THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

Foreword

*F*OR four years we have enjoyed our work in O. H. S., and as we leave her friendly shelter we take with us pleasant memories. It is impossible to express full appreciation of the value received during our course; but it has been our sincere effort to make those, who have helped us, realize our gratitude. We trust that you will accept this book as a simple token of devotion to our high school.

FACULTY ADVISOR

TO the cheerful and straightforward guidance of Miss Glenn R. Ogden does the class of Nineteen Twenty owe many of its successes and attainments. Many of our best attributes have been made possible by her lofty ideals and invaluable leadership. Her motto and ambition, "To serve," will forever be remembered by the class of

PUBLICATIONS

MISS EDNA B. HUSTON
Faculty Advisor

Miss Huston's willing help and valuable suggestions helped to accomplish in no small degree whatever success the 1920 Argus Annual has attained. To her the staff and the school owe a deep debt of gratitude that words cannot justifiably express.

Editor-in-Chief

A. LEO LOVE
Business Manager

Never before in the history of the Ottumwa High School has the publishing of the Argus Annual been so difficult. Industrial unrest so affected printing materials that it seemed unwise to attempt the task. Nevertheless, backed by the school, the members of the staff launched the project and by ever diligent and careful work the final goal was reached.

1920 Class History

The closed heroic couplet framed by Pope,
The only form of verse that e're can hope
To justly tell the glories of this class,
I hereby choose and to the history pass.

One morn in dread September, year '16,
A group of infant prodigies was seen.
They climbed the steps that lead to O. H. S.,
In brains by far the most, in size the less.
The members of the "20" class were they,
Ordained by Jove for glory all their day.
They came, and with them brought their boundless pep,
So great it seemed a synonym for prep.
They came, and though disdained by students old
They showed they weren't afraid of shoulders cold.
They made themselves a name right at the first;
And soon they chose, for better or for worse,
The officers, who were to guide their ranks
Through all their preplet plays and childish pranks.
For president, they chose one famed afar
For speeches and debate, named George O'Gar;
Although he could through declamations skim
And eloquently voice his every whim,
When called on for a lively speech of thanks,
He joined the "unused to public speaking" ranks.
Finally, with the aid of many blushes
He made his speech, and then came solemn hushes;
For even they as preplets realized then
They'd started their career—and they must win.
They saw that e'en through trials hard they passed,
Their courage they must keep right to the last;
And that if dread defeat should come to them,
That they must grin and bear it, like real men.
Then having felt these truths deep in their heart
The Twenties from their revery with a start
Did come, and then proceeded to elect
Their other officers with due respect.
Rowe Hinsey the vice-presidency won;
His list of offices had now begun.

They made Paul Sloan their freshman secretary;
He was a youth of disposition merry.
And Lucy Wormhoudt was their treasurer,
And all the class did pay their dues to her.
Thus did they choose their efficient first-year guides
Who gave their best, and most, and more besides.
They got away from common reds and blues,
And green and salmon for their hues did choose,
They chose a yell so full of go and pep
The very Seniors hardly could keep step;
And, what is even more important, for
When given it did reach the farthest star,
Thus gained the Twenties their renown for pep
They've had it all along and have it yet,
To end the year up well they gave a party;
And then the weather acted up so smarty.
(It rained and stormed and blew both loud and long;
The raindrops formed a very crowded throng.)
But the Twenties never yet have stayed at home
Because of any wind that's ever blown;
They crowded so the home of Leo Love
That it seemed that all the heaven's up above
Instead of dropping rain drops from on high
Had thrown this bunch of preplets from the sky.
The lights were bright, but not as bright as eyes
There laughter reigned; there was a dearth of sighs
And finally, just before the dawn did break,
The revelers went home still wide awake.
Thus did the Twenties end their year and say,
"Work while you work; but when the time comes, play."
Again the dread month of September came,
And it found the Twenties ready for the game.
They now could look down on the new-come preps
And tell this ill-used class to mind their steps,
No longer were the Twenties small and green;
They'd grown in brains as well as size, t'would seem.
Not only by strangers was this fact beheld;
The Twenties thought so too (their heads were swelled.)
They elected Rowe their president this year
And he filled the office well; to all, that's clear.
Their soph vice-president was Leo Love
So grown in height he saw them from above.

They chose Rome Smith their secretary now,
And Rome came in and grandly made his bow.
To Eloise Loomis the sophomores paid their dues,
And let all debtors tremble in their shoes.
The historian they chose this year was Louise Clark,
In basketball this lady made her mark.
With such a group of officers the class
Through the sophomore year did well and wisely pass.
The sophomore party was at Ralph Mann's home
And merrymaking rocked the Night's black dome.
The third September dread now came apace
And brought the Twenties a much higher place.
This year they were the Juniors of the school
And subject only to the Seniors' rule.
This year their pep was even greater still;
Whate'er they did, they did it with a will.
But theirs was not just blank enthusiasm;
Their pep was finely tempered now with wisdom.
This year Miss Mabel Harsch was president,
So well she served it seemed her nature bent;
And Charles McClelland was vice-president;
A livelier officer ne'er on record went
Their secretary now was Jeannette Grier,
And honored mention do they give her here.
Their worthy treasurer this year was Rowe
(To him the voters, somehow can't say "No.")
And Claudine Crisman was historian now
She really could have told Heroditus how.
And now because they'd passed the sub-deb age
Two parties in one year were they to stage.
At Agnes Bonwill's was the first to be;
A great success it was, as all could see.
'Twas there Miss Woodyard broke the breadboard strong
By riding in the aeroplane too long.
And many other funny things took place
Which made it hard to wear a mournful face.
And then, this celebration safely past,
The year advanced successfully and fast,
Until the time for The reception came
And found the Twenties' treasury quite game.
The new Hotel Ottumwa did they choose,
And tastefully their colors did they use.

The dues were steep, but then the Twenty class
Decided to be sports and let that pass.
And never was a grand affair more grand,
Their able committees stood them well in hand;
And when at 1:00 A. M. the ball was o'er
The Twenties homeward went to rest for more.
Thus ended they the year nineteen nineteen
And forward looked to nineteen Twenty's beam.
Then for the fourth and final time again
The loved, though dreaded month September came
It found the class of Twenty in its prime
Prepared for acts unequaled in all time.
Now they were Seniors, leaders of the school
And fit, if any e're were fit to rule.
This year their President was Leland Smith
And sure his great ability is no myth.
Miss Claudine Crisman was vice-president,
On doing her duty was this lady bent.
The Twenties now did choose for secretary
A famed debating star, by name John Harry.
Rowe Hinsey, still a favorite, this year
Was giv'n again the post of treasurer.
For historian they chose me, Audrey King,
And now the glories of my class I sing.
They published well a peppy Argus News
With rare jokes warranted to chase the blues.
They led the way through a ripping football season
And though some games were lost, it stands to reason
The season was a really great success
Because the team and school both did their best.
They helped along the work for basketball
And happy were to see opponents fall.
They had three really fine teams for debate
But it seemed they somehow gained the judges' hate,
And so they didn't win the championship
But they did their best and the class is proud of it.
Thus can the Twenties with a pardoned pride
Declare they bravely rode both wind and tide.
Declare they were a truly first-class class
And life's as well as schools tests they will pass.

1920 Class Song

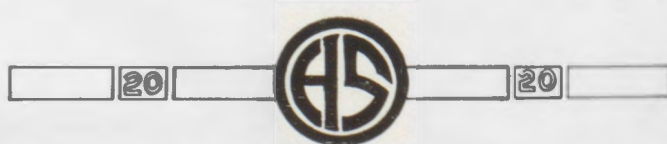

*For four long years we've struggled here
Together, with our duties;
Been saddened by each day's defects
Or gladdened by its beauties.*

*We've friendships made which e're shall be
To us by far most dear;
We'll ever think with pleasure of
The people we've known here.*

*And though tonight's the last night
We'll ever be together,
Through miles of distance, hours of time,
Our friendship ne'er shall sever.*

*For friendship is the strongest tie
That e'er held folks together,
And though we part, deep in our hearts
Our friendship lasts forever.*

Words by AUDREY KING
Music by ELOISE LOOMIS

1920 Class Will

We, the members of the Senior Class of 1920 will and bequeath the following rights to various parties to be held by them until their death.

To the Junior Class we bequeath our peppy spirit.

To the Sophomore Class we leave our girls' basketball record.

To all the future Freshman Classes we bequeath our great success for entertaining at our class parties.

Elouise Loomis bequeathes her French proposals to Ida Blanche McCarroll

To Orren Nicholson, Cecil Canterbury wills her teaching ability.

Hadley Chapman's good looks and chivalry we leave to Harold Reidquist.

Dorothy Hadden bequeathes her blushes to George O'Gar.

Russell Johnson wills his "Vampish" eyes to Lily Brody.

George has a monopoly on Mable Harsch so we have nothing to say.

Charles Barmash leaves his demureness to George Zika.

Edith Davidson wills her cheery countenance to Mary Louise Brady.

Jeannette Grier wills her friendship with Mr. McKown to the school at large.

To Glen Meagher, John Harry bequeathes his debating ability.

Gladys Canterbury leaves her extra credits to Agnes Bonwill.

Dan Haseltine bequeathes his short trousers to Laurence Hults.

Florence Johnson wills her diamond ring to Carl Mellberg hoping it will save him lots of expense.

We must take Virgil Pogue along to keep Dorothy company on the "Long, Long Trail."

Mary McCoy leaves her sweet disposition to Mr. McKown, to be used in his assembly next year.

It is not nice to give any accessories to a present away so we must take all of Harriet Myers and Thelma Pearson.

Harriet Wilson leaves her ability to be captain of Room 30 in ticket campaigns to her successor.

Elizabeth Blystone wills her musical ability to Marian Story.

Lawrence Glynn leaves his ability to sell papers at Younkens to Harold Petrie.

We take Harold Haller along for fear he will linger longer.

Mildred Hampton leaves her bobbed hair to Dorothy Hendricks.

To Lillian Denny, Dorothy McCarroll bequeathes her black eyes.

Martha Peppers leaves her "pep" to Alfreda Blomgren.

We leave Leland Smith's executive ability to the president of next year's senior class.

John Rater wills his foot-ball sagacity to Marvin Gookin.

To the O. H. S. Library John Sharp leaves his most recent volume of writings entitled "My Latest Love Affairs."

Leda Yeoman's boisterous voice we leave to Hazel Giltner.

Two feet of Richard Taylor's height are left to Mildred Riley so that Lawrence will not become stoop shouldered.

Gladys Sickels leaves her black curls to Helen Fair.

To Russell Holcomb we leave Ralph Rudkin's industrious ways.

We lovingly and unselfishly leave Delbert Springer to Eunice Nolan.

We will take Tower-Majors with us to keep our sweet tooth filled.

Ralph Thompson has gone back on the farm, "How're you going to keep him off the farm?"

To Frank Morris we bequeath Max Roth's ability to bluff.

Celestine Maschek leaves her witty???? remarks to Paul Green.

We leave Lucille Duree's Chinese eyebrows to Mildred Shaw.

We bequeath Billy Harper's wireless telegraphy knowledge to Carl Sontag.

Louise Clark wills her basketball ability to Grace Roarty.

Cornelius Bibbs bequeathes his power of intellect to Raymond Renfro.

Rowe Hinsey wills his Brilliantine to Dwain Curtis.

Gordon Johnson leaves his bashfulness to "Coxy" Gorin.

Marjorie Johnston bequeathes her alto voice to Gertrude Caswell.

Helen M. Jones wills her "cases" to Miriam Durr.

Mary Mardock's quiet ways, we will to Dorothy Pogue.

Grace Nelson leaves her flirtatious manners to Marvin Metcalf.

Ruth Perkin's long skirts we leave to Branscent Morrow.

Her ability as accompanist of the orchestra, Julia Sheehan wills to her successor.

Glyndwr Rhys leaves the difficulty of spelling his name to the faculty that they may learn to spell with rapidity Fiory Della Vedova.

William Mahoney leaves his Civics discussions to those who may need them.

Helen R. Jones wills some of her "Brunettishness" to Mildred Jones.

Claudine Crisman leaves her dignified manners to Catharine Hahn.

We leave Virginia Hatch's fiery locks to the school so that they may light the Lecture Room.

Harold Brooks ability to "jerk" sodas we will to Hubert Graves.

To Margaret Bonnifield, we will Marie Ackley's ability to entertain.

Ida Davis bequeathes her cooking ability to Lucille Cropp.

Helen Brower's relations in Room 38 we will to Garnet Dunham hoping that she will get at least a passing grade.

To Helen Emery we bequeath Dorothy Heindel's ability to exact her rights Art took Natalie Herrington before we could say anything.

We leave Audrey King's violin to Max Cohn.

We must take Leo Love along to help us in our great trials but knowing that the school can not get along without his ticket selling ability we will it to the next captain of the "pep" club.

Anna Mahoney's Spanish grades we will to Leona Picken.

We leave Hazel Colby's place on the Argus Staff to Irene Dexter.

Because of his efforts we will take Isel Hunt along altho we know Orah would like to have him.

To Matthew Grouchy we bequeath Carl Swenson's love for Scotch poetry.

Vera McCreery's friendship with Loretta Mosher we leave to the faculty.

Harriet Potter's neatness we will to Anna Marie Gallagher.

Margaret Mast's belief in the straight and narrow path we will to Arthur Shepherd.

Signa Freeman's interest in Normal training work we bequeath to Beatrice Johnson.

We bequeath our good spirit in which we have done everything to promote the welfare of the school to those who will attempt to take up our work.

The remainder of our effects which we have not willed to individuals are left to those who may need them and can use them wisely.

1920 Class Prophecy

"Good gracious, John what paper is this I am reading?" "Why be so excited about it, Max, it is only the Chicago Daily Tribune." "Well who wouldn't be. It says that the Class of 1920 of the Ottumwa High School, Ottumwa, Iowa, held a very successful class reunion. Just imagine, it has been twenty-five years ago since our class graduated." "Let's hear all about it. We should have been there, funny we didn't know anything concerning it." "Who would living on a small island like this? It was your idea I never was in favor of it. Now we have missed out on the very thing I would like to have attended." "Well, never mind that now, it is too late. Read the account of it."

On June 10, 1945 the Class of 1920 held a very successful reunion. It was held in the Ball Room of Hotel Ottumwa in order to bring back memories of the parties held there by the class when in school.

Leland Smith, President of the class presided. John Harry, Secretary called the roll. The work of the members of the class is taken from the minutes of the meeting.

Marie Ackley—Shortly after leaving school, Marie entered a circus so as to be able to entertain the people.

Charles Barmash—Broker on Wall Street. Sarah Falberg and Dora Morris are his stenographers.

Harriet Bartlett—Still selling tickets at the Circle Theatre.

Cornelius Bibb—Teaching at Lincoln University.

Stella Blunk—Unable to attend. It was said that she was still in pursuit of a man by wild driving in her father's car.

Elizabeth Blystone—Madame Blystone's Concert in South America made her attendance impossible. It is understood that few artists have been accorded so brilliant a reception in Latin America as Madame Blystone.

Harold Brooks—Manager and owner of a chain of drug stores famous for Brook's soda water.

Ernest Braun—Famous scientist in electrical field.

Helen Brower—Since her marriage twenty-three years ago nothing has been heard of her.

Hadley Chapman—Has taken Charles Ray's place in the movies. His most recent success was in the role of "One Lamp Louie" in "The Blackhand."

Gladys and Cecil Canterbury—Missionaries in China.

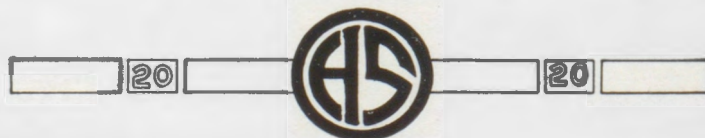

Louise Clark—Physical directress in the schools of Toronto, Canada.

Hazel Colby—Has succeeded to the place of George McManus.

Claudine Crisman—Private secretary to the President of the United States.

Edith Davidson—Professor of Mathematics at Columbia University, New York.

Ida Davis—Member of faculty at Tuskegee Institute, Alabama.

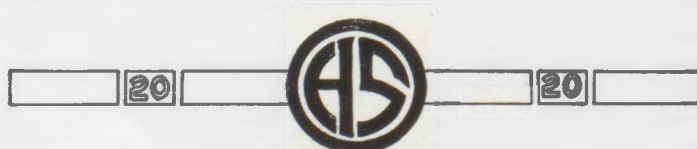

- Don Druet—Private in U. S. Army on duty in the Phillipine Islands.
- Lucile Duree—Famous Contralto singer.
- Dorothy Eaton—Authoress of New Latin Pony.
- Signa Freeman—Model in exclusive gown shop on Broadway.
- Laurence Glynn—Second Tom Moore.
- Jeannette Grier—Business Manageress of McKown's Band.
- Dorothy Hadden—Living in Wales as the wife of a mining engineer.
- John Harry—United States Senator from Iowa.
- Mable Harsch—Not present but her friends say that she is teaching the parrots to talk on Cuckoo Island.
- Daniel Haseltine—Playing part of Shylock in Shakespeare's famous drama "Merchant" of Venice."
- Virginia Hatch—Manicurist in Hotel Ottumwa.
- Dorothy Heindel—Suffragette and will run for governor of Iowa in 1946.
- Natalie Herrington—Art took her away and nothing more has been heard of her.
- Lyle Hervey—Traveling the country as a memory expert causing as much excitement as the human fly did in Ottumwa in 1920.
- Rowe Hinsey—Touring Europe as a violinist. Not present.
- Isel Hunt—Taxi driver.
- Florence Johnson—Her future was known by everyone when the class parted in 1920
- Gordon Johnson—Not present but his adventures as a Civil Engineer in South Africa have been heard by everyone.
- Russell Johnson—Stenographer to Senator Harry.
- Marjorie Johnston—On stage at New Vaudeville at Libertyville creating quite a sensation with "Round Her Neck She Wears a Yellow Ribbon."
- Helen M. Jones—Helen made a number of unsuccessful attempts at matrimony, her last victim being Leo Love and gave up hope and went to Ceylon. Miss Johnston read a letter she received today telling of her marriage to one of the natives.
- Helen R. Jones—Selling patent medicine "Sure Growth," taking Dick Taylor along to prove it.
- Audrey King—The famous King poems have been read by everyone.
- Eloise Loomis—Resident of Paris.
- Leo Love—Leo made a big hit when he appeared here a few weeks ago in Ringling Circus. He grew three feet after leaving school and joined the circus as the tallest man in the world.
- Dorothy McCarroll—Assisting Virgil as Athletic Director in Buenos Aires.
- Mary McCoy—Teaching in a Kindergarten school in Chicago.

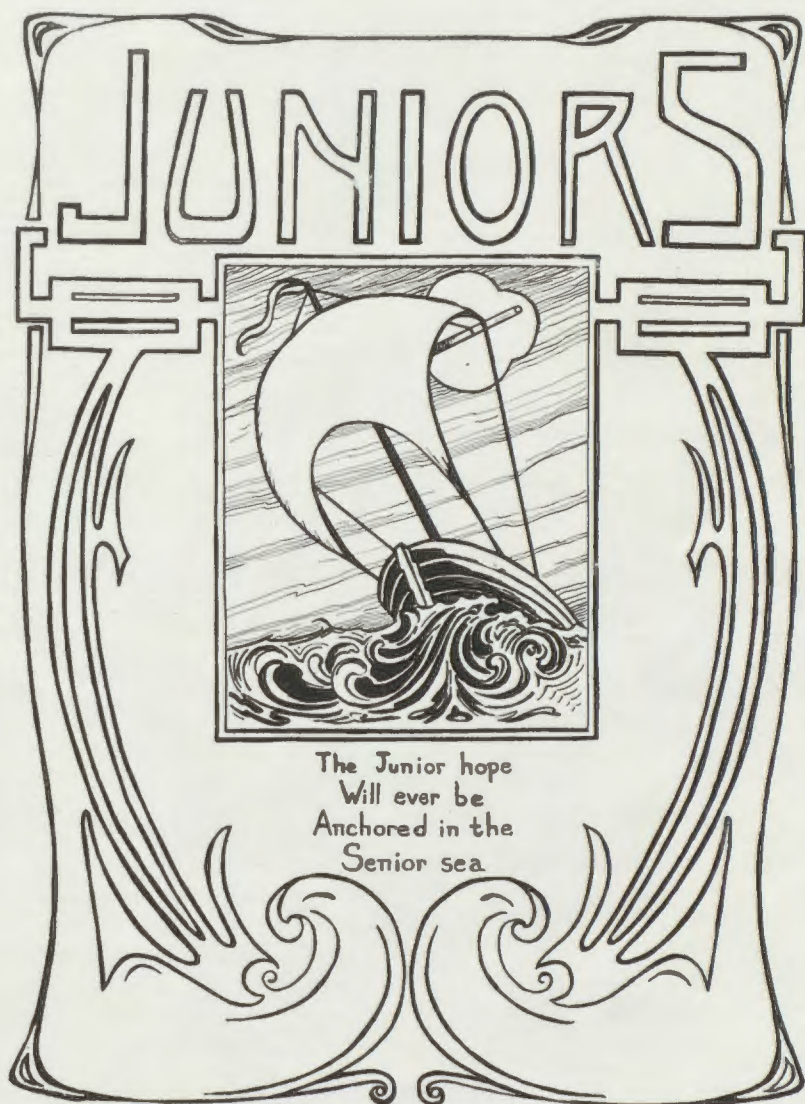

- Vera McCreery and Mary Mardock—Both are tight rope walkers.
- Ronald McVey—Awarded Noble prize for calculating the distance and successfully sending a man to Mars.
- Anna Mahoney—Running a beauty parlor in Egypt.
- William Mahoney—Architect.
- Webster Majors—Married life not happy and just received a divorce and will start over again.
- Celestine Maschek—Not present but she is traveling the country as an advertisement for "Djer Kiss."
- Margaret Mast—Teaching elocution on the Hawaiian Islands.
- Carl Mellburg—Following in his father's footsteps.
- Harriet Myers—Singing for Kenneth.
- Grace Nelson—Latest book on "Beauty" recently published.
- Thelma Pearson—Artist
- Mart'ha Peppers—Successor of Doris Blake of the Chicago Tribune.
- Ruth Perkins—Not able to locate her at time of reunion.
- Harriet Potter—Running Fashion Shop at Bladensburg.
- Ruth Robertson and Cecil Randall—Both were crossed in love so entered a nunnery. "Ha, Ha, here we are."
- Max Roth and John Sharp—Left for an island for perfect quiet and have been heard of no more.
- Ralph Rudkin—Advertising manager of the New York World.
- Julia Sheehan—Acting as Chairman of Debates for a living.
- Gladys Sickels—A brunette Mary Pickford.
- Leland Smith—Supreme Justice of U. S.
- Delbert Springer—Debating coach at Oxford, England.
- Carl Swenson—Manager of Electric Light Plant in Tokio, Japan.
- Doris Tower—Famous ballet dancer.
- Ralph Thompson—Has taken C. C. Carrothers place as debating coach.
- Harriet Wilson—Selling popcorn on corner of Market and Main.
- Georgia Winpigler—Dorothy's successor as Mr. Rice's assistant.
- Leda Yeomans—Speaker of House of Representative.

The Juniors take a Trip Around the World

The great company of Sheafe and McConnell had become known throughout the world for its output of wonderful airships. The latest ship was a palace of monstrous size. There were parlor cars, dining rooms, state rooms and everything that could be desired for the convenience of the passengers.

We, the Class of 1921 had decided to make a trip around the world in this plane. The start was to be made from an air route station in Ottumwa on June fourteenth, 1931. For a week previous to the date set, members of the class had applied at the station for tickets which were sold on the basis of individual weight. Louise Nelson and Myrtle Hall were almost compelled to run into debt on account of the great price of their tickets, while Donald Downs and Paul Greene received passage for almost nothing.

At last, the great morning came! We were to leave at eight o'clock. We entered from the ground, and by means of an elevator were carried past engine rooms to state rooms, in the main part of the ship. When all were settled, the pilot, Otto Matthews yelled, "Let 'er go!" After lunch, when we assembled in the immense parlor of the plane, we saw in one of the cozy corners Pauline Patterson and Glenn McMickle. Pauline, the most noted vampire of the country, was playing opposite Glenn for the Hill Motion Picture Company. In another part of the room were Beatrice Davis, Ruth Walker, Jessie Porter and Ruth Brown, noted school teachers, who were discussing the latest book of Irene Dexter on "Child Education." The paintings in the large parlor had been drawn by Orren Nicholson and Fern Huey. Margaret Cecconi, Mabel Chickering, Marie Baker, Jeanette Adams, Bertha Brody and Catherine Stevens were discussing in loud voices the insignificance of man, using Herbert Criley as their example. These woman suffragettes had won much influence in the country—in fact, they were talking of nominating Elizabeth Webb for president of the United States, the next time. In another part of the room sat Leah Humiston and Reuben Hawkinson deep in conversation. It was reported that the plans of Gladys Fulton and Bernard LeBow had been spoiled because the Justice of the Peace, Claude Fair, failed to appear in time.

At about four o'clock we reached New York, where Jean Trobridge and Ruth Forsythe were let down to their law offices. We then left New York and started our trip across the ocean. After dinner, we were efficiently ushered by Marvin Matcalf and John Skirvin into the huge auditorium where a splendid program was given. First we were entertained by the wonderful toe-dancer, Virginia Spurgeon. Then the chorus girls Irene Coffman, Miriam Durr, Garnet Dunham, Grace Patton and Isal McReynolds, sang. A few stunts by the clowns, Eugene Hagberg and Pete Leinhauser, proved to be very enjoyable. A short play on "Bringing Up Father," was next given. Margaret Falk took the part of Maggie; Luther Reese, the part of Jiggs; Lillian Denny of their beautiful daughter and Leo Hahn, of Dinty Moore. It was very well staged under the direction of Frank Morris. There was also a piano solo by Marion Story, several songs were rendered by the male quartette, which was composed of Russell Holcomb, Max Cohn, Orlo Ross and Arthur Hallberg.

The next morning the doctors, Walter Minks and John Farrell were kept very busy on account of the great number of people that were air-sick. The nurses Mildred Jones and Helen Poling were kept rushing from one room to another. About noon we reached London, where Mildred Riley, Lawrence Hulst, Bernice Baum and Maurice Buchanan were let off. There was much speculating as to what their plans were.

The second night out a great banquet was given, Harold Reidquist acting as toastmaster. The banquet was very well served by the waitresses, Mildred Lambertson, Anna Marie Gallagher and Irene Guggerty. Every one noticed that Neil Perdew kept his eyes on one of the waitresses all during the meal. We thought he was love-sick, because he hardly ate a thing. Following the banquet was a ball, for which the music was furnished by the Swenson orchestra. Lelah Heckman, Louise Burnaugh and Dorothy Mirgon, under their leaders direction produced the latest "Kangaroo Glide."

The third day as we sailed over Sweden, Ruth Swanson, Carl Anderson, Alfreda Blomgren, Irene Johnson, and Evelyn Lundberg were dropped off to visit their ancestors. When we reached Russia, Edward Fritz and Matthew Grouchy requested a stop over at Zachkowxyesow, since they had been detailed by the U. S. government to settle the Bolshevik movement. After a few hours, we came to India, where we stopped to visit Lelia Holloway, Elizabeth Horan, Julia Peck, and Merle Dimmitt, who were doing wonderful work there converting the heathens. We were soon on our journey again, for we had to be in China early the next morning to drop our missionaries, Helen Fair, Alice Blunk, Marjorie Roth and Jeanette Funk. We reached Japan soon after and picked up Clarence Shadley, Raymond Emery, and Fiory Della Vedova, who had been doing some government work there. That evening, Patrick Butler, our wireless operator, came rushing through the ship, waving a slip of paper over his head and shouting, "A message from H. C. McKown" Orah Tullis, grabbing it from his hand, read it to us—"I wish a happy journey to the glorious class of 1921." Our stopping place was Honolulu, where we left Florence Yates, Selma and Averil Wilson, Ruth Walker, Eloise Brady, and Maizie Aireingdale, who were at last to realize their ambitions of becoming Hulu Dancers.

On the return to the states, a stop was made at Los Angeles, where Mildred Shaw, Margerete Pumroy, Estella Harlan, Nellis Dunham and Bessie Foglesong entered the movie world. In passing over Wyoming, we stopped at Yellowstone Park and saw a number of our class mates. Lawrence Bosworth kept the toll gate; Ellen Kelter kept the monkeys; Mary Guggerty, the numerous wild animals; Helen Jones kept guard over the geysers and Leona Pickens was the guard to show us around the park.

At last we were again in good old Iowa. Although we had enjoyed our trip greatly, we were glad to again be on firm land in the best city of the union.

The Junior High School

Four years ago the main high school building became overcrowded, so an Annex was established for Freshmen. Last fall an extension was added to the original Annex and this building became known as the Junior High School.

Here the regular first year studies compose the curriculum. With supervised study, excellent discipline and a fine high school spirit, the Freshman is here introduced into high school life and is better prepared to enter the main high school.

The enrollment of 200 students form the "Student Body", which is divided into seven sections. Officers are elected in the student body and in the different sections. Both a Boys' and Girls' Glee Club, Basketball Teams, and representation on the Argus-News and Argus Annual Staffs offer training and experience. The Junior High School deserves great credit for the splendid manner in which they responded to the Argus Annual and season ticket campaigns.

In spite of the new addition the ever increasing enrollment is fast making their facilities inadequate, and every high school student is patiently waiting for the completion of the new high school building.

O. H. S. Glee Clubs

MRS. ALBERTA POWELL HEALD
SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC
OTTUMWA PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Dame Fortune Favored us when she sent Mrs. Heald to supervise the music department in O. H. S. Mrs. Heald is a graduate of the American Conservatory of Music of Chicago and has studied widely under private instruction. Her excellent training, coupled with her knowledge of the art of working harmoniously with girls, made success seem certain from the beginning. If we are fortunate enough to have Mrs. Heald with us next year, we have a very good chance to repeat the successes of 1919-1920.

FIRST GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Reorganization of the First Girls' Glee Club last September was more of a task than usual because several former members in addition to members of the Class of 1919 had left Ottumwa High for other schools. How thoroughly the work was accomplished was evidenced in November, however, when the Club entered the Albia Eisteddfod and won four First Prizes in addition to a number of Seconds. This was the first time any considerable number of Ottumwa High School students had participated in an Eisteddfod. The girls entered into the spirit of the contests whole-heartedly, as they had pursued their rehearsals, and their superiority over all competitors was attested by the Adjudicator, a noted Welsh musical authority, who praised them and their director for their perfect unity of parts and the general excellence of their singing.

In January the Club appeared in a concert at the High School to raise funds covering the expense of the Albia trip. Immediately afterward the girls plunged into diligent practice for the Des Moines Eisteddfod, in which they were to meet in competition the representatives of larger schools.

The Des Moines Eisteddfod, February 22, will be remembered always by the students who participated. Friends, parents, fellow students and teachers were deeply interested, and their telegrams and good wishes cheered the girls as they arrived in Des Moines to contest with the representatives of that city's schools before Des Moines audiences.

Ottumwa won six First Prizes and two Seconds in seven contests, two local competitors in one number being awarded first and second place respectively. Again the Adjudicator called particular attention to the marked superiority of our club's singing, the interpretation of the number, the excellent balancing of the parts and the splendid team work which is so essential in the successful Glee Club.

The Ottumwa Commercial Club in a letter to Principal W. B. Rice, expressed their appreciation of this achievement and thanked the O. H. S. girls for the honors they brought home to Ottumwa.

This popular organization has been unable to comply with all requests for engagements but has appeared on a number of programs, including—church services, church societies, Rotary Club Banquet, Wapello Club, Camp-fire Girls' Benefit concerts, Chapel, Annual Musical, High School Night and Commencement, also furnished one number of the Bladensburg Lecture Course

The original ticket selling campaign assured the financial success of the Prize Winner's Program at the Grand Opera House, March 19th, and their beautiful concerted work in the songs added to the vocal triumphs of this unusually fine Glee Club.

Music in O. H. S.

Although Music has been included in courses of study for many years, it is only recently that its importance has been generally recognized and it has been given a place co-ordinate with other branches of education.

Music is an elective in High School and Junior High, and students progress from chorus work to glee club and solo experience as they develop talent and ability. Under this plan Ottumwa High School, in the last year, has sent representatives into competition with other schools and with adult musicians, and the Ottumwans have won honors for themselves and their school.

Choral singing, the initial step, enables the supervisor to select from a large field those best fitted for glee club work, and progress from the Second Glee Club to the First is recognized as deserved promotion. During the year just closing this plan has been followed with girl students, and the popularity achieved by the Girls' First Glee Club in numerous public appearance is proof of its success. The same method is to be used in developing Boys' Glee Clubs, work to that end having been inaugurated this year at Junior High School.

As a part of the system, High School credits have been accorded individual students for musical work under private instructors, and students have been encouraged to develop their musical abilities while pursuing their other regular studies.

That many of the O. H. S. students are interested in music is plainly shown by the fact that 160 are enrolled in the Choruses and Glee Clubs of the Music Department of the High School and over 80 more are found in the Junior High Glee Clubs.

With such a number of enthusiastic workers there is no doubt that the high standard of the Music of this past year will be maintained or perhaps raised even to a greater degree of excellence this coming year.

Second Girls' Glee Club

There are 49 girls in the Second Girls' Glee Club, and all have worked with a purpose this year—that of making ready to fill any vacancy occurring in the First Girls' Glee Club. Working with this incentive, they achieved a degree of excellence seldom reached by a Second Glee Club.

This Club has sung at a number of church and community affairs throughout the year, also giving very successful numbers in chapel, on the Annual Musical program and their very original numbers on the High School Night Program. One of the most enjoyable events of the year was the Christmas program and treat given by the Second Girls' Glee Club to the little children of the Iowa Home Finding Association.

Review of Boys' Glee Club

E. H. FLOWERS
DIRECTOR

This club organized this year with the view in mind of carrying on more extensive work than ever. A uniform costume is used in its concert work. The membership is not very large, but any student able to meet the club's requirements is eligible to membership.

More than local distinction has been gained, for several concerts have been given in neighboring towns and rural chapels. The club is able to present an evening's entertainment consisting of a short play and stunts besides its regular musical numbers. A concert was given this spring at the Willard Street Methodist Church and the club was represented on the Annual Musicales and High School Night programs. Judging by the applause given this club it is evidently popular.

Mr. E. H. Flowers has directed the Boys' Club for the past few years and he has had several year's experience in college glee clubs. Under his supervision many hours of practice are spent each week and much of the Club's success is due to him.

Mr. Flowers is planning to fill the vacancies which will be caused by graduation, and another successful season is expected.

Girls' Chorus

Sixty-six ambitious girls are entered in the Girls' High School Chorus. They have worked steadily and earnestly thus establishing a foundation for especially good Glee Club organizations in the years to come. Their first appearance at the Annual High School Musical was very pleasing and later when they sang in chapel their sprightly numbers made a decided hit.

There are many promising voices of good quality and unusual volume in this group of younger girls.

Mrs. Heald has planned several new features for work of the chorus of next year which will add greatly to the benefit and pleasure of the work.

Boys' Chorus

The Boys' Chorus is a new organization in O. H. S. this year and though not large in number, it is an enthusiastic group.

This Boys' Chorus of 1920 marks the first step in the foundation of a chorus and Glee Club system among the O. H. S. boys, similar to that so successfully maintained by the Girls' Musical Clubs for the past few years—viz: promotion from Chorus to Glee Clubs, after regular semesters' work with credit.

This will increase the interest and efficiency as well as the number of the boys of the Music department.

The unusually good material from Junior High and the many excellent voices of the upper class men give promise of some new live musical clubs among the boys of O. H. S.

O. H. S. ORCHESTRA

The O. H. S. Orchestra

H. C. McKOWN
DIRECTOR

One of the best features at the Ottumwa High School this year is the orchestra, which comprises forty-five pieces. We are proud that we have always had one of the finest high school orchestras in the state.

It is one of the most appreciated organizations in school. It is undoubtedly the best "pep rouser" that we have, for the music that it furnishes at the chapel exercises is guaranteed to drive away all blues and inspire the dullest with great thoughts.

Each year the orchestra adds to its well earned reputation at the Annual Musicale, where its numbers always make a decided impression upon an appreciative audience.

The orchestra is under the efficient directing of Mr. H. C. McKown, who also led it during the year 1917-1918, until he entered the U. S. Air service. Under his leadership the orchestra has reached a position where its harmony and execution is remarkable.

Approximately eight of its members will graduate, but the large majority will be left to carry on the good work next year.

CLARKE

STOWELL

MR. H. C. McKOWN, Business Manager

As business manager of the 1919-20 Athletic season, Mr. McKOWN served very faithfully and efficiently. Backed by the school he made it possible for the season to support itself financially and as a live and enthusiastic booster for O. H. S. he was not surpassed.

MR. A. H. JOHNSON, Coach

Mr. Johnson's work contributed much to the success of the football season, and his influence served to provide for a suitable field on which to hold the games. His previous experience and interest in O. H. S. athletics made him the logical man to coach the girls' basketball team.

MR. C. W. CLARKE, Coach

This was Mr. Clarke's first year here, but he took an active part in coaching the football and boys' basketball teams, and handled the track season without assistance.

MR. L. L. STOWELL, Coach

Mr. Stowell was a new man here but he responded freely with valuable assistance in both football and boys' basketball, and showed much interest in all forms of athletics.

O. H. S. FOOTBALL TEAM

Review of Football Season

LYLE HERVEY
CAPTAIN

With perhaps the lightest team in its history Ottumwa began its football season Handicapped by this disadvantage the team pushed through the season with excellent results. Four games were won one tied, and four were lost, making a total of nine games played. It was not an eleven man team, for during the course of the season 28 players actually represented O. H. S. in interscholastic games, and until the close of the season, two full teams reported for regular practice. Good clean sportsmanship was displayed at all times and at every crisis, and from any standpoint that one can take the season was an ultimate success. These facts point out that our aggregation will demand respect next fall

The first game of the season played here with Seymour, was scarcely a good tryout for us. Our team clearly exhibited superior coaching and with the game well in hand, most of the second team men were entered in the last half. This gave Seymour a chance to score in the last minute of play. The final score was 54 to 6 in our favor

The team was still regarded as an unknown quantity when it journeyed to Chariton, but the injuries of Captain Hervey, Rater and Renfro were a strong drawback for us. Chariton scored in the first half, and all of Ottumwa's skill in forward passes could not overcome the lead. The game ended in their favor, 7 to 0.

The following Saturday was bright and clear. Centerville confidently came here to conquer us. Ottumwa's passing worked smoothly, two touchdowns being scored via the air route. Fisher's "educated toe" boosted us with a neat drop kick and the game ended with the victory in our hands, 17 to 0.

Dope favored Ottumwa before its game with Albia, and for once, the dope was correct. Depending solely on line plunges, Albia went over for a touchdown. Soon after Fisher scored with a drop kick and in the last quarter Grooms recovered a fumble and raced thirty yards to the goal posts. The final score was Ottumwa 10, Albia 7.

Our old rival, Fairfield, came to dispute football honors with us a week later. For once Ottumwa was evenly matched, and showed up well too. Both sides were continually forced to uncover their best plays and work their hardest. As the result both teams scored a touchdown, but Fairfield failed to kick goal so the game ended in our favor, 7 to 6.

Burlington was the stage for our next contest. Some were so bold as to predict a 30-0 game for us, but once more the dope twisted. The first quarter ended 7 to 7. According to custom, Ottumwa came back strongly in the second half, but were unable to stop Burlington from running up 11 more points. The final score was Burlington 18, O. H. S. 7.

The next week of training was spent in preparing to stop line plunges, for Washington had an unusually heavy line. The game was played in a great "gob" of mud, making all plays slow and clumsy. Washington scored on an intercepted pass, but a few minutes later also secured a touch down on a forward pass. Rater's long run and tackle was the feature of the game and it saved the day for us. The result was the only tie of the season, 7 to 7.

Our next game was a return game with Fairfield, but our inability to play away from home permitted them to score twice in the first half. Again we came back strongly in the second half, but were powerless to do more than threaten their goal once. The game came to a close with defeat thrust upon us, 14 to 0.

The final game of the season was played at Oskaloosa on Thanksgiving day. Osky had won all but one of its games, and lost this one 3-0 to Des Moines, so this opponent was rightfully respected. The Penn College Gridiron was covered with snow and ice, and the chill air numbed the players hands, but nevertheless the team was determined that Osky must fight. The first half ended 19 to 0 in their favor. The second half began well but ended poorly. Renfro and Fisher were forced out because of injuries, which weakened our defense considerably. Osky now began its famous end runs, and with remarkable interference, worked them at will. Father time brought the game to a welcome end, with the bacon in their hands, 72 to 0.

Thus was our football season of 1919 brought to a close.

Captain LYLE HERVEY, L. T.

Three years of football work for the O. H. S. gave Lyle excellent preparation for leadership. His clean sportsmanship, fighting spirit and pep served as true incentive to the entire team. Although always playing against heavier men, he never diminished his aggressive work. Lyle will be claimed by graduation.

JOHN RATER, F. B.

Rater has the qualities of an "honest to goodness" real gridiron man. He did three-fourths of our tackling and he gave all that he had for the good of O. H. S. His loss by graduation will be keenly felt.

GLYNDWR RHYS, R. E.

"Hindoo" was a valuable man in breaking up interference, and playing a strong defensive game, and he delighted in punting duels. He will graduate in June.

VIRGIL POGUE, L. E.

Pogue's shifty work and ability to diagnose plays made him a trusty man on our eleven. He will be greatly missed next year, for graduation claims him.

RICHARD TAYLOR, C.

"Big Dick's" accurate passing could not be beaten, while his lofty frame impeded many a man. Taylor will graduate.

RICHARD PERDEW, Q. B.

"Little Dick's" pilot work was excellent and his football ability has been proven. Much is expected of him next year.

CLAIR GROOMS, R. G.

If a fumble was any where near "Skinny", he was certain to be there to pick it up. Grooms will be an asset to next year's squad.

ROLLAND FISHER, L. H.

"Roll" was light but made up for it in fight and speed and his tackling was accurate. He will be with us next year.

RAYMOND RENFRO, R. H.

"Ray" was always willing and ready to carry the ball, while his tackling was vicious. Renfro will be saved for next year.

MAX ROTH, R. T.

Playing his second year on the red and white eleven "Mickey" proved himself a strong man on both the offence and defence. Roth graduates.

FRANK BUCHANAN, L. G.

Frank played a steady improving game all season, a tower of strength on the defence. He will be valuable to next year's team.

The following men were always ready to enter the fray at any time and could be strongly relied upon to do their best. With the exception of Glynn, all will be left for next year.

MATTHEW GROUCHY—sub-half.

NEIL PERDEW—sub-half.

ARTHUR SHEPHERD—sub-tackle.

LOWELL SEDORE—sub-backfield.

O. H. S. BASKETBALL TEAM

Review of Basketball Season

GLYNDWR RHYS
CAPTAIN

The basketball season of 1920 began a little earlier than usual this year in the Southeastern Iowa League. When coach Clarke called for recruits a good number responded, including four experienced men to serve as a nucleus for the team. A schedule of ten games was played, four of which were won; one was forfeited to us; and five were lost. Some very good material remains for next year's quintet.

On December 19, the O. H. S. team was to meet Mt. Pleasant on their home floor, but they saw fit to forfeit the game to us. Our tossers then journeyed to Washington and began the New Year with a 21 to 12 victory.

The Fairfield lads came to dispute honors with us on January 10, which they successfully did, to the tune of 16 to 8. The following week brought Muscatine here to repeat the performance, but to their dismay we sent them home with the smaller end of a 21 to 13 score. This success raised our hopes and greatly increased our confidence.

On January 23, Ottumwa went to Muscatine, who was still smarting under their recent defeat. They did all they could—and a little more—to beat us, they finally did 38 to 26. Rough playing was the feature of this contest. A week later the team went to Burlington determined to even up the football score. It couldn't be done this time, and we lost, 37 to 15.

The next few games were also "hoodoos". First Oskaloosa trimmed the team 33 to 13, and Fairfield handed us another defeat 20 to 10. The first half of the latter game was exceptionally fast and close. The next game was held here with Burlington on February 20, but luck broke against us once more, and we were handed a 43 to 15 defeat.

Nevertheless, in the face of five straight defeats, the team finished the season with a victory. Washington came here to get revenge, but it was not to be had. After a slow game, they went home with a 21 to 11 defeat. The climax of the season came with the Asylum City squad. Mt. Pleasant was unable to cope with the O. H. S. tossers, so the final score was 36 to 14 in our favor.

This fittingly closed the season for another year.

Captain RHYS

"Hindoo" was undoubtedly responsible for much of the fighting spirit shown throughout the entire season. He began the season as the pivot man, but was later shifted to right forward. It is regretted that he will be lost by graduation.

VIRGIL POGUE, Forward

"Pogie" played an exceptionally consistent game throughout the whole schedule. As an accurate and speedy forward he was a very hard man to keep from scoring. He will graduate in June.

ROLAND FISHER, Guard

As a guard, "Rol" certainly was a "sticker." His specialty was blocking plays, and he played a good aggressive game. Fisher will be saved for next year.

RICHARD TAYLOR, Center

Once more "Big Dick's" lofty frame came in handy. Taylor played a hard, steady game, and will be missed on next year's line.

MATTHEW GROUCHY, Guard

"Budd" began the season in excellent form, but two weeks of sickness put him out of the scrap. He will be a reliable man next year, for he plays a fine defensive game.

JOHN STERNEMAN, Guard

Sterneman did not enter the fray until the middle of the season, but proved his worth by putting up a stiff fight every minute. He will be a valuable man next year.

LEO LOVE, Forward

Love was ready to play at all times and he showed that he was a man of no mean ability. He graduates in June, so will not be able to continue his work next year.

GILBERT SPONSLER, Forward

Sponsler was often called upon to jump in the game and do his best. With one more year to play he should become a mainstay on the O. H. S. quintet.

Tyler, Head, Gookin, May and Dornsife are deserving of a full share of the credit which goes to the O. H. S. team. They supported the team loyally throughout the whole season, and their valuable assistance was undoubtedly a great help. All of them will be ready for duty next year, and all will make excellent showings.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM

Review of Girls' Basketball Season

Once more the fates were against us, from two standpoints: the first, the number of games played; the second, the scores of the two games that were played. It seems that many of our rival schools have discontinued girls' basketball, for it was very difficult to get a good, complete schedule made.

Guided by coach Johnson, the annual game with the Exiles opened the season and they fell before us, 17 to 13. Cheered by this victory, the O. H. S. lassies bravely tackled Albia's experienced and seasoned team February 27 on their home floor. A hot contest was waged but we were left with the small end of a very close score, 14 to 11.

Not dismayed in the least they prepared for a tussle with our old rival Fairfield on March 2. To prove their courage, they agreed to play also. Once more we were doomed to a defeat by 3 points, for the final score was 10 to 7.

EDITH DAVIDSON
CAPTAIN

F. H. S. on their home floor
by 3 points, for the final score

There is no doubt that, if the girls had more opportunities, they would have demonstrated their superior playing ability and would have gone through a better and more successful season. Coach Johnson has had a wide experience in several forms of athletics, and he deserves credit for his enthusiastic and persistent efforts. We hope that he will be here next year.

Unless something is done to push this activity in our neighboring communities in the immediate future, we fear to predict the schedule of next year's girls' basketball season. Anyway, let us be optimistic and hope for the best.

Captain EDITH DAVIDSON, Side-Center

Two years of playing for O. H. S. gave "Davy" excellent preparation for her leadership of the girls' sextette. She persistently played both an offensive and defensive game and always pushed the game to the last minute. Edith will be greatly missed next year for she graduates in June.

LEONA PICKEN, Center

"Pickie" was one of the three girls who played every minute in all three of the games played this year. "Pickie" will be in school next fall and will probably take charge of the center position.

MABEL HARSCH, Guard

"Harschie" played the same hard game as guard which she has played for three years. She could always be counted on to keep her opponent down to a limited number of baskets. She will graduate.

PHYLLIS SPEIRS, Guard

"Speirs" showed us the caliber of which she was made in the Albia game. She played a steady game at guard, her pass work with Harsch was especially good.

LOUISE CLARK, Forward

"Clarkie" played her fourth year as forward this year. Out of town teams have learned to fear "Clarkie" and her famous one handed throw. Her position as forward will be hard to fill next year.

MARTHA PEPPERS

"Pep" entered the fray at Albia and showed up very well. She played her last game for O. H. S. at Fairfield.

LEDA YEOMANS

"Leda" was always on the job and could be depended upon to do her best at any time. She will graduate in June.

DOROTHY POGUE

It seems to run in the Pogue family to be basket shooters. She should be one of the best players for O. H. S. next year.

GRACE ROARTY

"Roarty" makes up in speed what she lacks in stature for she seems to be able to go almost as fast as the ball. She will be with us next year.

BOYS' CLASS GAMES

Contrary to rule, the Preps were strong contenders for the boys' Class Championship this year. The Seniors had little difficulty in disposing of the Juniors, but the Freshman Class beat the Sophomores by one point. This left the Seniors and the Preps in the finals. Throughout the whole game the Seniors were hard pressed, but finally succeeded in conquering, 13 to 10. If the Freshmen keep up this pace, they should be crack players after two more years of experience.

GIRLS' CLASS GAMES

This time, the championship title went to the girls of '21. In the preliminaries they easily defeated the Freshmen, while the Seniors put the Sophomores out of the race. The final game was staged between the two upper classes, and the players appeared to be fairly evenly matched. Nevertheless the Juniors away with the Championship by a score of 8 to 3. This speaks well for a good team next year.

1920 Track Season

During the war, track work was dropped in O. H. S., but last spring a revival of this activity occurred. Early in the year training began, and interest was aroused by interclass meets. The first one was held in the Y. M. C. A. on March 26, the Seniors and Sophomores tying for first place with 26 points each, and the Juniors being a close third with 25 points. Two weeks later a large out-door meet was held, the Juniors winning first place with 45 points, the Seniors second with 40 and the Sophomores third with 32. The Freshmen were not dangerous rivals at either meet.

April 17, a dual meet was held with Fairfield on the Parsons College field. Ottumwa easily out-classed the Nixonites and captured the meet with a score of 72 to 46.

The big event of the year was the Drake Relay, which took place April 24. Running against the keenest competition, the half mile relay team, composed of Sexton, N. Perdew, Leinhauser and Chidester, took fifth place. R. Perdew, Hervey, Hultz, and Powers ran the mile, placing seventh. Fifth place was also taken in the medley race.

May 15, nine men were sent to the Tri-State meet held at Fairfield. R. Perdew placed third in the 440 yard dash, while N. Perdew, Hultz and McVey ran the mile relay, winning first place. First honors went to Ft. Madison, and Trenton, Missouri, took second.

Our best success came with the Centerville invitation meet, held on May 21. O. H. S. won the meet, the final outcome being undecided until we won the half mile relay. The team won a large silver cup for winning the meet, five individual cups and three gold medals. Sterneman was the individual point winner of the meet, which entitled him to a cup.

Every man except Harry, Pogue, Hervey, Jacques and McVey will be left for next year's season. Over 50 men participated in track work last spring, so our prospects for winning honors on the cinder path next year are very promising.

N. PERDEW

Neil was our dash man, able to clip off the 100 yard stretch in 10 and 2-5, and also the 220 in very fast time. He is a Junior and with another year ahead of him he should be able to take off at least 1-5 of a second off of his 100 yard dash time. There is no doubt but that he will fill the captain's position very ably and successfully next year.

100 YD. DASH—N. Perdew, Leinhauser, Pogue.

200 YD. DASH—N. Perdew, Leinhauser, Pogue, Harry, Sexton, Renfro, Chidester.

440 YD. DASH—Hervey, Powers, D. Perdew, Hultz, McVey.

MILE RUN—Hultz, Curtis, Gorin, Tullis.

POLE VAULT—Grooms Pogue, Fisher, Jacques.

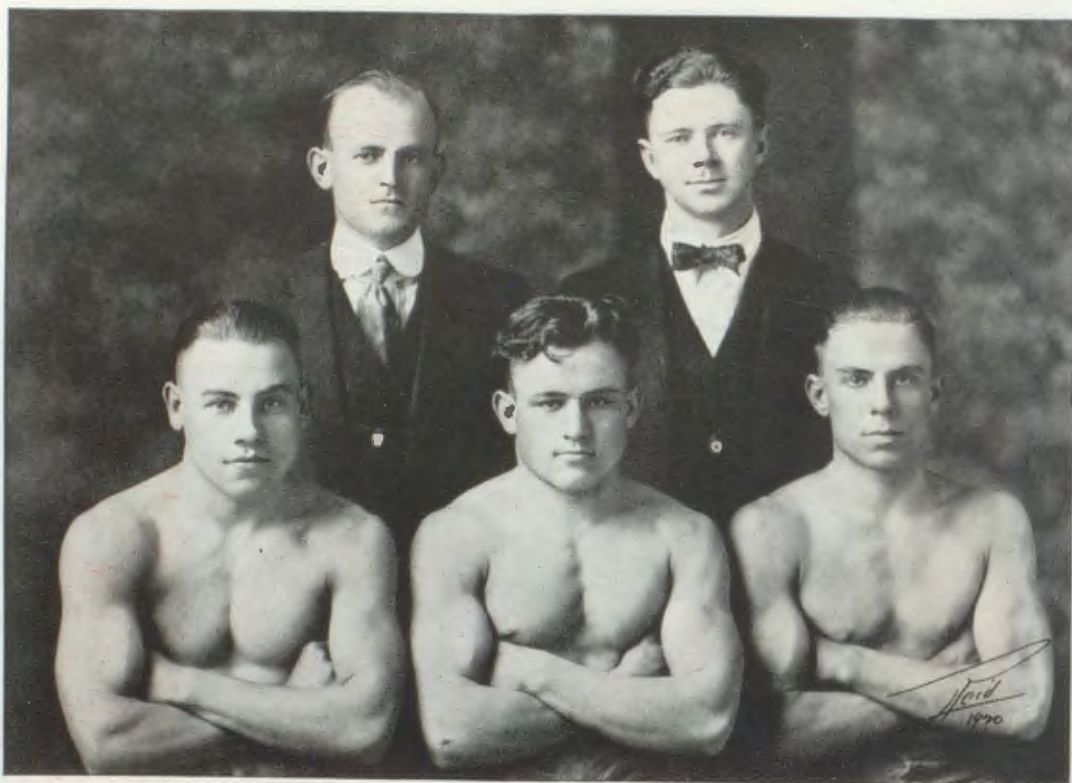

SHOT PUT—Sterneman Replogle.

HURDLES—Sterneman, Harry, Chidester,

BROAD JUMP—Renfro, Harry, Replogle, Sterneman.

O. H. S. Wrestling Team

GROOMS — REPLOGLE — HARRY

McKOWN—Business Manager

CLARKE—Coach

This was the first wrestling team we ever had, and few high schools can boast one. Because Ottumwa is a pioneer in this activity, matches were hard to arrange. Only one match was held, and that was with Fairfield April 17. Grooms won his two falls in the light-weight class, while Replogle (light-heavy-weight) and Harry (bantam-weight) each lost one fall. Grooms and Replogle will be here next year to take part in mat work.

DEBATE

ORATORY

The 1920 Debating Season

C. C. CARRUTHERS
COACH

Last year's graduation left us with only three men who had had any experience whatever in forensic work, but through the enthusiastic and persistent efforts of our widely experienced coach, Mr. Carruthers, tryouts were held and nine contestants were selected to represent O. H. S. in this activity. Because of different questions in the State and Big Nine Leagues, three teams were necessary.

The question in the State League was: "Resolved that the United States should adopt a system of Compulsory Military Training for all able bodied men before they reach the age of twenty-one." The first debate in this league was held here, January 30th, with New London. We defeated them 3 to 0, and two weeks later Wapello forfeited a debate to us.

On February 27th we received a setback from Knoxville, who came here and conquered us 2 to 1.

The Big Nine question was: "Resolved that a Federal Arbitration Law should be enacted to settle all Labor disputes." Fairfield came here March 11, and went home with a 3 to 0 victory, while our team at Burlington on the same evening was beaten 2 to 1.

To close the season a dual debate was held with Washington April 15 on the question of "Universal Military Training." We won the affirmative side 2 to 1, but lost the negative 3 to 0.

From the standpoint of victories, the season appears to be only partially successful but such a good foundation was laid for next year that the question of scores is overshadowed, so it is with great expectancy that we look for the next year's debating season to roll around.

STATE TEAM

DELBERT SPRINGER

AUDREY KING

JOHN HARRY

The State Team was composed of Delbert Springer, Audrey King, and John Harry. This was Audrey's first year in debating work, but she proved to be a clear thinker and a consistent performer. Springer was a willing worker and his delivery was very good. This was his second year's experience. Harry finished his fourth year on the platform and showed up well in all points which make a successful debater. All three of these debaters are seniors and their loss by graduation will be very keenly felt.

AFFIRMATIVE "BIG NINE" TEAM

HAROLD REIDQUIST

RUTH SWANSON

FRANK MORRIS

Harold Reidquist, Ruth Swanson and Frank Morris made up this team. Reidquist was one of our best debaters, always dependable and forceful in both main arguments and rebuttals. Ruth's debating was also clear and forceful, and Morris's delivery was smooth and convincing. All three will be ready to support this work next year.

NEGATIVE "BIG NINE" TEAM

RALPH THOMPSON

ARTHUR SHEPHERD

GLENN MEAGHER

Ralph Thompson, Arthur Shepherd and Glenn Meagher made up the Negative team. Meagher proved himself a very able debater, a quick thinker and a clear talker. Shepherd's platform appearance and delivery were especially good, while Thompson was strong both in argument and rebuttal. Shepherd and Meagher should be mainstays on next year's team, but Thompson will graduate.

MARJORIE ROTH

MISS MARTHA GREENE

ELIZABETH WEBB

JOHN HARRY

MARJORIE ROTH

The Big Nine Girls' Declamatory Contest was held at Clinton, February 27th. Marjorie Roth, Bernice Brown, and Ruth Walker competed in a tryout to select an O. H. S. representative to be sent to this event. Marjorie was declared the best by the judges. At Clinton her selection was "A Few Bars in the Key of G." In spite of the fact that she gave it very well she was not awarded one of the first four places. Marjorie has one more year to compete in declamatory work.

ELIZABETH WEBB

Elizabeth took part in the sub-district state declamatory contest which was held at Fairfield, March 17th. Her selection was "The Lost Word," a deeply religious subject. Her presentation of it was exceptionally real and vivid. But fate seemed against us that evening, and Elizabeth was given second place in the Oratorical Class. In 1919 she won the Championship of the Big Nine, and she still has one more year in O. H. S.

JOHN HARRY

Harry represented O. H. S. in two contests, both of which were in the Big Nine League. The first was a Declamatory Contest held at Muscatine January 16th. His subject was "The Wandering Jew," and he was given fourth place. The Extemporaneous speaking contest was held at Burlington May 7th. He spoke upon "The High Cost of Living." John was well read on the subject and his delivery pleasing and convincing. He was given sixth place in this contest. This completes John's forensic work for he graduates in June.

MISS MARTHA GREENE

Miss Greene is very much interested in all of our dramatic and declamatory work. She chaperoned Elizabeth and Marjorie on their trips to other schools where the contests were held.

ORGANIZATIONS

LEO LOVE—President

Early in the school year a student body assembly was held for the purpose of organizing the Pep Club. Leo Love, who has taken a very prominent part in school activities, and who is our champion ticket seller, was elected president of the Club. When the first ticket selling campaign arrived, he was behind it with all his forces. A series of short, peppy, meetings were held and the school was instilled with real enthusiasm. Leo deserves much credit for his earnest and live support which he freely gave for the advancement of the Pep Club in O. H. S.

H. C. McKOWN—Faculty Advisor

When Mr. McKown returned to O. H. S. last fall, after his honorable discharge from the U. S. Air Service, the whole school rejoiced, for they knew that he was a regular "live-wire." He cooperated perfectly with the Pep Club, working for its progress in every way. Wherever there was action, there was Mr. McKown, and during the football season, wherever Mr. McKown was, his little checkered "Lizie" was also there. A person who shows such a vital interest in school activities is valuable, and it is to be hoped that Mr. McKown will be in O. H. S. next year.

Pep Club Executive Committee

LEO LOVE—President

MR. H. C. McKOWN—Faculty Advisor

Again in the past year the Pep Club was only roughly organized, but it moved with a spirit never shown previously in O. H. S. Its first great undertaking was the football season ticket campaign, which was a complete success in all respects. Its next work was the basket ball season ticket campaign, and more tickets were sold at that time than at any other period in our school's history. A unique contest was staged by appointing a captain in every seventh period class room and offering a large banner with this inscription, "BOOSTER HONOR ROOM," to the room which lead in the ticket sale. The affair was climaxed when Room 39, with Harriet Wilson as captain, steadily pushed past all opponents until the closing hour of the race. Then Debate came on, and again the Pep Club faithfully responded. All things worthy of support have bountifully received it, and the Pep Club has truly been a body of great promotive powers in O. H. S.

The Seniors of this department had met several times during the first semester, but it was deemed best to organize the entire department. The objects of the Club are to bring together all those interested in this line of work and to prepare for better teaching by practical observations and study. It meets for luncheon once every three weeks, and one hot dish is served which would be suitable to serve in the country school.

Dramatic Club

The Dramatic Club is an organization which can always be relied upon to give a play for any High School entertainment. Membership in the club is based on scholarship as well as dramatic ability. An effective scheme for tryouts has been devised whereby talent is discovered and promptly recognized. Students eligible for membership are tried out before the faculty critic and the officers of the club. Those who make the most creditable showing become members of the club.

This year definite lines of study were taken up and at the bi-monthly meetings, plays have been read and discussed. In every phase of its work the Dramatic Club seeks to maintain a high standard of excellency in performance and organization.

Although only 2 plays were given in public this year, these plays were highly praised and have shown a great deal of time spent in preparation.

"A Regular Fix" was presented during the first semester with Arthur Shepherd in the leading role. The other parts in the play were taken by Elizabeth Webb, Jessie Porter, Louise Nelson, Rowe Hinsey, Neal Perdew, John Harry and Samuel Cohn.

The most entertaining portion of the Annual High School Night program was the clever one act farce, "Lend Me Six Bits," which displayed the remarkable improvements and talents of the society. Arthur Shepherd again took the leading part and it proved an uproar from start to finish.

The Cast of Characters

Mr. Golightly.....	ARTHUR SHEPHERD
Mrs. Major Phobbs	ELOISE LOOMIS
Mrs. Captain Phobbs.....	HELEN M. JONES
Captain Phobbs.....	ROWE HINSEY
Captain Spruce.....	VIRGIL POGUE
Mr. Morland.....	JOHN HARRY
Sam (a waiter).....	SAM COHN

Every part was well taken, and the acting of Arthur Shepherd and Rowe Hinsey was especially good.

The successful staging of this difficult production is greatly due to the time and effort which has been expended by the faculty members and coach, Miss Martha Greene, whose able supervision has done much toward making the club a success.

O. H. S. Library

Many a student has spent many profitable hours in our little library. Lelia Holloway, chief librarian, has been assisted by eight students each semester. The library's contents may be old, but age is a sign of wisdom. Twenty periodicals are taken. Last year the average number of calls to the little room each day numbered 110; so it can readily be seen that it is very indispensable.

"QUEER DOINGS"

You often see a tennis ball, but you never hear it cry—
 And although you watch a cake walk, you never watch a pie;
 Dumb bells are very common, but deaf bells are somewhat rare,
 And I've never had a nighthorse, but often a night mare.
 I've often watched a waterfall, but have never seen it tumble,
 And listened to a jelly roll, but never heard it rumble
 There's many and many a vaulting pole, but they never seem to jump
 And while girls will not wear wind mills, they often wear a pump.
 I've sometimes seen a pitch fork, but I've seldom seen it spoon,
 But I guess I'd better stop this or you'll all lie down and swoon.

OOOO

Freshie: "Just entered, green looks."
 Soph: "Flashy socks, no books."
 Junior: "High spirits, got the pep (?)"
 Senior: "Looks wise, watch your step."

HISTORICAL SKETCH

THE firm of John Morrell & Co. contributes a very interesting chapter to the history of the meat-packing business. The foundation of the Morrell business was laid in Yorkshire, England, in the late 20's of the Nineteenth Century. The hams put up by this firm soon acquired an enviable reputation in the London market, where "Morrell's Yorkshire Hams" were placed in the front rank by the epicures of that early day. Later it became difficult to obtain sufficient hogs to meet the increasing demand, and in 1855 curing houses were established in Ireland.

In 1868 the attention of the company was directed to Canada, and inside of four years it was using the output of four packing houses located in that country.

Between the years 1871 and 1874 the Morrell packing business was concentrated in Chicago; but in the winter of 1877, investigation having demonstrated the excellent quality of the Corn Belt hogs packing operations were begun at Ottumwa, Iowa. In 1888 the Chicago houses were closed and the company drew on the Ottumwa plant for all of its meats.

The year 1911 marked another important milestone in the progress of the company, for during that year their new packing plant at Sioux Falls, S. D., was completed and put into operation.

The advantages in the locations of the Morrell establishments are numerous, chief of which is the proximity of packing plants to the farm where the corn-fed hog is raised. As a consequence the hogs are not subjected to long, tiresome and injurious railway journeys just prior to being slaughtered.

Morrell's "Iowa's Pride" Hams and Bacon are the first and choicest selection, from young corn-fed prokers—lean and fat in right proportions—carefully trimmed and cured by Morrell's juice-retaining Yorkshire process—prepared and packed under government supervision.

There is added zest in these tender, juicy hams and bacon. They spur the appetite and bring complete satisfaction.
