Fifthgraders carve pumpkins for hike

Recently fifth graders from Wapello Elementary volunteered to carve pumpkins for the second annual Halloween Hike held at Virginia Grove. The event was sponsored by the Louisa Co. Conservation Board.

Jack O'lanterns carved by all fifth grades in the county lighted the trail the evening of October 24th as hikers of all ages met and talked with many misunderstood insects and critters including Mark and Margo Maggot and a "ticked off" tick along the way.

After the humorous but informative walk, the hikers were treated to popcorn balls and hot cider, while they listened to ghost stories around the campfire.

The Wapello students were happy to join the many other volunteers who helped make the hike a huge success.
