

Each year the Henry County Soil & Water District Commissioners take a fall tour of conservation projects that have been constructed in the county. Shown here the commissioners are viewing a wetland site.

