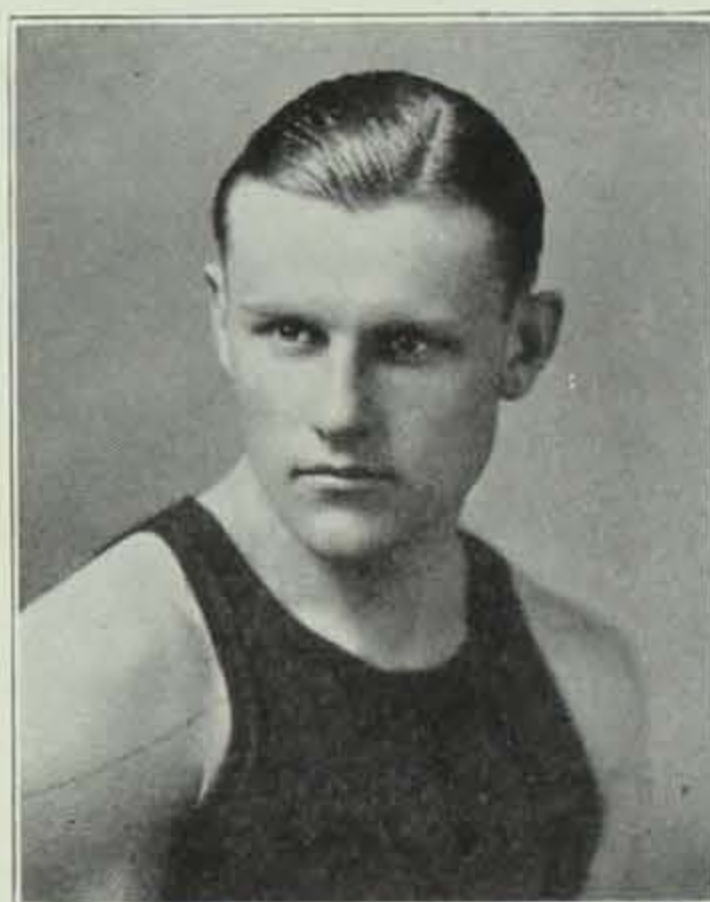

The end of the season came Thanksgiving Day with the clash with Columbus College, who came to Storm Lake with the South Dakota Conference championship. The Beavers showed the results of their week's rest and played great football. Gaffin getting a 53-yard drop kick, the longest kick in the world last year. The entire team played great football and with Bradford, Saggau and Rollins all scoring touchdowns, the game ended 23 to 0 with the South Dakota champions on the short end.

The double combination of hard work and the right spirit was responsible for the great showing of the 1924 season. With most of the men back next year, plans are being laid for a great season.

BASKETBALL

LESLIE ROLLINS, Captain

"Whitey" completed his third year at Buena Vista with the same dash and cleverness that has been characteristic of him during three years on the squad. His floor work is remarkable and his ability to locate the hoop from any angle, together with his stubbornness in defense, have gained for him the reputation of being one of the most brilliant forwards ever seen in Buena Vista. This and the confidence that was mutual between him and his teammates account for his success as a captain.

CHRISTIE, Captain-elect

"Duke" earned his right to the captaincy of the 1925 team by his hard work this year. He has a world of endurance. He is a hard fighter on the floor and has a deadly aim when within shooting distance of the basket. He is a cool, heady player, familiar with all the fine points of the game. "Duke" has two years left.

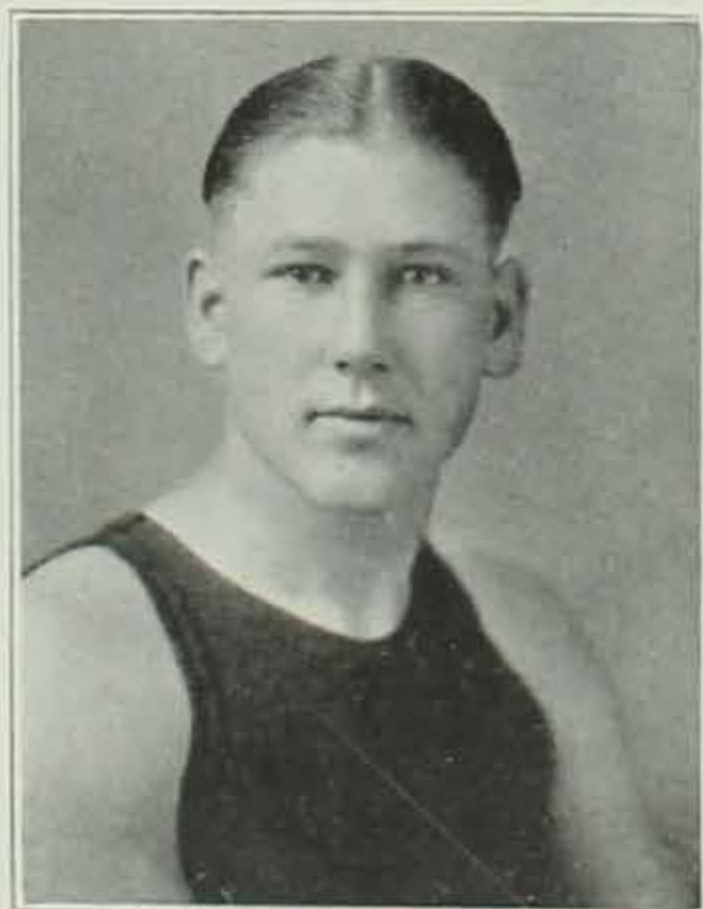

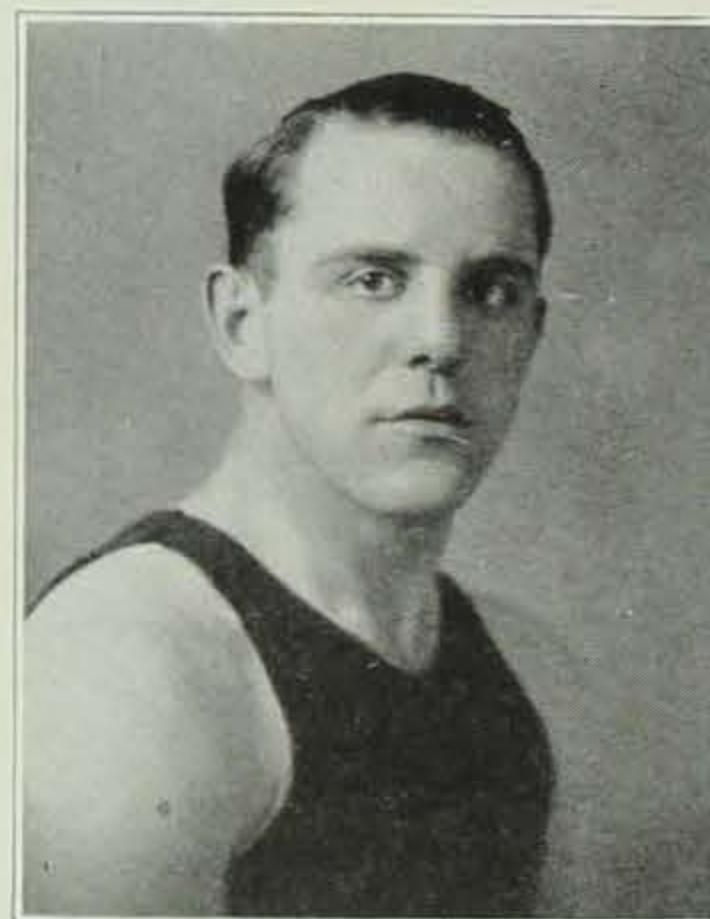

GAFFIN

Forrest Gaffin, at standing guard, played a brilliant game all season and was mainly responsible for the low scores of the teams encountered. "Gaf" is big and heavy, and unusually speedy for his size, characteristics which enable him to break up open floor work and stop on coming dribblers with apparent ease. His fight and experience always helped bolster the team's morale in close games. With "Gaf's" graduation the Beaver quintet will lose a valuable man.

EDWARD HAGEDORN

"Heck" is playing his third year for the Beavers. And his value is shown by the fact that he is high point man on the team. He has speed and endurance and can always be relied upon for counters from far out. "Heck" has one more year in basketball which should hold much for him.

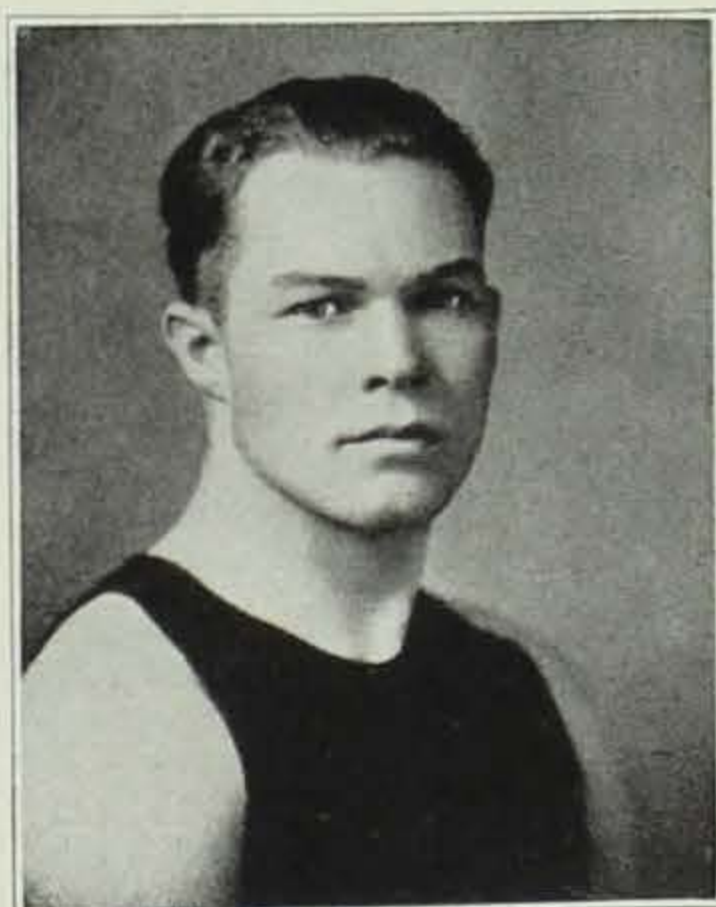

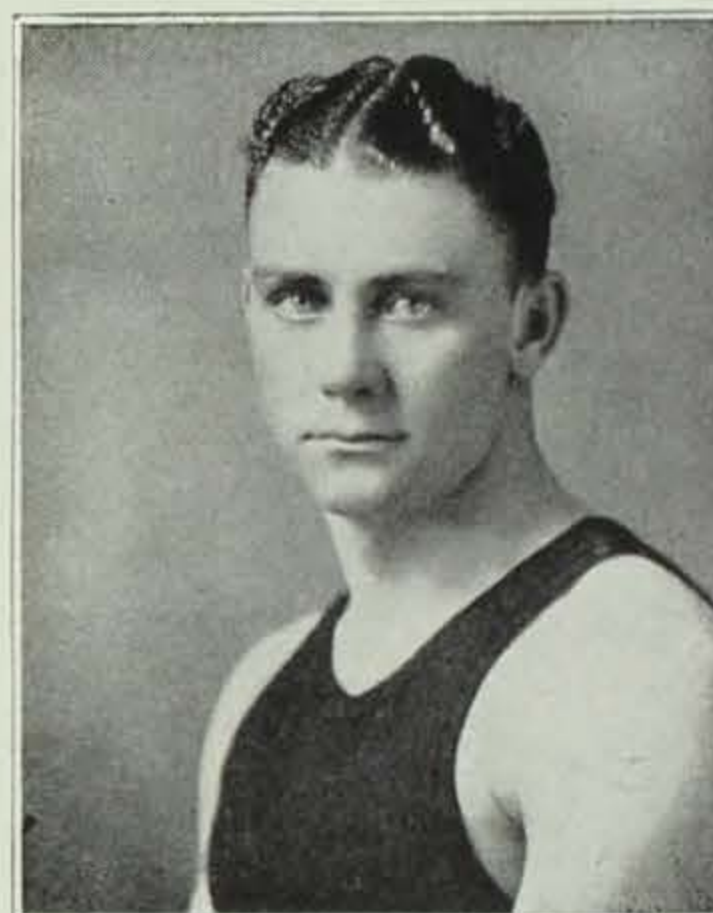

EDWARD SAGGAU

Saggau, at following the ball and working it down the floor, showed wonderful ability during the past season. His clever footwork and his speed and fight made him a constant menace to his opponents. "Eddie" has one more season with us.

GLEN COULSON

"Colie" is playing his second year for the college. Coulson was one of the best men on the squad. In several games he brought the stands to their feet by sensational shots from the center of the court. Glen has two more years and will be a big help to next year's team.

TOM RUSHTON, Guard

In Rushton, the Beavers had a man whose floor work was second to none on the squad. He is adept in the art of breaking up his opponents' dribblers. Rushton was one of the principal cogs in the Beaver defense. Time and again, when the defense seemed to be failing, "Tommie" would recover the ball and rally his team to renewed effort.

HARPER HEMENWAY

Although this was "Harp's" first year of college basketball, he played like a veteran in the first two games but was out for the rest of the season with an injured knee. "Harp" has three years and much is expected of him.

When Coach Kelly summoned his basketeers the first week in January, six veterans of the year before, Captain Rollins, Gaffin, Hagedorn Saggau, Coulson and Rushton were on hand. These men along with Christie, Hemenway and Fergerson were to form the nucleus of the 1924 squad.

One week after the start of practice, the Des Moines University team was met in a two-game series, the first game was lost by a three point margin when Des Moines made a number of free throws in the last few minutes of the game. Des Moines University was represented by one of the strongest teams in the Conference this year. Since both teams were expecting to make a strong bid for the championship of the Conference, there was a lot of excitement among both the men and the crowd.

In the second game the Beavers came from behind and won.

After a week of careful grooming the Trinity team was taken into camp by a 34 to 24 score. The next game on the Beaver schedule was with Upper Iowa University and the fans were treated to one of the best games of year, with the Beavers coming out on the long end of a 23 to 24 count.

Three days later Western Union came to Storm Lake to give the locals a beating. However, after forty minutes' work against the Beavers, their faith was crushed, for they fell victim to the Buena Vista battlers at the rate of 41 to 13. Before the game, they seemed to have every expectation of winning, but as the game progressed, they gradually realized what they were up against and changed their minds, until at the end of the game they had lost all their expectations.

By this time the Beavers had rounded into mid-season form and Ellsworth college was turned back with two defeats by the same score of 29 to 22, but the two games were much different, for in the first game the Beavers had an easy time winning and the following night they were forced to extend themselves to the limit to win. It was a very thrilling game, and a lot of uncanny basket shooting was uncorked for the benefit of the assembled fans.

The following Friday the team met the Columbus college five on the home floor. Columbus had held the College championship of South Dakota for the past two years, and until this game had not been defeated this season. From the starting whistle to the final gun, both teams fought like demons but by superior floor work, passing and fight, the Beavers came out on the long end of the score.

The final games of the season were played away from home, the Western Union five being defeated at LeMars by a 34 to 26 score and the Beavers losing an overtime game to Columbus at Sioux Falls by a 23 to 22 count.

In spite of the two defeats the 1924 season was much of a success, as but one game was lost in the Iowa Conference and one game to the South Dakota champs, and the Beavers have winning games to their credit over both teams.

The team will be losing only one man this year, so next year they should have a very successful season.

TRACK

The 1924 track season was the most successful the Beaver team has ever known. At the start of the season Rollins and Ellerbrock were the only letter men to report. They, together with Barrett, Bouch and Groth formed the nucleus for the half and mile relay teams.

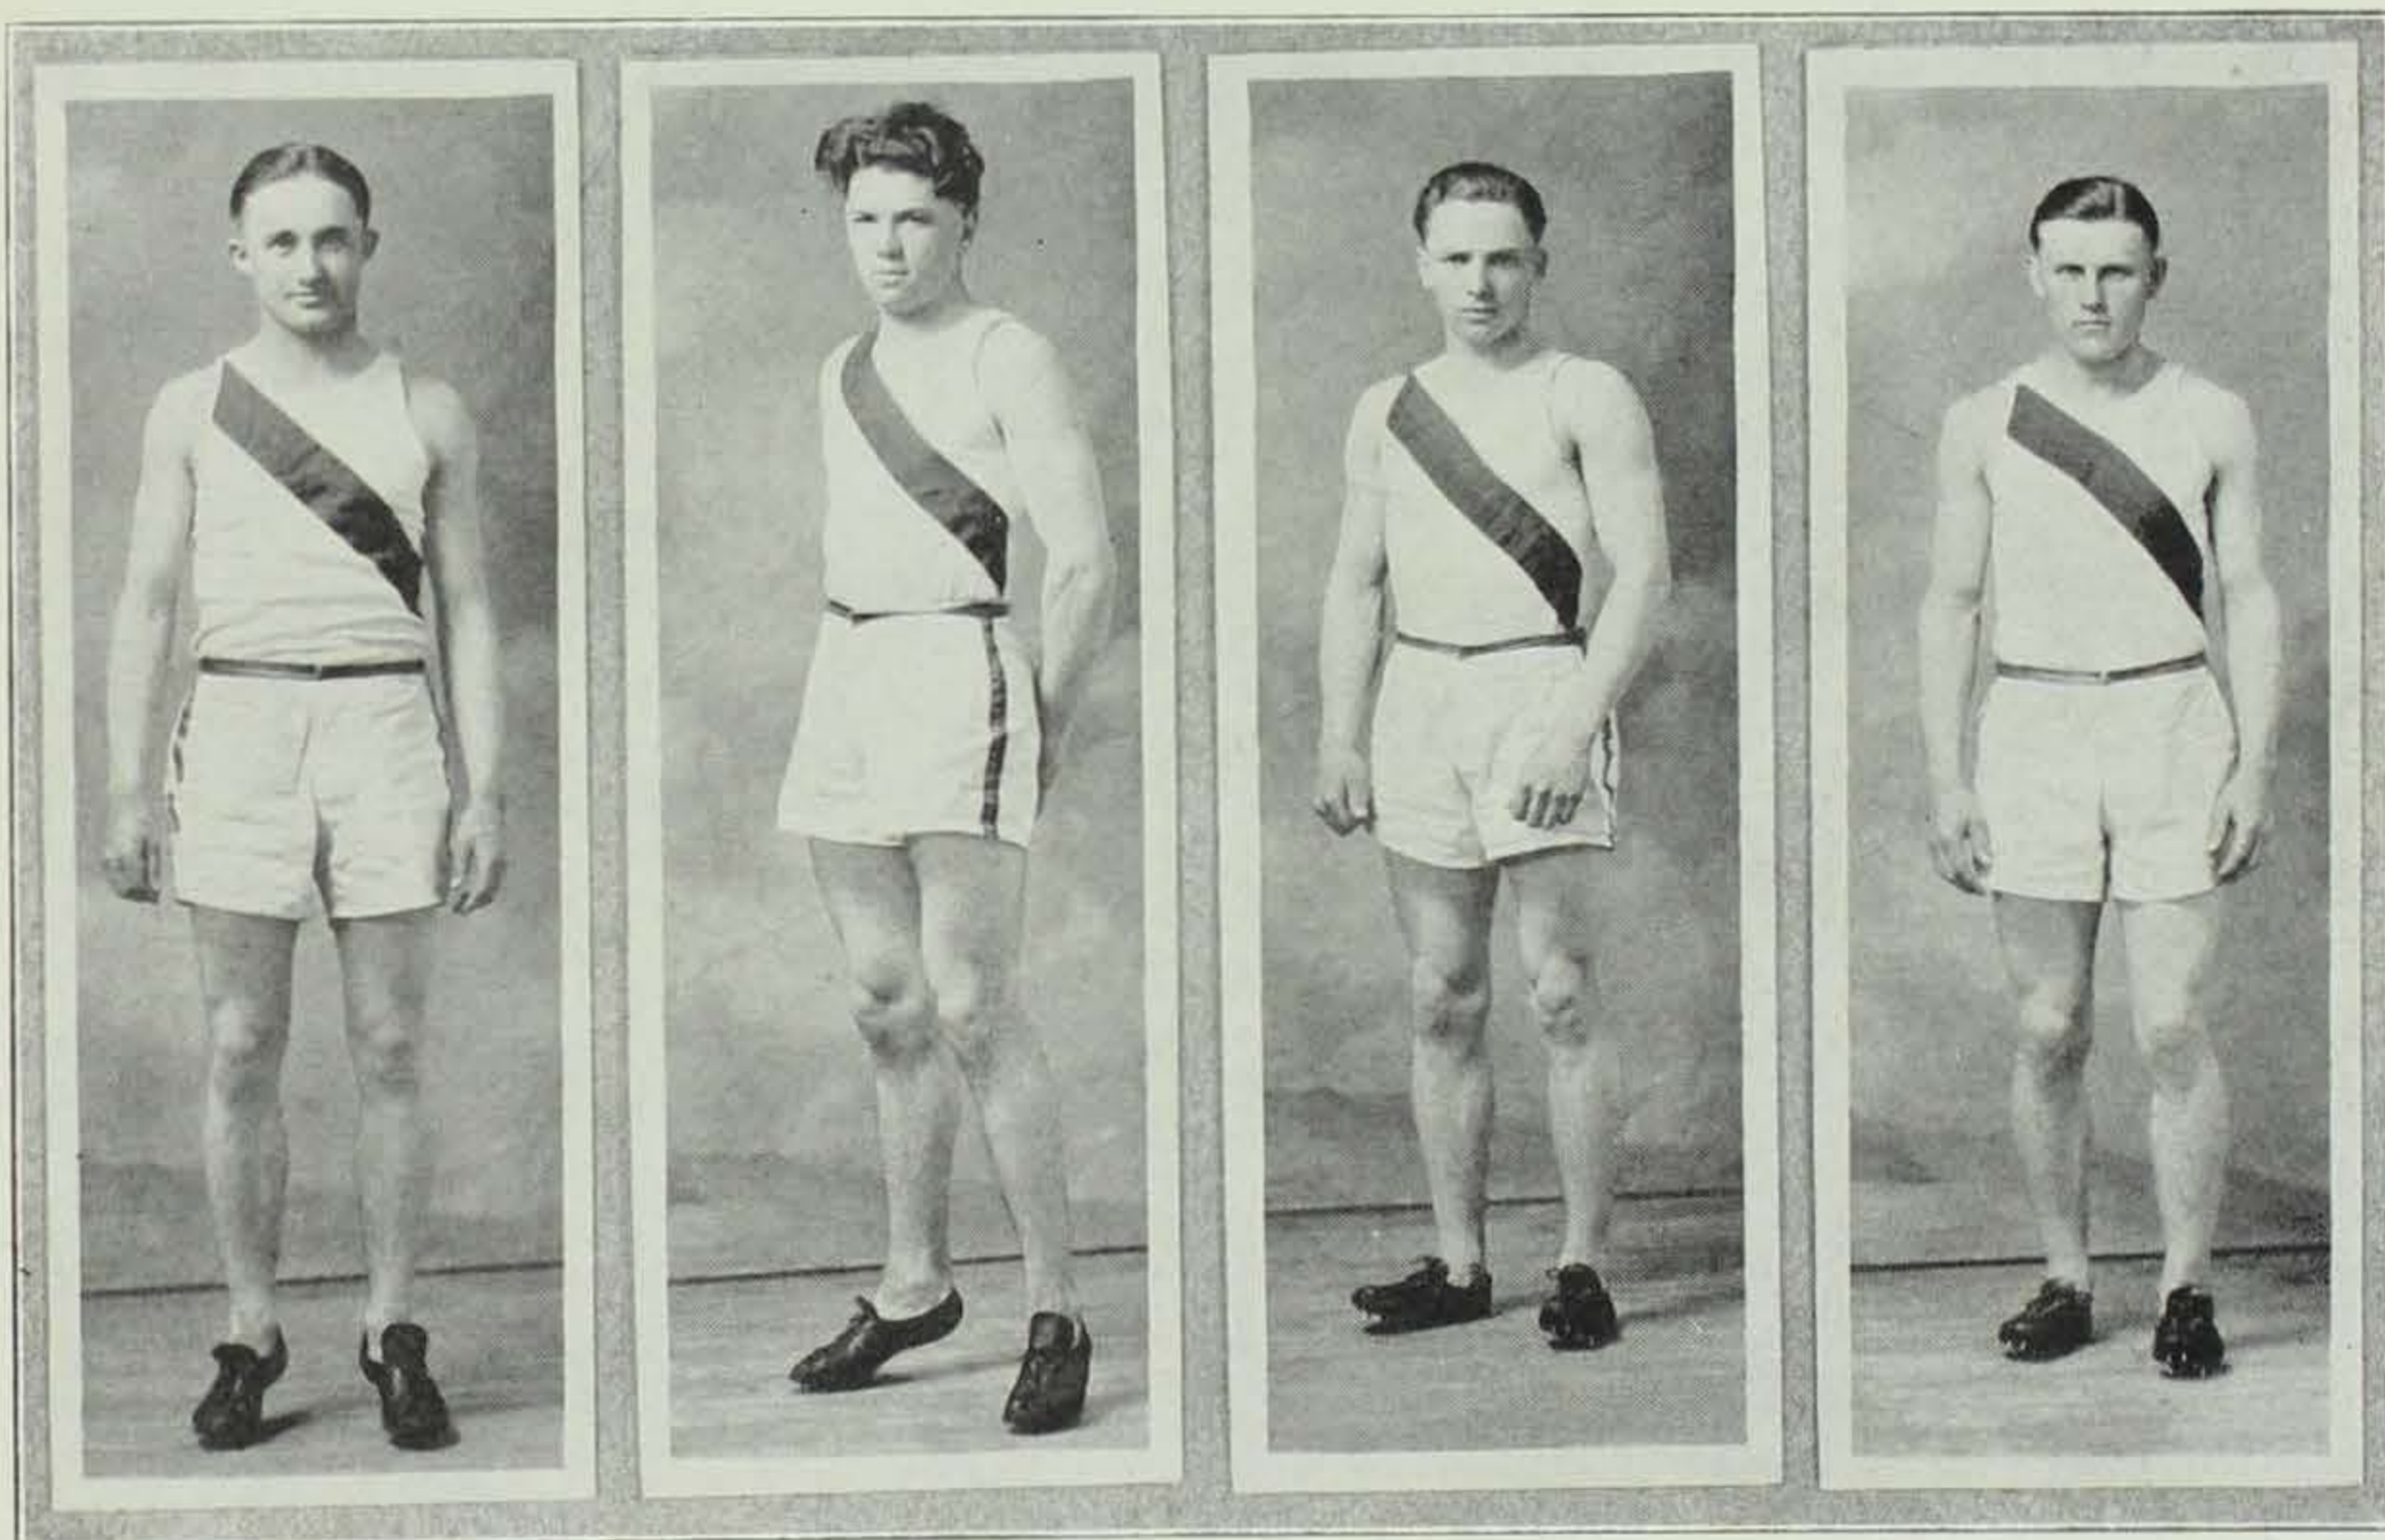

The Beavers journeyed to the Drake Relays to open the season and set a new record in the half-mile relay, 1.333, winning over Des Moines, Parsons, State Teachers, Simpson and Morningside.

One week later at the Dakota Relays, Sioux Falls, S. D., the Beavers again turned in record-breaking performances, when they won the half and mile relays, turning a new record for both.

The following week, June 6, at the Iowa Conference meet in Des Moines, Barrett placed second in the 100-yard dash, Bouch won the low hurdles, Ellerbrock placed third in the quarter and the half-mile relay team again finished out in front.

The last meet of the season, the Interstate Meet, was at Dubuque, Ia., where, against the best competition in the middle west, Barrett took third in the 100-yard dash. Bouch won low hurdles and placed third in the highs. Ellerbrock won the 440-yard dash and set a new record of 51 1-5, and the half-mile relay team turned in the best performance of the year and set a record of 1:32 2-5. The Beavers placed third in the meet, three points behind the leaders.

At the close of the season Richard Ellerbrock of Sibley, Ia., was elected captain of the 1925 team.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

The athletics for women in Buena Vista College is under the auspices of the Women's League. The Women's League having a representative of every class and three officers and two faculty advisors for its total membership.

Under this organization the Basketball, Hiking and Tennis activities of the year are taken care of. The League rules that in order to be entitled to a sweater and letter a girl must earn one hundred points. They have also ruled that one shall be given twelve and one-half points for a season's work in Basketball. That to earn these points she must report for practice every night with the exception of two during the season.

They have ruled that twenty-five points shall be given for hiking, but that for one to earn these points she shall take all the long hikes, to Alta, around the lake, to Sioux Rapids and to Cherokee. That she shall walk daily the number of miles prescribed for that particular week.

The League has ruled that twelve and one-half points shall be given to the girl winning both the singles and doubles in tennis.

This makes it practically impossible for one to earn a sweater and "B" in even two years. The entire system has worked out very nicely and every one earning a sweater feels that they have indeed earned it, and they have.

BASKETBALL

More girls have reported for basketball this year than ever before, the total numbering around twenty-five who will receive credit on their sweater and individual pins for this season's work. The interest and competition has been keen and we have had some real material. We hope that they will continue to grow in strength.

HIKING

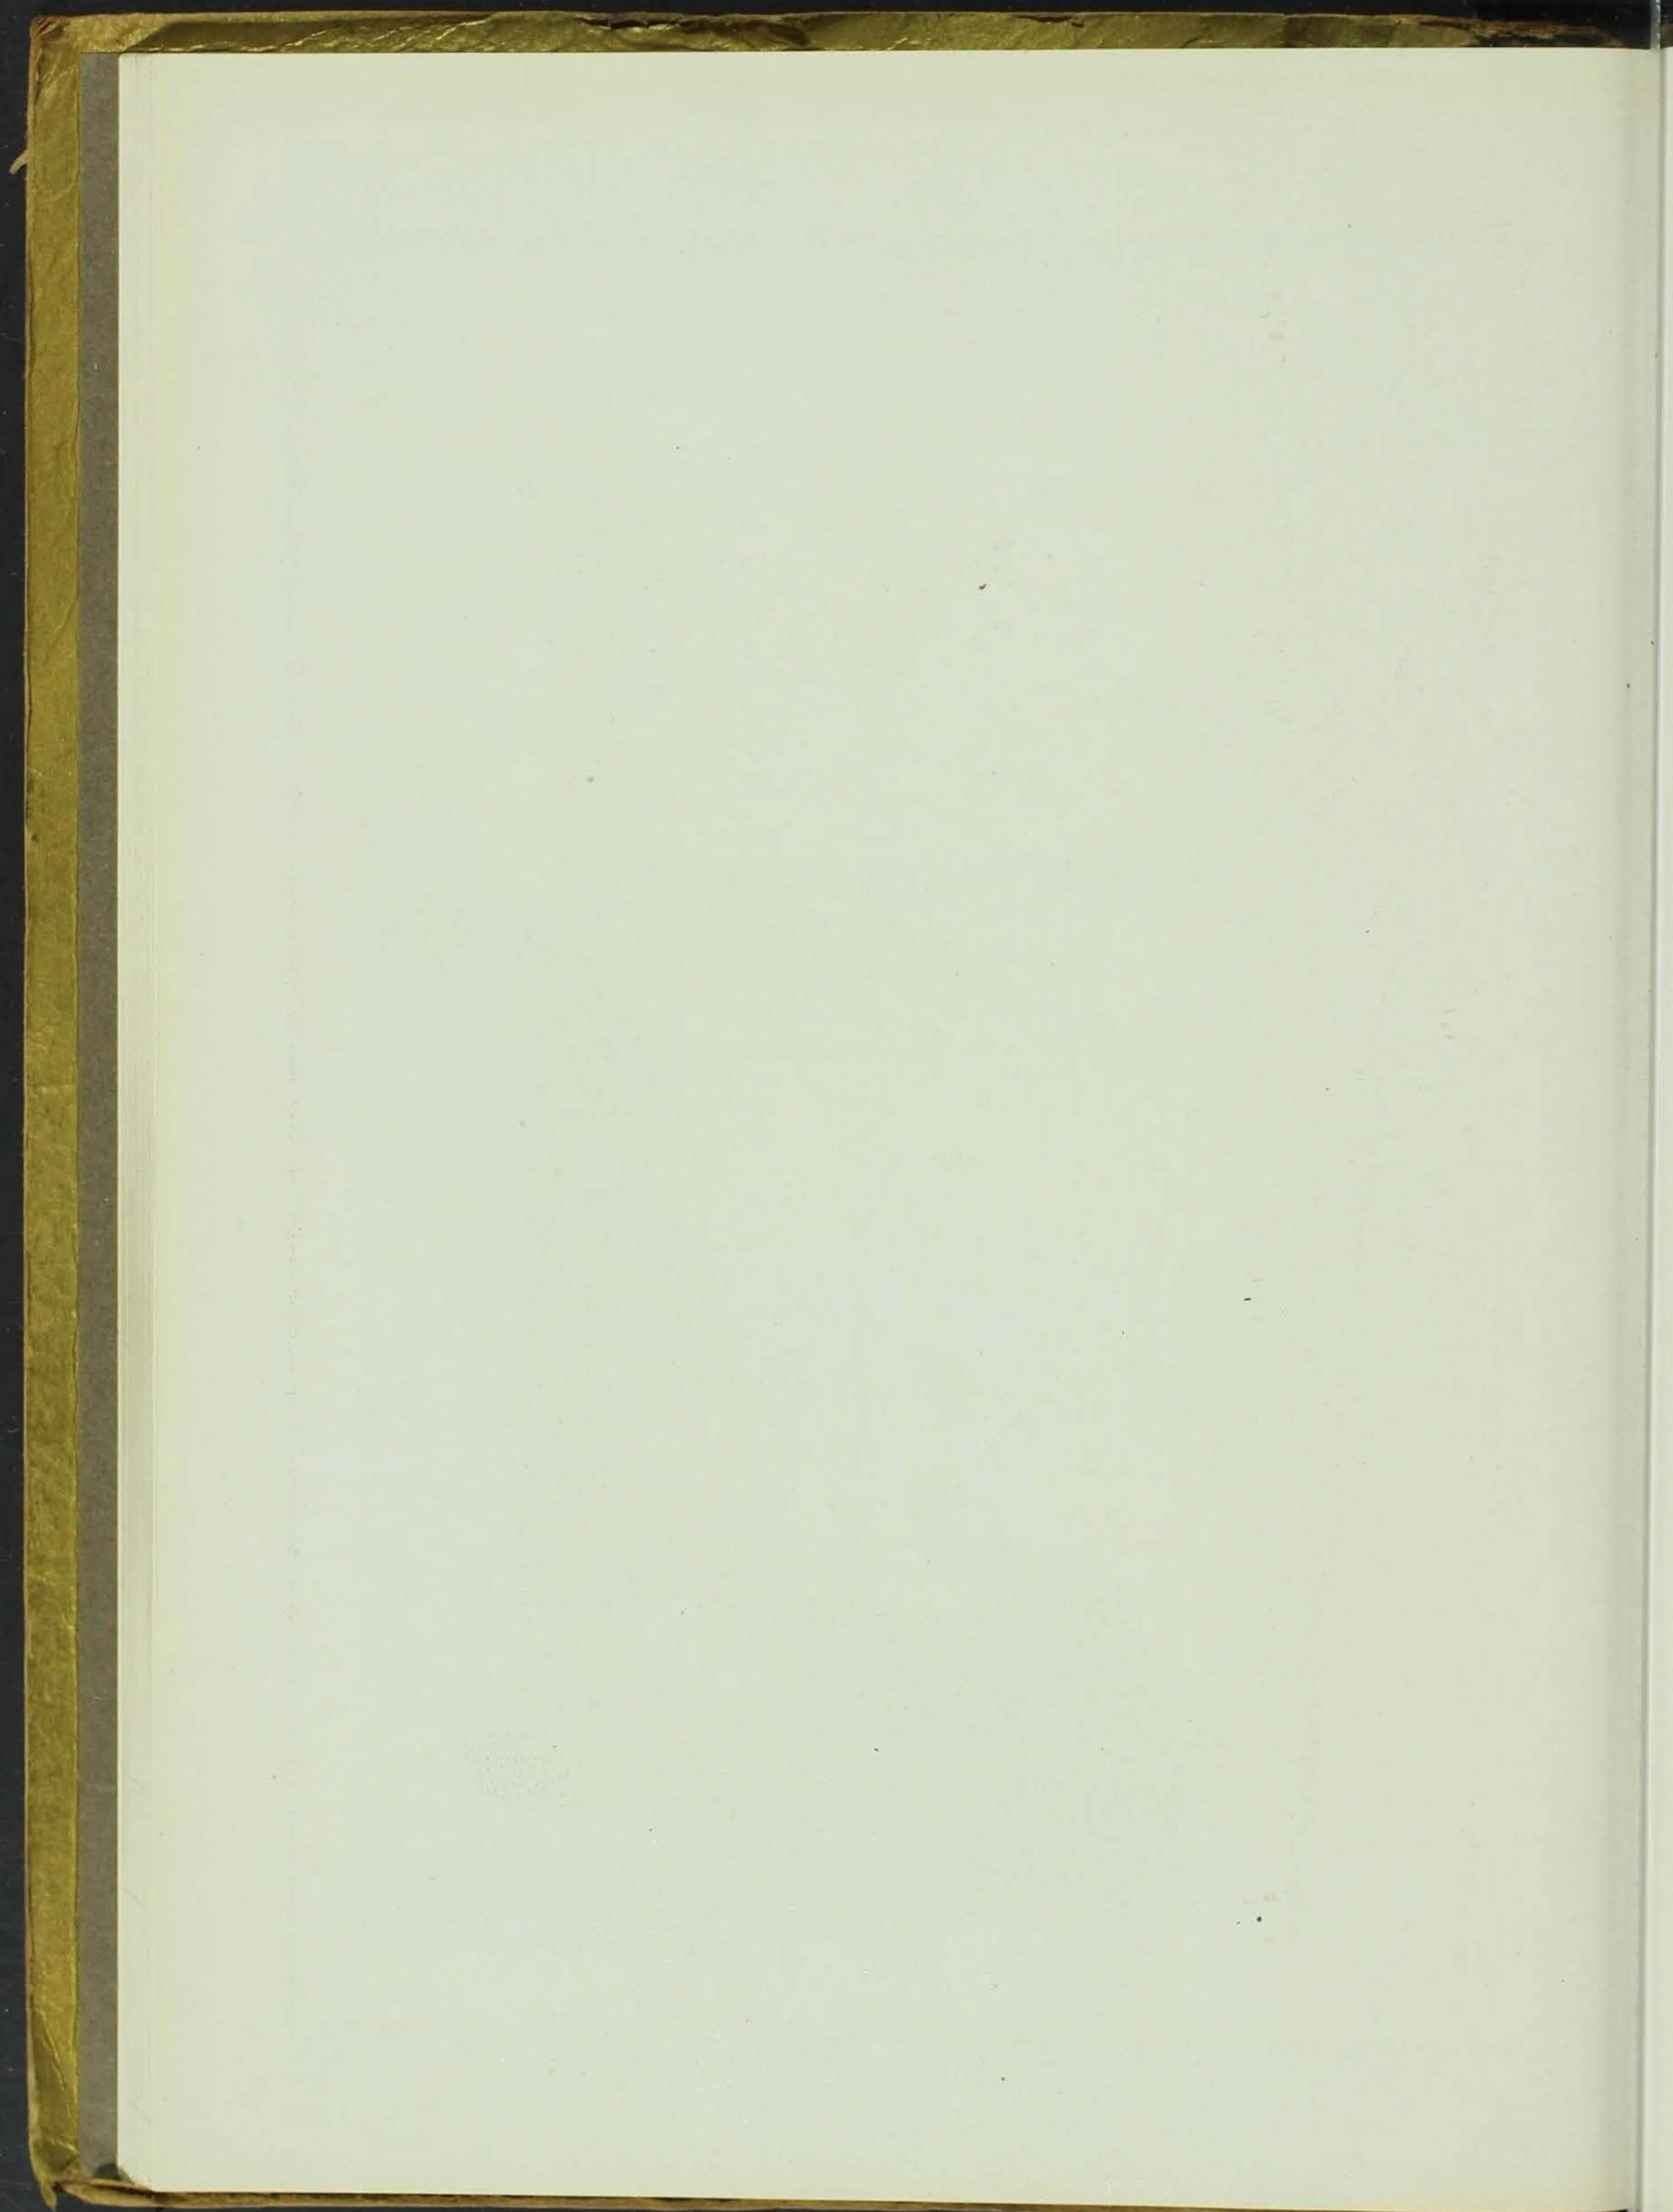

This is the most strenuous of all women's athletics; the season has already started and nearly thirty girls are reporting to their captains daily. Last year only about nine girls received pins and got their twenty-five points credit. We think there will be more this year. Also that our women's athletics will advance as all our other departments are doing.

TENNIS

The tennis season is being planned for and about twenty people have signed up, but so far our new courts have been too damp to play on. Now that it is warming up, we expect to see them at work. Flossie will perhaps have some keen competition this year. Miss McFadden won the singles and doubles last year. Individual pins are also given the winners of the tournament.

BIG MEN AND WOMEN OF THE CAMPUS

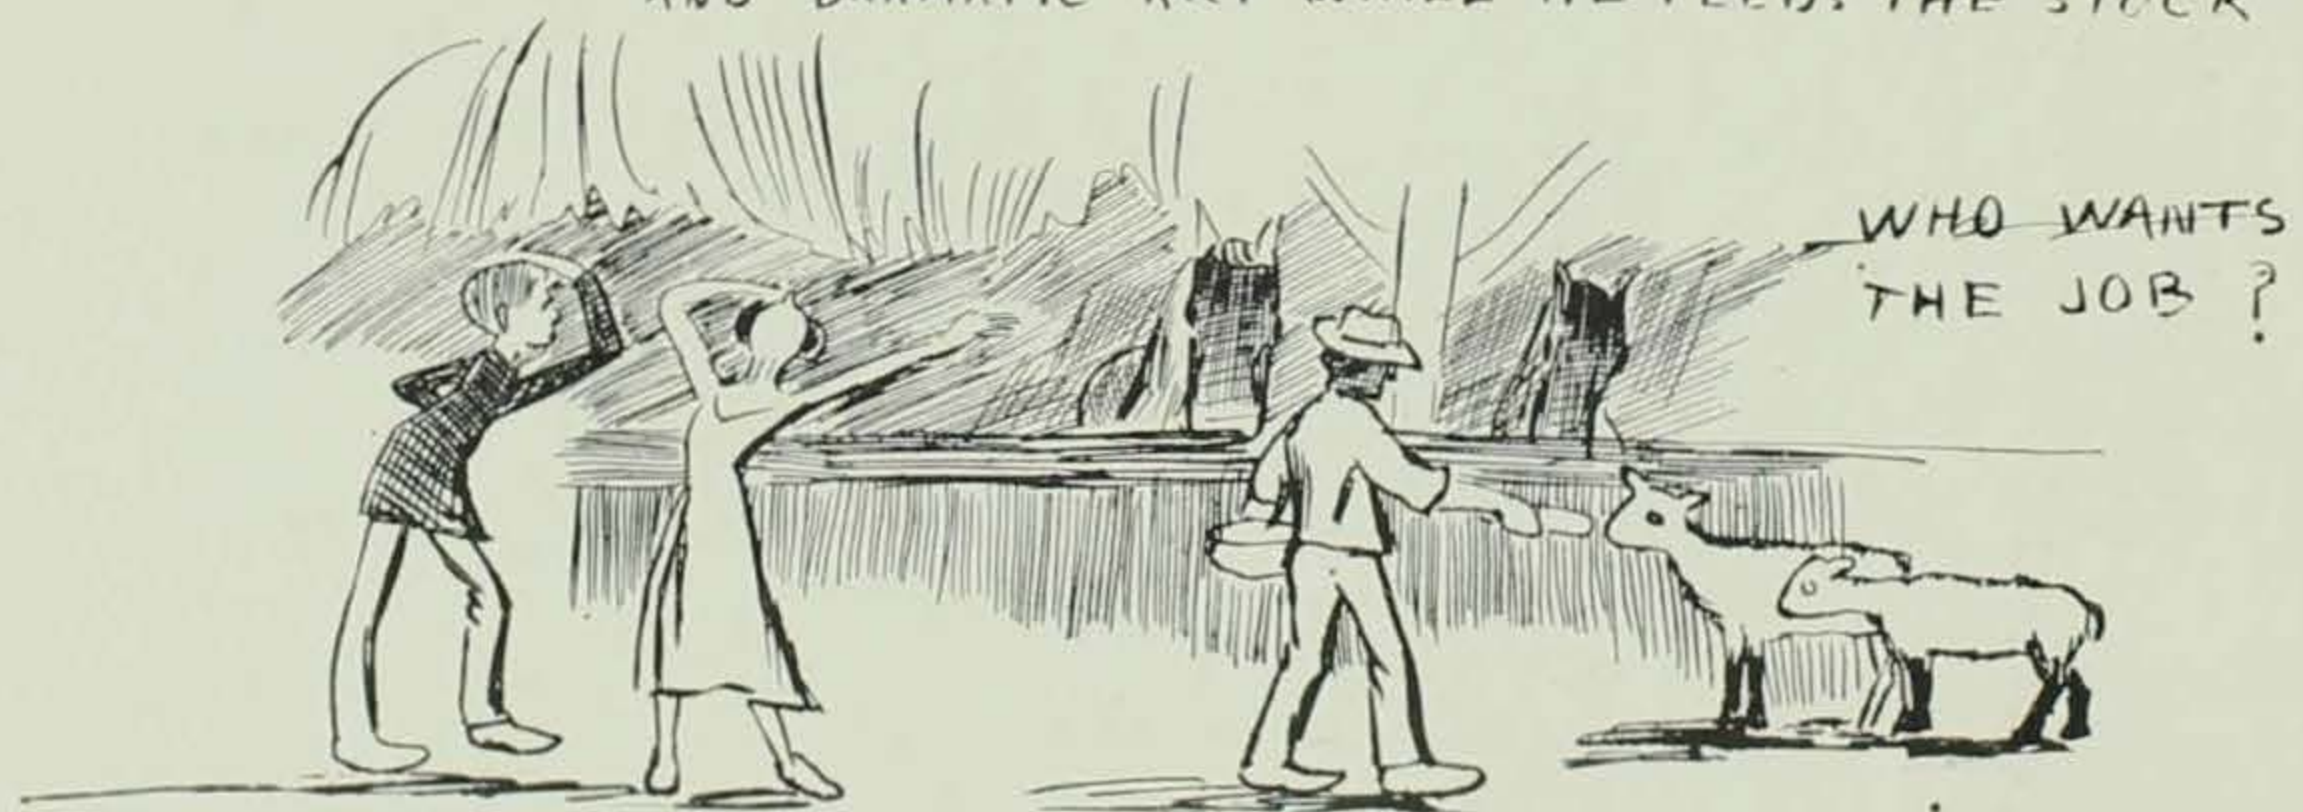

This year we are presenting for your approval a list of "Big Men and Women," which, we hope, will be continued in future Rudders. The idea of this group is to give an incentive to do more for Buena Vista College. We do not assume responsibility for the completeness of this list, as it was suggested by a faculty committee, which we feel selected these men and women for their unbiased view of what constituted usefulness to the college. A list of those who have been selected, together with their major activity, follows:

Leslie Redenbaugh.....	Business Manager Rudder
Edward Karges.....	Literary Ability
J. L. Rollins.....	Athletics
Forrest Gaffin	Athletics
Dorothy Green.....	Women's Orator
Maxine Ross.....	Editor of Tack
Edward Saggau	Football
Muriel Minglin.....	Women's Athletics and Debate
Theodore Karges.....	President Student Council
H. T. Hurley.....	Editor of Rudder
Edward Hagedorn	Football
Richard Ellerbrock	Track

Little Patsy Kelly came running into the house when Andy came to borrow Mr. Kelly's skates.

"Oh, Daddy! Andy wants your shoes with the sleds on."

Esther—And what do you think Sir Walter Raleigh said when he placed his cloak at Queen Elizabeth's feet?

Eddie—Step on it, kid, step on it!

Lindsay—You come from the South?

Green—Yes, sir.

Lindsay—What part?

Green—South Dakota.

Mark—Why do they call Rollins "Whitey?"

Tub—Cuz he's so pure.

Virginia's brother was telling his pal all about it.

"Gee! My sister Virginia is sure lucky. She went to a party last night where they played a game where the man either had to kiss a girl or forfeit a box of chocolates."

"Well, how was Virginia lucky?"

"She came home with thirteen boxes of chocolates."

Zeke—How long has your son George been in college?

Mr. Sweet—About four cows, two horses, forty bales of hay and a couple of loads of pumpkins.

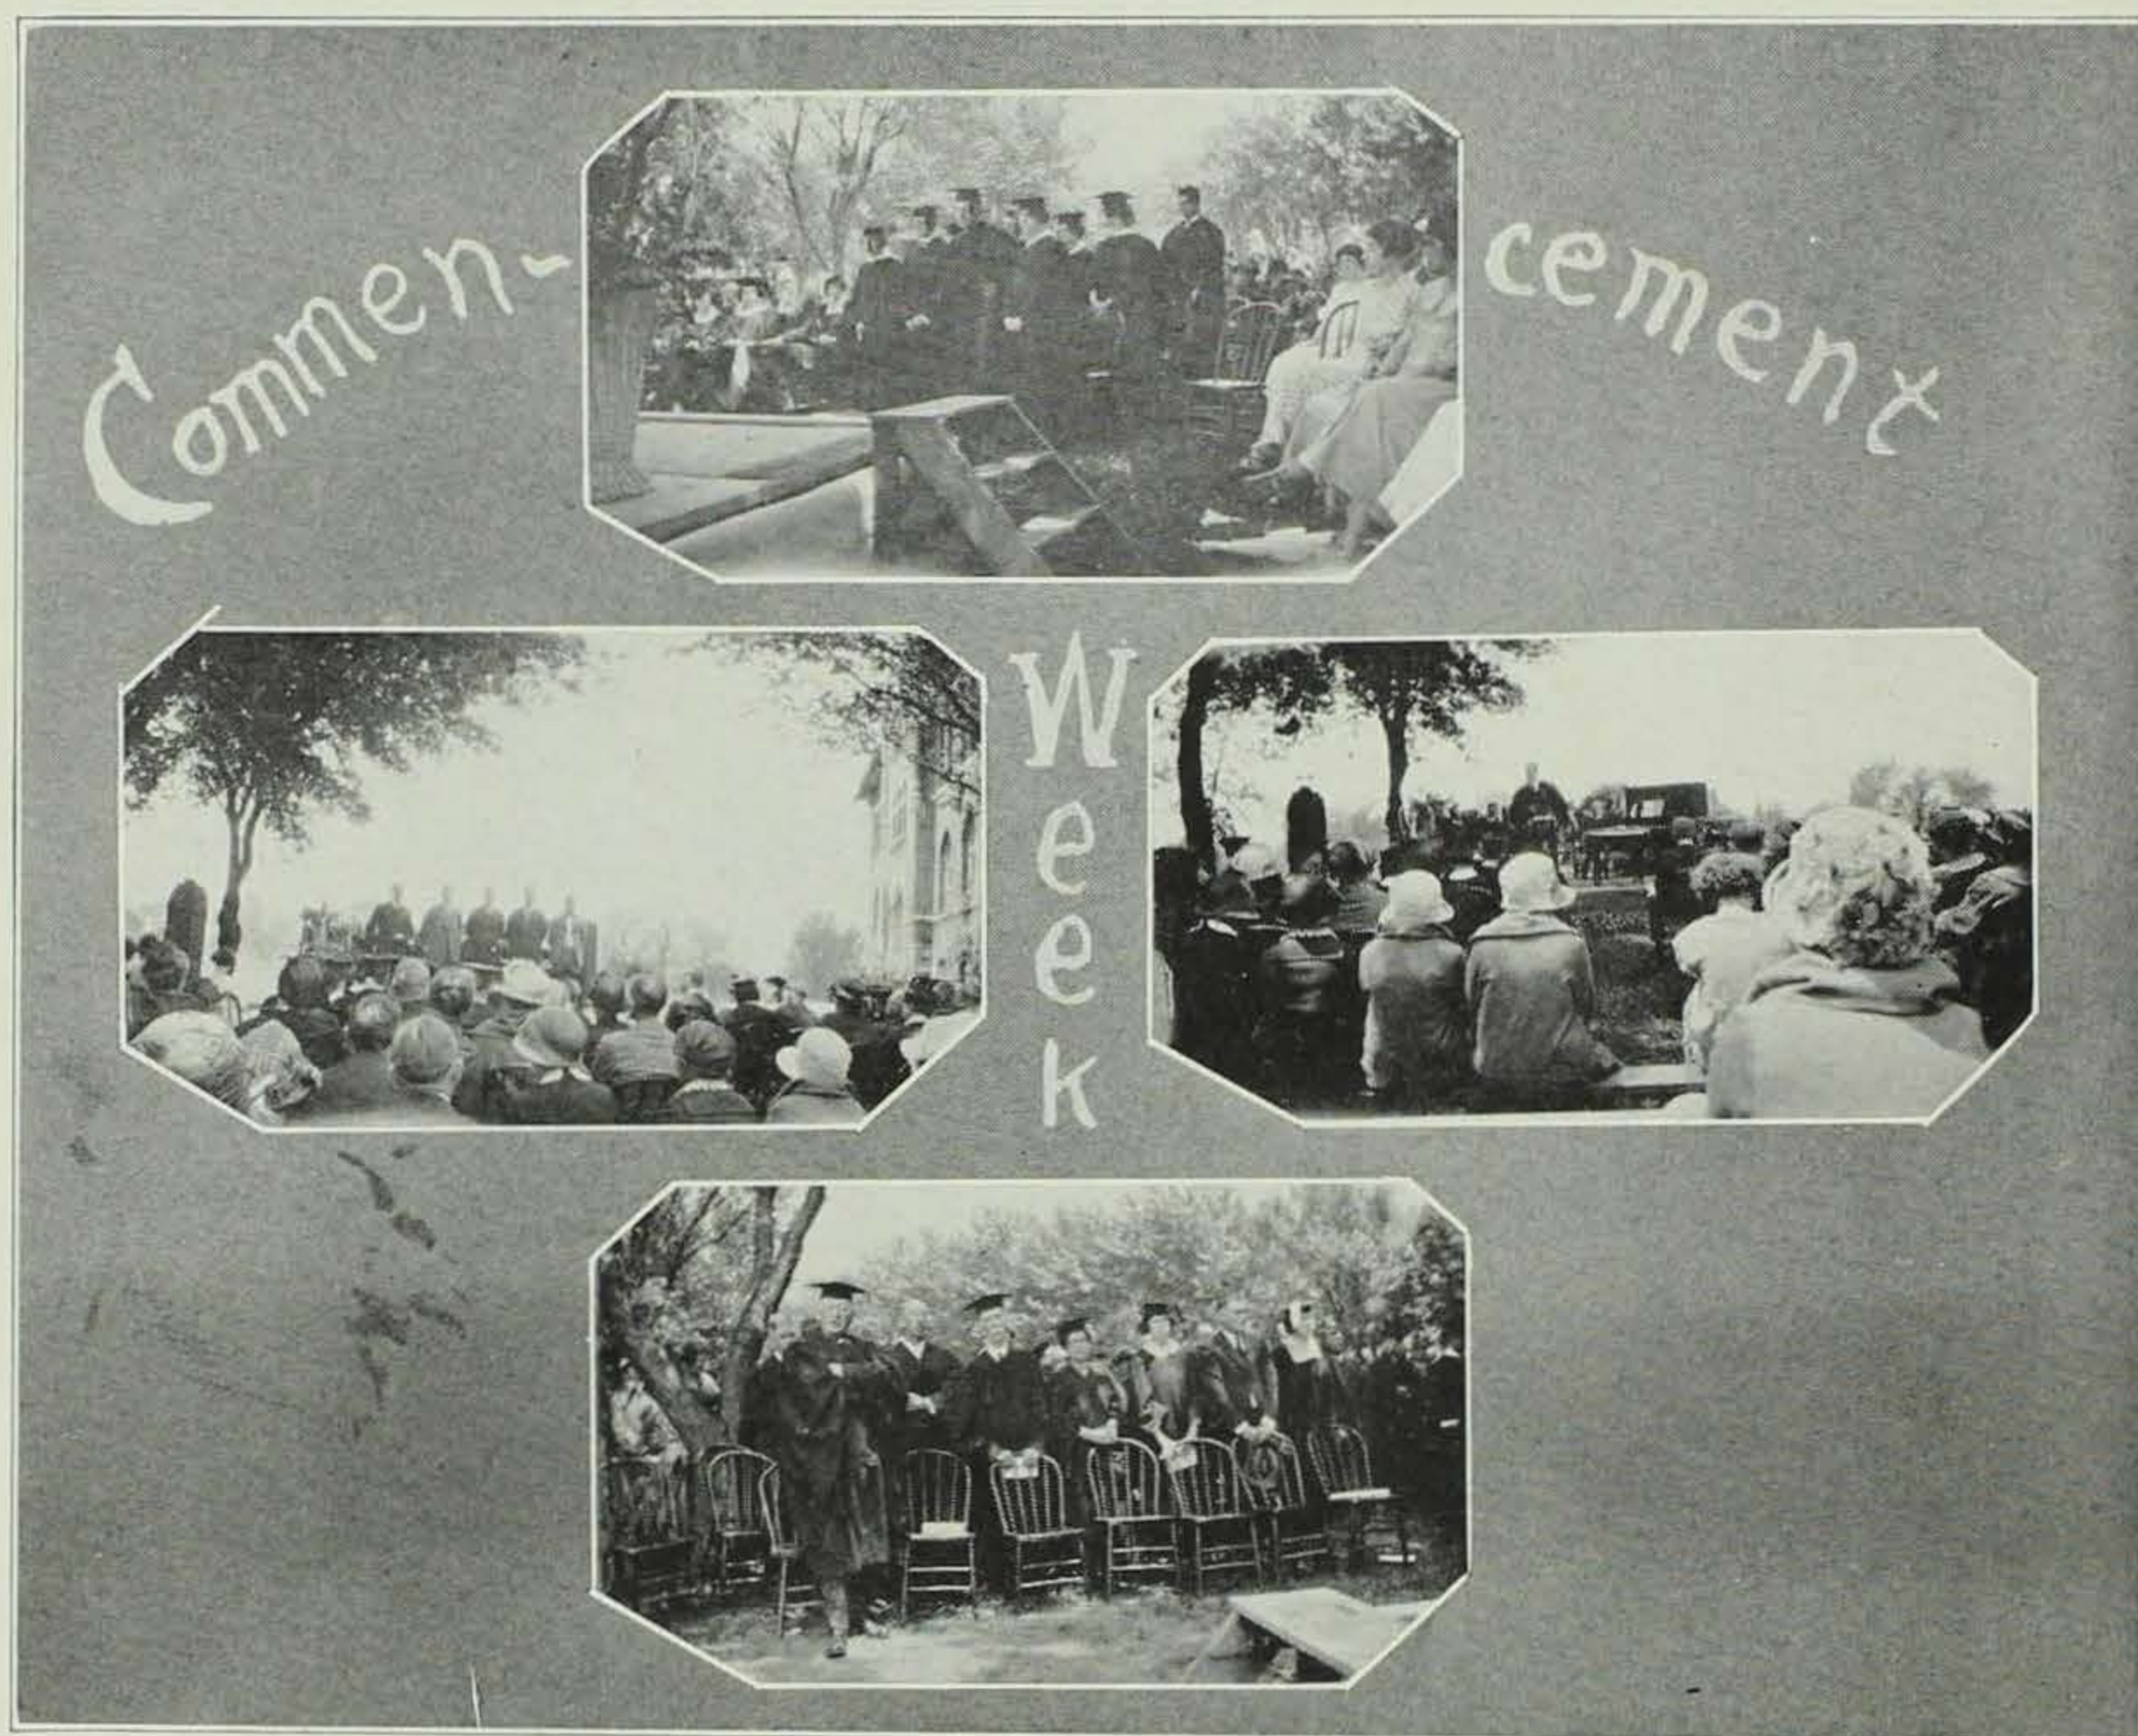

Ellerbrock—'S faith, Bradford, but 'tis a noisy pair of knickers thou sportest.

Bradford—Ods Blood.

Ellerbrock—How could'st they help but be? Forsooth, are they not crash?

Jane—You mean thing! You said you wouldn't give away the secret I told you.

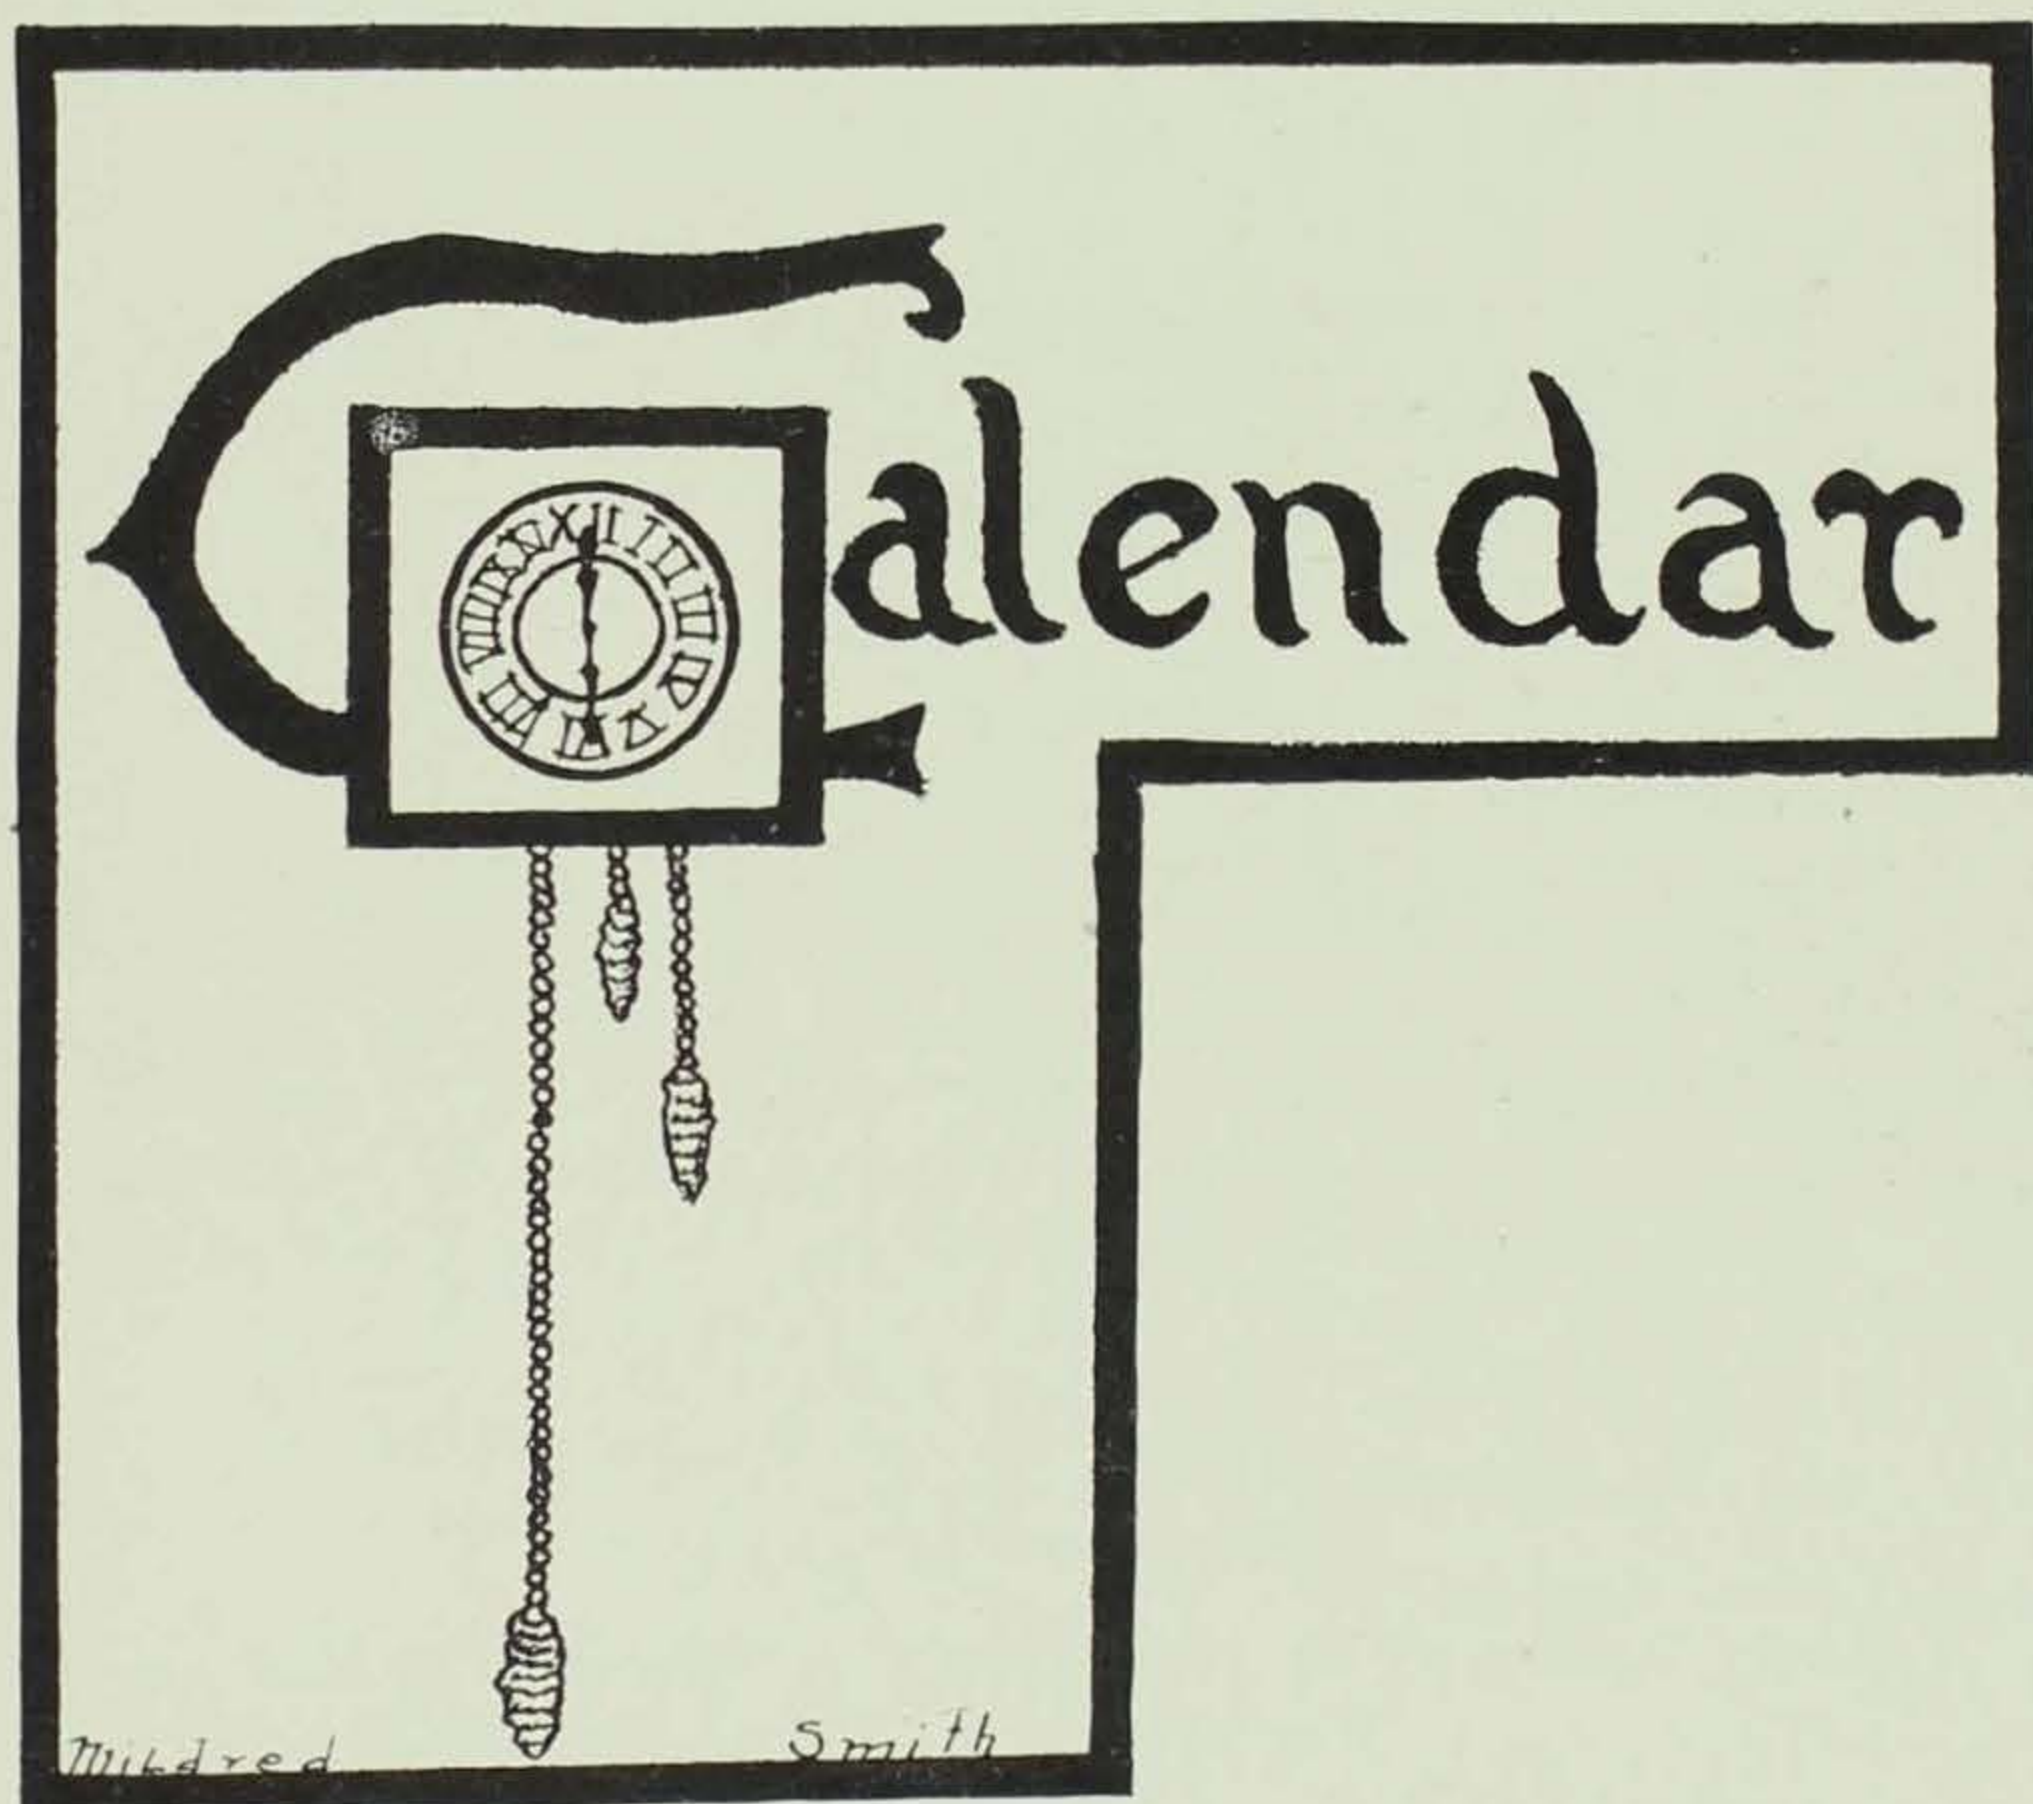

Guhne—I didn't. I exchanged it for another one.

"If" these things would happen in Buena Vista College:

- If Thommie Rushton came to school on time.
- If Rose Samsel grew taller.
- If Smaggie and Maxine busted up.
- If Reusser gave high grades.
- If Dean Saylor stopped talking about Psych.
- If "Mike" Bethards lost her pep.
- If Mabel Florey lost her pony.
- If Glenn Mill grew sensible.
- If the Student Council stopped talking about library conduct.

Prof. Reusser to Jochums: "Now Mr. Jochums, don't jump at conclusions. You make me think of a story I know. A Norwegian had a dog by the name of August who was always jumping at conclusions. One day he jumped at a mule's conclusion. The next day was the first of September because that was the last of August."

MAY

- May 12—Faculty Tea.
Dr. E. L. Jones, Guest of Honor.
- May 21—Sophomore-Senior breakfast. Did we have a good time? Yea! Boas!
- May 21—Hobo Day.
Remember Barth, Deal and Lindsay riding the "Bumpers."
- May 23—B. V. wins half mile relay at Drake and breaks record set by last year's team.

- Sept. 26—Y. W. C. A. "Get acquainted" evening at the home of President Jones.

OCTOBER

Coach Kelly's men start off the season with a win from Western Union.
The first game of the season.

- Oct. 10—Beavers tie Still College on the gridiron.
(Still, still, still)
- Oct. 29—Freshman Skip Day—
Oh, vascillating Frosh, allowing the Sophs to become your chaperons.
How tame it must have been. How different than in years gone by!
- Oct. 24—B. V. meets Des Moines U. Back came the warriors with the long end of a 29-7 count. That's what we call "meeting 'em more than half way."
- Oct. 24—Ye indulgent sober six!
Burro! Bonfires! Bacon! Buns!
- Oct. 27—"Hallowe'en party." All dressed up!

NOVEMBER

- Nov. 1—Beavers scalp Morningside, 24-6.
- Nov. 4—Beavers took a trip down to Maryville, Mo., through a sea of mud, etc.
There was a "well rounded" score, 0-0.
- Nov. 6—"Beaver Bounce," bounce, bounce on, MacDuff.
- Nov. 8—Homecoming, and the Alumni come back to see us, who hold the fort here.
President Jones was inaugurated. Now we have a President for Buena Vista College.
And the Beavers met Trinity.
Veni, Vedi, Vici.
- Nov. 12—Hon. W. C. Edson addresses student body. Future greatness moves among us.
- Nov. 14—Father and Son banquet.
- Nov. 27—Columbus discovers Buena Vista, and incidentally found that this newfound tribe of BeaVers is in truth a hard nut to crack. Columbus vs.
Buena Vista. Of course we won!
- Nov. 27—Ann Aitkin goes west—but—not alone?

DECEMBER

Get ready children, Santa will soon be here.

- Dec. 18—The "Frosh" officially named. Hereafter the "Goofs."
- Dec. 19—Catherine Hartman named Miss Buena Vista. It was interesting to notice who appeared to have the best chance of becoming Mr. Buena Vista. Stay right in there, J. L.
- Dec. 19—"B" men presented with gold footballs, emblematic of the Iowa Conference championship. Rah! Yah! Team!
- Dec. 19—Y. W. all-College Christmas party.
- Dec. 28—Male Quartet makes first official appearance.
A noisy quartette season is the forecast.

JANUARY

"Ring out the old, Ring in the new."

- Jan. 4—"Flossie Mac" feels the weight of years.
Jan. 8—Debate tryouts.
Jan. 9—B. V. Literary Fraternity organized.
Jan. 13—Astrid Holmgren awarded first prize in Short Story Contest. B. V. also honors two other "story tellers," Earline Crouch and Ed Karges.
Jan. 14—B. V. Oratorical Contest. The chapel witnesses another tryout.
Jan. 27—Rudder officially dedicated to Dean J. F. Saylor. This met with the approval of the entire student body.
Jan. 30—"Frosh-Chem-Prom."
(Not a new frat. Can anyone tell us what it is?)

FEBRUARY

- Feb. 6—Pie social at Victory Hall. A good many men seemed to have an "awful" appetite for pie that evening, if the amount that they bought is an indication of their capacity.
Feb. 10—Dr. McCormick entertains at chapel.
"Music hath charms"—So hath Dr. McCormick.
Feb. 16—Rev. Herbert Marsh knocked the "T" out of "Can't" in a chapel address.
Feb. 19—New "Beaver" Organization born. May it function wisely and accomplish its task.
Feb. 20—State Oratorical Contest.

MARCH

- March 4—Inauguration Day. The "new-fangled" radio brings the President's voice to Buena Vista from Washington, D. C. How's that for service!
March 4—Women debate Western Union.
(Both before and after)
March 6—Men's State Oratorical Contest. Fighters, though losers.
March 11—Gettysburg Debate. BeaVers confirm western hospitality.
March 17—St. Patrick's Day. Why all the Orange in display among the "stern" men of the College? Not much "Green" in evidence (aside from the Frosh of course, and also the Green sisters.)
March 17—B. V. Cross-country run.
Won by Bud Ellerbrock, BeaVer "fast" man.
March 19—Miss Deal reads a group of "modern poems" to the expectants in chapel.
No one disappointed.
March 23—Miss Burtis also reads a group of poems. Our "appreciation" is being cultivated.

Y. W. C. A. "Get Acquainted" meeting is held every year, and is the first event of the year which is traditional with our school.

The first inkling of the fact that the freshmen are taking advantage of our traditions is when they make use of the age old custom of Freshmen and have Skip Day. Our wee freshmen escape in the dark hours of the morning and leave behind a challenge to the Sophs to catch them if they can. And an exciting day usually follows.

The Home Coming is another custom which is becoming more established with time. The all-college luncheon at noon, the football game, is something that both alumni and students look forward to.

About this time the Freshmen are becoming acquainted and are in need of a name, so they are christened by the Sophomores.

The Student Body elect a "Miss Buena Vista;" she is chosen by virtue of her popularity and beauty. The Rudder Staff sponsors the contest.

The All College Christmas Party—at this time the whole student body gets together for a good time in general. They have a tree, a Santa and lots of candy and nuts, and everyone leaves happily for home.

Then, the first semester final exams greet them upon their return from vacation. This is a tradition most of us would be willing to do away with.

The next event of importance is the Senior Swing Out. This is the first time that the Seniors appear in caps and gowns. They have full charge of chapel service.

Hobo Day and Clean Up Day are combined and everyone in college puts on their old clothes, begs, cleans up the campus and we all have a luncheon at noon together, and live the lives of the care-free for one small day.

Immediately following the Swing Out is the Color Ceremony Banquet. The Seniors at a formal banquet present the Freshman with their colors. This is the only banquet at which only the faculty and student body is present. It is considered one of the most enjoyable and important affairs of the year.

The most well established traditions of our college deals with commencement week.

First, Farewell Chapel Service. At this time the Seniors have charge of chapel service; advising the students and faculty is one of their pleasures at this time. It is their last farewell, and is the beginning of commencement week.

Tree Day takes place usually the same day as the Farewell Chapel Service, and the Seniors plant their tree at this time.

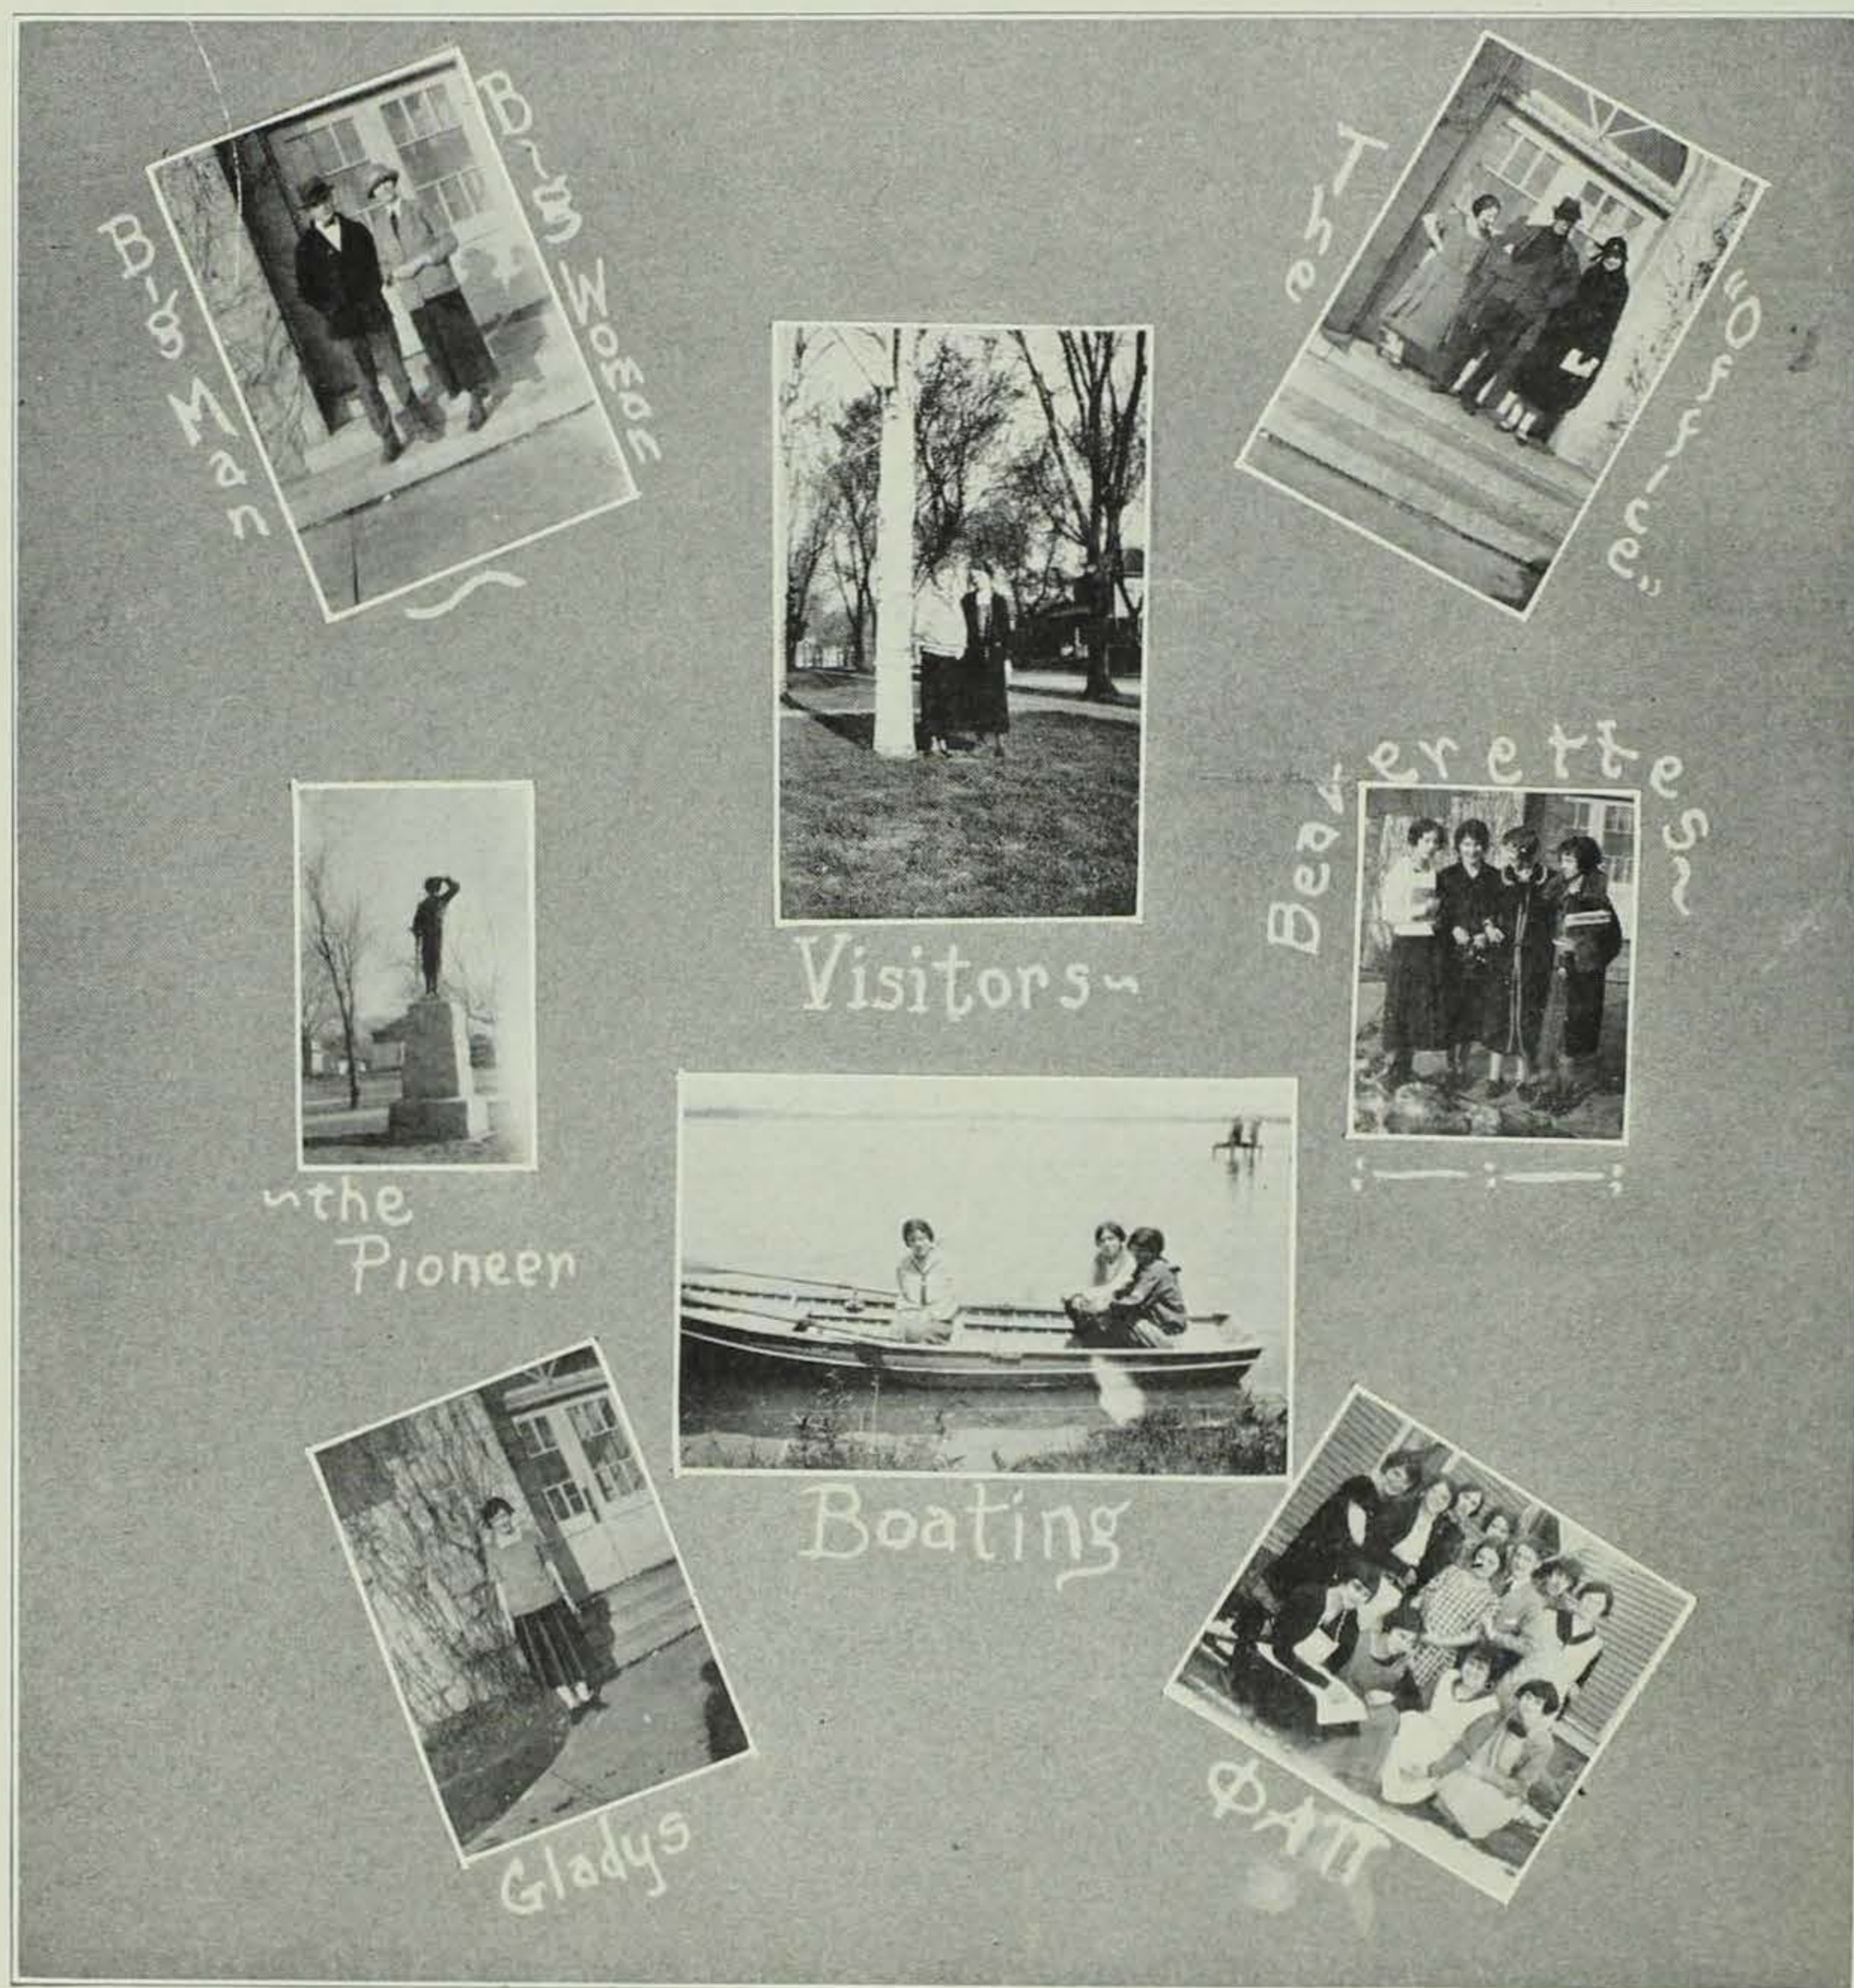

The Pipe of Peace—This is at a breakfast with the Juniors and Seniors present. At this time they bury the hatchet and declare peace forever more.

The Y. M. and Y. W. union Service.

The Y. W. May Day Supper.

Baccalaureate sermon is given the Sunday before commencement morning.

Alumni.

Viola Rodda saw the circus for the first time and sat through the performance as if at church.

"What was the matter?" Neva asked after returning home.

Viola—I could hardly keep from laughing at them.

Hobbes—Which is correct to say: "I is a fool," or "I are a fool?"

Florey—I am a fool.

Mr. Hix (coming down stairs, irate)—Say, young man, do you think you can sit here with my daughter till daylight!

Harp (modestly)—I'll try, sir.

Still, Still with

Thee

"CAPTAIN"

! Good - night!

Who is it?

Little Women

Two and Two!

"Pick"

Miss Butts

IN THE D. S. DEPARTMENT

Prof. Reusser—Oh, say, give me something good to eat.

Prof. McCleary—What do you think I am—a filling station?

Williard—What is steam?

Pickenpaugh—Water crazy with the heat.

Helen Jackson—I don't know what to do with this week end.

"Mike"—Put your hat on it.

MOST PROPER

She's a very proper girl
With a very proper mind—
She hates to think of sugar mills
With sugar unrefined!

He (a senior)—Do you think you can manage on my salary of $50 a week, dear?
She—I think I can, but what will you do?

ON THE BULLETIN BOARD

If the party who found my coat refuses to return same and receive reward, will they kindly come and get the pants and vest, as I have no use for them now, and as a matter of sentiment I hate to see them separated. Harper Hemenway.

Marj. (combing her hair)—Look! My hair is full of electricity.
Todd—No wonder! It comes from a dry cell.

SMART BOY, HAROLD!

As usual my allowance had run short. Home went a telegram for money as usual. Back came a check for half the amount—as usual. But I fooled them, for I asked for twice the amount—as usual.

DERE ESTHER:

Before you go to class I want to ask you won question. Why the cool aptitude; what have I did that we hav comed to this?

I spent awl las nite hanging out the windew looking at the stares and thot of yew. Plee let louse and sai YES about the shew.

My love is lake a read, read rose.

Your devoted "Eddie."

DeLong—If I get stuck you tell me.

Hensley—Sure.

Ben (trying to recite)—Tell me!

Hens.—You are stuck.

Prof. Smith—But if I let you through what will become of my reputation?

Rushton—But just think what would happen to mine if you don't!

'TIS SAD TO KNOW

A Rudder is a great invention,
The Juniors get all the fame,
The printer gets all the money,
And the staff gets all the blame!

Smaggie—What's the rush?
Redenbaugh—Prof. Redd's overcome with gas.
Smaggie—Where are you going, for the doctor?
Redenbaugh—No, more gas.

Mrs. Redd, to Fergerson—Rolland, are you scraping your feet on the floor?
Fergerson—No ma'm. I'm cranking my Ingersoll.

SOLID GEOMETRY, PROPOSITION 277,777,777

To prove: That a piece of writing paper equals a lazy dog.
Proof: A piece of paper=an ink-lined plane.
An inclined plane=a slope up.
A slope up (slow pup)=a lazy dog.

Mr. Redd (to agricultural student)—Why must they paint the inside of a chicken coop?
Student—To keep the hens from picking the grain out of the wood.

Gaffin—Say, that's a fine tie you've got on.
Bim—Where do you suppose I got it?
Gaff—Oh, I don't know. Where?
Bim—Around my neck, of course.

Prof. Brown—Now, we will run over the famous men of the Tudor period.
Slutzky (from the back of the room)—Honk! Honk!

WANTED—A girl for light housekeeping.
Perkins (answering the ad)—How far is the light house from the shore?

Prof. Smith finds Flossie in the Lab. playing with a sea fish.
Prof. Smith—What are you doing?
Flossie—Looking for Rose.

Blessings on thee, College Girl,
Fairy sprite, with teeth of pearl,
With thy upturned laughing eyes,
Gleaming with a pleased surprise,
With thy red lips, redder still,
Kissed by tulips they have met.
With the sunshine on thy face,
And thy Psyche's artful grace;
From my heart I give thee joy,
Blessings on the lucky boy.

Wall—I went home to see my folks in Alta last night.

Harp—Oh, how did you find them?

Wall—Oh, I knew where they lived.

Prof.—This is the third time you've looked on Catherine's paper.

Eddie—Yes sir—she doesn't write very plain.

Alice, when about eight years old, was taking a great interest in everything she saw on her uncle's farm. At length milking time came, and she was permitted to watch the job. She said nothing until the work was about finished, then piped up with this leading question:

"What do you do when the cow's pockets are empty?"

Miss Burtis—Now, if my watch said 10 o'clock, what time would it be five hours later?

Smaggie (dreamily)—Time to go home.

Andy—What did I make in my tests.

Mrs. Ambler—Mistakes!

Miss McCleary—Do you smell gasoline? I cleaned my collar today.

"Mike"—Don't do any sparking. Your collar will catch on fire.

Abe Crissey—Absence from the class makes the mark grow rounder.

THIS JOKE IS FOR FRESHMAN ONLY
Curiosity killed a cat. We knew you would look. April Fool!

Every lassie has a laddie
To whisper words of love,
But every lassie has a daddy
To knock on the floor above.

Smaggie—Someone passed a counterfeit dime on me about a month ago, and I haven't been able to get rid of it since.

Hagedorn—Hey! Don't you ever go to church?

Prof. Aylesworth, when getting ready for a concert, said: "Say, you fellows will have to double up back there."

Tellier—Say, what do you think we are, contortionists?

L. Geisinger—Will you accompany me on the piano?
Pearl Robinson—Not without a chaperone.

Virginia C. (looking at the proofs of her pictures)—Gee, this is awful!
Guhne—You should have thought of that before you started.

McCleary—Did you make this pudding out of the cookery book?
Hobbs—Yes, ma'am.
McCleary—I thought I tasted one of the covers.

Mrs. Ambler—Give me a sentence in which you use the first person.
Student—Adam lived in the Garden of Eden.

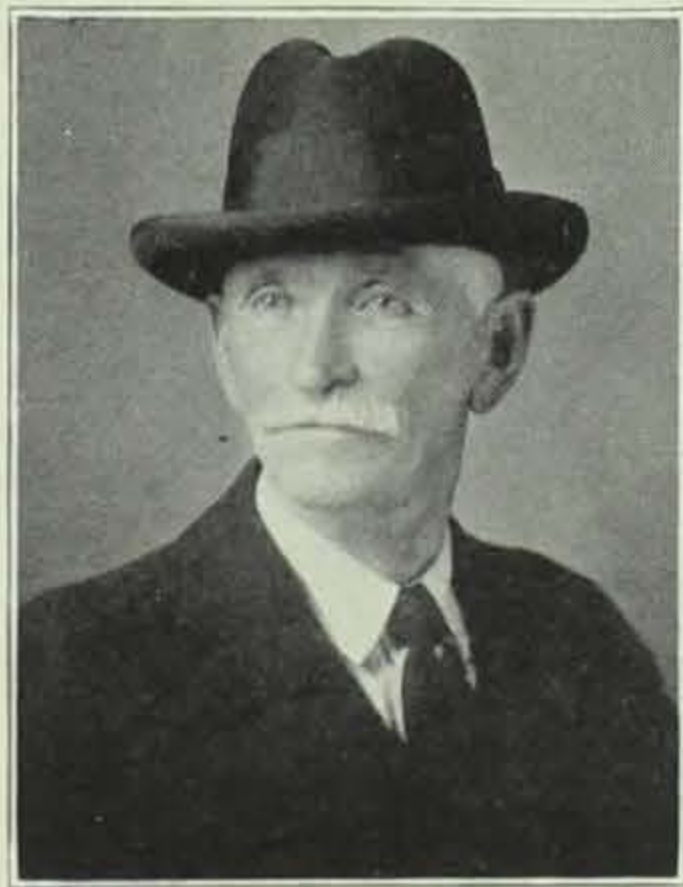

Stern Parent—Didn't you promise never to do it again?
Freshman—Yes, Sir.
"And I said I'd whip you if you did, didn't I?"
"Yes, Dad, but as I didn't keep my promise, I wouldn't hold you to yours."

Soph.—Did you ever take chloroform?
Fresh.—No, who teaches it?

TO OUR READERS

A little space, we would not waste it
 O, for a flash of wit
 For something sweet, would you could taste it,
 A joke, a pun, a hit.
 Because we are not witty
 Because we have no jokes
 Because we print no stories
 That pleases you fussy folks,
 You sigh and groan and grumble
 And fling us on the shelf.
 Moral: Gentle reader,
 Just write something yourself.

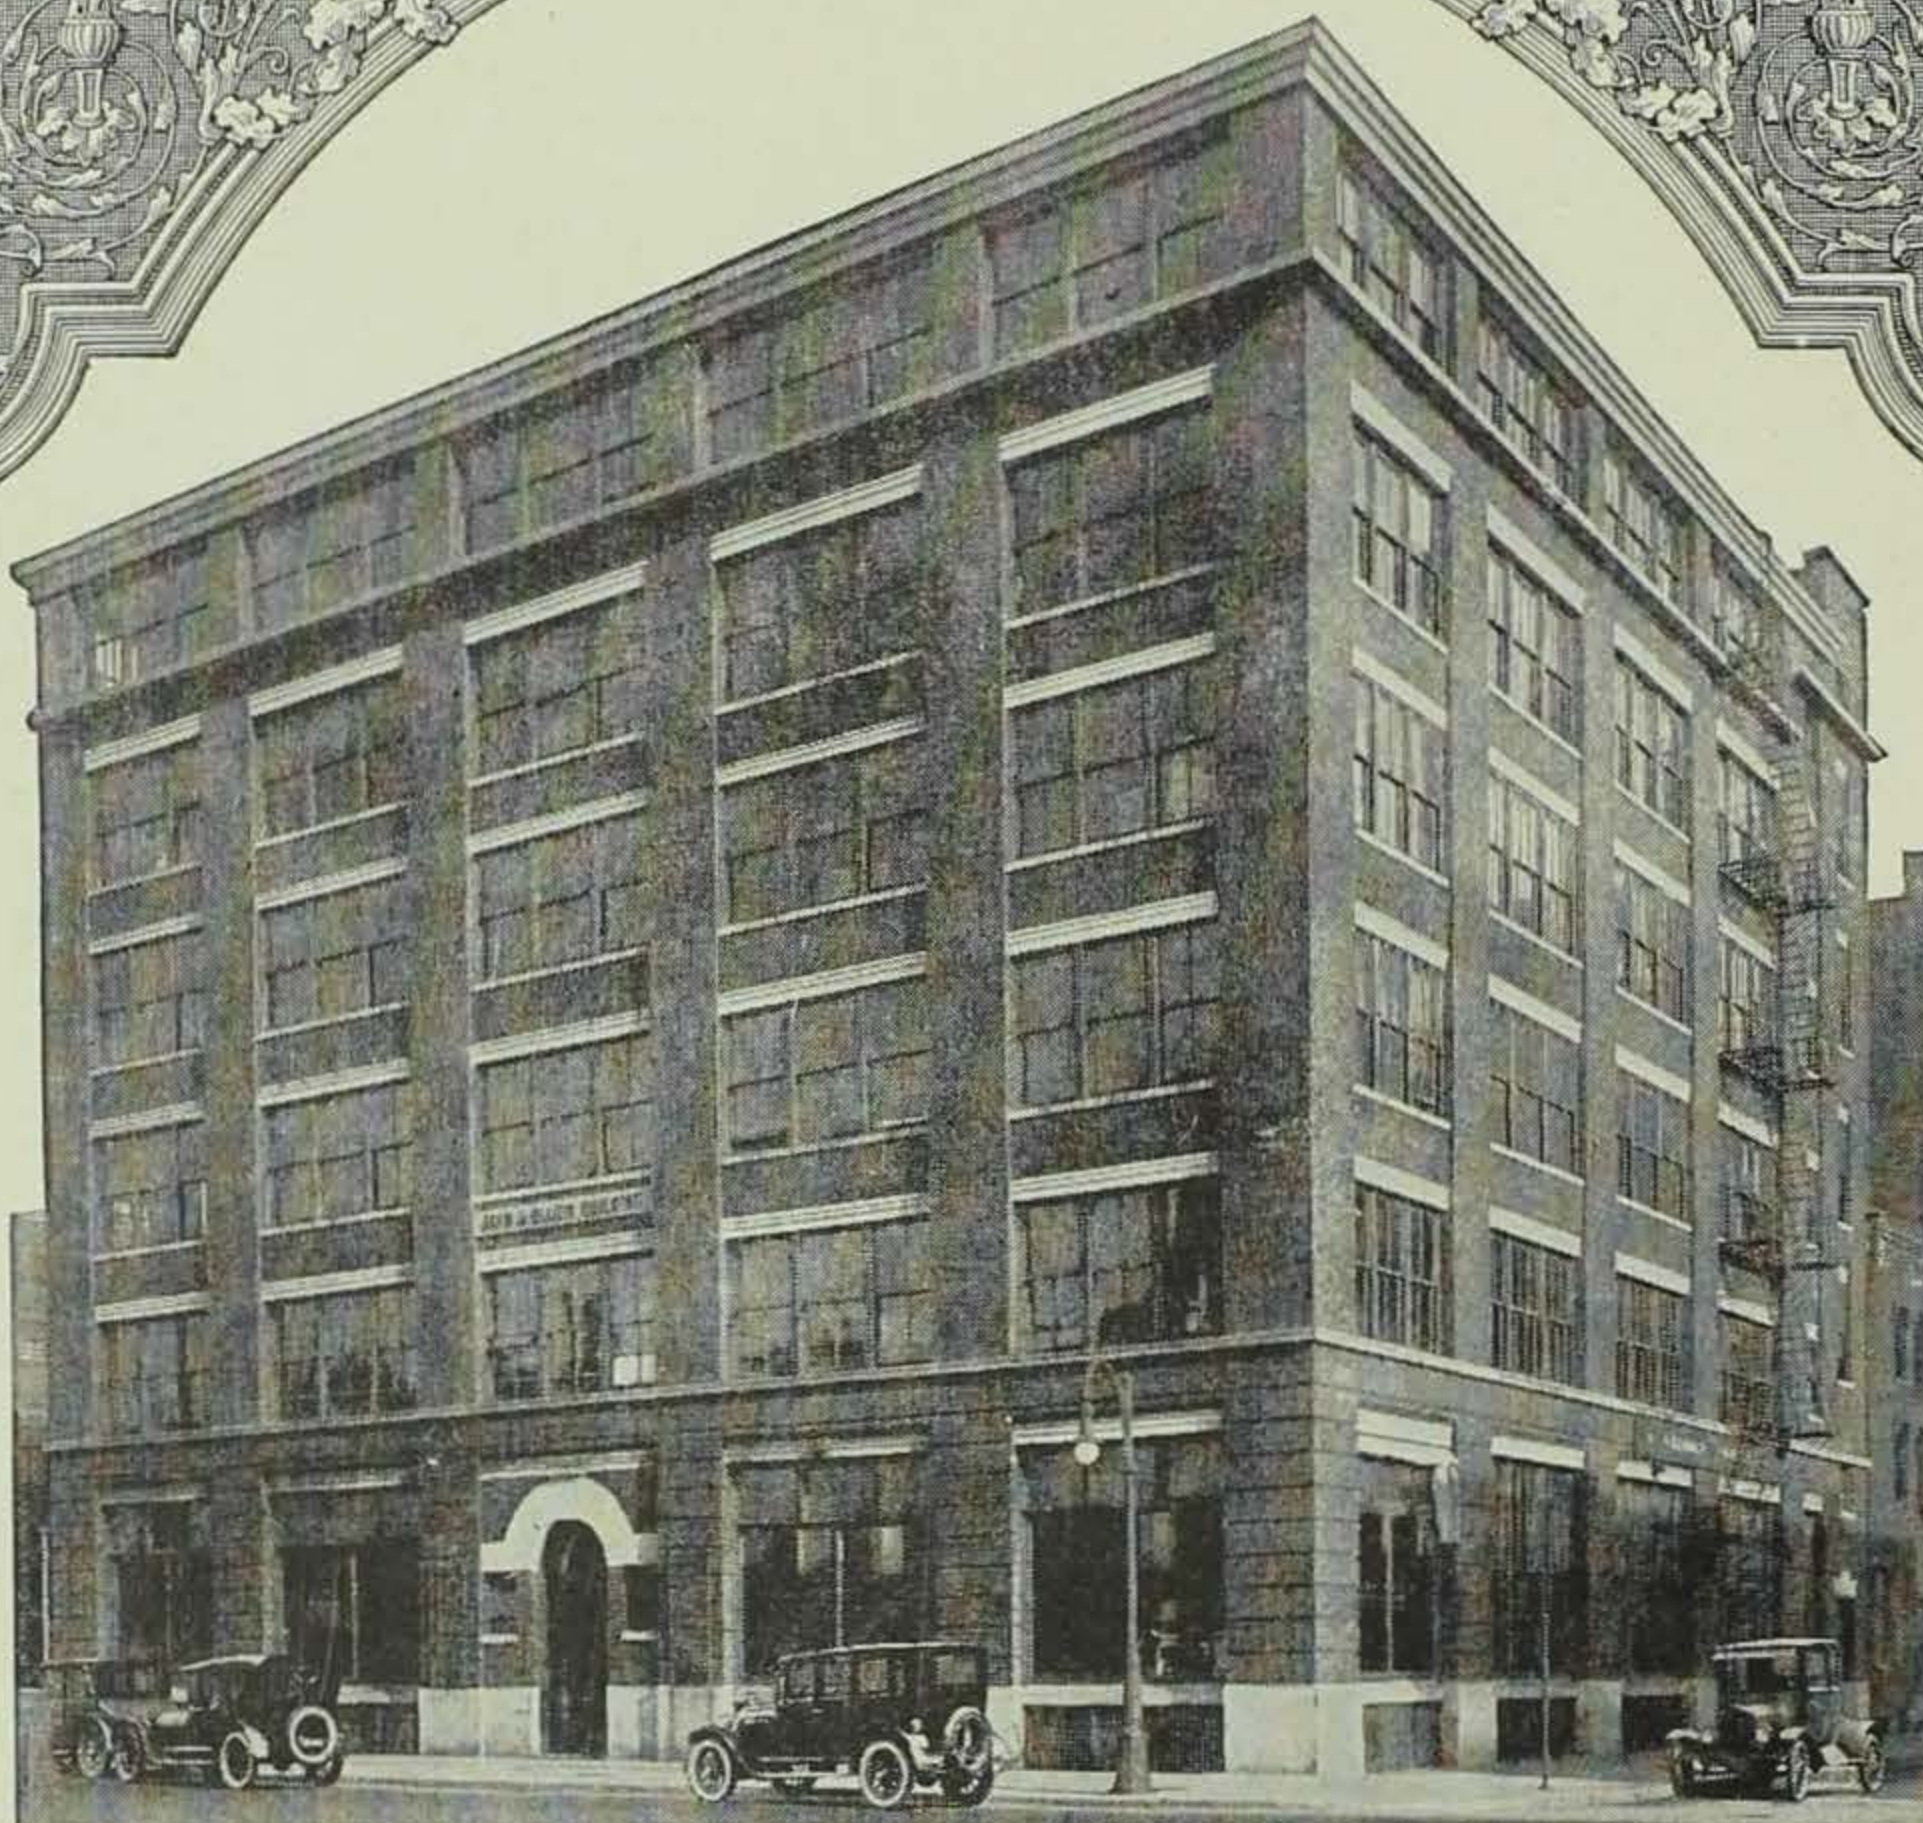

Mr. Coulson, whom most of us know simply as "Sam," takes care of the buildings and grounds. He is about as efficient as it is possible for a janitor to be, and he is always busy making the campus look its best. A great change in the appearance of the campus during the last two years is directly traceable to "Sam." Although we may do much to vex him, we all know that he is still our friend.

We, of the Rudder Staff, have nothing but commendation for Mr. H. E. Larson, the man to whom we entrusted the very important task of taking the pictures that you have seen in this book. We do not hesitate to say that the pictures taken this year are by far the best that have ever appeared in a "Rudder." It is a pleasure for us to recommend him. He was always willing to cooperate with us, and helped us in a great many ways. We are willing to recommend to anyone who is looking for an A-1 photographer.

MR. H. E. LARSON
