

Plan Conservation Queen Judging Here Thursday

Seven attractive farm girls from Hardin county will be competing locally for Iowa's 1960 "Queen of Conservation" crown. The district contest will be held Thursday, July 21, at Blanche & Ethel's Tearoom. Two of the seven will be chosen to represent the district at the regional contest to be held at the Story County Fair on August 9 in the evening.

Candidates for the Hardin Soil Conservation District "Queen of Conservation" contest are Patricia Ann Thayer, Alden; Rita Kadolph and Sharon Hagen, Eldora; Patty Winters, New Providence; and Dorothy Mae Bahr, Mary K. Mitterer and Mary Ruth Moore, Iowa Falls.

The contest is co-sponsored by the Soil Conservation Districts of Iowa and the Farmers Grain Dealers Association of Iowa (Cooperative) Des Moines.

The state winner will select a free wardrobe for herself and appear as hostess at the Iowa Soil Conservation Districts' Field Day and Plowing Matches to be held near Guthrie Center on Sept. 16 and the Annual Conference for Soil Conservation District Commissioners which will be held at the Blackhawk Hotel in Davenport on Sept. 18, 19 and 20.
