Below: Junior Rob Lentz dances to entertain the crowd at the fall sports All-City pep rally. He was joined by several other Ankeny High School student council guys.

Above: Every day, these wonderful ladies in the cafeteria make sure that the students of Ankeny High School are able to have a great lunch. They show great teamwork and camaraderie during all three lunch periods.

Above: Senior Josh Frye practices his guitar during band practice. Band is a huge time commitment, usually requiring people to practice their respective instruments not only during band hour, but also outside of class.

Below: The Homecoming Court for 2004 stands out before the football game after the winners have been announced. The Homecoming Court consisted of Carl Ng, Alex Zwiefel, Melissa Melville, Matt Lentz, Kelsey Hood, Amanda DeJong, Grant Hansen, Mike Gettler, Amanda Bigley, and Jeff Lanning.

Above: Tammy Peter, junior, and Amanda Norelius, senior, prepare for a substitution in a game at home. Team work was important to the state champions. It took many players to find the success the team had. After each volley, all the girls would get together to maintain their teamwork and give each other pep talks.

Friends

Amanda Bordon and Alicia Whitmore share a friendly hug for a picture op in the hall between classes. Which hall is it? You'd never guess, they all look the same.

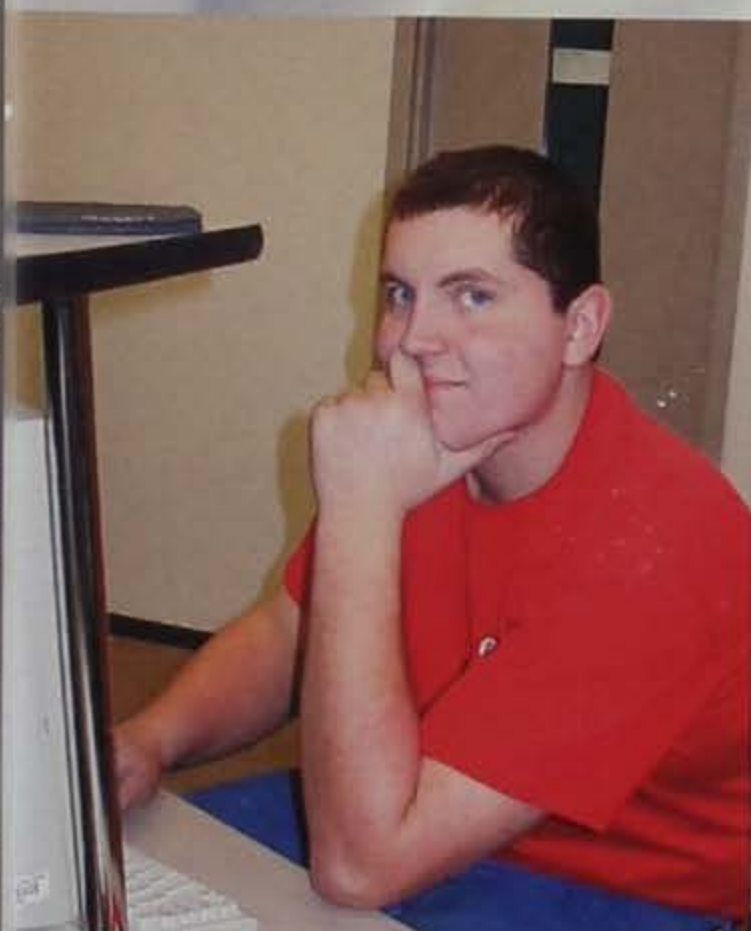

Studying

Amanda Schwartz studies in the media center before school. The media center is the most popular place for students to study during free time, as the pit tends to get pretty noisy.

Hawk Fan

Rose Herman cheers on the Hawks from the fence at a football game. A wide variety of students attended the games to watch the Hawks, often attending tail-gating parties beforehand.

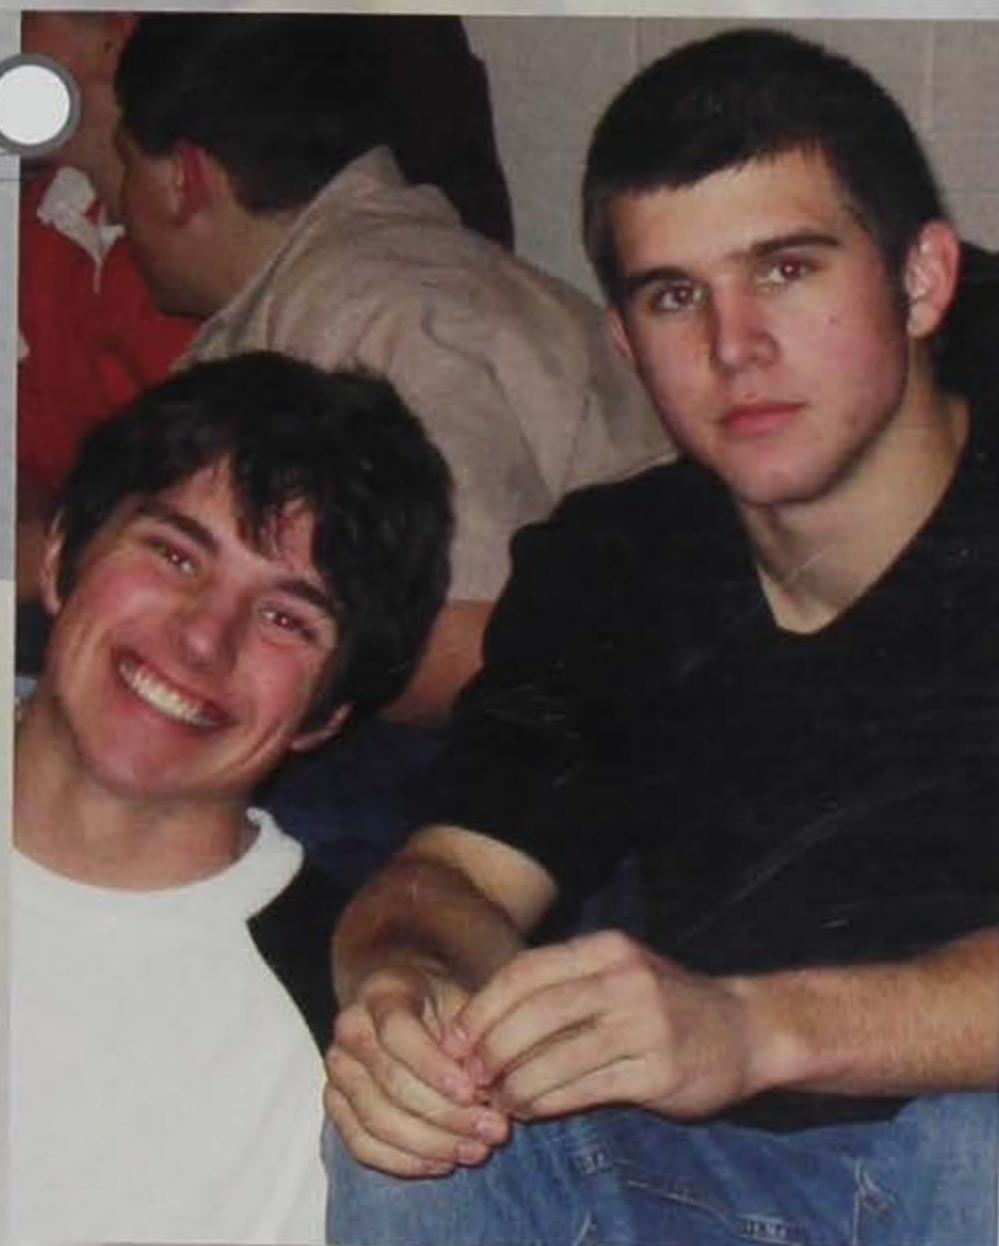

Surfing the Web

Senior Donnie Butler works on a media center computer during a free period. AHS offers students free and easy internet access and many choose to take advantage of it to get schoolwork done.

Relaxing

Colt Hogan and Dustin Padget sit on the bleachers, relaxing before beginning wrestling practice. Both guys were varsity wrestlers their senior year and spent a lot of time keeping themselves in shape.

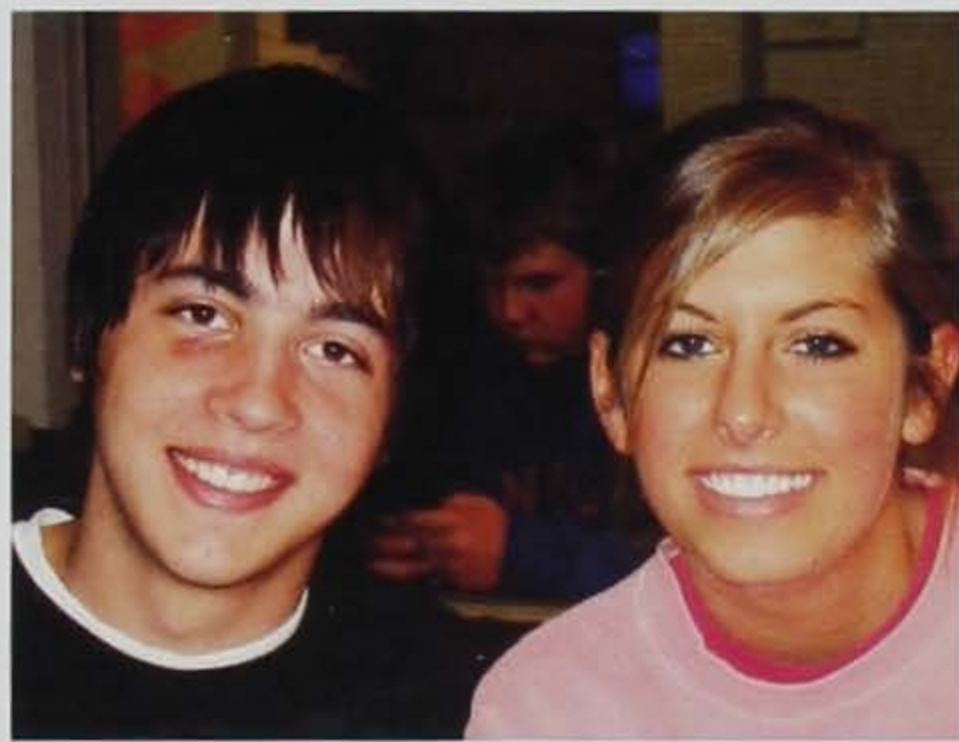

Making Music

Percussionist Samantha Deaton studies her music before the show choir Fall Show rehearsal. Musicians at AHS have many opportunities to play outside of concert band and marching band, including show band, jazz band, and pep band.

Below: Seniors Ashley Showers and Tiffany Wilcox share a hug between dances. This was the girls' last Crystal Ball dance before graduating from Ankeny High School on May 22, 2005.

Below: Four of Ankeny's best athletes sign their letters of intent to the colleges of their choice during first semester. Jeff Lanning signed with Nebraska to play baseball, Todd Vogel signed with Kansas State for baseball, Nicky Wieben will be attending Iowa State to play basketball, and Kristina Voss signed with Creighton to play basketball.

Above: Hayley Crozier, junior, works on some math work while sitting in the Math and Science Resource Center. The MSRC is usually full of students throughout the day as well as before and after school. Study groups are often found working there before classes begin every day.

Below: Seniors Cory Albrecht, Joe Bethel, and Jon Alexander sit in the stands to watch the football game against Valley during semi-finals. The Ankeny Hawks had a great run in football and always had fans in the stands.

Right: Adam Cassidy, Jeff Lanning, and Adam Shupe get a good laugh after playing the game "Who's your mommy?" The football players were blind-folded and tried to guess their moms.

Below: Liz Wazny belted out the national anthem at the homecoming pep assembly. Wazny is a member of the chorus and the show choir.

Above: Alex Buck gives a few encouraging words to the crowd and teammates the night before the big homecoming football game.

Right: Jen Kult takes time out of leading cheers at the pep assembly to play her saxophone in the marching band.

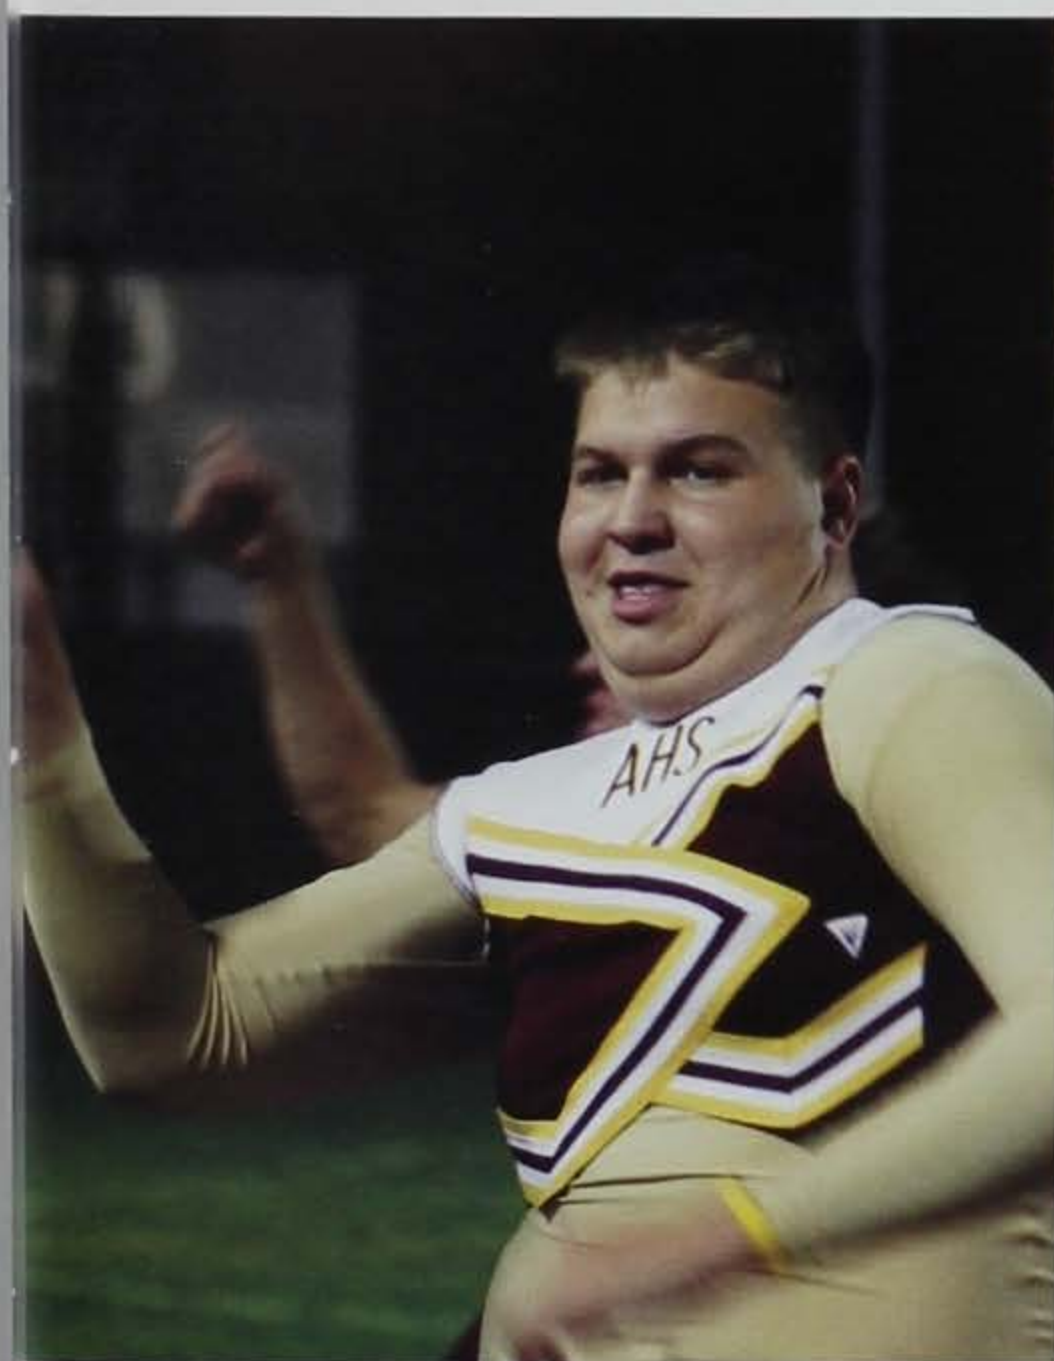

Left: A rumble of cheers and screams comes from the audience as the Ankeny football players walk out onto the field at the pep assembly.

Below: The Ankeny cheerleaders got the crowd going with many cheers and dance routines. They perform stunts and try to get as much air as possible.

Cool thought
 "I really like the Five o'clock Shadow cheerleaders. They helped me get all pepped up for the big game."

AUBRIE KAHNK, 12

Clockwise from left: Mike Gettler, a member of the Five O'clock Shadow dance team, helped the cheerleaders out with a few hot moves. Rob Lentz, a member of the Five O'clock Shadow dance team, shakes his booty to a Backstreet Boys song. The group was a huge hit with the crowd and gave many encore performances throughout the year. Ben Pressley smiles politely for the camera after getting a pie to the face. Female faculty members Ms. Dagel, Ms. Eustice, and Ms. Gross, plan their strategies for their opposition.

Below: Dressing up for the spirit days during homecoming week is a way many get involved in the school. Michelle Almquist and Amanda Cohoon show their farming side.

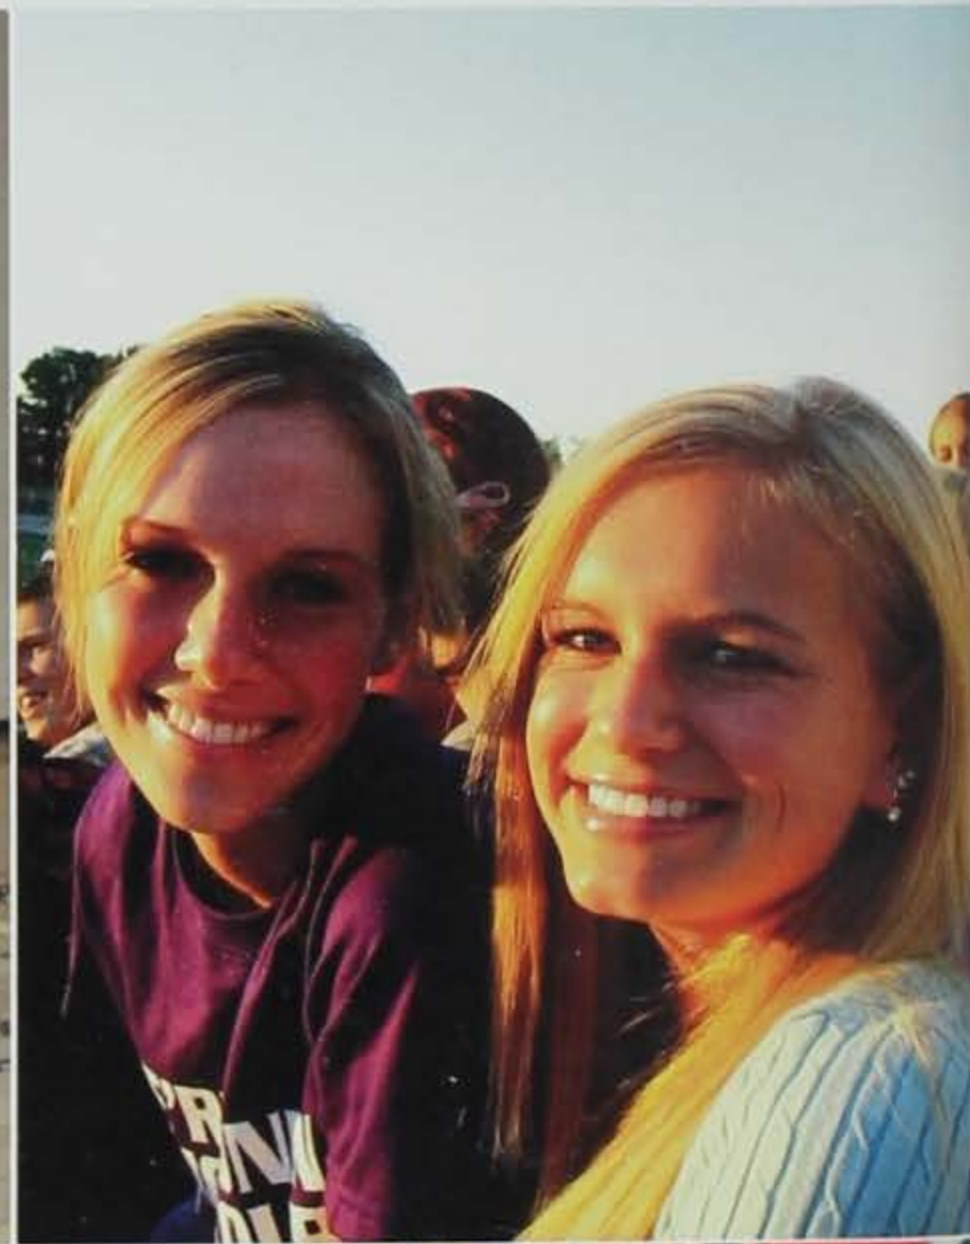

Right: A group of dedicated cross-country fans travelled to the Ames meet carrying the spirit banana with them. They cheered on the guy and the girl runners with enthusiasm and dedication.

10th Graders' Insights

"The biggest change would be the block classes and the fact that you have upper classmen in your classes sometimes. Also the halls are much more crowded."

—Samantha Dardis

"I think having your schedule changed during second semester was the biggest change. It was like the first day of school all over again."

—Kara Ager

"The biggest change was that I could drive. It makes it a lot easier to get to and from school."

—Brett Haefner

What was the biggest change coming from Northview Middle School to the High School?

thoughts on change

"The biggest change coming from Northview to the high school is probably block to normal scheduling. At Northview you're not able to be tardy very often because you only have four classes each day."

— RYAN PEDDY

Faculty Insights

"This is my third year at AHS. The most obvious change since I've started is the cosmetic changes to the facilities."
Mrs. Bakke, English Department

"I've been here five years and think the additions make the building less crowded. The new paint helps, too. It's nice to be rid of the orange."
—Mrs. Olk, Office

"Every year the count increases significantly. My workload does increase with more students, but it is fun getting to know them and working with Mrs. Olk!"
—Mr. Hamersley, Office

What changes have you seen at the high school over the last number of years?

Documenting the Year

The yearbook staff's first task of the year was to decide on a theme for the book. Then, on Ad Day, the staff went around to area businesses to find sponsors. Throughout the year they worked on many different pages by taking pictures, writing captions, and gathering quotes.

Sam VanderPloeg was a stand out part of the yearbook staff because of his ability to take great pictures. Also, Alexa Groff and Bethany Anderson put forth many hours in and outside of class to perfect the yearbook. Both were editors and looked at every page before they were submitted to the publisher in Visalia, California. This year the staff worked together well and met all the important deadlines.

Above: Seniors Bethany Anderson and Alexa Groff take a moment from their hard work. They set aside many hours to make this yearbook great. Both devoted time before and after school for their extra editing duties.

Above: Seniors Amanda Norelius and Melissa Melville pose for picture while accounting for baby ads. There were many tasks like these that needed to be completed for the yearbook. Norelius and Melville worked on the baby ads in addition to the other pages they agreed to complete.

Above: Tory Anderson, junior, focuses on her page for the next issue of The Talon. Each writer was usually given a page to complete for the issue as well.

Checking the Facts

This year The Talon's group grew to sixteen members by second semester, one of the largest groups in recent years. Even though it was a larger group, all the members got to know each other quickly, and worked well together. The lab was always a fast pace environment to live in, as the newspaper went to press every two weeks. The fourth annual Battle of the Bands was also held this year, and all Talon members were involved.

Above: Juniors Hannah Bennett and Carla Schaffer take a much needed break from the paper before getting back to work. The Talon was always on a busy schedule as each issue went to press every two weeks.

Giving Something Back

There were several different ways Ankeny High School gave back to the community this year. For instance, the French Club sponsored the Cystic Fibrosis basketball game and walk while SADD sponsored the semi-annual blood drives. The Talon staff organized the Battle of the Bands and all proceeds went to a local clothing closet.

All of the activities were supported and organized by the students of Ankeny High School. A lot of time and effort were put into these events to make them profitable, and the benefits were spread throughout the community.

Students Against Destructive Decisions

SADD held several events this year. There were two very successful blood drives, netting 112 pints in the fall and 110 pints in the spring. A new activity that SADD did this year was the Grim Reaper day. A student dressed like the Grim Reaper and walked around the high school, selecting one student every seven minutes to represent how often someone dies from a drunk driving accident. SADD also performed some elementary skits.

Working Together for Fun!

Circle of Friends is not just a club, it's where friendships are made. Circle of Friends started the year off with a breakfast before school. As always, Circle of Friends ended the year with a trip to Adventurland Park. Every year Circle of Friends tries to plan an activity each month. Some of the other activities Circle of Friends held were pumpkin painting and a Valentine's Day party. The group also attended a Buccaneers hockey game, an I-Cubs baseball game, and the Haunted Forest in Ames.

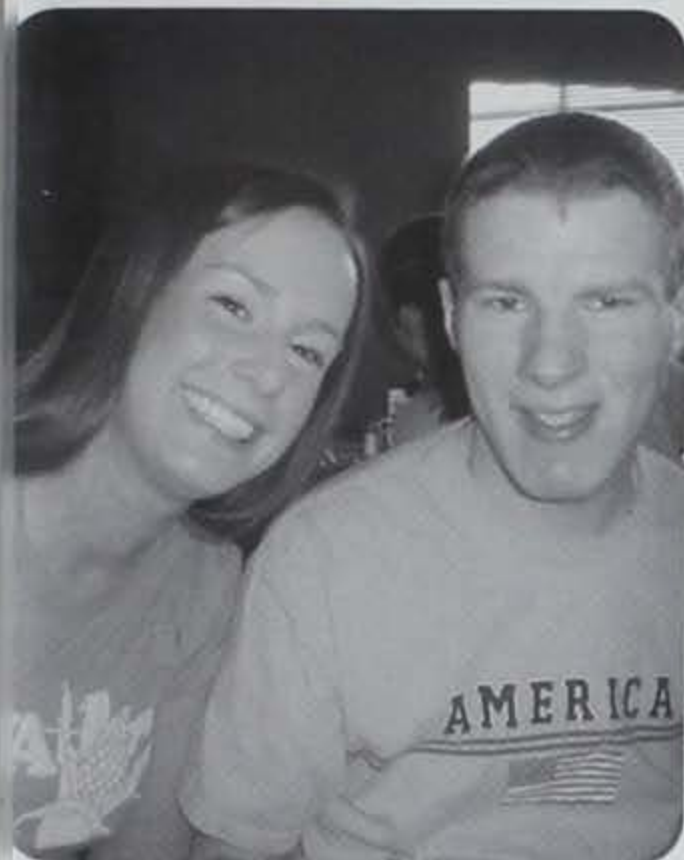

This year Circle of Friends received the United Way Distinguished Service Award. Even though many members are graduating this year, the group will still have the memories from this year to cherish forever.

Serving the School

Student Council organizes many fun events for the school throughout the year. Some activities they sponsored this year included Homecoming Week, which included Beat-a-Car, dress up days, Cream the Council, and the powderpuff game. They also organized Stud Ball, the can drive, and a teacher appreciation breakfast. Senior Matt Heggen was president this year, and junior Kyle Case was vice president.

Jami Fontana, 12

"I enjoyed the CF activities. It felt good to help raise money for a good cause."

Kendall Smith, 12

"French Club is the only cool thing to do to help my status as a French enthusiast."

Holli McClure, 12

"The hayrack ride was my favorite because we roasted saucisson (hot-dogs) and guimauve (marshmallows)."

French Club

Above: Senior Holli McClure, one of the CF Basketball Committee chairpersons, gives directions to senior Jessica Bernard on the night of the game. Chairpersons had quite a bit of responsibility, charged with the direction and coordination of their events. Thankfully, they received copious help from Ms. Pace and Ms. Rasmussen.

Above: Seniors Alex Zwiefel and Lindsey Ferin sell baked goods to raise money for the CF Foundation. The bake sale is the longest running of the CF fundraisers the French Club puts on in the Spring. It also involves the widest range of French Club students, as all the goods are homemade or supplied by French Club members.

The Ankeny High School French Club kicked off the 2004-2005 school year with a hayrack ride at Jester Park. They sponsored other activities, such as a trip to an Ames haunted house and a French desserts tasting session. During Spring Break a group of French Club students travelled to France for the St. Etienne exchange. The club's fundraising efforts on behalf of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation rose to new heights, as the fifth Annual Walk for Cystic Fibrosis was held at the high school for the first time.

Business Professionals of America

"It was an exciting year for Ankeny BPA because of the honor of having the president of the national organization, Jenna Kimberley, as one of our members," stated BPA adviser Ms. Hinshaw. BPA also had a state officer, senior Rob Pick, and the largest membership in the history of Ankeny BPA. Senior Lauren Dunker served as local president.

Members competed in many different business related events at various competitions during the school year, including a trip in April to Anaheim, California, for the national BPA competition. Ankeny had eight top ten competitors, including Chantel Witt's second place finish in the legal office category and a second place finish for the presentation management team comprised of Rob Pick, Brittany Blowers, and Chantel Witt.

State Champs!

Every Tuesday and Thursday the media center becomes the center of afternoon attention as the chess club members set up their game boards and pieces. The club is led by retired teacher Mr. Lierman, who still has a great passion for the game.

The Chess Club also competes outside of the school and won the state chess championship in Cedar Rapids. The top five players from each school are invited to attend. Ankeny's team consisted of Brent Aronson, Jeremy Madison, Jim Freerksen, Steve Mischel, and Jack Hou.

Ms. Deaver, Teacher

"I like Book Club because of the relaxed atmosphere where students and teachers interact as equals."

Meghan Smith, Senior

"I like to hear other people's opinions about the books I've read."

Katie Minks, Junior

"I liked reading books and being able to discuss them with people interested in literature."

Right: Sophomore Katie Rohlf keeps the conversation lively with her opinions about the book being discussed.

Below: Allison Roggenburg and Kelsey Propsom enjoy their refreshments as they laugh over the book they just finished. Students enjoyed getting out of the school to discuss books.

Above: Mr. Honz listens as Ms. Deaver gets excited discussing her book with the rest of the club.

Book Club

The Ankeny High School Book Club met numerous times during the school year. The usual spot was Taracino Coffee on Delaware Avenue. At each meeting the club would discuss a book chosen at the previous meeting. Students as well as faculty made a point to attend. One of the highlights of the year was when members went out to eat at Buzard Billy's and then went to hear author Peter Hedges speak in downtown Des Moines.

Above: Teachers from many different departments enjoy book club because it gives them a chance to read something they otherwise might not. Here Ms. Sand shares a favorite passage with the students around the tables.

Andy Crouse, 10

"I enjoyed spending time with my teammates and getting to know them as we developed our cases and arguments."

Dennis Tarasi, 11

"I enjoyed going up against other teams from other schools. It gives you a different feeling of competition."

Rachel Gillum, 11

"I liked messing around with my friends as well as the competition."

Mock Trial

Mock Trial consisted of two teams this year. From December until February the teams went over their cases and discussed strategies. Every team analyzed the same case, and the case changes each year. This year's case involved an employment dispute.

On February 28th and March 1st the teams competed in two trials at Drake University for the opportunity to make it to the semi-final rounds. Both teams found success even though neither made it to the semi-finals.

Andy Altmayer, 12

"I liked competing in the meets even though we didn't do so well."

Maria Phearman, 12

"I enjoyed going to the practices and spending time with my friends."

Alex Yarbrough, 10

"My favorite memories were all the fun practices and going to the bowling meets."

Nathan Sayre, 12

"It's a lot of fun listening to Gavin and Adam with their side comments about the questions."

Aerielle Smith, 10

"I enjoyed being with a group of people with a wide variety of knowledge."

Matt Bachman, 12

"It was fun to be in something that rewarded knowledge. The smartest people usually win!"

Kati Cunningham, 10

"I loved going to the capitol in the fall and realizing that in 10 or 20 years, some of the students will probably be back as senators or representatives."

Stephanie Gibbons, 10

"I enjoyed sitting back and watching the people fight over trivial things. They were hilarious!"

Kevin Shannon, 10

"Representing a country and learning as much as you can about it is fun and insightful."

Group Thoughts

Bowling

The Ankeny Bowling Team had a record number of members this year. Practices were held twice weekly. Tuesday morning practices were tough for some as they began at 6:30 a.m. and ran through 7:30. Wednesday afternoon practices went from 3:30-4:30.

Getting to work together as a team was something the team was able to do as the season went on. With two freshman and sophomore Matt Overland playing on the varsity team, there is great potential for next year's team.

Scholastic Bowl

Scholastic Bowl is an activity that allows students to compete by sharing their knowledge in a competitive setting. The sponsor was social studies instructor Mr. Garner.

Competitions this year included the Ankeny High School Invitational, as well as Invitationals at Aplington-Parkersburg High School, Eagle Grove High School, and Boone High School. Ankeny's team placed second at Aplington-Parkersburg in November and first at Boone in March.

Model UN

Figuring out how the United Nations functions is one of the outcomes of being involved in Model UN. Students from AHS represented two countries, Algeria and Italy. They wrote individual essays on a variety of topics regarding their countries and then came together with people from other schools representing other countries. The activity allowed students to see the world from a different perspective and examine issues from other cultures.

SOFTBALL

The Hawkette softball team ended their season with 26 wins, 23 losses, and were just one game away from making it to State. After beating DM East in Districts, they advanced to play in Fort Dodge against Sioux City East. But the Hawkettes fell short in nine innings, losing 1-4.

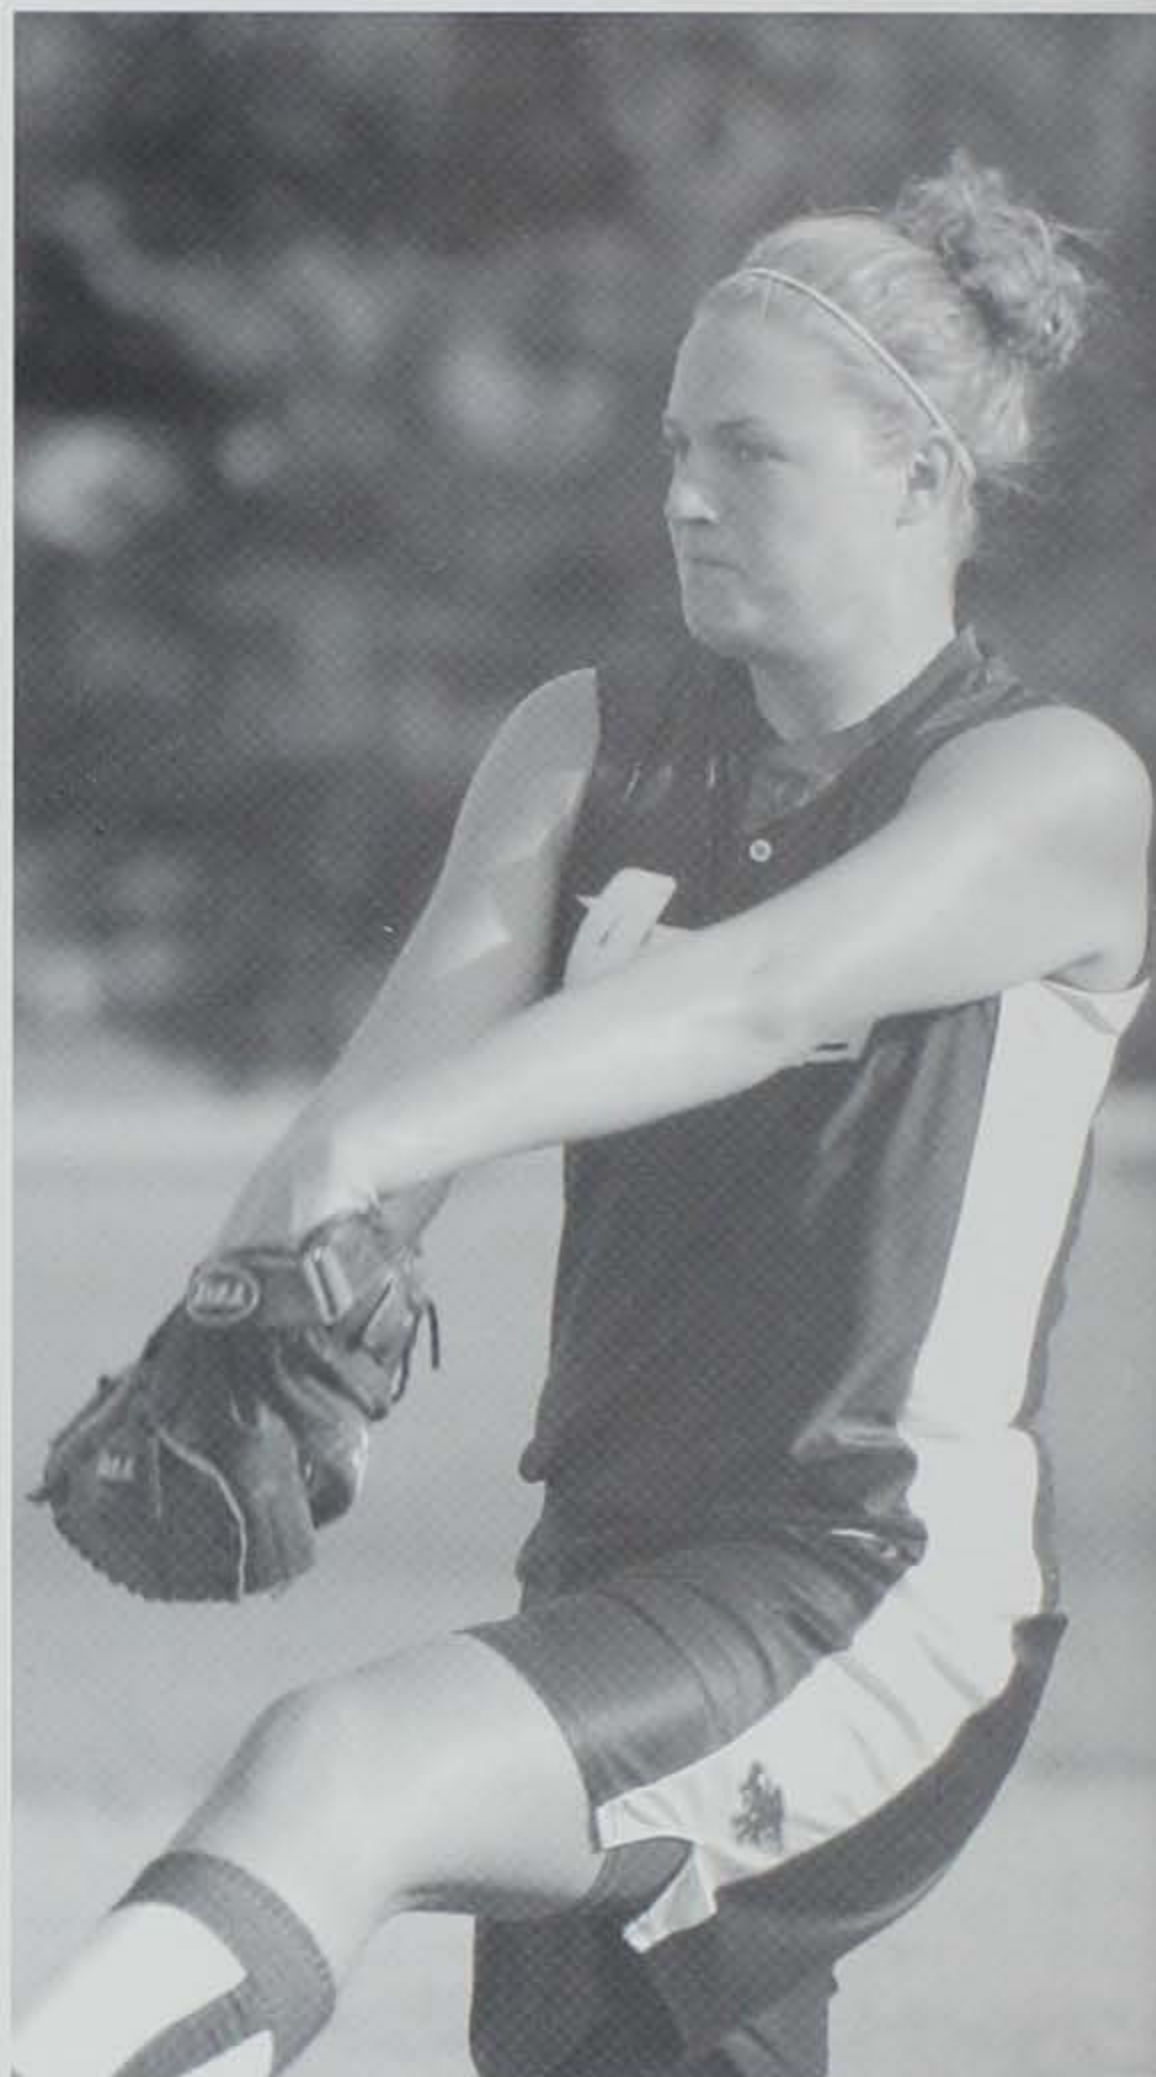

This was how the whole summer went for the Hawkettes. They went from losing to teams like Waukee to beating teams like Dowling.

Besides the rocky season, the girls were more than just teammates. On and off the field all of them got along well. Even after their last game, they all got together that night to hang out.

They had many outstanding players as well. Kelsey Nurnberg, Jamie Gee, Mollie Hamblin, and Megan Wittkop all made Second Team All-Conference. Dawn Brugioni, Katie Case, Stephanie Sharp, Ellen Marsh, and Courtney Fisher got Honorable Mention.

Above: The Hawkettes huddle up to give some inspiring words of encouragement for the game to come. During the season, the girls grew close as a team both on and off the field. Team unity strengthened as the season progressed.

Top: Megan Wittkop looks at the camera between pitches. Wittkop, a Second Team All-Conference player, had a .305 batting average along with a homerun and 31 RBI's.

Above: Not only on the field, but in the dugout as well, there were always cheers supporting one another. Traditional cheers before the game were a big help in getting the players ready.

Left: Stephanie Sharp awaits the next pitch. Sharp, the third baseman for the Hawkettes, had a batting average of .195. She had 25 hits and seven doubles.

BASEBALL

The Ankeny Hawks had an impressive season with an overall record of 35-7. They got first place in their conference, and their final state ranking was second, behind Valley. Ankeny lost in the State semifinals to Des Moines Lincoln 11-2.

Receiving first team All-Conference Honors were seniors Todd Vogel, Kellen Vance, Calvin Johnson and junior Aaron Jarosh. Vogel, Lanning, Vance, and Johnson also received first team All-District Honors. Vogel, Vance, and Johnson also received first team All-State Honors. A new Ankeny home run record was set by Johnson with fifteen home runs. The team had a sixty home run total. The sophomore team had a record of twenty wins, ten losses, and one tie. The freshmen had nineteen wins, ten losses, and also one tie.

It is safe to say the Hawks had a very successful season.

Left: Calvin Johnson takes his batting stance. Johnson, the team's leading hitter, set a school record with 15 home runs in one season. He received All-Conference, District, and State Honors.

VOLLEYBALL

This year the Ankeny Hawkette Volleyball team had a tremendous season. After losing six starters from last year, people said the girls would not do so well this year. The girls volleyball team proved them wrong. With a record of 36-4, the Hawkettes won the State Championship game. Sarah Oxemann made first tournament team and Shannon Aschoff was the captain of the first tournament team. All the girls gave it their all in the last games of the Championship match. The girls had long and hard practices, but it all paid off in the end.

The girls were a closer volleyball team than ever before. It helped that they had played club ball with each other over the years. This group of girls had unique talents, not just on the court, but off as well. The girls bonded at tournaments and team dinners. Who could have asked for more?

FOOTBALL

The Hawks had a rough start with two big losses early in the season. One, to number one ranked Valley, a rematch of last year's State semifinal game, and then to East.

The Hawks found their groove and swept their conference for the third consecutive season. They beat undefeated South East Polk in the conference championship to make the play-offs. The first game, against Dowling, was possibly the most intense and emotional win the Hawks had all season, but it lead to the unfortunate injury of Hawk standout Jeff Lanning. For the next game, the Hawks traveled to Souix City to meet Heelan in the state quarterfinals. The Hawks, once again the underdogs, came out victorious.

For the third year in a row Ankeny met Valley in the state semifinals. Though Valley came out on top, the Hawks' 2004 season was one to be proud of.

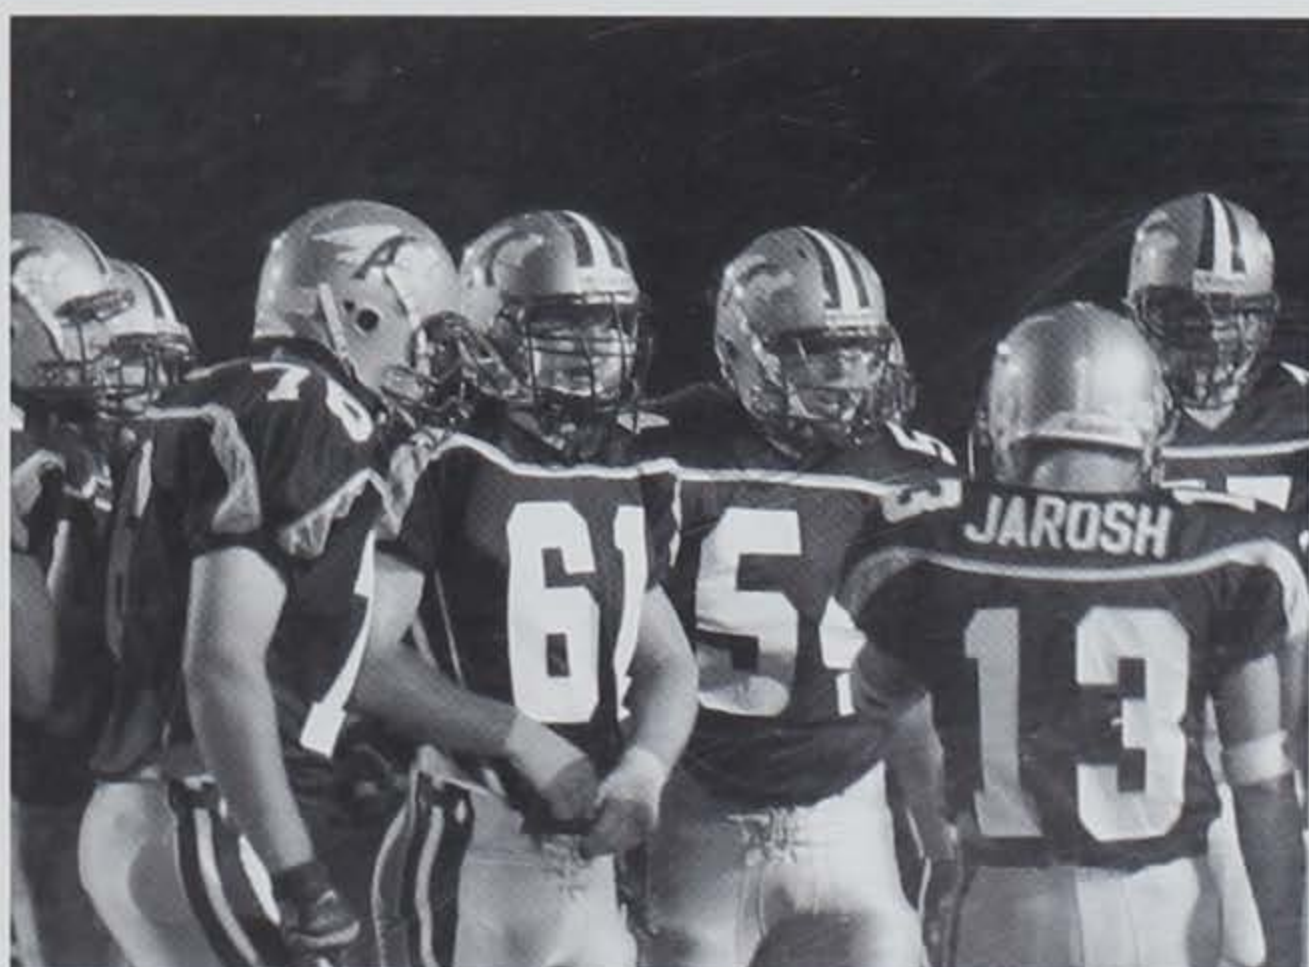

Left: Junior Billy Beverly warms up for the season opener against Valley. The Hawks were optimistic and put up a good fight, but yet again the Tigers came out on top.

GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY

The 2004 Ankeny Girls Cross Country team was nothing short of great. At the season opener in Ames, the girls ended up with fourth place, getting them off to a great start.

Later in the season the girls really began to show their talent, taking second place at three meets in a row and placing fourth or better in all but two meets. Everyone played an important part this season, but there were also some standout girls. Senior Toni Harshbarger had a best time of 17:09, junior Ashley Thomas's best time was 15:32, and sophomore Morgan Olsen had a best time of 15:47.

The team included girls from grades nine through twelve, all of whom get the chance to run in meets. No one sits on the bench in this sport. As Kayla Purdum put it, the best part of cross country is "bonding with everyone no matter what grade they are in."

GUYS CROSS COUNTRY

This has been an excellent year for the boys cross country team. The boys did an awesome job at both the CIML meet and the District meet. At both meets they earned first place. In the CIML, Ankeny had six guys place in the top 16: Blair Boehm, Todd Vogel, Josh Boersma, Kyle Olson, Jon Wignes, and Jake Schreiner.

The team also took second place in three meets and placed third in three meets. In the CIML meet, Blair Boehm placed first for the varsity team, Austin Tegels placed first for JV, and Dru Jorgensen placed first on the 9/10th team.

The guys had an outstanding State meet, placing sixth. Austin Tegels and Andrew Jorgensen received letters for their efforts. Team effort awards went out to Adam Bohl, Andrew White, Andrew Jorgensen, and Austin Tegels. These guys made the 2004 season a spectacular one.

Left: Marin Bisdorf, junior, sits and relaxes to some music before her race. Swimmers on the team have a lot of time on their hands before their races and generally spent much of it getting to know each other and watching their teammates race.

GIRLS SWIMMING

The girls swimming team really made a name for themselves this season, taking second at State after falling just ten points behind Cedar Falls. The team's vision was that of the A-Train, which eventually became their motto. As Coach Nordby put it, "Our logo for our t-shirts was this massive, powerful train, cruising down the tracks, picking up speed as it headed toward its goal. The girls kept their sights on the final destination of State and worked hard at keeping the train on the tracks, picking off other teams along the way."

That motto held true throughout the season, especially after Ankeny beat Valley's swim team. When most other teams thought it was simply a fluke, all of the girls were soon proving them wrong. Girls swimming won all but one meet, and put themselves in fantastic contention at State.

GUYS SWIMMING

This season boys swimming got off to a great start. Even though the Hawks lost six seniors, they still managed to pull off an undefeated season. They had four returning state qualifiers: Danny Harty, Ben VanRoekel, Dan Bauer, and Dan Sutherland. They started the season at home, where they swam against North, Hoover, and Newton. Continuing their drive, the Hawks finally bested rival Dowling this year for the first time ever. Ankeny made their way to the state swimming meet on February 19th. The Hawks made a great effort with 98 points, placing fifth. This was the 11th consecutive top-10 finish for the team. They also moved up a place from 6th the last three seasons. Senior Danny Harty led the Hawks to their impressive finish; he defended his title in the 100 breaststroke, and he also made All-American.

GIRLS GOLF

The Ankeny Hawkette Golf Team did more than participate in invites, meets, and tournaments. They became great friends and shared many memories together, on and off the green. "We went out for lunch together on early outs after our practices, and sometimes we even went to the mall," says junior Ashley Porter. "We got along really well and spent a lot of fun times together."

The Hawkettes won many of the meets and invites they attended. The number one golfer for the Hawkettes, junior Abbi Sumner performed well while competing for Ankeny. The Ankeny Hawkettes placed 2nd at their conference meet held on May 18, 2005. This was a big win for the Hawkettes against the tough competitors they faced throughout the 2005 season. Ankeny Girls Golf was very successful this year and turned into a great team!

GUYS GOLF

The boys golf team had a good season this year, with five players qualifying for State. Joe Bethel, senior, placed third in districts, which were held at Ottumwa High School. He was only two strokes behind the first place winner, Jack Newman of Hoover, with 75.

Ankeny finished second overall at districts, with a score of 322. The boys beat Dowling, who came in third, by four strokes. Ankeny placed fourth overall at the State Meet, which was held the weekend of October 8-9 in Marion, Iowa. The guys finished with a final score of 121, just thirteen behind Bettendorf, who finished first with a score of 108.

Four of the five individual qualifiers for State were seniors, including Joe Bethel, Matt Kuperus, Reid Petersen, and Kellan Vance. One sophomore, Dustin Wells, qualified and finished fourteenth with a score of 154. Their final record was 5-0 in their Conference, 7-1 overall, and second place in the CIML.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Ankeny Hawkettes finished the season with a 27-0 record. Three of the wins were from the Kroger Classic Tournament in Ohio over winter break. The Hawkettes received the first place trophy in Ohio, getting revenge from last year's loss to Pickerington North in the 2nd round of the tournament. Not only were the Hawkettes the number one team in the state and defending champions, according to USA Today the Hawkettes were the 2nd ranked team in the nation at the end of the season. When the Hawkettes won this year's 4A state championship, its fourth consecutive, the team became the first team with four titles in a row since the state tournament was sanctioned in 1926.

The Hawkettes' defense kept their opponents from scoring an average of only 32.1 points per game. All tournament team members included seniors Nicky Wieben, Kristina Voss, and Megan Wittkop.

Above: Kelsey Hood, senior, drives it up at the barn and comes down on the hard floor, but makes the basket and a draws a foul. Hood was one of the key players in the game because she was always in the face of her opponents. Hood was also one of the team captains.

Right: Nicky Wieben, senior, reached the 1000 point plateau during the beginning of the season. Wieben made it on the all-state tournament team. Gatorade also recognized Wieben as the Gatorade Player of the year two times.

Top: Amanda Olsen, junior, waits patiently by the scorer's board for the play to stop. Olsen finished the season with 36 points.

Above: Emily DeJong, senior, was one of the team's outside shooters, completing her season with a 42% from the arc.

Left: Kristina Voss, senior, goes up for the easy lay-up. Voss will be going to Creighton to play for the girls basketball team there. She was named to the all-tournament team.

GUYS BASKETBALL

The guys basketball team had a big season with a showing at the state competition at Vets Auditorium. It wasn't an easy road to state for the guys, however. They started out the season with some tough losses to Valley, Indianola and Johnston. Earning enough wins during the regular season, however, allowed them to keep playing on.

The players were determined to succeed and this was shown clearly in the third of three meetings with Johnston. Even though the guys lost at their two previous meetings, they prepared well for the game and upset Johnston during the state competition at Vets. The loss to Linn-Mar was a disappointment, but with the hot and cold season, the guys did prove that they could play with the best of the state's teams.

Above: Getting ready for a hard day of practice, seniors Colton Smith and Noah Lundquist, and juniors Dana Semprini and Sean Downs pose for a picture. All of these guys were important parts of the Ankeny wrestling team this year.

Above: Eric Remus is wrestling an opponent from Roosevelt. Remus kept his strength through the whole match and ended up with a win for the Hawks. As a three time letter winner for wrestling, he is a very dedicated wrestler, ending his season with a 28-10 record.

Right: Senior Alex Hanson, wrestling at 171 and ending his season with a 9-3 record, takes on his opponent from North. His look of determination prevailed as he pinned his opponent, giving Ankeny six of the points that helped win the meet.

Above: Brad Rudge, sophomore, prepares himself to take down his opponent. He ended this year with a 1-3 record.

Above: Danny Manning, also a sophomore for this year's Hawk Wrestling team, tries to escape from his opponent. Manning ended his season with an 11-14 record.

Above: Tory Forest, sophomore, talks to Coach Dave Ewing and Coach Tom Owens during a hard match against North. Even though it was a tough match, Forest stayed in there and never gave up, which is the key in wrestling. The coaches are a big help to the wrestlers when they need advise on what to do. Forest's record this year was 16-16.

Top: Billy Robinson, senior, was a new member of the Varsity wrestling team. Here he stuck with his match and ended up winning by pinning his opponent. He was one of the most determined wrestlers on the team, ending the year with a 5-9 record.

Left: Shane Spooner helps to get Adam Cassidy prepared for his match against North. Even though Spooner didn't have a match, he was there to help out his teammates. As a state champion, he was a big influence to others.

WRESTLING

The Hawk wrestlers ended this year with a 11-4 record. One of the biggest wins was the Johnston meet. The Hawks walked away with a big victory, winning 33-32. The road to state came quickly, and after districts, four Ankeny wrestlers advanced to state. 145 pounder Colton Smith, 189 pounder Colt Hogan, 215 pounder Adam Cassidy, and last year's state champ, 275 pounder Shane Spooner advanced.

The Hawks concluded their season with three place winners. Smith ended his season winning 5th at state with a 30-11 record. Cassidy placed 5th at state, ending his season with a 32-6 record. Spooner ended his season with a 31-2 record, placing 3rd at state. Although Hogan didn't place, he was a successful part of the wrestling team this year, ending his season with 26-13 record.

GIRLS TRACK

Unlike last year with so many seniors, the underclassmen and the current seniors had to step it up a notch to keep up the Hawkette tradition.

In the spotlight at the Drake Relays were junior Christine Andresen and sophomore Erica Willey placing 15th in the 4x100 meter relay with a time of 50.67 seconds. Andresen also participated in the 4x400 meter relay, teaming up with a couple of freshman and coming in 17th place with a time of 4:06.28. Also attending the Drake Relays were various freshmen all contributing their best to the team.

The team placed 4th at the CIML Conference meet. After a great effort at conference, the team was prepared to give it their all at the district meet. The team had one senior state qualifier from the district meet, Amanda Riese, at the high-jump.

Coach Adamson sums up the season by saying, "That's the kind of team we are, we may not win a lot of events, but we're deep and solid and can get a lot of seconds and thirds." Also adding, "We might be young, but we have a lot of heart and a lot of guts."

GUYS TRACK

The Ankeny Hawk guys track team started off their season at the end of February. They practiced for two weeks before they had their first dual meet at Ames High School, which was unscored and got them ready for the season. They did very well in that meet and went on to take 2nd at the Early Bird Relays here at the Ankeny track.

The team had eight guys qualify for Drake Relays, and took home a 2nd place finish in the long jump from junior Aaron Jarosh. Two weeks after Drake, the varsity team went on to win the CIML Conference meet in Indianola. Then, earning a total of 108 points at the Districts meet, they took 2nd place and had 17 members qualify for state. Jarosh took first place at the state meet with a jump of 22 feet, 7.5 inches. The medley took 2nd place. The 4x800 team took 3rd and Jon Wignes took 4th in the 800. Shane Spooner went on to take 4th place in the shotput.

GIRLS TENNIS

Even though the girls tennis team had a hard schedule, they never let one another down and picked up the pieces from lost games. One of the most unique things about the tennis team is that the players were close friends.

The tennis team practiced each weekday from 3:15-5:00. During practices the team would work on skill drills as well as play one another to improve their techniques. Many times they would play each other in tie breakers. After each meet many of the team members would go to Fazoli's for dinner, and if they would win, Coach Mullins would treat the team to ice cream at Kalidoscoops.

The team had some tough matches with some talented opponents. The top six singles players played varsity, and they included Beth Olson, Stacy Rude, Kristin Heise, Keely Maxwell, Jessica Deason, and Stephanie Gibbons.

Left: Stacy Rude, senior, makes a great return shot across court to earn her the match point. Rude has been playing tennis for ten years and looks forward to playing recreationally after high school.

Above: Coach Mullins gives the girls some words of advice before heading out to face the competition. Before each match the teams meet and discuss rules and logistics of the meet.

Above: Senior Keely Maxwell sprints up to the net for a volley after her opponent hits the ball with some back-spin on it.

Above: Senior Kristin Heise smashes the ball while in the air from the back court. Careful play at the baseline is just as important as shots from the net. Heise and teammate Stacy Rude made up Ankeny's number one doubles team.

GUY'S TENNIS

This year's guys tennis team started with the pressure of last year's successful season. In 2004, the team went on to compete at a sub-state level.

Overall, the team had a great year. Led by Coach Corley and Coach Hoefle, the Hawks took second place at districts.

One great highlight of the year was when the team beat Johnston for the conference championship. The Hawks proved they that they can keep it together under pressure.

Tennis isn't all fun and games. It takes hard work to be the best. The team practices every day that they didn't compete. This made for a busy schedule with thirteen meets in just over a month.

According to Dan Pearson, one of the greatest victories the whole team had this year was against Johnston. "Everyone really stepped up and played well."

GIRLS SOCCER

The Hawkettes had a spectacular season. With many shutouts, they have proven to be tough. The varsity team was undefeated this season. Their captains lead them to great sportsmanship, and they developed many skills. Despite losing a few players due to injuries, the girls still came out on top. Varsity also won their tournament in Davenport. The Junior Varsity and Junior Varsity "B" team also did very well this season. The JV team had a winning season despite a couple of losses.

The girls are all very talented. This season there was a record number of girls that went out. The Hawkettes had a lot of freshmen on the team. Many of those girls have been playing for years. There is a lot of talent on the soccer fields shown by these ladies, and there is much more to come for the Hawkettes soccer team.

GUYS SOCCER

The guys have had an outstanding season this year. Sophomore Tanner Wallen stated, "The highlight of the season was obtaining a respectable 11-6 record."

After last year's season of ups and downs and a few losses, this year's group has managed to play well under the circumstances of losing three seniors last year, all of whom were starters.

In order for the team to be successful, the season required a lot of hard work. Practices consisted of a great deal of running as well as drills to master ball handling skills. Practices were held each non-game week night at Northeast Elementary School. The practices would range from easy to hard depending on the day.

The team was led by seniors Reid Petersen, Nate Palmolea, John Merkel, Andy Poppen, Tyler Schipper, and Rob Pick.

Above: Junior Brian Kahler maneuvers his way up the field at Cowrie Soccer Fields during their game against East. Because this field doesn't have lights, the games there were played earlier in the evening.

CHEERLEADING

This year the Ankeny cheerleaders took every opportunity to cheer, tumble, or stunt at all public appearances. Working hard every day at practice, the cheerleaders came up with new stunts and cheers. Starting the summer of 2004 the cheerleaders began summer practices to prepare for the upcoming season.

As soon as the school year started the competition squad went to work practicing for the November 2nd state competition in Cedar Rapids. The previous year the Ankeny competition squad took 6th place at state and, to everyone's surprise, they managed to move up a spot to 5th place this year.

Besides just cheering, the cheerleaders put on two clinics, one in the fall and one in the winter. These clinics allowed elementary students to work all week with the varsity cheerleaders. Every cheerleader did her part to bring spirit to the high school.

Left: The Varsity Football Cheerleaders always had something to throw up and show the crowd. Being performed are three Scorpions.

GOLDEN HIGHLIGHTS

Even though the Golden Highlights was a small group this year, they certainly kept the dancing tradition at Ankeny High School. To be a Highlight, members need to try-out for the squad. Once members, the women practice four nights a week, from 3:30- 5:00 at the high school throughout much of the year. Performances began with home football games and continued during half time of many basketball games. The Highlights also participated in solo competitions which required many extra hours of practice and attended group competitions as spectators. The season came to an end with the annual Spring Show in the high school auditorium.

Besides practices, the Highlights enjoyed one another's company and socialized outside of school. They enjoyed a winter get-together as well as a trip to Ames for Hickory Park food.

Heather Schwartz, Sophomore

"The Spring Show was my favorite event because we could show everyone what we've worked on all year."

Ashley Kahl, Sophomore

"Performing is the best because you get feedback from the audience."

SPORTS HIGHLIGHTS

Girls Basketball

Winning the fourth straight title set a state record. Here Amanda Olson waits anxiously for the other team's free throw shot. The Hawkettes won every game they played during the season.

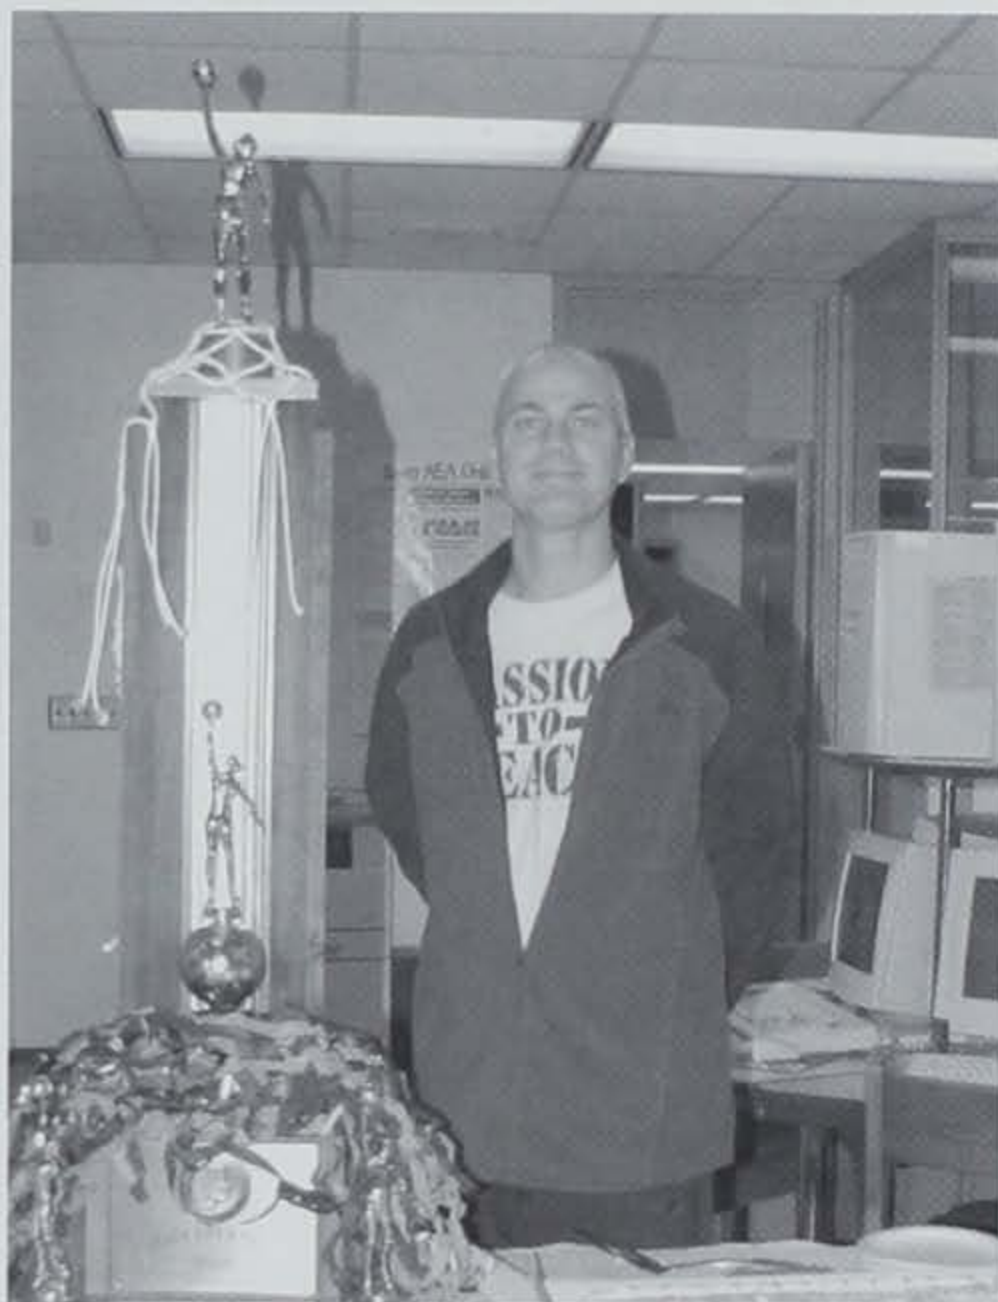

Volleyball

After coming in second last year, this year the girls volleyball team won the state championship. Pictured here is senior Alex Zweifel waiting to replace another player in the line up.

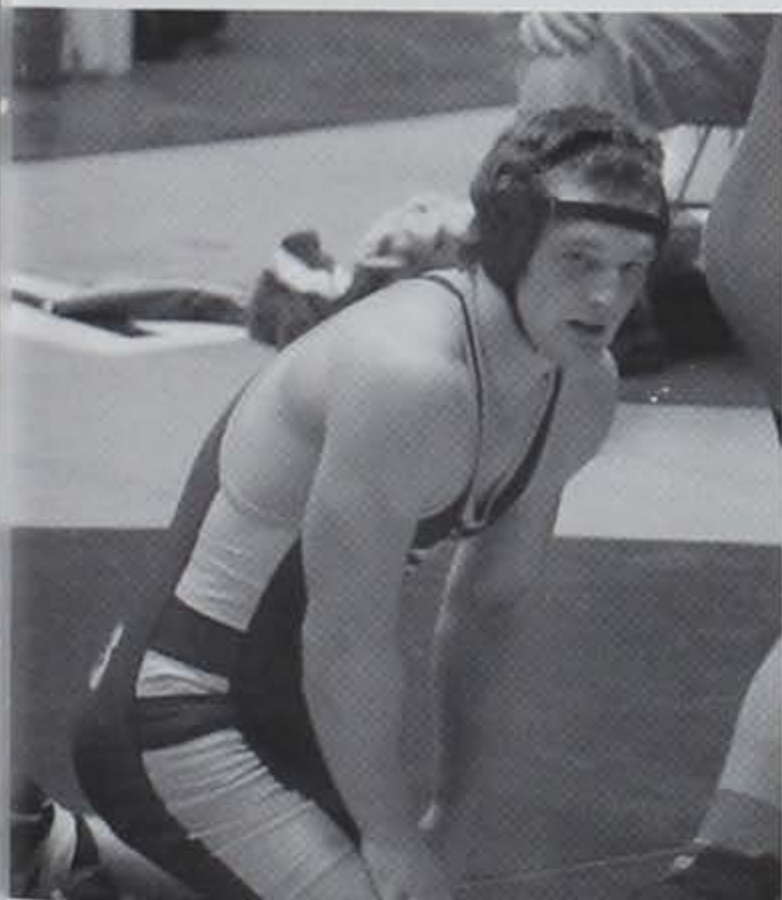

4 time State Champions

Coach DeJong proudly poses with his first place girls basketball team trophy at a celebration with the faculty during an in-service afternoon. This is his fourth win in four years, setting a record for most consecutive state titles. DeJong was also awarded coach of the year.

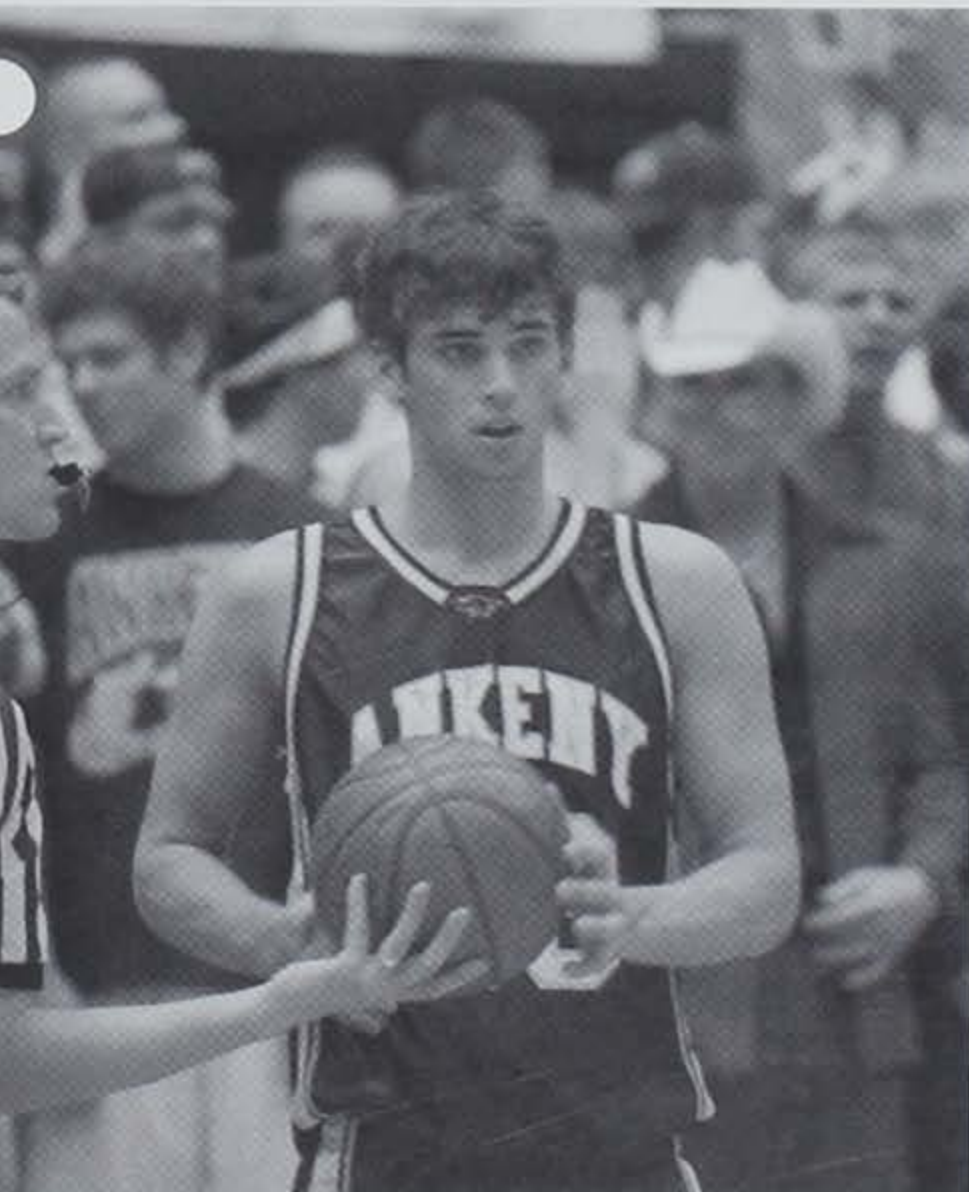

Guys Basketball

The guys basketball team made it to the state tournament, the last basketball tournament to be held at Vets Auditorium. Even though the team didn't make it to the finals, they had some impressive players. Shown here is senior Kalvin Johnson.

Wrestling

After a hard fought battle in the state competition, senior Adam Cassidy catches his breath. Cassidy finished fifth in his weight category at the state tournament.

Guys Swimming

Senior Danny Harty was an individual state champion in the breast stroke for the second year in a row. He was also honored with the title of All-American.

Making an argument

The debate team took third in the state in the annual competiton this school year. The team was led by Head Coach Greg Lage as well as many returning and experienced seniors.

At the state competition in individual events Kelly Clancy broke to the next round and then finished 16th in Congress debate. Andy Crouse finished 23rd in Congress. Senior Tyler Schipper had the best showing of an Ankeny debater with a 2nd place finish at state in Lincoln-Douglas debate.

Whitney Richards, 12

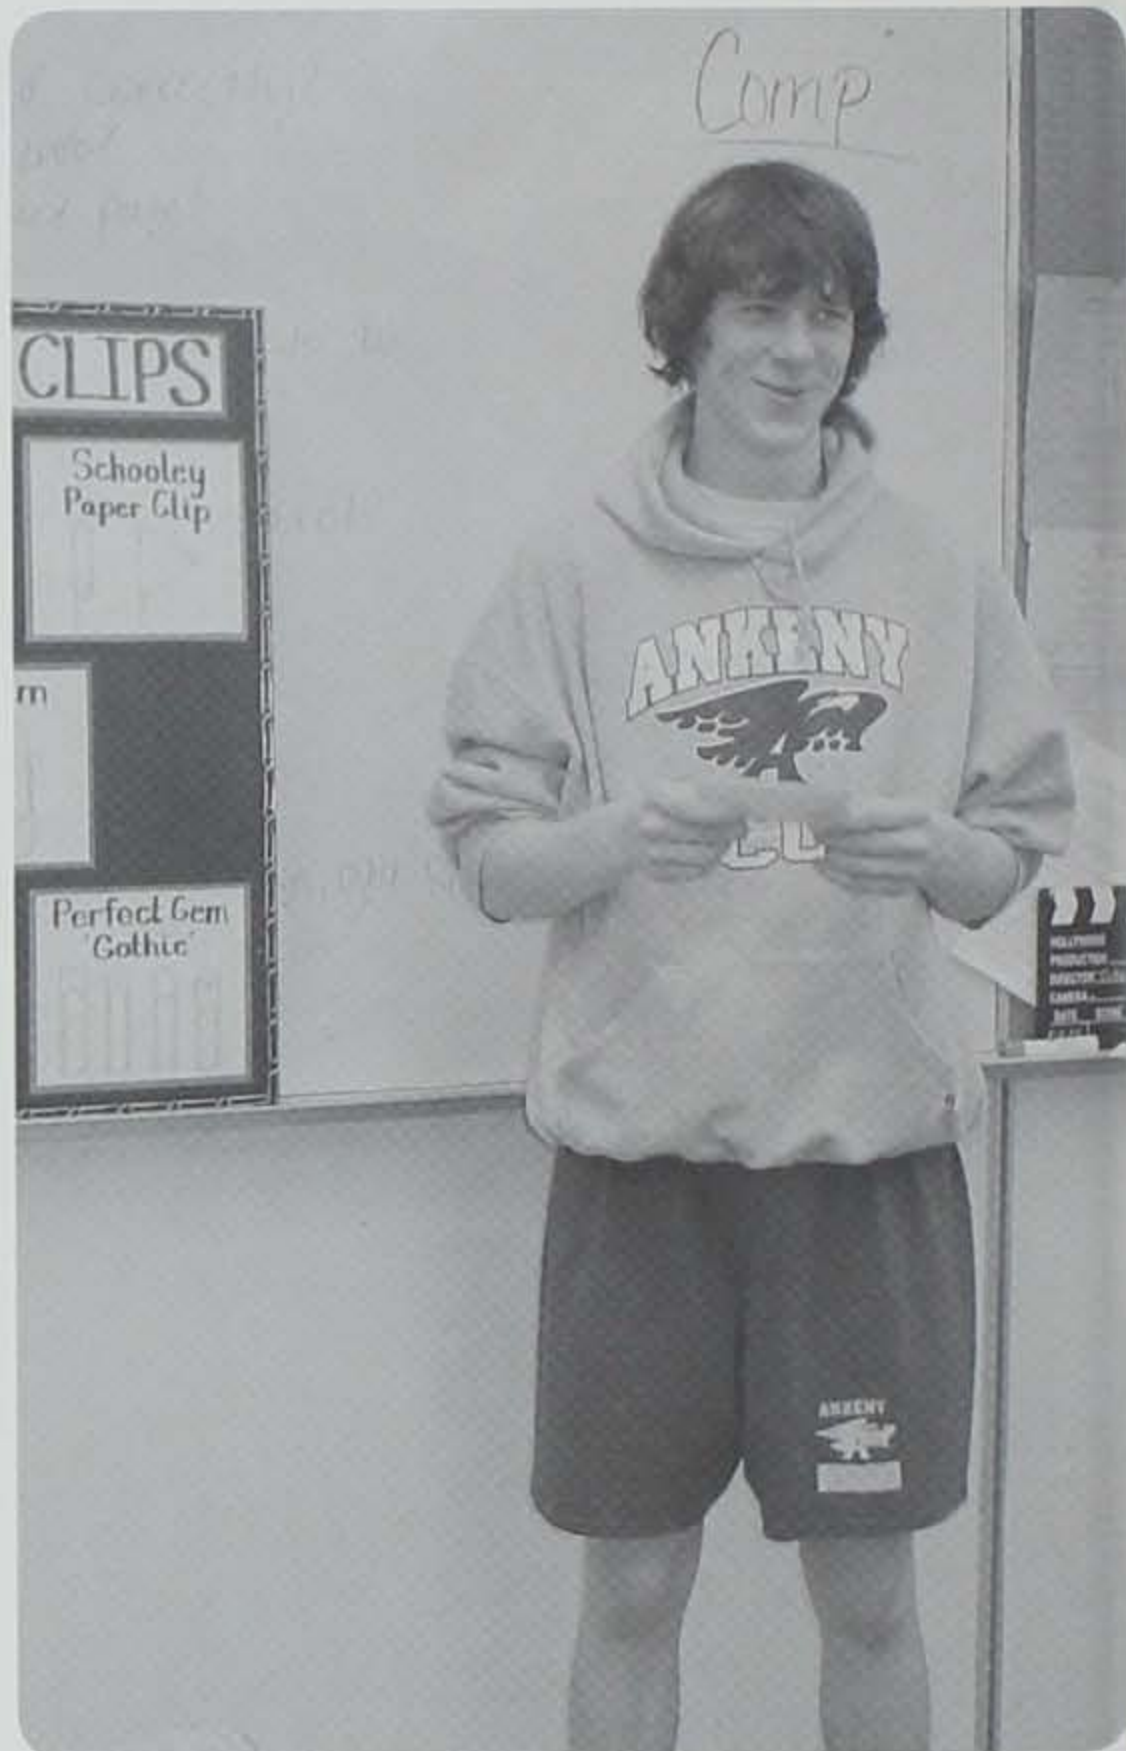

"It was hard to keep from laughing during practice because Grant and Matt were so funny."

Right: To be good at individual speech, participants must practice and practice. Kris Spoth goes over his speech for Mrs. Brown a few days before a contest. His category was expository address.

Above: John Merkel checks his practice schedule. Finding time to practice is sometimes a bigger challenge than doing the speech itself.

Taking the Stage!

Every year many students try out to be a member of the speech team. Some prefer performing with others and work with Mr. Shapiro with large group speech. Others prefer individual speech and meet with Mrs. Brown.

All participants practice before and after school to prepare for district contests. Those who score a division I go on to state with the possibility of being chosen for all-state recognition. All-state is the highest honor any speech participant can earn. Many students involved in group speech earned this honor.

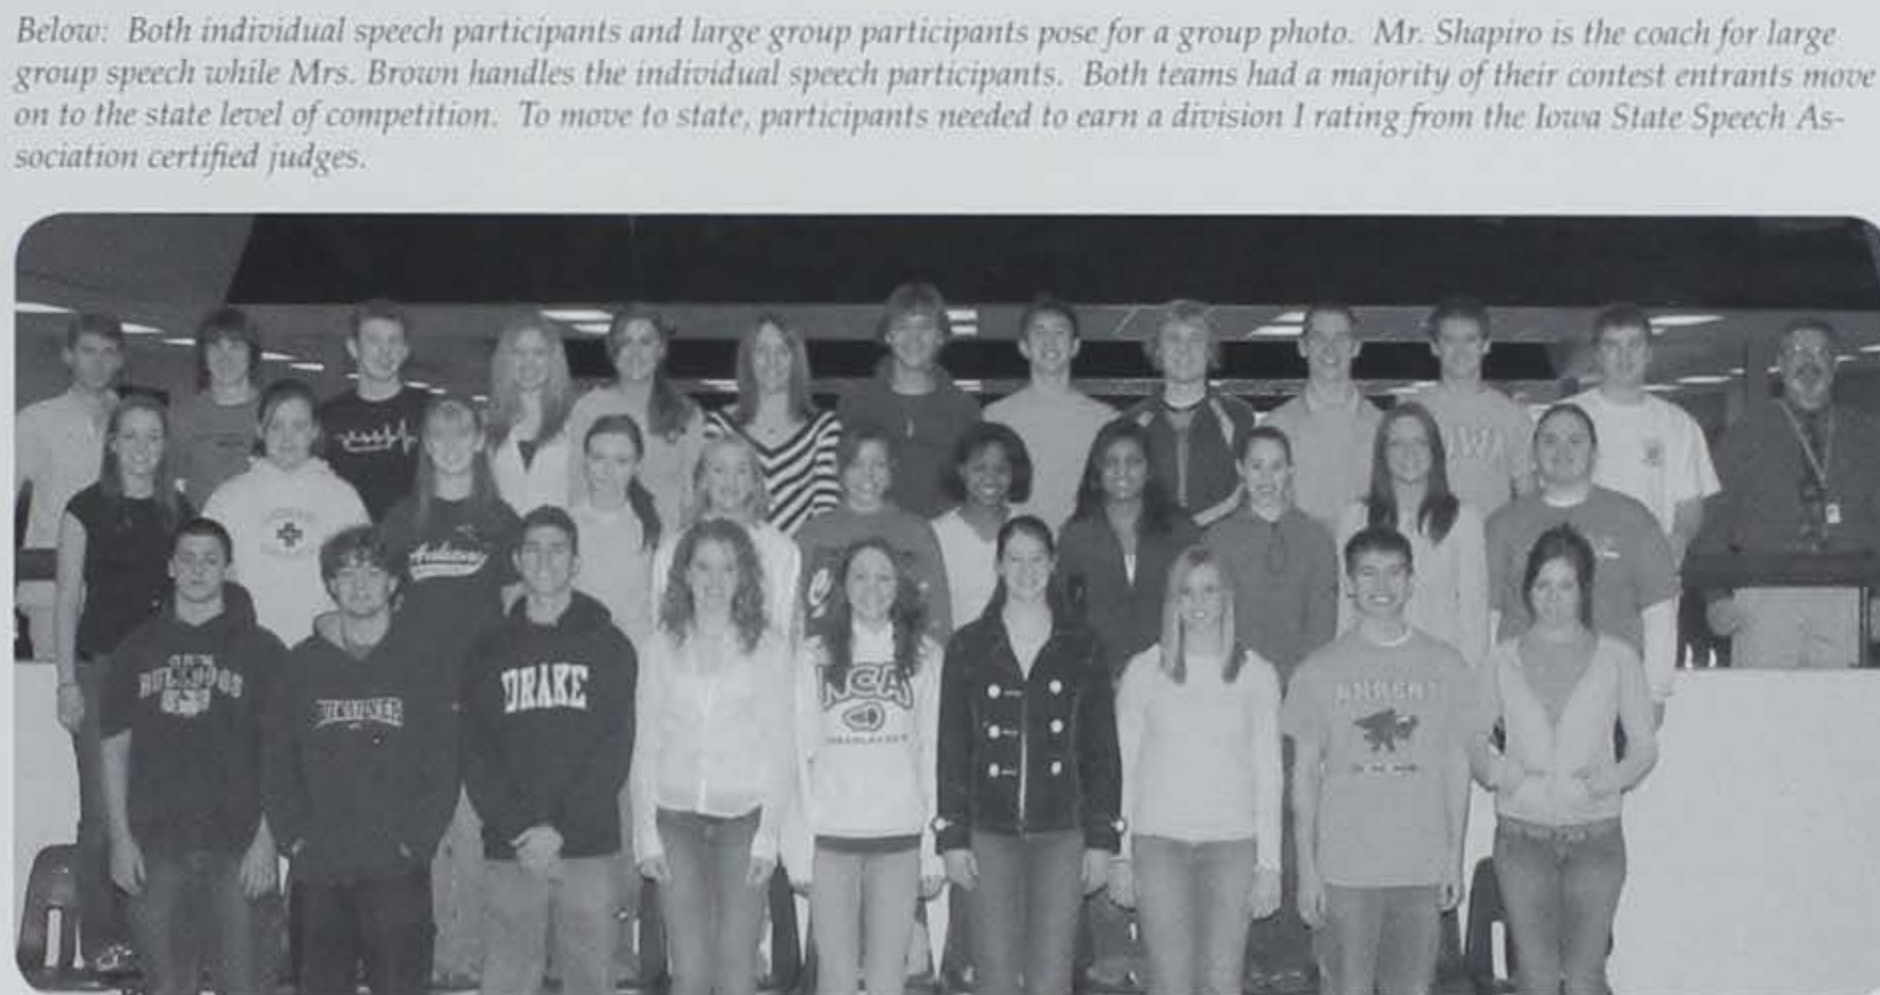

Above: Performing her mime routine on parent's night is Kendra Bakke. Mime is a part of group speech competition even though it is performed alone. Bakke's mime depicted a young girl getting ready for school in the morning.

Above: Jeff Nelson and Parker Ulrich are showing their reading skills as they perform in reader's theater, a part of large group speech that allows participants to read the script and act with their faces only.

Below: Both individual speech participants and large group participants pose for a group photo. Mr. Shapiro is the coach for large group speech while Mrs. Brown handles the individual speech participants. Both teams had a majority of their contest entrants move on to the state level of competition. To move to state, participants needed to earn a division I rating from the Iowa State Speech Association certified judges.

Setting the Stage

This year's AHS Drama Club was selected as one of 35 high schools across the nation, and the only school from Iowa, to attend the Fringe Festival in Scotland this year.

Besides two productions, the Drama Club sponsored many activities, such as the car raffle this fall, the Ankeny Fear Factor haggis eating contest, and sold nylon Ankeny bags as well as key chains to raise money for the Scotland trip.

Above: Sophomore Kassi Kennerly plays the drowned man in this year's fall play The Good Doctor. She is seen here getting ready to perform on stage.

Putting on a Show!

This year the Ankeny Choral Department organized four different choirs, and each one performed very well at every performance they were able to participate in. The choral department was composed of the Ankeny Singers, the Ankeny Concert Choir, the Varsity Men's Choir, and the 10th Grade Women's Choir. The choirs from this choral department performed in a variety of concerts this year such as the Festival of Choirs, Spring Choral Concert, state contest, and others. Overall, this year was a very successful year for the Ankeny Choral Music Department.

Filling up the Stage

Ankeny show choirs competed in many competitions this year, including competitions in Johnston, Urbandale, Kennedy, Lin-mar, and Davenport. Perpetual Motion was honored with winning first place in every competition they entered. Visual Adrenaline was able to win two Grand Champions in a row, first at Kennedy and then at Urbandale. Intensity was able to win a 2nd place trophy at Johnston, a 1st place trophy at Urbandale, and earned 2nd place at Davenport. It was a very rewarding year.

Above: Kristin Jensen dances to one of Visual Adrenaline's songs, "Dancin' Fool." Jensen was part of Perpetual Motion last year and this year made Visual Adrenaline. She also choreographed some of Velocity's songs.

Above: Kellie Evans dances to Intensity's opener, "We Can Get There." Evans was a sophomore this year and was an awesome part of Intensity. She had a solo in one of their songs, called "Forget About the Boy."

Above: Nick Toussaint takes the stage while dancing during the fall show. Toussaint was a member of Visual Adrenaline this year and was very active in the choir department.

Below: Bailey Crawford performs with her show choir, Perpetual Motion, during the spring show. Crawford was a junior this year and did an awesome job at every performance. Here she is posing at the end of the show choir's opening song.

Marcus Cavanaugh, 12
 "The concert band performances are as much fun as any we do. The music was interesting and challenging."

Karina Mercer, 11
 "I like everyone coming together to make music. It's a great feeling knowing you did your best."

Chelsea Schaffer, 10
 "The best part about band is the people. Band members have become like a second family to me."

Below: Livy Sommerlot, senior, is at the spring musical put on by drama department. Her musical abilities contributed to the success of the play.

Above: The Ankeny Jazz Band shows off their talent at a home basketball game. The jazz band had a great time playing together this year.

Playing the Tunes

The Ankeny band program had an awesome year. The band doesn't just meet as one large concert band and marching band, but breaks into many smaller bands for events like the musical and show choir performances.

The jazz band had a great year also, placing second at the SCIBA district Jazz Festival, first at the Hoover Jazz Festival, and named the sweepstakes winner and first place in class 4A at the Charles City Jazz Festival. The Jazz Lab placed second at the SCIBA district Festival and third at the Hoover Jazz Fest in the second band class. No matter what they are doing, Ankeny bands push for success.

Above: Seniors Samantha Deaton and Brett Acheson are part of the high school band and are ready to perform for the spring musical. For the first time the musical was accompanied by live music from the band students.

Above: Senior Michael Westphal shows off his style at an Ankeny Hawks basketball game. Westphal has been a successful part of the Ankeny jazz band for three years.

Band

Above: Lindsey Richardson, junior, plays as a part of the talented and gifted jazz band players at Ankeny.

Above: Junior Peter Wilton and seniors Ben Willmore and Blake Williams perform at another jazz band concert.

Right: Samantha Deaton, senior, practices at the spring production of the Ankeny drama department. Deaton and other band members helped make the musical memorable.

Above: Seniors Josh Frye and Nigel Brown pose for a quick picture after a long night performing at the jazz band concert.

Above: Regina Huntimer, David Counts, and Jeff Wells get ready for jazz band concert in the warm-up room. All are great players and considered assets to the jazz band. They put on a great show.

Micah Beeman, 10th grade

"I like the sound (of the trumpet) and the technique in jazz, and also the leadership role we play!"

Shelby Short, 11th grade

"My favorite competition was the Minnesota trip because we go and compete against awesome marching bands."

Natalie de Regnier, 12th grade

"My favorite memory of marching band this year was teaching the 10th graders to march."

Right: Rachel Gillum plays her flute out on the football field. Gillum has played the flute since 5th grade.

Below: Before each game the band gathers together to practice and warm up. Senior Nigel Brown concentrates on the music. He was a percussionist during his years in the band and also an important member of the drum line.

Above: The Color Guard performs during the marching band show. Students in color guard also have a choice to participate in winter guard, where they perform in competitions without the band.

Taking the Field

The marching band has had an awesome season with six competitions and one exhibition. The season for the band includes every home football game as well as trips to different towns. They placed first in the Cedar Rapids and the Iowa City competitions. They also took first place honors at the field competition and parade in Marshalltown.

The band, as well as the color guard, has early morning practices every morning all semester long. Members are required to be on the practice field and ready to go by 7:00 AM. These students are very talented and work very hard at what they do.

Below: The Ankeny High School drumline performs during a concert in the high school gym. The drumline works very hard at each practice and must be here early in the morning every day before school during first semester. They make a great team and play together very well. They even go to competitions where drumlines from schools around Iowa come and compete against them.

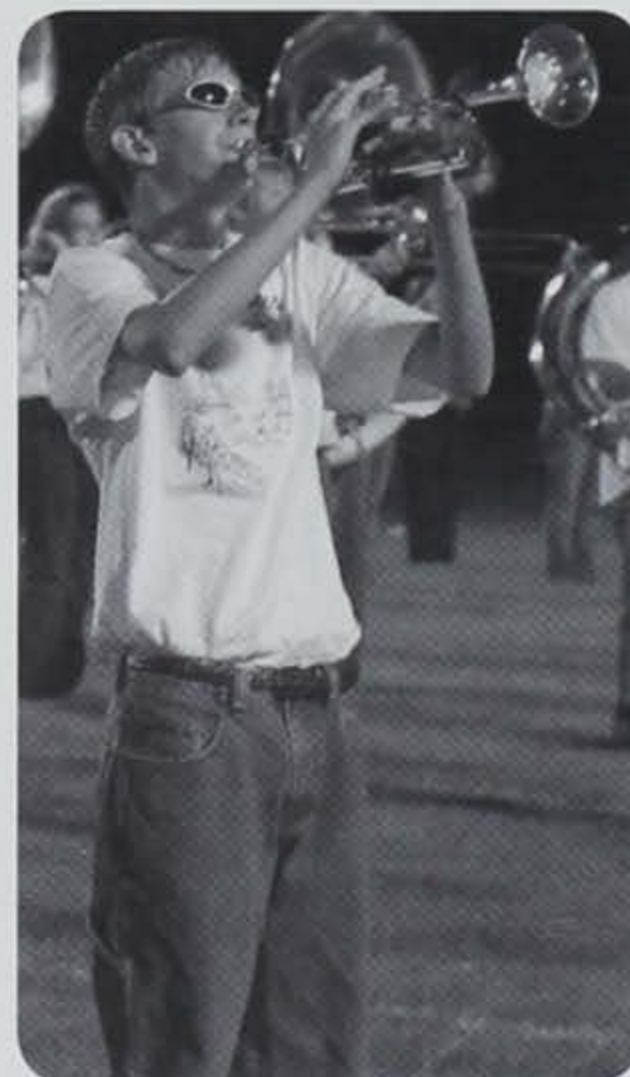

Marching Band

Above: Band directors Mr. Haack and Mr. Poppen wait for their band to play at half time during a football game.

Above: The band gets prepared to go onto the football field and perform their halftime show. They have to warm up before they go onto the field.

Right: Jeff Wells plays his trumpet during a marching band practice. In addition to morning practices, the band held several in the evening.

Above: The color guard performs at a home football game. The color guard provides a visual representation of the music the band plays. They perform with the band at all of their competitions and practice with them early every morning.

Below: Eric Louvan and Ann O'Donnell share a dance together at their last prom before getting ready to head off to college.

Above: Showing up in style are juniors Matt Jones and Ian Stines. A lot of people added accessories to dress up their look for prom.

"The best part of the dance was watching John Beck dance to the rap songs."
—Tyler Schoenfelder, senior

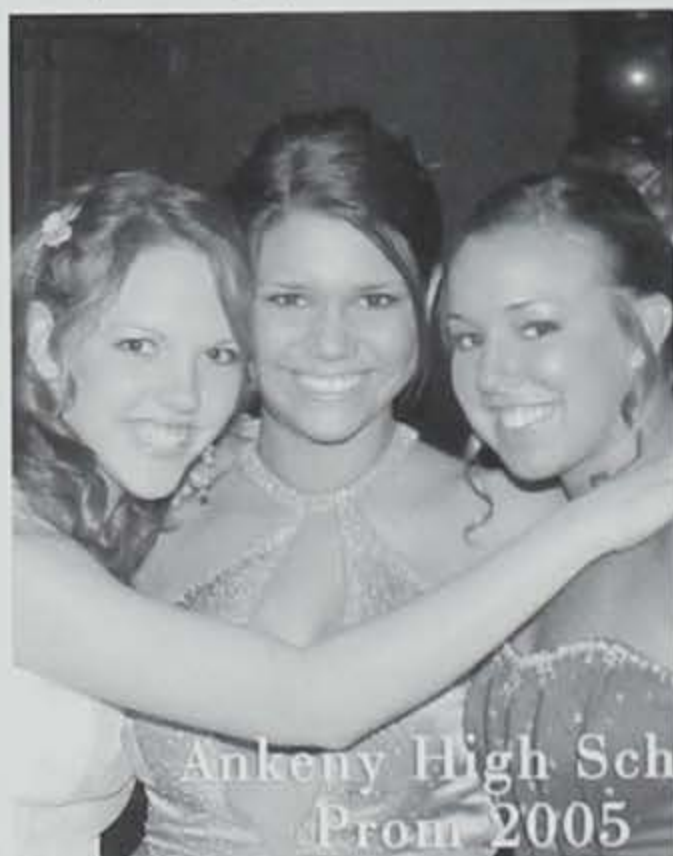

"It was definitely in a better location this year. I liked how it was set up and decorated at Val-Air."
—Mandi Marino, junior

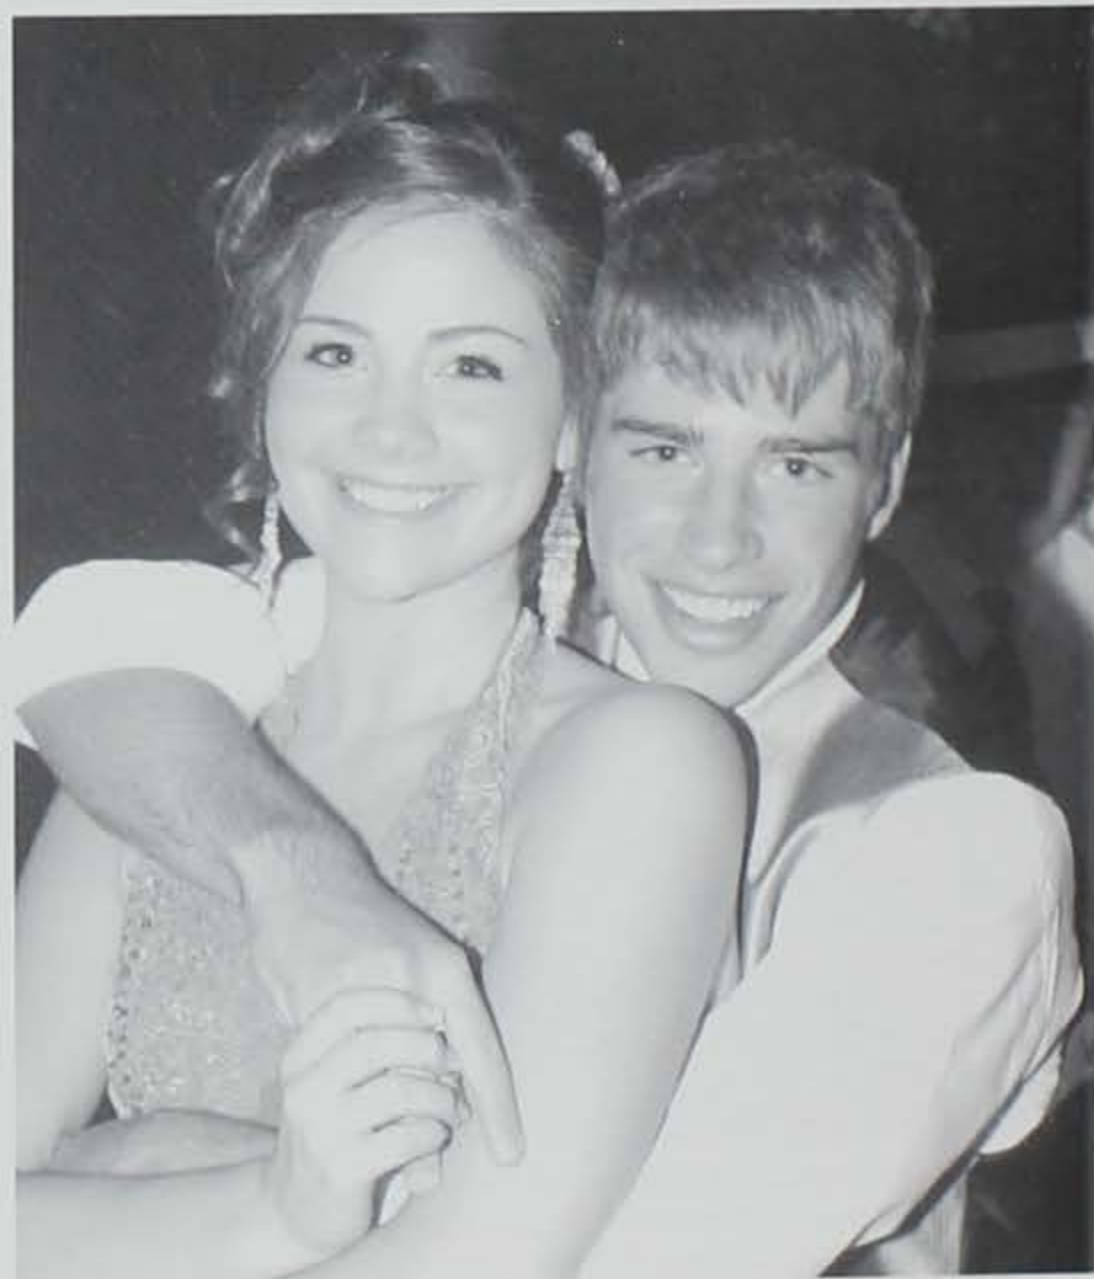

"I arrived at the dance in a bug in a long line of limos, and then was escorted out of the car by my friend's mom."
—Megan Greenwood, junior

What was your favorite part of the dance? How did you feel about prom this year compared to last year? A memorable moment at prom was...

Above: Juniors Rachel Bench, Kaley Brown, and Jenni Kuchenbecker get together for a picture before heading out to the dance floor.

Above: Mat Johnson and Melissa Aastrup stop for a moment to capture a picture that will help them remember the fun night they had.

Below: Juniors Nik Enos, Jordan Curran, and Ryan Helms enjoy their first After Prom with the bungee cord activity. The bungee cord seemed to be a popular event this year.

Cool thought

I think the best activity at After Prom was the gladiator match, because watching friends attempt to bash each other was great fun.

— DAVID COUNTS, JUNIOR

Clockwise from above: Senior Alex Hanson gives junior Crystal Tomlinson a piggy-back ride. Seniors Matt Lentz and Hannah Menadue stop to pose for a picture. Students get hypnotized at After Prom. Senior girls Lindsey Ferin, Dana Schrader, Stephanie Sharp, and Amanda Norelius stop for a photo. Hanging out by the slide are seniors Tyler Schipper and Nate Palmolen. Seniors Dusty DeBolt and Matt Heggen take a break from After Prom.

Left: Seniors Kelsey Shay and Ashlee Drake take a picture before they head out to dinner and the dance. It is common to meet at a friend's house and take pictures before the dance.

Below: Senior Mike Holt and his date, sophomore Molly Romano eat dinner before the dance.

"I think it would be better if the hypnotist came earlier or at the beginning of After Prom."

—Jeni Bohn, Senior

"I ate at Latin King, and it was so good."

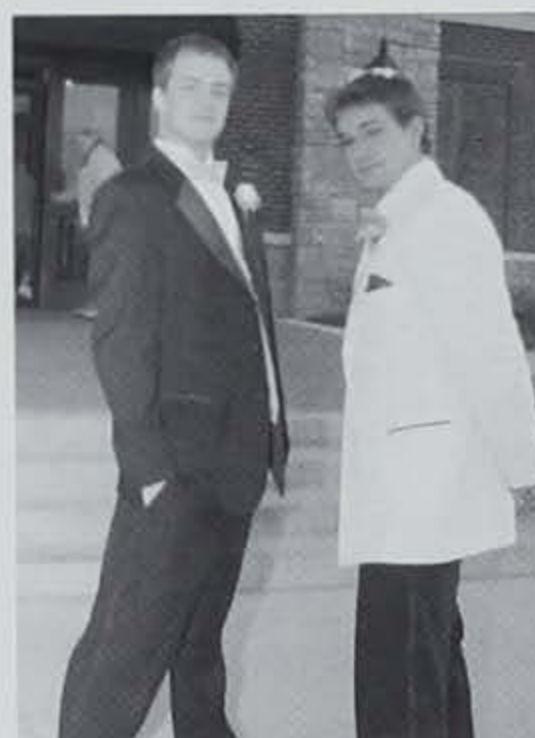

—Jenni Kuchenbecker, Junior

"The ride in the limo to the restaurant and to the dance was the best."

—Kaley Brown, Junior

Is there anything you would change about the night? What was your favorite thing you did before Prom?

Left: Senior Kellie Pick shows the Fear Factor competition how to take down the jalapeno. Many AHS students participated in the Fear Factor event this year.

PROM NIGHT

ADVISER

Right: Casey Austen, Nikola Todorovic, Brooke Willey, Meredith Lamberti, and Tiffany Tingley huddle up to take a picture after finishing up their hot dogs and hamburgers.

Below: Ankeny students watch junior Ryan Jones take control of the dunk tank, sending the teachers into the water.

Above: Jillian Siehlman supports the western theme at the annual advisement barbecue.

"I liked being out of classes for a few hours and spending it with my friends."

—Sarah Buckles, 12

"Being outside was nice. The dunk tank this year was really entertaining."

—Nick Wallace, 11

"It's fun getting out of class to hang out with my friends."

—Melanie Pedersen, 10

What was your favorite thing about the barbecue?

Left: Juniors Marin Bisdorf and Tommy Salter and senior Blair Boehm donated their time in setting up and running the popular fundraisers at the barbecue.

Below: The dunk tank was a big hit during the barbecue, causing many students to crowd around it and have some laughs.

Cool thought
 "It gave me a great opportunity to get some really good photos of the students that make up Ankeny High School."

SAM VANDERPLOEG

Clockwise from left: Senior Nick Williams pretends to save senior Matt Lentz while acting in front of the camera during the barbecue. Sophomore Stephanie Gibbons practices the lasso at one of the activities at this year's western themed barbecue. AHS teacher Mr. Asmussen rises from the dunk tank after plunging into the ice cold water. Spanish teacher, Mrs. Metheny added some fun to the barbecue by bringing toenail polish for the girls to paint their nails.

Above: Senior Jessica Deason takes advantage of the free food catered to the barbecue from Hy-Vee.

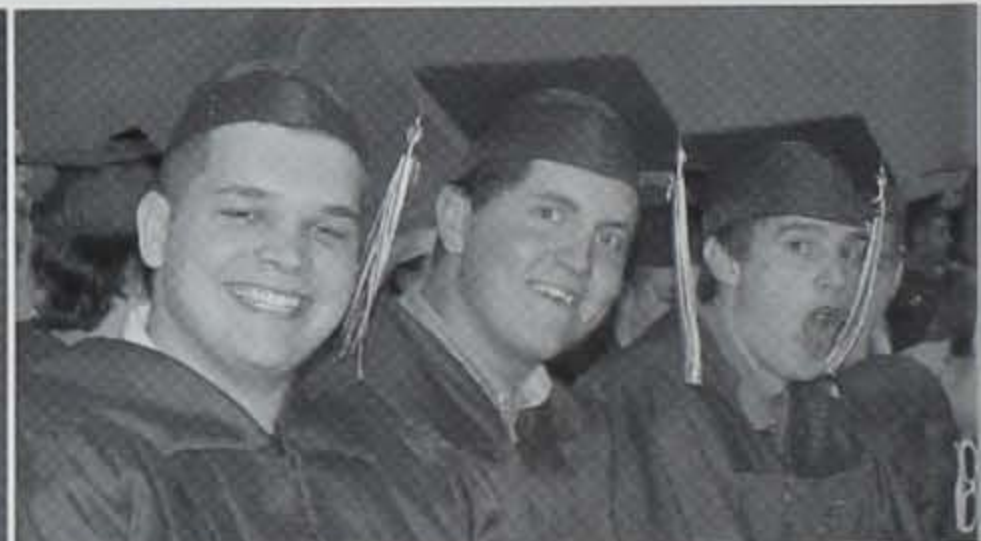

Below: Enjoying the idea of being done with high school are Nick Lourash and Jake Schultz.

Right: Getting up early for graduation practice isn't always easy. Here Monique Sparacino, Amber Catrenich, and Kim Behmer wait for the festivities to begin.

Below: Ryan Simpson and Jed Garvey attend commencement practice early in the morning.

Far below: Alex Cole and Chris Graessle attend practice for the graduation ceremony.

Left: Seniors Mikayla Good, Katie Kelly, Robert Wiese, and Stephanie Plumer take care of their library fines, so they can graduate.

Above: Waiting in the pit for graduation practice to start is Chad Arbogast. It is a tradition for the seniors this day to come early for the senior breakfast.

Left: Bryan Naber is the first in his row to sit down in preparation for the walk into the Knapp Center for the graduation ceremony.

AHS REMEMBERS... DUSTY FRIESNER

On October 17, 2004, Ankeny junior Dusty Friesner died in a car accident. He was only 17 and left behind many friends at AHS.

Junior Dusty Friesner was killed in a vehicle accident on October 17th, 2004. Friesner was a passenger in a vehicle believed to be speeding. The car Friesner was riding in lost control and went into a ditch while going west on 118th Avenue. Friesner died at the scene of the accident.

The school informed students with announcements made by each teacher the following Monday morning. Services were held Wednesday. Students remembered Friesner with donations given to the family, a candle light service on Monday, and with many posters and signs in the hallways.

In the lab

Outside

Mr. Telford, the activities director, relaxes at the Ames cross-country meet. He attends events both at home and away.

In the media center

Mr. Adamson monitors the progress of Eryn Burright and Molly Falk as they work on a project for social studies class.

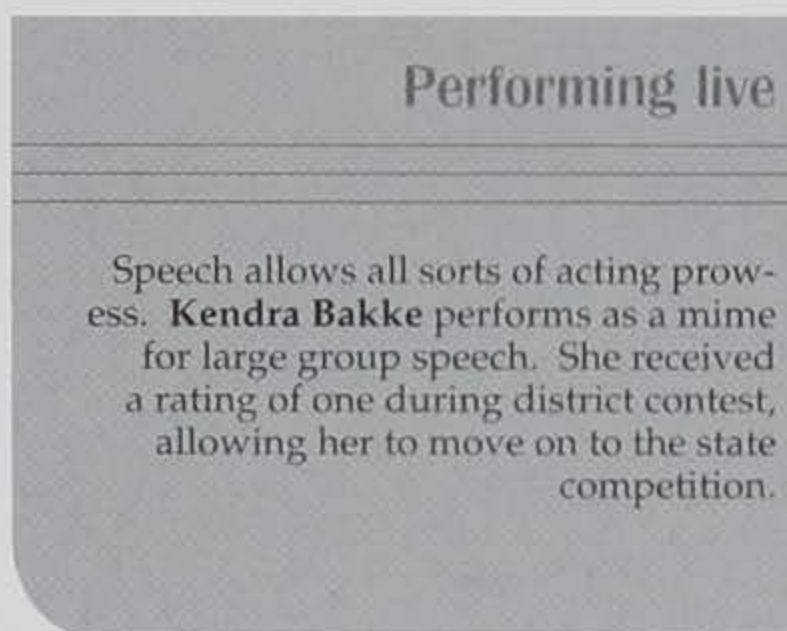

On the court

Volleyball team had a great season with a state championship. Junior Tammy Peter was always ready to play and added a great depth to the team talent.

On the field

Preparing for a performance during the regular football season is percussionist Nour Aly. The drum line starts their practices even earlier than the rest of the marching band.

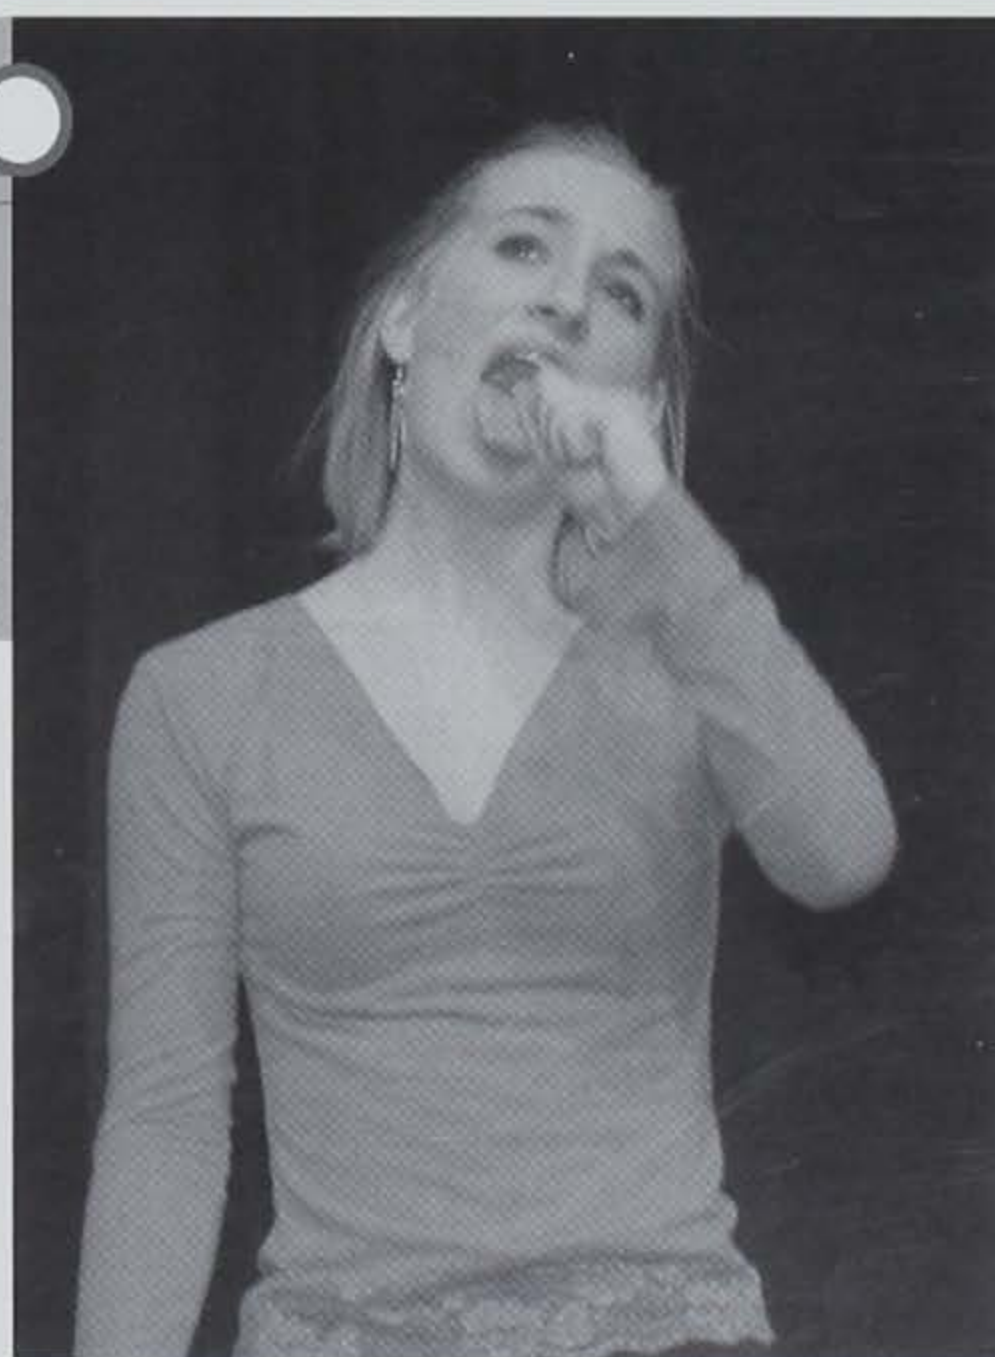

At the game

Enjoying a beautiful day outside while watching a football game is Ms. Overton. She tries to watch her students both in the classroom and during their extra-curricular activities.

Performing live

Speech allows all sorts of acting prowess. Kendra Bakke performs as a mime for large group speech. She received a rating of one during district contest, allowing her to move on to the state competition.

Singing and dancing

As a part of Perpetual Motion, Andrew White waits on stage for his opportunity to sing the next note. Many of AHS's show choirs did well in competition.

On stage

Students get the opportunity to perform on stage with their musical classes. Matt Bonney sings here as part of the show choir.

ACADEMICS

English student teacher Mr. Welter reads over Matt Porter's work in English 10. The average English 10 class had 27 students. Every Ankeny sophomore is required to take and pass English 10 to graduate. Mr. Welter taught three classes of English 10 first semester.

SPORTS

Many sophomores participate in sports. Cross-country is a sport that involves all those who dedicate their time to the team. Andrew White was one of the top junior varsity runners.

MUSIC

Sophomore Intensity show choir members Megan Frandsen and Kellie Evans pose for a quick photo before their fall show performance. Intensity is an all-female group made up of sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

Academics at AHS

The School Board

Pottery

Many students like the variety of classes they can choose to take. Senior Jennifer Frost is shown here working on a piece of pottery.

In-School Suspension

When students find themselves in trouble, they might find themselves dealing with Mr. Taylor. He runs the in-school suspension program.

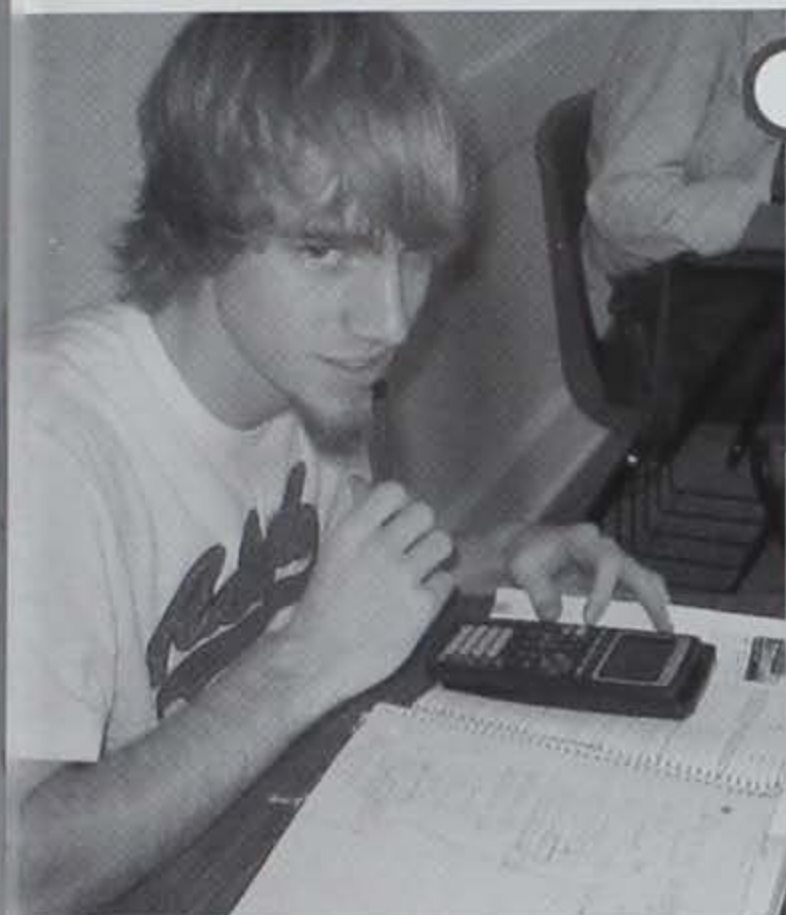

Family and Consumer Science

Keeping themselves occupied in the kitchen in family and consumer science class are Whitney Cowie and John Lucas.

Math

Working on math is Josh Boersma. Most students take more math than what is required and fill the math resource area before tests with many questions.

Social Studies

No one quite knows what Mr. Lage smiles about, but most appreciate his humor and energy. Here he is caught clowning around in the hall ways with one of his unidentifiable students.

Business

Mrs. Rasmussen stops in at the media center to sign up for the computer lab. In order for teachers to bring their classes into the media center or the computer labs, they must first schedule the trip in the media center master schedule.

Art

Painting is one activity students might do if they enroll in one of many classes in the art department. Here senior Chelsea Morgan smiles for the camera as she puts the finishing touches on a masterpiece.

Industrial Tech

Here are Kyle Ellis and Mike Bernard working on an engine in an automotive class. Students interested in mechanics can earn many DMACC credits in the automotive program while still getting high school credit for their time.

Activities

Ms. Jones is the activities secretary at the school. She keeps very busy with the organization of athletics and other school activities. She is also the person to go to to buy tickets when the Hawks compete at the state level.

Teacher's Office

Math teacher Mr. Lofgren takes a moment in his office to think about the test he is creating. Teachers spend a great deal of time developing assessments and working on handouts for students.

Principal's Office

Ankeny High School's newest principal Mr. Hawkins takes the opportunity to call a parent of one of his students while he smiles for the yearbook photographer. His friendly nature is appreciated by students and faculty alike.

Nurse's Office

Relieving pain and discomfort is the job of the school nurse, Ms. Neilson. She is the one who students need to talk with before going home sick. Not only does she help students when they aren't well, but she also takes care of the faculty at AHS.

Some of the supporting cast includes...

Screen Writing

Taking a moment to smile for the camera, Ms. Cowger, the yearbook adviser, finds herself on the other side of the camera. Besides teaching yearbook class, she is also kept busy with her creative writing, communication skills, honors English, and English 10 classes.

Budgeting

Math teacher Mr. Olson keeps on top of his game by working on student papers in his office. Making sure that students keep their numbers in line helps to prepare them for the future.

Set Design

Mr. Rasmussen demonstrates how to use the many pieces of power equipment in his classroom. The table saw can get a finger pretty easily if the user isn't watching out!

Special Guest appearances by...

Liz Miller

It seems like yesterday that you were chasing your older brothers with your baseball cap turned backwards. You were such a tomboy then, but you've grown into a beautiful woman. We admire your drive to always do your best, your unwavering integrity, your compassionate heart, and most of all your quirky sense of humor that always keeps us on our toes! Wishing you God's best as you start your new journey. Love, Mom and Dad

Jenna Peterson

Jenna, Each day we watch you grow and mature into a lovely, caring and intelligent young woman. You have filled our hearts with joy and love as we have watched you explore and experience life. We love you. Mom and Dad

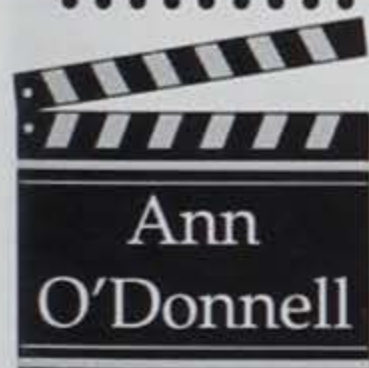

Kimberly,

We all are so very proud of you. You have grown into a very loving, caring and intelligent young woman. Just remember to be true to your heart and follow your dreams. We will always love you. Congratulations!

Mom, Brian, Dad and Jean

Ann,
Congratulations! We

are all very proud of you. You are a special young woman who has always brought us joy and happiness. You have a great future ahead of you.

We love you,

Aubrie,
We are so very proud of you; the way you have grown and matured and how you have developed warmth and compassion. You have a good heart that will serve you well in the years to come.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Brittany,

You are the sunshine of our lives and truly give meaning to the word "inspiration." Your caring words and the happiness you bring to us and to others make our hearts sing with pride and joy. Congratulations on your many accomplishments! We wish you life's best. We are truly blessed.

Love you,
Mom and Dad

Ang,

Ever since you were a little girl you have always been on the go. You have never been without your independence. Now, as the beautiful young woman you have grown to be, that independence and determination will be your success in everything you do. We are very proud of you!

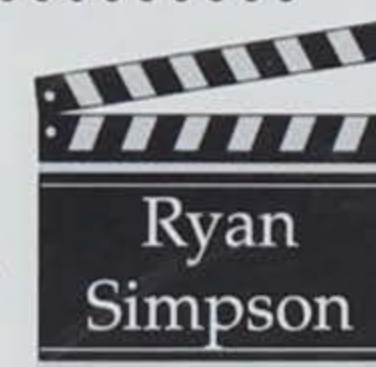

Love,
Mom, Pat, Katie and Ashley

Ryan,

It has been such a joy watching you grow from a fun, energetic little boy, to a very fine young man. We are so proud of you and wish you great successes in life.

You are our pride and joy!
Enjoy your life to the fullest!

Find meaning and happiness in your accomplishments, and don't dwell on your failures. But learn from all of it. Laugh at yourself, not at others. Remember to give something back. Be careful with your heart and strong-willed with your mind. Surround yourself with people who love and respect you for who you are- these will be your greatest friends and allies in the journey ahead. As you leave home on this, your own lifetime adventure, know that you can always return home to our love.

We'll always be your biggest fans!

Aaron and B.J.

Kellie,
We are so proud of who you've become- a beautiful and independent young lady! You've given us so many happy memories! Your determination and sunny disposition will bring you much success! Be true to yourself and follow your dreams!

Kellie
Pick

Love,
Mom and Dad, Jeff, Nathan and Alison

Jennifer Gibbons

J.J. Congratulations! It's really hard to believe that you will be off to college next fall. We are so proud of you and hope you fulfill your dreams of being an elementary teacher. That should be easy because you have a way with children. We will always love you.

Dad, Mom and Steph

Anne
Brown

Anne, Seems like only yesterday we dropped you off at Kindergarten with smiles and waves...you were off! We blinked, you grew, it really can't be true? Graduation! Soon, we will be dropping you off again, at college this time, with smiles and waves...you'll be off! From precious baby girl to precious grown woman! We are so proud of you Banana!
Love,
Mom, Dad and "Tink"

Dear Laura,
Congratulations! We are so proud of you! We look forward to watching you achieve your dreams during your college career. You are a special person with so much to offer. Wishing you happiness and joy!
Love you,
Dad and Mom

Justin, We've watched you grow
from a cute little boy into a talented young man.

We are so proud of the wise choices you've made and how honest you are about life.

Stay true to yourself and keep that compassion you have in your heart for others.
Remember we're always here for
you. We love you,
Mom, Dad, Jessica, Jerica

Drew,
You are such a Special gift from God to Us!
You have given us great joy as we have watched you grow into a wonderful young man.

We are so proud of you!
Love,
Dad and Mom

From the rainy day in May, through the past 18
years, you have accomplished so much. Please continue using your common sense, good judgement and sense of humor as you begin the next chapter in your life. We are very proud of you.
With All Our Love,
Mom and Dad

Megan,
You have come So Far
From our Sweet Little Girl
To a Beautiful Woman
From Hair Cuts Mom preferred
To Hair Styles you love
From Strirrup Pants
To anything that's not
From Never Dirty
To a room you can't Walk Thru...
From Ever so Shy
To All-Star Cheerleading Competition
From Years of Summersaults
To Tripple Back Hand Springs

But most of all

From Pre School
To Endless Potential
For Your Future Dreams
May they all come true.
We Love you,
Mom, Dad, and Jordan

Jeff Waldschmitt
Jeff Jeff,
We think
having you in our family has been just ducky and a real blessing. We love you and are very proud of you!

Mom, Dad, Jenny,
Luke, Tim and Matthew

Jessica Norton

As you embrace your dreams and watch them take flight, always know that we are so proud of your strength and grace with which you live your life. Our prayer for you is that you are always happy and live life to the fullest. May your guardian angel light your path and our love warm your heart forever.

Mom and Dad

Abbey Betlach
Abbey,
You have always been our shining star. With your beautiful smile and your great personality. You have become a beautiful, intelligent and caring young woman and wonderful daughter. We are proud of the choices you have made and the goals you have set. Follow your Dreams and always remember we love you. Good Luck in Houston.

Love always,
Mom, Dad, Jeremy, & Aaron

Andy Poppen

Andy, your talents are varied and plentiful.

How proud we are of you.
We know you'll go far which ever path you take, and are here for you all the way.

Love,
Mama, Papa, Ben and
Cole

Geoff Marler
Geoff-
We are so proud of you and everything
you have accomplished.
Follow your dreams and we know you'll be successful in whatever you do.

We love you!
Mom, Dad, and Nick

Megan Hedberg

Megan- You have brought so much happiness into our lives. You are a very special person. Always believe in yourself, always dream big and always set your goals high. We know you will be successful in whatever you choose to do. We are very proud of you and love you so much.
Mom and Dad

Evan,

Four months, four years, forever a Hawk. Many admire and respect the man you have made yourself. Modestly you accomplish goals through hard work, dedication and focus. Attitude is everything and you have it all. Love, hugs and kisses, Mom

Jed
Garvey

We are so proud of you, Jed. Don't ever stop making us laugh! Always remember to forget the trouble that passed away but never forget to remember the blessing that comes each day.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Nate, Holly and Scott

Dear N Man (Noah),
From the moment you were born you have lived to the fullest-- wanting to experience everything. We are proud of you Dynamo! Always remember how much we love you and know that your future is in your hands.
Always Proud,
Mom, Dad, Sam, Chloe and Gracie

Amanda,

At this time of your life, I am very Proud, very Happy, and yet very Sad. I'm Proud, because you not only have grown from a beautiful child, to a beautiful young lady, but to a loving, caring beautiful person. I'm Happy, because this is one of many special times you will have in your life. You seem so content with yourself, and having so much fun. Yet I'm Sad, because life has seemed to fly by and my very special baby girl, the one most precious thing in and of my life, is being torn from my grasp. I know I have to let you go and let you find your own path in life. This, in its self, is part of life. I only hope and pray that when you come to a fork in your road of life and you have to chose which path to take, you will always take the one that leads to happiness, because happiness is the one precious thing to have in life. You will always be a part of me, and a Big part of my heart, I will Love You Always and Forever. Love Mom and Steve

The 2004-2005 Hawk is a 208 page yearbook with a press run of 1020 books. The student body totals 1371. The price of the book was $46.

All type was set using Adobe InDesign CS on an Apple Macintosh based desktop publishing system. All pages were submitted on CD to Visalia, California, for processing.

Interior paper is 100# glossy with blank ink. The senior portrait section is full color, funded by the senior class. The cover is an original design created by Jostens Representative Matt Baltes.

All photos were taken with Canon and Nikon digital equipment. Some dance photos were supplied by Mullica Photography. Sports group shots were taken and supplied by Denny Williams Photography. Black and white portraits were supplied by Evans Photography. Color senior portraits were furnished by various photographers.

Editors: Alexa Groff & Bethany Andersen

Adviser: Karin Cowger

Principal: Brenda Colby

Jostens Reps: Matt Baltes & Tim Robson

Special thanks to Alicia Luke, Dennis Adamson, Jim Cowger, Chris Sweet, Coleen Porath, Dianne Jones, Karen Norton, Lisa Olk, and Jeanne Karsjens.
