THE BEAVER LOG

1965

Dr. George F. Reynolds, professor of history and political science has been a member of the Buena Vista College faculty since 1937. Dr. Reynolds received his B.A. from the State University of Iowa in 1927. In 1928 he received his M.A. from the same university. Dr. Reynolds' undergraduate field of study was history. In graduate school his field of concentration was English and European history. Bolingbroke and English For-oreign Policy was the thesis Dr. Reynolds wrote in order to receive his M.A. Dr. Reynolds has received the following scholastic honors: history medal, Sons of the American Revolution, and Juris Doctor degree with distinction. As a senior law student he published case notes and in 1928 he became a member of the American Historical Association. Dr. Reynolds' organizational memberships also include the Faculty Athletic Committee (1937-1949), the Faculty Commencement Committee (1945-1949, and 1963-1964), and the American Academy of Political and Social Science in 1964. The 1965 Beaver Log Staff would like to dedicate this annual to Dr. Reynolds on behalf of the service he has given this college.

DEDICATION

Dagmar Hasseltine Peterson, associate professor of biology, has been a member of our faculty since September 1946. Miss Peterson received her A.B. from the University of Nebraska where she later took the M.A. in 1926. Her undergraduate fields of study included zoology and chemistry; as a graduate student she concentrated on zoology and botany. Intestinal Parasites of Nebraska Chickens was the topic on which Miss Peterson wrote her thesis. The dedication and service that Miss Peterson demonstrated resulted in her receiving such honors as becoming an associate member of the Society of Sigma Xi: "The Reactions of a Natural Protozoan Community to some Organic Acids", an article written by Miss Peterson was published in the American Journal of Hygiene. The 1965 Beaver Log Staff would like to dedicate this annual to Miss Peterson on behalf of the service she has given this college.

PROLOGUE

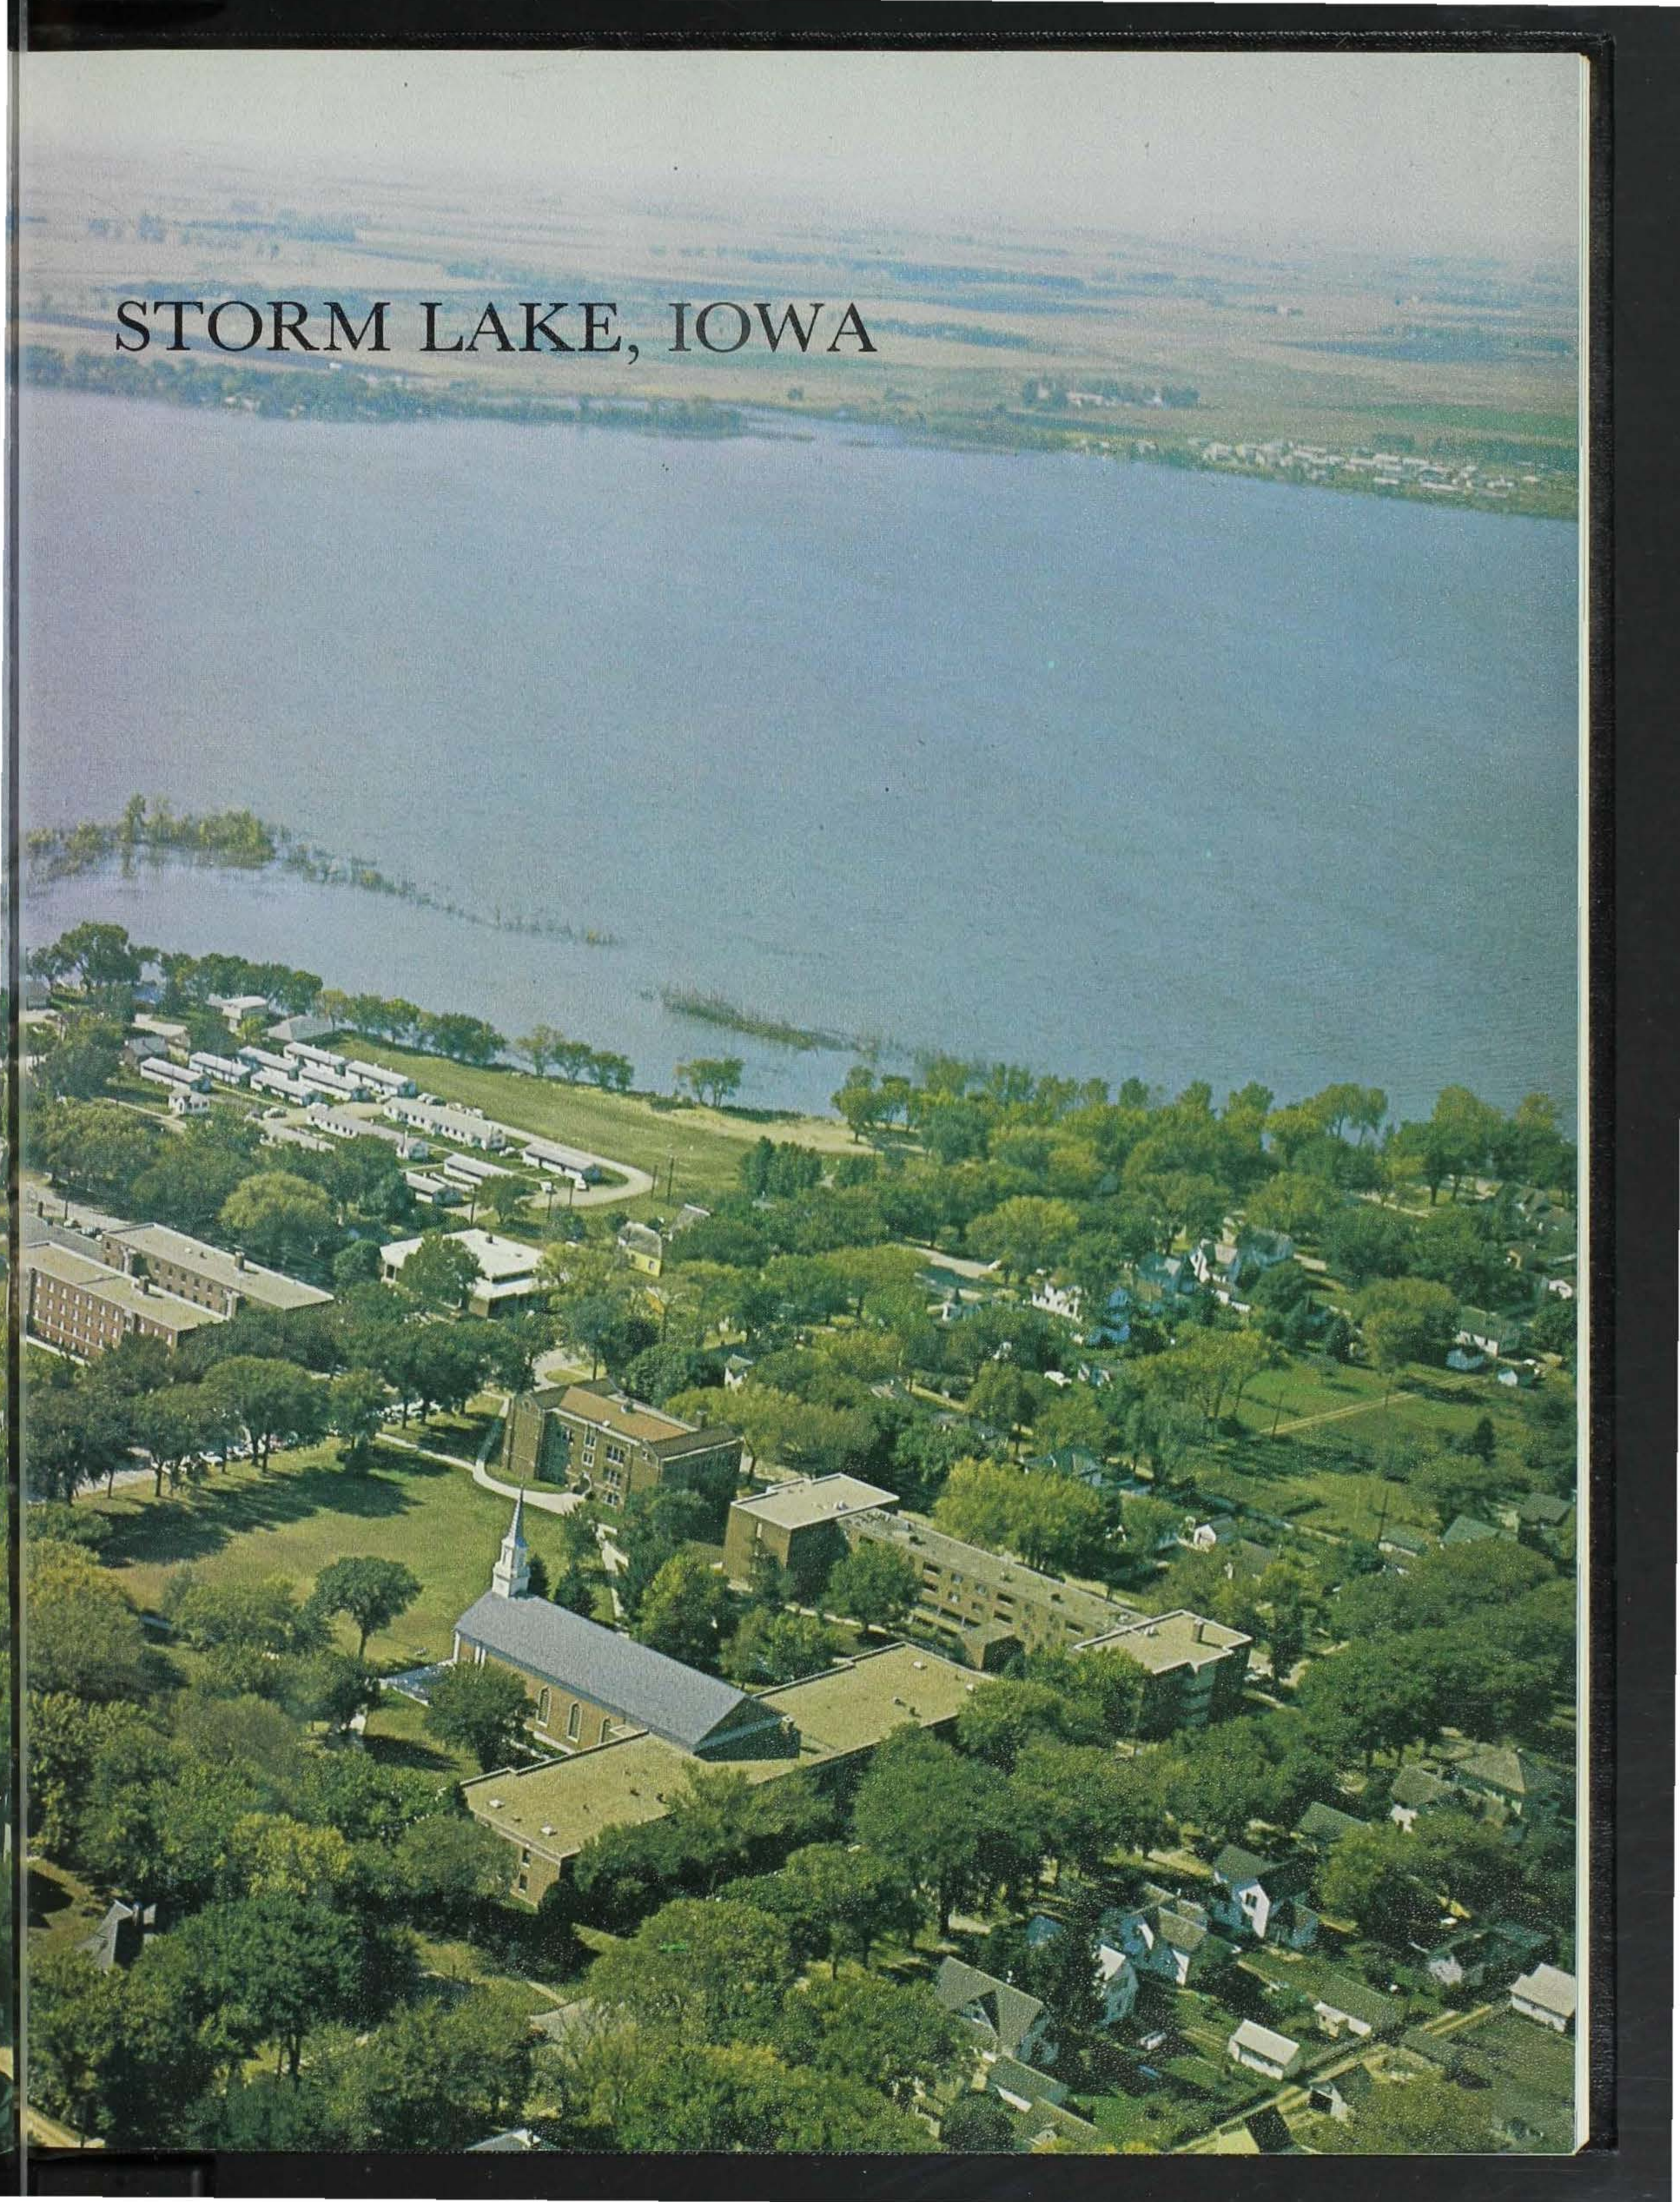

The nation's future rests in the education of our people. Buena Vista College accepts the challenge and responsibility of educating her students for the advancement of self and nation. With emphasis upon the intellectual and spiritual life, the college educates for service. The college experience brings to mind moments of joy and sorrow, inspiration and regret. To assist the memory in recalling the actions and events of the 1964-65 school year, we present the 1965 BEAVER LOG.

FRESHMAN

Freshmen students arrived on campus September 6, 1964, where three days of planned activities awaited them. Upon their arrival the parents and students received a warm reception from our faculty and administration. Tours were conducted and students were informed about campus life.

ORIENTATION

During these three days, exams were given; also discussions were held on "The Agony and the Ecstasy," "Silent Spring," and "The Hidden Persuaders," all of which the freshmen were required to read. The new students were also provided with social activities, such as a picnic and an all-college mixer to enable them to meet each other as well as upper classmen.

FINE ARTS WEEK

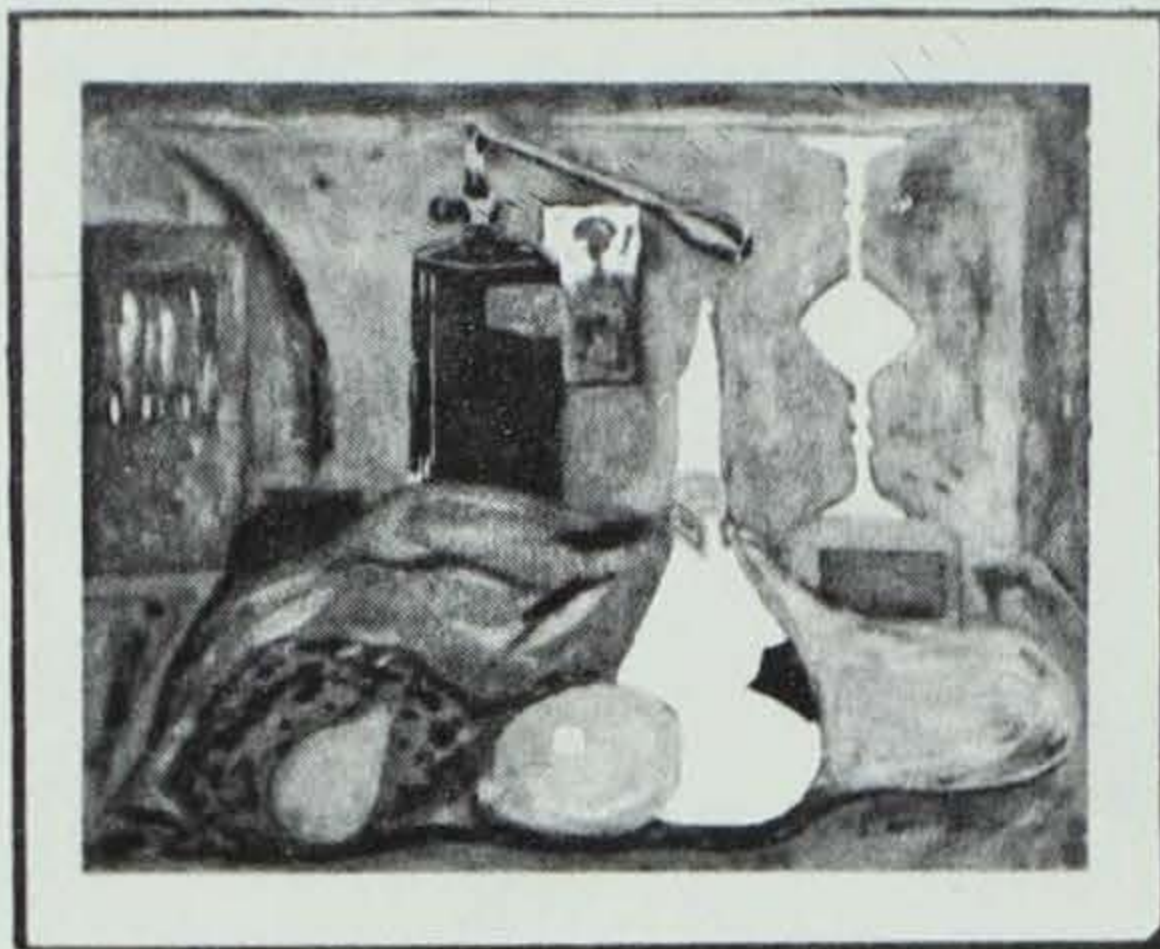

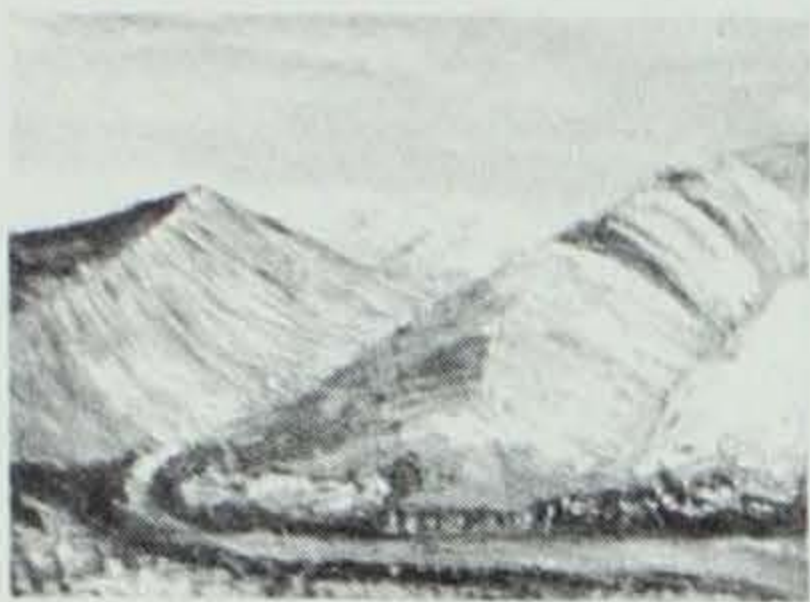

Interestingly enough, Buena Vista College celebrates Fine Arts Week in the spring of the year. Our scheduling is perhaps acknowledgement that Spring is the very pulse of creativity, the time of planting and building. The life force seems particularly insistent at this time, and poet, painter, sculptor are carried forward on its thrust. Art has made of Spring an homage to mysterious and beautiful forces, and it is forever finding new language, new song, new forms to register that homage.

On these next several pages we pay tribute to the painter, who delights our eye with form both familiar and strange. He renews our wonder in ordinary everyday things and events. He peels away the scales with which habit and familiarity have gradually covered our eyes. Sometimes his way of seeing and rendering puzzles us; sometimes he makes us furious with resistance—of the new, the daring, or the deliberately perverse. Whatever he does to us, the painter sees infinitely better than his appraisers. The painter puts something ever before us; it is always the same painting, though we may not discover all its meaning at once; in all his work, we find the same steady, honest look at life.

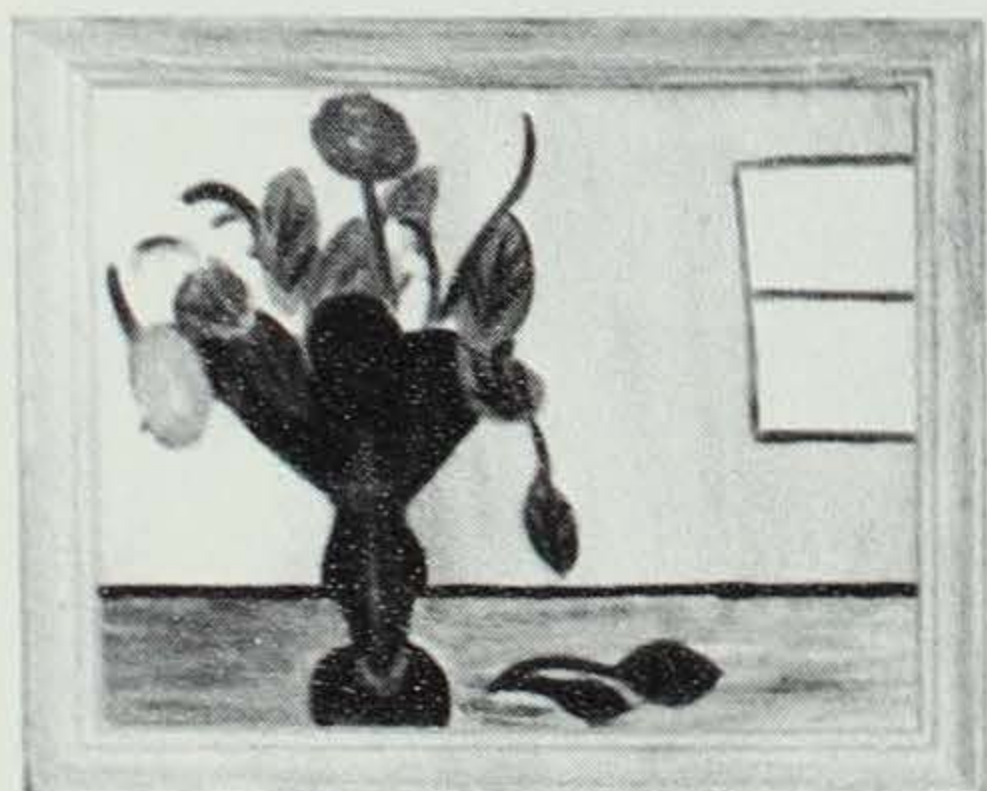

In age after age artists have found in the grand mysteries of the Christian religion materials pregnant with the formal possibilities that art requires. Some of the greatest music in the West is religious music. And many of our greatest paintings depict some significant religious occurrence.

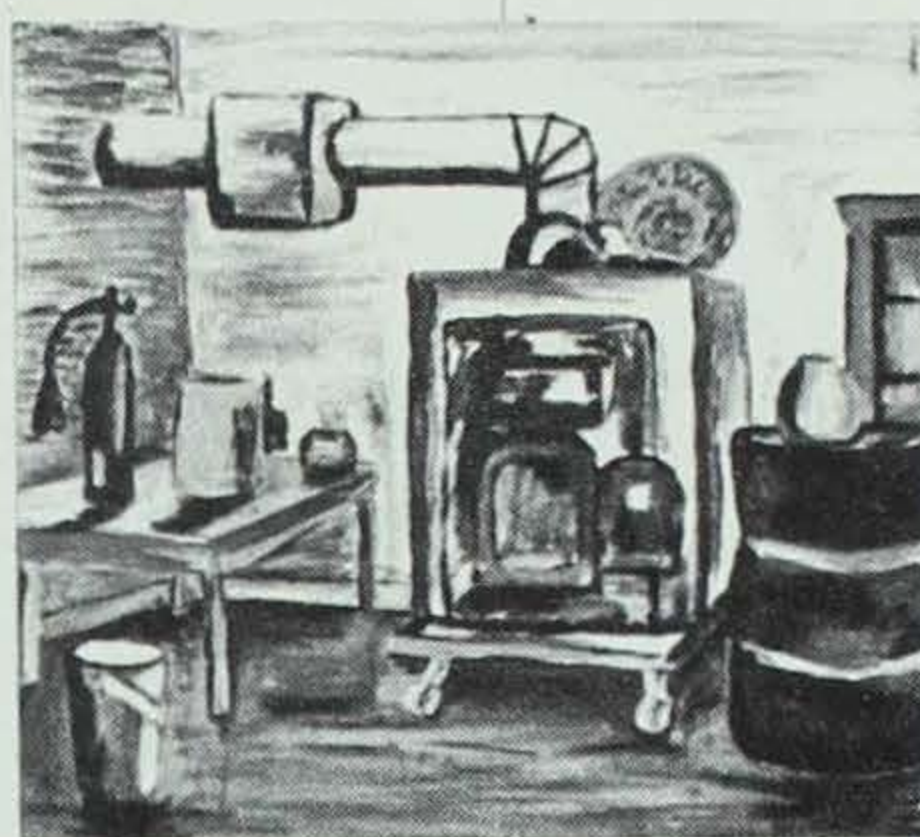

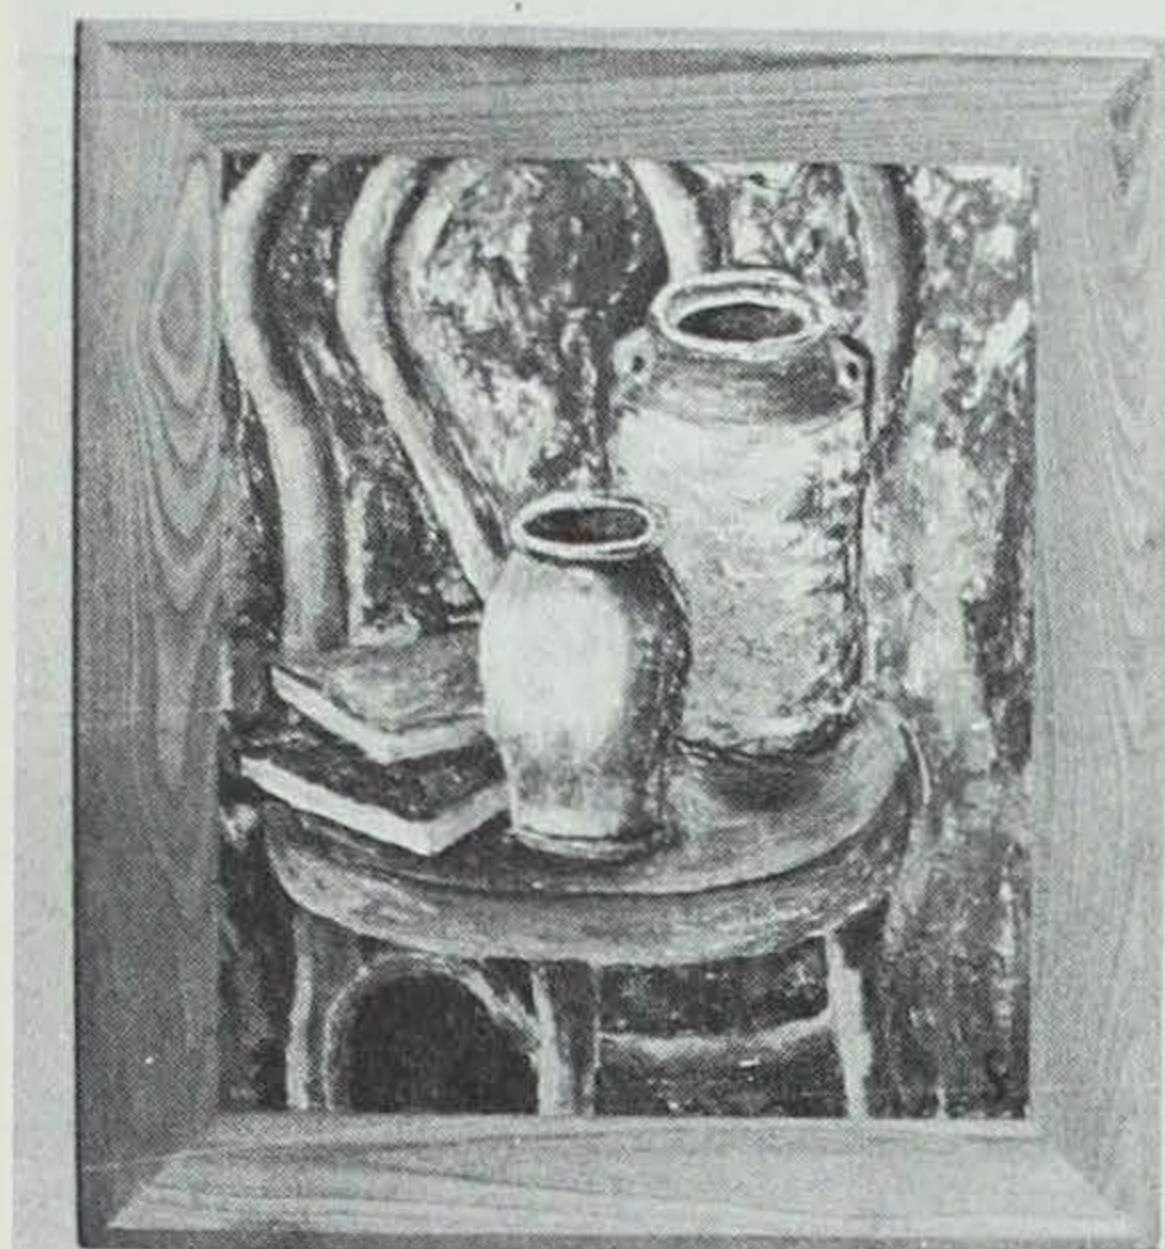

The picture above shows a young lady (twentieth-century vintage) studying a typical religious painting of the Italian renaissance. The background is conventional for the period, the figures done in a highly stylized manner. Adoration in the madonna and other-worldliness in both babe and mother are the predominant impressions. Mary Bodaken seems intrigued by the spiritualized attitude of the virginal mother as she admires her new born son.

Ann Hoover has found that during summer school there is still the frantic dash for classes—only it's at 7 A.M.—oops! Forgot daylight saving time—6 A.M.

Classes are a bit more frantic for both Professor Tollefson and the students because they pack a semester's work into five weeks.

Students and professors talk together in a bit more relaxed atmosphere.

But on bright sunny afternoons—the lake calls. Ann and friend Sue answer the call.

Ann finds the campus center about the same—perhaps a little less noisy and not so crowded.

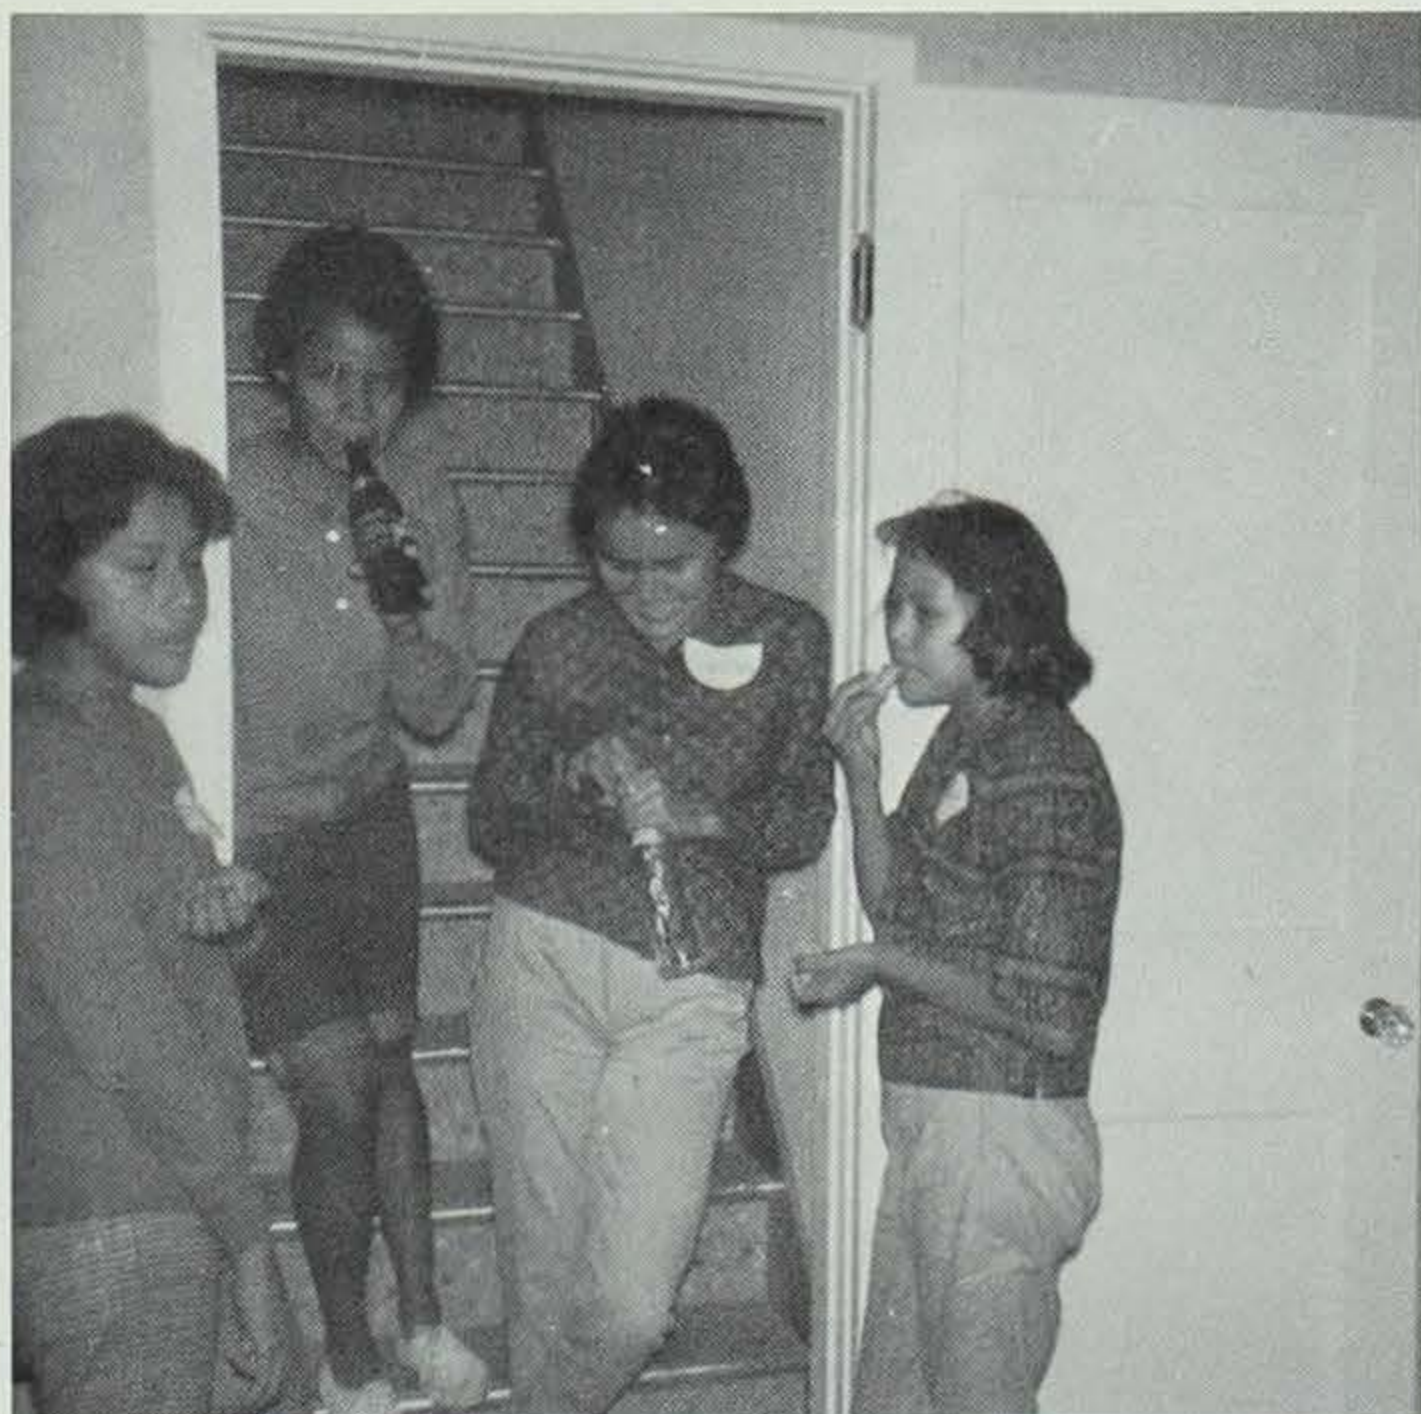

Then there are the evenings.

Celtic Cross and Student Christian Fellowship have joined together and formed many activities. Pictures on these pages come from the Winnebago project. Other projects have been deputation teams and the Joseph Awkwon fund.

TRACK SQUAD

Generally, track at Buena Vista is not much emphasized. Certainly it does not get the support that is "lavished" upon football, baseball and basketball. But, this year, in spite of its minor status, track at B.V. was exceptionally good. Fine material—good coaching. The result was several meet victories and new meet records. Ah, there is nothing finer than a good foot-race and men flashing out of the dark.

GOLF

Golfers are a strange breed. There is something perverse in the determined way they club the little white ball and dog it to bay in the little hole in the middle of a big green lawn. You can't say they are a harmless group, like fishermen and birdwatchers, because often they don't even bother to yell Fore. They are sneaky scorekeepers too. Birdie, Bogey—over and out.

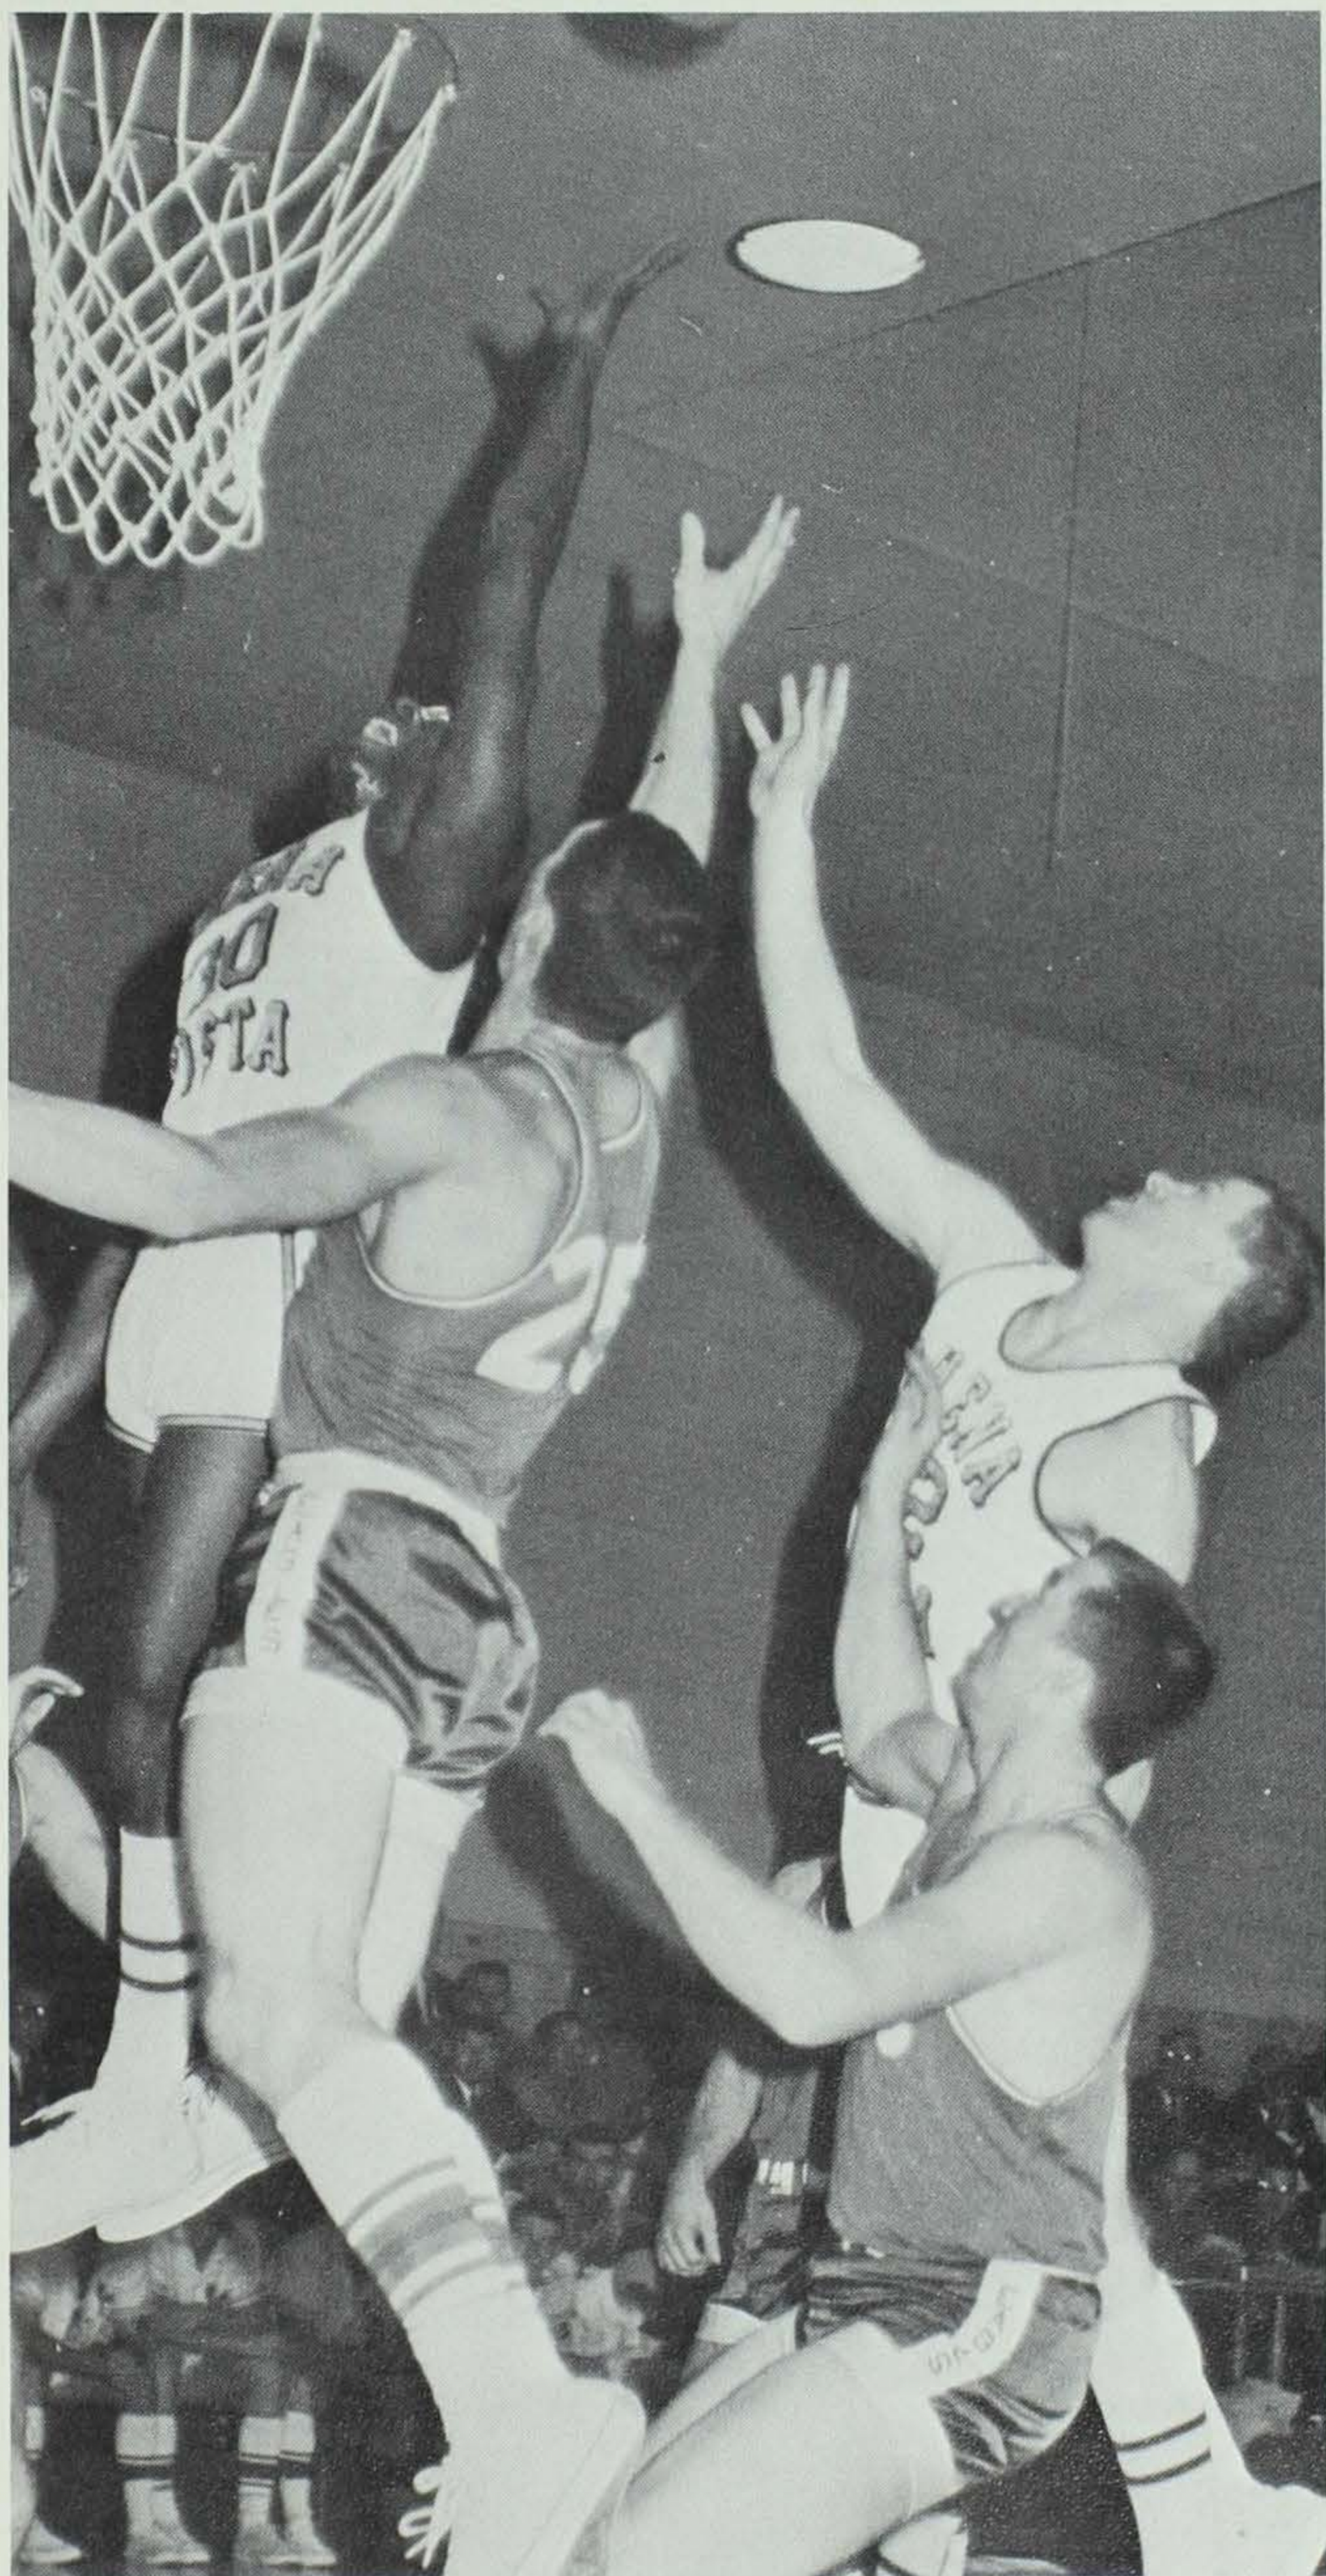

Buena Vista can boast three first-class coaches (Jay Beekman, Merritt Ewalt, John Naughton) and their equally competent assistants (Ken Soxman, Bernie Robinson and Curtis Olson). But these men are more than coaches—they are an entertainment company, with Jay Beekman as director and producer of the shows. On the one hand, director Beekman can count on accomplished tragedian Merritt Ewalt. Merritt cries real tears and breaks clip boards when his teams fail to put out. John Naughton is the comedy part of the act—consummate anecdotist, wit and jester. On those long Saturday afternoons in the fall, sometimes a laugh is more use than a swig of mountain dew.

Coaches all seem to be so busy that they can't take time out for anything but sports. Needless to say, when coaches are as busy as this they seldom get everything accomplished. Only one picture was taken of our camera shy coaches and either they broke the camera or burned the picture. No one can seem to find a picture of them or even a negative. Naughty! Naughty!

MEN'S DORM COUNCIL

The Men's Dorm Council is made up of students appointed by the Dean of Men for purposes of helping to establish and maintain a measure of order in the men's residence halls. These young men are selected for this extremely important job on the basis of their ability to get along well with others, to be kind but at the same time firm, when firmness is required. They counsel, admonish, and provide examples of how young men should conduct themselves. These men are campus leaders and scholars.

The Swope Hall Council consists of students who have been appointed by the Dean of Women to maintain Swopishness in Swope Hall. To the uninitiated, Swopishness perhaps suggests something boorish or hickish. It is nothing of the sort. Swopishness has to do with decorum in deportment, and fairness and honesty with others. The girls of the Dorm Council are especially Swopish, and they attempt to promote Swopishness in every Swopey corner of Swope Hall.

The Beaver Log staff under the hellish hands of Julie Cloud worked well throughout the year. The staff did not work all year. In February the staff enjoyed a meal at the Ken-a-Bob. In May the workers partook of a steak fry followed by a waterfight. Excitement rose as obnoxious Mr. May fell in the mud and anti-democrat Steve Smith paraded on a roof with a water can.

As the year closed, the staff dwindled. But many thanks should be given to Mr. May, Ellen Degner, Jay Campbell, Scott Bertness, Steve Smith, Jean Haas, and Lola Preston.

Meetings are held on the first and third Tuesday of each month. Through these and other activities, the members became acquainted with many leaders in the musical field.

The Buena Vista College Nu Delta Chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity, was organized in 1938 to encourage mastery of the written forms of expression and to further appreciation of literature. In view of these goals, Sigma Tau Delta studied various literary forms through reading, criticism, and applied writing. Its members' writings were submitted to the Rectangle, its literary magazine. The members were selected from the English majors and minors. Sincerity, Truth, and Design were its standards.

One of the truly great honors that could be bestowed on a science or math student at Buena Vista was to be elected to Lambda Sigma Tau fraternity. Sophomores who had nineteen hours of science or mathematics with at least a 3.0 average in these subjects and an over-all average of 2.7 could be admitted to the organization.

The local Lambda Sigma Tau, which is a member of the national science-mathematics fraternity, was organized in 1959. The purposes of the organization were to honor the superior science students, keep its membership and the general public abreast of current scientific developments and to arouse an interest in the student body and the rest of the community in science.

Rush week and the annual Christmas dance ended the first semester. In the spring the sorority sponsored the masquerade ball. The farewell picnic was the close of the season.

This year Phi Alpha Pi endeavored to make the Greek system more important and bigger on campus by having exchanges with the fraternities.

The purpose of the Delta Phi Rho fraternity was to encourage high intellectual, moral, and social standards among its members. It strove to give each member a sense of judgement which was valuable in becoming a good citizen of a community. A fraternal relationship among the brothers gave a pleasant social atmosphere. Various social functions were held throughout the year. In addition the members were encouraged to actively participate in other campus and civic activities.

DELTA PHI RHO ACTIVITIES

Delta Phi Rho had many activities within the community this past year. They were not only a service organization but also have had many enjoyable times with other fraternities and sororities, a new event on BV's campus. A highlight of the year was the award of the organization to their advisor, Mr. Stone during awards convocation.

Kappa Tau Girl

Kappa Tau Delta may be the smallest and the youngest fraternity on campus, but it prides itself on being the most brotherly. Its meetings and parties are marked by spirit and good clean fun. The members see to it that the activities to which they bring girls, girls, girls, go forward in a sober and sane atmosphere. Highlights of the Kappa Tau Delta year: first place (school spirit) Homecoming Float; Smash Halloween party (costumes and all); Stag reunion on the occasion of the visit of Rick Troup (Kappa Tau's first president) to the campus to commemorate the first anniversary of the Casino Beach Massacre; a Hell Night that was really Hell; and a high-class initiation banquet at Vern and Coila's on Lake Okoboji. Members who achieved special distinction during the year: Joe Niedziejko—a marksman medal in the U.S. Open Cross Country Free Style Shoot for Long Rifles; Jerry Sears—First Fruits of the Resurrection Award; Lowell Guddall—Lover of the Year Award; Duane Arnold—the Newell Award for Good Citizenship.

The Buena Vista Circle K Club, which was organized in 1950, was the thirteenth club to receive a charter from Circle K International.

Circle K is the college level of Kiwanis Club, with which it works in connection with many projects of service to both the campus and community. The purpose of Circle K is to provide college men with an organization in which they can have good fellowship, be of service to others and secure valuable experience in working with others.

Circle K was again very active on campus this year. Among the projects carried out were ushering at various college and community events, the annual community pancake supper, supervising the toboggan slide, taking tickets at ballgames and providing leadership for chapels. The main event of the year was the annual appreciation banquet held in Sioux City.

Delegates were sent to the International Convention at Miami.

CELTIC CROSS

The purpose of the Celtic Cross is to present an insight into the various fields of service within the church. Opportunities are provided for the proclamation of the gospel of Jesus Christ. Deputation teams were sent from the group into various churches in the area to present worship services and youth group programs. Through monthly meetings the members have become aware of different occupational fields within the church.

Filling a spiritual need for college students is the goal of the Student Christian Fellowship. As a group the members are a living testimony to Jesus Christ. Regular meetings were held every Sunday evening at which films were shown, or a guest speaker was present.

Trips were taken to the Winnebago Indian Mission and on several occasions the young people visited the campus as guests of S.C.F. Christmas caroling was another activity of the group.

The PEMM Club was organized in 1962 to create a Fellowship among the women majors and minors in physical education. It also strives to advance standards of teaching and leadership and to create a fine wholesome spirit at Buena Vista College.

The PEMM Club was well represented at the district and state meetings during the year. The group also participated in the Homecoming activities.

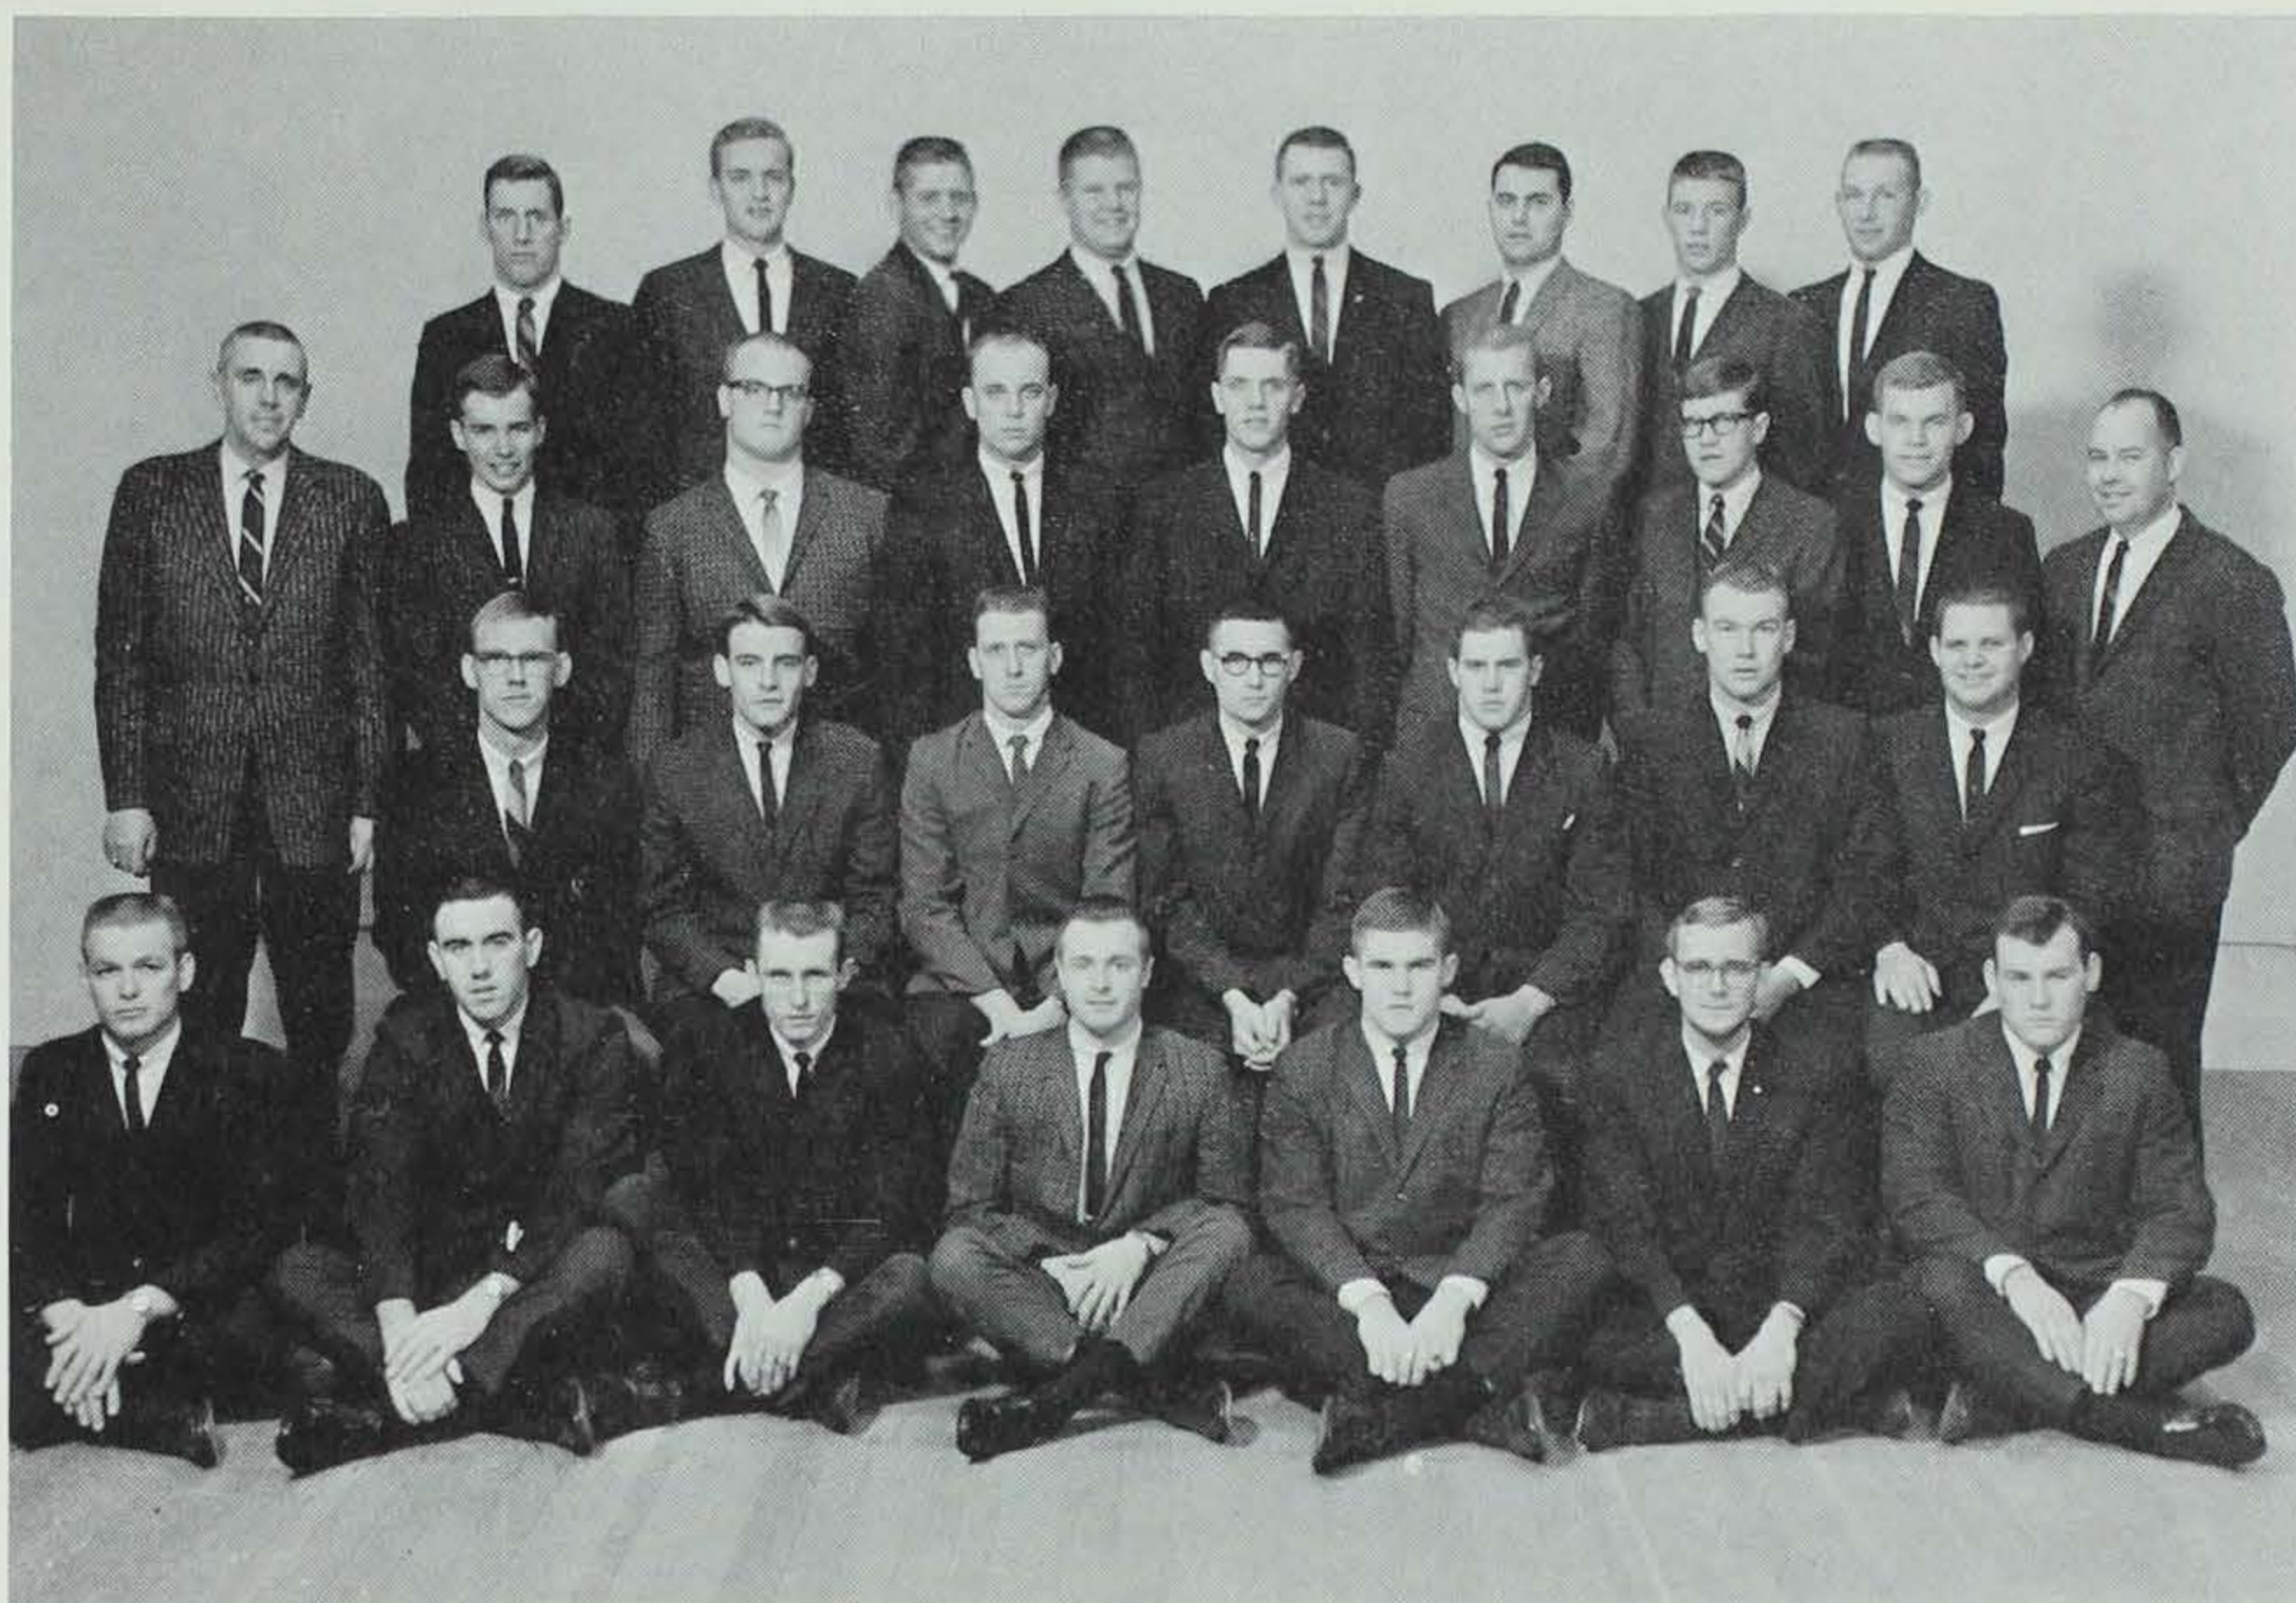

The members gained worthwhile knowledge of physical education, health and recreation from the organization.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

The purpose of the Lettermen's Club is to create a close relationship between the letter winners of the different sports, to encourage sportsmanship with opposing teams, to promote better relationships between athletics and school administration, and to instill qualities of leadership in the members. A letter jacket is awarded to those having met necessary qualifications.

The members sold concessions and programs at home athletic events. Regular and special meetings were held during the year.

CHEERLEADERS

This year's squad of cheerleaders did much to promote the enthusiasm and school spirit of the fans at Buena Vista football and basketball games. An added attraction at all the home games was the busy beaver, Ben Mordecai.

Organized in 1960 the Buena Vista Beaverettes stimulate school spirit and gain greater support for our athletic teams. This they did by providing colorful entertainment during halftime at football games, at the parades, and at halftimes at basketball games. The Beaverettes as a club gave the girls an opportunity to work creatively together in the promotion of Buena Vista College.

The Young Democrats, through debates and public speakers from various phases of political life, acquaint their members with the Democratic party.

Each meeting provides a chance for stimulating discussions about the platform and goals of the party, and provides informative discussions on political issues.

The purpose of the Young Republicans organization is to help students gain an insight into their responsibilities as citizens. The importance of our political democracy in America is stressed by the organization through learning the history and platform of the Republican party.

During the fall the Young Republicans were concerned with the national campaign. A variety of speakers discussed the political issues and the means of meeting these issues. The major highlight of the year was a visit by Mrs. Goldwater to the college. Another important event for the organization was serving a lunch at the alumni association reception during the Homecoming festivities.

BV PLAYERS

BV Players is the dramatics organization on campus. It was organized in 1925 and has as its aim "To stimulate progress and encourage such dramatic activity as may serve to enrich the traditions, honor, and fame of Buena Vista College."

This organization encourages not only participation before the footlights as an actor but also participation "behind the scenes" on stage crews and production staffs. The members of BV Players presented Hamlet as their winter production. The spring production, Take Her, She's Mine, was presented as part of Fine Arts week. All the productions were under the capable direction of Professor John Gooch.

SISEA

The SISEA was organized for those students entering the field of education. Through participation in the work of local, state, and national associations, the members develop an understanding of the teaching profession. The members have gained valuable background and experience by carrying out projects and activities.

The Northwest Regional Meeting of SISEA was held on the Buena Vista Campus on November 11. A number of guest speakers were obtained for the regular meetings. SISEA participated in the Homecoming Parade. A spring banquet was held at which the superintendents, principals, and critic teachers of this area were guests. Also at this banquet the seniors were cited.

Officers for the year included: Bonnie Parrish, President; Gary Williams, Vice-President; Becky Bell, Secretary; and Jane Denhardt, Treasurer.

PHI MU ALPHA

The idea of an organized club for male students was evolved at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston in 1898. Since that time, more than two hundred twenty chapters have joined in the membership of this fraternity.

The fraternity has four purposes: 1) To advance the cause of music in America, 2) To foster the mutual welfare and brotherhood of music students, 3) To develop the truest fraternal spirit among its members, and 4) To encourage loyalty to the Alma Mater.

With these purposes in mind Mu Omega chapter was chartered here at Buena Vista College on April 10, 1965. The men you see pictured on this page are very proud to be the charter members of this fraternity.

Among Sinfonia's membership may be found some of the outstanding musicians of the day, performing in every major city and music center, teaching in the Nation's universities, colleges, and high schools.

The fraternity has grown beyond its Founder's dreams. Its influence and effect on the musical life of America cannot be measured, but as long as there are students of music, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity will flourish and will contribute significantly to the musical life of America.

CLOSING EVENTS

Too Busy REPUBLICANS and NOT TOO BUSY Democrats

Our door has closed on Buena Vista College, but it's not our final door. Many more doors will open for us, and I hope that we all find the same challenging opportunities, as those behind each of the four doors already closed. Our victory chants from the gridiron can no longer be heard, the laughter from Beaver is silent, and our tearful graduation is now a memory.

I leave this Beaver Log to you to recall all the good times this school year has offered. I hope that you will enjoy recalling the accomplishments we as a student body attained. As you close this book, think of us graduates.

I would like to extend my appreciation and thanks to the following people and organizations for their services performed:

American Yearbook Company, printing and binding
Denton B. May, faculty advisor
Buena Vista College Publications Committee
Vic Eaton, Publications consultant
Buntrock-Salie Studio, photography
Storm Lake Register & Pilot Tribune, photography
