

Ia-1001

The farmer is following the proper method of plowing terraces to maintain their shape and height. He is making the first cut with the plow, throwing the backfurrow to the top of the ridge. This is the lower twenty acres of a 40-acre field that contains four terraces. These 20 acres will be planted to corn.

228