MHS Senior Tops Good UNI Showing

One Marshalltown High School senior received a four-year scholarship and various other students at MHS, Anson Junior High and Lenihan Junior High received awards as participants in the 20th annual Iowa Industrial Education Exposition at the Unidome on the UNI campus last Friday in Cedar Falls.

LaDonna Choate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry E. Choate, Albion, and a senior at MHS, was the recipient of a four-year, full tuition scholarship in industrial education at the University of Northern Iowa. Miss Choate's project was a waterbed, which she entered in the woodworking category.

Projects entered by the Marshalltown students are on display this Wednesday from 6:30-8:30 p.m. in the MHS student lounge.

In addition to Miss Choate, Merle Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mann, Albion, and Brian Underwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Underwood, 507 Brentwood Pl., were selected second and fifth alternates, respectively, for the scholarship.

Other MHS Participants

Other MHS students who participated in the exposition include: Phil Oetker, Steve Gallagher, Mark Smith, Mark Brown, Chris Drinovsky, Scott Mathews, Tersa Allen, Roger Jay, Connie Leckness, John Darter, Curt Vajgrt and Kevin Lynk, all in woodworking.

Mechanical drawing - Emily Allen, Jennifer Day, Tim Devenney, Sean Flater, Brent Graham, Kim Hickson, Paul Kanady, Jon Kern, John Manchon, Barb Smith and Tim Socha.

Machine drawing - John Benson, Todd Kilstrom, Mike Lowe, Robb Paul, Rob Rohrs, Shaun Lange, Doug Knoll, Kenny Stonewall, Dennis Fouch, Todd Campbell, Deb Birkness, Bill Wall-jasper, Bruce Robertson, and Kim Sleege.

Architectural drawing - Mark Eaton, Doug Heinrichs, Wiley Wilkinson, Nick Welter, Pat Huss, David Scheffert, Sean Fruin and Kevin Elpperle.

Three Lenihan Junior High students participated including Tom Goodman, Mark Haslam and Jim Lundy.

Several From Anson

The industrial arts students at Anson Junior High who participated were:

8th grade - Mike Oleson, Todd Woodard, Paul Johnson, and Dan Dutton.

UPS Scholarship To Micki Smith

Micki Lynn Smith of Marshalltown has been named a winner of a UPS Vo-Tech Scholarship in competition offered by the UPS Foundation. She is the daughter of Monte and Charlene Schuller of 1326 Greenfield Drive and will enter Marshalltown Community College in the fall to pursue a career in business.

The UPS Foundation, which is supported through grants from United Parcel Service, awarded 24 such scholarships nationwide to children of UPS employees this year. The scholarships, which range up to $2,000 annually, are for students who plan to enter accredited vocational, technical, community college or junior college programs of two years or less.

Ms. Smith, a recent graduate from Marshalltown High School, was selected in nationwide competition administered by the independent Citizen's Scholarship Foundation of America. Her father is employed as a driver at the UPS facility in Marshalltown.

TOP FLIGHT SPELLERS—Three Marshalltown junior high students—Pinaki Chakravorty (seated), Jay Bubel (left) and Angie Hays—placed first, second and third, respectively, in the Area Education Agency 6 spelling championship Saturday. The trio will travel to Des Moines May 2 to compete in the state contest. Pinaki is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Amit Chakravorty, 1702 S. 7th Ave. Apt. 16; Jay is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bubel, 507 New Castle Rd.; and Angie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hays, Albion. (Staff photo.)

STUDENT AND MENTOR — MHS Office Education Association student Micki Smith recently wrote a paper which was judged best and earned her OEA boss, Mike Hurd, manager of the Southridge office of Security Savings Bank, the title of "Boss of the Quarter." Miss Smith works with Hurd at that office as part of her OEA assignment.

'Boss Of Quarter' Selected By OEA

"Boss of the Quarter" of the Marshalltown High School's Office Education Association was Mike Hurd, manager of the Southridge office of the Security Savings Bank. Micki Smith, a senior, wrote an article telling why she felt Hurd was the best boss, and her piece was judged to be the best for the first nine weeks.

Each quarter OEA students are required to write a one-page paper about why they feel that their boss is the best.

The OEA students also recently took part in a field trip to the American Institute of Business (AIB) and Bankers Life in Des Moines. While at AIB the students visited the campus and dorms and also toured the classrooms. At Bankers Life they were able to see how the company got started and how it operates on such a large scale. They also looked at the company's computer system.

OEA officers elected earlier this year include Michelle Gross, president; Tonya Larson, vice president; Carolyn Stubbs, secretary; Kris Lackmann, correspondence secretary; Micki Smith, treasurer; Sherry Kunkel, historian; Kathy Turner, reporter; Missy McGregor, photographer; Dale Clayton, parliamentarian, and Renee Wogan, banner reporter.

Wrestling continued popular at MHS until the Depression '30s, when it was dropped for lack of funds. Stars of the late 1920s were Ralph Goodale and Guy Morrison, younger brother of Allie, who was state champion in the 155-pound class, and Pete Hesmer, later long time wrestling coach at Virginia Military Institute, who was inducted into the VMI Hall of Fame this year. This sport was not revived at MHS until the 1960s and the greatest star of the modern era is All-American Mike Mann, who had a brilliant four-year career at Iowa State University at 190 pounds.

Dr. Tappe Will Receive Award

The C.L. Davis Foundation Veterinary Pathologist Scholarship Award will be presented to Dr. James P. (Jay) Tappe Jr. of Albion at the annual meeting of the American College of Veterinary Pathologists this month in San Antonio, Texas.

The award is presented each year to outstanding residents training in veterinary pathology. Dr. Tappe is a third year resident in pathology at the Animal Medical Center in New York City and a 1981 graduate of the College of Veterinary Medicine at Iowa State University in Ames.

He is the son of Mary Lou and Jim Tappe of Albion, and he is married to the former Nancy Smith, daughter of Ken and Shirley Smith, Route 1.

Research articles written by Dr. Tappe have been accepted for publication in the "Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association" and the "Journal of Wildlife Diseases." His current work is in zoo animal and small animal pathology.

Crown New Pork Queen

PORK QUEEN Linda Garrett was crowned Tuesday night during the Marshall County Porkette annual banquet, held at the Thunderbird. Mari Henze, 1983 pork queen, presented the 1984 queen with her tiara, banner and pigskin blazer, which she will wear when promoting pork and speaking to local organizations, telling the story of the "new lean pork." Miss Garrett is the daughter of Lee and Jean Garrett, Route 1, Pork Producers president and Porkette vice president, respectively. (Staff photo by Mary Dooley)

THESE FIVE STUDENTS from Marshalltown participated in an oratorical contest sponsored Sunday by the Marshalltown Morning and Noon Optimist clubs at Marshalltown Community College. Michael Jury of MHS and Jo-Ellen Huss of Lenihan Junior High were named winners of the boys and girls categories and will compete at the district competition in May at Newton. The five students spoke on various topics associated with "Serve with Pride." The students include:

(front from left) Anita Olson, Anson Junior High, daughter of Mrs. Sonja Olson, 304 Melody Lane; Shawn Larson, Lenihan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Larson, 304 Edgeland Drive, and Jo-Ellen Huss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Huss, 8 W. Olive St., and (standing) Michael Jury, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jury, 1803 S. 6th St., and Lynne Borton, MHS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Borton, Albion. (Photo furnished)

GIFTS FROM Inez Black, who taught at the Albion Elementary School from 1964 through 1980, will be on display Sunday at the Albion Municipal Library open house from 2 to 4 p.m. Here JoAnn Mittlestadt (left), librarian, and Karen Davis, who was in Mrs. Black's 1964-65 6th grade class, look at slides of nearly every field trip and camp-out taken by Mrs. Black's students during her tenure there. The Kodak Carousel projector and three trays of slides were gifts of Mrs. Black, as were two photo albums of Albion students' participation in many recent school events, and a hard-back hand-printed book compiled by Mrs. Black called "Poetic Reflections by Albion Students," which was illustrated in colored pencil by Sandy Vas, and which concludes with a soliloquy on the rewards of teaching written by Mrs. Black. Also on display Sunday will be craft items from the seven classes sponsored by the library during the past year. A bake sale will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. in conjunction with the open house as a fund-raiser for the "Friends of the Library." The library's newly remodeled interior, since it has expanded into the former fire station, will also be available for public viewing. (Staff photo)

Dear Mrs. Black,

Just a note to let you know how much we appreciate your gifts of slides, scrapbooks, and book of poetry. The slides, scrapbooks and poetry were on display at the open house, and most of the time we were in line waiting to look at them.

Sincerely,

JoAnn Mittlestadt

Open House Sunday At Albion Library

ALBION — An open house at the Albion Municipal Library has been set for May 15 from 2 to 4 p.m. at the library, which is on the west side of Mittlestadt, who has announced that the library has received a grant from the Kinney-Lindstrom Foundation of Mason City to use for stucco on the outside of the library, landscaping, shelving and equipment.

TEACHING THE BASICS—Micki Smith, left, and Steve Rogers are two of six Marshalltown High School Junior Achievement program members to teach Anson Elementary students about the basics of business operation. The JA students are giving a four-week course on business organization, management, production and marketing to Anson 5th and 6th graders. Junior Achievement and the Marshalltown Area Chamber of Commerce education committee are co-sponsoring the program. (Staff photo)
