

The Merciful Kingdom

I want my own college!

Her nurse

I want my own college!

Once upon a time there was a beautiful, spoiled princess named De. She had lots of toys, including a Mercedes and a Lexus, but she wanted more.

Her nurse Helen said,

I will help you get one.

Hear ye! Hear ye!
We need helpers to write a college accreditation report!

So they sent out a decree.

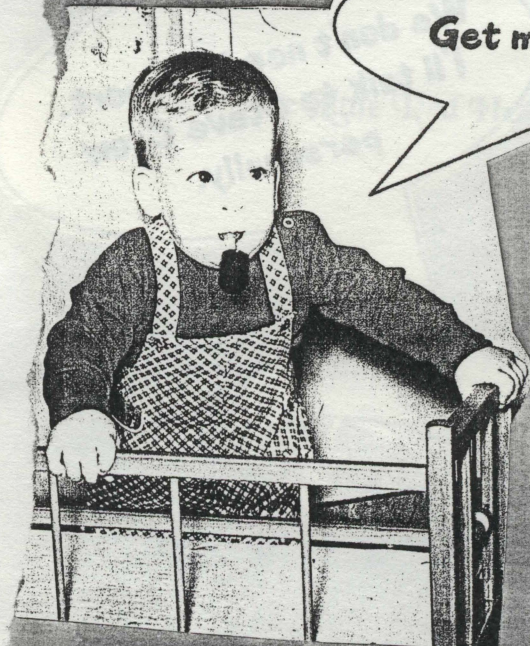

But the villagers were not happy!

No, not AGAIN!

Nobody's going to push ME around!

Get me outta here!

I'm not typin' it!

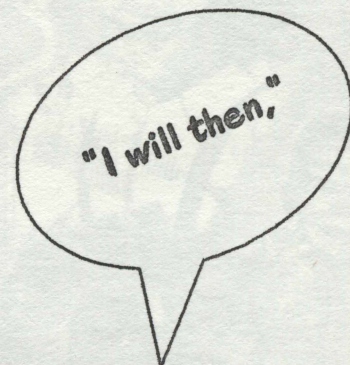

We don't need a report.
I'll talk to Steve Crow
personally.

You may have guessed that none
of this is true

The villagers were actually like the Little Red Hen

"I will then,"

So the reports were a success and Princess De got her college.

And most of them lived happily ever after.
