Eileen A. Gauch Becomes Bride Of Deryl Damman At Melbourne

Melbourne —(Special)— Eileen A. Gauch daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gauch of Melbourne, became the bride of Deryl L. Damman, son of Walter Damman of Melbourne and Mrs. Ralph Raridon of Newton, in a candle-light ceremony at 2 p.m. Sunday in St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church.

Rev. Ruben Grosshuesch read the double ring service in the presence of a large group of relatives and friends.

James Miller played nuptial music and accompanied Joan Eubanks who sang.

The bride came down the aisle accompanied by her brother-in-law, Henry Klaas who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white slipper satin made with court train. Her veil was fingertip length and she carried red and white roses. Her jewelry was a double strand of pearls.

ATTENDED BY SISTER

Mrs. Henry Klaas attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a pink chiffon gown with shoulder length veil and carried pink and white asters.

The candles were lighted by Helen Raridon and Elda Mae Damman who wore gowns of blue and yellow taffeta.

Faye Marie Bucklin, niece of the bride as flower girl, wore a floor length gown of aqua taffeta. Jerry Lee Bucklin was ring bearer.

Carl Jacobs of Marshalltown served as best man and George Wulke and Duane Brand were ushers.

A reception for 125 guests was held in the church parlors and a 6 o'clock dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klaas near Haverhill.

HOME ON FARM

After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Damman will live on a farm south of Melbourne.

Mrs. Damman attended Baxter high school and has been living at the home of her parents. Mr. Damman has been engaged in farming with his father since his graduation from Melbourne high school.

Janet Long, Dean Damman Recite Wedding Vows

—Kenn's Photo

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Damman

Grace United Methodist Church in Marshalltown was the setting for the May 4 marriage of Miss Janet Eileen Long and Dean Marvin Damman. The Rev. Robert Bell, pastor of Hope United Methodist Church, performed the 8 p.m. candleight ceremony. Vocal soloist was Miss Jolene Geddes, and nuptial organist was Mrs. James Grossman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Long, Jr. of Rt. 4, Marshalltown, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Deryl Damman of Melbourne.

The bride was seen in a gown fashioned of organza over taffeta with full circle skirt. The bodice was of embroidered organza with layered-look sleeves. Her veil was cathedral-length with trim to match the dress, and she carried a nosegay of pink roses with pink and lavender daisies.

Joyce Runner was maid of honor, with Melinda Long, sister of the bride, and Peggy Khile as bridesmaids. They wore gowns of pink and lavender dotted swiss with picture hats and carried nosegays like the bride's.

Duane Damman was best man for his brother, and groomsmen were Mike Long and Doug Pfantz. Ushers were Steve Salasek, Rodney Imsland and Ed Warner.

Julie Long, sister of the bride, was flower girl and Scott Andrews was ringbearer.

Mr. and Mrs. Elston Imsland of Hubbard were host and hostess for the reception held in the church hall. Cutting the cake were Mrs. Clarence Andrews and Miss Linda Damman, with Mrs. Duane Damman serving punch and Mrs. Wayne Wyant pouring coffee. Miss Cindy Wilson attended the guest book.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home on Rt. 1, Newton. The bride will be graduated in May from Marshalltown High School. She is employed part-time at JoAnn's Ceramics. The bridegroom, a 1972 graduate of West Marshall High School, is engaged in farming.

A rehearsal supper was served at the home of the bride's parents.
