BUENA VISTA COLLEGE,
STORM LAKE, IOWA.

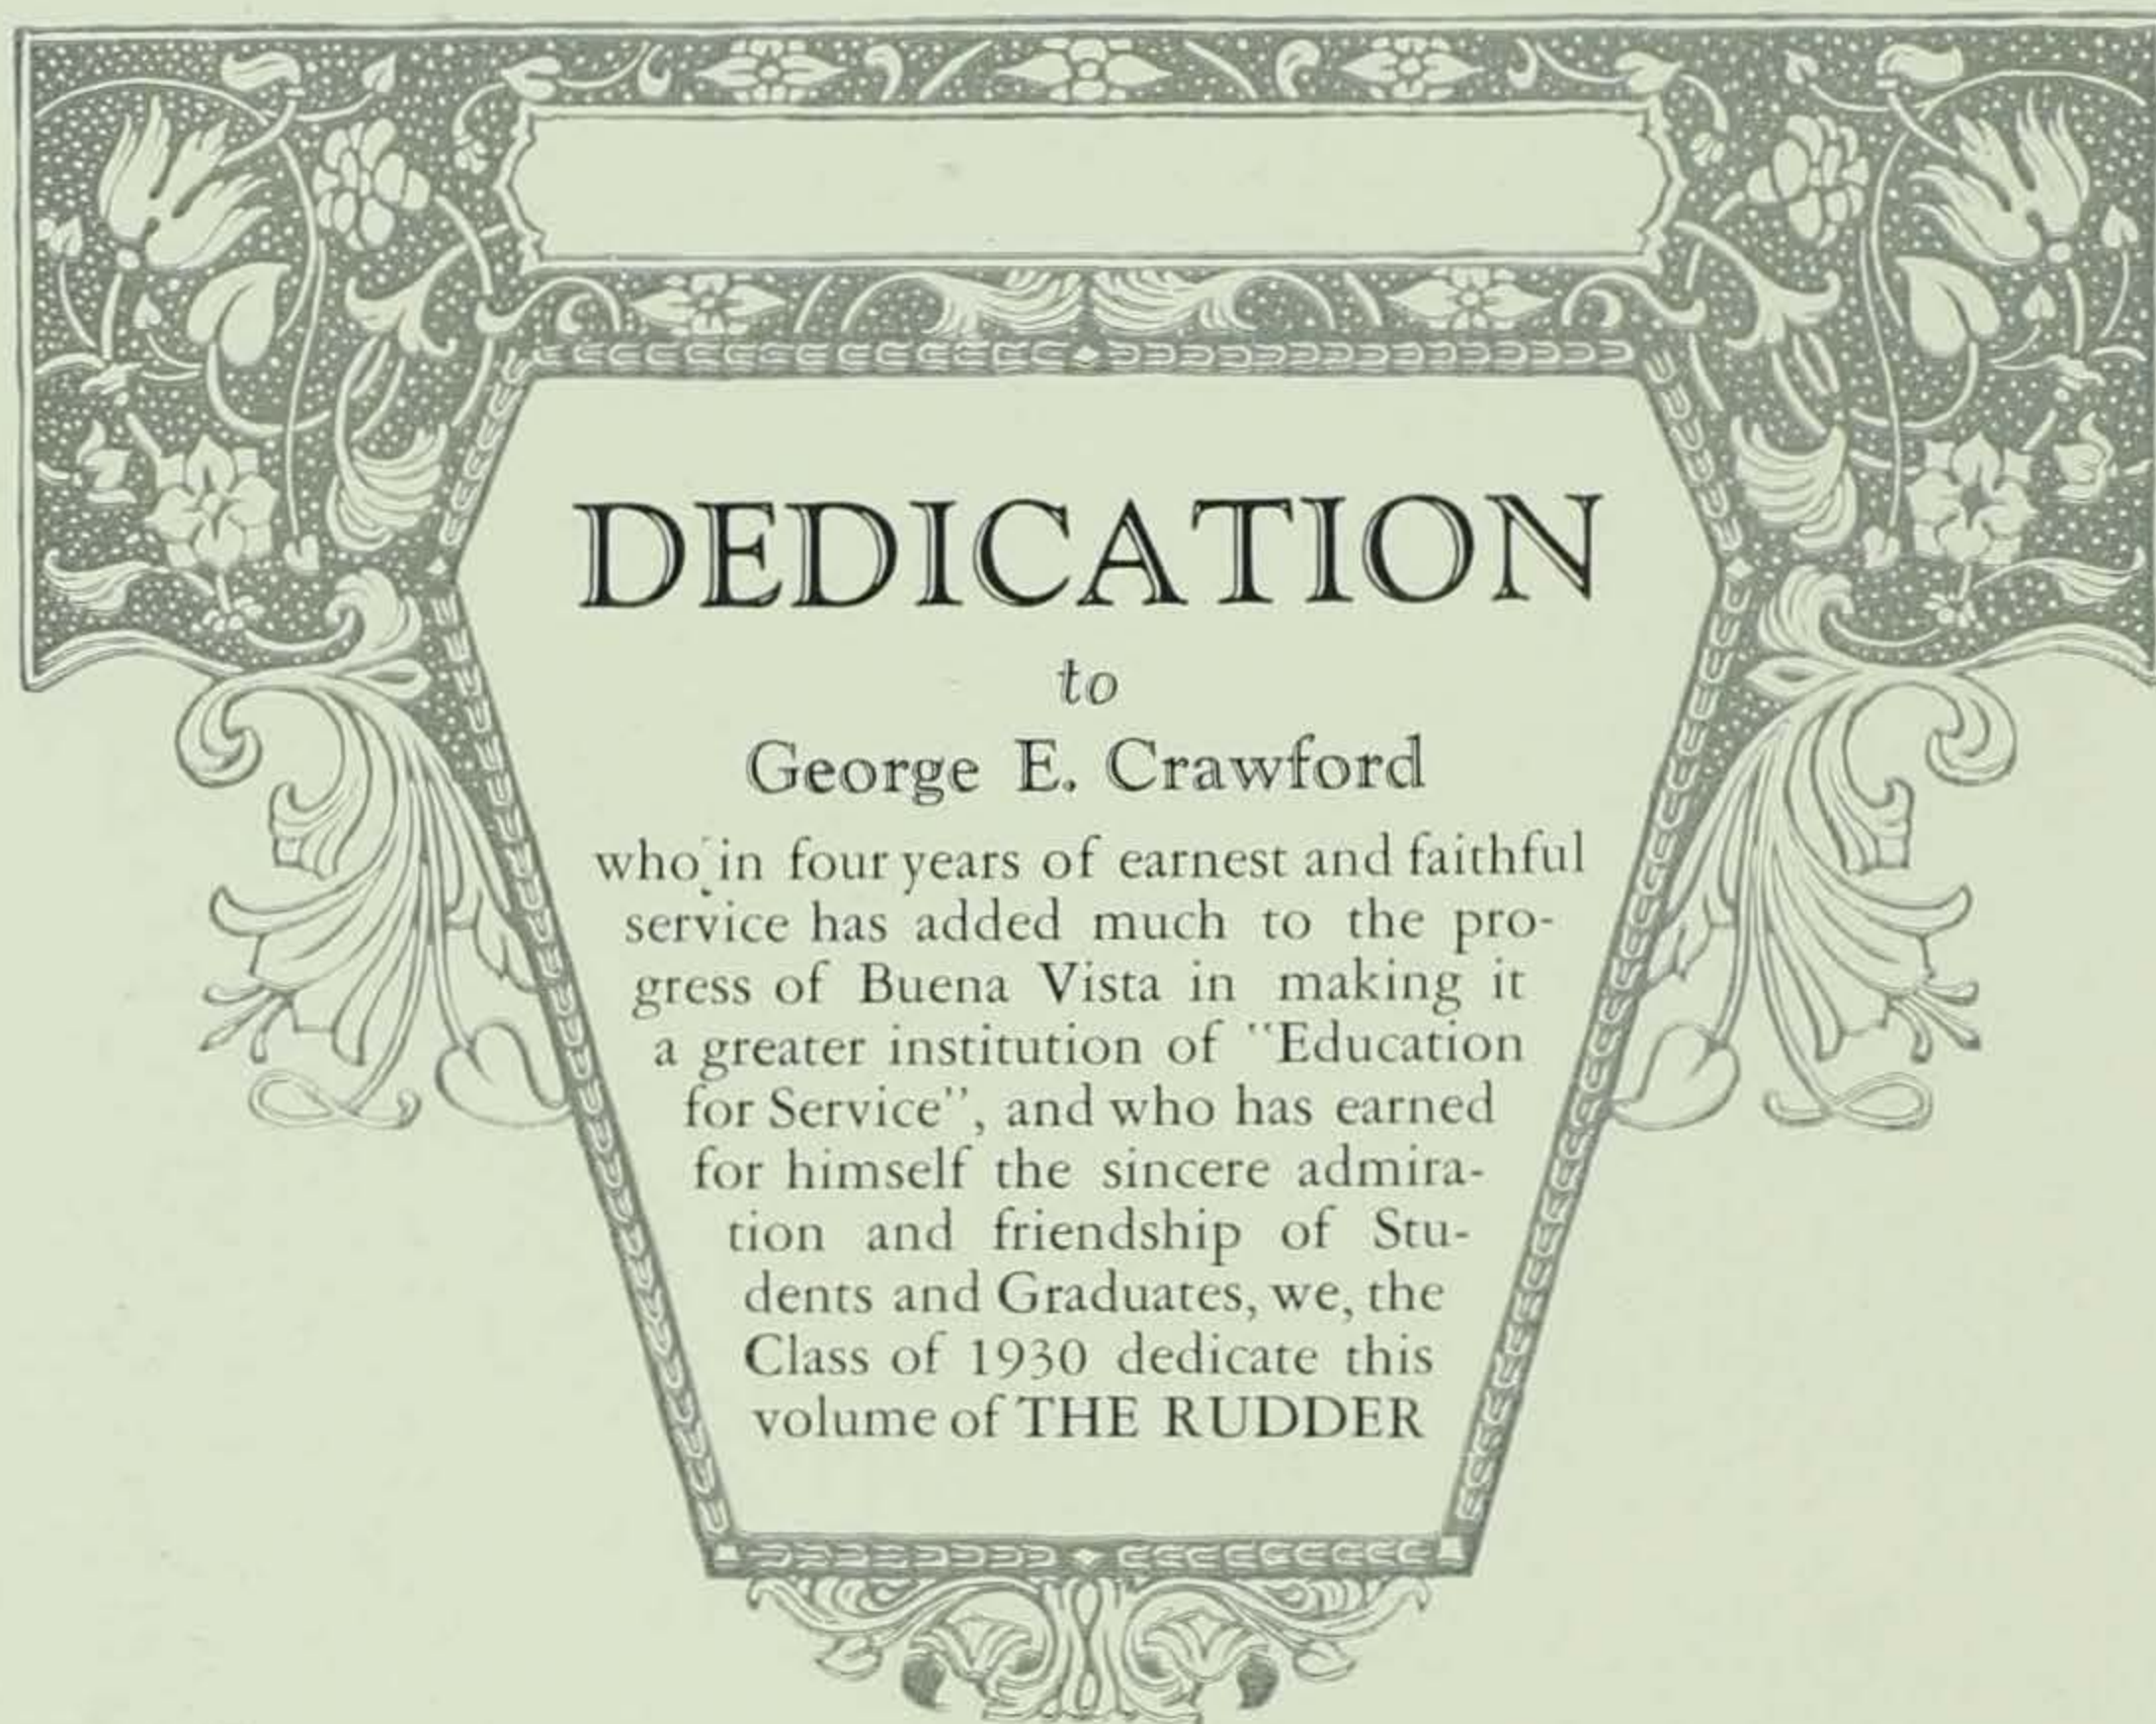

FOREWORD

THE past year has witnessed the growth, of genuine Beaver Spirit in campus life, which has permeated the classrooms, enlivened college activities and laid the foundation for a forward stride in Buena Vista College history. A portrayal of this revitalized Beaver Spirit as it has manifested itself throughout the year is the purpose of the Rudder of 1930, that it may serve as a delightful reminder today, and a source of pleasant memories tomorrow.

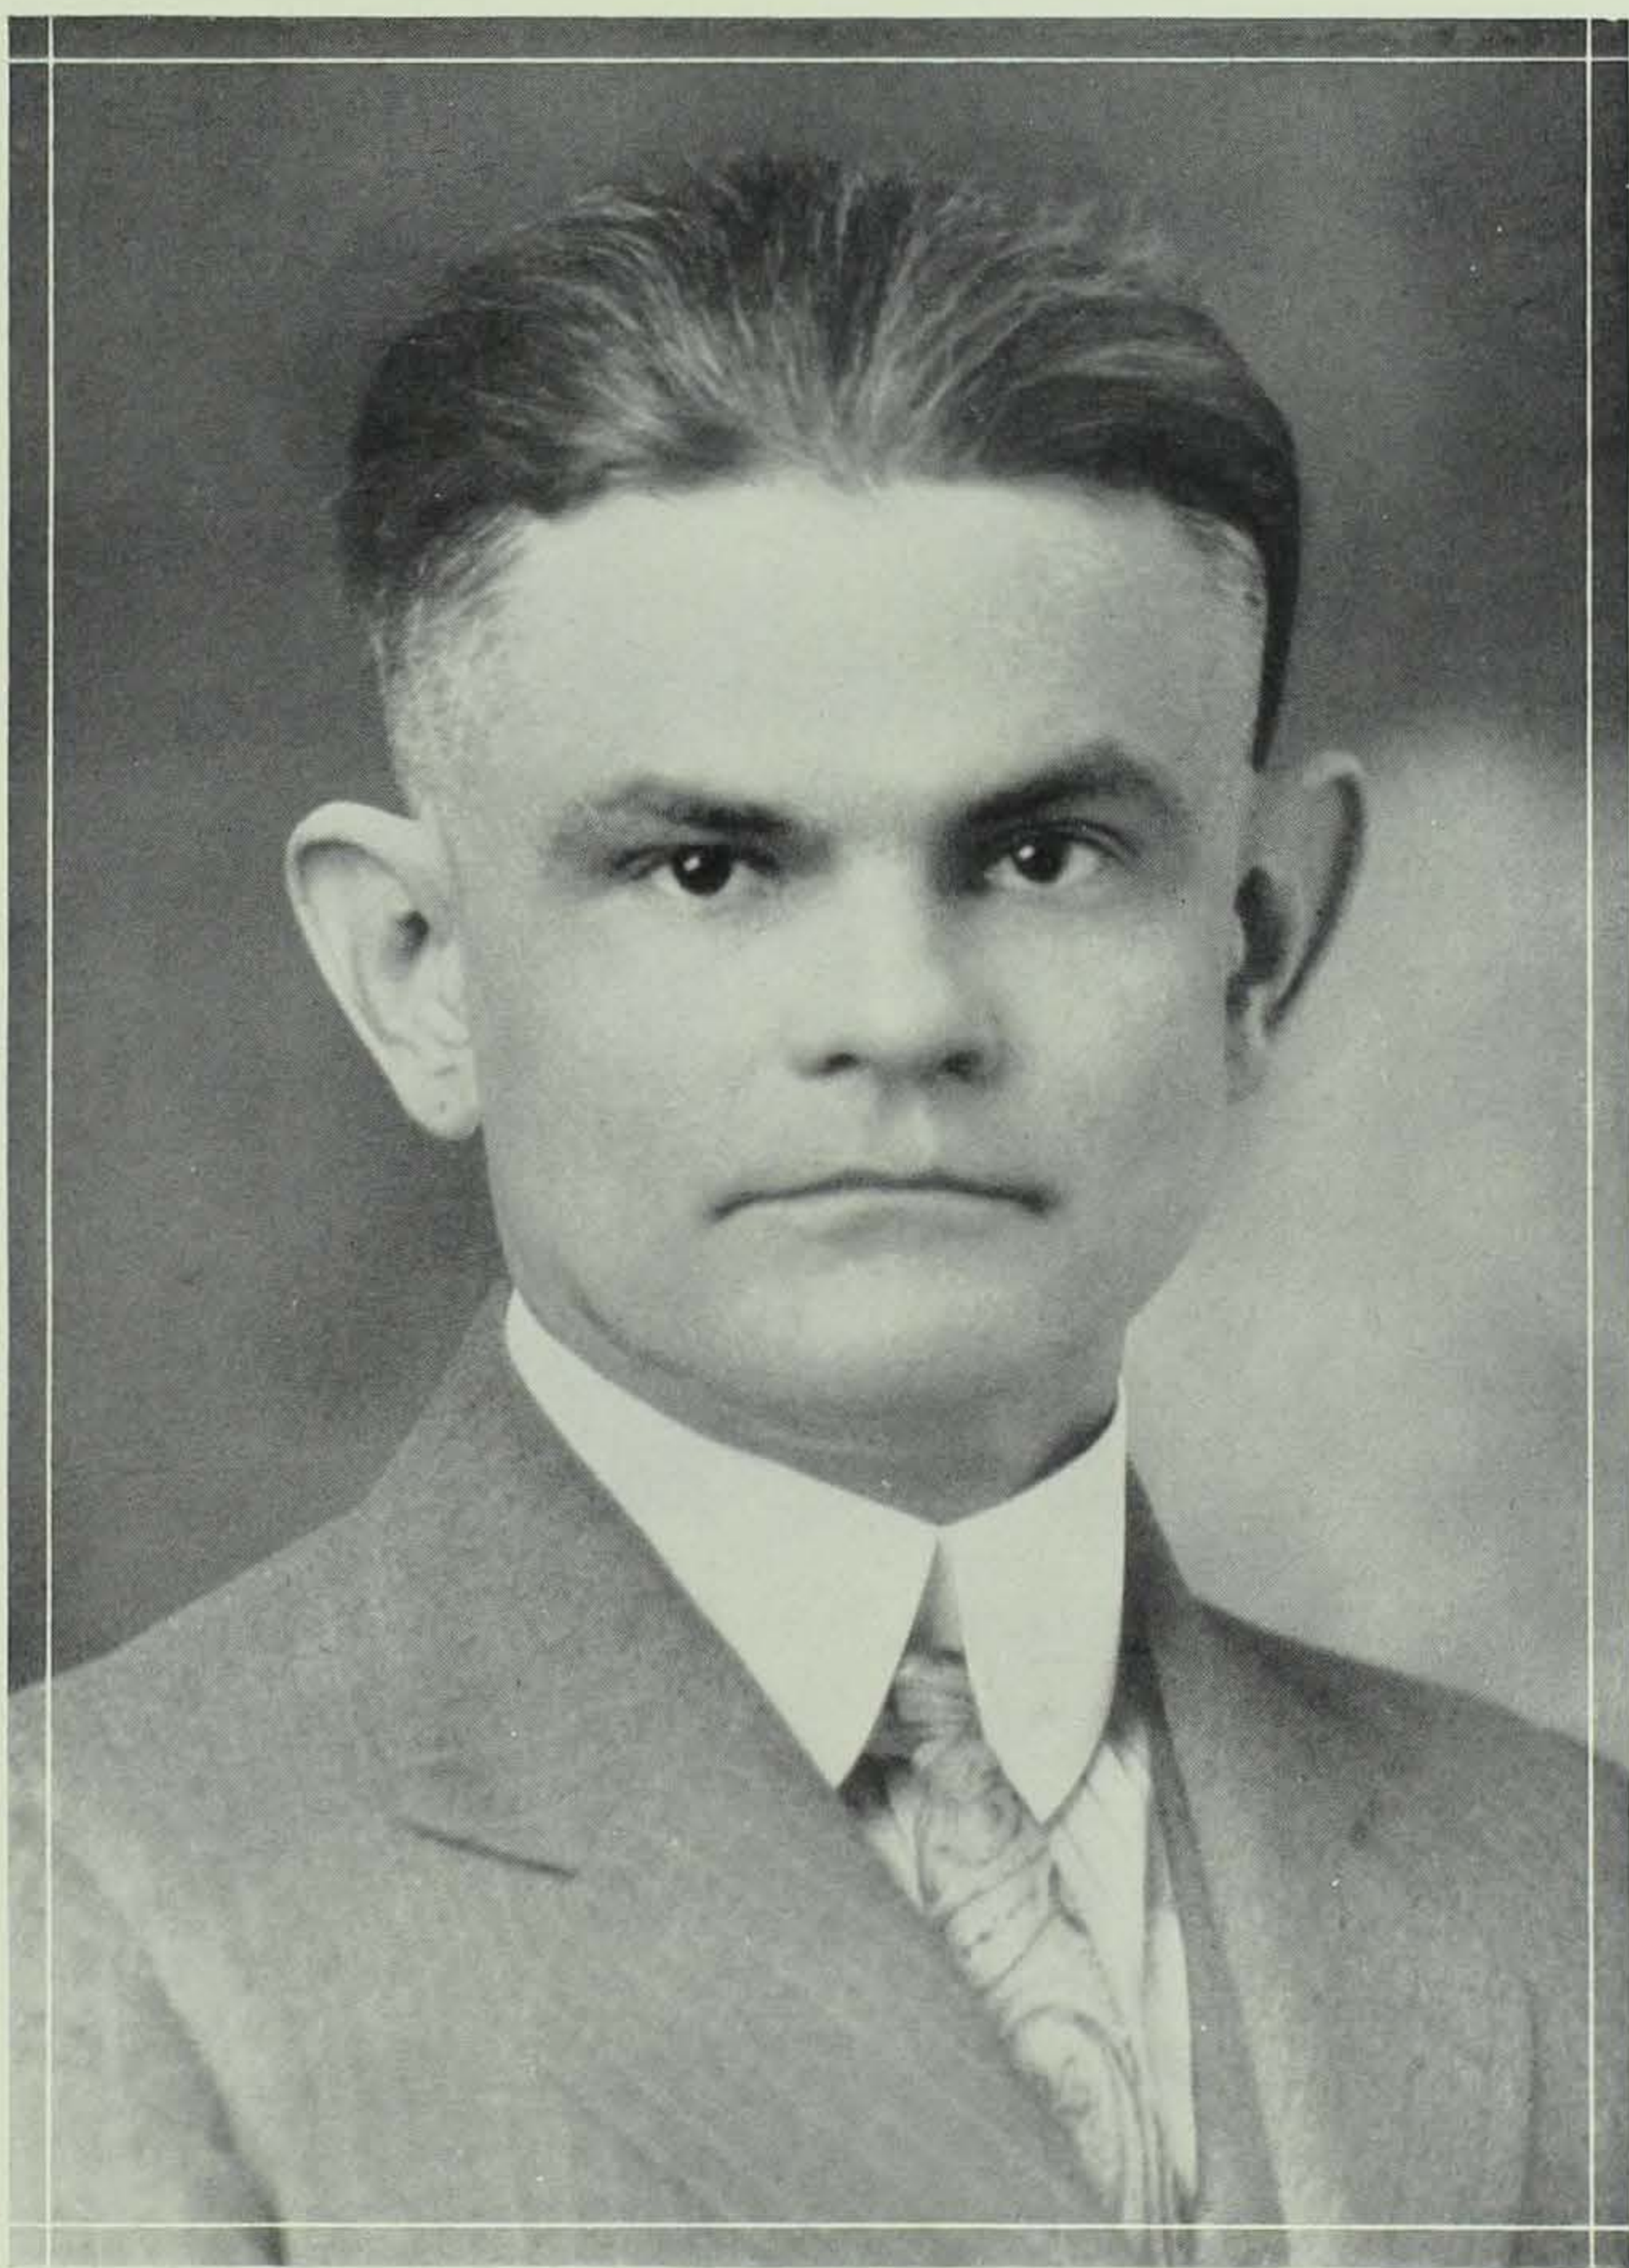

DEDICATION

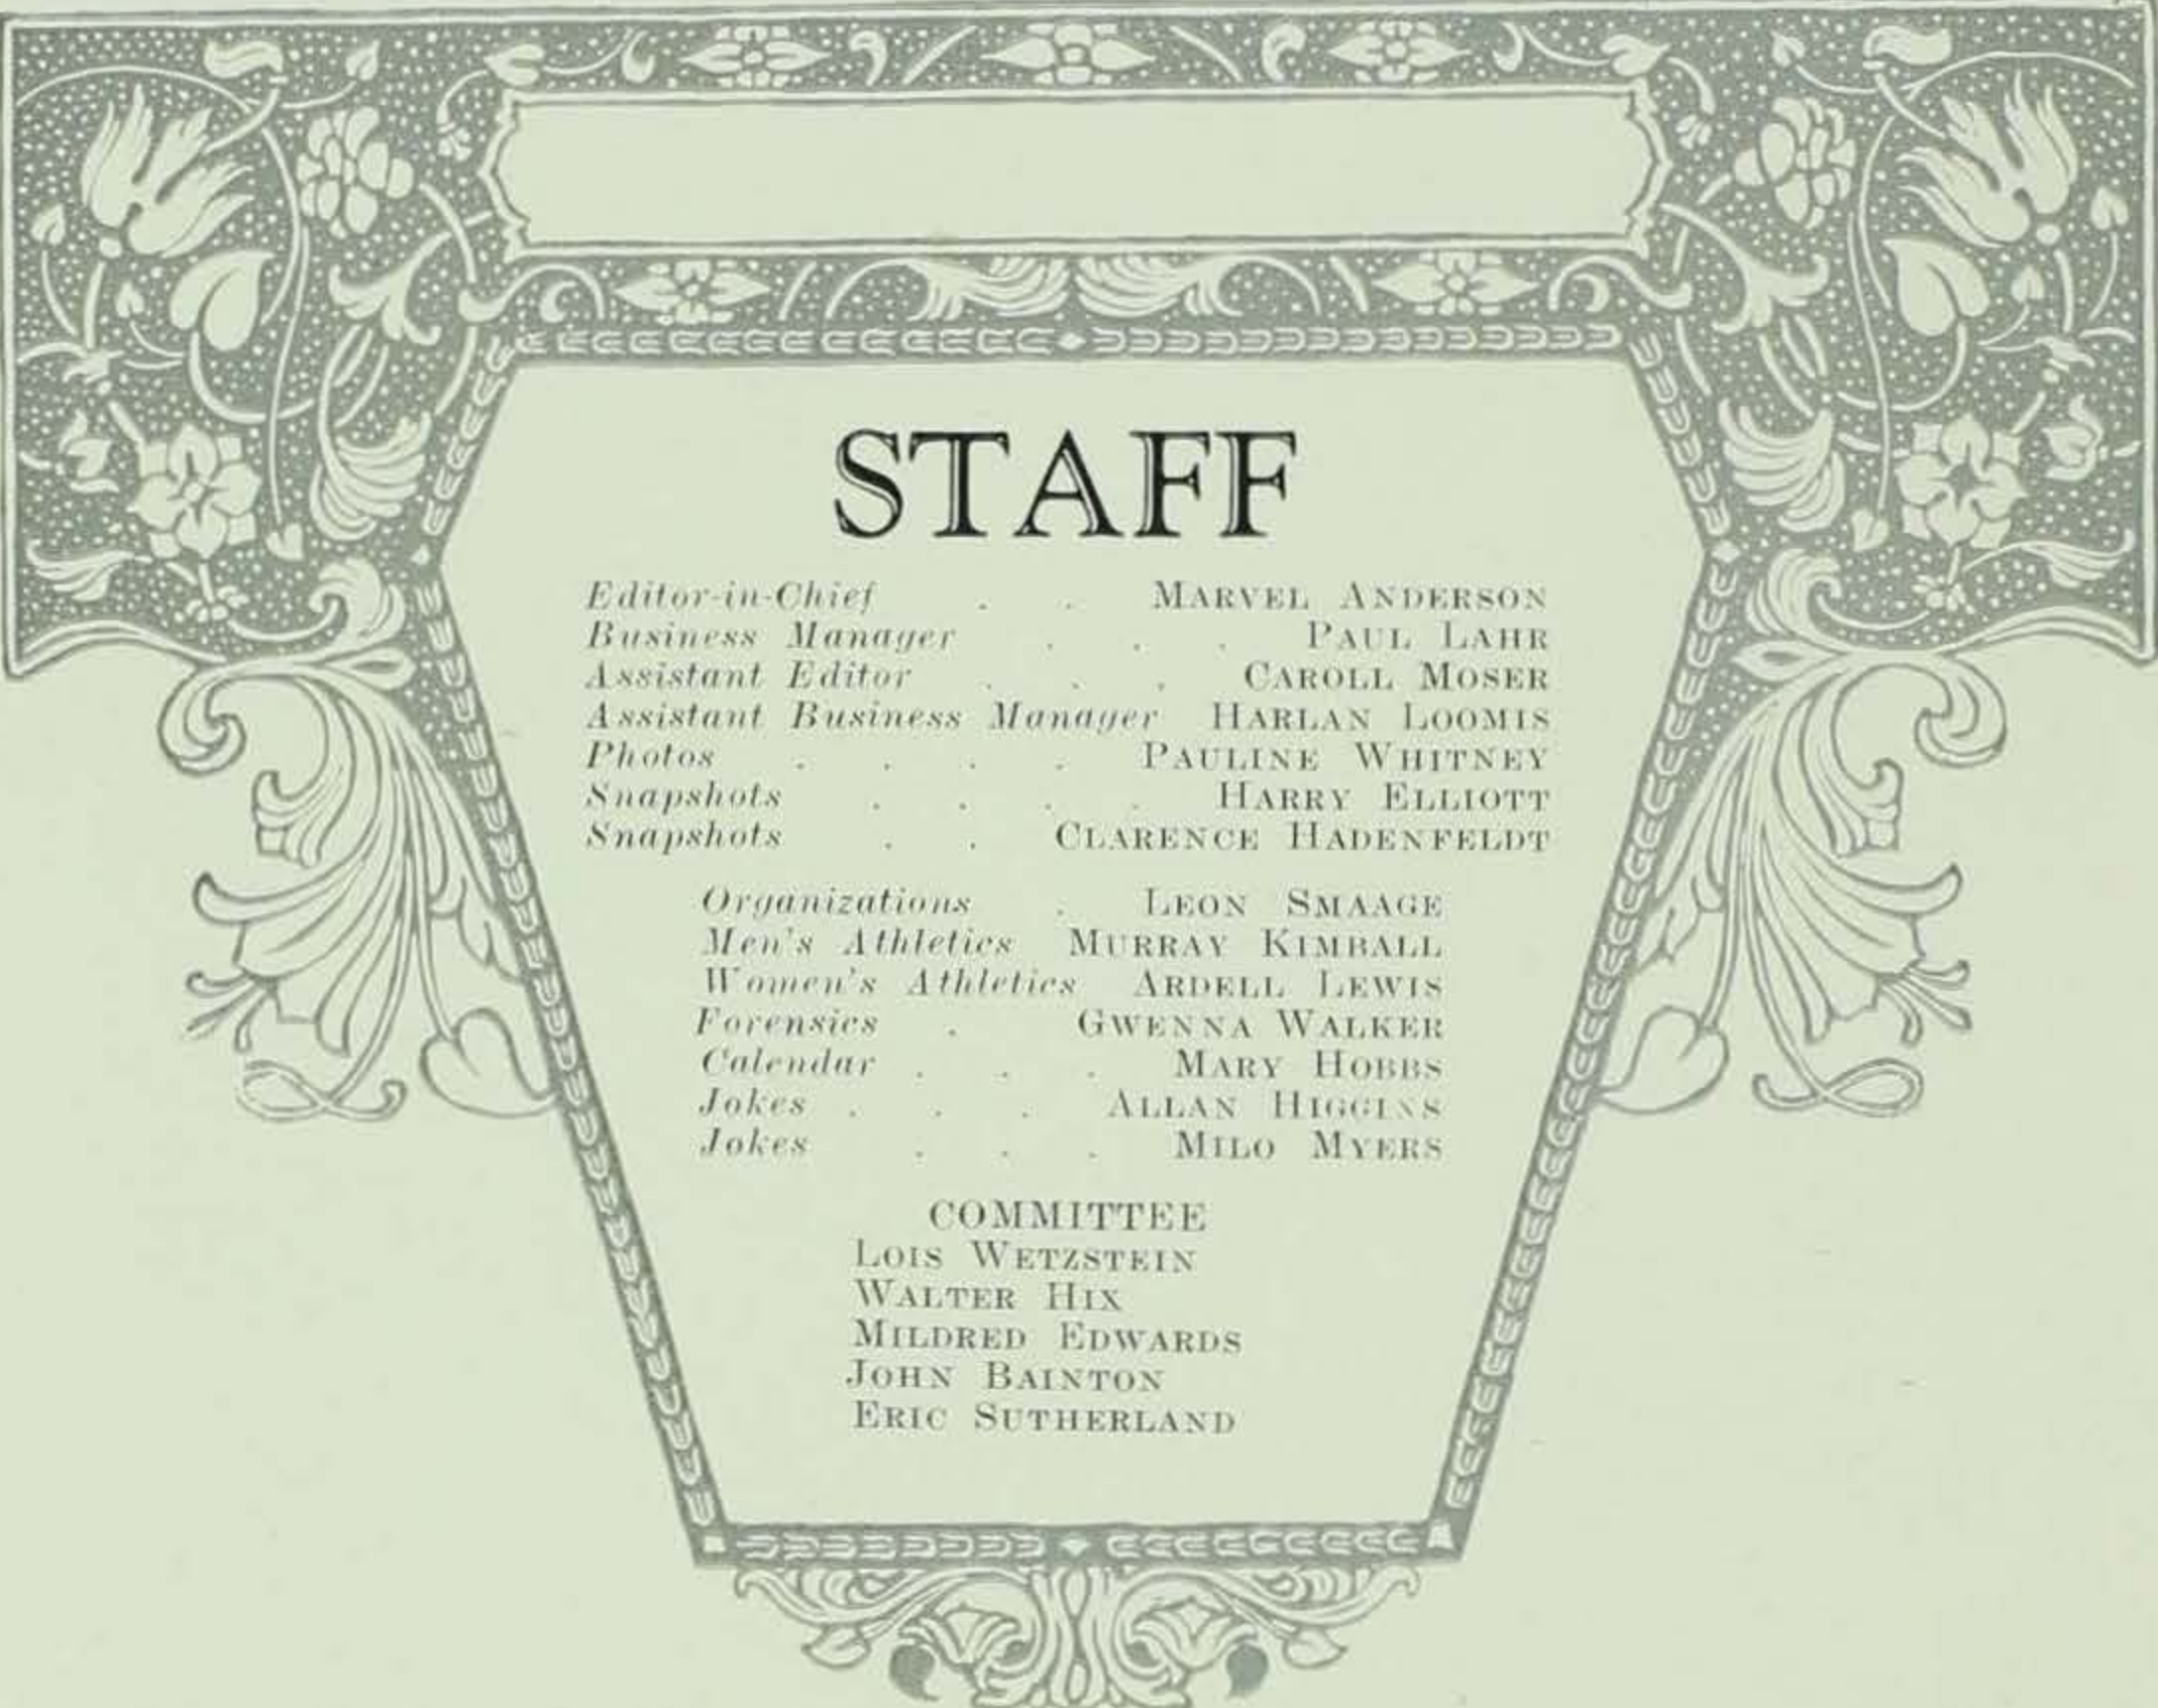

to

George E. Crawford

who in four years of earnest and faithful service has added much to the progress of Buena Vista in making it a greater institution of "Education for Service", and who has earned for himself the sincere admiration and friendship of Students and Graduates, we, the Class of 1930 dedicate this volume of THE RUDDER

Front Row: Smaage, Wetzstein, Lahr (Business Manager), Whitney, Anderson (Editor), Hobbs, Loomis.

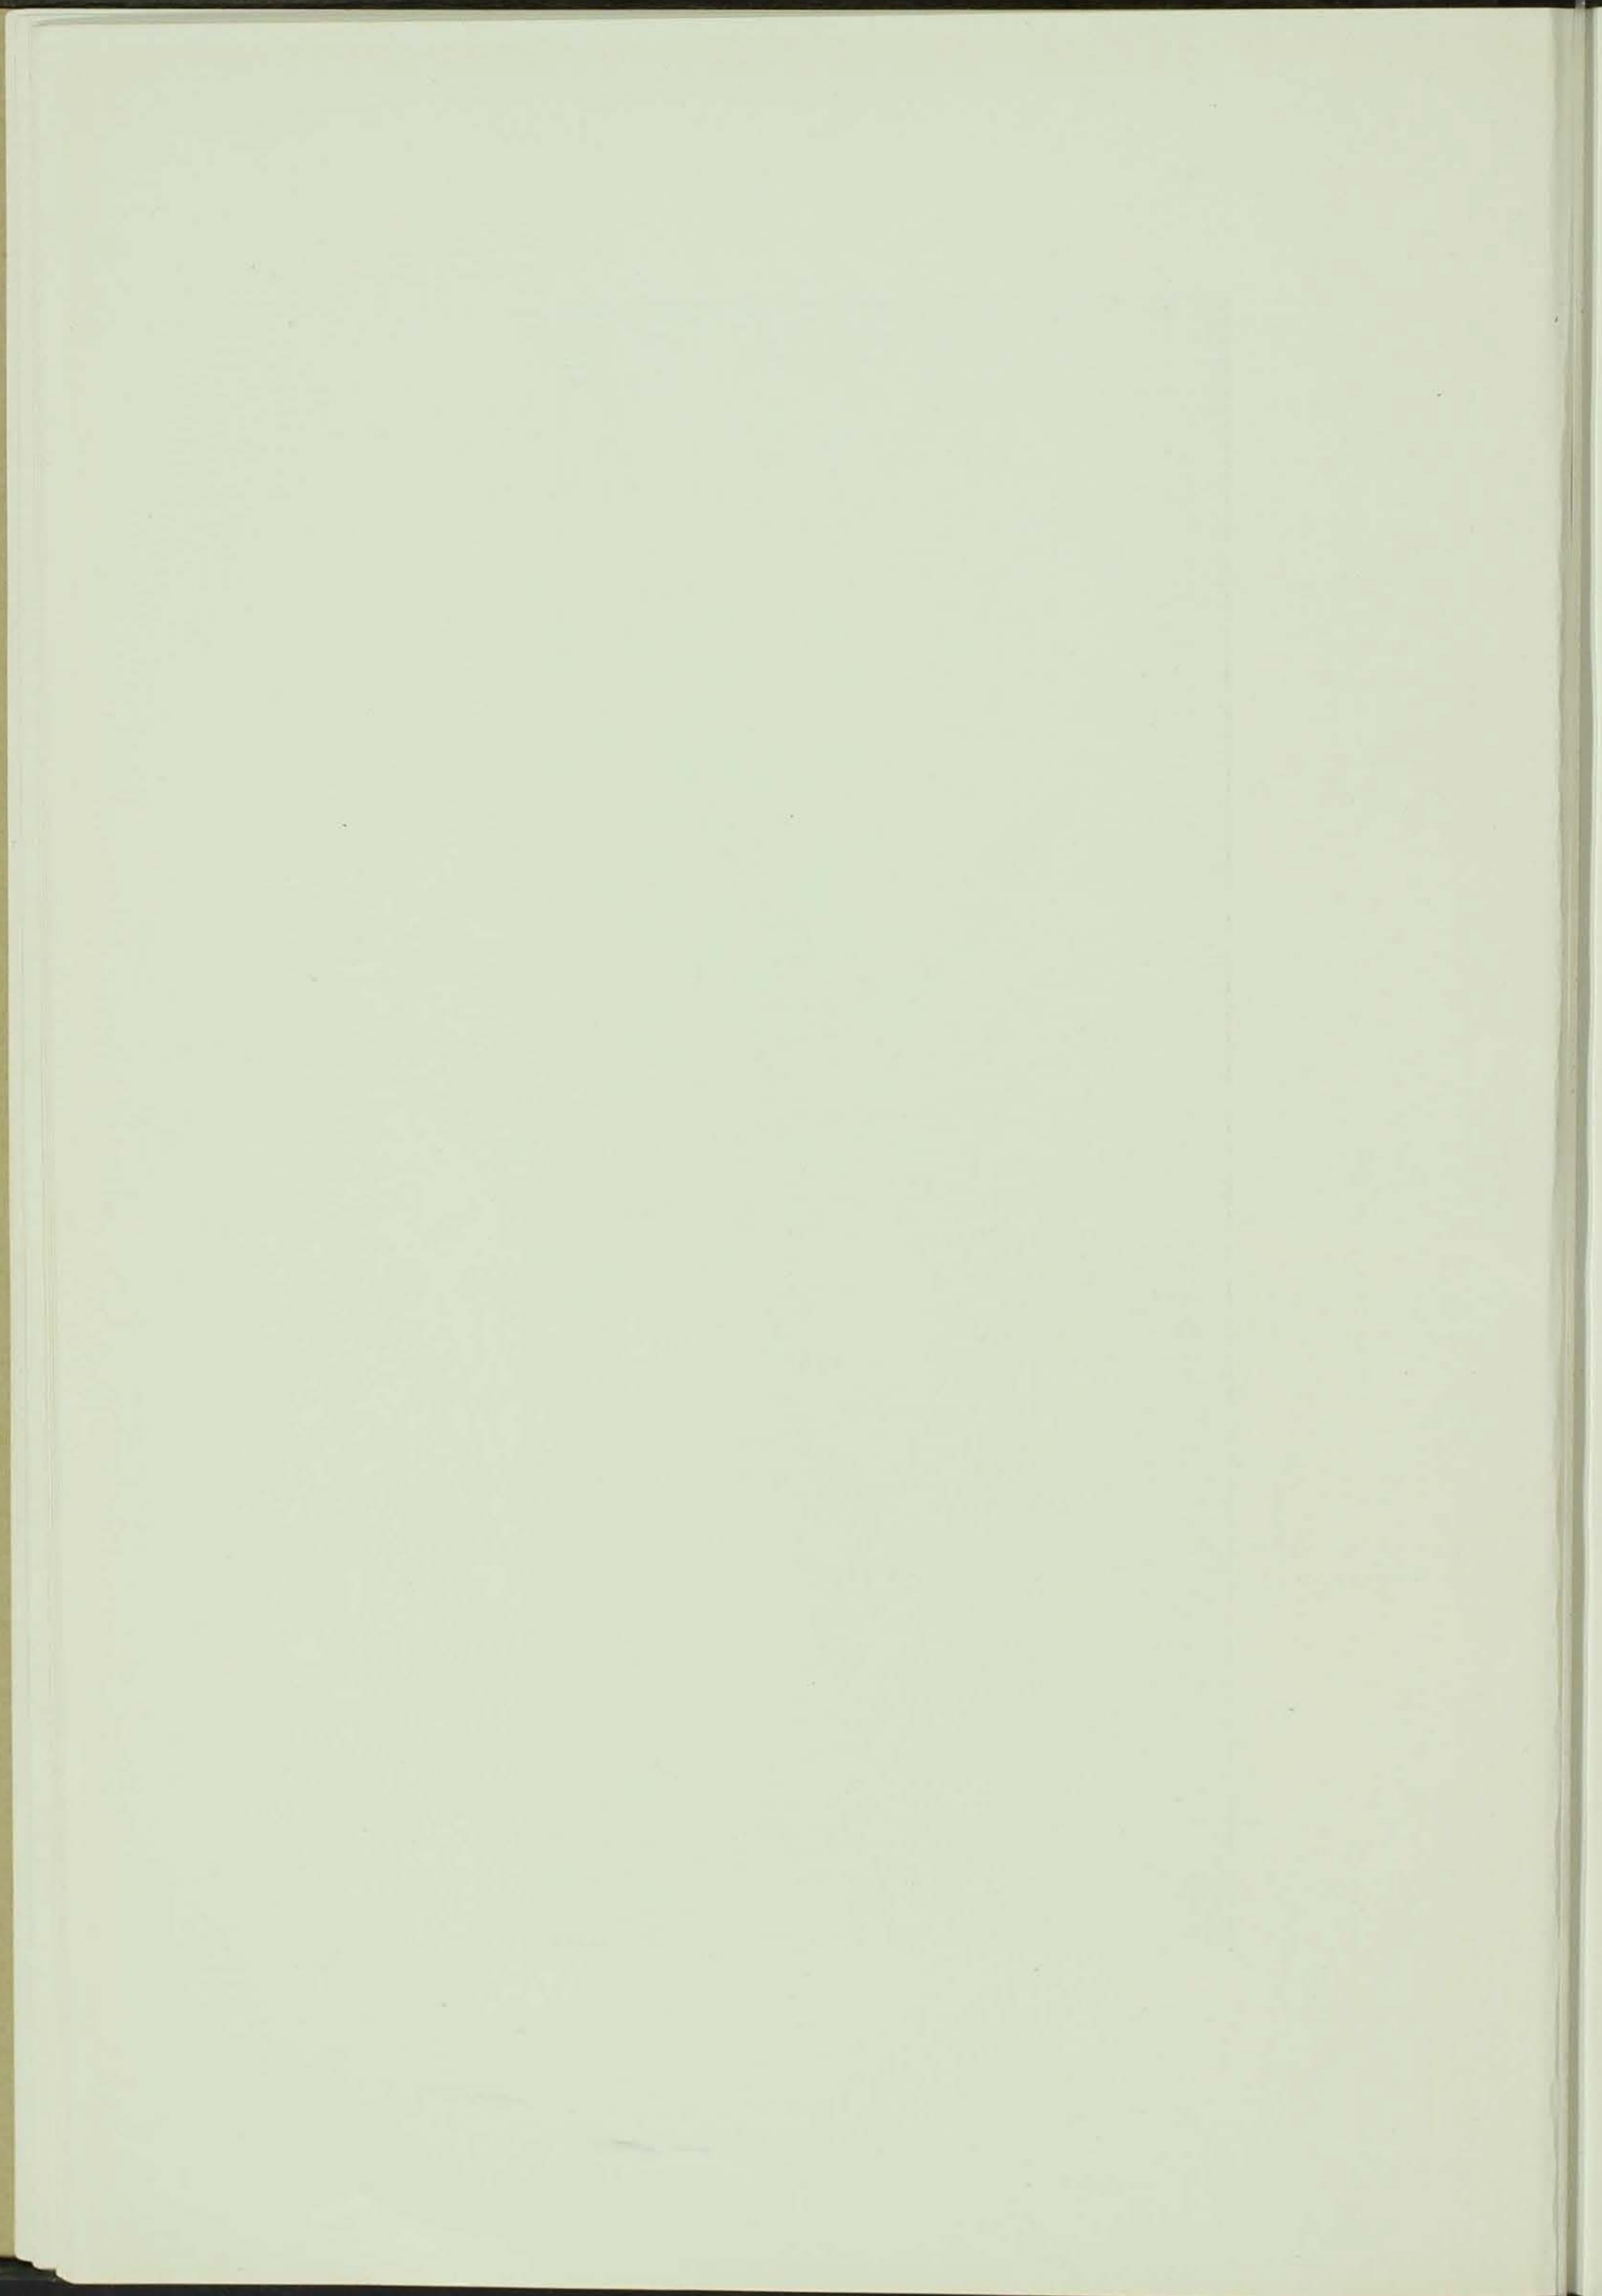

The members of the RUDDER staff offer this book to the friends of Buena Vista; conscious of its deficiencies, regretful of its errors, but proud of having done their best in their service to a college worthy of the best and more.

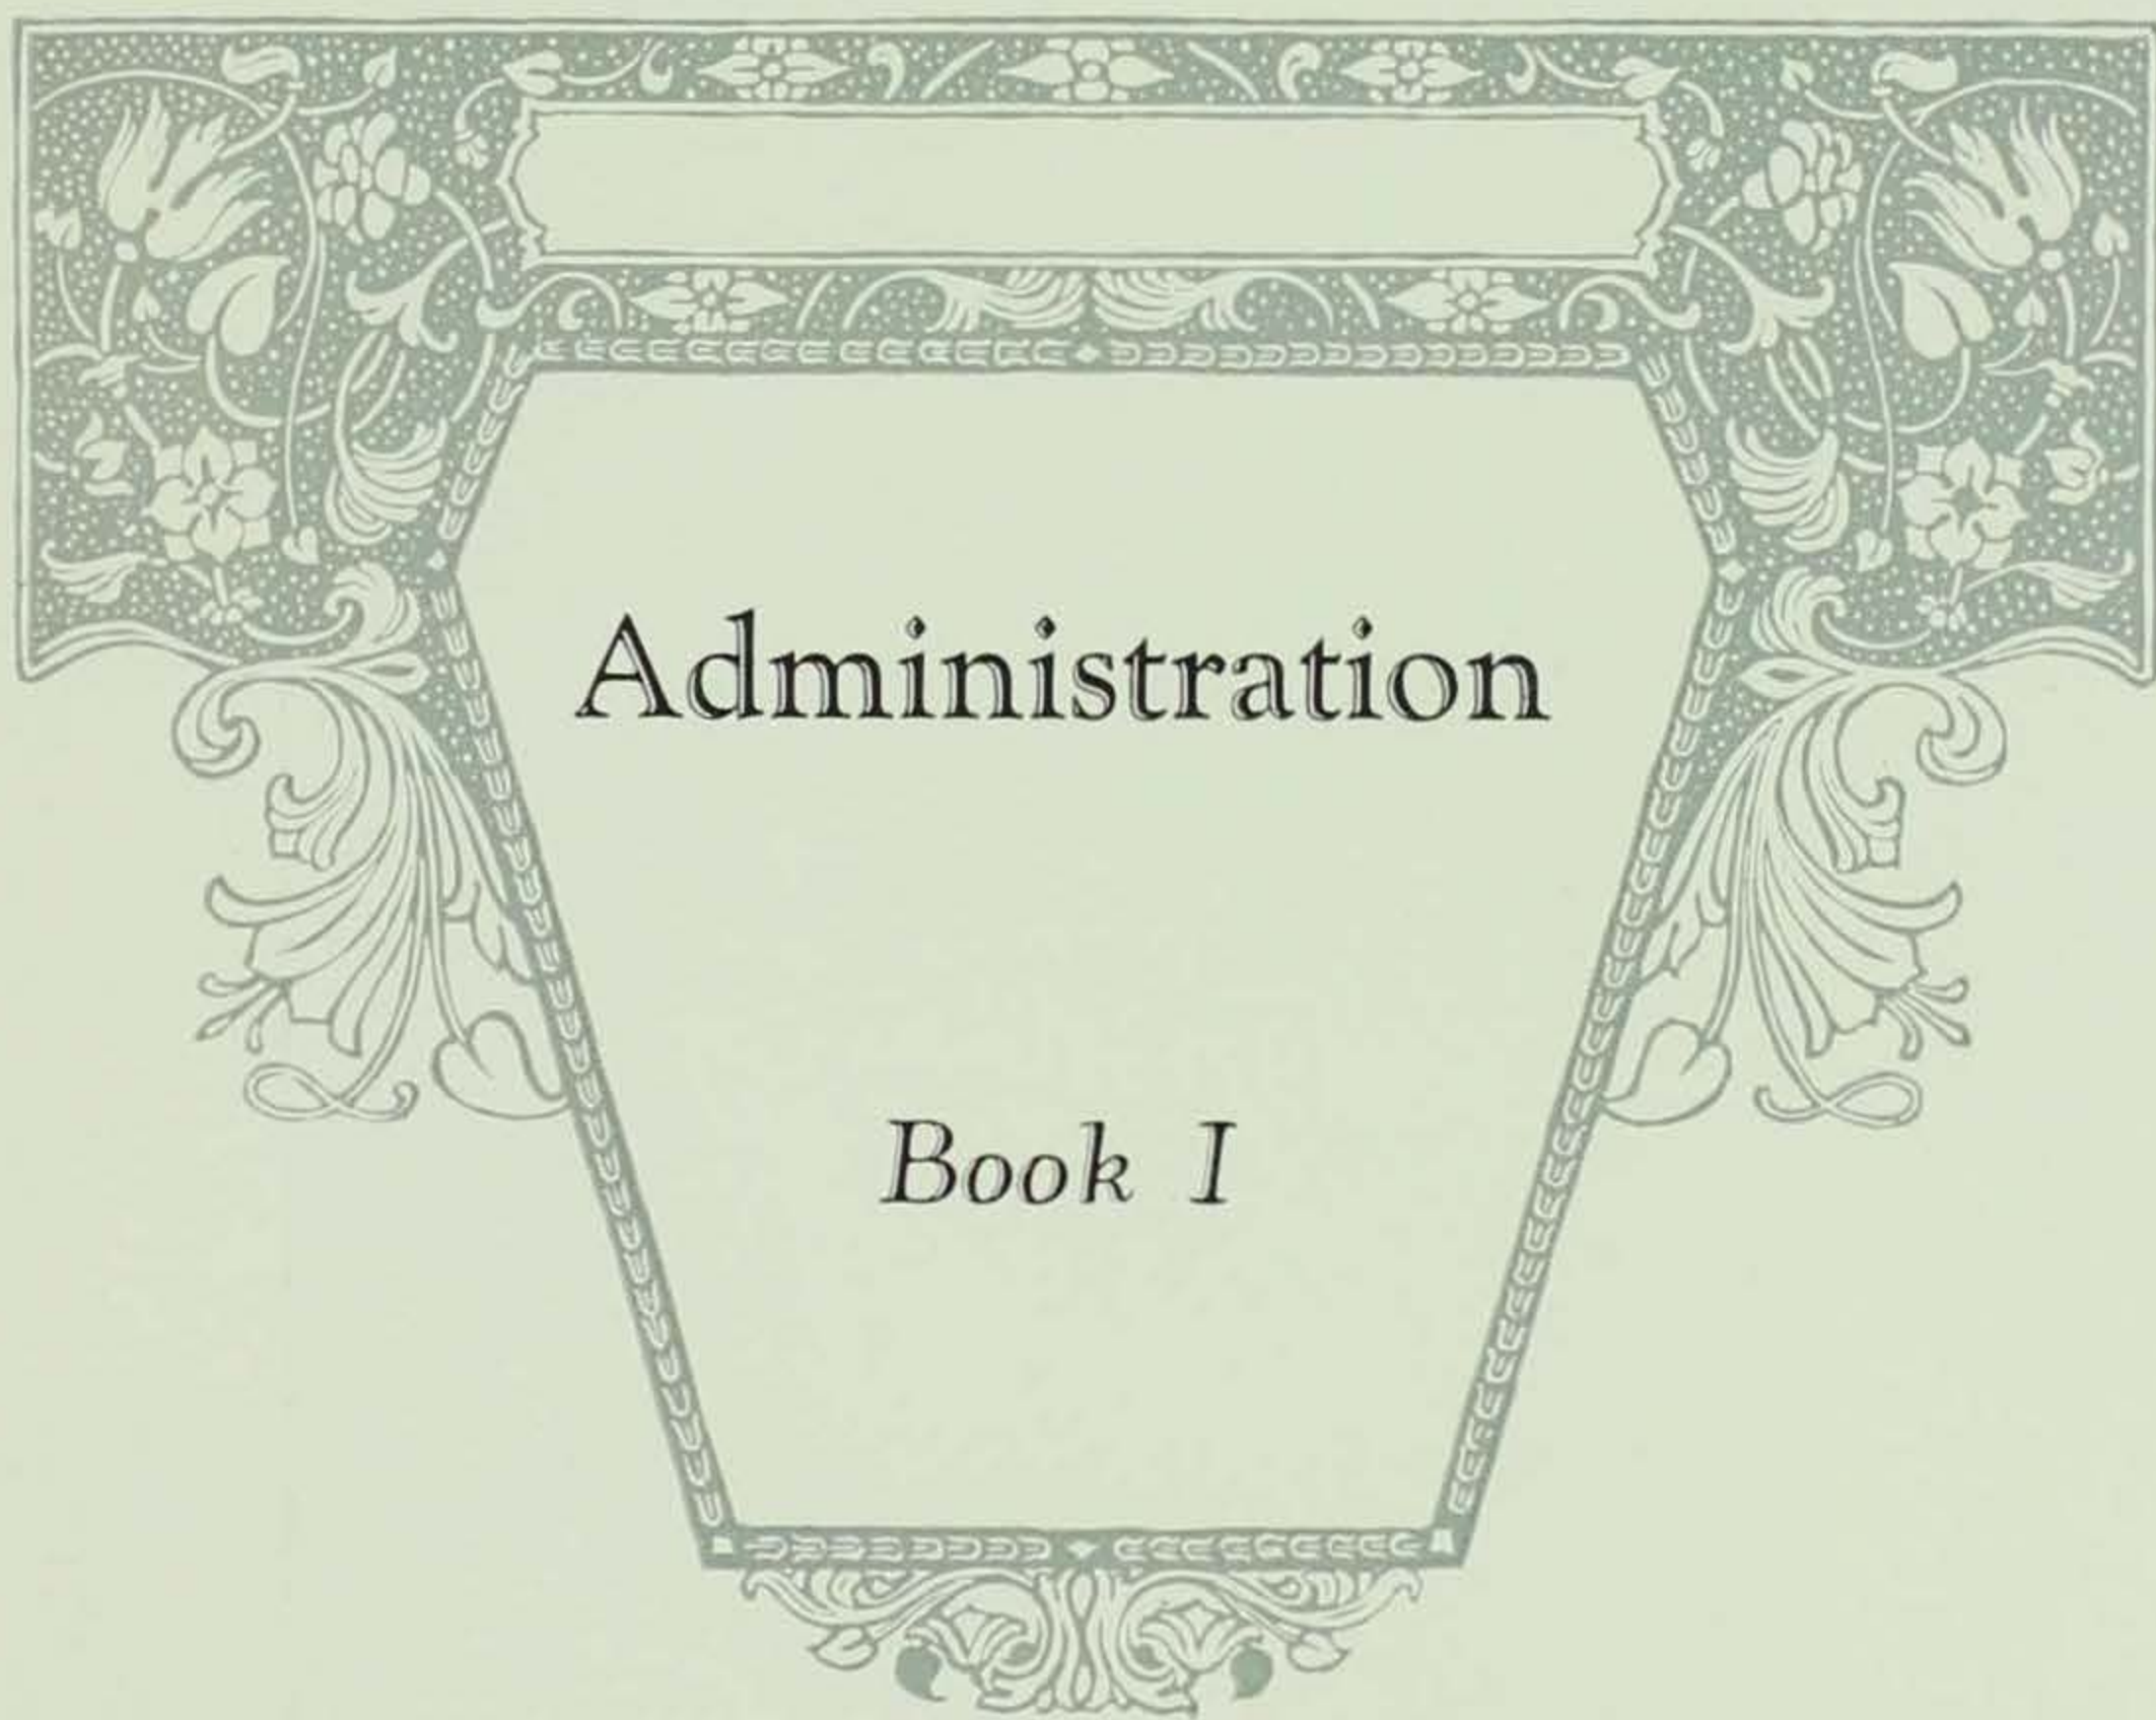

We wish to express our appreciation to all who have helped in the editing of this book, by furnishing snapshots, handing pictures in early, and paying dues promptly.

We also thank the Storm Lake Chamber of Commerce for its gift of $50 to aid in covering expenses of the RUDDER.

Administration

Book I

PRESIDENT EVERT LEON JONES

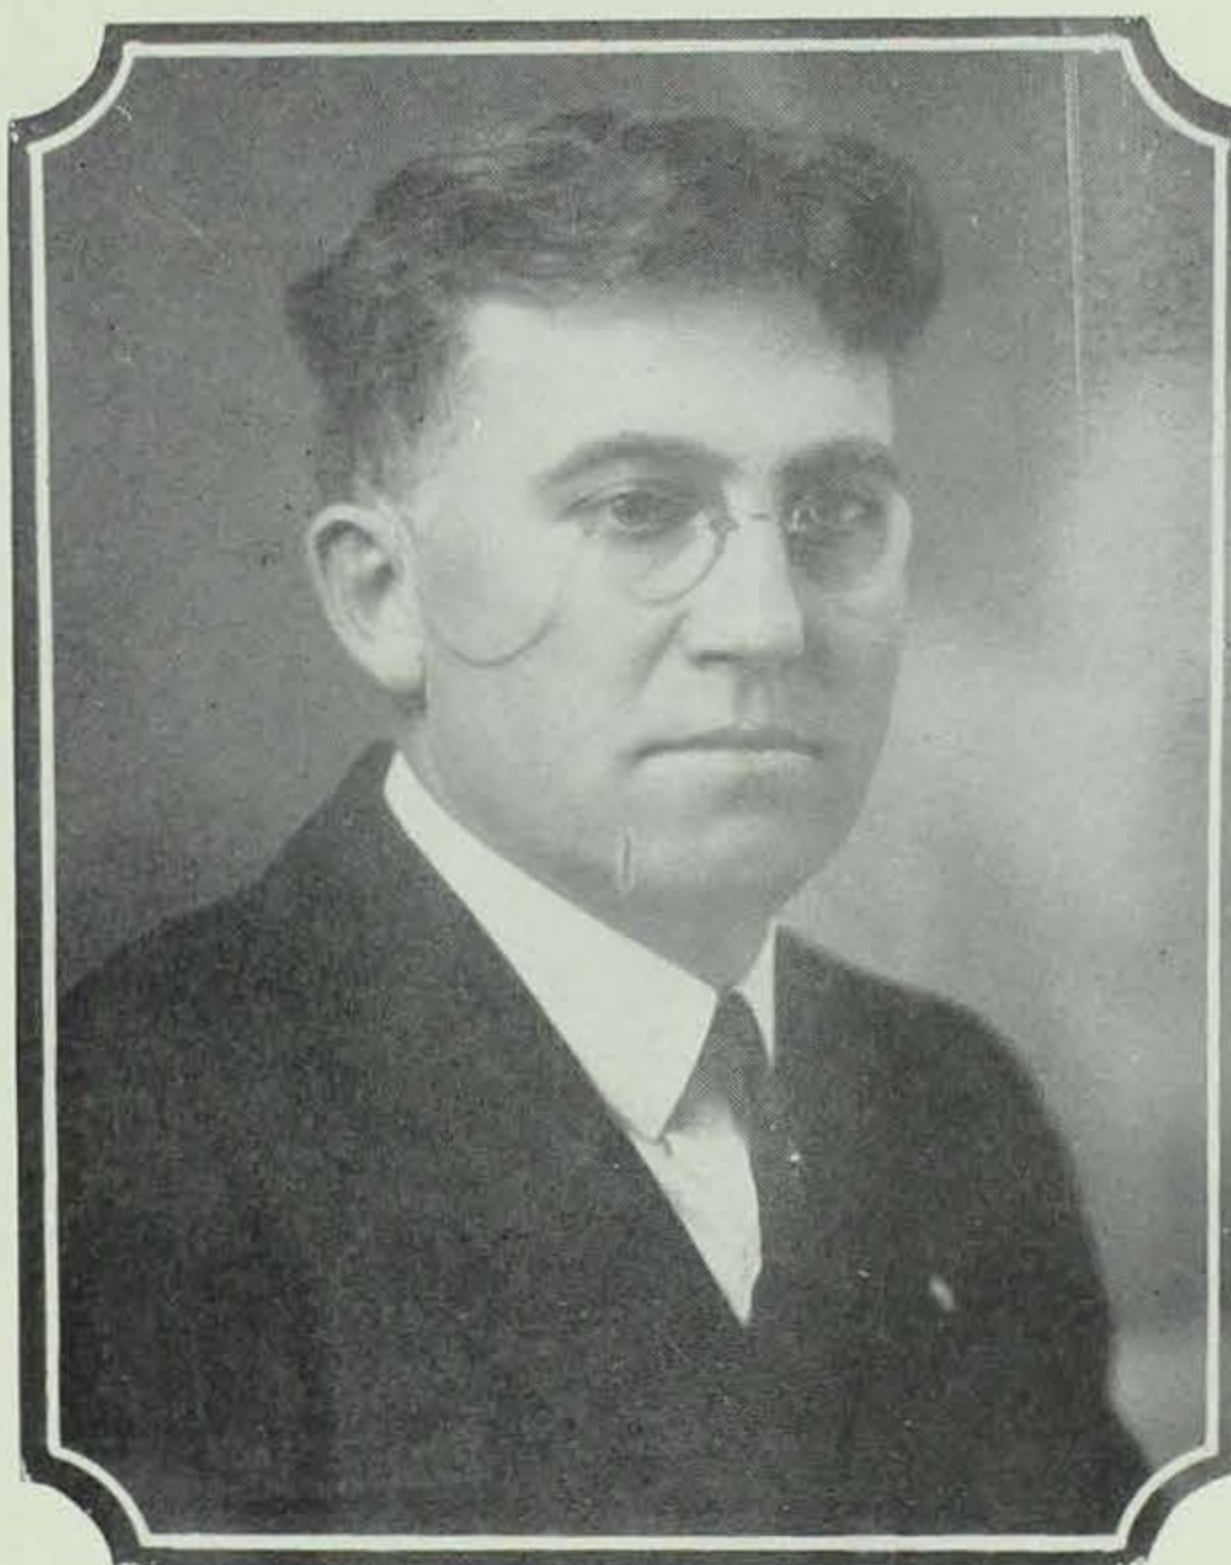

has been the guiding hand for Buena Vista for the past five years. Under his leadership the college has grown both in numbers and scholarship, and proved itself worthy of the plans now under way for its continued development. Although his exacting duties keep him away a large part of the time, he plays a very real part in the maintenance and well being of Buena Vista.

The Student Council this year has proven itself to be a vital force in every school activity. The purpose of the council is to act as an advisory board for students. Whenever an embarrassing situation would arise the council was always able and willing to render advice in a wholesome and above-board manner.

The social side of the college life was put entirely in the hands of the council. Dates for social functions were set and plans for the activities worked out. The wonderful success of our All-College Parties may be accredited to council action. Working in coöperation with the Dean and another faculty member it is expected to be an even more powerful organization in the coming year.

The Women's Athletic Association is one of the most wide awake organizations on the campus. It has for its purpose the advancement of women's athletics.

Entrance to the organization may be gained by earning a specified number of points, and when five hundred points are earned a B. V. sweater is presented.

Each year the W. A. A. sponsors the "Fools Frolic," and, with the Y. W. C. A., sponsor the Colonial Ball.

FRANCIS L. CASEY

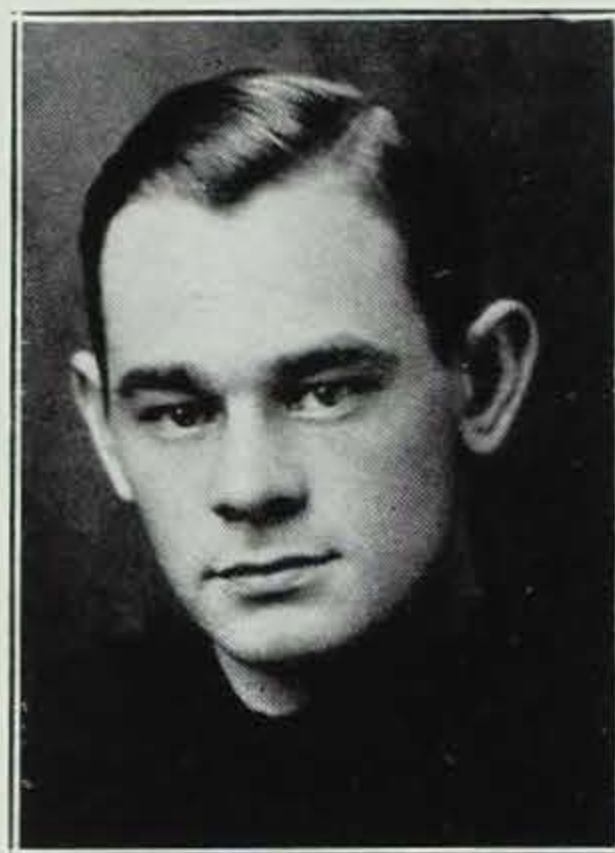

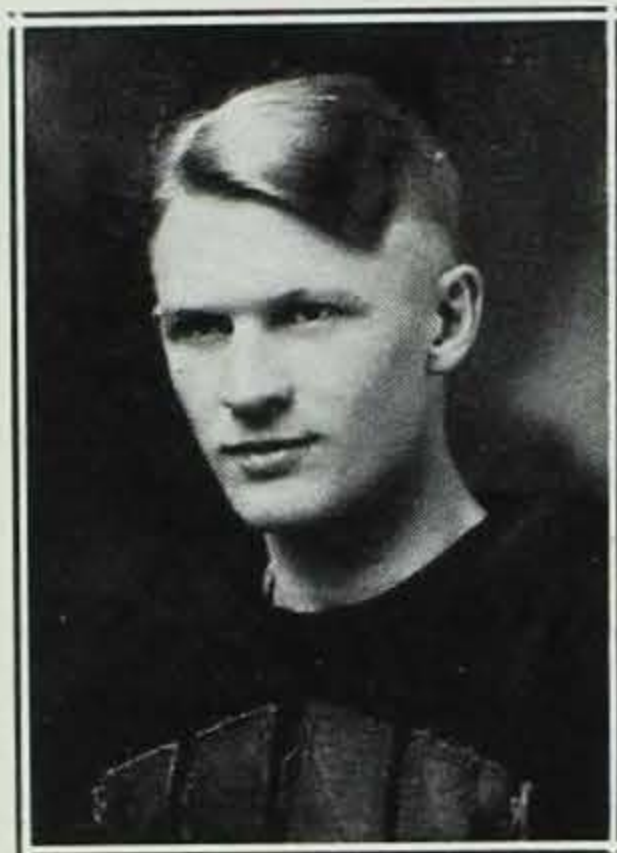

Coach Casey in his two years at Buena Vista has established a remarkable record as an all-around coach. This year, although faced with the unexpected loss of much of last season's material, he moulded a well trained, fighting team in both football and basketball. The dynamic personality of Coach Casey, together with the success of his teams, lie at the bottom of this year's greater Beaver Spirit. No higher tribute can be given him than to say that he is held in highest esteem by all who have worked under him.

FOOTBALL

Front Row: Thompson, Marsh, Boggess, Kimball, Thayer, Arney, Moe, Peterson, Reinhardt.

PETERSON, End

"Pete" was the lightest man on the team but what he lacked in weight, he made up in fight. "Pete" played a brilliant game at end both offensively and defensively. This was the last year for "Pete." His place will be hard to fill. He has played three wonderful years for B. V. So long, "Pete," we're for you!

MOE, End, Quarterback, or Halfback

Elmer was an all-around man in the backfield. He was the "key" of the offense and played an excellent game of end on the defense. He finished three years of brilliant football this year. We'll sorely miss him. Success to you, Moe, Old Boy!

THAYER, Center

A tower of strength in the line, backing up the left side of the line on the defense. Always on the job and in every play. "Dook" is an All-Conference man this year, and has one more year. Watch him go!

KIMBALL, Tackle

Playing left tackle quite consistently. He has one more year. Also an All-Conference man. He'll be back!

MARSH, End

"Archie" is the "Old Dependable," playing end on the offense and backing up the line on the defense. "Arch" was a most consistent player, in every play and fighting all the time. He has two more years which means two Conference teams for him. We'll be waiting for you!

REINHARDT, Tackle

"Bud" was the mainstay on the right side of the line. "Silent Bud" but full of fight and the old determination, will be an All-Conference man next year. He has two more years. He'll produce!

HARTLEY, Guard

"Cocky," a big, hulking freshman, was full of the old fight and in every play. He played like a veteran. He has three more years. You'll hear from him!

JOHNSTON, Guard

"Chuck" was light for a guard but his old determination and fight kept him in the game. Literally a "Bulldog"—he never gave up. "Chuck" has two more years to play for B. V. Watch him go!

BERGER, Quarterback

"Berg," another freshman, was an excellent field general, as well as an excellent ball totter. His ability to select the right play at the right time was a great asset to the team. He managed the team like a veteran. He'll be back three more years. Nuff sed!

BOGGESS, Halfback

"Bill," a fast shifty back, was full of fight and speed; playing quarterback on the defense, he ran back many a time for lots of yards and at times for touchdowns. "Bill" brought the stands to their feet often by his runs, putting much excitement into the game. He has two more years and is getting faster all the time. Watch him go!

ARNEY, Halfback

"Crip" was a bear for punishment, always dependable on his off-tackle plays, and playing a nice defensive game. He has two more years and is improving continually. He'll be "the cream of the crop." Watch him!

HENSLEY, Halfback

"Hense" was another freshman, and the running mate for Boggess, equalling him in speed and as slippery; always good for yards on end runs and fake plays; playing a nice defensive game. He'll be as good as his brother—give him time. He has three more years to star for old B. V. See him next year.

KALLMER, Quarterback

"Stub" alternated with "Berg" at quarter, and was another excellent field general. He wasn't much for size but he balanced that with the old determination. He was a bear on line plunges and made many gains. He certainly fooled them. He has two more years. He'll go!

BASKETBALL

E. MOE, Forward and Center

Elmer was an excellent floor man and had an eye for the basket. He and his brother were the high point men on the team. He had the old fight in the game all the time and played his hardest. This was his last year. His place will be hard to fill. So long, Moe! Proud to have played with you!

PETERSON, Center

"Pete," tall lanky center, took his share of the tip-offs and also his share of the baskets. He wasn't a flashy player but was very dependable in the game all the time. This was "Pete's" last year. He'll be greatly missed. Here's to you, "Pete," Old Man!

O. MOE, Forward

Orion, a flashy sophomore and high point man on the team, was always on the go and playing his best. He has an uncanny eye for the basket and was responsible for more than one of the victories, especially the "Jinx" for Western Union. He was honored on the All Conference Five this year. We'll see you back next year, Orion.

STILLMAN, Forward

"Jim" was the running mate to Orion and chalked up his share of the points. His floor work was excellent, fighting all the time. He has one more year to star for Old B. V. Watch him go!

MARSH, Guard

"Archie," a sophomore, was the "Old Dependable" in basketball as well as football. As the mainstay of the defense, he was always sure of at least a couple of baskets every game. He had his "spot." He was always in the game fighting his hardest. He'll go for two more years. Watch him!

MATZDORF, Guard

"Matt," a big freshman guard, played wonderful ball for B. V. He still had his "eye" for long shots and made 'em. "Matt" was always playing the game and fighting his best. He'll be back for three more years. You'll hear from him next year, too.

REINHARDT, Guard

"Bud," a big sophomore guard, was always on the go. He was another long-shot artist who was good at 'em. We will never forget his two long ones at Western Union, Eh? What? "Bud" will be back for two more years. He'll produce!

BERGER, Forward

"Berg," a fast freshman forward and one of the "original." He was fighting all of the time and tallying his share of the points. "Berg's" floor work was very commendable. He'll be back for three more years. He has wonderful prospects.

KIMBALL, Guard

"Kim," was a guard and the other of the "original." He played good ball at times. Athletic Editor. Nuff sed! What? Of course I'll be back.

Front Row: Schar, Osbourne, Moe, Prof. Swanson, Derby, Walker.

This year witnessed a new man at the helm of this Musical organization. Under the energetic tutelage of Professor Swanson the Buena Vista Band has taken the greatest advance strides in it's History.

The Buena Vista Band, with their clean cut uniforms and rousing pep renditions, were as effective as any other factor in winning Football and Basketball games for good old B. V.

This organization reached the pinnacle of their success with their vigorous maneuvers at Homecoming. With Prof. Swanson at the head of these inspiring and aspiring pep provokers, it is certain that they will accomplish unparalleled feats in 1929-1930.

First Row: Walker, Derby, Maxwell, Bruce, Schar, Hammer, Price.
Second Row: Meyers, Brubacher, Brader, Wheeler, Blount, Westcott, Hamlin, Colburn, Jenkins, Walker, Rice, Steig, Hussey, Rogers, Enderson.
Third Row: Kline, Mark, Claussen, Whitney, Prof. Swanson, Bailey, Hartman, Bargar.
Fourth Row: Welch, Kline, Rix, Brubacher, Elliott, Rothwell.

This was the second year that such an organization has been a feature of the extra curricular activities of Buena Vista College.

The Chapel Choir presented several programs to the Buena Vista Students and these events found instantaneous approval from a unanimous, much enthused student body.

In the Spring, the choir appeared in several concerts at various towns in Iowa. Upon these excursions our choir was hailed as one of distinction and note.

Too much credit can not be given to the able and efficient director, Mr. Lloyd Swanson for the vast progress of the Chapel Choir.

The Buena Vista Tack enjoyed a progressive and successful year. The members of the Tack staff worked earnestly to make the Tack truly a student paper. In pursuance of this end, their results were gratifying. The columns of the Tack became wholly "edible" and students eagerly digested the contents of each succeeding issue.

Representatives of the Tack staff were present at the Thirteenth annual convention of the Iowa Press Association, which was held in Iowa City late in April.

"Tweedles," by Booth Tarkington, was the first play of the season staged by the B. V. Players. This comedy was well cast, and the characters played their rôles commendably.

The second play of the year was "The Fool," by Channing Pollock, which gave the Players the opportunity to prove their versatility in presenting plays of a widely varied type. The cast for "The Fool" was the largest ever assembled in any one production by the club. The settings for this play were difficult, but very well executed.

The third and last play of the year has not been as yet determined.

The Players will lose several splendid players this year through graduation. Those appearing for the last time are: Harley Glidden, Lena Hamlin, Weldon Pickering, Margaret Hartman, and Mildred Hobbs. Judging entirely on the merit of their performances in dramatic club productions, it will be difficult to fill the places left vacant by them.

Buena Vista college is honored having the Chi cast of Alpha Psi Omega, a national dramatic fraternity, on the campus. The cast is under the able direction of Miss Dewey Deal.

Alpha Psi Omega aims to develop and promote dramatics in every possible way. Admission to the fraternity is earned through the Buena Vista Players, membership being a mark of experience in dramatics, and an emblem of ability.

Several members of the Players have almost made the necessary qualifications and will be initiated this spring. The present personnel of the cast will be lost through graduation with the exception of Murray Kimball.

DEBATE

This year the debate teams of Buena Vista College participated in a heavy schedule. Debates were held with Iowa State Teachers College, Nebraska Wesleyan, Cottner, Parsons, Penn, Luther, Augustana, Yankton, Brookings, Huron, and Dakota Wesleyan.

Marjorie Holmes, Joyce Kaufman, Weldon Pickering, and Marian Thorson represented Buena Vista in the Pi Kappa Delta provincial contest at Huron, South Dakota. The men's team was among the last four of the 16 contestants at the Huron contest.

Last year, Marian Thorson, and Joyce Kaufman defeated California U. and a team composed of these two and Paul Lahr won a decision from Northwestern U.

The question for debate this year was: Resolved, that a substitute for Trial By Jury should be adopted. Mr. Pinkham was the coach and his untiring efforts effected a year of good debating. Too much credit cannot be given him for his splendid work.

The purpose of the Life Recruit organization is to further interest among the students of Buena Vista College in home and foreign missions. Anyone interested is welcome.

Regular monthly meetings are held at the various homes. The Jerusalem Conference has been the main topic for discussion this year. It is represented each year at the State Student Volunteer Convention.

This organization is also sponsoring a large world map in Fracker Library, the object of which is to keep students interested in world-wide affairs.

Mrs. E. L. Jones, Dean Benthin, Dean Banghart, Doris Engelking, and A. C. Nielson have shown much interest in this type of work.

PROJECT

The Y. W. C. A. has for its main project this year the education of a Persian girl under the guidance of Mrs. Bernice Greg-Cochran, an alumnus of Buena Vista. We have done this with the money raised from the annual Bazaar and Pancake Supper.

The number of girls at each meeting shows the interest in Y. W., much of which has been caused by the weekly meetings which have been interesting as well as original.

Prof. Smith: "Well, well, well, Mr. Hoffle, late again. What excuse do you have this morning?"

Wayne: "Please, Prof., we lost the lid off the stove and I had to sit on the hole to keep the smoke in."

Hendrickson in Ec. Class: "What were the motives of the first American settlers?"

Parks: "Fur—Fish—Fun."

Dutch Loomis: Defines a Chair as not belonging to the davenport group, but for the sole purpose of accomodating only one person.

Heard on the Freshmen Bench from the Students mail box:

Freshie: "Really! Why?"

Fresh: "Yes, you are pigeon-toed."

Freshie: "Don't crow, your collar has wings."

Mort: "Are you a good one-armed driver?"

Bainton: "Now Morty, you know I'm a sport. I take a taxi and use both arms."

Renshaw: "Did you ever see a barn dance?"

Rosendahl: "No, but I have seen you dance."

Vogel: "How was the party last night?"

Claussen: "It was so noisy I could hardly hear myself drink."

Benthin: "Do any of the good things you hope for come to pass?"

Hammer: "They all come to pass; but they come and pass so doggoned swift I can't grab 'em."

Freshman Sap: "Can I have a blind date with you?"

Senior Coed: "But you know me."

Freshman Sap: "Oh, that's all right. If we see anybody I want to be able to say it's a blind date."

J. Wead: "My razor doesn't cut at all."

L. Townsend: "Why Jim, you don't mean to tell me that your beard is tougher than my toe nails."

Stillman: "What are you writing?"

Drury: "A joke."

Stillman: "Well, give her my regards."

Prof: "In which of his battles was Alexander the Great killed?"

Arney: "I think it was his last. But I wouldn't argue."

Fair Teacher: "Do you run a car, Oscar?"

Prof. Meeke: "No, I let the motor do that."

Ena: "You tickle me, Ray."

Ray Hout: "My what a strange request."

Rhinehardt: "Wixon seems to get a lot of pleasure out of Chapel."

Orion: "Yeh, out of it."

Cop in Wahoo, Neb.: "Hey there where are you going? Don't you know this is a one-way street."

Sheriff Smaage: "Well, I am going one way ain't I?"

Schweitzer: "All last summer I was troubled with poison due to biting insects. What would you suggest as a remedy?"

Dr. Elliott: "Why not quit biting them and go on a vegetarian diet."

A. Quintard: "Did you fill your date last night?"

H. Glidden: "I hope so. She ate everything in sight."

Pres. of the Six: "How would you like to dance this one?"

Marge Holmes: "Very much. Would you mind hunting up a partner for me?"

Ticket Seller: "You can't take that girl in on a child's ticket."

McClintock: "Why not? She's some baby."

Prof. Hurley: "Describe the mechanism of a steam shovel."

Hensley: "Don't kid me. You can't carry steam on a shovel."

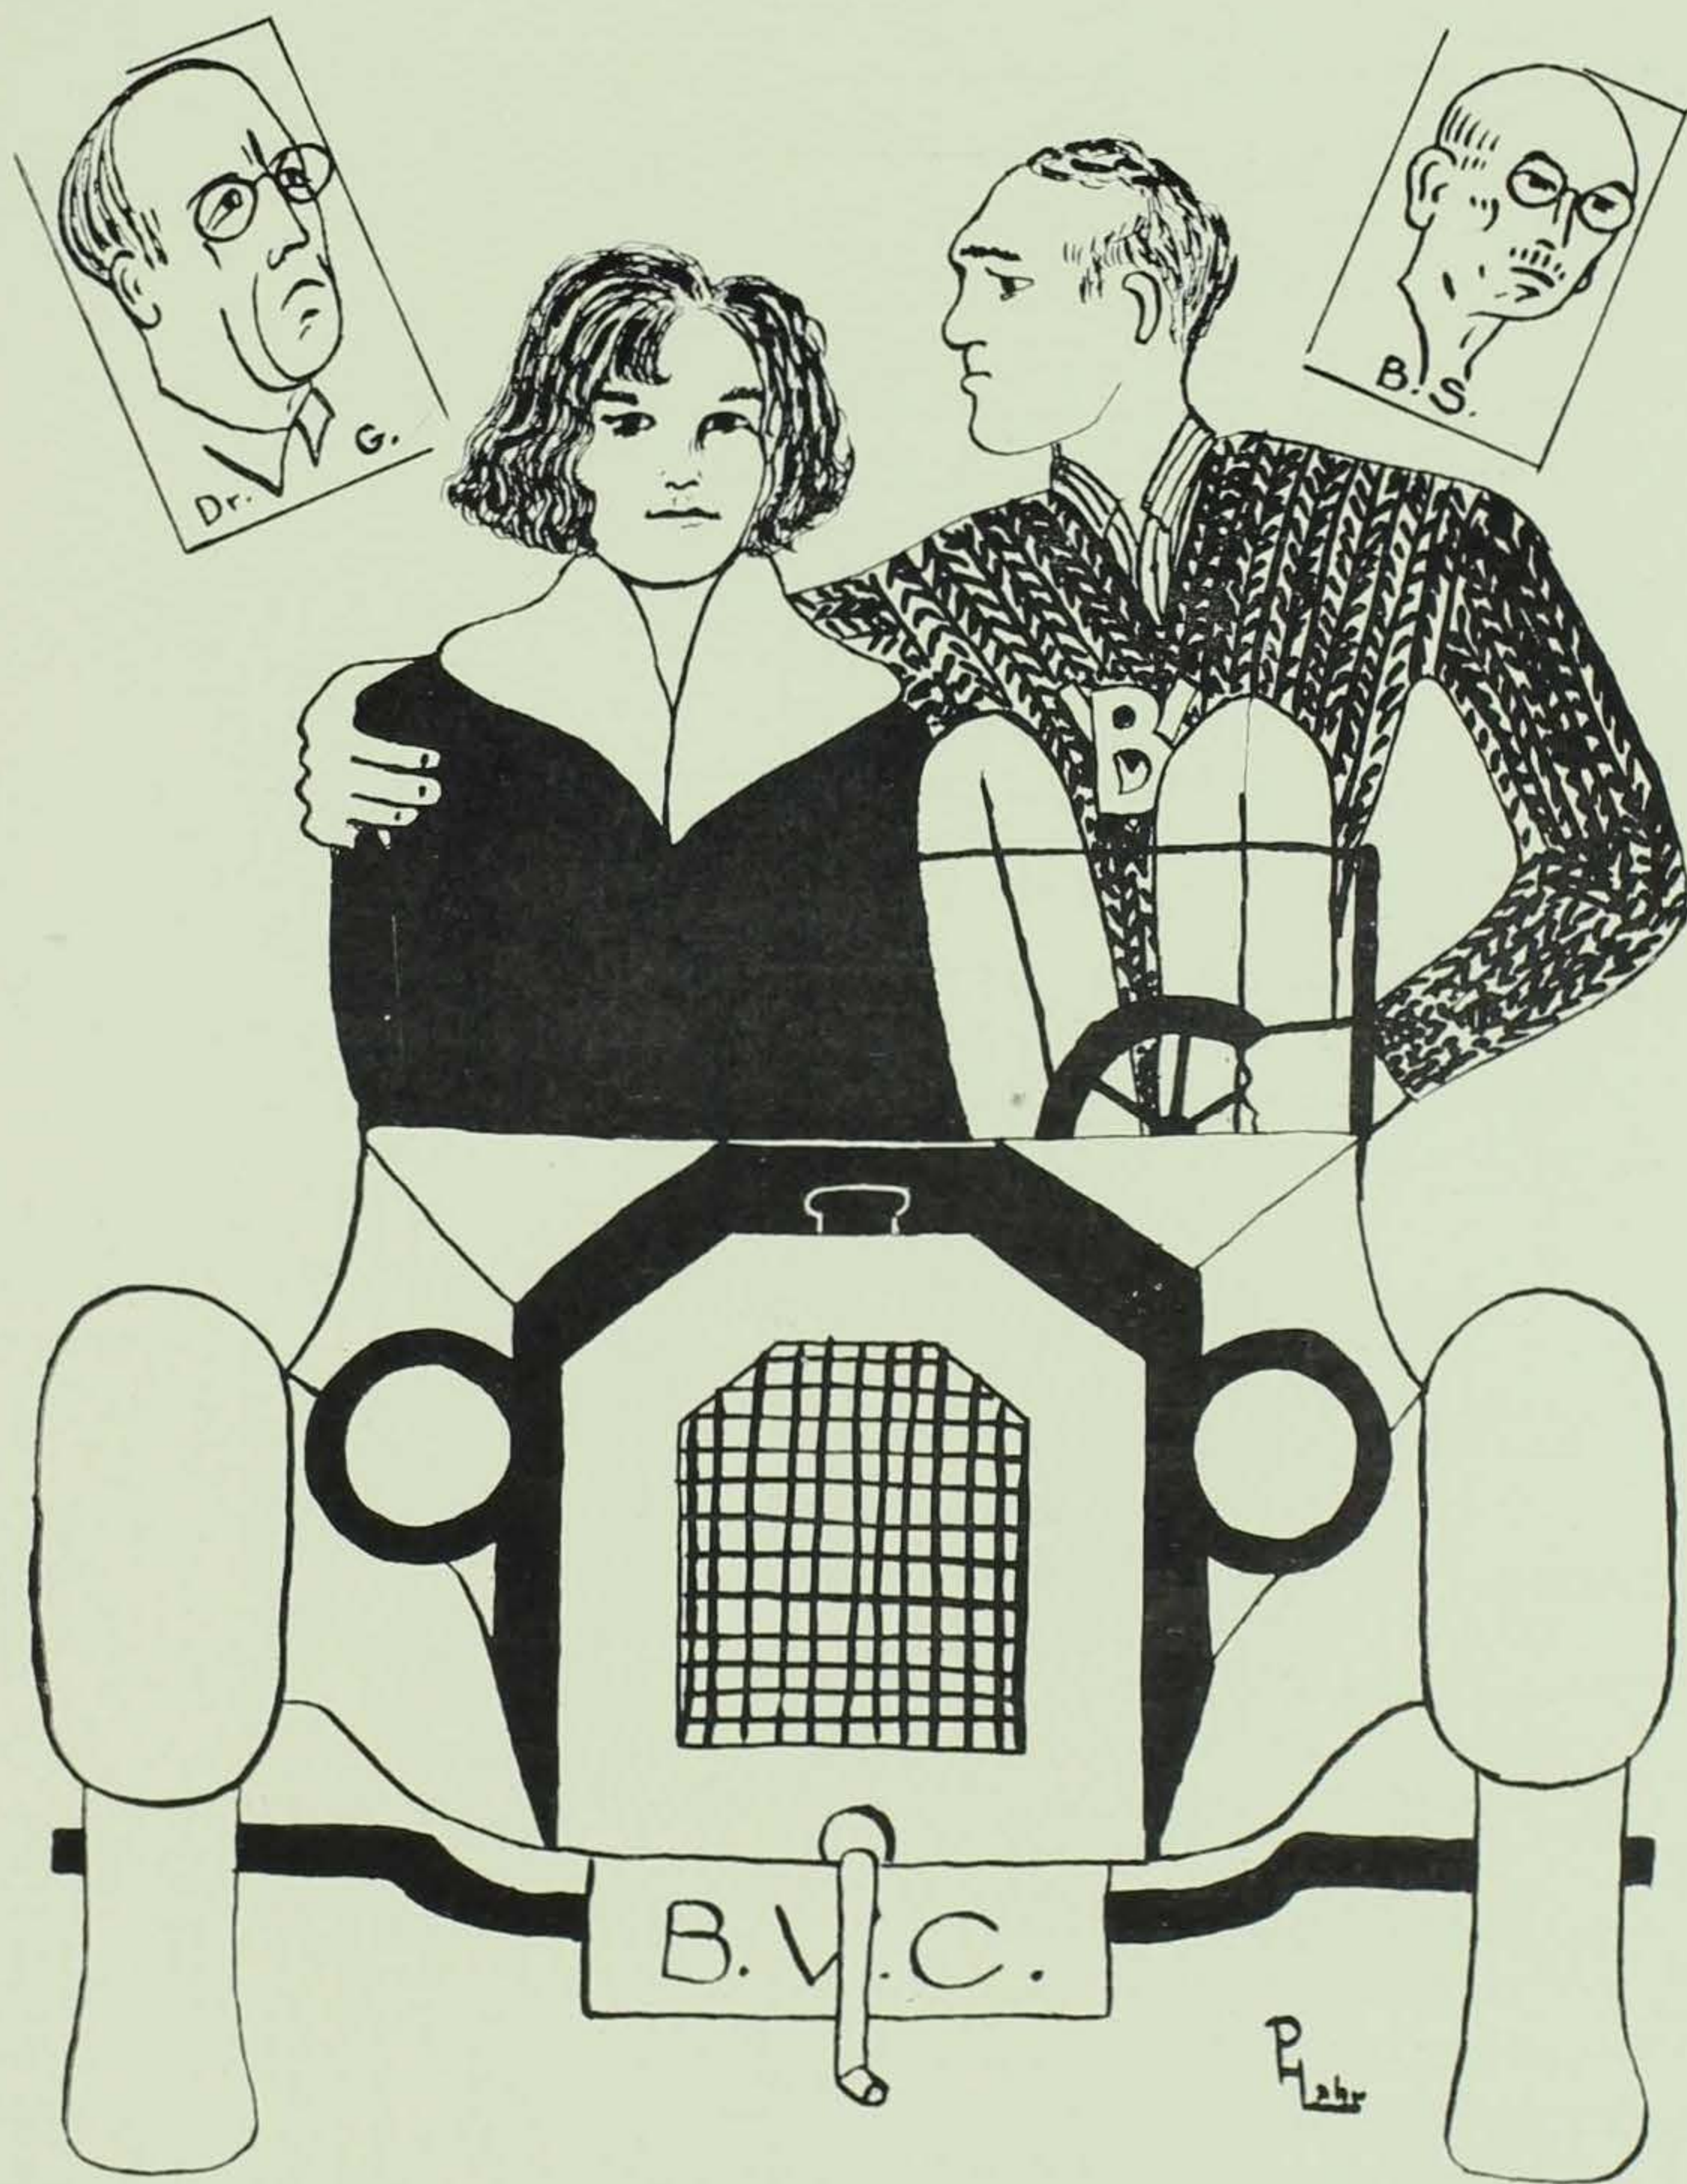

Hatch: "What brand of cigarettes do you smoke?"

Potter: "I don't know. I'm too polite to ask."

Maxine Steig: "What's that sticking out of your collar?"

Peddicord: "I don't see anything."

Steig: "Ah, yes, it's your head."

Commander Drury: "I am an aviator."

E. Rothwell: "You fly?"

Commander: "Yes, I fly."

Rothwell: "I remember now—I saw your picture in the fly-paper."

Pauline Whitney: "I wish the Lord had made me a man."

Kid Price: "He did; I am the man."

Helen Banghart: "What is the difference between a Ford and an automobile?"

Ruth Hurliss: "I know. An automobile can't climb a tree."

Phyllis B.: "Did you ever have money left you?"

Hartley: "Yes, I had money—and it left quick."

Renshaw: "You are the girl of my dreams."

Welch: "Aren't you nice and gallant?"

Renshaw: "I have had some awful dreams lately."

Dean Banghart: "You keep on staying out nights and you'll never go to heaven."

Bill Skeels: "I don't care. I own the other place."

Dean Banghart: "You own it?"

Bill: "Yes, dad gave it to me this morning."

Bruce: "Do you believe in the hereafter?"

Maxwell: "Sure; why?"

Bruce: "Well, hereafter leave my girl alone."

Kappa: "No! I will not!"

A. D. A.: "There's nothing as stubborn as a woman and a jackass."

Kappa: "Nice of you to put yourself last."

She: "Your brain is like a book and I could read it if I wanted to."

He: "Why don't you?"

She: "I don't care to read trash."

Absent-Minded Professor's Wife: "John, I would certainly like to have a little son around the house."

Whereupon the absent-minded prof. cut all the shade trees down.

Hazel Walling: "Was your date a pledge or an active?"

M. Cone: "Well, he was certainly too active for me."

Mary Yocum: "Is everything really so high in Chicago?"

Thorson: "Hell, yes! Even the street cars are elevated."

Culbertson: "Listen to that boid over there."

Rosemond: "That isn't a 'boid.' It's a bird."

Culbertson: "Well, it sings just like a boid."

Lola: "You remind me of Venus de Milo."

Moe: "But I have arms."

Lola: "Oh, have you?"

The Sitsiation be that as it may. Dean Benthin insists that Cain couldn't sit down because he wasn't Abel.

Halberg: "Hey, what's the answer to the fifth question?"

Dorothy W.: "Why, your heart sounds like a drum beating!"

Marsh: "Yes, that's the call to arms."

"Give me your money or I'll blow your brains out!" said the hold-up man as he stuck his gun into the upper rib.

"Ha, ha!" laughed the victim carelessly, for he was a Phi Rho.

A dapper young member of the Six visited a small country place and was struck by the beauty of the place.

Caroll Moser: "Did he try to kiss her?"

Prof. Johnson: "What's your idea of rigid economy?"

Lester Lee: "A dead Scotchman."

Kimball: "Ain't this hell?"

Thayer: "I donno, but I'll look in the tourists' guide and see."

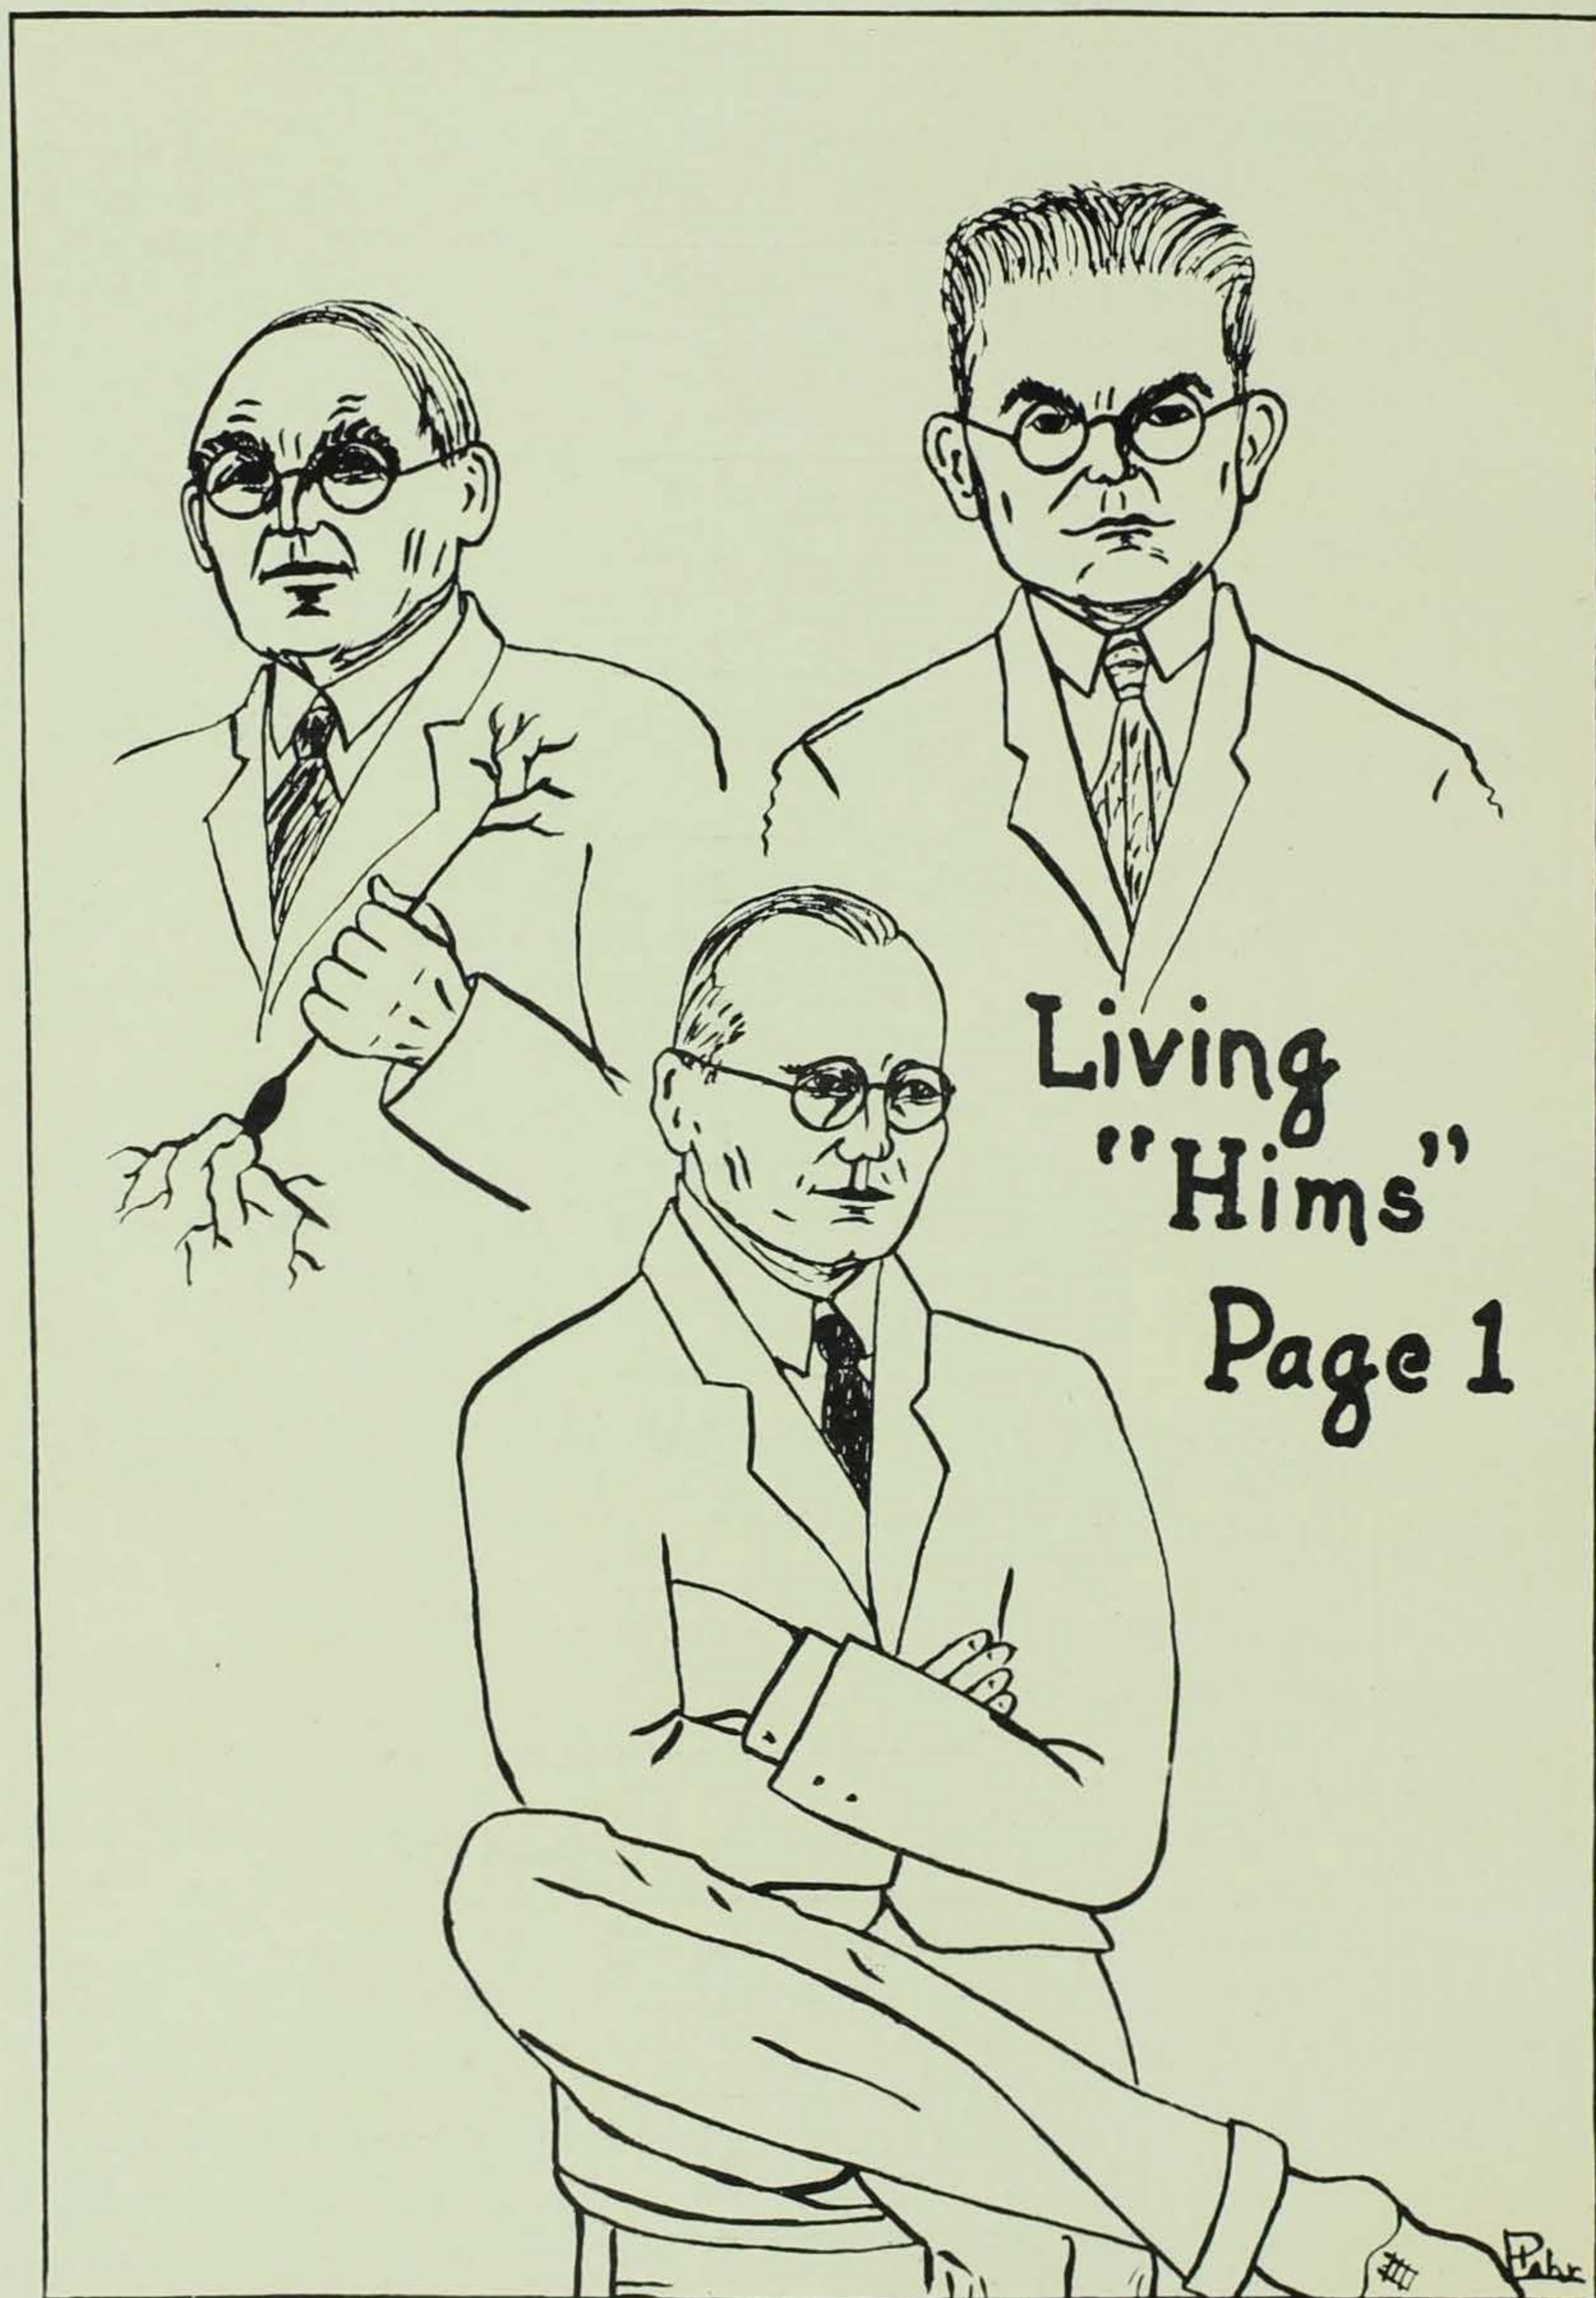

Joyce Kaufman: "Glad I wasn't born in France."

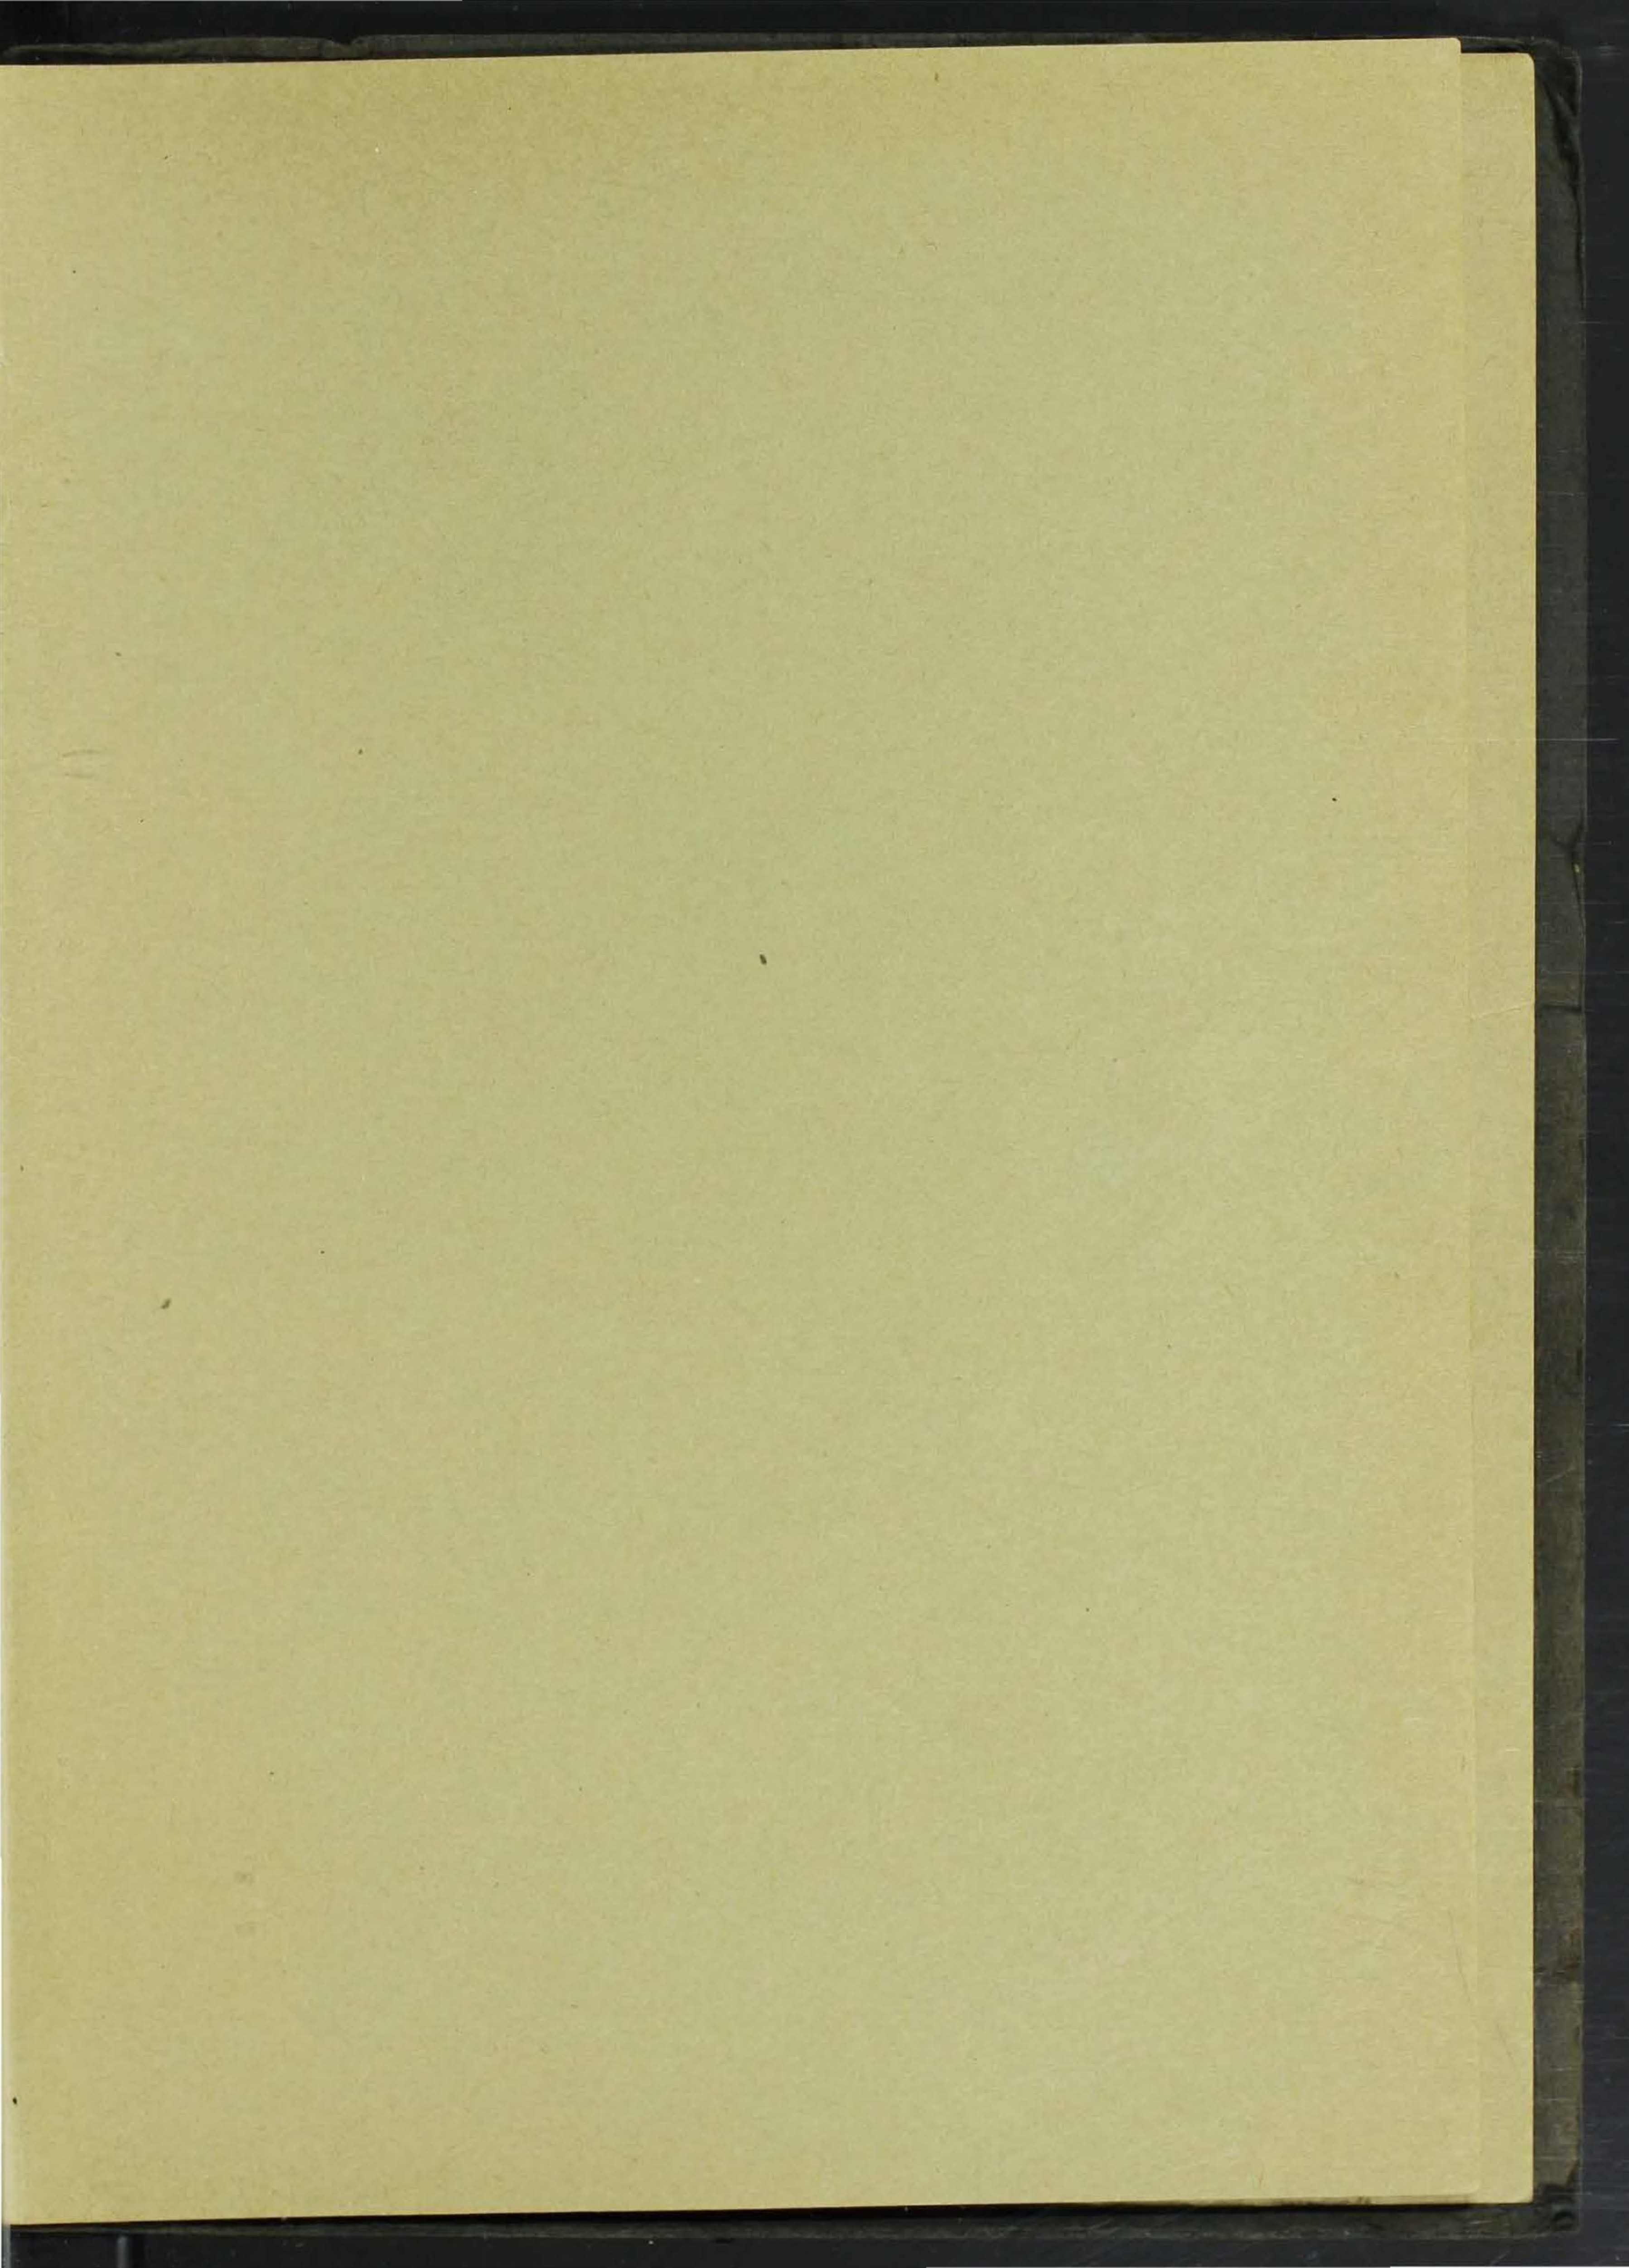

Derby: "Why?"

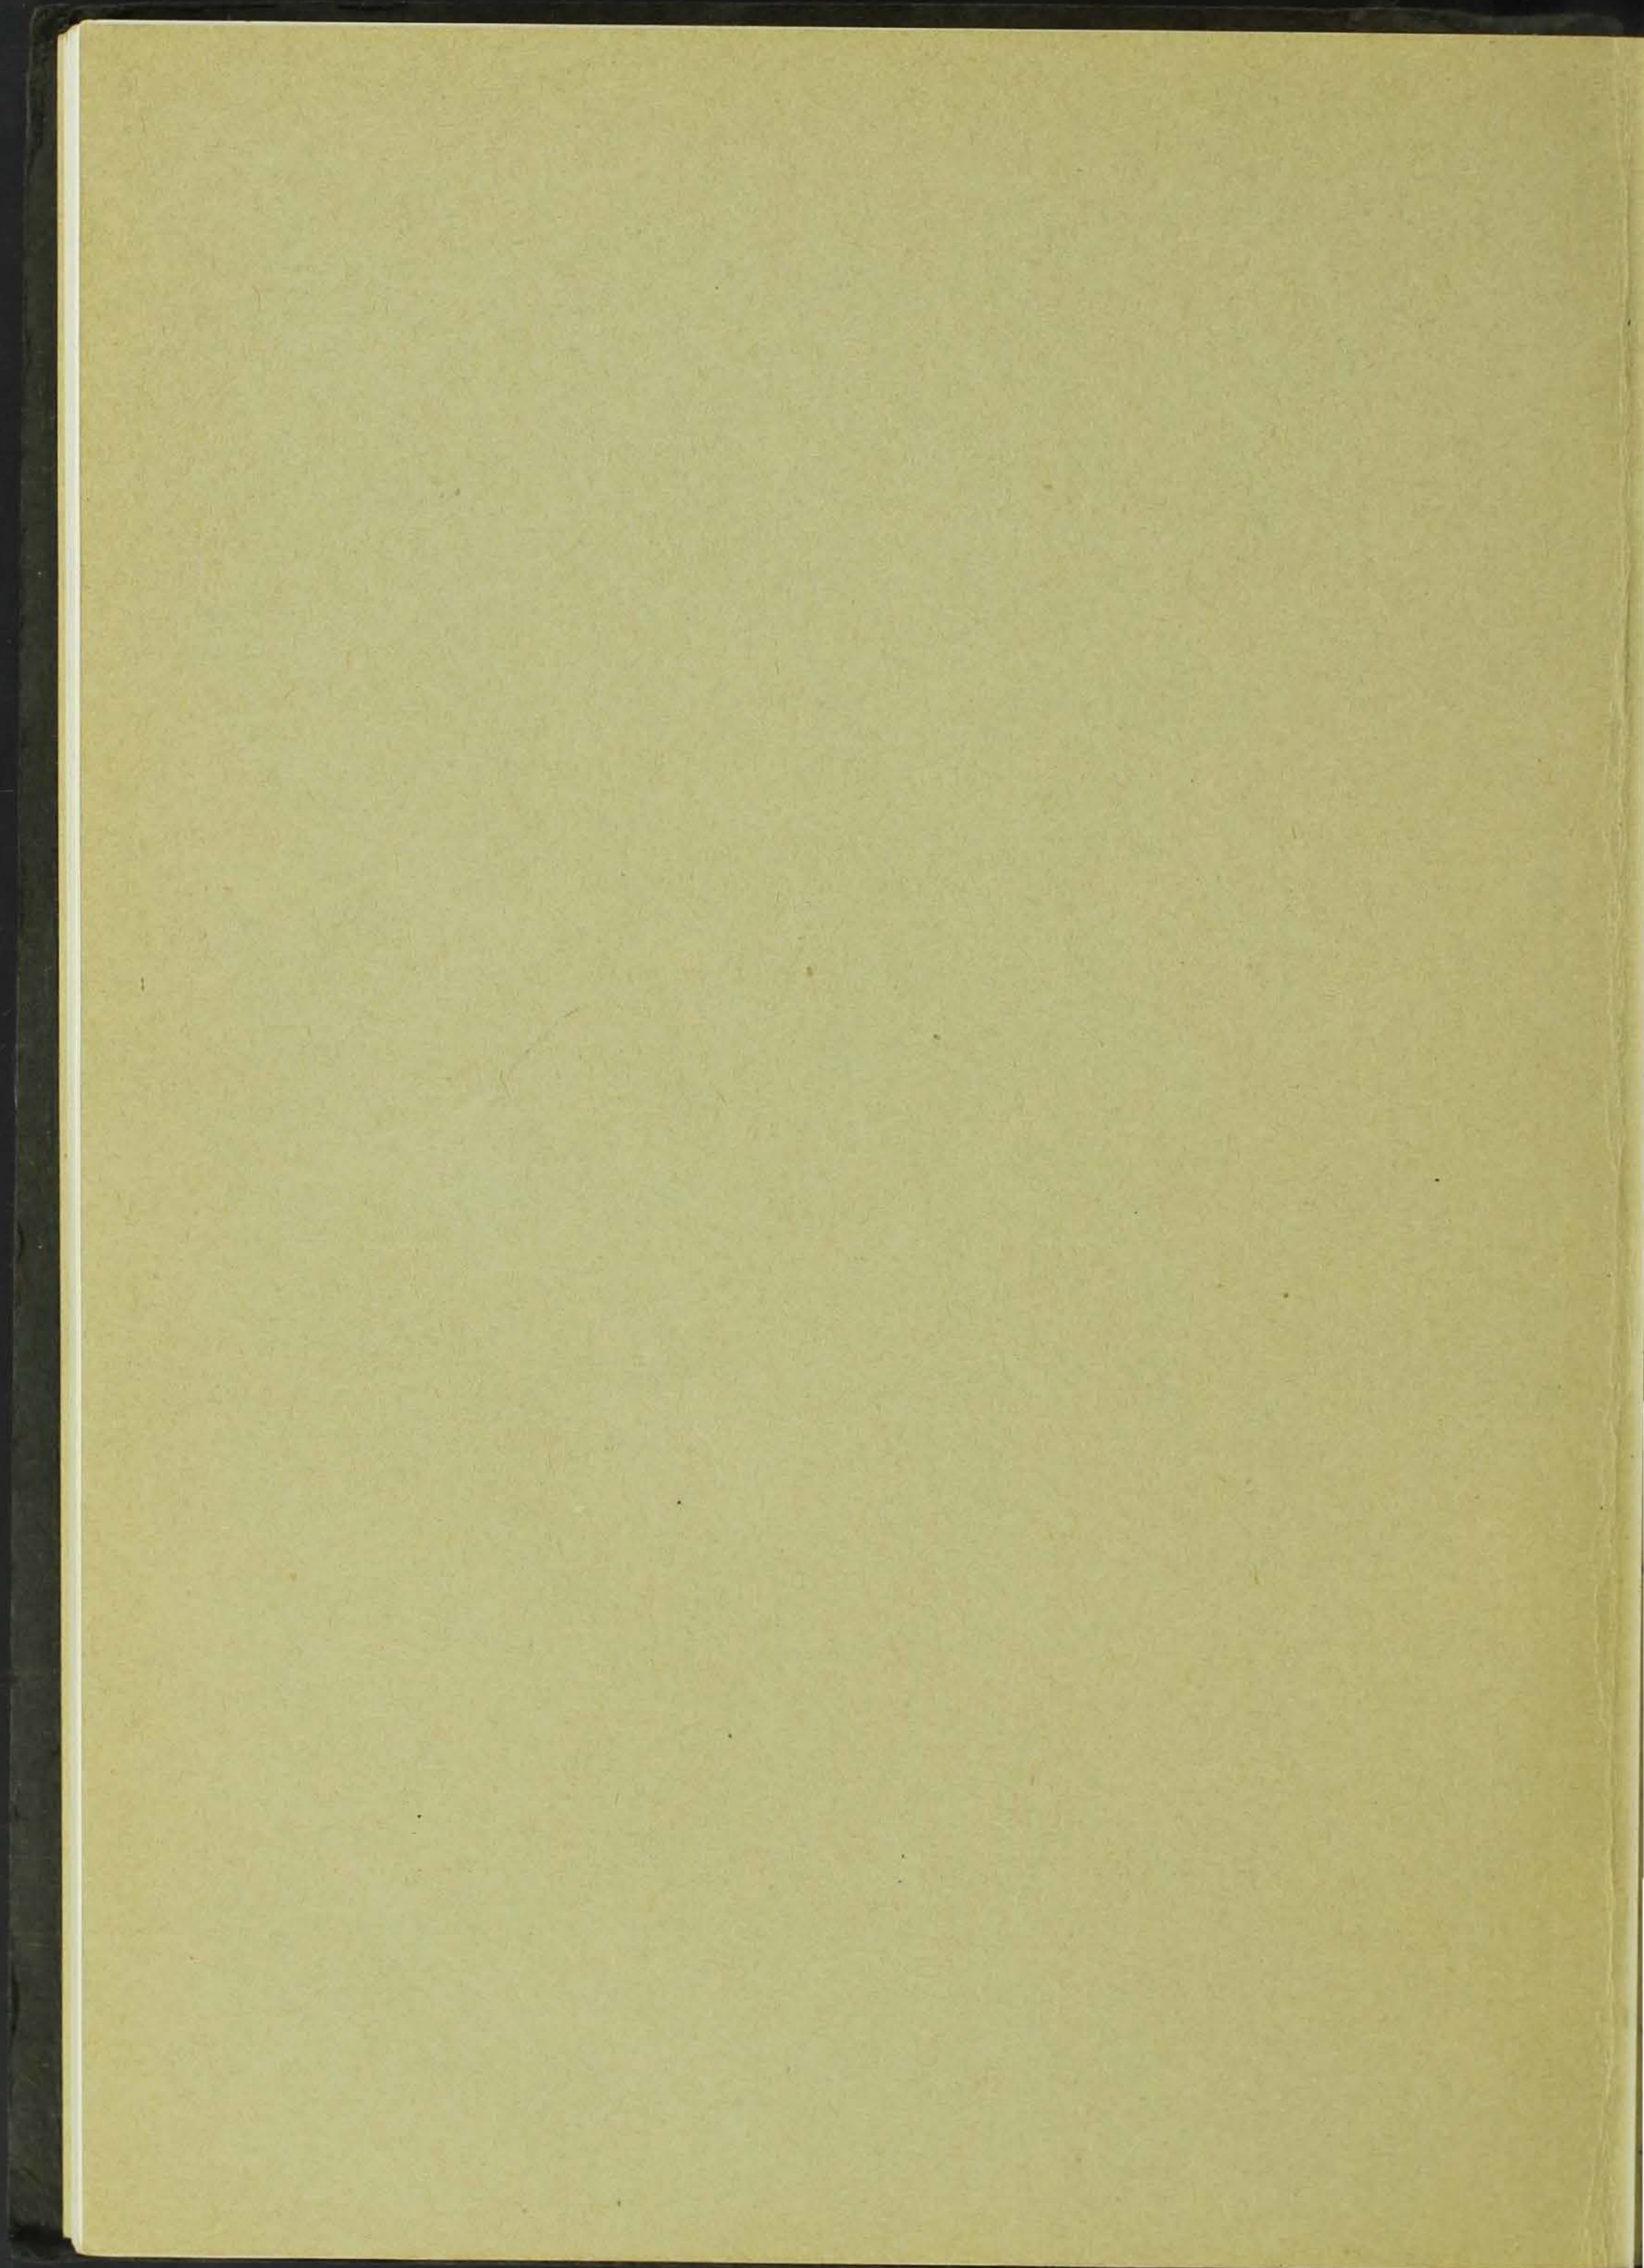

Joyce: "I cant speak French."

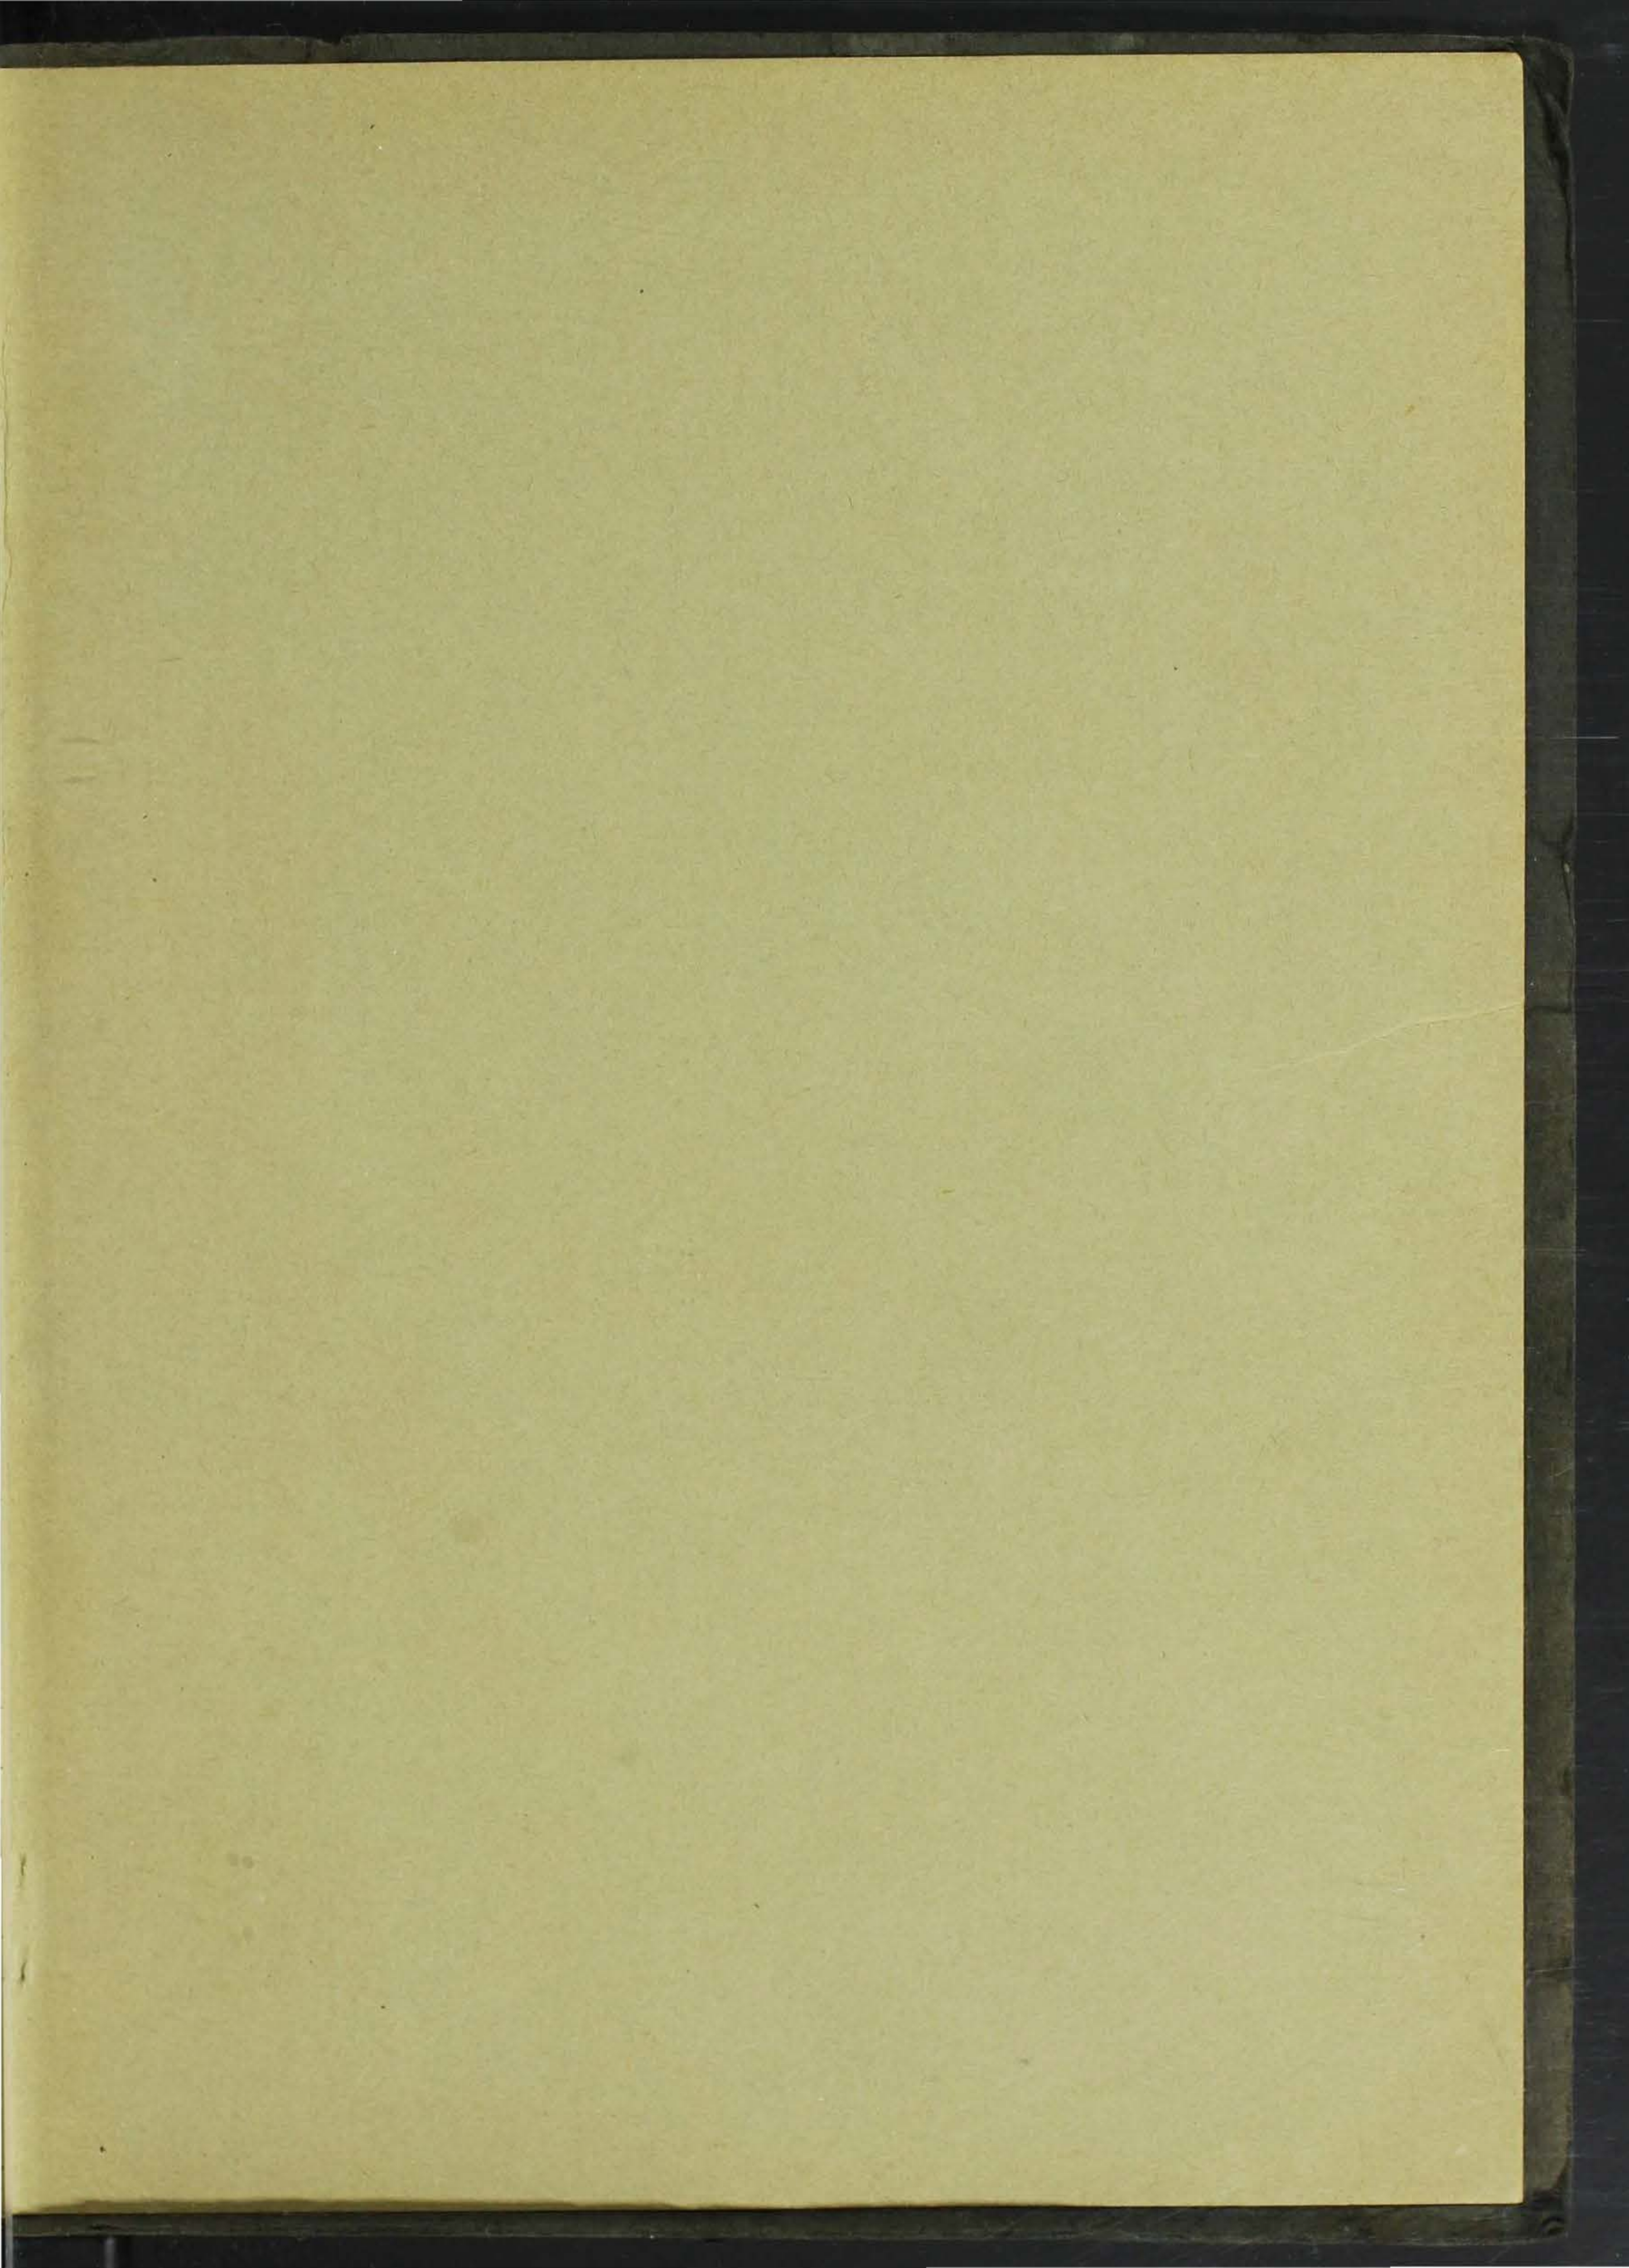

Derby: "I opened a bottle of milk as soon as I got home and it was sour. How do you explain that?"

Patrick: "Well, Derby, that cow wasn't contented."
