Plaques donated by the Bloomfield Newspapers went to the three winners of the 1959 Soil Conservation Contest in Davis county and were presented to the trio at the Fifteenth Annual SCD Banquet and Meeting last Wednesday

A NIGHT FOR PLAQUES AND PINS

tended by 180) with Charles Ballantyne of Iowa State University, Ames, extension conservationist. He was the featured speaker at the conservation banquet.
